Oft-told tales add up to the magnificent total of about 45 hours a week—out of the total of 75 hours of prime network time on the combined three big networks. The odds are 3 to 2 that if you tune in your favorite channel at a favorite time you'll see something you have seen before.

It is the usual practice to make 26 or 39 films in a series and then cut costs by showing 13 or even 26 of the shows a second time to reduce the average cost a program.

Industry executives have all sorts of surveys, reports and analyses to explain why everybody in the audience loves a repeat or rerun, and they poohpooh any suggestion that there might be a better way to handle the problem.

Privately, however, TV officials first considerably about audience discontent over the rerun situation. They spend the winter months building up listener loyalties to shows. Then in the hot weather months their audience is practically forced onto other channels.

Why not replace the show with repeats from another night and another hour, and perhaps hit a new audience?

"Sponsors" said a network executive, "The sponsors don't want to. They want complete identification with a show, so they would rather keep a show on repeat than bring in something temporary."

HODGE-PODGE

A rumor, that all district softball fans hope is untrue, is, that the Frankford Merchants are talking of folding, and suspending activities for this season. This, if true, is regrettable, as the village crew has for years been one of the most prominent names in district softball circles. They have brought credit and championships to themselves and the league, and always conducted themselves in a sportsmanlike manner. They have not had a good season thus far this year, having won their first two outings and then dropped ten in a row. . . . Softball officials hope the rumour is just a rumour and the Merchants will stick by their guns . . . . Tom O'Connor won't be wearing a Toronto Maple Leaf livery this coming hockey semester. Toon recently inked a contract with the Whitby Dunlops . . . . No word has been received as yet of the intentions of the Ottawa-Hull Canadiens regarding their status next season. Sammy the Man Pollock, the club's manager-in-chief told the Eastern League at the last meeting he would let his decision be known on July 7. Sammy has been silent to this point, although five gals you ten the Colorful Canuks will be entered as a fully-grown senior "A" team and will signs on the Allan Cup. Who wouldn't they? They have the disbanded Cincinnati Mohawks to draw from, not to mention the Canadiens' elaborate farm system. Besides they were allowed a junior affiliate by the league brass . . . . Baseball oldtimers will regret the passing in Peterborough the other day of Howard C. Kirn, former well known Central Ontario Baseball League who played softball with the Central Peterborough families. . . Mr. Kirn had retired after 49 years with the Quaker Oats Company. He was also prominent in basketball circles in Fredericville.

Don't forget the topflight motion picture, "Around the World in Eighty Days," which opens at the Belle Theatre come Monday evening in its local premiere. First-night tickets are available at Bill Cook's and Moe Benoit's Coiffee Shop. A percentage goes to the Lions' Boomer Club, so how about it? . . . . Local varsity lovers are talking about the Cliff MacKay Holiday Ranch and Square Dancers' Show being brought here by the Isaac Caravan, Order of the Alhambra on July 23. This is tops in stage entertainment and the entire proceeds will go to the Mac' Overseas Fund, thanks to the generosity of the fezzed Islamites . . . The bantam all-stars will practice at the Fair Grounds this evening at 6.30. Attendance of every eligible youngster on deck as these workouts are important . . . . And remember tonight's softball tidbit is the Iowa Colored Ghosts, as paby a clowning bunch of softball Pierrots that ever danchooled on a diamond. The Ghosts will haunt the diamond at Ox Point and between their rib-tickling stunts will take on the Cementmen in a legitimate softball game. They are rated as softball's best comedians and have drawn rafes wherever they have played. For a lot of belly laughs mixed with topflight softball, take in the diamond show which gets under way at 8.45 . . . . OASA secretary Lloyd Pickard reminds all and sundry softballers that all personnel must be signed to OASA certificates by July 15, and that the OASA portion only of all transfer must be in hands by July 25. Playoff competitions will get under way by August 15. All playoff games will be operated on a home-and-home basis. It is stressed that all championship aspirations must be ready by Aug. 15 except the senior and northern classifications. Minor teams must carry proof of birth at all times. This from junior to squirt.

Coaches of minor baseball teams are urgently requested to include names of starting players on the reports they submit to the recreation commission. The youngsters like to see their names in the paper, and rightly so, if they come up with a starring effort. The other day a kid tossed a no-hitter. The coach never mentioned his name . . . . Those imps of wrestledom, the midgets, headed by Little Beaver, will highlight the card at Memorial Arena come Friday night. A standout attraction, the little fellows are always good for several belly laughs, while as wrestlers they rate with the best. The Lisowski brothers who are as popular here as a striped kitty at a strawberry social will shows their villainous wares against the new sensation, Darah Singh and likeable Timothy Geohagen in separate bouts. Looks like a humdinger of a card.

Billy O'Dell All-Star Hero With Fine Hill Performance; MacDougald's Single Won It

By JOE REICHLER

BALTIMORE (AP) — Billy Pierce's arm tightened up in the bullpen as Billy O'Dell, another southpaw, went in to pitch. Gil McDougald had not made a hit in his last 18 times at bat and Manager Casey Stengel figured this might be the spot for him to "get rid of the collar."

O'Dell was the pitching star although veteran Early Wynn of Washington was credited with the American League's comeback 4-3 victory Tuesday over the Nationals in the 25th annual all-star game.

It was McDougald's pinch hit single with one out and two on base in the sixth that drove in Boston's Frank Malzone from second with the run that snapped a 3-3 tie. The 25-year-old fielder was called off the bench by Stengel to bat for Wynn, who pitched only one inning — a scoreless sixth — to notch his first triumph in four all-star appearances.

SECOND STRAIGHT

It was the American League's second successive all-star triumph and its 15th in 25 clashes. For Casey, it was his third success against five defeats. A crowd of 48,838 paid $183,353.50 into the players' pension fund.

"It might be a lead cement," the grizzled Yankee skipper said afterward. "Every time I win the all-star game, I lose either the pennant or the world series . . . I sure hope it don't happen this year."

Casey had strong praise for three of the seven pitchers he used — Cleveland's Ray Narleski, Wynn and O'Dell. He said that Bob Turley, his own ace southpaw, who was clipped for all the National League runs before he was relieved by Narleski in the second, was too wild.

"It just shows you that good pitchers can stop good hitters," Stengel said of his pitchers who limited the National League's best power hitters to four hits, all singles. In fact, the Americans' nine hits off Warren Spahn, loser in relief, Jackson and Dick Farrell were all singles, too, making it the first all-star game devoid of extra base hits.

SPECIAL PRAISE

Stengel singled out O'Dell for special praise.

"That boy made all them National League hitters look the same size," he said.

O'Dell retired nine batters in order in the last three innings to protect the Americans' one-run lead. Mixing a good fastball with a snapping slider, he struck out two and permitted only one hit out of the infield. That was pinch-hitter Johnny Logan's liner, on which Ted Williams made a sliding catch in the seventh.

Stengel would not admit that O'Dell was a second choice to take the mound in the seventh. Pierce, however, acknowledged that Jim Turner, Casey's chief lieutenant, had advised him to "get ready because you're going in," when McDougald was sent up as a pinch-hitter.

"I was heating up hurriedly," explained Pierce, "when I felt my arm tightening up . . . Pierce don't make this sound like O'Dell was called in to pitch as an afterthought. That's not so.

Billy is a great pitcher and he did a wonderful job."

NO EXCUSES

Fred Haney, the pint-sized Milwaukee manager who piloted the National League team, offered no excuses but he expressed surprise at the relief failure to get more than four hits, more after he relieved Willie Mays, Bob Skinner, Frank Thomas and Stan Musial were the only ones to hit safely.

"We didn't hit," Haney said "but those other guys didn't knock down any fences either. We made seven outs at bat—both cost us runs."

The American team scored an unearned run off starter Spahn in the first inning after the National had posted a scoreless 1-hit, 2-0 lead. Shortstop Ernie Banks' wide throw of Willie Fox's grounder pulled Mustal off first base. A single by Mickey Mantle sent Fox to third. He scored when Jackie Jensen rapped into a double play.

ALSO INEALIGIBLE

The AL's last run also was unearned. With Frank Malzone on first via a single and one out third baseman Frank Thomas saw Williams' squirting grounder squirm out of his glove. McDougald's payoff single followed, scoring Malzone from second.

The National had increased their margin to 3-1 in the top of the second. Mays forced Spahn, who had walked, but stole second, raced to third on catcher Gus Triandos' throw and scored on Skinner's single. The "home" squad got their run back in the last half on second on singles by Triandos, Narleski and Fox, and tied the score 3-3 in the fifth on singles by pinchhitter Mickey Vernon and Fox, a bases-filling walk to Mantle and Jensen's infield out.

The Nationals' only consolation was the sparkling pitching of Farrell. Philadelphia's ace southpaw fanned four, permitting no hits.

Russia Will Pass Americans In 10 Years

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A track expert who has coached all over the world says Russia will surpass the United States in athletic achievements in another 10 years.

"We should sound—the alarm now," said Jim McGregor in an interview Tuesday. "If we don't we are in for a terrific walloping before we wake up."

McGregor, who has conducted coaching clinics in Africa, Europe, Latin America and South America, recently spent 10 days in Russia observing training methods.

"They have amazing organization," he said. "It's right down to the block level. They have greater participation than any country in the world. And financially all sports are government subsidized. Coaches there have also adopted Hungarian techniques for distance running. They're out to dethrone the best."

To met the Soviet competition McGregor suggested more American teams should be sent abroad and more invitations issued to athletes from other countries to come here.

Carter Fights Valdes Tonight

SPOKANE (AP) — Harold Carter of Linden, N.J., and Cuba's Nino Valdes meet tonight in a 10-round heavyweight match to be televised nationally from Spokane Coliseum.

Carter, 24, fresh from a decision over Willi Besmanoff of Germany last month, is rated a slight favorite and his camp has talked confidently of knocking Nino out.

Valdes has a three-bout winning streak going but he is also going into the ring with age and needs a good performance here to keep himself in the running for Floyd Patterson's title.

Carter is expected to come in at 195, Valdes at 211.

Carter, who has scored 10 knockouts in 27 fights, brings a 23-3-2 record into the ring in his second match following a year of army service. Nino has won 44, lost 15 and had two draws. He has 32 knockouts to his credit.

Pitching of O'Dell, Farrell Draws Tributes of Veterans

BALTIMORE (AP) — All star-freshman Billy O'Dell of Baltimore and Dick Farrell of Philadelphia drew the raves of the veterans for their pitching exhibits in baseball's annual ballis of the league.

Still, the Oriole southpaw, credited with the American League's 4-2 victory over the National Tuesday. But he might have been, for mowing down the Nationals 1-2-3 the last three innings.

In all star competition pitchers are limited to three innings apiece, so the official scorers have some discretion in selecting a winner. Early Wynn, the aged White Sox righthander, worked only one inning but he retired the Nationals in order and he was still pitcher of record when the Americans went ahead to stay in the sixth.

For that reason Wynn received the victory, filling enough as it is was his first in five years as an all star.

But it was O'Dell, a 23-year-old lefty in his second full season with the Orioles, who caused American League clubhouse talk.

"He made all those National batters look the same didn't he?" said manager Casey Stengel in admiration.

O'Dell was Baltimore's first bonus player when the city was returned to major league baseball in 1954 and its cheapest.

CHANGED HIS PITCHES

He threw fast balls and sliders to the full National League lineup and only one of them, pinch hitter Johnny Logan of Milwaukee, was able to hit one past the fielders.

He said the 6-3 Philly reliever throws a "real live fast ball." Williams said the first pitch to him by Farrell added so high he asked umpire Jocko Conlan to look at it for an imperfection. "It's all right, but it sure did sail," agreed the umpire and ordered a new ball anyway.

"You can stop slinking down alleys," Farrell said. "I kick out Williams."

National manager Fred Haney, recounting the misfortune of his debut as an all star manager, praised Farrell for a nifty performance.

"He's the best reliever I've seen in 20 years in the big leagues," said Gil Possetti, Phillies' pitching coach.

Farrell struck out four in his two hitless, runless innings. O'Dell fanned two. None of the vets could strike out a man.

The Nations' clubhouse was gloomy, naturally, and the Americans' took the rather dull game in stride.

Manager Fred Haney, whose Braves beat Stengel's Yanks in the 1957 world series, shouldered off a caller's sympathetic "Nice going, Fred," softly but positively.

"Nice going, my eye," the Braves' pilot said. "It's never nice to lose."

Haney admitted surprise that any pitching staff could stop his power-laden lineup with four hits. But he said he would never second guess the players, coaches and fellow managers whose votes decided the starters.

Alston Shakes Dodger Lineup

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Manager Walt Alston has announced lineup changes for Los Angeles Dodgers.

Slugging Steve Bilko will start at first base when the Dodgers meet Milwaukee Braves here tonight.

Norm Larker, who has been batting first and hitting spectacularly, will move to left field. Junior Gilliam is being temporarily benched and Dick Gray will be at third.

Shortstop Don Zimmer is still sidelined with a bruised knee. Pee Wee Reese will be at short.

All-Star Win Is Ill Omen For Ole Casey

BALTIMORE (AP) — If precedent is followed Casey Stengel's New York Yankees will lose the American League pennant or the world series this year.

The first time he lost the flag to Cleveland in 1954, the second time he lost the world series to Milwaukee in 1957.

"That's right," said Casey when asked about the hex in the clubhouse. "But I'll tell you something. I'll take my chances on this one."

Woodland Cleaners scored seven runs in the top of the seventh to defeat Plans Concessionaires 12-10 in a City Commercial Softball League fixture.

Pointer was the winning hurler although he shared mound duty with Snell. They fanned one and walked six, allowing ten hits. Glen Craig was the loser, spliting his chore with Art Culliden. They whiffed six, three walked six and gave up four hits. Eight errors did little to aid the Plane pitchers' work.

Bureau, Pointer and Goodfellow had two hits each for the winners. Miller, Sleeman, Little and G. Trumpour had two hits for Planes while Culliden had three.

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP)—Bostcrit Farm's Backbone, winner of four of his last five starts, heads a ballsy field of 12 today in the 13th running of the $50,000-added Providence Stakes at Narragansett Park.

Although the probable favorite off his fine performances this year, Backbone is expected to encounter stiff opposition from such standouts as Grey Monarch, Night Amool and Victory Morn in the 1¼-mile test for three-year-olds.

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Jockey Frank Costa suffered severe back injuries in a spectacular spill at Hollywood Park Tuesday and will be out of action for five months.

The 23-year-old native of Italy was gamble Merrica in the third race when the horse ran up on the heels of Jet Queen on the backstretch and stumbled. Costa was thrown over the horse's head, suffering a fractured and a chipped vertebra.

Leafs Defeat Buffalo 3-1; Royals Win

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A disputed foul line homer cost Dave Newkirk of the Buffalo Bisons a possible no-hitter against Toronto in the International League Tuesday night.

He had the no-hitter going into the ninth inning. Then, with a man on, Toronto's Lew Morton hit a high smash down the right field line and into the seats. Umpire Walter Vanderhoft called it fair despite vigorous objections. That put Leafs ahead 3-1. Two other hits in the ninth produced another run as Toronto won 5-1 despite Newkirk's three-hitter.

Montreal Royals took a 10-inning decision from Rochester Red Wings 3-2. Richmond Virginians bounced Columbus Jets 8-5 and Havana Sugar Kings blanked Miami Marlins 4-0.

PITCHES IN WINNER

Montreal backstop Dick Teed singled with the bases loaded in the tenth inning to drive home the winning run. Jim Korado hit his 10th home run of the season with a man on in the fifth inning to give Royals a 2-0 lead. Red Wings tied it at 2-2 in the seventh as Tom Burgess smashed a two-run homer, his 11th.

Trailing 5-1 in the sixth inning, Virginians sent 19 men to the plate and scored seven runs. The big blows of the inning were triples by Cletis Boyer and Jerry Thomas.

Vincente Arroyo hastcuted Marlins on four hits as he registered his third triumph against five setbacks. Borrego Alvarez hit a two-run homer in the first inning, his 16th, as the Cubans tallied three times.

Argos, Welton Are Far Apart

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto Argonauts are far from John Walton's idea of suitable contract terms for the coming Big Four Football League season that they've about given up hope of getting him back.

Said coach Hamp Pool:

"Naturally we want Welton and we hoped he would sign. A week ago we had to face it. Welton and the club are so far apart on salary that we could not see how they would ever agree.

"We have moved Pete Bennett to defensive end and we are not counting on John Welton at all."

Maracle Strikes Out 17 Batters As Point Anne Whips Trenton 8-2

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Pat Maracle turned strikeout king at Bayshore Park, Trenton, last night as he blazed third strikes by 17 batters as Point Anne downed the Legion Juniors 8-2 in a Belleville and District softball league encounter.

Maracle became the loop's winningest pitcher as he chalked up his sixth victory without a setback and officially clinched at least a first place tie for the Cementmen. The co-pointers are in first place with 11 wins and one loss while Cobourg in second own an eight five record. Cobourg could tie the Cementmen by winning their 2 remaining games while Point Anne lost all four of their tilts.

Last night's game was a pitching duel between Maracle and Trenton's Howard Cole up until the fifth frame when Cole weakened and his mates started booing the ball around. Point Anne plated a pair in the fifth and 2 in each of the next two frames. The losers scored single runs in the seventh and eighth.

Meanwhile the shaky mound veteran controlled the Trenton bats and came close to "Sherpy" Dawe's seasonal strikeout record of 19, also against the Juniors in the league opener. That was a first inning affair. Pat scattered six hits over the distance and displayed perfect control, not walking a single batter. He fanned six batters in succession beginning in the first frame and then whiffed the side again in the second and ninth innings to run his total to 17 for the night.

Howard Cole took the loss in six innings plus. He gave up all Point Anne's runs, all of eight hits, whiffing one while passing five. Gord Maroney took over with three runs in, a man on third and none out in the seventh and pulled out unscathed. He gave up two hits over the remainder, fanning four and walking none.

The Cementmen broke the double goose egg on a pair of gift runs scoring twice on two Trenton throwing errors. Elliott's sacrifice, a walk and Dave Jones' base knock. They combed Cole for successive singles by Kingston, Goyer and Soule in the fifth to add one run before Elliott Sr. slashed a two-run double down the right field line.

Chuck Kingston looked after three more runs in the seventh to chase Cole to the outfield. An error, walk and Gilmour's double, a single loaded the sacks and the lanky first baseman quickly unloaded them with a triple to left, making it 8-0. Maroney came in to pitch, fanned Buskard and Soule and got Elliott Jr. on a ground ball to end the inning.

The Legion lads got on the score sheet in the seventh when Williams lined a single to left and went on to second when the ball got away from Buskard. Pat Asselstine drove the runner home with a double but Maracle closed the door by fanning Freeman and Maroney. Howard Cole slammed his third home run of the year, a long blast to left-centre field, for another Trenton marker in the eighth.

Chuck Kingston with a triple, single and three runs batted in paced the Cementmen at the stick. Claude Carr had a double and singles and Dave Soule two singles while Jack Elliott Sr. doubled. Gary Goyer, Dave Jones and Pat Gilmour also hit safely.

Linescore:

Point Anne	—	Carr, Jones, D. Hall, Gilmour, Kingston, Goyer, Soule, Elliott Sr., Maracle, Elliott Jr., Buskard, Batchelor.

Lions Nearly Lost Lineman

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union nearly lost the services of veteran lineman Ed Shackey Tuesday after a player-coach tiff.

The Province, in a dispatch from the Lions' training camp at Kelowna B.C., says Shackey, rated one of the West's top guards in 1957, stomped angrily away from a late blackboard drill Monday and announced he would quit.

He was missing from Tuesday morning's practice, but later relented and joined the afternoon session.

The newspaper says it was a tough stand by coach Clem Crowe that inspired the player's threat to quit.

Shackey is said to have criticized certain defensive tactics presented on the blackboard by backfield coach Walter Schlundt. Crowe stepped in to clarify the respective status of player and coach.

He said afterwards that the staff must have "the complete confidence and respect of players. I cannot have a player openly criticizing or doubting a coach's policies or decisions."

Eisenhowers Take Stroll With Massey

OTTAWA (CP) — The Eisenhowers and Governor - General Massey took three-minute walk on the grounds of Government House Tuesday night.

It never has been one of the shortest and most closely-guarded strolls any VIP (very important person) visiting Ottawa has ever taken in the grounds of the Governor - General's official residence.

About a dozen scarlet-coated RCMP officers were in sight and that many or more American plainclothes officers also hovered about as the three came out a side entrance of Government House.

Apparently the walk was cut short when the little party found itself virtually surrounded by news cameramen and reporters.

SHOWS BUILDINGS

Mr. Massey hailed the party at one point to show his American guests the silhouette of the Parliament Buildings, visible to them across a section of the capital.

"Isn't that pretty," exclaimed Mamie Eisenhower.

"Yes, but a couple of trees out," observed the president.

He said the Governor-General had had to have a few trees cut out to make the Parliament Buildings visible.

The three strolled to the edge of the parspetted lawn and turned to go back to the door.

"You didn't get a rest, did you?" Mamie asked her husband.

"Yes, I did," replied the president, "yes, I did."

TITO, NASSER, AGREE

POLA, Yugoslavia (Reuters)—President Tito and President Nasser of the United Arab Republic have agreed to consult together on a permanent basis on world problems, informed sources said yesterday night. They agreed to set up a permanent machinery of consultation at the end of two-day talks at Brioni Island, Tito's retreat in the Adriatic Sea.

SEE END OF GREAT LAKES FISHING

All that Ken Oldfield, left, and Arnold McKay have to show for 12 hours of fishing in Georgian Bay, Commercial fishermen, they operated from a $24,000 tug and used $5,000 worth of nets. Veteran fishermen say that commercial great lakes fishing is doomed unless a program of restocking is started immediately.

WOULD KILL CANCER

LONDON (AP) — A smothering treatment to kill cancer was suggested Monday by Dr. Samuel Graff of New York. It cuts by half the amount of oxygen in the air a person breathes. That means all his body cells get less oxygen. But cancer cells would smother and die first, before healthy cells were harmed, Dr. Graff theorized in a talk to the seventh International cancer congress. The trick is gradually to accustom the person to low-oxygen air so that his healthy cells get used to it and

Fulton Declines Information on RCMP Files

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister Fulton declined Tuesday to say whether the RCMP has files or dossiers on any members of Parliament.

"It is considered to be contrary to the public interest to give a specific answer," he said in a written reply to Frank Howard (CCF – Skeena) who asked whether the force has any such files and the names of the MPs involved. The reply was tabled in the Commons.

The question apparently grew out of a debate last session when CCF members criticized RCMP practices in keeping files on various people. Arnold Peters (CCF - Timiskaming) said at that time that he found when he was a student that the RCMP had a file on him "strictly of a political nature" and that the file was checked at border points whenever he visited the United States.

Mr. Fulton's reply was substantially the same as one he gave at the last session.

INVESTIGATE ALL REPORTS'

He said the RCMP's files on individuals are confidential and many of them secret. Files or dossiers were started by reports, statements or knowledge of activities brought to the RCMP's attention and which the force was bound to investigate in the normal course of its duties.

The follow-up investigation, in many cases, showed there was nothing of a substantial, or criminal nature. Still, the file remained on record.

Mr. Fulton said it would be grossly unfair to any individual to have it revealed there is a police file under his name. A sure way of raising suspicion against an individual was to isolate a group of individuals such as members of Parliament and there are files on some of them, and then refuse to give details on any specific MP.

FLOODS KILL 47

SEOUL (AP) — Ten days of violent rain and floods in South Korea have claimed 47 lives and left 2,500 persons homeless. The rains, following an unusual spring drought, caused an estimated 3,000,000 damage, destroyed 303 houses and flooded or wrecked another 2,300, police said. Eleven coastal ships were reported sunk or missing.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Thursday, July 10, 1958

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — If not wanted, you could very easily throw away on some momentary pleasure or some frivolous investment the sum and substance of your hard-earned savings. Learn to economize still more and you conquer the extravagant habit.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — In a fit of temper you could possibly upset the applecart at home with one who is truly vital to your life. Don't be bitter or dissatisfied with your appearance. Right grooming and a cheery attitude will get you farther than most.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — A private worry could cause you to be angry with innocent persons today, act foolishly. Also be very careful on the road and do not utter any unkind words. The morrow brings more sunshine to your life. Take it easy.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — A strong-willed pal whose thinking is absolutely merciless feels that you should conduct your affairs in entirely different way. The ideas are practical but would not fit your special personality so refrain from acting upon them.

Leo (July 2 to Aug. 21) — There is every opportunity today to take advantage of some rare but not stoop to this. Be charming and kind instead and you make a friend for life. Then you are in a position to help the needy, do good.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — It will do no good to fret over the unavoidable, so delve into the advertisement columns of your newspaper, other opportunity periodicals and find a whole new and better avenue of expression. Then full speed ahead.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Spend time with successful, altruistic, kind friends instead of permitting the depressimists to make you feel that you are going bankrupt. They will give you helpful ideas, too.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Altercation between an associate and an official could easily cause you to become unfortunately involved. Avoid it at all costs, for it does not concern you at all. Stick to own work diligently and you win out in the end.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — With all the work awaiting your attention you are unable to figure out how you can also give attention to new friends who have interesting ideas. But if you plan your day cleverly, the two things can be blended nicely.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — While you really are in the mood to have a wonderful time in a.m. or tonight, you know expenditure of money at this time, or take too much time from duties. Get work done and on p.m. go to a good movie.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Both outdoor activities and close ties are pulling at you maddeningly, but with true Aquarian genius you can appease both intelligently. Let your conscience be your guide and handle all most ethically, kindly.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — An unexpected occurrence at place of business could alarm you if you act without thinking. Be very thoughtful with fellow workers and see that no damages occur. Shop for needed articles, but frugally.

If your child is born today — The interesting child' born today will feel that he or she has to be different than others in order to get the limelight and accomplish more. So early teach that there is no substitute for the orthodox and established methods, which will not permit your child to be ostracized. Chart them to fine for philosophical endeavors or for professions where ticklish problems need to be ironed out.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinkage) took place.

And most amazing of all—lies improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that doctors were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" Now, among those sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoidal conditions, some of over 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Sweethearts Will Meet Again After 52 Years

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP)—Childhood sweethearts Anna Appelquist and Joseph von Sauskovic met again today after 52 years.

Their first reaction on the meeting: "Very happy."

Anna was at the airport wearing her prettiest flowered dress. Her hands trembled so from the excitement she couldn't fasten two red carnations on Joseph's lapel. Her daughter did it for her.

Anna is a widow from Ronneby. She has three sons and two daughters. Joseph, twice a widower, is the father of a son and a daughter.

They fell in love 52 years ago last Anna's father thought she was too young to marry then.

Joseph later moved to the United States. He said he got in touch with Anna again in 1931 and they have been writing ever since.

They embraced shyly at their meeting Tuesday.

"Will you marry her now?" reporters asked.

"Could be," Joseph replied. "I feel very happy."

DUBLIN ELECTS WOMAN MAYOR

New Lord Mayor of Dublin, Ireland, is Mrs. Catherine C. Byrne. She defeated the former Lord Mayor, Robert Briscoe, Dublin's famed Jewish first magistrate.

Pushes Way On Aircraft, Snatches Baby

NEW YORK (AP) — Gregg Juarez, playboy bricklayer decorator, pushed his way onto a plane at Idlewild airport and snatched his baby daughter from the arms of his wife, heiress to a $5,000,000 British fortune.

His wife, 18, the former Frederika (Bobo) Sigrist, also left the plane before it took off and hurried away.

She apparently had been taking the baby to Nassau, the Bahamas, where she had been staying with her mother until recently.

Juarez, 32, said he would "take her back if she wants to come back and be a proper wife and mother and live within our means and take up her domestic duties. I love her like nobody's business."

WIRED FOR SOUND

Wiretapping became such an issue in a U. S. House subcommittee that the original investigation into the activities of Bernard Goldfine were almost forgotten. Here a private investigator follows a wire which led from the hotel room of one of Goldfine's agents to that of an investigator for the subcommittee. When the congressmen were informed that their investigator had resorted to using a hidden microphone, they fired him.

Wheat Sales Abroad Will Be Welcomed

WINNIPEG (CP) — Increased Canadian wheat sales abroad will dig a welcome hole in the piles of surplus wheat on Canadian farms by the end of the current crop year July 31, a grain official indicated today.

The official said farm stocks of all grains may be about 360,000,000 bushels less than the 980,000,000 bushels estimated at the end of the last crop year on July 31, 1957. That total included 315,200,000 bushels of wheat.

"Elevator space will be pretty well filled again," the grain trade official said.

Canada had a carryover of 722,000,000 bushels of wheat on farms, in transit and in the elevator system last July 31. The new crop brought the stockpile to about 1,000,000,000 bushels.

The grain expert indicated that any reduction this year will be in the farm stocks and it is hard to arrive at a carryover figure in advance.

White's District

The Parsonage Board met at Bayside parsonage this week to welcome the new minister, the Rev. J. Rickard, Mrs. Rickard, Alastair and Patsy and to make plans for any necessary alterations.

Master Stephen Jones is holidaying with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stoneburg, of Bancroft.

Mrs. W. Jeffery opened her home for a quilting on an auto graph quilt the past week.

At the induction service for the Rev. J. Rickard at Centenary United Church, the Rev. George Puttenham, the Rev. George Mingelly and the Rev. A. C. McCallum, of Trenton, presided. Mr. Puttenham conducted the induction service, Mr. Mingelly addressed the congregation and Mr. McCallum addressed Mr. Rickard.

Those from White's Church who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sandercock; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowers, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs. Leonard Young, Mrs. Geo. Bilham, Mrs. W. Jeffery, Mrs. B. Westover, Mrs. Everett Nicolson and Mrs. Casey Ketchenson.

The children are enjoying their holidays.

Congratulations are extended to all who were successful in their examinations.

The Rev. J. Rickard chose the "Entrance to the Promised Land Under Joshua", for his opening address. He mentioned that he had spoken at White's Church previously at a Good Friday service. The choir rendered "Saved by Grace", with Mrs. W. Jeffery as pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hannon and baby Mary Jane, of Toronto spent two days recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Rush.

Takes 6,000-Mile Trip Inside Ballistic Missile

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Preliminary reports today indicated that the chances are good for recovering a live mouse alive through space in an attempted inter-continental flight.

The U.S. Air Force announced 15 minutes after what appeared to be a perfect launching that preliminary data showed the missile performed satisfactorily.

It still was too early to tell, however, whether the two-stage rocket was the first U.S. ballistic weapon to travel 6,000 miles or more through space.

The mission was to recover the nose cone and its passenger if they survived the fiery plunge through the earth's atmosphere from outer space.

A successful test also would prove the performance of the two stages which are reported given a key role in the attempt to expected in a month or so.

A fleet of telemetry ships was stationed near Ascension Island off the African coast to try to pick up signals from the rocket into the depths.

Ascension, a jet-propelled missile that travels only at 600 m.ph., is the only U.S. weapon that has covered the inter-continental distance up to now.

PRIZE PATIENT

To be survived the 30-minute trip, the tiny white mouse would be a prize patient for researchers studying the effects of manned space flight.

The mouse was named Mia II because Mia died when the first Thor-able rocket became lost from the ground apparently plunged into the Atlantic last April 27.

Rocket experts believe that the intermediate range re-entry problem was solved on that earlier flight. Jupiter nose cone was recovered intact from the ocean after it plummeted back from space at a speed of 9,000 miles an hour.

An automatically released parachute helped the cone glide gently to the water. A radio transmitter, blinker lights, and a dye marker was to lead searchers to the scene.

TORONTO (CP) — Bare-headed driving cost Toronto taxi drivers $1,165 in the first six months of the year, the Metropolitan Toronto licensing board Wednesday was informed. Drivers were fined for driving without caps, as required by law.

TCA COMPETITION LEFT IN HANDS OF GOVERNMENT

Hees Denies Charges Made by Chevrier

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government is retaining the power to make final decisions on allowing private transcontinental competition for Trans-Canada Air Lines.

However, it is not committing itself now one way or the other, and it may take a "wait-and-see" attitude towards bids by private carriers for permits to run competitive services along routes of the government-owned TCA.

Transport Minister Hees told the Commons Wednesday that while the transport board will make recommendations on two applications for service competitive with TCA, the final decision will be made by the government.

REPLIES TO CHARGES

Mr. Hees replied in this way to charges by Lionel Chevrier (L—Montreal Saint-Laurent) former transport minister, that Mr. Hees had taken contradictory attitudes toward competition for TCA.

Mr. Chevrier said that Mr. Hees when in opposition had championed competition for TCA when he sat as an opposition member. Then during by-election campaign at the moment he changed his mind.

A flock of telemetry ships was stationed near Ascension Island off the African coast to try to pick up signals from the rocket into the depths.

Ascension, a jet-propelled missile that travels only at 600 m.ph., is the only U.S. weapon that has covered the inter-continental distance up to now.

RUSSIAN STUDENTS TO TOUR U.S.

Queen to Take Yacht Cruise With Children

LONDON (CP) — The Queen, suffering from an acute sinus attack, said take a cruise aboard the royal yacht Britannia next month and then rest for a while at Balmoral Castle, the royal residence in Scotland.

A palace statement issued said the Queen, Prince Philip and their children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, will cruise off the west coast of Britain for 12 days starting Aug. 8, and then go to Balmoral.

There was no indication of how long the Royal Family would stay at Balmoral.

It also would take her away from the summer's dust and pollution, suggested as one of the possible causes of her latest attack. She has suffered five severe colds during the last year.

Doctors said today that the Queen spent a less painful day Wednesday. There was no report on the fever which accompanied the sinus attack Tuesday, but a statement Wednesday said it had fallen.

The Queen cut short a trip to Scotland and turned to London after the sinus trouble gripped her.

Wednesday, Buckingham Palace said she has cancelled all her engagements for the rest of this week, including today's garden party, at which debutantes are to be presented.

About 8,000 persons are to attend the party to see 200 debs, including 40 from Canada, make their royal coming out.

The Queen was expected to be sufficiently recovered to attend a second presentation July 17, at which 35 Canadian debs are to participate.

Frost Endorses Seaport Plan For Moosonee

MOOSONEE, Ont. (CP) — Development of this James Bay terminus of the Ontario Northland Railway as a northern seaport has been endorsed by Premier Frost as "a natural."

In an interview in North Bay on Wednesday he said the Ontario government is prepared to push ahead with plans to develop a Moosonee port.

Expansion of the port would provide a winter-rail route for iron ore from the Belcher Islands in Southern Hudson Bay and other northern sources to steel mills in the south.

The premier was accompanied on his tour to Moosonee by Col. C. E. Reynolds, chairman of the provincially-owned ONR, who believes that the existence of a rail terminal a few miles from saltwater can be instrumental in opening the entire James Bay territory.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: A low pressure system has moved into Northern Ontario from northern Michigan. This system will bring scattered showers and thunderstorms to Central Ontario and warmer weather to Southern Ontario today. The showers will move to Southern Ontario as well this evening followed by general clearing tonight with slightly cooler weather in the province Friday.

Three Masked Gunmen Get $50,000 From Montreal Bank

MONTREAL (CP) — Three masked gunmen escaped today with an estimated $50,000 from a bank-end branch of La Banque Canadienne Nationale after holding staff members prisoner while waiting until the time set for the vault time-lock expired.

Police said the men apparently used skeleton keys to enter the bank, then held employees at gunpoint as they arrived for work.

One of the bandits wore a cover-all uniform of the type used by delivery-truck drivers. Another wore a black handkerchief as a mask and the third had a sack over his head.

Two of the thugs covered the staff with guns while the other emptied vault drawers.

As soon as the three fled one of the employees sounded the alarm.

Last Body Found

SUTTON, Ont. (CP) — The body of Constable George Hansom, 22, of Melville, Sask., one of five RCMP men drowned in Lake Simcoe after their patrol boat capsized June 7, was recovered Wednesday.

An RCMP officer on patrol found the body washed up on the southern tip of Georgian Island.

The boat overturned while the officers were on the way to Georgina Island Indian reserve in the southeast corner of the lake, 45 miles north of Toronto. The bodies of the other officers were recovered earlier.

Le Devoir Won't Retract Any Statements Issued

MONTREAL (CP) — Le Devoir says in a statement that it retracts none of the declarations it has made in a series of articles critical of a provincial gas transaction.

The statement, signed by publisher Gerard Filion and to be carried on the front page of today's edition of Le Devoir, says Premier Duplessis demands that Le Devoir "retract completely, entirely and without reservation all the insinuations, assertions and accusations . . . formulated against him in connection with the sale of Quebec Hydro's Montreal household gas - distributing system to the privately-owned Quebec Natural Gas Corporation.

The statement adds: "... we maintain all that we have asserted, we retract nothing and we are ready to defend ourselves before the courts."

It follows an announcement in Trois - Rivieres Wednesday by Jean Meichot, counsel for premier Duplessis, that a libel notice was being sent to the Montreal daily demanding that it retract declarations made against the premier personally in the series of articles.

Le Devoir was to carry its statement alongside a legal notice signed by Mr. Meichot.

In his statement to Parliament, Mr. Meichot said the notice to Le Devoir was being sent under provisions of the Quebec Press Act.

Under the act a newspaper has three days to retract statements, laws are passed damaging to himself.

The act adds: "If the newspaper fully retracts and establishes good faith, in its issue published on the day following the receipt of such notice or on the day next after such day, only actual and real damages may be claimed." If no retraction is made, a damage suit may be started in Superior Court.

The legal step taken Wednesday by the first Premier Duplessis announced at a press conference three weeks ago that proceedings would be taken against Le Devoir. He indicated a series of legal actions would be launched.

Trade Bill Foes In Senate Win Major Victories

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate foes of President Eisenhower's reciprocal trade bill prepared today to offer new amendments in the finance committee after winning major victories in the first day's voting.

The advocates of greater protection for U.S. industry succeeded Wednesday in cutting the extension of the trade law down to three years instead of five as asked by the president.

They also wrote into the measure two other amendments heavily opposed by the administration.

Round-World Cyclist Leaves Peterborough

PETERBOROUGH (CP)—Red-bearded Walter E. Devine, 37 of Hollywood, Calif., pedaled out of the city at dawn today on a round-the-world bicycle hop that he calculates will end in 1966.

Mr. Devine said he has travelled more than 71,000 miles since leaving home in May, 1952, and has visited President Eisenhower and the governors of all 48 states. He hopes to speak with Prime Minister Diefenbaker in Ottawa.

He said he plans to complete his Canadian tour in Prince Edward Island, take a boat to South America, cross to Europe and Russia and finally cycle back to California via Alaska.

MAJOR QUAKE HITS WIDE AREA OF S.E. ALASKA

Several Fish Boats Said in Trouble

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—A major earthquake struck a wide area of southeastern Alaska Wednesday night and several fishing boats were reported in trouble in Lituya Bay on the Gulf of Alaska.

The U.S. Coast guard cutter dispatched two boats to the bay about 30 miles northwest of Cape Spencer.

A coast guard official said one reported sighting of a capsized cabin cruiser which was supposed to have been carrying four persons. The cruiser, however, could have been torn loose from Anchorage while no one was aboard, he said.

Beam Goodwin, a Juneau boat pilot, said he received a radio report that several persons had been injured but he said the report was garbled and he could not say where or how the injuries occurred.

Goodwin also said that Goodmund Winther, captain of a fishing boat, told him of a tidal wave in Lituya Bay following the quake.

A MAJOR ONE

Dr. Don Tocher, seismologist at the University of California at Berkeley, said the quake was a major one and was centred in the Gulf of Alaska.

Associated Press staffer Wilson Hill at Sitka, 100 miles by port to Seattle shortly before 9 p.m. today, said the tremors were continuing steadily. "The building is shaking right now and it's pretty scary to be awkward feeling," Tobin said.

Tobin said wave alert was issued late Wednesday night throughout the Hawaiian Islands, apparently as a result of the Alaska quake.

Dr. Charles Richter of the California Institute of Technology seismological laboratory at Pasadena said that had the quake occurred in a populated area it would have caused a disaster.

THREE SHARP JOLTS

The U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey office at Sitka, 100 miles southwest of Juneau, signed in at first sharp jolt at 10:17 p.m. Minutes later there were two sharp aftershocks and then the quake quieted off and on for hours later.

The quake sent residents of Juneau, Sitka and Petersburg, 123 miles northwest of Juneau, streaming into the streets. Classes, both at schools and homes, were the only known casualties, however.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's main Alaska communications cable to Seattle, Lena Point, just north of Juneau and communications to cities north of there were temporarily cut off.

REACH AGREEMENT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An agreement was reached Wednesday to end the 9-day walkout strike by about 6,000 ironworkers in eastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

Federal mediator John R. Murphy said the agreement was submitted to the workers for ratification Friday.

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) Soviet civilians threatened to hang one of nine U.S. airmen shot down in Soviet Armenia and roughed up others, an air force colonel said today.

Col. Dale D. Brannon of Charlton, Ohio, base officer aboard the unarmed transport plane shot down in flames on June 27, said the 2nd Lt. Case Shupe of Miami narrowly missed being shot.

"They were dragging him to a telephone pole and the noose was being placed over his head when the Armenian officer came in and the fact that he was an American," Brannon told a press conference.

"The group (of Russian civilians) then passed for a discussion. It was at this time that the Soviet military police arrived and took him into custody.

Brannon said five of the nine airmen who parachuted from the burning transport received rough treatment from the local population but the local authorities were more courteous.

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and the United States today agreed to establish a joint cabinet committee on continental defence to strengthen the military effort of the two countries.

Agreement was reached between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker in an 80-minute morning conference at Mr. Diefenbaker's office on Parliament Hill.

The statement issued by the two leaders said the new cabinet body will supplement in a "supervisory capacity" but not supplant existing joint committees and boards, such as the long-established joint defence board, comprised of permanent officials of the two countries.

Briefing officers said no decision has been taken yet as to where or when the first meeting of the new committee will be held.

SIX CABINET MEMBERS

It will consist of six cabinet members, three from each government. Other members can be added as requested from time to time by the existing members.

The Canadian side there will be External Affairs Minister Sidney Smith, Defence Minister and Finance Minister Fleming. On the American side there will be State Secretary Dulles, Defence Secretary McElroy and Treasury Secretary Anderson.

The meetings will alternate between Ottawa and Washington. Mr. Smith will chair meetings in Ottawa, Mr. Dulles in Washington.

The government will therefore be similar to that of the Canada-U.S. joint trade and economic committee which has held sessions in the two capitals about once a year. It last met in Washington last fall.

The statement said the two leaders had taken note of the intimate co - operation which exists between their governments in matters relating to continental defence.

"In furtherance of the policy of both governments that such matters shall be subject to civilian decision and guidance, they have agreed that there will be established a cabinet committee to be known as the Canada-U.S. committee on defence."

The committee is to consult "on matters bearing upon the continental defence of the North American continent which lies within the North Atlantic Treaty area" and "on the supervisory capacity supplement but not supplant existing joint boards and committees."

MACMILLAN ACTS AS GUIDE

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Minister Macmillan genially showed three strangers around Downing St. on Wednesday. He and his wife, returning from the theatre, found the trio outside. All three said they could not park their car because of the prime minister's exterior. Macmillan invited them inside and acted as their guide on a tour of the house.

Canada And U.S. Will Map Joint Arctic Control

Consultative Machinery To Study China Trade

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and the United States today decided to map out jointly a plan for inspection and control of the Arctic against surprise air attack in a move to get East-West agreement on disarmament.

The two powers also agreed, during a busy round of summit talks between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Diefenbaker Wednesday, to set up consultative machinery to settle differences in export policy, including the thrashed issue of Red China trade.

However, there were some conflicting views as to what the world Oct. Canadian sides briefing reporters, said they hoped it will allow Canada additional use of American firms to sell non-strategic goods to Communist China despite American embargoes on trade there.

A statement issued on the talks said: "It has been agreed that in these cases (where export policies are not in harmony) there will be full consultation between the two governments with a view to finding through appropriate procedures satisfactory solutions to concrete problems as they arise."

QUOTES MINISTER

James Nelson, the prime minister's press secretary, quoted Finance Minister Fleming as saying that "consultations between persons and corporations doing business in Canada will be subject to Canadian laws and Canadian laws alone.

However, James Hagerty, White House press secretary, said agreement was reached only that government consultations will be held on specific cases with a view to finding satisfactory solutions. This did not mean that U.S. policy would itself be altered in advance to allowing subsidiaries in Canada to trade with Red China.

Receives Merit Award From BGH

At a recent meeting of the Board of Governors of Belleville General Hospital, an Award of Merit for outstanding service in the hospital field was made to Mr. R. G. Williams, Chief X-Ray Technician at the hospital.

The picture shows Mr. Williams (right), receiving the award of merit from Mr. F. Domenico, Chairman of the Board. In making the presentation, Mr. Domenico paid tribute to the outstanding service that Mr. Williams has given the Belleville General Hospital as chief X-ray technician. He said that the Board of Governors is most appreciative of the conscientious effort that he had made, and wished to honour him for his many years of service. It is the first award of this type that has been made to any employee at the hospital. (Photo by Riley.)

O.M.L. Places Direction Signs In P.E. County

Travelling on secondary roads in Prince Edward County should be easier now for strangers with the smart new signs which are in place. Noting that road directions were missing to many popular points of interest, the Ontario Motor League in the past few weeks has placed about 100 signs at locations where a stranger might be puzzled as to which road he should take.

The signs have a bright yellow background with black lettering and were put in place by university student crews under the direction of Mr. Mervyn F. L. Jones, district representative of the O.M.L., with the co-operation of the Prince Edward County Council and the Quinte Isles Tourist Association.

It is understood that placement of similar signs in Hastings County in due course is planned by the Ontario Motor League.

FAMILY FUN ON A BUDGET

More and more families are learning that it doesn't require a lot of cash to enjoy themselves during the summer months.

For healthful, outdoor relaxation the age-old sport of fishing is finding favor with Mom and the Kids as well as Dad. Sunday afternoons you'll see the whole family relaxing on some pier — or drifting lazily in a boat — thoroughly enjoying themselves.

If you would enjoy an outing with your family, drop in to Booth Radio and Television Limited and select the tackle you need for all of them. There's no money down — and your payments can be as little as 50c a week.

Water Safety Endorsed by Red Cross

On Monday evening a regular meeting of the Belleville Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held in the Red Cross rooms, West Bridge St.

President A. S. Lewis, as chairman, reported that he had attended a Water Safety dinner meeting held recently at the YMCA, with representatives of the St. John Ambulance Society, YMCA, Boy Scouts, Navy League, Yacht Club, Lions Club and other local organizations. Following the dinner demonstrations were given by members of St. John Ambulance Society and the Belleville fire department of different types of rescue and swimming. Several boys and girls who had recently obtained certificates in life-saving were in attendance.

A February meeting has been scheduled at which time plans will be completed for water safety publicity for next year as it is felt that the need for a water safety-conscious public is a very great one.

Business matters occupied the meeting. Donations to the work of the society were acknowledged to the Belleville College Ette Red Cross Unit and to St. United Church W.A.

It was noted that the Red Cross Homemaker Services have handled 129 cases, involving 289 children during the first six months of this year.

The blood donor clinic scheduled Tuesday evening at the hospital has been operating most efficiently but the need continues for regular donors. Any one wishing to contribute to this work may do so by getting in touch with the local Red Cross Society.

Bowling Notes

Under ideal weather conditions and on perfect greens the Lawn Bowling Club staged its Littlock-Adams men's doubles tournament on Wednesday and the Belleville club sent five teams to the tourney and three of them came home with prizes. A Richmond rink was the runner-up in the accompanying transistor radios, while a Peterborough pair of Harvey Staunton and H. Hopkins won second prize cameras for second place.

Claude Tye and Austin Watkin won three games with scores of 13-9, 19-16 and 14-13 and had the distinction of having an end-end scored against them but still went on to pull their game out of the fire. Bruce Stiller and Gordon Watkin were two-game high for the tourney and had a loss of 17-15 and wins of 19-5 and 16-10. Gordon Vince and Ab Wonnacott had a two-game score for prize money having a win of 16-10, loss of 4-9 and a win of 18-8. Gordon Edward and Jerry Hall had a win of 16-10, win of 18-11 and a loss of 16-11 while Garn Dobbs and Walter Gowsell had a win of 16-12, and two losses of 14-9 and 10-8.

The bowling was exceptionally keen with rinks present from Toronto, Oshawa and all district points. The tourney was excellently conducted by Laurie Mitchell while delicious refreshments were served by the women's section of the club. It was a delightful outing.

On Monday evening the monster jitney staged by the local club was an outstanding success. Bowlers were entertained from Campbellford and district and after the games were concluded refreshments were served and a social hour spent. Gordon Watkin and Mrs. Brown and Mrs. J. Boyle won the top prizes and Jerry Hyde with Rhea Gerow and Mrs. Ogilvie second, and "Sich" Vandervoort with Mrs. L. Mascara and Mrs. Scott third. The two-game high was won by Gordon Watkin with Mrs. W. Wright and B. Pickard, with Garn Dobbs and Mrs. R. Jackman and Marie Bell as partners with one-game high. The no-game low was won by Bob Carter with Mrs. Orlo Smith and G. Maybee.

No Damage In Apt. Blaze

Fire which started in the attic at 209½ Front Street over the second floor apartment above the Paul Mercier Jewellery store, brought out firemen late Wednesday afternoon.

Damage to the building was only slight and no water damage was caused to the Mercier store or to the Corp Grill next door.

The fire started in the attic entrance to the Susan Heartig apartment and was believed to have been caused by a dropped match apparently dropped by someone searching the attic. Dan Riordan, tenant in the apartment, turned in the alarm.

Fire Chief Gerald Vance reported that the fire was confined to the upstairs hallway and attic, being promptly mopped up to prevent damage to downstair stores.

MRS. RUSSELL TEAL

STIRLING — Mrs. Russell Teal died on Tuesday, July 8th in the General Hospital, Belleville, where she had been a patient for the past two months. She was the former Helen Dayman and was born in Campbellford the daughter of the late Mr. Samuel Dayman and his wife Susan Rupert.

Mrs. Teal was married in Colborne twenty-eight years ago this month to Russell Teal of Consecon. On the Sunday morning previous to entering the hospital she gave the children a story at Sunday School.

She leaves to mourn besides her sorrowing husband, five children, all at home, Doreen, Wilfred, David, Anne and Perry. Also two sisters and two brothers Mrs. Frank Webber (Dorothy), Fenelon Falls; Mrs. Burton Morton (Grace), Harold (Cleo)na Rupert, Peterborough and Frank Dayman, Smithfield. Also several relatives in this area.

The funeral is being held at Colborne on Friday.

MRS. CHARLES H. JEFFREY
Tweed

After four months' illness, Mrs. Alice Jeffrey died Wednesday in the Belleville General Hospital on June 25, 1938.

She was born in Rawdon township 74 years ago, the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Sam Tanner. She married Charles H. Jeffrey, who predeceased her in September, 1937. They lived-in Rawdon township until 1932 when they moved to the village of Tweed.

She is survived by two sons and two daughters, Lawrence (Jennie) Kenneth, Tweed; Elsie (Mrs. D. Stapley) of Campbellford and Gertrude (Mrs. C. Mouck) of Stirling and one brother, W. J. Tanner of Harold.

The funeral service was held in Tweed United Church on Saturday afternoon, June 28, in St. Thomas' Anglican Church, Tweed, with Rev. Canon E. Hawkes of St. James' Church, Belleville, officiating. Interment was in St. Thomas' cemetery.

Bearers were: William Wright, Albert Sarles, John Cox, Arthur Dickinson, Percy Blakely and Stanley Bateman.

MRS. ROBERT C. ANDREWS

Stricken with a heart attack at her home, 264 Coleman Street, on Wednesday evening, Mrs. Myrtle Andrews died suddenly.

She was born near Kingston, 70 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Lindsay and had resided in this city for the past 34 years. A member of the Holloway Street United Church, she took an active interest in the work of the congregation, especially in the Women's Auxiliary and kindred bodies. Mrs. Andrews was well known and highly regarded in this city. She enjoyed a wide circle of friends through her church and fraternal connections, who will sincerely regret her sudden death.

Fraternally she was a member of Minerva Chapter, No. 238 Order of the Eastern Star, and also the Ladies' Auxiliary Lodge services are the daughter, Mrs. Norel (Muriel) Leroy of London, Ont., one stepdaughter, Mrs. Robert (Myrtle) Bourk of Smiths Falls, three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Canter and Mrs. R. H. Burley of Toronto, Mrs. John Reid of Bancroft, and one brother, R. C. Lindsay of Syracuse, N. Y. Also surviving are two grandchildren, her husband, the former Robert C. Andrews, died a few years ago.

SAMUEL JOHNSON

In ill health for some time but only seriously ill since Tuesday, Samuel Johnson, 377 Coleman Street, retired bank messenger, died in the Belleville General Hospital early this Thursday morning.

He was born in Belfast, Ireland, 88 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson and came to this country as a young man. He came to Belleville 31 years ago and had continuously resided in this city. When the First World War broke out he enlisted in 1914 with the 38th Cameron Highlanders and at the conclusion of hostilities he was a sergeant major. He was severely wounded at Passchaendale.

When he arrived home he did not forget his military training and joined the Argyll Light Infantry militia regiment and on his retirement from that unit was Regimental Sergeant Major, a position he held with distinction to himself and to the regiment. He was better known as the bank messenger for the Canadian Bank of Commerce for a period of 21 years, from which retirement a few years ago. His face was a familiar one along Front Street.

He always had a ready smile and his Irish wit often came to the surface in conversation.

He was highly regarded by the business life of the city and enjoyed a wide circle of friends in every walk of life.

Even after his retirement from military duties he never lost his love for the army and in joining the Canadian Legion he was a strong advocate for the rights of the veterans. He was a member of Holloway Street United Church and fraternally was a member of Eureka Lodge, A.F. and A.M., No. 383.

Surviving are his wife, the former Hannah Benford, one daughter, Miss Eleanor Stewart Johnson at home and one brother, James Johnson of Belfast, Ireland.

IN MEMORIAM

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Robert Ellis, who passed away July 10th, 1956.
Years of striving, little of play,
Loving and giving the whole of the way;
To the greatest father the world ever held,
Happy memories, fond and true,
From us who thought the world of you.
—Ever.
—Wife Ina and family.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Interest in speculatives on the stock market faded today in moderate morning trading.

The trading pace slowed considerably and at 11 a.m., 1,565,000 shares had traded, compared with Wednesday's 2,218,000 at the same hour.

New Hosco, the copper stock that touched off the boom among speculatives, showed some early strength when it moved up 25 cents to $6. It dropped back later for a 10-cent gain at $5.75, on a turnover of 62,050 shares. In the first hour Wednesday it traded over 100,000 shares.

Wilkey was the most active issue, adding one cent at 27 on a turnover of 82,500 shares.

The market was generally down with industrials the big losers, off two points. Base metals were down a half while golds and oils were a few decimal points easier.

Ford Motor was the big loser, dipping 2⅝ at 38, following a report of a dividend cut by the parent United States company. Ford A was 1⅛ easier at 85½.

Two-Hour Hunt Follows Report Boy Drowned

What turned out to be an erroneous report that a young boy had drowned in the Moira River touched off a two-hour search Wednesday afternoon before the boy was found to be safe.

After the river course had been searched from above the lower bridge, where the boy was supposed to have gone down, to the river mouth south of the railway bridge, the search was finally called off about three o'clock.

The alarm was sounded following the report of a Mr. Vance living at 211 Coleman Street, who, while sitting at the rear of his home, said he had seen the boy disappear.

He said the boy had dived into the water and when he failed to see him surface he felt he had better call for help.

When close to two hours of searching failed to turn up the boy's body, firemen and police believed the boy must have swam underwater and then surfaced after he was out of the line of sight of Mr. Vance.

Local Judokas Putting on Show At Air Station

TRENTON — Judo artists will team up from Trenton and Belleville tonight to put on a show which will be pleasing to the many fans of this type of entertainment.

The show is being sponsored by the R.C.A.F. Station, Trenton Judo Club and will last for about an hour and 20 minutes. It will get underway at 8:30 p.m. at the Recreation Centre at South Station. All are welcome and there is no admission charge.

Taking part in the show, which was arranged and will be managed by LAC Len Seifert, president of the RCAF club, will be members of the Belleville Judo Club as well as the 20 members of the local group.

Feature of the show will be Frank Hatashita, who has his own club of 700 members in Toronto as well as many smaller ones across the country. Mr. Hatashita is the holder of the third degree Kodakan black belt and it is believed there is only one other person in North America to hold a higher rank in Judo than himself.

He will be coming to the show from Toronto and will be bringing some of his "champions" with him. It is worthy of mention that Mr. Hatashita, who has taught Judo to thousands of persons, has been making lessons to children as young as five years old and fellows through until they are adults.

There will also be women members of the clubs taking part in tonight's show and persons attending will get the "treat" of seeing a woman, weighing about 100 pounds, throw a 250 pound man over her shoulder as easily as they would were a child.

VON Raises $700 During Fund Drive

TRENTON — The sum of $700 has been raised so far during the fund raising campaign held in Trenton by the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses, announced Mrs. C. E. McColl, chairman of membership. Full results have not yet come in, said Mrs. McColl, but she believes that this sum is gratifying.

The work done among the children and also folk in Trenton by the VON nurses deserves all the possible help available in the way of funds, she said, as the unpaid calls answered by the nurses far outnumber those which are paid.

Not only bed-ridden patients, but children's clinics and postnatal infant care are included on the nurses day-to-day program, and the sight of the neat black cars driven by smiling VON nurses is familiar in the streets of Trenton.

Legion Will Show Movies on Baseball

TRENTON — All local boys interested in playing baseball should mark Friday, July 18, on their calendars.

On that evening, at 7.30 p.m. sharp, the Trenton branch of the Canadian Legion will show films of instruction on hitting, pitching, fielding and base running. The movies will be shown in the upstairs auditorium of the Legion Memorial Hall and were obtained by the branch sports officer, William H. Milne.

The players featured in the movies are all Major League stars. There will be no admission charge.

Pension Expert Will Visit Trenton

TRENTON — James Patterson, the Branch No. 110 Service Bureau Officer, has received confirmation that the Canadian Legion Service Bureau Officer for Eastern Ontario will visit Trenton on Tuesday, July 22.

He is Mr. Harold Moyer and will arrive at the new Trenton Legion Memorial hall at 5.30 p.m. on that date.

Mr. Moyer will be happy to discuss pensions, disabilities or welfare and is well qualified to offer expert advice on these subjects.

Veterans need not be members of the Canadian Legion to take advantage of this service, as ex-members of the armed forces or still serving members, are more than welcome.

Mr. Moyer will remain in Trenton until all cases have been satisfactorily concluded, but, to assure that an efficient register of interviews can be established, veterans are requested to contact Mr. Patterson for an appointment as soon as possible.

Legionaires Attend Bowmanville Parade

TRENTON — Fifteen Legionnaires from Branch 110, under the command of Comrade W. H. "Bill" Milne, attended the annual District "F" Legion Drumhead Parade and Service at Bowmanville on Sunday.

District officers attending and participating included District Commander Louis Knack and district officers W. H. "Bill" Coleridge and Sherrard Sprague. These Comrades are all active members of the Trenton Branch, the latter two being past-presidents of the branch.

Local Guides Attend Camp At Bass Lake

TRENTON — A number of Trenton Girl Guides and their leaders are enjoying the warm sunshine and cool breezes at Bass Lake, where a Guide camp commenced on Monday. Altogether 70 Guides are at the camp, which will continue until Saturday, July 19.

Leaders from Trenton include Mrs. Eva Smith, area camp adviser, who is in charge of the camp; Miss Anne Johnson, and Mrs. G. Wright.

East Trenton Guides who are making the most of the fine summer weather at Bass Lake are Sharon Bunting, Olga Van Gyzen, Sandra Morrow, and Shirley Ferguson, with Maureen Rutherford as junior leader. Guides from West Trenton include Lorraine Farrar and Susanne Davy.

Carol Good and Fzmela Ferguson, both Trenton Guides, will be attending another camp at Doe Lake, beginning on the 19th of this month. This camp, which bears the romantic name of Trillium Trail Camp, is expected to be attended by upwards of 400 Guides from many parts of Ontario.

Delay Granting Annulment to Ingrid Bergman

ROME (AP) — A prosecutor's office of appeal today delayed annulment of the marriage of Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini.

The presiding Judge of Rome's first section court of appeals today that the court had annulled the eight-year marriage of the Swedish film star and the Italian movie director.

But Judge Mario Elia said the public prosecutor had announced intention to appeal the decision and it would not become final until the appeal was heard.

Elia made the announcement after an extended conference with the other two judges who heard the case brought by Rossellini.

The Italian movie man had contended that Miss Bergman's Mexican divorce from Dr. Peter Lindstrom in 1950 was not recognized by Swedish or Italian law and therefore their relationship was not a common law marriage had never existed.

Elia said the court had accepted Rossellini's contentions but that the decision would not be final until after the prosecutor's appeal was heard.

WANTS DIVORCE CALLED

Earlier the court clerk had said the prosecutor wanted to delay the decision until the Lindstrom could be called to Rome. Dr. Lindstrom is a professor of neurosurgery at the University of Utah, in Salt Lake City.

SWOOPS ON HOUSE

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Kelly E. Ottwell, 25, who police said swooped to within 25 feet of the house where his estranged wife, Charmaine was staying with another member, was charged with reckless flying Wednesday.

Farm folks in the Richland community of Kansas wonder whether they are looking at a guided missile over these days as they pass the Richland elevator. Orangmen Will Hold Bowmanville 'Walk'

BOWMANVILLE, Ont. (CP)— Parade officials say they expect 5,000 members of the Loyal Orange Lodge and Ladies Orange Benevolent Associations will march in the annual July 12 parade here Saturday.

More than 80 lodges from Durham, Victoria, Ontario, Northumberland counties and Toronto are expected to participate.

DRIVING LESSON COSTS $2,800

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — William Chasteen, 17, got his beginner's drivers permit Wednesday. His first lesson cost $2,800. Chasteen was driving the family car home, his father supervising the driving. It hit another vehicle, jumped a curb and ran into a house. Police estimated total damage at $2,000.

MORE TO THIS THAN MONEY

Gwyneth McGregor, editor of the Canadian Tax Journal, unquestionably knows a lot about taxation and tax laws - - but we doubt whether she is equally well informed about the motivations of business executives, particularly of the men, and women, who head firms in smaller communities.

In Monday's issue of the Toronto Globe and Mail, Gwyneth McGregor discussed an income tax appeal case, in which a lumber company, having fallen on bad days, decided that some effective advertising was necessary and decided that this should take the form, of sponsoring the local baseball team, "since advertising being derived from press and radio." Expenses were higher than anticipated, reaching $22,500 for the year. The firm claimed this amount as a deduction as a business expense. The minister of national revenue disallowed the claim and the Tax Appeal Board, while accepting the amount as admissible in principle, ruled that the amount claimed was not "reasonable" since it was more than three times the profits for the year. Miss McGregor argues that an appropriate test would be one applied in England in a somewhat similar case - - for what purpose was this money expended, if not for the purpose of the company's trade? "This is a test that could well be used for all kinds of business expenditure, large or small; and if it were used in the case of the baseball sponsoring firm, the answer would undoubtedly have to be: 'for no other purpose'," she concludes.

The aspect of this case which we would like to consider is not the correctness, or otherwise, of the Tax Appeal Board's ruling, but the conception of the editor of the Canadian Tax Journal that firms sponsoring baseball games, hockey teams and similar community enterprises do so solely "for the purpose of the company's trade."

We think this conclusion is incorrect.

The reader will note that Miss McGregor says that the advertising to result from the sponsoring of the baseball team was to be "derived from the press and radio."

Nobody in his right mind would suggest that a firm's name appearing on a baseball shirt or a hockey sweater, seen only by those attending games by the community, provides a good return in advertising value for the money spent equipping and operating the team. If there is any reasonable return at all, it is because the team's name is mentioned frequently in newspapers and on the air. Normally this mention of the sponsoring firm's name would cost it money, but when it is attached to a team in the sport news this mention is free.

If the mention of the sponsoring firm's name actually gives it as great a return in advertising value for a dollar spent as would purchase of advertising in the regular manner, newspapers and radio stations are cutting their own throats by supplying this type of publicity for sponsored teams. Their executives need to have their heads examined.

If the value received is not as high as that which could be obtained by purchasing advertising in the regular manner, then the executives of the firms sponsoring teams "for no other purpose" than to further their company's trade obviously are poor public businessmen.

The facts of the case, we suggest, are a little different. Firms which sponsor teams get some goodwill advertising value from this sponsorship but in most cases that is not the reason they assist these teams. They do so because the executives of the firms are public-spirited citizens, interested in the community in which they live, interested in sport and interested in their employees and their desire to see good hockey and baseball. Executives of newspapers and radio stations know that they are giving away some advertising when they frequently mention the name of the team's sponsor, but they do so for the same public-spirited reason which prompted the sponsoring to pay the team's bills and regard it as their contribution toward a partnership in community effort.

Executives of newspapers know, and they give executives of team-sponsoring organizations credit for knowing also, that if the only purpose for which money is being spent is to further the trade of the company spending it, the best and cheapest kind of advertising is that which is purchased at regular rates from the newspaper's advertising manager.

ONE THING YOU CAN'T DO

You can laugh when trouble hits you,
You can smile when clouds appear,
You can grin when worry "gits you"
And when disappointment's near;
You can laugh when rain is falling
Or you are a cheerful soul,
But you cannot do much laughing
When the boat begins to roll.

You can bear up under sorrow,
You can calmly shoulder woe,
You can show no sign of anguish
Will your visage ever show;
You may hide all signs of weakness
Though your hopes are in the ditch,
But you cannot hide your feelings
When the boat begins to pitch

Let the cheer-up poets tell you
To preserve a cheerful face,
And to smile at all your troubles,
And to never show a trace
Of the petty grists that trip you;
You'll lose your self-control,
And you will not smile, I'll bet you,
When the boat begins to roll.

Doctors Use Sound Waves

RBC Learns Latest

"Increased mechanization a n d great speeds in everyday life have increased the general level of noise so that it has now become a problem to the community," said Dr. R.W.B. Stephens, of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, in the "Science Review" broadcast each week in the BBC's general overseas service. On the other hand, he said, sound could be applied to relieve pain and human suffering.

The body could be exposed to vibration either through contact with vibrating solids or by transmission of sound waves in air or water, Dr. Stephens said. Vibration causes man pain through the air, if they exceeded a certain value, depending on their frequency, and produce a sensation of pain in the ear, though the operator of a noisy machine might be less affected than other workers round him. The effect of sound on the behavior of man could be measured in terms of "noise dose" and depended on his own sensations, by physiological measurements of the rate of breathing, the pulse, muscular tension and so on, or by measuring the efficiency of a man working on a given task. From t h e scientific point of view physiological measurements were preferable, and it might be said that noise did not have any significant permanent change in mental health or behavior.

The effect of vibration on man's physical health was connected at first with seasickness and airsickness, Dr. Stephens said; at the higher frequencies, the greater the risk of damage, particularly mechanical, but secondary effects could also be participating conditions. The direct mechanical effect would be to produce motion of the internal organs, causing extreme conditions damage might result. Experiments on animals had been induced by subjecting them to very high intensity low-frequency vibration.

Dr. Stephens went on to speak about the role of sound in the alleviation of suffering through the anesthetization. It had been evident to employ both audio and ultrasonic sound waves in medicine: both for diagnosis and treatment. It was now possible to send sound waves of a high frequency into a conducer placed on the surface of the body and to control the amount of frequency of the wave as was reflected from a moving surface, particularly the frequency shift — known as the Doppler effect — which gave information about the minute vibrations of the surface of the heart or of the bloodstream.

A technique similar to the echo-sounding device which detects flaws in metal was now being used to diagnose brain tumors. Ultrasonic waves could also be used in bacteriology. Yeast, algae a n d bacteria generally had been killed indifference. Experiments had proved that, apart from the destructive side, ultrasonics could provide an interesting new tool in therapy. "It produces local heating, and in the selective heating of bone could be of value, for now it is more efficient than any other available source. Surgery pointed out that the most advantageous of using ultrasonics in surgery is to produce localized heating in the brain, "thus avoiding disturbance of the brain tissue, except in the line of the beam. Similarly, too, ultrasonics had a place — for example, in the ultrasonic drill.

Many applications of acoustic devices to medicine could be anticipated, Dr. Stephens concluded, but it was necessary to be aware of the possible limitations and dangers which could arise from ultrasonic therapy and diagnosis.

Skeletons Unwanted

Hamilton Spectator

Tucked away in one of Charles Dickens' lesser known works is the story of a poor boy's father who took a chamber in an ancient building and waited for briefs that never came. After a long time the caretaker remembered him and wondering what could have happened to him, went to the chamber, opened the door and the young man's skeleton which had been leaning against it, fell to the floor.

This grisly recollection came to us the other day when we saw an advertisement in a glossy magazine which invited us to buy "fully articulated and soapaused by doctors". We did not buy, but we did refuse this invitation. We are not among those for whom skeletons are particularly those which are articulated and therefore capable of standing about in the privacy of yard-at-midnight" emotions, or even a more carefully selected place, no infinite ingenuity of the human frame.

These skeletons, which a r e "one-stitch the size of a six-foot man", have other and more practical uses than study of the human bone structure. They can become, by weird perfection, the very soul of the party; the rattling of the plastic bones and the blood-curdling grinning jaws being expected, in this age of Karloff and Hitchcock, to be the inspiration for macabre conversation.

What is more, if figured they make good car ornaments, companions, no doubt, for the dancing dolls which partially obscure rear-windows and add to the hazards of driving. When it comes to this, skeletons leave us cold . . . not with fear, but with indifference.

"To whom am I indebted for this delicious repast?"

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Last week I was on a 2500 mile journey across Canada in one of these fast-flier-continental trains and I was bored. I was bored with the bad weather, to vie with the air-liners getting over it, bumping from the Atlantic to the Pacific. A d i on nearing my destination, I was astonished to see on the train an old friend, a lawyer, whom I had not met for a decade at any of the meals, nor in the scenic domes of the club car in which most of us passengers tried to spend at least an hour or two, especially in the mountains.

"Where have you been?" I protested.

"Holed up," said the lawyer, "in my compartment."

"But, dear!" I said, "You haven't slept all the way across!"

"Not by a darnaight," said he. "This is strictly a business trip. I have been working fourteen hours a day, do this four times a month in a year. When my work piles up to a point where it is almost panicking me, I just reserve a room-trip compartment on this train. Nobody can get at me. No telephone, no door through which urgent clients can enter. Just a cosy little room, with a desk, where I can ever changing out my window. I get about completed work on a brief that would have driven me nuts back in my office.

"Where does the stay-at?" asked. "Let's have dinner tonight, eh, or something?"

"Can't," he said, "my train leaves back in two hours."

An ever-moving hideaway.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE FAMILY

The greatest unit in any nation is the family. So much centres about it. Most of those attaining eminence have come from large families. There are things learned in a large family that influence those who came from it, and there is a reliance that the members of a family gain that lasts through out life. Rarely does a single child gain eminence.

A father and mother cannot be honored too much. We owe to them more than we can ever repay. Their sacrifices are never regretted and their pride in their family binds them to each member. Fortunate are those who have been born into a family where religious beliefs have been taught. Time and time again these beliefs come to give us courage and to comfort us, directing us through every emergency.

There is no other organization quite so intimate and inspiring as that of the family. Nations have grown great because of it. Both mothers and fathers deserve honor and love bestowed on them on their "days" — but actually every day is Mother and Father Day! Much is written about the teen-ager. Let him grow up in a kindly and happy atmosphere and there will be no problem.

Outside the teaching of religion in a family, little is more than the living lessons that are forever present in Nature. The wonderful lessons of all life itself are revealed in nature. She is the mother of us all. We should get the habit of consulting her more, and abide more in her everlasting arms. Many children in one of beauty and mystery. She is God's gardener!

HISTORIC BELLEVILLE

Article thirty-seven in a series contributed by members of the Hastings County Historical Society.)

INVADED

Canadian-American r e l a t i o n s have not always been friendly. For years that many people have forgotten that on two occasions American forces invaded Canada. Both invasions influenced the Quinte area.

In 1775, when the American colonists were fighting for their freedom from Great Britain, the Americans attacked Canada by marching two groups of armed troops, using Canada as their base. One group went down the Lake Champlain-Richelieu River route and split the Thirteen Colonies in two. Although the Americans were successful in capturing Montreal, Quebec withstood their siege, and the Americans retreated in the spring of the following year, when British reinforcements sailed up the St. Lawrence.

It was following this war that the first waves of settlement poured into the Quinte district. These were the United Empire Loyalists, residents of the Thirteen Colonies who had remained loyal to Britain during the American War of Independence. Now they were forced to leave their homes, and many sought to strike a blow for their freedom of Ireland (then entirely under British control) by invading the British colony of Canada and "liberating" it.

In 1866, the Fenians launched two main attacks, one on the Niagara frontier, and a second near St. Alban's into Quebec.

The apparent reluctance of American officials to prevent such raids from American territory into Canada alarmed Great Britain and Canada alike. The possibility of a general invasion by regular American forces was alarming. It was no secret that the American North had just emerged victorious from the Civil War, was unhappy that Britain had given some support to the South in that conflict.

Accordingly, military preparations were made throughout Canada. Largely as the result of the Civil War, the Fifteenth Battalion of the Argyle Light Infantry was organized at Belleville in 1863.

Lt. Col A. Ponton was the first commanding officer. On the 19th and in the first six months of its existence, it had enrolled nearly 300 officers and men from the Quinte district.

When the Fenian Raids came in 1866, the 15th was ready for the call of duty, as we shall see next week.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

THERE'S NO NUTRITIONAL - RULE ABOUT CHEWING FOOD

"Dear Dr. Molner—How often should an adult or child chew a bit of food in his mouth? Can a person chew 80 times on one bit without swallowing any food? — Mrs. P.C."

Back around the turn of the century Horace Fletcher made quite an issue of chewing food. This became known as "Fletcherism, or "Fletcherizing" your food, and for quite a few years it was a very popular idea indeed.

In fact, I can remember people sitting around the table, chewing and chawing and acting as though their very lives depended on it.

Fletcher contended that food ought to be chewed until all taste was gone — a rule which, if followed, probably would have driven everybody to early death, unless they ate only pretty tasteless food.

Gradually the idea died out —although when I see somebody chewing gum very industriously I still think about "Fletcherism."

And I'm sure that a lot of other people remember it, too, especially those who went to fashionable youngsters at the time the notion was at its great-est. I dare say it had a vogue greater than any except the fads that have become overwhelming as rock 'n roll. So the idea keeps coming back, despite the recollections on some of us.

Actually, there is no numerical rule about chewing food. Rapid eaters naturally chew food less, as a rule, than slow eaters, but with either it is perfectly normal that a certain amount of food is swallowed as it is broken up.

The first purpose of chewing is to break up the food fibres or the chunks of food, and to moisten the food so the digestive juices in the stomach can reach them readily. Chewing starts the food value, including, of course, the various vitamins and minerals as well as the other elements.

ENCOURAGES DIGESTIVE JUICES

A second purpose of chewing is that it encourages the flow of these digestive juices. You may say your "mouth waters" when you see a tasty dish. In the same way, your "stomach waters" when you eat!

Third, some digestion, especially of starches, begins in the mouth because of enzymes present in saliva.

Thus a reasonable amount of chewing is desirable, but the wolfers of food seem to have no more difficulty than the methodical, slow chewers, so that I should say that for a general rule, food that is chewed enough to swallow easily has been chewed enough.

As to insisting that a child, or anybody else, chew a particular number of times — I say don't. I assume, of course, that the child is obviously well-nourished and has no dilevous after_eating.

In fact, making an issue of the matter at the table, and especially any threat of punishment, would in my estimation certainly do more harm to the child's digestive process than any lack of chewing could do.

Eating is a natural process and I certainly feel that the best way is to let nature dictate the proper amount of chewing. Hard, fibrous, or lumpy food will be unpleasant to swallow unless broken up into reasonable sizes. Some individuals will take care of the "correct" amount of chewing in any but the most unusual cases.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I would like to know about my feet. Would you advise me to have them cut out? I've got two callures on the soles. I can hardly walk.—Mrs. M.S."

Yes, I'd have them removed and examined by the doctor. And get your doctor's advice, not mine, on what kind of shoes to wear if discouraging calluses from returning. Correction of arch defects and excessive weight is important.

Note to Mrs. T. D.: I suppose mangoes could be the cause of an allergy and hence cause a dry,scantmonious, evergreen shrubs, roses, grass and all manner of plants, both-er at least a few people. But I don't think mangoes would have anything to do with a genuine cure of psoriasis.

Attention all women! For my new pamphlet, "The Prevention of Rectal Ills," write to me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5c in coin to cover handling. This pamphlet may help you!

THE PRICE CAME HIGH

We moderns have come into a wonderful legacy. We are living in the most interesting and hopeful age humanity has ever known. In spite of the constant dread of atomic warfare and the pain which modern man shares with all his ancestors, nevertheless, we are living in the most wonderful age humanity has ever encountered.

But remember that supremely good be taught the price we must pay to enjoy. Behind the benefits enjoyed by people in the United States, Canada, Mass., an old Belleville boy, is home on a visit to his parents. Mr. Henry Thompson of Racine, Wisc., is visiting friends at their home on Dunbar Street. A.D. Bennett Co. Warehouse Fire Damage $35,000

CAMPBELLFORD — Fire of undetermined origin completely destroyed a large warehouse used for the storage of furniture, and caused an estimated $35,000 damage here on Tuesday evening. The building was owned by the A. D. Bennett Company of Campbellford, funeral directors and furniture dealers. Measuring about sixty-feet square, of frame construction, the building was used to house one of the company's vans and a stock of caskets as well as new and used furniture. A group of men after considerable difficulty, managed to remove a truck from the building, but not before one side of the vehicle was badly burned. Some articles of furniture were saved from the flames, but most of it was badly damaged by water.

An employee of the company, Reg Oatley, said he left for supper about fifteen minutes to six and when he got into his car, which was parked at the side of the building, there was no sign of fire. A few minutes later, Donald Lovely, another employee drove the truck into the building and closed the doors. He also said there was no sign of fire. However, when Mr. Oatley returned about 20 minutes later, smoke billowed from one side of the building, and he immediately turned in the alarm. When fire chief Alex McDonald arrived on the scene, he realized the seriousness of the situation and turned in a second alarm, which brought in the Seymour Township pumper, Soon, six lines of hose were operating from four hydrants, but firemen continued to fight the flames for another two hours, until 8 p.m., before bringing the fire under control.

Telephone lines in the vicinity of the building were put out of order and the number of long distance circuits in and out of the town was reduced. Telephone operators stated at their posts and handled calls throughout the fire which blazed only a hundred feet away. Smoke filtered into the telephone office, although the operators could see nothing of the fire. The telephones in the fire hall and the police station were cut off, but immediately following the fire, Bell Telephone linesmen went to work on the damaged lines and soon had the telephones back in operation. Several domestic and business phones in the area were also knocked out.

Councillors Argue Over Road Not Being Paved Last Year

CAMPBELLFORD —The July meeting of the town council developed into a lengthy session when on Monday night, when business kept the councillors at their desks until almost midnight.

James Jacoba addressed the council regarding the roadway on Portage Ave. where he lives. He said the hill was rough and dusty and wanted something done about it. Reeve F. M. Rutherford said the road needed calcium chloride and Councillor Charles Thompson said the road should have been resurfaced this year.

He said it was a waste of money not to have paved the road this year, because the road and bridge committee of last year's council had prepared it for paving. Councillor F. H. Macmillan, chairman of the road and bridge committee for this year, took exception to Mr. Thompson's remark, saying that the road should have been paved last year.

He claimed that any money wasted was wasted by last year's road and bridge committee through spending money repairing the road for paving then not paving it.

Reeve Rutherford said Mr. Macmillan's committee repaved Brereton, paying $2.50 per yard for the job when it could have been obtained for $1.30. Mr. Macmillan said if Reeve Rutherford knew where the job could have been done at a saving of $1 per yard, he should have told the council, because the price of $1.30 was not presented to his committee.

Mr. Macmillan said that the streets were in poor condition when he took over as chairman of the road and bridge committee and that he had paved about five miles of streets this year compared to about one mile last year.

DUST CATCH

He added that part of the $17,905 spent so far this year by his committee had been used for the patch and of the resurfacing done last year by Mr. Rutherford. The council budget is $24,500.

After more arguing between Mr. Macmillan and Mr. Rutherford, council decided to leave the matter in the road and bridge committee, who will try to obtain another shipment of calcium chloride to put on the road after it is graded.

Councillor Jack Torrance spoke to council on behalf of the 100F, who had asked that council place some gravel on the parking lot beside their building on Dundas Avenue. Council decided that they could not maintain parking lots where they were on private property and had to turn down the request.

The matter of dogs running loose was brought up and after a lengthy discussion it was pointed out to those citizens present that probably the best procedure would be for a person to telephone the police when they see a dog, the owner of which they know. The police would then be able to take action.

Council took no action on a communication from the Bell telephone company, relative to a proposed rate increase.

A communication, part of lengthy negotiations with the Consumers Gas Company, was received, and later in the meeting, council passed a by-law authorizing a franchise agreement between the town and the company.

ENDORSE PETITION

Council endorsed a petition from the town of Fort Erie relative to a revision of existing legislation regarding the amount paid to municipalities, for the cost of justice.

The petition pointed out that municipalities did not receive a large enough share of fines collected in the municipality especially on fines collected through charges laid under municipal by-laws.

A letter from the Northumberland and Durham health unit was received, in which the department agreed that the town pump was in satisfactory condition and that the department did not contemplate taking any action, which they threatened earlier.

The letter outlined several points which should be observed with regard to the dumping of refuse, and the chairman of the property committee said that these had been in force for some time.

Members of the property committee had a further meeting with the representatives of the health unit last month, after Dr. C. M. Horner threatened to close the dump. Health authorities agreed after inspecting it, that the dump was in good condition.

The matter of a poll tax was discussed. This was one outcome of the recent convention in Stratford of Ontario Mayors and Reeves. The council decided to take no action.

The annual grant of $125 to the Campbellford Legion for upkeep of the Legion playground and rink will be paid to the Recreation Committee under the control of the Legion and until further notice, subject to the annual grant for playground facilities under existing legislation.

Council passed a by-law to appoint committees to operate the playground and rink facilities within the committee. The Campbellford budget, which was set at $2,941,112 in 1958, will be raised to $3,173,263 for 1959 by an increase of $232,150.

The grant of $2500 to the Secondary School Board was authorized. This was included in the budget when it was passed in principle.

Two tenders for a building on the old Excell Foods property were opened and the lowest were accepted and the tender of Roy Petty of $150 was accepted. The agreement stipulates that the buildings must be removed before July 31st. The only other tender was $100 from Edwin Little.

After some discussion, it was decided to apply hand-brick to the house known as "Green Gables," on the property recently bought by the town, which is now occupied by Mr. James Parcells.

Mr. Parcells agreed to apply the hand brick in return for six months' rent allowance. As the lease is rented for $25 per month, council considered this a reasonable offer. The house was previously owned by half of a previous estimate. Cost of material is expected to be about $300.

The town will provide a complete set of fines for the Chamber of Commerce along with the Simpkin Marcus Company, are providing launching ramps for use by a group of boating enthusiasts who will assemble at the town on the 26th of July for a cruise through the Trent Canal.

Mayor D. R. Maytree declared August 4th as a Civic Holiday for the town. The next meeting will be held on August 11.

Council adjourned after passing the pay sheet.

SMITH — FRANKS

Pink and white peonies and roses formed a lovely setting in Trinity United Church, Madoc, on Saturday, July 5th, at 2.30 p.m. for a very pretty summertime wedding when Margaret Elizabeth Franks, of Madoc, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Franks, became the bride of Robert Allen Smith, also of Madoc, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Smith. The Reverend Alfred Poulter, of Wellington, assisted by the Reverend J. Milley, of Madoc United Church, officiated.

The wedding music was rendered by Mrs. Emma Reid, who accompanied the soloist, Mr. Raymond Smith, cousin of the bride and bridegroom, in his rendition of "The Wedding Prayer" before the ceremony, and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her floor-length story-book bridal gown of white nylon embroidered organdy having a nipped-in bodice adorned with an embroidered rounded neckline and emphasized with tiny sleeves. Her bouffant skirt was bellshaped and embroidered in rose design. She wore elbow-length gloves and a tiara-style headdress studded with tiny seed pearls and sequins and fingertip veil of silk tulle illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of crimson roses, with rose knotted white, satin 'streamers.

Miss Molly Franks, sister of the bride, was maid of honour, gowned in yellow, dotted Swiss organdy with Sabrina neckline, low back and three-quarter-length sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accented by a matching cummerbund ending at back in two organdy roses. She wore a large, picture hat of chiffon with streamers and back bow in matching shade and carried a nosegay of daisy 'mums.

Miss Elsie Smith of Madoc, sister of the bridegroom, as senior bridesmaid, was attired similarly, but in lime green, and Miss Jean Moore, of Peterborough, as junior bridesmaid, was also gowned in lime green with matching headdress and carrying a nosegay of summer flowers.

Miss Connie Bridges, of Ottawa, niece of the bride, as flower girl was adorable in her yellow Swiss, with matching headdress and carrying a tiny basket of yellow and white baby 'mums.

Master Johnnie Burnside, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burnside, cousin of the bridegroom, as ring-bearer.

Mr. Murray Cuno, of Maple Leaf, attended the bridegroom. Ushers were Messrs. Glenn Franks and David Franks, of Madoc, brothers of the bride, ushered the guests.

Following the ceremony the reception was held in the lower auditorium of Trinity Church, where the catering was done by the W.M.S. and the W.A.

The bride's table was daintily appointed with white damask and centred by the traditional wedding cake and flanked by yellow candles in silver candelabra, and little baskets of white daisies.

The bride's mother received, wearing turquoise Cadillac crêpe with accordion pleated neckline, white accessories and corsage of white carnations. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother in petal-pink nylon with white duster and pink picture hat, white accessories and corsage of blue-tinted carnations.

For the honeymoon through New York State, to Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride wore a powder blue and white summer silk with matching duster in chemise style with white accessories. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside at their cottage at Moira Lake for the summer months, and in the fall they will live in Stirling.

Guests were present from Toronto, Ottawa, Spencerville, Pickering, Parry Sound, Belleville, Wellington, Trenton and Stirling.

Previous to her marriage the bride was the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Ernest Denyes, sponsored by the local WI, at a tea and presentation at the home of Mrs. Earle Sayers, RR 1, Halloway, as a farewell gesture following three years of teaching in that community; at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Jean Moore at the cottage of her aunt, Miss Hazel Thompson, on Stoco lake. Also at a pantry shower given by Mrs. Douglas Fogue, of Madoc.

Following the rehearsal on the evening of July 4, a tea was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Smith.

REVOY — NEWTON

CAMPBELLFORD—The Rev. D. M. Smith of St. John's United Church, Campbellford, officiated at the wedding of Jacqueline Newton and Robert John Revoy. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Newton of Campbellford, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Revoy of Havelock.

The bride's floor-length gown was of white nylon and lace with long sleeves and tiers of lace extending into a short train. The neckline was scalloped and embroidered with seed pearl chips. Her tulle headdress was taught to a coronet of satin trimmed with pearls and she carried a bouquet of Sweetheart roses.

The maid of honour was the bride's sister, Miss Margaret Newton and Miss Sharilyn Mulligan, niece of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of white stiffened nylon with blue embroidered flowers on the bodice and a deep scalloped hemline with eyelet embroidery; headdresses of blue flowers and carried bouquets of cream 'mums.

Sandra Mackie, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a frock of pink nylon organdy, similar in style to that of the bridesmaids.

Mr. Cecil Revoy of Toronto, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman and the ushers were Messrs. Arden Stephens of Campbellford, the bride's brother-in-law, and Donald Revoy, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church hall where the bride's mother received in a white flowered silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother also received in cafe-aulait lace with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Georgian Bay the bride wore a pale pink lace dress in semi-chemise style and a corsage of red roses.

On their return the couple will reside in Toronto.

CATHCART — LATHANGUE

A very pretty June wedding was solemnized on Saturday, June 14th., at 3.00 p.m. in Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, by the Reverend James C. Easterly, pastor of the church, when Florence Mary Lathangue, of Belleville, daughter of Mrs. George Lathangue, and the late Mr. Lathangue, was united in marriage to James Cathcart, also of Belleville, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ayton Cathcart. Baskets of pink and white Shasta daisies adorned the altar and white satin bows centred by pink and white Shasta daisies designated the guest pews.

Mrs. Lois Miller, church organist, rendered the wedding music and organized the soloist, Mrs. R. W. Moore, of Belleville, who sang, "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Carl Lathangue, of Belleville, the bride was lovely in her imported bridal gown of Cardenia white peau de sole, fashioned with moded bodice and bouffant skirt accented with jewelled motifs of Venetian lace, while the portrait neckline was outlined with seed pearls and crystal beads. The long, sheath-like sleeves ended in lily-points over the wrists. She wore a half-halo style headdress dotted with seed pearls and crystals and shoulder-length veil, and carried a semi-cascade bouquet of red roses and spray of white heather sent from Scotland by the bridegroom's aunt.

Miss Wanda Lathangue, of Belleville, sister of the bride, was maid of honour, and the bridesmaids, Mrs. Grant Devolin, and Miss Beverley Hammond, both of Belleville, were all attired alike in promanade gowns of apple-green chiffon with fitted bodices having Sabrina necklines appliqued with matching lace. Their headpieces were of tinted velvet leaves matching the gowns, and they carried nosegays of white carnations outlined by tinted velvet leaves.

Mr. Alexander S. Cathcart, of Regina, Saskatchewan, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman, while Mr. Wilbert Lathangue, brother of the bride, and Mr. Thomas Cathcart, brother of the bridegroom, both of Belleville, were ushers.

The bride's table was prettily appointed with white linen, centred by a three-tier white wedding cake adorned with lily pale-pink roses and flanked by tri-branched silver candelabra with tall white candles and rose bowls. White tulle with little sprays of lily-of-the-valley crowded the base.

Mr. and Mrs. Cathcart will reside at 183 Ann Street, Belleville.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was feted by a personal shower at the home of Mrs. Ruth Coulson, Belleville, and a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Cummings, given by the staff girls of the T. Eaton Company, of which the bride is an employee.

MacINNIS — GOW

A lovely double-ring wedding was solemnized on Saturday, June 21, 1958 at 2:00 p.m. in Plainfield United Church by the Reverend R. W. T. Middleton, who, Beverly Reta, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John N. Gow of Plainfield became the bride of Andrew Duncan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew MacInnis of Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Harry Harrison, church pianist, provided the wedding music and the soloist, Mrs. Arnold Dilts sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked radiant in her ballerina-length bridal gown of frost-white bombazine fashioned on princess lines with empire bodice. The portrait neckline was etched with guipure lace, seed pearls and sequins. She wore a tiara-type headdress adorned with opalescent sequins and seed pearls and carried a cascade of deep-pink rosettes and stephanotis.

Miss Joan Harrington was her only attendant, wearing a ballerina-length gown of white nylon over taffeta etched with tiny pink flowers and matching pink headdress. She carried a nosegay of pink rosettes and white mums.

The groomsman was Mr. Gary Gow, brother of the bride and the ushers were Mr. Ronald Macinnis, brother of the bridegroom and Mr. Wayne Gow, brother of the bride.

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the Orange Hall, Plainfield, where the bride's mother, attired in green-flowered silk organza over taffeta with white accessories and corsage of yellow roses, received the guests. The bridegroom's mother assisted gowned in navy and white with white accessories and corsage of red roses.

The bride's table was appointed with white damask, centred by a three-tier wedding cake and flanked by crystal candelabra with tall pink candles and table sprays of white mums and pink snapdragons.

For the wedding trip around Lake Ontario, the bride chose a sheath dress of white lace over pale blue organza with matching lace hat, white accessories and corsage of pink rosettes. Mr. and Mrs. MacInnis will be residing at 375 Coleman street, Belleville.

Guests were present from Nova Scotia, Montreal, Cornwall, Shannonville, Belleville, Trenton, Peterborough, Florida, Rochester, Roslin, Brantford, Plainfield and Latta.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was entertained at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Ralph Wilder with Mrs. Garnet Denyes and Miss Marie Reid as co-hostesses at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wilder.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

TODAY'S COURTESY TIP ABOUT YOUR FAMILY MANNERS

Have you two sets of manners — do-as-you-please manners for the family, and, for your friends do-as-they-please manners? Tragedy of manners are a dismally selfish contribution for any member of the family to give to the family unit. You'll be an endearing member of your family if you try to be understanding, co-operative, considerate.

BRIDE'S MOTHER SHOULD NOT USE "MRS. JULIA" ON WEDDING INVITATIONS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My mother has been divorced for about fifteen years, and s h e has since then used the name (for example) "Mrs. Julia Brown." She is employed by a real estate firm, and uses this name also in business. Now I am to be married in October, a rather large, semi-formal church wedding and reception. I'm getting more and more perturbed about what form of address Mother should use on my invitations and announcements, and also in the newspaper announcements of the wedding.

My mother's sister, very dear to us, and who gets about socially more than Mother does, insists that Mother should use her maiden surname, not her f i r s t name, before her married surname: Mrs. Clark Brown. My fiance and his mother also say that they were very gracious, didn't say anything about it until I asked them that this form is correct. But Mother thinks no one will recognize this name, which she has never used. What's t h e right thing for us to do?

— Bride-to-be

The right thing is for y o u r mother to use her correct formal name for such formal items as your wedding invitations: t h e combination of her maiden surname and her married surname, Mrs. Clark Brown. ("Mrs. Julia Brown" is quite all right for her to use as her name in her business life, but Mrs. Clark Brown is correct for her social contacts.) If she is too disturbed about omitting her first name, she could use "Mrs. J. Clark Brown."

BARE-FEET

HERTFORD, England (CP) — Dr. J. L. Dunlop, Hertfordshire medical officer of health, says in a report that children should be allowed to work in school in their bare feet as a means of detecting and remedying foot defects. "The human foot was not designed to work in shoes," he said.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor; a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Wilfred E. — I have a right, to work if I want to.

Gloria S. — It's embarrassing to me. . . .

Wilfred E. — I am nearly 70 and was retired on a small pension more than a year ago. I live with my daughter and her family.

I have been trying to keep active and contented, but I find it's hard if you have no job to get up for every morning. I tend to waste the days and then I feel bad when a whole day goes by with nothing accomplished.

It happens that I am very handy at mechanical jobs. So I decided to go around to see some of the neighbors to find out whether I could do something for them around the house. Some of them gave me a little work and I charged a very moderate fee, as I would like to have some extra cash in addition to my pension money.

When my daughter found out about it she hit the roof. I feel I should have a right to work if I want to. . . .

Gloria S. — I'll say it hit the roof. How was I supposed to feel when friends started calling me asking if I wanted them to give my father work? Was I supposed to say "Yes, please help out my poor father. I'm sending him out for hire?"

My husband is a highly respected professional man in this community. We have one of the nicest homes here. What will people think of us when they see my aged father going out to do odd jobs in his overalls?

My father had a pretty good idea how I'd feel about this before he started it. That's why he was so sneaky about the whole thing. He didn't tell me a word about it.

The neighbors take the attitude that they are willing to help Dad out if I want them to. They would really do it as a favor to me. How embarrassing. . . .

However, Gloria appears to lack understanding and to be so headstrong and self-righteous that it is easy to see why Wilfred ducked a discussion and a probable contest of wills with her.

We are 100 per cent behind Wilfred in his belief that he has a right to work. Even if Gloria is a millionaire and Wilfred walks out of her mansion in his overalls, he is within his rights.

If Gloria would deny him this right, Wilfred may be better off boarding out with a more understanding family.

Gloria should recognize that she is, in effect, trying to deny her father health and the will to live. His hunger for activity and a little extra financial independence must be filled in some way and he has chosen a reasonable and honest way. There is no need for her to be embarrassed about it. She should cut off and try to understand this.

We don't think the neighbors will think any less of Gloria or her husband if she lets them know that her dad has chosen to set up his own private enterprise.

She should make it clear, without seeming to patronize him, that she respects her father f o r this and she is perfectly content to have them give him work or not, as they choose — no favors asked.

Quick Cakes With Top Interest

Do you remember making old-fashioned crumb cake or are you just a young sprite who has hardly made any cake at all?

Young or old you will be glad to know that these cakes combine the frosting with the initial effort. For that reason they seem to fit into the summer feeding problems of the thoughtful provider. Another small but comforting detail — they should be left in the pan until they are cut for serving. Good idea for a picnic.

That's for me. Are they for you?

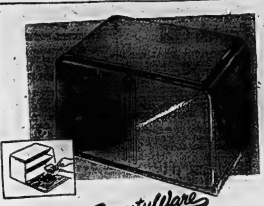
OLD-FASHIONED CRUMB CAKE



Two cups each brown sugar, sifted all-purpose flour, ½ cup butter or margarine, 1 egg, well beaten, 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, allspice, nutmeg. Mix brown sugar, flour and butter together until crumbly, as for pie crust. Divide crumbs in half. Add the well-beaten egg, milk, soda and spices to half the mixture. Pour batter into greased and floured 9"x12" cake pan. Sprinkle remaining crumbs on top of batter evenly and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. about 30 minutes. Note re sour milk: If ever you have sour milk by mistake it is this much — so here's you chance to use it up to good advantage. Eleanor adds that I should tell you how to sour milk if you have none on hand and do not care to buy buttermilk. To 1 cup fresh sweet milk, at 1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar and let stand a few minutes.

MARGIE'S DATE CAKE

(With broiled icing) One cup boiling water, 1 cup dates chopped, 1 teaspoon each soda, salt, vanilla, 1 cup sugar, ½ cup shortening, 1 egg, 1¼ cups sifted flour. Pour boiling water over dates and soda. Let stand while preparing batter. Sift together the flour and salt. Cream sugar and shortening. Add egg and beat well. Add flour and salt alternately with dates and soda mixture. Add vanilla. Pour into greased and floured 9" x 13" pan and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. about 45 minutes. Immediately after cake is baked, mix ingredients for icing (below), and spread evenly over cake. Broil icing until lightly browned. Cool before serving. This is a moist cake and will keep well for several days. Do not remove from pan. Icing: (to broil) Four tablespoons butter or margarine, melted, ½ cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons milk, 1 cup coconut or chopped nuts. Blend ingredients together and spread evenly over top of baked cake.

Food Is Most Impressive to Scotch Girl

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Food is the most impressive thing about Canada, says Dorothy A. Marshall, 22, of Stranraer, Scotland.

She is on a three-month visit to Canada to study farm life, as a delegate from the Scottish Association of Young Farmers' Clubs.

While staying at a farm near here, she said "you have more vegetables and fruits in your menus here. You have more pickles and salads. At home our men just seem to want meat and potatoes at every meal."

The supermarkets in Canada also impressed her, and she was amazed at the numerous cake and other ready-mixes she found. "But women on farms in Ontario seem able to get a meal in next to no time," she said.

Miss Marshall's father farms 210 acres near Stranraer, and also runs 420 black-face sheep on 1,600 acres of adjoining moorland. He has a herd of 70 Ayrshire cattle.

Women's Activities

WALLBRIDGE WMS

WALLBRIDGE — Wallbridge WMS meeting was held on July 2nd in the church hall with a small attendance. The devotional part opened with the president, Mrs. Morley Phillips, reading the theme, "The Bible and Prayer".

A letter concerning the purchasing of printed material from the United Church Publishing Company was discussed and was passed on for other members to read. It was decided the WMS could not do better. The money was voted to be paid towards purchasing flannelette.

The next meeting will be held in September.

HEADS HOSPITAL

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (CP)—First woman to be elected chairman of the board of trustees of the General and Marine Hospital here is Mrs. W. P. Telford, a past president of the women's hospital aid. She is the first woman to preside at graduation exercises.

Women's Clubs Take Critical Look at Wages

By CAROLYN WILLET
Canadian Press Staff Writer

EDMONTON (CP) — Canada's working women will take a critical look at existing equal pay legislation.

The national convention of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs Wednesday supported a recommendation that provincial clubs be asked to conduct a survey on the effect and results of equal pay legislation, with particular emphasis on the method of making claims under the acts.

Convention business sessions for the 400 delegates continue today with the election of officers and special committee reports.

The question of equal remuneration for equal work—six provinces now have equal pay legislation—stood as a major convention topic.

COVERS WOMEN

A 1956 federal Equal Pay Act covers women in industries under federal jurisdiction, including some 35,000 women employed in banks.

Eleanor Morley, chairman of the committee on employment conditions, report said provincial and federal acts make it necessary for a worker to register a complaint with the labor department if equal pay for equal work is not being paid.

However, the report said complaints under the legislation have been few and came generally from women employed in industrial firms not covered by union agreements.

A survey by Manitoba clubs listed no complaints from women workers. British Columbia reported only two complaints in 1957. Alberta, Nova Scotia, Saskatchewan and Ontario also have equal-pay legislation.

However, Isabel Macmillan of Edmonton said surveys tend to "lead us to believe everything is lovely in the garden when we're sure it is."

SHOW REMEDY

SUDBURY, Ont. (CP) — The proper antidotes should be printed on labels on all poison bottles, it was recommended by women's institutes in Sudbury, Algoma and Manitoulin. They also urged that hospitals receiving government grants should pay costs of uniforms and text books for student nurses.

Women's Activities

MELROSE WMS

MELROSE — The members of the Melrose Women's Missionary Society met in the church for their July meeting.

The president, Mrs. Charles Bates, sr., presided, with Mrs. S. Demille at the piano.

Mrs. Bates, assisted by Mrs. R. MacFarlane, Mrs. J. Milligan and Mrs. C. Osborn, conducted the worship service.

Business period was conducted when the treasurer, Miss McLaren, gave the report for the first half year. The resignation of Miss Nancy Scott as leader of the Mission Band, and of Mrs. Newton Demille as assistant, were accepted with much regret.

Mrs. Osborn gave a reading on "Christian Stewardship" and Mrs. E. Badgley, a reading on "Temperance". Mrs. Bates referred to the article in the Monthly on, "Those Discarded Pyjamas", which can be sent to "The Women's Welfare Service of Japan", and many women earn a living in the work shops where three nylons are put to many uses.

Mrs. J. Milligan took charge of the program, the theme being "The Bible and Prayer". Mrs. Demille gave a reading, "Why Pray?", followed by a reading, "Big Prayers to God", by Mrs. Osborn. "What Prayers Can Do" was given by Mrs. E. Badgley and Mrs. Lorne Weese gave a reading, "Spiritual Strength Shows in Crises".

Mrs. Milligan gave, "The Wonder of the Book", its formation, its unification, its age, its sale, its interest, its language and its preservation.

The wonder of the Bible grows as one's experience is enlarged, for the more deeply we search it, the more we feel that the Bible is not merely a book, but The Book. Sir Walter Scott in his dying hour, asked his son-in-law to read to him out of the Book; Lockhart asked him "What book?" The great man who had a library of 3,000 books, replied, "There is only one Book — The Bible."

DIET FACTOR

Experts recommend that the diet of the expectant mother should include 1¼ pints of milk daily.

BIG FAMILY

COWANSVILLE, Que. (CP)— Mrs. Paul Viens celebrated her 90th birthday here. She has 226 living descendants — eight children, 49 grandchildren, 138 great-grandchildren and 31 great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Eisenhower Guest of Honor At Luncheon

OTTAWA (CP) — Mamie Eisenhower, wearing one of the new fashions, was guest of honor Wednesday at a luncheon given by Mrs. Diefenbaker at the prime minister's residence.

The wife of the visiting president wore a blue and green printed silk dress with a "harem" hemline to its full skirt—a hemline turned up all round in Oriental style.

Twenty women attended the luncheon at 24 Sussex Drive—mostly wives of cabinet ministers and other dignitaries who at the time were at an all-male luncheon given by the Canadian government at the Country Club, across the Ottawa River in Quebec province.

Mrs. John Foster Dulles, wife of the U.S. state secretary, and Mrs. Livingston Merchant, wife of the U.S. ambassador to Canada, also were present.

They lunched on jellied consomme, cheese souffle, chicken salad and strawberries, and had coffee on the terrace behind the residence overlooking the Ottawa River.

Mrs. Diefenbaker wore a pale pink linen dress and white shoes with small bows.

Native Workers Fall Easy Prey To Tuberculosis

VANCOUVER (CP) — Native workers fall easy prey to tuberculosis in some South African cities, Miss Dorothy Cornell, head of a hospital in Durban, said in an interview.

Non-Europeans make up 90 per cent of the patients in the tuberculosis hospital. This is due to the rise of industry in cities luring natives into concentrated areas "which are just happy hunting grounds for TB."

Miss Cornell said Durban hospital had 1,700 beds when she left, but will have 2,000 when she returns home. A new wing is under construction.

The South African nurse is here studying administration and organization of rural nursing services.

"More attention is being paid to tuberculosis and its treatment than ever before, but money is still the big problem, and we're still short of beds.

By TRACY ADRIAN

Youngest brother has a distinctly nautical look in his sea-going outfit designed for wear either aboard ship or ashore. His jacket is of rayon flannel and fully lined. It has a shield emblem, a cardigan neckline and two patch pockets. With the coat are contrasting suspender shorts. A bow tie and a white shirt complete the ensemble.

Sunday School Picnic

ALLIANCE TABERNACLE

The annual Sunday School picnic of the Alliance Tabernacle, W. Moira and Coleman Sts. was held last Saturday afternoon at Little Lake.

A crowd of excited children boarded the chartered bus at 11:30 p.m. and with a number of private cars following, proceeded to Little Lake, a short pass of the afternoon was spent in swimming, which each seemed to enjoy thoroughly. Then followed the races and the winners are as listed: Lois Wright's race: Mc-Kay's class (beginners): Lee Blakely, Christine Travers. Each child in this class received a gift.

Miss Selma Warren's class: Cathy Baker, Linda Shannon.

Mrs. C. Beattie's class: Douglas Leonard, Gary Blakely.

Mrs. K. Dixon's class: Becky Rodberg, Sharon Drummond.

Mrs. F. Hawley's class: Barbara Blakely, Elizabeth Baker.

Mrs. G. Millard's class: Bob Landry, Allen Rodgers.

Mr. Wright's class: Larry Baker, Murray Dixon.

Mrs. E. Mann's class: Margaret Redner, Lillian Vardy.

The Rev. S. Palmer's class: Alfred Baker, David Benn.

Ladies' race: Wilma Mackay, June Harrison.

More swimming and another game of baseball were enjoyed after the evening meal. At 7:30 the children were gathered together and all participated in a candy and peanut scramble. They boarded the bus and with a caravan of cars following, a tired but happy crowd returned to Belleville. All agreed that they had had a good time.

Club Activities

ST. ANDREW'S CLUB

IVANHOE — St. Andrew's Presbyterian Club met at Mr. F. M. Woods' cottage, Moira Lake, on Friday evening.

The president, Mr. Arthur Hassell, presided. The Scripture, John 14:1-18 was read by Hazel Thompson. The roll call was answered by 29 members and four visitors.

It was decided to hold the annual picnic at Tweed Memorial Park, August 10th.

Mr. Barton Haggwrty led in a community camp song.

The president expressed thanks on behalf of club members to Mr. Wood for his hospitality and Mrs. Milton Shaw made the presentation of owl bookends.

Mr. Wood in his reply extended an invitation to come again.

Cookies and hot dogs were served.

WOMEN'S VIEW

CALGARY (CP)—Mrs. P. N. R. Morrison described as "in cans" and "apple boxes" 12 small cities she has exposed to buy. He said no more after Aid. Mrs. Mary Dover suggested complaints about small cars usually came from persons "too bulky to get behind the wheel."

Agency Gets Many Presents From Friends

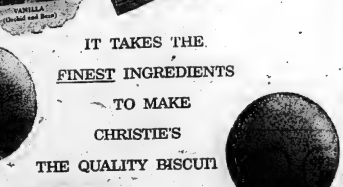
OTTAWA (CP) — Two bulky "thank you" parcels have arrived at the Unitarian Service Comittee headquarters here.

The volunteer agency which sends food, clothing and other supplies to needy corners of the world found itself on the receiving end.

One box weighing 87 pounds, from France, contained a large ceramic India paper bowl. USC director Dr. Lotta Hitschmanova explained that the bowl could be used as a flower vase—is a "thank you" gift from 130 boys and girls in a USC-sponsored home in Sevres, France.

Dr. Hitschmanova said ceramics is one of the crafts taught the children there, ranging in age from three to 18, who are supported by Canadian "foster parents."

Another box contained a hand-embroidered silk banner about two feet by three feet in size, bearing the USC emblem of crucible and flame. It came from an agency - sponsored home for disabled children in Seoul, South Korea.



The gold-fringed banner is the handiwork of a 13-year-old girl, Young Bun Lee, who lost a leg in the Korean conflict.

OLD CUSTOM

Archaeologists have found bowls indicating that women in ancient Israel used green eye shadow, and red ocher to color their lips.

The community was suddenly shocked to hear of the accident in which Andrew Howell of Marysville, was killed. The community sends good wishes to his wife, who is in Belleville hospital, for a quick recovery.

Defence Board Seeks to Solve Radar Jamming

OTTAWA (CP) Defence Minister Pearkes said Tuesday Canadian defence scientists are "quite hopeful of achieving results" in research on methods of detecting inter - continental ballistics missiles.

Appearing before the Commons estimates committee, he also said units of each armed service and the Defence Research Board are working on the problem of radar jamming.

Arnold Peters, CCF - Timiskaming, asked whether anything can be done to prevent an attacking enemy from electronically jamming radar devices used in North America's warning lines and thereby rendering them useless.

Mr. Pearkes replied this problem is under constant study and that modifications in the lines are taking place all the time, as new knowledge about the problem is uncovered.

Egan Chambers (PC - Montreal St. Lawrence - St. George) asked whether any progress is being made in devising methods of detecting approach of inter-continental ballistics missiles.

Mr. Pearkes said a great deal of research on this subject is going on. Without elaborating, he added "we are quite hopeful of achieving results."

Opposition Leader Pearson asked the minister to "clear up some of the confusion" around statements he made to the committee Monday on radar capabilities.

Could a majority of Russian bombers get over the DEW radar line in the Arctic? Or had the minister referred only to the Pinetree line in southern Canada?

Mr. Pearkes replied: "I think I'm correct in saying that the early warning line (DEW) can detect any bomber the capabilities of which are known to Canada."

But the government recognized that greater improvement in the Pinetree line is necessary, he said.

PRINCESS TO SIGN INDIAN BIBLE

This Queen Anne Bible, held by Honora Froman, 14, of the Six Nations reservation, will be signed by Princess Margaret during her visit to Canada. A delegation of Indians will take the Bible to Niagara Falls during the brief visit of the Princess there on August 1.

Money had been provided for a start on this in defence department estimates for the fiscal year ending next March 31, in which the committee is studying.

PASSES BYLAWS

WINDSOR (CP) — City council Monday night passed a bylaw which will allow cars to be hauled away from private parking lots if the owner of a lot complains, and a second bylaw which will allow a property owner to cross his neighbor's land if necessary to repair and maintain buildings on his own property.

CALM VISITOR

VICTORIA (CP)—A huge sea-lion started holidayers by lolling in the sun in an open boat moored offshore. The burly creature basked for two hours, then slid back into the water.

Ownership of Gas Shares By Ministers Said 'Indecent' By Quebec Liberal Leader

ACTON VALE, Que. (CP)—Liberal Leader Jean Lesage has described as "indecent" the ownership of shares of the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation Limited by provincial government ministers.

He made the charge Wednesday night as he launched the first of a series of province - wide meetings which he described as a "protest march of liberation." He called for unity in the Quebec political boat . . . but your property was sold.

"If in Ontario the ministers' participation was an indiscretion, in Quebec it is an indecency."

He referred to the creation of the Northern Ontario Natural Gas Corporation and said Ontario cabinet ministers who were shareholders in the corporation had resigned. He attributed the reason for their resignation to the fact that the Ontario gas distributing company fell under the authority of the Ontario Securities Commission.

Mr. Lesage, who became Quebec's Liberal chief last May, said: "If it is true that he (Mr. Duplessis) did not have any knowledge of this natural gas affair, I believe we at least have the right to say he was asleep at the switch.

He spoke in this industrial centre of 6,000 before a crowd packed into a 400-seat auditorium of St. Andre School. About 100 persons stood at the back of the hall and another 100 listened outside the school building through a loudspeaker system.

He announced his intention to tour the province after Premier Duplessis ignored his demands for a royal commission of inquiry into the sale of Quebec Hydro gas distribution facilities to the gas corporation.

The Liberal chief's request for a royal commission investigation followed a series of articles published by the Montreal newspaper Le Devoir, which said a $20,000,000 stock offer cut-rate marked the gas sale.

The corporation named seven cabinet ministers, one former cabinet minister now lieutenant-governor of the province, and Premier Duplessis' private secretary among shareholders or former shareholders of the corporation.

Mr. Lesage referred to an announcement in Trois - Rivieres Wednesday by Jean Methot, counsel for Premier Duplessis, that legal notice was being sent to the Montreal daily demanding that it retract declarations made against the premier personally in the series of articles.

The newspaper said in a front-page statement, signed by publisher Gerard Filion, that it retracts none of the declarations it has made in a series of articles critical of the provincial gas transaction.

". . . We maintain all that we have affirmed, we retract nothing and we are ready to defend ourselves before the courts."

In commenting on the notice, Mr. Lesage said:

"It it is libellous to say that perhaps Mr. Duplessis is interested in the affairs of the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation then Mr. Duplessis certainly must consider that it is a fault for a minister to own shares in that corporation.

"I said a minute ago that it was indecent for a minister to have shares and now Mr. Duplessis' action brings support to what I say."

The Liberal leader renewed his call for a royal commission or a provincial election. He said if the Liberals came to power the royal commission will definitely be instituted to examine the transaction.

He said the corporation was set up under the Quebec Companies Act by associates of the Hon. Edouard Asselin, the government lawyer in the legislative council whom he described as "a friend and private secretary of Mr. Duplessis."

The legislative council is the upper house of the Quebec legislature. Its 98 members, which, at present are controlled by the provincial cabinet, act on the laws of the Country Club.

"DOUBLE TAXATION"

In an apparent reference to U.S. anti-trust legislation now against the company, which operates in Canada, Mr. Diefenbaker said in Ottawa the company in the position of being subject to double taxation."

At another point he said "it amounts to a derogation of the sovereignty."

The president, presumably referred to the possible eventual outcome of the case in U.S. courts, said the provincial government would appear to be that the matter was not within court jurisdiction.

President Holds Reception at U.S. Embassy

OTTAWA (CP) — A smiling, relaxed President Eisenhower shook hands with many old friends Wednesday night at an hour-long reception in the United States Embassy.

The president laughed frequently, and joked about a golf match planned for today, as he stood in a receiving line with Mrs. Eisenhower for an hour.

Later, the Eisenhowers had a private chat with two old friends, Capt. and Mrs. Edson C. Sherwood. The captain, now retired, was Canadian naval attache in Washington during the Second World War and said he and his wife got to know Mrs. Eisenhower then.

About 200 guests, including Prime Minister and Mrs. Diefenbaker, attended the reception in honor of President Ambassador Livingston Merchant.

Mr. Diefenbaker described an 80-minute private drive with the president during the afternoon as "a most interesting motor drive through the Gatineau Hills" in the Ottawa area.

"We were completely alone and had a very good discussion while we were driving the scenery," he said. They had discussed "many matters."

TALKS TO SPEAKER

President Eisenhower, jaunty and smiling in a black business suit with a red tie, buttonholed Senate Speaker Mark Drouin about today's golf game as he passed through the receiving line.

"We will trounce you tomorrow," said the president, according to Senator Drouin.

The president will be playing in a foursome with Senator Drouin, Transport Minister Hees and John Cross, president of the host Ottawa Hunt Club.

At lunch Wednesday the president and prime minister discussed taxation problems affecting companies operating in both Canada and the United States.

They apparently had the case of Premium Iron Ores Limited particularly in mind as they chatted while posing for photographers on the lawn of the Country Club.

"DOUBLE TAXATION"

In an apparent reference to U.S. anti-trust legislation now against the company, which operates in Canada, Mr. Diefenbaker said in Ottawa the company in the position of being subject to double taxation."

At another point he said "it amounts to a derogation of the sovereignty."

The president, presumably referred to the possible eventual outcome of the case in U.S. courts, said the provincial government would appear to be that the matter was not within court jurisdiction.

Economic and Trade Problems To Remain Says Eisenhower

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

President Eisenhower's speech to Parliament may go down hard with some Canadians. He made clear the United States has no present intention of making any from economic and trade policies that have irritated and caused concern in Canadian quarters.

His visit to Ottawa was looked on by some as a possible American move toward removal of vital Canada - U.S. blockages on oil, wheat and general bilateral trade.

Indeed, he said he is convinced acceptable solutions can and will be found, provided there is give and take on both sides. But he did not promise compromises or concessions. Instead, he tried to point up the good side of American practices, explain and defend them and indeed to show how they might also be good and beneficial to the Canadian economy.

TOUCHES TENDER SPOT

He even raised the question of whether Canada is as interested as the U.S. in expansion of world trade as whether Canada wanted to do some "artificial" redirecting. This apparently was a delicate reference to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's expressed wish that Canada might redirect 15 per cent of her imports from the U.S. to Britain.

"I assume that Canada is as interested as are we in the expansion of world trade rather than in its artificial redirection," Mr. Eisenhower said. This may have touched a tender spot in Progressive Conservative quarters.

Reporters asked Mr. Diefenbaker for comment. But he said his never abstracted any particular line from a speech. He liked the "spirit of co-operation" that seemed to cover the speech generally. That was as far as he would go.

Naturally, it would be impolite for the prime minister, playing host to the head of a neighboring state, to say anything less than complimentary. But Mr. Diefenbaker has previously made known his views on American trade policy.

He has criticized the American surplus wheat giveaway program, American restrictions on imports of Canadian oil, the fact Canada has a deficit with it in American trade and that American high tariff policy restricted imports.

Mr. Eisenhower explained some of how the American wheat giveaway is part of a world-wide world markets for wheat may find little appreciation among Canadian farmers with huge surpluses on their farm and little money in the pockets.

An assurance by the president that the U.S. has tried to "minimize the impact of its aid on export curbs on the Canadian economy" and that little exports of Western oil producers who have suddenly found their American markets gone.

And the president's discourse on how interdependent with one country are sometimes offset by surpluses in trade with others particularly in the Commonwealth among Canadian exporters who long have maintained that American tariffs are too restrictive, making it tough for Canadians to get into the U.S. market.

The Canadian government has been concerned over the growing American control of vital Canadian industry, such as mining and petroleum. And the president said, in effect, that the American economy is so vast that if Canadian it is based on private enterprise, which was developed through the interplay of private concerns. Government could do little about this.

Sent for Trial On Murder Count

TORONTO (CP) — Mrs. Ann Ritchie, 37, Wednesday was committed for trial on a charge of murder in the June 8 knife slaying of Stanley Mitchell, 46.

Mitchell was found dead and other woman were drinking in their downtown rooming house apartment. Mitchell came in, swore at them and struck them with a frying pan.

Mrs. Ritchie has three children who live with their father on the Saugeen Indian Reserve near Southampton, about 20 miles west of Owen Sound.

NEWSMEN INSPECT RUSSIAN SHIPS OFF NEWFOUNDLAND

This Russian fishing ship is one of 13 anchored off the coast of Newfoundland. A reporter and photographer moved among the flotilla to see if there was any evidence that the Russians were using the ships as supply vessels for submarines or that they were equipped to spy on Canadian and U.S. planes. The newsmen circled the flotilla for six hours, found the Russians reluctant to converse or be photographed, but they made no hostile move.

When the Russian sailors saw the Canadian newsmen's camera, most of them went below decks. There were boxes of fish stacked on decks and other evidence of fishing. One skipper, in answer to a question, said the catch was good. When the newsmen tried to speak to them over the radio, the Russians switched to code. Both Washington and Canada are suspicious that the flotilla is there for purposes other than to fish.

The Russians are anchored 255 miles from St. John's, Newfoundland. The exact position of their flotilla are five ships of about 5,000 tons and eight trawlers.

Denies Report Diamond Fortune To Be Converted

NAIROBI, Kenya (CP) — The brother of Quebec-born Jon Thorburn Williamson said Wednesday he has "no knowledge" of a report that he and his sisters are planning to convert to cash the $10,000,000 diamond fortune Williamson left them when he died in 1957.

The report, credited to authorized sources, said Percy P. Williamson and his two sisters planned to sell shares of the incredibly rich Mwadui mine developed by their brother, who was one of the world's loneliest and richest men.

WOULD DIVIDE

The authoritative sources had said sale of the company's 1,200 shares would be divided equally between Tanganyika government lands and De Beers Consolidated Mines Limited, from which Dr. Williamson once withheld his supply of diamonds for 22 months because he felt he wasn't being paid enough for his gems.

In addition to his brother, the sisters who would figure in any transaction are Matilda Williamson of St. Saveur, Que., and Mrs. Alex R. Millar of London.

Shortly after the McGill University-educated geologist died at 52, his fally said they would go to Tanganyika to live near the mine. Percy Williamson, whose wife and four children followed him here, began to hire a Canadian manager and assistant to run the mine.

Teamster-Longshoreman Drive For Hoffa Union to Be Made

MONTREAL (CP) — Two powerful maverick unions—the teamsters and longshoremen—said Wednesday they plan to seek some 200,000 new members in Canada's ocean and inland ports in preparation for a seaway shipping boom next year.

Aim of the organizational drive will be to tie up dockers and truckers from Halifax to the Lakehead in a new land-sea-air transport alliance headed by teamsters boss James R. Hoffa in the United States.

The seaway is expected to transform inland harbors into major ocean ports with jobs for hundreds of stevedores, longshoremen and truckers.

This new, virtually untapped labor field is the target of the teamster-longshoremen drive.

The teamsters union has been ousted on corruption charges from the AFL-CIO in the United States, but still maintains its affiliation with the Canadian Labor Congress, main labor body in Canada. The International Longshoremen's Association, expelled from the U.S. parent body on grounds it is riddled with hoodlums, is also linked with the CLC.

The teamsters and the ILA are also linked together by a mutual aid pact signed July 3 in Washington. The agreement bars either is the National Maritime Union, an AFL - CIO affiliate, representing U.S. seamen on the east coast.

When the agreement was signed, Mr. Hoffa said the alliance aim was to bring all unions in the transportation field together in a giant mutual help partnership covering land-sea-air workers. He denied a suggestion he was erecting a big transport monopoly.

Canadian union reaction to the joint teamsters - longshoremen campaign in this country will likely be made known when a CLC-sponsored meeting is held—probably within 60 days and either in Toronto or Montreal.

The Seafarers' International Union, the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees and other transport workers and the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks would be asked to attend.

SIU Vice-President Hal Banks said he had been invited to Wednesday's meeting, but did not go because "attendance is commitment to a degree." Frank Hall of the railway clerks also had been invited but did not attend.

Union observers expected them to participate in the formal CLC discussion of the matter.

"We want to settle the role of each union," said William Bradley, ILA president, before Wednesday's meeting. "It's better to get the matter straightened out immediately. By meeting like this we may cut off a lot of arguments before they develop."

CCF Leader Says Premier Deliberately Misled Public Regarding Knowledge of Deal

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario CCF Leader Donald C. MacDonald has suggested Premier Frost "deliberately misled the public regarding his own knowledge" of cabinet ministers holding natural gas stock.

Mr. MacDonald said Wednesday in the second of two statements issued on Attorney-General Roberts' recent inquiry into Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company Limited stock deals:

"When I charged (in the legislature) March 19 that one of his cabinet ministers had been involved in the pipeline profiteering Mr. Frost sought desperately to cover up, rather than clean up the mess."

He quoted the premier as saying: "(Energy minister minister Philip) Kelly's resignation, and his discussions with me, had nothing to do with Northern Ontario Natural Gas or any other company."

Two days later, Mr. MacDonald said, Mr. Kelly confirmed that "one of the main reasons" for his resignation was his family connections with the pipeline deals."

QUOTES PRESS REPORTS

The CCF leader also quoted newspaper reports that Mr. Kelly's resignation was typed out and waiting when he arrived in Mr. Frost's office.

Said Mr. MacDonald's statement:

"If that report be accurate, then it clinches the case, and the Premier Frost has deliberately withheld what he knew of the Kelly connection with NONG in a desperate effort to keep the whole mess from getting to the public."

Since Mr. Kelly's resignation, two other cabinet ministers—Works Minister William Griesinger and Lands and Minister Clare Stapleforam—have resigned because they held shares in Northern Ontario Natural Gas.

Tuesday, 11 charges were laid against three affluent and one former officer of Northern Ontario Natural Gas under the Ontario Securities and Corporations Act. Informations sworn out before Justice of the Peace Gerald Little alleged the company traded in its own account in securities first filed in the prospectus with the Ontario Securities Commission.

NOT PERSONALLY INVOLVED

Mr. MacDonald's statement concludes:

"I have never suggested—and I do not know—that Premier Frost was personally involved in these pipeline deals. Like Sir John A. Macdonald and William Lyon Mackenzie King, Mr. Frost is personally incorruptible. But both Macdonald and King knew what he is willing to do, to protect his party represents a completely different moral code.

"So far, Premier Frost has made a virtue of refusing to describe, admitting only what has been revealed by someone else.

". . . Without an independent, public investigation, we shall never know the extent of the public's loss."

Mr. MacDonald was aware of his scandals situation, how much of the unethical behavior of Mr. Kelly in March, and how much has not been revealed to the Roberts report, which merely represents the government's investigation of itself."

Secret Service Agents Checked P.M.'s Residence

OTTAWA (CP) — United States secret service agents checked Government House and Prime Minister Diefenbaker's residence prior to the visit of President Eisenhower, James Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Wednesday.

However, he told a reporter he objects to the word "search," used in press reports to describe the security arrangements which he said were carried out in cooperation with the RCMP.

At a press briefing, Mr. Hagerty said U.S. agents did not search the vice-regal residence "is not true," he said.

He said the duties visited by the president were checked for security reasons.

EMBASSY PARTY OFF

In this connection, although Mr. Hagerty did not mention it, it was known a week ago that even the American Embassy residence, where the president now is paying his respects, the expected check was so well in advance that the annual July 4 garden party was called off by the embassy because a new check would have had to be conducted afterwards.

An American correspondent asked whether anything had happened to suggest that the president was in jeopardy.

"Not the slightest," Mr. Hagerty replied. He declined to say whether the agents could shoot in case of incidents.

He also was asked about reports that during former president Harry Truman's visit to Ottawa some years ago U.S. agents searched houses along the routes he traveled in Ottawa.

"That is completely ridiculous," Mr. Hagerty said.

The RCMP and U.S. agents did not have the men to do such a job.

"That would never happen," he added.

JAMESTOWN, R.I. (AP)—Mrs. Angelina Pernanen, 79, died Wednesday leaving 99 descendants—11 children, 43 grandchildren and 45 great grandchildren.

Adjourn Bribery Trial of Former B.C. Minister

VANCOUVER (CP) — The 38-day-old Sommers bribery and conspiracy trial was adjourned until next Monday when the week's proceedings today who indicated that the prosecution will call more former lands and forests ministers Robert Sommers may call them out for the defence.

Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson indicated there must be "substantial" evidence in the case of five such charges, but that seven others—along with a count of conspiracy —may be put to the jury.

The Crown case was told the jury that the defence had presented him with such a mass of argument and motions in calling for dismissal of some or all of the charges that it took some time to consider his ruling.

Sommers was dismissed from the cabinet in 1956 but is still a member of the legislature. Also involved in the indictment are the C. D. Schultz Company Limited, Pacific Coast Service Limited, Evergreen Lumber Sales Limited and B.C. Forest Products.

The prosecution has described Somers and H. W. Gray as the "kingpins" of a conspiracy to pay off the minister in return for his influence in obtaining government timber licences.

Boy Loses Way In Burning Home, Dies of Smoke

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — A 14-year-old boy died in a smoke-filled bathroom early today as he apparently lost his way while escaping from his burning home. Other members of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allard escaped from the burning building.

Injured were Murray Liddle, 32, who received burns about the face and arms; Mr. Allard who was burned on the shoulder and hands, and Charles Meharry, 11, who suffered a cut foot. Mr. Liddle, in fair condition, was the only one admitted to hospital.

The Allard's, their four children, Mr. Liddle and Charles fled from the two-storey, wood frame house at 1:30 a.m. when flames and dense smoke swept through the upper storey.

ALL SCREAMING AT ONCE

"The family came piling out of the house, all screaming at once," said Norman Laforet, 31, who was standing on the porch at the time.

"When I heard the boy was still inside I dashed into the house. The smoke was thick; I could hardly breathe. I managed to give me a wet cloth and I went up the stairs.

"Someone said, 'he's in the bathroom.' The door seemed locked and I kicked at it. The force of the smoke and heat coming out threw me back on my heels. I shouted out, 'but there was no answer. The heat was getting worse and it was impossible to stay there, I came down again."

Three others attempted to go up the stairs, but the smoke and heat were too intense.

In minutes the Windsor fire department arrived and men in oxygen masks set about finding the boy. He was found lying by the bathtub and was brought down the porch where a resuscitator was applied by Windsor ambulance attendants. But the treatment proved in vain.

Cause of the fire was not immediately reported and a damage estimate was not available.

Man Trapped Five Days on Ledge Rescued

ANTONITO, Colo. (AP) — A squad of army mountain-climbing experts Wednesday rescued an archaeologist, C. N. Cochrane, 33, from a canyon ledge where he had been trapped for five days.

John L. Rawley, 35, was lowered 600 feet in a litter to the floor of Conejos Canyon, 30 miles northwest of here Wednesday. He walked without aid to an ambulance waiting at the canyon mouth.

Fred Bewley, 22, who was lowered to Sanders' lofty perch with food and water Tuesday, clambered down the rope, then on nylon ropes used by the soldiers to reach the ledge.

Sanders and William E. Garver, 38, slipped from the rugged canyon lip last Friday. Garver was killed in an 800-foot plunge.

GET RADIOACTIVE MILK

GOETTINGEN, West Germany (Reuters) — Dairy farms has found increasing amounts of radioactive materials in its milk during recent months—probably mainly due to Soviet nuclear bomb tests earlier this year, the Goettingen University Agricultural Institute said.

"Possibly I DO think more of my television set than I do of you . . . I get less interference from it!"

ACCUSES VICTOR OF ELECTION FRAUD

Luis H. Alvarez, centre, National Action Party candidate in Mexico's general elections, casts his ballot in Mexico City. Directors Vote Against Move For Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The board of directors of the Washington baseball club voted Wednesday against shifting the team to Minneapolis or anywhere else. Dallas, Houston and Toronto were also mentioned as possible new cities.

Only two days ago Senators' president Calvin Griffith had talked with his fellow American League club owners about making a move.

Wednesday, he himself announced that the board now has adopted a resolution saying none of its officers or directors "shall hereafter engage in any negotiations or discuss any offers, either oral or written, regarding a transfer."

Russian Girls Win World Gymnast Title

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's girl gymnast, scoring 381 out of a possible 400 points, won their second world championship in a row Wednesday night to give the Soviet Union's athletes a clean sweep in the men's and women's team and individual competition.

The Russian men's team scored 378 points Tuesday night for the men's championship, with Boris Chakhlin winning the individual crown with 116.5 points out of a possible 120.

Booth TV's Win Bantam Title; Enter OSAA

Booth Radio-TV's, Belleville's representatives in the OSAA bantam "A" playdowns, scored a 13-10 victory over Whalen's Real Estate last night to wind up the local schedule.

Booth's earned the right to represent the city in the OASA playdowns by finishing first in the three-team grouping. They won all five starts for ten points while Tempie's Bobcats took second place with two wins and three loses for four points. Whalen's had a single victory against four setbacks, good for two points.

Dave Lewis hurled the TV crew to victory last night although he gave up 17 hits and did not strike out a batter. He walked three and helped his own cause with a single.

Larry McFee starred for Whalen's but was shelled from the mound in the second and replaced by Lorne Fitzpatrick. They gave up ten hits. McFee fanned one and walked six, Fitzpatrick whiffed six and parsed a pair.

Bob Jeffrey led the Rainmen at the plate with two doubles and a single while Bob Boyle clubbed a triple and single and Rick Denard two singles. Billy Ryan and Jim Ross helped with doubles.

Larry McFee was best in defeat with a home run, triple and single. Rickey Coe and Mike Murphy each had a double and two singles. Don Gardiner a double and single and Lorne Fitzpatrick two one-baggers. Don Smith and Dave Reid had doubles while Meese and Rowbotham also hit safely.

UPSETS BAKER

PORTHCAWL, Wales (AP)—Dick Rittenhouse of Wales upset Bob Baker of Pittsburgh in a 10-round bout Wednesday night. Richardson weighed 202 pounds, Baker 220. Baker never used his weight to advantage. He was hard to hurt, but did little punching of any consequence.

ninins won the women's individual competition with 77.4 out of a possible 80 points.

AT THE McCARTHY — A courting dance done by two young people of a colorful South Pacific island as shown in the exciting film, "The Last Paradise." Soccer Tour Of Russia Is Cancelled

EDMONTON (CP) — The projected tour of Russia by a Canadian soccer team has been called off by Canada.

Negotiations have dragged on too long to enable an all-star Canadian team to be assembled and trained for this year, Canadian Soccer Association secretary George Anderson said Wednesday. He said he hopes negotiations will continue and that a tour will be arranged for next year.

Anderson said he did not believe that the Russians had dragged negotiations on deliberately.

They are a professional organization," he said. "They don't understand how we operate here. The Russians can choose a team and tell it to come to Canada and it comes. We have to choose an all-star team from our amateur teams and give that team a chance to practise."

AT THE PARK — Indian Killer: Joel McCrea is the hard-bitten commander of the "last patrol" in the southwest desert who sacrifices the lives of his men in order to get a scout sent out and kill more Indians. Co-starring with him are Forrest Tucker and Susan Cabot. "Fort Massacre" is CinemaScope and Color. Supporting hit is the self-contained feature, "Gun Fever", on the same program. "Gun Fever" stars Mark Stevens. Both action hits are first showings.

Aussie Sets World Record For 3 Miles

DUBLIN (AP) — Australian runner Albert Thomas broke the world three miles record with a time of 13:10.8 Wednesday night.

He lifted record from 13:14.2 set by Sandhor Iharos of Hungary at Budapest in 1956.

Thomas, 4 comparatively unknown young Australian, averaged 4:23.6 for each mile of the race at an international meet here.

Thomas and Lincoln set off a fast pace with Lincoln leading all the way for the first mile which was reached in 4:37. Lincoln still led at two miles, passed in the last time of 9:32, but from then on Thomas took control.

Las Vegas Bests Hollywood Has Its Sunset Strip, Live

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—To bare or not to bare — that is the question facing night club operators here.

This capital of live entertainment in the United States has gone all out for nudity. Showgirls stripped to the waist have become as common as slot machines. Some wear little more than a few strategic sequins, and a few don't even bother with that.

The climax came with the importation of the Paris Lido show at the giant new Stardust Hotel. A dozen statuesque foreign beauties paraded across the stage in a manner that could win them chest colds in the air-conditioned theatre.

GOOD OR BAD?

Is this nudity good or bad for Las Vegas?

You hear it both ways. The newer hotel-casinos on the west side of The Strip, as the night-club - studded street is known, have thrived on it. The more established joints on the east side are tak-taking.

"I think it's bad," said Ben Goffstein of the Riviera. "It's like a comedian resorting to smut. If he can't entertain without it, he can't be very good."

"A passing fancy," remarked Jack Entratter of the Sands. "If you've got the star names, you don't need nudity to attract customers."

"Nudity in shows has been run out of every town in the country and it could happen here," commented Monte Proser of the Tropicana. "So far the officials have not done anything about it. But most of the places are licensed and if the nudity gets out of hand, there may be some official action."

He added that Las Vegas has been at least partly built on family trade and families may be scared away from entertainment that might be deemed unsuitable for tender minds.

Nude or not, the shows are doing great business.

This town may be the last stand for the night club business in the U.S. With two big niteries closing in New York and others in big cities on the skids, the situation is grim.

"The night clubs are dead," said Proser, who has run some of the biggest ones. "They have been killed by the stars who have demanded too much money; the 30 per cent tax; and TV, which gives the public the best night club entertainment for nothing."

PRINCE ON TV

LONDON (AP) —Prince Philip will show his skill as a polo player before a television audience. The British Broadcasting Corporation said Wednesday a match in which the prince is playing will be televised July 23.

SUBS FOR PREMIER

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost will not be able to act as host at a Lieutenant Cup matches July 19 at the Scarboro Golf and Country Club. Instead, Municipal Affairs Minister W. K. Warrender will officiate at opening ceremonies July 18.

Ottawa Riders Start Grind Have Eyes on Ron Stewart

By ARTHUR WILKES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—Ottawa Rough Riders today kicked off their 1958 football training campaign with 60 players on hand for opening workouts.

Riders, runners-up to the Grey Cup Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Big Four Union last year, will hold morning and afternoon workouts daily for the next two weeks, said coach Clair.

Clair feels the Riders will be an improved club despite the loss of several key import players from last year's team.

Most interesting position battle may be for the quarterback job with holdover Tom Dimitroff and Hal Ledyard fighting it out again this year.

Dimitroff won the job from Ledyard when the latter suffered rib injuries early last season after Ledyard's top rookie season in 1956.

EXPECTS DEFERMENT

Dimitroff has been called to take a United States armed forces physical exam but says he is fairly sure of getting a draft deferment until after the football season.

Riders lost fullbacks Tom Lewis and Don St. John, backbone of the club's twin fullback system last year, but have acquired several promising newcomers.

Among candidates for ball-carrying duties are Gerry Nesbitt 195-pound fullback from Arkansas; Faye Mitchell, 210 - pound halfback from Tennessee State University; Ed Petarca, Boston College; Dave Theien, Miami University of Ohio; and Charles Stanley from the University of South Carolina.

Hometowns Bob Simpson, Ted Smale and Lou Bruce and import Buddy Payne of the University of North Carolina, Mack Yoho of University of Miami and Fred Polzer of University of Virginia are the ends working out.

STRONG UP FRONT

Riders seem strong up front, particularly at centre, with the return of Ken Vargo from the U.S. Army and hometown Bruno Bitkowski who sat out last season.

Vargo will battle Ron Pawlowski, former Miami star, for the centre position. Pawlowski, who held the job last year, and holdover guard Larry Hayes, won't be reporting for training for another week.

Other top linemen returning this year include tackle Kaye Vaughan, voted top lineman in Canada the last two years, Milt Graham, Tom Jones, Merv Colton and Gilles Archambault.

New linemen include tackles Lew Runsenge, North Carolina University, Don Overlock, University of Connecticut and Bob Wilson of Ottermouth College.

Riders also are hopeful of getting halfback Ron Stewart from Hamilton but say Tiger - Cats president Jake Gaudaur wants too much.

Stewart, in a post-graduate law course at Queen's University, was traded to Hamilton by Montreal Alouettes for Johnny Fedoroff. He says he would rather play in Ottawa than in Hamilton.

Ghosts Amuse Large Crowd At Pt. Anne

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Iowa Colored Ghosts, billed as softball's greatest team of comedians, lived up to their clowning reputation at Point Anne last night before a big crowd but they went down to a 3-1 defeat at the hands of the Cementmen in the legitimate part of the game.

The Ghosts put on a crowd-pleasing exhibition against the B. and D. loop leaders. Leading the laugh parade were "Treetop" a towering 6' 7" pitcher, Tom Eggleston, chief comic and first baseman, and another heavyweight, third sacker Rip Collins.

Eggleston and a couple of his mates kept a running discussion going at all times with the fans, the Cementmen and umpires "Shad" Ethier and Don Dolan included. They threw a grapefruit into the game at one time, used a ring-sized bat on another occasion and topped it off with excellent exhibition of shadowball and slow motion. Several of the Ghosts tried their hand at switch hitting, another used his bat as a pool cue while Eggleston sat on a stump against Pat Maracle's ankle and a couple batted one-handed. Eggleston collected one of his club's three hits on a perfect one-hand bunt.

"Treetop", who must have tipped the scales close to the 300 mark, hurled and clowned the distance for the Ghosts. He gave up eight hits and looked as if he could be an excellent pitcher with anything at stake. He fanned eight and walked three.

Iowa took a 1-0 lead in the second frame on base knocks by Tom Chatham and "Treetop" and a couple Point Anne miscues. They tried to sneak another run across when the third base coach stole home but the only one it fooled was this scorer.

Point Anne tied it in the fourth on two walks and Pat Gilmour's double. Jackie Elliott singled, Claude Carr rapped a triple through first and Jackie Wardhaugh also singled to win the game in the seventh.

Gord Maroney pitched the first five innes allowing two hits, for the Pointers. Pat Maracle held them for the next four innings on one bunt single to get the victory. He whiffed four, walked none. Bobby Hunter toned the ninth, untouched.

Claude Carr and Chuck Kingston with two hits each paced the Orpointers' attack. Jackie Wardhaugh, Pat Gilmour, Doug Soule and Jackie Elliott Jr. also trimmed the "Treetop" for base knocks.

Lineup — Iowa Ghosts: Belanfine, Eggleston, Collins, Catham, Edwards, Welch, Treetop, Garland, Hallman.

Pt. Anne: Carr, Wardhaugh, Jones, Batchelor, Kingston, Gilmour, Soule, Elliott Sr., Maroney, Hull, Maracle, Goyer, Elliott Jr., Hustard, Hunter.

ON ACTIVE LIST

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Royals of the International League Wednesday placed catcher Rene Prud on the active list and released outfielder Jacques Moseley unconditionally. The trim chief roster to the required 30 players. Prud was injured earlier in the season.

Nino Valdes TKO's Carter In 9th Round

Valdes, behind on points, got the word from manager Bobby Gleason to get going in the ninth round. He laid Carter out cold in 1:40 of the round after stopping him for an eight count seconds before.

Referee Joe August didn't even bother to count as Carter went down on his face and rolled over on his back. He raised Valdes' hand, then screwed "TKO" across his scorecard.

It became an official technical knockout at that moment regardless of what Carter did. It developed he did nothing but remain unconscious for another 60 seconds, then wobbled out of the ring.

"He was paralyzed . . . and he'd have broken his neck if it hadn't been for the apron on the floor," said Dr. William Anderson, the physician.

HIS SECOND TEST

The fight, scheduled for 10 rounds, was the second test for the 24-year-old Carter since his army discharge last winter. He had been slightly favored on the strength of a 10-round decision June 13 over Willi Besmanoff and was ahead on all three official score cards.

Carter, ranked the No. 5 contender by the National Boxing Association, was a dejected, cut and bruised battler in the dressing room.

"I saw the right coming," he said. "But not soon enough."

It was the right that started Carter out. Valdes, 23, followed with a solid left hook and Carter went down near Nino's corner. He was up and willing to go at eight but was obviously in trouble.

Valdes, sensing the end, was reluctant to move to a neutral corner but knew where to go when August waved him on again. It was straight to the Carter chin.

WINS NASSAU STAKES

BACK TO MINORS

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Billy Muffett, last year's relief hero for St. Louis Cardinals, is headed for the minor leagues, Muffett was transferred Wednesday to Omaha of the American Association on a 24-hour recall basis. At the same time the Cards recalled Bob Maltas from Omaha and bought Chuck Stobbs from Washington Senators.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Those pint-sized powerhouses of packerdemy, the midgets, will be here tomorrow night in another of their hilarious mat capers, that have proved so popular with fandom hereabouts.

Rated as being tiny, tough and terrific, Little Beaver heads the quartet of Lilliputian grapplers who appear on the card at Memorial Arena. The others are Beaver's pal, Cowboy Bradley, and his foemen, Fuzzy Cupid and Ski Lo-Lo.

This 42-inch, 92-pound Indian with the Iroquois crew cut, or is it Mohawk?, was brought up in the wilds of Northern Quebec. At an early age he learned all the secrets of trapping and bow and arrow. He acquired stamina playing with the family husky dogs.

At the age of twelve he lost his whole family when their canoe upset in midstream. He was the only one to swim to safety. He tried frantically to save them but all were drowned.

He saw midget wrestlers while living with an uncle in Montreal. He learned the trade and its tricks and due to his amazing speed became top man in the ranks of the tiny prez almost overnight.

Big favorite of all wrestling fans, Little Beaver is rated the fastest of them all. He darts in and out and through the ropes with terrific speed. The next minute he is perched atop them grimacing at the referee and the opponent.

Someone with a well-developed sense of humor dubbed Fuzzy Cupid with his nickname for in no way does Fuzzy resemble the little god of love. He is one of the most hated midget wrestlers extant, who was reared in Texas among the toughest of them.

Fuzzy sneered at school. Then one day he met some carnival folks passing through his town. A sword swallower and fire-eater took a fancy to him, and it was not long before Fuzzy was better than his teacher. He travelled for years with carnivals. He may be consistently mean because of a chronic sore throat.

He spent some time with a pro wrestler, one of the main attractions of one of the carnivals and it wasn't long before Fuzzy knew all the tricks. Besides he has invented some of his own. He is master of countless holds and doesn't hesitate to use them.

The fastest, meanest, trickiest of the whole shebang is Sky Lo-Lo from Montreal. The bundle of dynamite weighs only 84 pounds and stands 42 inches high. Built with extraordinary muscles his body is capable of great strength and ability. He is one of the best drop-kickers in the game.

This little Canadian wildcat won a Paris tournament from 30 others and he has been acclaimed the "Little Atlas of the Wrestling World." He receives hundreds of fan letters and has a secretary to handle his mail. He has been the recipient of tempting offers from the movies, but prefers wrestling. He has an open challenge of $100 to any midget wrestler in a two-of-three fall match.

Texas-born Cowboy Bradley was raised on his father's ranch near Amarillo. Forty-one inches high and weighing 91 pounds the miniature cowpoke is one of the more popular midget wrestlers. He is an expert horseman, a crack marksman and has a host of trophies to prove it. Before taking to wrestling and building his body the Cowboy punched cows with the other hands.

In the big brother ranks and no less an attraction is the new mat sensation, the Hindu champion Dara Singh, who tackles the villainous Reggie Lisowski singlehanded. Reggie won't have brother Stan at ringside to assist him in his nefarious schemes. He will be strictly on his own against a dashing, agile matman who has become a general favorite. Stanley, too, will have his hands full in a private feud of his own. He tangles with popular Timmy Geohagen, the strong man from the cold sod whose forte is making bragging villains of the mat say "uncle."

Joe Gordon Has Field Day As Ex-Yankees Rip Bombers; Dodgers Wallop Champs 10-3

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Gordon held forth at second base for New York Yankees for many a year, but nowadays he is strictly an enemy of the Bronx Bombers.

And, as an enemy will on occasion, Gordon did a little gloating today.

"Boy, I'll bet they felt strange last night after getting rid of Power, Held and Hunter."

Gordon was referring to Wednesday night's 12-2 slaughter of the Yankees—the first time he's come up against them as manager of Cleveland Indians. He took over for Bobby Bragan two weeks ago and the Tribe has won seven of 11 games since then.

Vic Power, Woody Held and Billy Hunter all were laborers for New York manager Casey Stengel in recent years, but the Yanks couldn't find a spot for Whitey Ford and Virgil Trucks Wednesday night. Power had five hits, Held two and Hunter two.

The game was the only one scheduled in the American League Wednesday night.

It isn't often that castoffs come back to haunt New York. The Tribe collected 19 hits off the combined efforts of Ford and Trucks. That marked the worst barrage to which the Yankees have been subjected this season.

Actually, it was a close battle between Ford and Cash McCall for seven innings. But in the eighth, the Indians couldn't do anything wrong and wound up scoring seven runs.

McCall was lifted for a pinch hitter during the uprising, which prompted Gordon to comment: "Imagine making your last pitch with the score tied 1-1 and finishing up the winner of a 12-3 ball game."

Twelve Indians batted in the eighth inning. Included among the hits were a homer by Mickey Vernon and doubles by Held, Bobby Avila and Billy Harrell. The Tribe scored four more in the ninth, but by that time they were getting tired.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gobbling up second-division teams with regularity is the common behavior among frontrunners in the major leagues.

But that's not the way it's working at all so far this season with the first - place Milwaukee Braves and the last - place Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Dodgers, a study in futility against most teams in the league, came on like gaudy, irrepressible champions against the Braves again Wednesday night and knocked them kicking for the eighth time in 10 meetings this season. The score was 10-3.

This was the only game in the National League.

The heroes were Steve Bilko and Stan Williams.

Bilko, a local idol when he played in the Coast League for the old Los Angeles Angels, made his first starting appearance at home since his recent acquisition from Cincinnati and slammed a three-run homer in the first inning. The big first baseman drove in another run later with a sacrifice fly.

WINS HIS FOURTH

Williams, a rookie righthander, pitched a pretty four-hitter and picked up his fourth victory in seven decisions.

"From what I saw of Williams in the spring, I was about ready to give up on him," Dodger manager Walt Alston said after the game. "But Joe Becker (the pitching coach) went to work on him and got him to develop that two-windup style, and the kid is coming right along. And he's got the stuff to make him even better."

Williams' chief fault in the spring was wildness and he suffered two attacks of it Wednesday night, walking three in the fifth inning and two in the eighth. The Braves clubbed him for a run in the fifth, on Eddie Mathews' sacrifice fly, but Stan got out of the sticky jam by getting Hank Aaron to ground into a double play.

The Indians took a 12-6 victory over the Giants in a peewee baseball fixture last night behind the one-hit hurling of Fred Robinson.

Robinson gave up only a single to Clare over the seven inning grouts. Karl Hannah also threw well for the Giants, touched for just four hits. Both teams were charged with seven errors, paving the way for most of the game's 18 runs.

Puts Foot Down On Expenses For Amateurs

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — The International Lawn Tennis Federation decided Wednesday that no amateur lawn tennis player will be allowed to travel abroad and receive expenses for more than 150 days each year.

The federation also agreed that expenses payable in any country be limited to a maximum of $14 a day.

The limitation of travel and expenses for amateur players—effective Jan. 1, 1959—were the main points of a report on amateurs which was adopted by the federation at its annual meeting.

The ILTF also decided to bar any payments to persons accompanying players except for Davis Cup team managers or managers appointed by a player's national federation.

Charge Russian Soccer Officials With Blunders

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Russian soccer selectors and trainers were accused of "blunders and mistakes" Wednesday following the failure of the Russian team in the recent World Cup tournament in Stockholm.

Russia was eliminated in the quarter-finals of the World Cup.

A sharply-worded article in the Soviet Youth newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda charged that the training council "staked everything" on Edward Streltsov, the now disgraced centre-forward.

Senators Asking Questions May Sideline Legislation

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Questions raised by Senators may sideline sports legislation backed by Casey Stengel, the Yankee manager, and star baseball players.

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (Dem. - Wyo) said today he is against the measure, passed by the House of Representatives, that would give pro team sports certain important exemptions from the anti-trust laws.

"It is clearly a club owners' bill," O'Mahoney told reporters. "It is not a fans" bill, nor a players' bill, nor a bill for the businessmen in any city who would like to have a major league team."

O'Mahoney, a member of the Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee that opened hearings Wednesday, also charged that baseball commissioner Ford Frick and club owners influenced players to support the bill.

WORRY CHAIRMAN

Subcommittee chairman Estes Kefauver (Dem-Tenn.) said several of the measure "worry me considerably."

He cited "blanket waiver of anti-trust and federal communications laws is a big request."

As passed by the House, the bill would exempt from anti-trust law the contract reserve clause, player draft, trades and territorial rights now exercised by professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

While declaring strictly commercial activities subject to regulation, it would give men in charge of these sports authority to regulate television and radio broadcasts of their games.

The subcommittee and a full House audience Wednesday heard Ewell Blackwell, Stan Musial, Mickey Mantle, Robin Roberts and Eddie Yost.

In general, the star witnesses buffled in support of the bill. They said baseball and football to continue practices which they contended have made the game a success but which might be challenged under anti - trust statutes.

The Supreme Court has held baseball is outside anti-trust jurisdiction. But in a separate ruling that pro football is covered by the same laws, the court indicated any sport—including baseball—might also be held subject to regulation in future decisions.

Stengel didn't specifically endorse the exemption bill. Stengelese, which he has added to the language of baseball, is corny.

When Kefauver inquired why baseball owners want any new law, the sage of Yankee Stadium wound up and uncorked this one:

"I wouldn't know, but I imagine to keep baseball going as much as baseball is as a sport, we have gone into baseball and in the baseball angle."

South Hastings Baseball League

Foxboro plated six runs in the top of the seventh to insure a 9-3 victory over Shannonville last night in a South Hastings baseball league fixture.

Jack Stewart and Art Cronkwright shared the pitching duties for Foxboro, allowing ten hits. George Reid and Gerry Hill lolled for Shannonville, tagged for 14 hits between them.

Foxboro opened the scoring with a pair of runs in the second frame and made it 3-0 in the top of the fourth. Shannonville roared back with both their markers in the bottom of the same frame but they could not control the visitors' scoring power in the big seventh.

Jack Stewart with three singles and John Robinson with a triple and single sparked the Foxboro club at the plate. Art Gough and Ralph Plane each had a brace of hits.

Shannonville	000 200 0—2 10 5

In another South Hastings league game, Read also scored six runs in the top of the final frame to hand Latta a 10-5 setback.

Read held a 4-1 margin going into the sixth when they plated another half dozen runs to make it 10-1. Latta came back in the bottom of the inning with four runs but the rally fell short.

Hanley buried the distance for Read, giving up ten hits, fanning four and walking five. Gary Rowe and Stan Reid netted for Latta, allowing ten hits, whiffing seven and passing four.

Callery led the winning nine with a wood, slamming a two-run homer and a single. Shannon collected three singles while Walsh doubled twice. Milligan, G. Brennan and McMahon shared the other Read safeties.

Americans Are Favored 2-1 Over Canada In Cup Round

By WILF GRUSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — The United States shows off its Davis Cup team today in the opening singles of the Davis Cup round against Canada. Strangely, for the first time in all the years the countries have met in the preliminary rounds for the famous international tennis trophy, the Canadians' cause isn't so hopeless.

No one is rushing to bet much on the Canadians, but the untested ability of the Americans has given Canada confidence she's never had previously in an encounter against the U.S.

The Americans are rated 3-to-1 favorites and the Canadians are hoping they get at least a split in the first two singles. Big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, described by team captain Perry Jones as a player who can rise to great occasions when the pressure is toughest, opposes Don Fontana of Toronto in the first match. Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., meets Canadian champion Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., in the other.

DOUBLES FRIDAY

The doubles will be played Friday and the remaining two singles Saturday. The opening singles opponents will switch unless the tie is decided on the second day, in which case substitutions may be made if the captains agree.

The other members of the U.S. team are Sam Giammalva of Houston, Texas, and Jack Douglas of Sanford, Delgrstie, with 19-year-old Earl Buchholz, Jr., of St. Louis on hand for practice and experience.

The Canadian players besides Bedard, 36, and Fontana, 27, are Paul Willey of Vancouver and Lorne Main, playing captain who celebrated his 28th birthday Wednesday. Willey, 27, and Main are not likely to play since the U.S. wins three straight in the best-of-five series.

The doubles pairings were not announced after the draw was made for the singles Wednesday. Jones is expected to assign MacKay and Giammalva for that job with Bedard and Fontana teaming for Canada. MacKay and Giammalva have often paired as doubles partners.

Brampton Downs Monarchs 8-5

TORONTO (CP) — Brampton Excelsiors outscored Long Branch Monarchs 41 to, the Intermediate A lacrosse Association senior game Wednesday night.

The win moved Brampton within two games of the league-leading Weliand Senators. Senators but Brampton has played two more games.

Bill Castator and Phil Wanless each scored two goals for the winners.

Senior Baseball

It was bound to happen. Oakwith Oaks finally lost a home game in the Intercounty Baseball League.

The Oaks, who entered the league for the first time last year, were coasting along in front and place with all of their three losses on the road. That is until Wednesday night when London Majors up and walloped them 8-2 on the strength of four home runs.

The loss dropped the Oaks a full two games back of the leading Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen who received Guelph Merchants 8-2. Galt Terriers stayed in fourth place tied with London with an easy victory over the luckless Hamilton Beavers.

Leafs Take Two From Buffalo; Royals Win Pair

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don Cardwell left them smiling in Miami. Now he hopes to leave them scowling in Chicago.

Miami Marlins' ace righthander was told late Wednesday that the parent Philadelphia Phillies had called him up and that he was due to pitch against Chicago Cubs Monday. Then he hurried a mass of well-wishers, thanking Havana 2-0 in what may be his last International League game.

Toronto Maple Leafs won a pair from Buffalo Bisons, taking the opener 4-3, then the nightcap 6-5 with the help of six unearned runs. Montreal Royals also swept a pair, beating Rochester Red Wings 3-1 on Tom Lasorda's 10th victory and winning the second 3-2.

Cardwell closed out his record to 10-7 when he earned run average that shows slightly more than two runs a game. He completed 13 games, striking out 131 batters in 150 innings.

Buffalo committed eight errors, five by third baseman George Risley, as the Leafs' runs in the night game were unearned. Rip Coleman lost the first for Buffalo after pitching a four-hitter. Ed Blake won it.

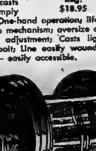
RALLIES IN EIGHTH

Leafs won the nightcap with a three-run rally in the eighth inning, helped by two of Risley's errors. Tony Tefavaver (7-4) won in relief, while George Brunet lost.

Lasorda followed Cardwell's script, pitching a two-hitter. He had three losses. Jerry Parris homered for the Royals, his seventh, in the first game. Lasorda was the loser, pitching to only three men after taking over for starter Bob Kuzava.

Rene Valdes won his 10th in 17 decisions in the nightcap as the league - leading Royals tagged loser Lynn Lovenguth for seven hits for his eighth loss against seven wins.

Ed Stevens got one Rochester run with his 18th home run of the season, while Montreal centerfielder Solly Drake extended his hitting streak to 21 games, beating out a bunt in each game.



CANADIAN SECOND

A BISLEY, Eng (Reuters) — Lt. A. G. Derrick of the Royal Canadian School of Engineering missed the service rifle championship at Bisley Wednesday by a single point, and was runner-up to Sgm. D. E. Mitchell of 4th Training Battalion, Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, who won the championship Challenge Cup with 372 out of a possible 455.

Russia Repeats Demand Parley Seek Test Ban

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has demanded again that the United States agree to a new Geneva conference of nuclear scientists work for an immediate suspension of nuclear weapon tests.

The East - West conference, which began July 1, is restricted to seeking ways to detect violations of any ban it might be agreed on at later political talks.

A week before the Geneva meeting got under way, the Russians threatened not to send a delegation unless it met the United States agreed in advance that a halt of atomic weapon tests was the goal of the conference.

The United States said that would be putting the cart before the horse. It insisted the scientists talk only about practical methods of detecting violations.

SHARP NOTE TO U.S.

In a sharp note Wednesday night the Soviet Union accused the United States of trying to justify its refusal to end nuclear tests by claiming that effective control of a ban is impossible "even though it is now clear that such control is fully possible."

The state department in Washington had no comment Wednesday night, but officials said they were not impressed.

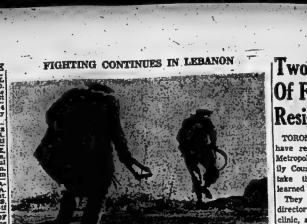
The Soviet note accused the US of side-stepping "a definite reply" whether it agreed that the meeting of experts should be devoted to solve the problem of control and instant suspension of nuclear weapon tests."

It called on the United States to "make an unequivocal statement on the question of the task of the experts be devoted to the solution of the principal task — the instant and universal suspension of nuclear weapons tests."

Russia announced in April that she was ending her own nuclear weapon tests and challenged the West to follow her lead. The Russians reserved the right to resume testing if the West continued.

Last Minute Changes for Royal Visit

VANCOUVER (CP) — Protocol problems have caused two last-minute changes in plans to greet Princess Margaret on her arrival Saturday in the province.



An official civic welcome for the princess at Vancouver international airport has been cancelled and the official party which will greet her at Patricia Bay airport in Vancouver Island has been reshuffled.

Defence Minister Pearkes now will lead the dignitaries at Patricia Bay since provincial protocol he welcomed Canada before she can be welcomed by the province.

Thousands of Vancouver residents will lose a chance to glimpse the royal visitor at Vancouver international airport, where she was originally to have been welcomed by Mayor Fred Hume and three other officials and their wives.

Under the new plan she will change planes for Victoria at the airport's RCAF station. Wing Commander Jack Watt said no crowds will be allowed near the area.

FIGHTING CONTINUES IN LEBANON

Western Observers Believe Red China on New Hard Line

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

Many Western students of Communist affairs believe Red China's leadership is exerting intense pressure on Russia and other Communist countries for a tough line at home and abroad.

There is currently a crackdown in Red China against dissent and deviation.

The compulsion of the Red Chinese toward a tough policy and their desire to impose that policy throughout the Communist empire likely arise from an acute internal situation in China—a situation that threatens to grow worse.

Peiping has set for itself the goal of overtaking Britain in economic and industrial development in a space of 15 years. But the immense population of China awells year by year against an ever scarce food supply.

To carry the program through Peiping is going to have to impose on the Chinese people enormous hardship and suffering comparable to that imposed in the Soviet Union in the 1930s.

Probably this can only be carried out by imposition of terror such as Stalin ordered in the Soviet Union. To justify this sort of terror it will be necessary for Peiping to create a foreign enemy just as Stalin did.

The Chinese Communist leaders probably feel that they must also get other countries of the Communist bloc to present a united face.

If this speculation is correct, then the current turn of both Peiping and Moscow to a tough line is a long-term proposition. But if Peiping becomes too rabid, this could conceivably impose a strain on the Moscow - Peiping axis.

Deseronto
CUB SUMMER QUARTERS

DESERONTO — During the summer months Camp Mohawk, on the Greendale Reserve, will again be occupied, but this time there will be no planes taking off or landing on the runways. The camp is to be used as summer quarters for various Cub detachments of the district, and at the present time, the Cubs of the RCAF at Trenton are occupying the premises. From 10th June to 17th of July the Stirling Cubs will occupy the Camp; from the 18th June to the 25th it will be the group from Wooler; from the 25th to the 27th the Frankford Cubs, and from August 2nd to Aug. 8th, the Foxboro Cubs.

EYE INJURED

While in attendance at a ball game at the high school grounds last week, Jack Spence, manager of the Canada Optical Co. here, suffered a painful accident when he was struck in the eye with a baseball. The ball broke his glasses and inflicted some severe cuts to his eye-lid. Mr. Spence was removed to the Belleville General Hospital where he was treated and was kept for observation for a few days. He has been allowed to return to his home where he is still undergoing treatment. For a time it was feared that some damage had been done to the sight of the eye but it is now quite certain that the eye was not severely hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, of Roosevelt, N.Y., spent the weekend with relatives on Deseronto Reserve.

Mr. Lyle Lewsen, of Tonawanda, N.Y., was a recent guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Lewsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Serp of Watertown, N.Y. visited recently with relatives on the Reserve.

Mr. Kenneth John of Buffalo, N.Y., was the guest of relatives on Deseronto Reserve last week.

Miss Elaine Brant, of Ottawa, spent the weekend as the guest of her mother, Mr. Frank Brant.

Miss Norma Green and Miss Brani spent a few days in Hamilton, recently.

Last week Dr. McVicker and Mrs. McVicker journeyed to Adventure Town near Algonquin Bay with their daughter, Dawn.

Mrs. William Pippy, of Ottawa, was the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. D. C. McVicker, for the weekend.

Mrs. Agnes McVicker of Ottawa, is the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. D. C. McVicker.

Two Officials Of Family Court Resign Posts

TORONTO (CP)—Two officials have resigned key posts in the Metropolitan Juvenile and Family Court here and a third may take the same step, it was learned Wednesday night.

They are Dr. J. D. Atcheson, director of the family psychiatric clinic, and Miss Dorothy Barraza, chief social worker. The third is Dr. John E. Callaghan, who said he is "contemplating the possibility" of resigning as assistant director of the clinic.

Dr. Atcheson, whose reasons are outlined in a letter to Metro Chairman Fred Gardiner, declined to comment. Miss Barraza said there was a serious staff shortage making it impossible to deal adequately with juvenile and domestic problems.

She said salaries are lower than those paid by the province in higher courts.

In March 1957 the court moved from basement premises to a new $1,300,000 building.

Princess Guest Of the Drews

LONDON (CP)—Princess Margaret attended an all-Canadian party Wednesday night, 48 hours before leaving London by train for the start of a month-long tour of Canada.

The princess was guest of honor at a dinner at the Upper Brook Street residence of Mrs. Drew, Canadian high commissioner to the United Kingdom and wife.

The guest list included Mrs. Sydney Pierce, wife of the deputy high commissioner at Canada House; Edward Johnson of Montreal, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, and his wife; Lord father; provincial agents-general in London and their wives; Mrs. McCullagh of Toronto, widow of the former publisher of the Toronto Telegram, and Eymond Butler, R.C.A.F. air attache officer at Buckingham Palace.

Crofton

CROFTON — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, Bill and Gordon, of Deseronto, spent Tuesday with Mrs. W. J. Gray.

The W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Val Squire on Wednesday afternoon with a good attendance. Next meeting will be at Mrs. Keith Brown's home.

Mrs. Victor Bongard is spending holidays at her home here with her grandparents, little Miss Anne Bongard, of Picton, spent a few days with last week.

Mrs. M. Allan and Mr. Arthur Salisbury were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hutson, on Sunday.

Mr. George Hutson spent Sunday with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hutson, in Rollin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarrold Bongard, and Cheryl, were dinner guests Sunday guests of their mother, Mrs. Victor Bongard, with Mrs. Bongard returning home with her parents.

Mrs. George Hutson and Mr. Arthur Salisbury were dinner guests of the latter's sister, Mrs. E. Crook on Sunday.

CANADA AND U.S.

This threw the briefing conference into an uproar. Both Canadian and American reporters suggested the China statement was confusing and confusing. Why was new consultative machinery necessary? Hadn't the two governments consulted many times before?

Mr. Hagerty denied there was any conflict. Canadian and American laws differed on China trade. The difference to us down and work out each export problem separately.

"This is merely an agreement to have government consultation on this. Now, form of that consultation would depend on the circumstances and probably on the recommendations of the two governments."

Mr. Nelson said Canada hoped that only Canadian law would apply on American subsidiaries. That was what Canada hoped to achieve.

REPORTER'S QUESTION

"Are you hoping that our own laws apply in our own country?" asked a Canadian reporter amid general laughter.

The statement also said the two leaders discussed "questions concerning disarmament and in particular proposals for safeguards against surprise attack . . . Particularly, they emphasized the great importance which both countries attach to a system of control which would cover the Arctic and related areas."

The statement went on to deal with some form of Arctic control followed a recent reply from President Eisenhower to a Soviet proposals for disarmament inspection zones.

An East-West meeting of experts now is in process at Geneva to work out details of safeguards for policing a ban on atomic weapons tests. The Soviet and Iron-curtain powers, at the same time, are deciding what reply to make to President Eisenhower's proposal for Arctic inspection.

The two leaders said in a statement that certain aspects of Mr. Khrushchev's letter were unacceptable, but they were nevertheless encouraged by "certain elements of responsiveness" to earlier Western proposals on the matter."

The joint statement concluded: "Mr. Diefenbaker indicated that the government and people of his countries would work together and in co-operation with those other free world countries concerned in study of this problem."

NO EXPERTS TALK

If an East-West meeting on aerial inspection occurred, Mr. Hagerty said, no experts talk level. Mr. Hagerty suggested.

Mr. Diefenbaker's decision to work on Arctic aerial inspection proposals was another step in "continental co-operation," he said, but declined to spell out further what the decision would entail.

The China trade issue developed earlier this year when the Ford Company of Canada was approached by Communist China which wanted to buy 1,00: cars. There was no concrete proposal, Mr. Hagerty explained, in merely an approach.

Ford of Canada got in touch with its U.S. parent company but was informed it could not go ahead with negotiations. American law bans U.S. companies and their subsidiaries in Canada and other countries from trading with the Communist country. Penalties can be imposed against any company which breaks the law. Canadian restrictions on China trade involve only strategic goods. Canadian officials immediately protested to the American law, arguing that companies and persons operating in Canada should conform with Canadian laws and rules.

At this agreement meant, asked an American reporter, that the U.S. now would allow Canadians to "peddle" their Fords to the Communists?

Mr. Hagerty replied that he couldn't answer that because there currently was no concrete case—before the two governments.

He didn't know when or where a Canada-U.S. consultation meeting would be held on the aspect. He couldn't even tell, at this time, under what government agency the talks would emerge. A lot would depend on the kind of product involved.

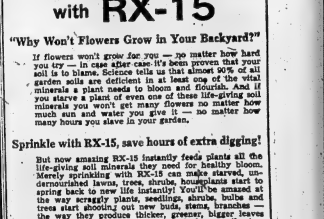
GARDENING'S A CINCH with RX-15



"Why Won't Flowers Grow in Your Backyard?"

If flowers won't grow for you — no matter how hard you try — in case after case it has been proved that a soil is to blame. RX-15 tells us that almost 90% of all garden soils are deficient in at least one of the vital minerals a plant needs to bloom and flourish. And if you starve a plant of even one of these life-giving soil minerals you won't get many flowers no matter how much sun and water you give it — no matter how many hours you slave in your garden.

Sprinkle with RX-15, save hours of extra digging!

But now amazing RX-15 instantly feeds plants all the life-giving soil minerals they need for healthy bloom. Merely sprinkle with RX-15 to make carrots, beets, dernourished lawns, trees, shrubs, houseplants start to spring back to new life instantly! You'll be amazed at the way scraggly plants, seedlings, shrubs, bulbs and trees start shooting out new buds, stems, branches — the way they produce thicker, greener, bigger leaves and flowers even in the most mineral-starved soil, when you sprinkle RX-15. A package of RX-15 dissolved in water — and it goes to work instantly!

3-lb. (Average Lawn & Garden) $3.98
5-lb. (Economy Size) $5.49

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Friday, July 11, 1958

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Be very practical in your thinking today, and it would be a fine idea to get the advice of experts in property matters. Also, set up a better bookkeeping system and work out on paper the fine plan formulated during the day. Be secure.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) The day is ideal for getting in touch with persons who have been difficult to reach before on financial and business matters. Have a real meeting of minds, then full speed ahead in activity pertinent to same. Get shopping done, too.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Splendid day for a private conference with that person who can give you vital data you need. A delightful time can be had on the Morrow, but it is imperative you mend your fences today, and without fail. Be wise.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) — No better time than now to impress your associates and friends with spirit of fine cooperation, esteem and labor-ing harmoniously together on joint ventures. With a happy attitude, it is possible to enjoy your work tremendously.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Every opportunity imaginable is at hand to gain added prestige and make new friends. It is up to you, so forsake that comfortable chair and be your dynamic self. Be sure to take some wonderful higher up to dinner or luncheon at exclusive place.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — It is comparatively easy today to get together with that good friend at some lovely spot where you can glean the information so vital to you. Read your paper for the right restaurant, watering place, etc., to go to.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Figure out exactly today how you can have a conference with a big executive who will make your financial dreams come true. Also be sure to learn the "know-how" of successful operating, too.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — While a usually opinionated associate seldom gives you the opportunity to express yourself, you can today by taking him or her to some hideaway spot give vent to the truly meritorious plans you have in mind, of mutual benefit.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — The fine energy with which you are imbued today can best be utilized to get rid of all the work you have permitted to pile up of late, whether at home, at place of business or in the field. P.M. have gay time with mate.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) An ideal day to attend to better grooming, beautification or take health treatments preparatory for the gay social and important events ahead. Avoid starting today. Be joyous and have a very good time.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Give attention to home surroundings. There are some specific changes and additions to be made that will improve appearance and harmony in that sphere of your life. P.M. have delightful evening at home with tiles.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) While you are laboring most efficiently and with almost machine-like precision, it is necessary you temper this nicely with touch of gaiety, some outlet of an artistic nature before the right persons for complete satisfaction of good aspects.

If your child is born today—The wonderful child born today is the type who will never rest until he or she reaches the salary, factory, logical answer to any problematical affair. Don't endeavor to squeeze your youngster with any light reply to a serious question or you will lose respect. However be sure to give, besides the prescribed general and academic education a course in the higher spiritual accepted theories.

Surprised How Much Better I Am Since Taking Syntone, says Grateful Woman

"For a long time I was feeling miserable and it is certainly wonderful the way Syntone has helped me," said Mrs. Margaret Clark, 849 Princess Avenue, London, Ontario, in a recent report.

Many Aches and Pains

"My nerves were very bad and I felt tired all the time. Especially in the mornings after a restless night. I just seemed to have no energy. I had a constant nagging pain across my back and my limbs, joints and muscles were sore and painful.

"But, Syntone has been wonderful for me. My nerves are calmed down so that I sleep restfully at night. The backache and other aches and pains are also relieved and I am not always tired as I was before."

An Herbal Medicine

Although the Syntone formula includes such herbs and roots as false unicorn root, blue cohosh and the invigorating tonic action has helped thousands of people to get relief from nervousness, restlessness and tired, run-down conditions. It also brings grateful relief from backache, rheumatic pains, functional menstrual disorders and other annoying symptoms. Why not try Syntone for you too?

HOW FAMILY OF 4 LIVES ON $59 A WEEK

Canadians from coast to coast agree that $59 a week is the minimum amount a family of four can live on, according to a Gallup poll survey. Mrs. Joe Hooker of Toronto, shown with her two children, Donna, 14 months, and Debbie, four, manages her two children, Donna, 14 months, and Debbie, four, manages to balance the budget with the $59 pay cheque brought home weekly by her husband, Joe, a truck driver. They pay $75 a month for a two-room apartment, and their weekly food bill is between $10 and $12. By careful shopping, and living without a car and entertainment, the Hookers keep out of debt and usually have a nest egg of $10 left over each month for emergencies.

RAWDON

Rawdon Circuit Holds Annual Lawn Social

RAWDON — On Friday evening the Rawdon circuit annual lawn social was held on the school grounds at Wellman's with approximately 275 people in attendance.

The weather was not very reliable and a few drops of rain early in the evening probably was a deterrent to the usual large attendance. The committee in charge had made arrangements to use the church and Orange Hall in case of rain. However plans were carried out as scheduled and the rain held off.

There were over 160 paid adult admissions at the gate and a large number of children were admitted free.

An exhibition game of soft ball was played on the diamond between Rawdon YPU and Pelherick's YPU with Rawdon winning by a score of 18 to 5.

Madoc Band provided music during the evening. They also conducted a bit of novelty for the children and played a request selection.

The Kiltie trio — Ken Rose, of Riverside, playing bag-pipes, Douglas Kane, of River Valley, on snare drum, and Maris Heasman, of River Valley, dancer — all dressed in Scots costume, delighted the crowd. Maris performed the Highland Fling tap dance and the Scots Reel.

There were several races for the children and the winners received cash prizes.

Wellman's ladies were in charge of a fish pond, and Bethel ladies provided homemade candy, strawberries, home baking, and green peas for sale at their booth. Mount Pleasant ladies had a large assortment of 35c parcels which were sold. All proceeds were for the Rawdon circuit parsonage fund. There was also a large confectionery booth presided over by circuit members.

Refreshments were served cafeteria style and everyone had all they could eat.

The circuit treasurer collected a total of $70 to add to the funds.

Visitors attended from Tweed, Madoc, Burnbrae, River Valley, Stirling, Carmel, Hoards, and the surrounding area.

WOOLER

Young Couple Honored By Friends

WOOLER — A shower was given on Monday evening for Mac. Haggarty and his bride, in the United Church parlors, with a large crowd of friends attending.

A program was much enjoyed, with community singing with Mrs. A. G. Austin at the piano.

Mr. Ed Nelson was chairman and gave a short address. A piano solo by Christine Crosby; reading by Mrs. Wilber McColl; vocal number by a group of the young people; a few words by Noble Crosby; piano solo by Ann Morrow; a short talk by Harold Haggarty; duet by Dianne Anderson and Ann Redcliffe; a few words by Hillard Morrow; music by Lambert Whaley; and a solo by Paul Ross.

The bride and bridegroom operated their gifts and expressed their thanks and appreciation for the gifts and the kind wishes accompanying them.

Rawdon

RAWDON— Mrs. Paul Sharpe of Wellman's, spent last week with her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Douglas, While Lake. She attended several Madoc re-union sessions and renewed acquaintances with old friends. The morning of school attendance proved interesting.

Mrs. Elgie Joblin, Toronto, spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Ray Williams, and Mr. Williams, at Hoards.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McDonell and family, of Barrie, spent some time with Mr. and Mrs. Fred McDonell. Their little son remained for a holiday with his grandparents.

Mrs. Harry McAdam recently attended an Orange service at Wallbridge.

Miss Emma Rainie, 6th concession, Rawdon, had the misfortune to fall at her home and fracture her hip on Sunday. She is now a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Vandervoort, Brantford, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Long and family, Peterborough, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Carlisle and family. In the afternoon they attended the IOOF Decoration Service and in the evening they spent some time with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carter and Mr. Ernest Carlisle.

Mrs. James Sharp has spent the past three weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clarke and family at Markham. Mrs. Sharp also spent an afternoon with Rev. F. G. Joblin and daughter Gladys at Port Perry.

The pupils of the Williams Public School, S. S. 4, Mount Pleasant Rawdon, with their teacher, Mrs. Ronald Parr, and their parents, enjoyed a picnic at Sarles Beach, Oak Lake. There were ball games, races, and swimming. The men provided watermelon as a special treat.

Rawdon Young People's Union defeated Wallbridge- Stone YPU in a softball game played recently at Wallbridge by a score of 15 to 12.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher, pastor of Rawdon circuit, is in charge of a study group at Quin-Mo-Lac camp for a couple of weeks. The theme is "The Juniors in the Church." His son, Allen Fletcher, attended camp last week.

EISENHOWERS WARMLY BID FAREWELLS

Princess Flies From London On Her First Canadian Tour

LONDON (CP)—Princess Margaret boards a plush airliner today to fly to her first tour of Canada.

She and her small party are to take off from London airport at 5:30 p.m. EDT. After a brief fueling stop at Goose Bay, Labrador, the plane flies on to Victoria where it is expected at 12:30 p.m. EDT on Saturday.

As she steps from the airliner, she will be thrown into a whirl of official duties that will see her travel from coast to coast before departing for home Aug. 11.

The 27-year-old princess will spend 13 days in British Columbia where she is to attend the provincial centennial celebrations.

Then she sweeps east across six other provinces to the Atlantic seaboard. She will be in Ontario between July 30 and Aug. 4 when her itinerary includes a visit to Ottawa, Stratford, Niagara Falls, Hamilton and Toronto.

She will also stop in Alberta, Saskatchewan, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

Four days of her stay in Ontario will be in Ottawa.

Although the princess has travelled widely throughout the Commonwealth, this is her first visit to Canada.

Princess Margaret is to spend 18 days on the west coast. Among activities in connection with the centennial she will open two bridges—one spanning the Peace River, the other Lake Okanagan —and will review about 30 warships from Canada, the United States, Britain, Japan and Mexico.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis:
The weather front, which brought a band of showers and thundershowers across Ontario last Thursday, has moved into the Atlantic states. Another disturbance is developing near Kansas City this morning. It is expected to move northeastward towards the Great Lakes and cause a cloud into southern Ontario late today. Thundershowers will begin in southwestern Ontario tonight and spread eastward across the lower Great Lakes area Saturday.

Commute Death Sentence of Montgomery Boy

OTTAWA (CP) — The cabinet today commuted the death sentence of 17-year-old Rodney Montgomery to life imprisonment but made no announcement of any change in the death sentence of Leo Mantha.

Montgomery, Boit, were convicted of the shooting of a Blind River, Ont., bank manager, bank manager J. J. Walter Bridges during a holdup there last October. They were to be executed July 15.

The justice department official said the cabinet would announce later whether there would be further action on the death sentence imposed on the father.

Victoria Ready to Greet Princess As She Starts Journey From London

VICTORIA (CP) — Everything is nearly in shape for Princess Margaret's visit to British Columbia.

Police, navy and transport department officials say things are under control. The Government House lawns need only a final grooming, clipping and weeding for a garden party July 14. The princess leaves London today.

The flowers will be in full bloom for the party, expected to draw more than 4,000 people. The gardeners will supply flowers for the royal suite in the Empress Hotel, serving as Government House since the old official residence was destroyed by fire last year.

Margaret's visit will take her 3,000 miles across seven provinces.

The 27-year-old princess, only adult member of the Royal Family who has not yet visited the Dominion, will attend a string of civic engagements.

The main purpose of her tour is to attend British Columbia's centennial celebrations. She will receive an honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of British Columbia July 25.

Then she leaves by train for six other provinces — Alberta, Saskatchewan, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Security arrangements call for a 24-hour guard on the princess from the moment she lands at Patricia Bay airport. She is due to arrive Victoria at 5:30 p.m. tonight and arrive here Saturday.

Two motorcycle policemen will precede the royal caravan from the airport to Victoria. Top-ranking RCMP officers will be in a car right behind them. Princess Margaret's car follows and is followed in turn by two RCMP motorcycle officers.

Police have warned the public about getting too close to the royal car to get pictures. They said any breach of the rule will be "dealt with severely."

DIEFENBAKER REVIEWS CHINA TRADE QUESTION

Eisenhower Pledged 'Favorable' Study

OTTAWA (CP)—President Eisenhower promised to "consider favorably" the lifting of penalty liabilities against the American parent company of any Canadian subsidiary trading with Communist China in non-strategic goods, Prime Minister Diefenbaker informed the Commons today.

He touched on the China issue as he launched into a long, three-day talkfest with President Eisenhower.

The talks represented a "forward step" in the common desire of the two countries to preserve their unity and make sure that the sovereignties of Canada and the U.S. are not impinged in any way.

The talks also showed the need of the Free World making efforts toward closer co-operation and unity—even in ways not considered possible 15 or 20 years ago —to meet the Soviet economic offensive.

As for the Red China issue, Mr. Diefenbaker said it was made perfectly clear at the talks that Canadian trade policy and Canadian wishes "shall be respected."

The U.S. prohibits its companies and their subsidiaries in Canada and elsewhere from trading with Communist China in any goods, including non-strategic trade in non-strategic goods. Because of the American law, the subsidiary has many times been the object of trade or the parent U.S. companies would be liable to penalties.

U.S. TO CONSIDER

Mr. Diefenbaker said Mr. Eisenhower expressed the view that American regulations should not be applied in any way that would be detrimental to the Canadian economy. In future, the U.S. would consider favorably the lifting of penalty liability against American parent companies in cases where their subsidiaries in Canada trade with China in accordance with Canadian law.

Mr. Diefenbaker spoke in the Commons just an hour after Mr. Eisenhower left here to Washington. He said he had not much time for more than a full statement on the talks. A detailed discussion would be possible at the external affairs debate scheduled for next week.

Mr. Diefenbaker informed the House Thursday that his statement today would underline that Canadian authorities will not in any way be interfered with insofar as Canada's concern with other countries is concerned in respect of those things which the Canadian people consider strategic."

APPARENT CONFLICT

Opposition members observed there was an apparent conflict between his interpretation of an agreement reached with Mr. Eisenhower and that given by Secretary of State James C. Hagerty, the president's press secretary.

Mr. Hagerty said the U.S. agreed only to consult with Canada on individual items when fusion of conflict between Canadian and American laws on trade with Communist China. The U.S. had not committed itself in advance to approval of such trades and in fact Mr. Eisenhower had not led Mr. Diefenbaker to believe that the U.S. would change relaxation in its embargo on China trade.

U.S. and Canada Plan to Issue Seaway Stamps

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada and the United States will issue a joint stamp of the same basic design to mark next year's opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, the post office department announced today.

Details on the joint action —first of its kind ever taken by the two countries—was revealed at a meeting here Thursday of Canadian and U.S. postal officials.

The announcement said the suggestion came from U.S. Postmaster-General Arthur E. Summerfield and was welcomed by Canadian Postmaster-General William Hamilton.

The meeting agreed on the basic design of the new stamp, but its nature was not announced.

Severe Electrical Storms, Heavy Rains Cause Damage

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Summer thunderstorms rumbled across Southern Ontario Thursday, unleashing a baby twister, hailstones, fierce gusts of wind and downpours.

When the skies had cleared, property had been damaged, several persons injured, fires started, trees uprooted and streets flooded.

The pint-sized twister struck at Campbell's Beach on Lake Dalrymple, 15 miles east of Orillia. It uprooted one cottage and damaged others. Three men in one family were injured.

Leo Sandford, 31, his brother, Arthur, 29, and their uncle, Alphius Sandford, 44, all of Toronto, were taken to hospital in Orillia for emergency treatment. Leo suffered cuts and bruises, Arthur undetermined back injuries, and Adolphus a fractured wrist nose and injured wrist.

Residents said the twister was preceded by a brilliant pink light. Five minutes later the sky darkened and a black funnel twirled across the south end of the lake, hit the shore, ripped up docks, tossed boats and headed south again across open country.

At Falls Glen, near Peterborough, lightning struck and killed four cows and a calf worth $900 on the farm of Chester Hamilton.

Frank Foster, a Peterborough lawyer who has a cottage on Lake Katchewana, north of Lakefield, said he "thought Donald had struck" when the twister hit.

"It uprooted boats, roofs, chairs and trees fly through the air," he said.

Gordon Mullen's unoccupied cottage was torn from its foundation, carried over 50-foot trees and dumped 150 yards inland. Furniture was wrecked.

Bearded Recluse Who Shot, Killed 2 Children Captured

REGINA, N.M. (AP) — State police today wounded and captured a bearded recluse who shot two children.

State police identified the captured man as Nolan A. Fouse, 40, who was described as a "paranoid" who "once spent six months in a mental hospital.

Six state policemen led by Sgt. Milton Matteson, closed in on the hermit's camp at dawn.

Through a bull horn Matteson shouted to Fouse to come out.

"I told him to come out and throw down his gun," Matteson said. "He came out in the road with his hands up but with the rifle still with him.

"I told him again to throw down the gun and fired a warning shot into the bank. He didn't and one of the officers shot him in the foot."

About 100 men surrounded the camp where Fouse shot and wounded one of the posse members. He was Sam Hill.

The man Thursday had shot and killed two children on the streets of Cuba, N.M. and wounded the mother of one of them.

"I thought he was just bringing his rifle in to pawn it," said Weldon Vernon clerk in the grocery store. "Then he fired. I ran out and the little girl was laying there. Then he shot a little boy on the porch of his family's store. A second bullet struck him in the right hip and severed a major artery. He was dead on arrival at hospital.

Police cars took up pursuit near the camp after seeing on a hilltop a three-man posse went to check a camp where the slayer had been seen several days before.

We walked right in on him but didn't know it until it was too late," said Leonard Brasuel, a volunteer posse member.

STREAMLINE LAW ON DEATH DUTIES CAUSES DEBATE

$50,000 Estates Would Be Exempt

OTTAWA (CP)—A new streamlined law on death duties is before the Commons. The House also is tackling enactment of the tax changes announced in Finance Minister Fleming's June 17 budget.

The new Estate Tax Act, introduced Thursday, is a substitute for one submitted to the last Parliament and never proceeded with. It wholly exempts from taxation estates up to $50,000 and provides large exemptions of $10,000 each for widows and dependent children.

The Commons also gave preliminary approval to the first of a series of income tax changes, including a broadening of medical deductibility to include prescription drugs and another step to encourage more tax-free corporation gifts to charities.

Corporations would be allowed to maximum 10 per cent of income in tax-free charitable gifts, instead of the present five per cent.

On the estate tax legislation the basic exemption principle means there will be no death tax on estates up to $60,000 for widows and $50,000 with three dependent children, the tax would apply only above $90,000.

PUT IN ONE SCHEDULE

Mr. Fleming estimated the changes, which would be put into one schedule the present five sets of tax rates applied in various circumstances, will cost the treasury some $7,000,000 yearly.

The same tax would be based exclusively on the total value of an estate, whether in Canada or abroad, and no account would be taken of the relationship between the beneficiary and the dead person or on the amount of an inheritor's legacy.

The broadening of medical expense deductibility will include besides drugs bought on prescription—eyeglasses, artificial eyes, laboratory and other diagnostic services, and motor ambulance trips to and from hospital.

The present restrictions remain whereby these additions are allowed medical costs must exceed three per cent of income before they are tax-free.

On the ambulance provision, Mr. Fleming doggedly refused to relax the definition of "ambulance" as "a motor ambulance."

Mounties Hunt For 2 Armed Men While Ike Golfs

Cabbie Informs Police He Took Pair to Course

OTTAWA (CP) — The RCMP is trying to get to the bottom of a report that two men who may have been armed got out of a cab near the Ottawa Hunt Club golf course Thursday while President Eisenhower was playing on its fairways.

The report originated with the taxi driver and the Mounties, taking no chances, called out an extra 30 men to check virtually every bush and tree on the 6,740-yard layout on the capital's southwestern outskirts.

The RCMP worked far into the night trying to check all angles of the report and come up with an explanation as quickly as possible.

Transport Minister George Hees, who played with the president, said RCMP Inspector M. S. Millen in charge at the golf course asked him at the end of the first nine holes whether to call off the game on the basis of the report.

He said he considered it "simply a scare rumor and the game should go on. It did, to complete."

After seeing how thorough the security was, he was certain "there was no danger to the president" they continued playing out the 18 holes.

The 27-year - old Ottawa cab driver who made police aware of the report, Nick Skowronski, said "I shook for three hours after I saw the gun and reported to the police."

Skowronski, who drives a cab in the daytime and works evenings as a night watchman, said he remembers the men left his cab separately about half a mile from the course.

Skowronski told two Canadian Press reporters who interviewed him at the night club where he works that one of the men came to a shoulder-level with a gun under his right arm pit.

"I got in when he reached in his coat pocket for money to pay the fare."

The driver said the two men asked to be taken first to the American Embassy and across Wellington street from Parliament Hill. One went in briefly.

Then, the driver reported, they asked to be taken to a road that bordered one of the golf club fairways. After letting them out, he said, he got in touch with police immediately.

U.S. Considering Emergency Aid For Lebanon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is seriously considering $20,000,000 to $30,000,000 in emergency aid for revolt-torn Lebanon to help its pro-Western government survive continuing rebel attacks.

At least part of this sum probably will be granted as soon as the Lebanese government has provided data requested by the state department to back up a request for assistance.

Authoritative officials who reported this today said planning for the grant is under way in order to undertake relief projects as well as to pay expenses that have piled up during two months of fighting.

Extending such aid would mark the third U.S. move to bolster Lebanon. President Camille Chamoun since fighting broke out May 10. Limited quantities of arms, ammunition and ammunition already are being shipped. About 65,000 tons of emergency wheat shipments were promised two weeks ago.

SYMPATHY FOR MOUSE

LONDON (Reuters) — The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals today sympathized with the American Embassy here because a live mouse had been smuggled into space to suffer the unknown hazards of space travel."

Cruel Cancer Time Bomb Used Years Ago Now Claiming Victims

The bomb is radioactive medication containing thorium, which was given 30 or so years ago to thousands of people in many countries. Doctors didn't know then that such radioactive stuff could be dangerous.

Now some of those patients are developing cancers which are blamed directly on thorium.

No one knows how many bombs sands got for the dose. Or how many may develop cancers in the years to come. There are signs the number fortunately may be low.

The latest chapters in the thorium story were reported today to the Seventh International Cancer congress. It begins innocently enough in the late 1920s.

An injection named Thorotrast was brought out to help in taking X-ray pictures of the liver and spleen. It contained thorium, a powdered substance found in those organs and thus outlined a revealing picture on the X-ray.

The thorium happened to be radioactive — giving off energy particles, which are high - speed helium atoms. But no one worried about that then.

Thorium also is a long-lasting radioactive element. One gram will radiate for 1,000,000,000 years.

Not until the 1930s did Danish doctors notice that patients given thorotrast treatments seemed more susceptible to cancers.

But Dr. Knud Johansen of Copenhagen told of keeping close watch on 800 such people now known to have received thorium 10 to 20 years ago. So far they do not show any significant increase of cancer over normal expectations.

In animal tests Johansen found thorium injections will produce tumors only in those 2 years later. But the dose has to be relatively large. It might also have to be large in people to be damaging.

Princess Margaret Visits Ailing Father

SURVIVES AMAZING ACCIDENT

The pattern of deeply indented tire marks on her face is the only apparent consequence of an amazing experience yesterday for 24-year-old Ronna Castel, above. She was playing in the driveway of her home when the brake slipped on a parked car and the vehicle ran over her.

GIVEN SEVEN DAYS FOR IMPAIRED DRIVING

Harvey Clarence Dunn, 33, of R.R. Sixth Street, was found guilty this morning of driving while impaired on May 16, when his car collided on Bleecker Ave. with an auto driven by Angus John York of Tamworth.

Magistrate Wills sentenced Dunn to seven days in jail. He had originally been charged with drunk driving, but the conviction on the lesser count was reached because the magistrate did not believe any of the Crown's evidence substantiated the initial charge.

Dunn, who pleaded not guilty, was defended by Harold Temple, while John A. Pringle prosecuted.

CARELESS DRIVING BRINGS $20 FINE

Robert Lee Browning, 21, of 9 Highland Ave., was fined $20 by Magistrate Wills today on being convicted of careless driving. Browning also had his operator's permit lifted for two years and was ordered to pay court costs of $33.50. He pleaded guilty.

On June 28, Browning's 1947 model car sideswiped an auto driven by William Poste, 52 Purdy St., at the intersection of Coleman St. and Bridge St. W. A few minutes later Browning's car collided head-on with a car operated by Wilson Carron, RR 1, Janetville, Ont., near the intersection of Jane and Cedar St. In the latter mishap, cuts were suffered by Mr. and Mrs. Carron and their young daughter. Browning received a bumped forehead.

Browning sold what was left of his car to a junk dealer for about $15 or $20, his lawyer, Ted Rollwagen, told the court.

MANY THRILLS TO EXPLORE

Within easy driving distance of Belleville lies a wonderful network of lakes and rivers which offer many weekends of pleasure.

All one needs to explore this natural vacation paradise is a boat, motor and trailer. With this equipment you can take your boat wherever you can drive your car — for a month or a weekend.

Booth Marina, located on the Belleville Harbour, has a wide choice of marine equipment which even the slimmest budget can afford. For surprisingly little you can purchase a "package outfit" — boat, motor and trailer — with no down payment required.

Children Display Pets

Lightning Bolt Strikes, Burns Holloway Barn

A heavy bolt of lightning, coming just at the outset of last night's severe electrical and rain storm which swept over the district, struck and burned the hay barn of Alvie Reid, Holloway.

Lost along with the medium sized barn was about 80 tons of newly harvested hay, the last of which was only this week put in the barn.

Farmers on their way to the county hog producers' information meeting at Ivanhoe stopped to assist in fighting the blaze but nothing could be done to save the structure.

Belleville firemen were successful in saving a nearby small barn used as a driveshed. The Reid house, situated to the north of the barn, was not endangered.

This is the third time in as many years when severe trouble has been experienced by the Reid family.

About three years ago a daughter was fatally injured in an auto accident near Melrose, while a year ago a son was struck and killed by a car near his home on the Madoc road as he rode his bicycle home from ball practice.

An out-of-town canvasser soliciting advertisements for a railway timetable was reported to city police yesterday.

A local florist told police that he had given a salesman $7.50 for an advertisement, and then after checking with the C.N.R. learned that the railway knew nothing about the publication.

And a local man was apprehended by the manager of a Front Street restaurant after the man allegedly had broken a showcase. A foot-chase was said to have ensued after the showcase was broken, the restaurant owner catching his quarry at the rear of a drug store a block and a half away.

Police said arrangements were being made by the man to pay for the showcase.

Will Practise Chiropractic In Belleville

D. Middleton, D.C., N.D., will be associated with R. Riedel, D.C., at 218 Church Street in Belleville on July 14 and both chiropractors will be conducting independent practices, but will form mutual consultation services.

Mr. Middleton was born, raised and educated in Manitoba. He served as a bomber pilot with the R.A.F. during World War II and at the cessation of hostilities returned to Canada where he studied chiropractic at the Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College in Toronto.

Upon graduation he practised in Toronto and became, for two years, an associate lecturer in gynecology, diagnosis and chiropractic orthopedics. He also conducted a two-year research on the relationship between the stress factor and the neuromuscular mechanism of the body. In 1954 he went to England where he studied the advances of chiropractic in that country and the continent. While there he also investigated hospital management at the Lief Chiropractic Sanitarium at Tring, Herts.

Former Trenton Hockey Player Appeals Sentence

TORONTO (CP)—George Fillion, 48, former Trenton hockey player who was awaiting a decision on his appeal against a seven-year armed robbery sentence, died today in hospital.

Fillion was transferred from Oshawa General Hospital last Saturday. He was convicted last February of robbing a Canadian Bank of Commerce branch in nearby Pickering of $6,468. An autopsy will be held.

Red Cross Joins United Appeal By Agreement

At a meeting last night in the YMCA of the Board of Directors of the Belleville United Appeal, president and chairwoman, Mrs. Jane Forrester, stated that the terms of the agreement with the Red Cross that had been questioned have now been clarified, and upon motion it was unanimously resolved that the Belleville United Appeal enter into agreement with the Red Cross.

Mrs. Forrester also reported that the Salvation Army had declined to enter the B.U.A.

J. N. Yanover, reported for the budget committee that the 1958 campaign objective would be $85,000 — an increase of $50,000 over recent years. The Board of Directors approved the objective.

Mr. Yanover also reported that all budgets of participating agencies had been submitted and approved.

Donald Burshaw reported for the payroll deductions committee and presented a "fair share" schedule for deductions from a minimum of 15 cents per week for those earning $45 a week, to 45 cents a week for those earning $120 per week. He stated that labor was favorably inclined to this plan, which would raise in excess of $40,000.

A. S. Lewis, campaign chairman, announced his official campaign committee as follows: P. C. McGuire, G. A. Freeman, A. O. Drysdale, J. N. Yanover, Mrs. Jane Forrester, J. C. R. Punchard, Dr. J. Guthridge, D. Burshaw, Freeman Burrows, H. F. M. Cane, Frank Domenico, Jack MacArthur, Bryson Leslie and Louis Marsakas.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Action among speculatives, especially New Hosco, gave the stock market a stepped-up pace in morning trading today.

New Hosco was the big issue, dipping to a low of $4.50 on opening sales then bouncing back to $5.00, down 50 cents, in client shares of Thursday. The issue traded 190,325 shares in the first hour, compared with Thursday's 61,000. Volume at 11 a.m. was 1,720,000 shares, slightly ahead of Thursday's 1,565,000 at the same hour. Within 30 minutes of the opening today the lifters had slipped five minutes behind floor sales, but had caught up again by 11 a.m.

Barnat was the big talker among the cents at $1.25 on 174,000 shares. Consolidated - Halliwell was off 5 cents at 85 on 115,000 shares.

The market generally was lifted with industrials ahead a point and base metals a few decimal points. Golds and western oils were slightly off.

Uranium Pioneer, Arthur H. Shore, Dies at North Bay

NORTH BAY — Arthur H. Shore, 65, the prospector who first discovered the rich uranium ore deposit in the Bancroft area which is now Faraday Uranium Mines, died last night at the Trout Creek Nursing Home where he had been a patient for a week. Prior to that he had spent two months in the Burks Falls hospital and had been in failing health for the past year and a half. Besides discovering the Faraday deposit, Mr. Shore had been a director of the company, which was organized on June 25, 1949, with the mine coming into production on April 4, 1957.

The late Mr. Shore was born near Campbellford, where he spent his childhood, then moving to Eldorado. He was employed at Deloro, as a forewoman in the power department, before going to Cobalt during the boom days there. It was in Cobalt that he first became interested in prospecting, but after leaving that area he was a bookmaker at Bancroft for several years before taking his full time to prospecting in 1946. Three years later he made the Faraday find.

Ten years ago Mr. Shore was predeceased by his wife, the former Mabel Hagerman of Madoc. One son and two daughters also predeceased him. Surviving are five children and 14 grandchildren. There are two sons: Bert of Burks Falls and Donald of Belleville, and three daughters: Thelma (Mrs. M. Scrimshaw) in Michigan; Marney (Mrs. J. Pike) of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Gwendolin (Mrs. R. Morris) of Port Arthur.

Mr. Shore is resting at the Dempster Funeral Home in Burks Falls. Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Hastings Hog Producers Urged to Support Marketing Plan at Ivanhoe Meeting

Hastings county farmers attended a hog producers' information meeting held at Ivanhoe Thursday evening heard the prediction that if the July 25th vote on the Ontario Hog Producers' Marketing Plan was not carried, within ten years 60 per cent of Ontario farmers would be out of hog raising business.

The prediction was made by Roscoe Rideout, M.A for Hastings East, as he urged county farmers to go out and support the plan on voting day.

Mr. Robson predicted if the plan did not carry, that within ten years farmers would be only able to raise hogs on a contract basis and that 60 per cent of the farmers would be unable to meet with the quality production to satisfy the contractors.

"If farmers are equipped to handle large numbers of hogs, they will not be in the contracting field," he said.

Speakers at the information meeting attended by well over 100 farmers from the southern part of the county, included Harold Wark, county campaign chairman, and Clarington Frey, of Lansdown county, provincial chairman of the plan; Roy Sills, Halloway, county hog producers' president, predicted over the meeting.

Mr. Frey said the feeling that farmers were not getting enough return for their labors was the reason for the hog marketing plan.

OUTLINES VARIOUS PLANS

"We have long heard the saying that if farmers would only stick together they could do something about it," he said. Mr. Frey noted Mr. Frey, "but farmers have long been interested in getting better returns and have been long trying to do something about it."

He said the hog marketing plan was the way the hog producers were trying to do something about it, noting he feeling was long now on returns to the producer all they should.

Mr. Frey outlined the various plans which had been put into effect down through the years and which had failed to produce the results sought.

Now, however, the government was recognizing the principle that if the majority wants something the minority will have to go along and this was what was being sought in the hog marketing plan.

The basis of the marketing plan was a floor price for slaughter to be sold through the one central agency.

Mr. Frey said, "farmers had that right, the same as druggists and other merchants, as well as labor, to organize to protect their own interests."

Under the plan hog producers were first introduced into Ontario in 1944, although the principle had been accepted, revision was still being made, to make it more effective.

USE ASSEMBLY POINTS

Now hog producers wanted to from their own marketing agency which would operate at assembly points. The plan hog producers have always had someone else to their marketing.

Under the plan hogs would be assembled at assembly points and then would be sold to the highest bidder at central points. Assembly points were not the final answer, but at least there was a start, Mr. Frey said.

Acceptance of the plan meant sacrificing a bit of individual freedom for the benefit of all.

Urging all farmers to get out and vote, Mr. Frey emphasized that they could not discharge their obligation by staying away from the polls.

"The day is now," he said. "If we do not support the marketing plan now we will have nothing," he said.

During a question and answer period, pointed questions regarding the present operation and future plans of the marketing board were directed at Mr. Frey.

Mr. E. Ferguson, Madoc township, wanted to know who would be allowed to buy hogs at assembly points under the proposed plan.

Mr. Frey replied hogs were not sold at assembly points but to buyers. Operation of assembly points would have no authority to price hogs.

"Here we are selling our liberties down the river," returned Mr. Ferguson.

EXPLAINS DIFFERENCE

Mr. Ferguson also wanted to know why the per hog service charge formerly assessed when United Livestock Sales were the marketing agent and the charge ed now.

In reply Mr. Frey said that the charge had been only an estimated cost but provided nothing for expansion of the organization through addition of more assembly points. To provide for this the charge was now 60c.

President Sills pointed out that farmers paid three per cent service costs at auction sales barn and "did not bellyache."

Mr. Sills also wanted to know what the disposition of the farmer would be if the 60 per cent condemnation insurance has been. He was told there would be rejected but what amount had been paid back by the packers to farmers out of the fund.

J. Cooney of Rawdon wanted to know when hogs were delivered hogs were kept over at assembly points. He was told that under ordinary circumstances this just did not happen.

Another question regarding transporation costs, Mr. Frey said it, was the responsibility of the producer to get to the sales point where they were sold f.o.b. with the buyer paying the freight there in.

But Mr. Sills had another poser. He wanted to know where, under the present system, the trucker made his profit. Mr. Woods said he said the trucker paid him a dollar for delivery of the hogs to the truck and the trucker in turn getting his dollar back from the packer.

ALL COMES OFF HOG

"Where does he make his money?" he asked.

Cecil Woods of Madoc Township, and also part time drover, asked if it would be possible for the trucker mentioned by Mr. Sills was working for the packing house on a commission basis.

"Is there anything wrong with that?" asked Mr. Woods.

"Yes", was Mr. Frey's reply, "it all comes out of the hog, but I don't know how much."

Mr. Woods also wanted to know if there would be personal arrangement between the big buyers as to who was to get the hogs at certain points.

He said he had noted that at one Central Ontario point Swift's got the bulk of the hogs, while at another point another firm did the biggest share of the business.

Mr. Frey noted that the hogs always go to the highest bidder and although the big buyers had been "getting their heads together" for years there was still competition with one another.

He said that under the hog marketing plan the buyers could not lie back and buy at their own price but that they were obliged to bid.

He said that under the hog marketing plan the buyers could not lie back and buy at their own price but that they were obliged to bid.

Harold Warty, county vote campaign chairman, said that farmers would benefit financially by the plan, noting that "no one has the right to market hogs than did the producers themselves."

He noted the plan "deserved the support of all farmers".

He said a 60 per cent majority vote was required and if supported would mean that all the slaughter hogs in the province would be sold to all the buyers in Ontario.

Mr. Warty said everyone would be several gathering points in Ontario for hogs, possibly at Trenton, Madoc and maybe Marmora.

Kiwanians Tour Experimental Smithfield Farm

TRENTON — A tour of the Experimental Farm highlighted last night's meeting of the Kiwanis Club. The tour was held following the dinner in the dining room of the Hotel Gilbert.

During the brief business meeting the financial standing of the club was presented by treasurer Larry Beck and he explained the various statements on the printed summary which had been given out before the meet.

R. G. Wares, the new secretary manager of the Chamber of Commerce in Trenton was at a special guest and was introduced to the members individually by Howard Ash prior to the meeting, and was officially welcomed during the dinner by Carl Weese.

Following the meet nearly 200 members of the club headed for the Experimental Farm at Smithfield where a tour had been arranged by Frank Miron, chairman of the Kiwanian Agricultural Committee.

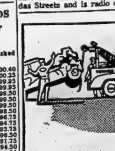
At the farm, forman Ernie Vanderwater met the Kiwanians the purpose of their work. He said the farm consisted of 200 acres with 100 under cultivation. A large quantity of hay is also raised on the farm and this is used as winter mulch for the orchards.

One of the main crops of the farm were fruits and vegetables and consisted of apples, pears, peaches, apricots, plums, cherries, strawberries, raspberries, peas, corn and tomatoes.

He said were the main crops of the farm, and that 74 persons during "harvesting" and in the months only 10 persons are kept on.

The visitors were broken up into groups of five and taken through the various cold storage buildings and shown the different types of machinery used on the farm. They were then taken to a huge building used by a tractor and taken on a quick tour of the orchards. Rain threatened during the ride but the quick trip failed to prevent the Kiwanians from getting an idea of the extent and importance of the experimental service carried out on the farm.

There is a major building underconstruction and this will be used for experiments in food processing.



New Service For Readers

TRENTON — A new service for Trenton readers of The Ontario Intelligencer has been instituted and will follow along the same line as that established by the firm for its Belleville readers.

In the case of regular customers, being served by news carriers, fail to get there paper they will be able to phone in to their phone, call Goulds Taxi and the paper will be brought to them as quickly as possible by cab.

As ad will be carried on the Trenton page of the Ontario Intelligencer to remind readers of this service. It is suggested they cut one of the ads out and paste it to the cover of their phone book for easy reference when needed.

The phone number of Goulds Taxi is Ex—2-3242 and if this number is busy call WO 8-5711. The taxi and firm is situated on the corner of Ontario and Dundas Streets and is radio equipped.

Town Property Sold at Closed Council Meeting

TRENTON — A piece of town owned land was sold for $1,000 to the Quinte Heating and Plumbing at a recent meeting of the town council. The meeting was termed a "committee-of-the-whole" and press and public were not allowed to attend. It is the third such meeting held in the past two weeks and at one member of the local press stated, "seems to be becoming quite a fad."

One public council meeting was also held during the same period and took place last Monday night. The two other privilege meetings were concerned hiring of an assessor for the town. No mention of EX was made at the recent regular council meeting.

The land sold to the plumbing concern consists of about two acres and has an 80-foot frontage on Bay Street and running wedge-shaped to the bay shore. The land is described as a marshy swamp area with only about a building lot suitable for use unless fill be used. The land is one of the property where the sewage disposal plant will be installed at the southeast corner of Bay and Herman Streets.

Considerable discussion over the sale of this land was expressed prior to the meeting. The building by laws was green area and was placed there as a buffer zone. Park and recreation areas planned for the future. Many residents of the town fathers with apparently this in mind, hold the right to build a road across the south end of the property if in the future it is deemed.

The decision to sell the land was agreed to by all the councillors present. Mayor Ross Bonter stated in an interview following the meeting, "I am satisfied it was the right thing to do under the circumstances," the mayor said.

SHOW PROFIT

TRENTON — A meeting of the Quinte Centre Board held last night heard their treasurer, Vaughan Lange, state that a profit of $100 had been made during the month of June. It was felt this was an indication of the financial success of the centre due chiefly to the fact that it is during the summer months that people of the province either run at a loss or close down. Lange said the profit was only small, $100, but a profit nevertheless. He said the director planned to have the sponsored show during the month and roller skating rink to be featured in the black ink and accounted for the profit.

BREAKS ARM

Paul Wood, 15, son of Stan Wood on Wooler Road broke his arm Wednesday when he fell from the top of a load of hay. It was reported he was taken to the Trenton Memorial Hospital for treatment. The youth was riding on top of the load and was "fooling around" with a friend when they slipped off the side of the rack and both fell to the ground. They had gone before Paul had been attacked by a swarm of wasps and in his attempt to get away from them had run into a stump and cut his side quite badly.

WORK PROGRESSES

Work on the 401 bridge which will cross the Wooler Road is progressing at a rapid pace and the construction company has approximately overcome its previous difficulties. It was reported they had run into a bed of quick sand and then had some trouble with the steel girders. The cement piers are nearly finished and will soon be ready for the huge metal beams.

STEPS COMPLETED

The steps to the top of Mount Pelion have now been completed and will be ready for use when the railing is built, Claude Smith, chairman of the Parks Board reported yesterday. A platform has been built at the bottom of the steps and two landings, which will contain benches, are available on the way up the wide and "S" shaped stairs. The steps will enable the town's elderly folks to enjoy the majestic view of Trenton and countryside from the top of this mountain. The last used to be handled to the site free of charge by Quinte Transport.

Defosse Given Contract for New Sidewalks

TRENTON — The Albert Defosse construction company was awarded the contract for the repair, re-building and laying of new sidewalks at a meeting of the Trenton Board of Works last night.

The contract will cost the town $10,000 and Defosse must be insured.

Other maintenance work on town streets and sewers continues and the Public Works Department is busy building it as the town yards is nearly completed and will be ready for use soon.

The grader is reported to be working at the Trenton Memorial Heights where it is grading one of the parks now under construction. When this is finished the land will be turned over to the Parks Board for planting and caring.

The town men who were to place the curbing around Cotton Park have been held up awaiting the arrival of a crane which can lift the heavy slabs of concrete. The crane could be used to handle them, and the digging of the necessary trenches to set the 300 feet of curbing in and it is not known when the crane will be available to enable the men to finish this work. The costs will be re-paid to the town by the Parks Board.

It was also reported by the Public Works Department that the plans and specifications for the repair work on the town bridge are ready in Kingston and are expected to arrive in the town office any day. It is not expected, however, that any repair work will begin on the town bridge until after the Labor Day holiday at the first of September.

DID NOT USE 46-FOOT LAUNCH

At Midland, Ont., the other day a man was charged with operating his 14-foot boat in a dangerous manner after it had rammed a 46-foot launch. A Provincial Police constable told the court that the accused had not seen the launch because four girls sitting in front of him blocked the view. The 25-horsepower motor of the 14-foot boat was running wide open at the time of the collision.

We doubt, though, that even four girls, no matter what their proportions, would of themselves block the view of a 46-foot launch. The speed at which the accused's boat was travelling was probably a factor. With a 25-horsepower motor wide open, the bow would be lifted out of the water and one experiment will prove that the raised bow creates a blind spot all the more dangerous because its size is frequently under-estimated by the boat operator. Moreover, peeks at what lies ahead cannot be obtained by craning one's neck, or by bidding passengers to bow low, as could be done if they, alone, were reducing the boat operator's field of vision.

Although he could not see the launch he hit, the boat operator who appeared in the Midland court was nonetheless fined. We think this was fair. Two simple remedies suggest themselves. The man in the stern can order his passengers to keep a lookout for him, and/or he can swing the bow from side to side and by this zig-zagging obtain as many glimpses as are necessary of the area obscured from view.

Of course, there is another solution, which would be to require that all boats above a certain size should be steered from a point towards the bow, where passengers could not obstruct the operator's view. But this is not only unnecessary but could in some cases produce faulty loading, with too much of the weight forward, if the the operator were alone.

HER TIMING IS BAD

We see by the papers that Neva Elliott of Portland, Ore., says that any woman worth her salt can run a job and a home at the same time.

There are seasons of the year when we should let this information pass with nothing more than a smirk, and a fiendish determination to make certain that the story got a good display in the Great Friendly Journal, so that as many harassed housewives as possible would see it.

There are other seasons when, housecleaning chores or some other emergency having already burdened the homemaker almost beyond endurance, we should lend her support by pointing out that Miss Elliott writes her support by pointing out that Miss Elliott writes her "Miss" rather than "Mrs.", in front of her name and that this almost certainly means that, though she may find nothing difficult about running both a job and a home, she has never attempted the latter part of the dual endeavor in a house populated with assorted problems running around on two legs and bearing the same surname as her own.

Miss Elliott, however, will not escape so lightly at this particular season of the year, for it is the time when housewives occasionally forsake their husbands going vacationing and leaving the man of the house to discover just how difficult it is to prove worth his salt by running both a job and a home.

Under such circumstances like these, there is obviously only one thing to be done about Miss Elliot. We must be blunt.

The woman's nuts.

DRIVE-UP PHONES

"Drive-up Telephones" are being installed at a dozen busy Chicago street corners. The gadget is another Bell innovation which will doubtless earn a profit and the public gratitude as well. "The motorist can drive up, take the phone off the hook and dial right on the handset. He can relax in his car while he talks.

Any one can think of all sorts of situations where it will be more disarming to talk to the accompaniment of motor horns and brake squeals, than with a background of juke boxes and tinkling glasses. (Milwaukee Sunday Journal.)

WINNING

It takes a little courage
And a little self-control;
And some grim determination
If you want to reach a goal.
It takes a deal of striving
And a firm and stern set chin.
No matter what the battle,
If you're really out to win.

There's no easy path to glory,
There's no rosy road to fame.
Life, however we may view it,
Is no simple parlor game;
But its prizes call for fighting.
For endurance and for grit,
For a rugged disposition
And a "don't-know-when-to-quit."

You must take a blow or give one,
You must risk and you must lose,
And expect that in the struggle
You will suffer from a bruise.
But you mustn't whine or falter
If a fight you once begin.
Be a man and face the battle—
That's the only way to win.

With Bible and Spade

By MERTHA CARTER In UNESCO Features

In the old days, liveliest place to find a student at Hebrew University was in a corner of some deserted library, poring over decaying parchment texts. Today he is quite as likely to be found in a Middle Eastern desert with a spade in his hand. In the last hundred years or so our knowledge of the Bible has revolutionized by great clerical discoveries in Egypt, Mesopotamia, Anatolia, and in Palestine itself.

"Holding the Bible in one hand and a spade in the other seems a most successful method of discovering the relics of a Biblical city," said Dr. Yigael Yadin, whose excavations on the site north of Israel have brought to light the lost Biblical city of Hazor.

Dr. Yadin was speaking at a special exhibition of the finds there which has just been opened recently at the British Museum in London, went on to explain that it was in 1955 that in the course of their digging, he and his colleagues struck upon the huge mound which they placed roughly in the eighth century B.C., during the time of King Ahaz, of Hazor of Israel. The house appeared to have been badly damaged by earthquake. "What earthquake? Nasty thumbing through the Bible brought rapid confirmation. "... In the days of Jeroboam, the son of Joash, King of Israel," ran the Book of Amos, "two years before the earthquake. . . ."

"We all know that, as in the days of the spiritual Joshua Ile de battle of Jericho", Jericho, how- ever, we think this was fair. The Bible gives a list of thirty-one Canaanite kings and tells how they opposed Joshua as he led the hosts of the Israelites in their successful conquest of the Promised Land. Their names ring mournfully in the Book of Joshua. "The king of Aphek, one; the king of Madon, one; the king of Shimron-meron, one; the king of Hazor, one; the king of Achshaph, one;" and so on.

For the nineteen - twenties, the English archaeologist, Garstang, suggested that the site might be Hazor, the remains of Hazor, but he believed that on the broad plateau there must once have been a city more than a large camp enclosure, of the Canaanites, the people who occupied the country at the time of Joshua's arrival. What is more, he was sure that several of the archaeologists laid bare was a great city with an estimated population of some 40,000, fifteen times as large as contemporary Jerusalem, complete with houses, temples to the sun and moon gods, and elaborate systems of water channels and cisterns. Pottery and vessels from Mycenae in Greece that have been discovered on the site date the destruction of the city to the thirteenth century B.C., therefore seemed almost certain that it was the work of Joshua in the actual Canaanite city of Hazor destroyed by Joshua.

But that was not all. Up on the mound, where the fortified citadel was likely to be found, under the remains of a modest Israelite city, they dug more and down to find layer after layer of pottery, each finer and more ancient, and built again one over the other, until finally the mound was covered and left deserted to wind and rain. Here they found the smaller cities of Israelite times, with buildings and objects which as each turn brought to His phrase, Garstang, some stone, some statement from the Bible. They found a fragment of a public building at the time of King Ahab, and the first Hebrew inscriptions discovered in Galilee dating from the time of the kings of Israel.

And they found a great city wall with casemates, which they thought might have been built by King Solomon — a conclusion that was proved correct the very next season. According to a brief statement in the Bible, Solomon rebuilt the towns of Megiddo, Gezer, and Hazor. "We were able to outline in advance, on the surface, the plan of Solomon's city and the Assyrian citadel, they found the Israelite citadel, buried in a layer of ashes three feet thick. Second stones were black with fire, living evidence of the destruction which finally befell the citadel at the hands of the Assyrian conqueror Tiglath-Pileser.

Visitors to the British Museum have been able to see it all —the maps and charts and photographs, the great stone lion of Hazon, the figurines in bronze and clay—perhaps the most lovely against which the Hebrew prophets thundered — a broken dirred with a few last letters, all the thousand and one fragments that go to make up the Mis of this long dead city. A couple of plumbers engaged in repairing in the King's library stopped in front of the jointed clay ratings pipes brought from the site and whistled: "Why, that's the same way our pipes are made today," one observes Nugered smiling a little at the battery of graduated cooking pots, not so far removed from the shining row of enamelled pots in a modern kitchen.

I saw a woman take out her compact and powder her nose in front of a glass case containing the ivory cosmetic palette which a woman 3,500 years ago had turned in her hand as she put on her make-up; and I saw a museum attendant take a hostile glance round the exhibits, and then at the contemporary pottery where, by a curious coincidence, the huge frieze of Tiglath-Pileser's victories was occupied looked down on the remains of the city he had razed to the ground.

Could It Be The Same Man?

Montreal Gazette

Two shooting incidents occurred this week, one on each side of the Atlantic.

London, a member of the Horse Guards, resplendent in glittering helmet and cuirass, white breeches and naked sword, moved, while on guard duty at Whitehall. Not only did he move, he spoke, to a British guide escorting a group of American visitors.

Off Waltham, Massachusetts, a fisherman thought he had hooked the biggest cod of his career but it turned out to be a submarine. The diver, nearly hooked by the seat of his trunks.

The British guide was extolling the virtues of the Horse Guards when the Guardsman interrupted, bringing his glittering sabre menacingly close and told the guide, "You're a liar."

The skindiver was much less difficult. When he came to the surface the fisherman's line, he said merrily, "Really, old man, you shouldn't be so careful," before diving back into the deep.

Studying the two items it does is the strange feeling that the two stories are connected somehow. Certainly, the skindiver spoke like an off-duty Guardsman. And the Guardsman did sound like a skindiver with a fishhook on his seat.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

What sarcity must have been the crabbiest man in town was driving the car ahead of us in the five o'clock traffic. The man driving the car I was in is certainly one of the gentlest men imaginable.

At a cross street, the man ahead braked his car suddenly on seeing a car coming from the side. And our car gave him a slight bump on his rear fender. It was the kind of bump we all give one another in the course of a day's motoring on busy city streets, and which we acknowledge with apologetic waves of the hand.

But this crabby man stopped his car and hailed out in fury. He came storming back and demanded of my gentle friend:

"What's the matter with you? Don't you know the law says that the car behind is always responsible?"

"I do," said my friend humbly.

Modern medicine is said to repudiate — at least theoretically — the placing of any other forms of counter irritation. A n d yet there are thousands of people who still believe in them.

We express no opinion on this matter in the field of medicine, but we do say that counter irritants are very necessary in the field of living. Life is full. The person who goes through life and never has a counter irritant operates in his behalf does not really know of what life consists. He is a negative to the velop stamina within us. Our minds take on a vigor and o souls begin to manifest new life when we come up against the hard situations of life, that them

BLAND SKIN CREAMS CAN HELP OVERCOME „DRYNESS

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a 15-yearold girl. My skin is very dry and I have been using a fine skin cream on my face. The trouble is, it is beginning to lose its effectiveness.

"The other day I read that using an oily cream makes the oil glands become lazier and at last stop functioning altogether. Is this true? Can you suggest anything? — J. W."

Both youngsters and oldsters sometimes tend to have dry skin, but not for precisely the same reason. In young people, the skin glands have not yet fully developed in the skin.

In older people, the activity of the oil glands has declined merely from age, and itching is common.

Whether for old or young, there are several common things which aggravate the dryness. Excessive sun-tanning will cause dry skin, indeed, the tanning from the preceding summer will have a certain effect in this direction, long after it is too late in the fall or winter to do any more tanning. I don't mean you have to hide from the sun, or never get a speck of tan — but when skin dryness is a problem, take the sun in mild doses and avoid any heavy tanning.

Dryness also is more likely to be apparent in winter than in summer, but from a different basic cause — simply the dryness of the air. For anyone with unduly dry skin, especially if it becomes a nuisance for itching, I strongly urge reasonable humidity in the air in the house. If it has a hot air furnace with a tank of water, keep the tank full. With other types of heating facilities, use humidity pans (such as built to go on top of radiators), or a pan of water elsewhere so it can evaporate, and add a bit of moisture to the air.

DON'T BATHE TOO MUCH

In addition — while this sounds like a contradiction — you must avoid too much bathing, especially with the more highly alkaline soaps, and moreover since the alkali will oil from the skin.

Bland skin creams, however, are quite acceptable for moistening dry skin and it is not true that they will stop the oil glands from functioning.

In any case, at 15 she can well keep in mind that she may well find her problem disappearing as she gets just a bit older and the oil glands perk up. Incidentally, the glands of adolescence are also in part due to the awakening of the oil glands at this age. In some youngsters, they become a bit too fast!

Vitamin A, taken internally, sometimes helps some. In cases which indicate the need, thyroid extract may help, but this, of course, is something to be done only under your doctor's instructions, and of course, if his findings

Germans Have Coffee Hound

West German Bulletin

One of the most active and remarkable customs officers in the employ of the Federal Republic is a two-and-a-half-year-old spaniel named Gelda, and she has come to be known as the terror of smugglers and the darling of the customs authorities. Her post is on the Dutch-German border and her specialty is coffee.

She is one of the two dogs in the entire German customs service trained to track down coffee. Her colleague, Rolf Schroeder, has located coffee buried under beds of coal, wrapped in petrol-soaked cloths, and in all the unlikely places that smugglers, ingenious and unbelieving customs officials can think of to hide it.

It is thanks to Geisha, as well as to the reduction of the duty on coffee, that almost illicit coffee now cruises the border in the patrols. She is taken aboard Rhine ships at Emmerich and on to international freight and passenger trains, where she invariably locates undeclared coffee. It is believed that by the time she is too old to go on with her work, the German Market will be so advanced that coffee smuggling will

PRAISE

Praise is one of the great essentials — in the clash with oatmeal, wholewheat bread, or the crispy bacon. I like honest praise, as everyone does. I am sure, but I spurn all flattery. Sincere praise is what a goodly number of the human race pray daily that they may have. Often it is withheld. Praise is for peasant or prophet. If it's honest and from the heart, it comes from heaven!

Praise is something that men and women live for. I care not what my create that praise, it's something the world is short of, and ought to own more of. Many a business has been built with praise. Often it is worth more than mere money. How would Edison, the elder Henry Ford, Alexander Graham Bell, and a host of others, ever have achieved what they did had they not received praise for what they created?

I have discovered how quickly writers respond to praise. Many a literary man, and woman, too, has been killed off by some reviewer who personally did not like the style or book, and who treated the author by withholding just civility. Then, what a reviewer will delighted that author.

The late Earl Derr Biggers once showed me a letter he had received from Robert H. Davis congratulating him on a story he had written. The letter was from a man called "Billy," I believe, and appeared in one of the popular magazines of that period. That early praise lifted me, meant everything to him. When his book "Seven Keys to Baldpate" appeared I took my copy to him to inscribe, as we had been buddies on the Boston Traveler together.

This was the inscription he wrote in that book: "To George Matthew Adams, who has proved his friendship by purchasing a copy of this book."

Records Show Belleville Had Fair Previous to 1849

The early history of the Belleville Fair is obscure. Some readers might add to what is known. The Victoria Chronicle and General Commercial Advertiser of Thursday, October 4, 1849, carries an article concerning the Victoria District Fair and Cattle Show of the previous Tuesday. It remarks that "the streets of Belleville were thronged with stock as team after team arrived. The exhibits exceeded those of preceding years". Obviously then, Belleville had a fair county town Belleville had a fair previous to 1849.

In 1855 a report datelined Belleville March 25 and signed by B. F. Davy, president of the Board of Agriculture of Upper Canada mentions the annual show and the increased attendance. The same report mentions the treaty granting reciprocity with United States and the $1000 North American Colonies. This latter name may cause one to reflect on the early beginning of th BellVilleVa. ille beginning of the Belleville Fair.

In 1860 the Bay of Quinte District Fair at Belleville had for officers: President: J. J. Farley and W. Woods, secretary: S. D. Farley, directors: Thomas Wills, P. B. Palmer, J. Diamond, G. Fanning, E. Vanderwater, D. Anderson and Munro Morde.

A member's badge of 1861 is on hand, marked S.H.A.S. Exhibition. Apparently in the electoral district at this time there was a South Hastings Agricultural Society.

In 1892 two groups, the Thurlow Agricultural Society and the East Hastings Agricultural Society amalgamated. Four years previously these two groups only barely avoided court proceedings over a dispute agreement concerning $106.80. By 1892 there was enough co-operation to decide to alternate holding fairs at Roslin and at Thrashers Corners. The name East Hastings Agricultural Society apparently continued.

THREE-DAY FAIR

A copy of the Belleville Echo of 1894 advertised the Bay of Quinte District Fair for three days — September 18, 19 and 20. The president was W. W. Ponton; vice-presidents, John Graham and John Farley. The secretary-manager was J. M. Hurley, and the treasurer was John Johnson. Directors were: James McGuire, B. Mallory, M. Thompson, T. H. B. Purdy. Admission was 25c. The same publication also advertises the East Hastings Fair at Thrashers Corners, September 25 and 26. Admission was 10c. The officers were: W. H. Sill, president; F. R. Palmer, secretary, and C. Hudson Jr., treasurer.

A prize list of 1897 uses the name of Bay of Quinte District Agricultural Exhibition. The fair was a four-day show, with an office on Front Street, one door south of Bridge Street opposite the Dominion Hotel. This fair was presented by the West Hastings Agricultural Society and the Belleville Horticultural Society. Officers of the latter were: president W. C. Reid; vice - presidents, S. J. Wedden and Wm. Kemp; treasurer, W. J. Diamond; directors: Wm. Conners, J. W. London, Davey Diamond, J. Aris, J. Copeland, Dr. Tracy, J. Harris, A. M. Ketchenson. Admission was still 25c, children 10c, two-horse carriage and driver 75c, one-horse vehicle and driver 50c. The prize list of that year has some interesting features. In addition to membership fees, the entry fee for livestock was according to stall or pen size, a stall costing $1.00, large stalls $1.25 and very large stalls $1.50. If assigned stalls were not filled by noon, the fee was forfeit and the stall relet. The prize list included 69 items of farm machinery including a self-binding harvester, a potato digger, an ox yoke and bows.

In 1905 the East Hastings Fair on motion of H. K. Denyes and W. Hanley, moved to Belleville. The secretary's salary was increased to $50.00 per year and the treasurer was unanimously voted an increase to $25.00.

KEY IN SHIRE HALL

By 1907 Fair Board meetings were being held in Shire Hall, the city hall, and a meeting September 21 after the fair reports all members present at Lockwood's store. R. J. Garbutt was president, and directors included G. M. Campbell, H. J. Denyes, G. Hurley, W. T. Farley, C. Weese, L. H. Terwilleger and Billy Carnew. The old buildings at Thrashers Corners were disposed of. The auditor's report indicates total receipts of $1,890.39 including a $500.00 donation from the city. Expenses included $1,008.05 in prize money and $345.00 for the erection and improvement of buildings and grounds. At the January 19 meeting of this board in 1907 on the motion of C. Sulman and W. C. Farley, the name Belleville Fair was formally adopted.

The name Belleville Fair was apparently in common use long before this, and over the years the fair has been sponsored by the West Hastings Agricultural Society, the Thurlow Agricultural Society, the East Hastings Agricultural Society and the Belleville Horticultural Society. Today, of course all of these groups are merged in the Belleville Agricultural Society, but membership is still from the areas represented by these older societies.

Sunday School Lesson

Religion and All of Life

By ROY L. SMITH

On the front of one of the smaller churches in our city there appeared not long ago a huge sign bearing the slogan, "We Preach the Full Gospel." It was an ambitious claim, and we hope it was justified by the preaching the people heard when they appeared for worship on Sunday.

GOSPEL OF CONCERN

Jesus' sermon on the mount provides convincing evidence of the fact that He received God as a profoundly concerned in all of life. It follows, then, that the followers of God are to be concerned with the whole of man, and with the responsibility for preaching the will of God for the whole of life.

At the time of the October revolution in Russia, by which the Communists came into power, a great convocation of the Russian church was being held. The nation was in a state of chaos, with the spirit of revolution everywhere in the air. Men were dying in the streets from gunfire, and a czar was being toppled from this throne. But the great subject of debate among the churchmen was the question of whether they should wear saffron or scarlet robes when performing a certain ritual.

The Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 13: "Social Justice and the Gospel." Matthew 5:13-48; 23:23-24; Luke 9:51-56.

It can be truly said that any church must be measured by its concerns, and by the way it preaches the gospel to those who are desperately concerned with economics.

There is a vast amount of straining at gnats inside of church circles, and that very fact explains no small part of the ineffectiveness of much of the efforts the churches are putting forth.

Two Protestant denominations were discussing the question of a merger of their forces. It being thought that the united church could better serve the cause of Christ than could two small bodies. And the question that delayed the union for weeks running into months was the matter of the name to be given the new church. Each of the two groups contended that for one reason or another, at least one word of their original name should appear first in the new name, "lest we lose our identity."

CLEANING THE WHOLE CUP

There are those who insist that it is the chief business of the Church to clean the inside of the cup—to perfect its order and worship, and to build solid its theology. And there are those who insist that the first obligation is to make shiny the outside of the cup — to present a social front that will commend it to the "particulate masses."

Perhaps the truth of the situation lies somewhere between these two objectives. It can very easily be shown that it is the business of the Church to assist in cleaning up the whole cup — to insist upon the redemption of the individual, and then insist that redeemed Individuals shall become a social force that will clean up community and nations' life.

WEEKLY EUCHRE

The Wednesday evening euchre party held in the Legion Hall by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion was well attended with 11 tables in play. Winners were: ladies — Mrs. R. Dafoe, Mrs. Wims; Mrs. G. Coon, Mrs. Thorne (tied) Mrs. L. Burfoot; men — Dr. Armstrong, Mr. Quirt; Mrs. Keegan, tied with F. Poste and James E. Taylor.

Centre, Front Road Church Activities

CENTRE ST. UNITED

The Centre Street United Church Sunday School recently concluded its summer activities with a supper served by the ladies of the club in the church hall. The tables were attractively decorated and well laden with good things for the 25 adults who attended. After supper, all enjoyed a lively singsong and a most interesting and humorous program prepared by Mrs. A. Longfield. This supper brought to a fitting conclusion for the summer a program of church activities, including improvements in the church hall.

The Young Peoples Union of Centre Street United Church have also sponsored a most enjoyable ice cream social and program. The latter may was filled to capacity and all present enjoyed the vocal and instrumental numbers given by local and visiting artists.

Among those contributing to the program were: Lynn Turner, Ian Gainey, Miss Jane Cavanagh, pianist; Miss L. MacDougal, dramatic soloist, and Mr. Alec Gordon, organist from Bridge St. United Church; Miss Marsha Dovey, soprano soloist; Rev. W. Dovey, reader, and Miss Muriel Belch, soprano soloist.

Mr. Dovey was the chairman. The church hall was filled for the social part of the program, and all enjoyed the refreshments, including strawberries and ice cream, served by the young ladies of the group, with the young men assisting. The Young People are saving for a new oil burning unit for the church hall.

S. S. PICNIC

The Centre Street United Church Sunday School picnic under the direction of Mr. C. Belch, superintendent, was held at the Lakeside Park in Tweed, on July 2nd. Many of the parents took advantage of the lovely summer afternoon and travelled by bus and car to the picnic-goers. The program began with a swim for the children and young people in the refreshing water of the lake. Then followed a series of straight and humorous races for all ages; a noon-

Women's Activities

JOHNSTOWN W. A.

JOHNSTOWN — The Johnstown Women's Association held its July meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Stickle on Thursday afternoon.

The Scripture reading from St. John 15:1-13 was read by Mrs. Puttenham. The lesson story, "The Legions of Life Come From Within Ourselves". The secret of a healthy and peaceful mind is to be yourself, not trying to be what you are not was read by Mrs. A. Meyers.

A piano duet was much appreciated given by Mrs. Alex Vandervoort, and daughter, Joan. Mrs. Douglas Harry gave a humorous reading called, "Noah, Jonah and Captain John Smith". A poem was read by Mrs. A. Gilchrist, "Before It Is Too Late".

Mrs. E. Clapp, the president, was honored by the reading of a poem telling her she was the "woman of the year among the Johnstown ladies.

Mrs. Clapp thanked the hostess and welcomed the visitor.

It was decided to have the Sunday School picnic on July 24 and if inclement it will be held the 31st, at Frankford, with a cold vovoor at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Hubert Harder will be hostess for the August meeting with Mrs. E. Clapp and Mrs. Stickle in charge of the program.

After the service closed refreshments concluded a social hour.

LAWRENCE ASSEMBLY

The dedication of the new College Hill United Church manse took place on the Saturday afternoon. The completion and dedication of the manse climaxed the end of several years of planning and faithful work by the former minister, Mr. Bruce Bentley, B.A., and the congregation. The completion of the new manse enabled the Belleville suburban charge to call an ordained, married minister. The manse is fully modern and suitable furnished for the ladies of the congregation.

A good number assisted from Front Road, Centre Street and College Hill United Churches. Rev. W. E. G. Dovey, the present minister and Mrs. Dovey, received the guests at "open house," and refreshments were served in College Hill United Church hall.

Those taking part were as follows: remarks, Rev. W. E. G. Dovey; prayer of invocation, Rev. Bruce Bentley, B.A., former student minister; Scripture reading, Rev. S. Spurrell, secretary Belleville Presbytery; brief history of the building, compiled by Mrs. A. Greenwood and read by Mrs. A. Dickens; reading, "Bless This House," Mrs. Monteith, representing Front Road United Church; dedication of the keys, by Mr. H. Thomson of the building committee; response, Rev. W. Dovey; Woman's Association welcome, Mrs. H. Thompson; response, Rev. W. Dovey; the act of dedication, Rev. A. E. MacKenzie, B.A., B.D., principal of Albert College.

FRONT ROAD UNITED CHURCH

The Front Road Woman's Association sponsored a strawberry and ice cream social and program recently in the church auditorium hall. A most enjoyable program of skits, readings, solos and instrumental numbers preceded the supper, served to a capacity crowd. The proceeds from this successful effort will help the ladies in the work of the church.

The Front Road Sunday School picnic was held at Crescent's Beach on July 5th. A good number from the Sunday school and church sat down to a bountiful dinner beside the bay.

Later in the afternoon the Rev. W. Dovey and Mr. Gordon Dafoe supervised the swimming and Mrs. C. Brown and Miss Lois Bradshaw took charge of the races. All present attended and had a most enjoyable afternoon.

Lay Women Leaders' T.S. Ends Session

A "training school" for lay women leaders was drawn to a close in Belleville. The school, the second under the sponsorship of the Women's Missionary Society (Western Division), has been held in Albert College. Fifty-nine women enrolled from many areas of Ontario and Quebec, from Leamington to Sherbrooke; from Welland to Burke's Falls. Miss Louise A. Reith, M.A., director of organization of the W.M.S., has been dean of the school.

The study of the Bible has been central in the classes in the Presbyterian Training Centre, Mrs. A. John Coleman, of Toronto, has been the leader. Mrs. Coleman, whose birthplace was Switzerland, is a theologian trained in her native land. She has worked with World Student Federation, and in this position has visited many countries of the world. She is wife of a university professor, she is called upon frequently to conduct Biblical study in theological colleges and in special conferences.

The students in the Presbyterian Women's Training Centre spent much time, too, on various aspects of the work of the Women's Missionary Society. Workshops in children's, girls' and adult work were effective in giving practical guidance to leaders in their own congregations. Presentations of national and overseas work rounded out the programme.

The sessions, which opened Sunday night, July 6 with a service of worship led by the Rev. W. J. MacLean, of Belleville, closed Friday, July 10, with a demonstration of materials presented and a farewell message to peoples of all ages.

Queen Mother Greets Debs in Happy Mood

LONDON (CP) — There was a smile and a nod from the Queen Mother for the 400 or 40 Canadian debutantes presented to her at Buckingham Palace Thursday.

The Queen Mother, who wore a pink chiffon dress with matching hat, was the first of the Queen's presentation party as her daughter Princess Margaret was on a tack of sinusitis.

The weather was high among the girls even though they were unable to meet the Queen.

Said Harriet Valerie Davies at Kenilvile and Halifax, N.S., "I was a little disappointed at not seeing the Queen, but the Queen Mother is charming and you feel her smile is such a personal one."

Petite Niky Papachristidis of Montreal was the first of the 20 Commonwealth debutantes to enter the gold and white ballroom. As an orchestra in the alcove struck up with melodies from My Fair Lady, Niky led the way with a deep curtsy as her name was read out by an usher.

After being presented the girls assembled in the royal green drawing room behind seven thousand guests on the sunlit lawns behind Buckingham Palace for tea.

An orchestra played lively tunes while the guests enjoyed tea, cakes and ice cream. And Princess Margaret in turquoise blue, Duchess and Duchess of Gloucester and Princess Alice joined the Queen Mother on the lawns to mingle with the crowd.

Guests at the garden party included the first of Canada's British Empire Games team now in training at Cardiff—team commandant Maj. Jack Davies of Montreal; Bob Osborne of Vancouver, general manager of the team; Canadian women's diving champion Irene MacDonald of Hamilton and wrestler John Costello of Winnipeg.

Other guests included George Drew, Canadian high commissioner to the United Kingdom and Mrs. Drew.

ALDWORTH — WEDDELL

Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, was the setting for a lovely summer wedding, on June 28th, at 2.00 p.m., when the Reverend Harry M. Davis, pastor of the church, united in marriage Margaret Anne Weddell, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacLellan Weddell, and George Albert Aldworth of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Aldworth, of Hamilton, Ontario. Tall white standards of pink and white snapdragons, accented the wherever call and white satin bows the guest pews.

Mr. Alex Gordon, church organist, rendered the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Margaret Hillis, who sang the "Lord's Prayer," and the "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Alexander MacLellan Weddell, wore a charming story - book bridal gown of white chiffon designed on lines of sheer simplicity, having a fitted bodice with rounded neckline of Alencon lace and tiny, over-the-shoulder sleeves. The bouffant, bell-shaped skirt flowed in graceful lines from a nipped-in, pointed waistline. She wore a Juliet-type head dress studded with tiny seed pearls, and finger-tip veil of silk illusion, long, over-the-elbow gloves and carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations mingled with dracena leaves, stephanotis and trailing ivy.

She was attended by Miss. Walter Gordon, sister-in-law, as matron of honor, and by Mrs. Allen Smith and Miss Maribeth Bryan, as bridesmaids, all of Belleville.

The matron of honor and the bridesmaids were gowned identically in white, embossed organdy over party-length taffeta, fashioned with rounded neckline dipped at the back and short sleeves. The full gathered skirts were accented by coral-toned taffeta cummerbunds with large back bows. They wore picture hats of matching coral, the bride's gauntlets and carried nosegays of pink carnations set in a fluff of tulle with sprays of white and coral florets emanating from the centre

DAFOE — REID

Front Road United Church, Belleville, was prettily adorned with ferns, iris, spirea, and lupins for a lovely June wedding on Saturday, 14, at 2:30 p.m. when June Lorraine Reid, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Burton Reid, became the bride of Allan Roy Dafoe, of Frankford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross B. Dafoe. The Reverend W.E.G. Dovey, of Bridge Hill United Church, officiated. The guest pews were designated by white, satin bows.

Miss Lois Bradshaw, of Belleville, pianist, rendered the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Miss Glenda Deatsior, of Point Anne, who sang, before the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer," and during the signing of the register, "O Perfect Love." Mendelssohn's Wedding March was used for the recessional, and the wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" for the processional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Clifford Reid, was charmingly gowned in white, floor length Chantilly lace over satin, featuring a molded "V" pointed bodice having long, tapered satin sleeves buttoned at the wrist with lace over satin buttons, and scalloped bateau neckline outlined with seed pearls and sequins. The graceful skirt was accented by a front panel of lace cascading in scallops to the back lace-tiered panel which alternated with rows of fine tulle over slipper satin. She wore a coronet beaded cap studded with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, with veil of tulle illusion and carried a cascade of American Beauty roses mingled with fern and white satin ribbons.

Mrs. Leslie Snuih, of Kingston, cousin of the bride, as matron of honor, was attired in silk organza, in shrimp color, with fitted basque accented by a round, off-the-shoulder neckline, with back bow, and cap sleeves. The skirt was gathered to points over the hipline. She wore a matching headdress, mitts, and carried a nosegay of pink Sweetheart roses, with white mums and lime-green satin streamers.

Miss Erances Kerr, of Belleville, as bridesmaid, was gowned in lime-green organza fashioned on lines similar to that of the matron of honor, with matching mitts and headdress. Her nosegay was of pink, Sweetheart roses with white mums and shrimp-colored satin streamers.

Mr. Carman Dafoe, of Frankford, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman, while Mr. Carl Dafoe, also a brother of the bridegroom, of Frankford, and Mr. Kenneth Jeffery, of Kingston, cousin of the bride, ushered the guests. The bridegroom's attendants were white jackets, black trousers and white carnation boutonnieres.

The reception was held at the Front Road United Church hall, which was gaily decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers, wedding bells and small table bouquets of baby's breath and pink wegelia.

The bride's table, with its all-white pink-touched wedding cake centring the white damask cloth, cloaked about the base with white tulle and tiny clusters of pink rosebuds, and flanked by tall, white candles, was lovely. A bride's cake, softly decorated in pastel pink adorned a side table.

The bride's mother, wearing light-blue nylon lace with matching duster; white accessories, and corsage of American Beauty roses, received the guests, later the bridegroom's mother, who was in powder blue nylon lace with matching jacket, white accessories, and corsage of American Beauty roses for the day.

For touring the Catskill Mountains, Atlantic City, and Montreal, the bride travelled in a sheath beige dress with matching jacket; three-quarter length and wide round collar, matching shoes and bag, and green hat with gloves, with corsage of Talisman "roses" and bronze 'mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Dafoe will reside at 110 East Moira Street, Belleville.

The bride was honored prior to her marriage by a surprise personation held by Front Road Y.P.U. when she was presented with an electric alarm clock, at the home of Mrs. Roy Napier and Joan; at a shower held at the home of Mrs. Jack Parrott by the 4-H Quinte Gardeners when she was the recipient of a crystal cake plate, and by a community miscellaneous shower held at the Point Anne Orange Hall, when both the bride and bridegroom were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I have been told that it is possible to arrange with the steamship company to have a bottle of champagne or a special wine served to a passenger on the ship during the voyage. Can you tell me if this is true? If it is, how do I go about making arrangements for this? Could I have it served at dinner of a certain day (a birthday)? Thank you, very much, for any advice about this. R. M.—

Yes, you can make this delightful arrangement with the steamship company of the ship on which your friend is a passenger. Telephone to the company and ask to be connected with the Catering Department, and they will take your order. (Or, if not convenient to telephone, write to the steamship company.) Tell them what you wish to have delivered, to whom, what date, for dinner for a birthday occasion. You will be informed the cost of the cable or radiogram as well as of the champagne or wine.

IT'S "DEAR MARY AND JOHN"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When I write a letter that is intended for both husband and wife, should I begin it "Dear Mary and John" or "Dear John and Mary"? In other words, should the name of the husband or the wife come first? Does it matter? Also, in consequence, as I've been told?

— Reader.

Your letter should begin "Dear Mary and John." Courteously it's the "lady first" sequence.

DIVORCED MOTHER OF GROOM-TO-BE UNCERTAIN ABOUT HER RESPONSIBILITY

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My son is to be married before long. His father and I have been divorced about five years, and we are not on friendly terms. The boy's father will be invited to the wedding, which is only right. What arrangement is proper at the receiving-line at the reception, which is to be in a large hall? If the father is sober enough he is welcome to be in the receiving-line. I have not yet met the mother of my son's bride-to-be. Is it up to her parents to get us acquainted, or is it up to me, or is it up to the couple themselves? Since I am employed, and work six days a week, there isn't much time left for me to entertain.

—Fiance's Mother.

Since it is your responsibility, as the mother of the groom-to-be to make the first social move, you should, as soon as possible, get in touch with your son's fiancee (if you have not met her) to welcome her into your family, and with her parents, to bring about the meeting of the two families. You might telephone or write the girl's mother, to ask when it would be convenient for you to come to call on the family, or you might invite them to come to tea on Sunday, or any other hour or occasion convenient for you. It needn't be at all an important occasion . . . the meeting is the important thing, and they are probably waiting for you to make this first bow to them.

All decisions concerning the formation of the receiving-line are the responsibility of the bride's parents, since they are the hosts of the wedding. I hope it will be a comfort to you to know that often nowadays "the fathers" do not stand in the receiving-line, and very often . . . even when there is no problem about him . . . the groom's father does not stand in the receiving-line. However, you and your son should talk over together, and with complete straightforwardness, this problem concerning his father and decide when to present it to his fiancee's parents. Then all decisions and plans are their responsibility.

NO USHER FOR JUNIOR BRIDESMAID

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I would like to have my 14-year-old sister, my only sister, in my wedding party, but since she is only old to be a flower girl, would it be proper to have her as a junior bridesmaid? If so, must I have a junior usher, to walk with her? (I haven't a brother, and there is no boy relative I particularly would like to have in the wedding party.—Dorothy B.

Do have your 14-year-old only sister as the junior bridesmaid . . . a wonderful way to make you and her most happy and proud. Don't have a junior usher. The large bowls I carried whipped cream — 1 pint in each ready to be spread on top of berry-filled cakes. I took along my 2 largest egg turners and with the help of my sister, transferred the top layer of each shortcake to a piece of wax paper. We spread the sweetened berries carefully replaced top layers, over bottom layers liberally, covered them liberally with whipped cream and then garnished all with big berries. These items all carried well on the floor of the trailer of the car — but believe me I took the curves slowly. Okay?

Readers' Friday Column

as conducted by Mary Moore

Question: . . . I have never had to do this kind of thing before, so am really up a tree. Our club is having Smorgasbord dinner out on the lawn of one of our members and we are all required to bring food for the dinner. I have been assigned to make and bring raspberry shortcake. This essentially is not a problem as such, but I will have to make the shortcake at home, carry it, the raspberries and cream about 10 miles to the outskirts of the city and serve it. Personally I prefer shortcake of the biscuit type — and warm — but I cannot see how this can be accomplished in this situation, and feel therefore that I will have to fill the request with a shortcake of the white cake type . . . Any special instructions you might have through your own experience in this matter would be appreciated. Do you think that I should have a recipe for enough cake to serve 25 people—made at one time, or can I take a cake recipe and make it the equivalent number of times to feed that many? Or perhaps you have an entirely new and different suggestion on what might be done to fill the bill with "raspberry shortcake" of a new recipe . . . Mrs. W. O'B.

Answer: For a Press Club picnic on Tuesday last I did exactly what yo plan to do — and used biscuit dough. I made up 4 batches of the recipe below and when they were cool enough with a long sharp knife I carefully split each into layers but left them in position on the plates on which they were to be served. I took along 3 large bowlful of sweetened berries (8 pints) also 4 pints of extra large berries for garnishing and passing to give extra lavish servings. In 2 separate junior bridesmaid walks alone in the processional and recessional.

A CORRECT FORM FOR WEDDING INVITATION

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

A girl who is a distant relative on my father's side of the family was married recently. Her family ties correspond occasionally, and we knew that her father since the death of her mother several years ago, had remarried, and that the new marriage, like his first one, was happy. However, we were rather surprised to receive an invitation to the daughter's wedding, reading:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter Elizabeth

Yes, this is a correct for to be used when the bride's mother is dead and her father has remarried. However, personally I prefer that the third line read: "at the marriage of Mr. Smith's daughter."

Beautiful Bubble Dress

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

Shown is a handsome evening sheath of navy blue re-embroidered lace. Form - hugging in front, it has shoulder straps that meet the lace band in back. From the band a "bubble" of navy silk chiffon gives the overall effect but reveals the figure, too. Ultra smart and right for those important special occasions.

Dinner Menus

FRIDAY

BISCUIT-TYPE SHORTCAKE

2 cups sifted but not sifted cake (or all-purpose) flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1-2 teaspoons each salt and cream of tartar, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1-3 cup butter or shortening at room temperature (or half and half of each), 3-4 cup milk at room temperature. Sift first 5 dry ingredients together. Cut or chop in butter or shortening until crumbly. Add milk all at once and quickly stir. Turn out of bowl carefully onto greased layer cake tin—shaping it into round with back of spoon. Smooth top and bake at 450 deg. F. about 15 minutes.

MARSH HILL W.M.S.

MARSH HILL — The July meeting of Marsh Hill W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Grace Bartindale, with ten members present.

The president, Mrs. I. Finkle, opened the meeting with a reading, "On Keeping Dominion Day."

"What a wonderful heritage we had handed to us. Are we keeping it safe to be handed on undiminished, to our children? The best way to celebrate Dominion Day is to pledge our love and service to him who is the Lord of Lords and King of Kings, and to go out to life girt about by His love and faithfulness. He is the best Canadian who is the best Christian." This was followed by prayer.

The members reported sending 22 cards and making one house call.

A letter was read from Mrs. J. D. Baxter, candidate secretary of Belleville Presbyterial, stating the need of home mission workers and also for overseas service.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Janet P. . . . He has gone all out to help his secretary.

Harold P. — She's the best secretary I've ever had.

Janet P. — I sincerely believe that I'm not a jealous wife, b u t certain things in our household these days sure get my goat.

My husband hired a young divorcee as his secretary. She is 29 and has a child. My husband is 43. He went to every length to help her straighten out her affairs, recommended a lawyer, found an apartment for her and spent hours going over various details of her divorce proceedings.

Now he picks her up to get her to work in the morning and brings her home. One night her child became seriously ill and she called my husband in hysterics. He rushed right over.

He's no doctor. What business had she to call him and he to go? Sometimes I get so furious thinking about it I feel like rushing over and telling this woman off.

Harold P. — Janet has been disgracefully rude to this young woman who certainly served me and my harm and who certainly isn't interested in an old fogy like me in any serious sense.

It is true that I have managed to be of help to Grace, but Janet overlooks the fact that this girl is the best secretary I've ever had and has done wonders with my office. At first she was overloaded with so many complicated personal problems tha I felt it would be worthwhile for me to help her out.

I have been proved right. She has more than repaid me. I've never met anyone so willing to put in extra time and effort.

I don't see what Janet has to beef about when I'm home every night and have never given her reason to doubt my loyalty to her. I'm just not the kind of guy, but Janet says there's always a first time and I'm at "that" age.

The Council: When another woman is involved, a wife's antagonistic feelings are often misjudgedly interpreted as jealousy. The husband, if he is an older man and innocent of the charges, becomes quite flattered at t h e idea. This lends a little fuel to the spark.

But we don't think Janet's feelings in this case are r e a l jealousy. We think she is angry, and rightfully so, because she sees her husband being used in an unfair way by another person.

We think she'd feel about the same if she were used that way by another man — only it isn't likely that Harold would permit himself to get into such a situation with another man. Grace is undoubtedly trading on her feminine appeal to a man who is flattered by her dependence on him.

We think it's fine for employers to be concerned about their employes' personal problems, but for the sake of good office relations as well as good personal relations, there ought to be definite limits.

Certainly a middle-of-the-night emergency visit like the one Janet describes exceeds those bounds.

Sunday Afternoon Remains Television's Culture Corner

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's culture corner — Sunday afternoon — will be returned to the thinkers, the intellectuals and the critics in the fall with some slight remodeling.

Omnibus, for instance, will be back on NBC-TV at 1 to an hour's length and presented on alternate Sundays. Wide, Wide World, which lost its automobile manufacturer sponsor, may be visiting from the lineup but there's still a slim chance it will be revived. But such programs as "Conquest, Twentieth Century Comment, Outlook and the news interviews may be expected to return.

The Sabbath Snug Harbor, from about 2 to 6 p.m., is emerging as a unique period in television. Large numbers of average citizens have found intelligent talk, stimulating drama and good music a welcome change from a steady diet of mayhem, audience participation shows and give-aways.

AUDIENCES BEEN SMALL

Historically, Sunday afternoon has attracted comparatively small audiences. Hence it has been difficult to sell to sponsors interested in reaching the masses to sell their toothpaste, cigarets, lipsticks or some such product bought in all income brackets.

More recently, however, networks have been discovering that their Sunday afternoon viewers were folks to be proud of—substantial, smart, educated, bank-rolled. One result has been increasing sponsor interest by companies.

They have continued partly because the shows give prestige to the networks. As a matter of fact, when NBC or CBS are of a mind to boast about their programs or attempt to prove that all programming does not consist of westerns, whodunits and panels, they are likely to use a Sunday afternoon show to point up the argument. Omnibus, for instance, has picked up over 40 awards for excellence over the years.

VALUABLE WORKSHOP

Still another reason for the networks' continued willingness to go on underwriting live Sunday afternoon shows is that they have proved a valuable workshop in which to develop and refine ideas and skills.

One network executive specializing in public affairs programs says:

"We have had a chance to experiment, and we have been sharpening our technique until now we feel we can turn out programs which are enlightening—even educational—and still be entertaining."

Sports Centre Wins Game by Default

By PETER CARVER

Circle TV's walzed off the field last night forfeiting the game to the Sports Centre following a disputet umpire's decision.

Sports Centre was leading 8-3 in the sixth inning in a Commercial League softball tilt when the incident occurred.

Circle TV refused to resume play after umpire Al Kelleher reversed his decision on a batted ball.

The winners scored three runs in the first and thiro and added singles in the fifth and sixth. Circle TV scored its two in the sixth.

REACH TENNIS FINAL

DUBLIN (AP) — Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode, American Wightman Cup player from Forest Hills, N.Y., defeated 19-year-old Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 in a women's semi-final of the Irish tennis championship. She will meet either Shirley Bloomer of England or Jude Fitzpatrick, top - ranking Irish girl, who play their semi-final today.

Miss Moore, England's No. 1 player, eliminated Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., 14, 6-3, 14, 6-2, 6-2 in the men's singles semi finals.

British Bluebell Dancers 'Captured' by Las Vegas

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) —The Bluebell Girls have captured Las Vegas and vice versa.

The dancers have been hailed as one of the most popular imports from the British Isles since scotch whisky. They are from Britain via France, for they are part of the Lido Club show brought over from Paris to open a new hotel.

There are 16 of the Bluebell beauties here (one is Dutch, the rest English).

This city-wise town, not easily impressed by newcomers, flipped over the Bluebells. The girls have returned the compliment.

"Fabulous!" they say, exercising the usual Las Vegas adjective.

CHILDHOOD NAME

Miss Kelly is a lovely, well-spoken English lady who looks much too young to have started the Bluebell tradition 23 years ago. That was a childhood name for her, and she adapted it to her well - disciplined troupes of dancing glamorines.

"I have three other companies working now at the Lido, in Monte Carlo and Madrid," she explained. "I pick them tall as a kind of trade mark, and they're all alike in the classic dance. I get them because they're too tall for the ballet.

"They all come from good families and I seldom have any discipline problem. If one does get out of line, she is dropped immediately. I have very strict rules, and I don't anticipate any problems here. Unlike the other places in Las Vegas, the Bluebell girls will not be required to mix with the customers."

Does she worry about their wardrobe?

"No, I don't think that would be any problem. We've played many times in Monte Carlo and other places with gambling, and it has never tempted to intrigue them. But let's ask them."

REPORTER BLUSHED

She took me upstairs to the dressing room to meet several of the girls. Though their attire was scanty indeed, to make a reporter blush, they spoke quite really in cultured English tones.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE QUINTE DRIVE-IN — "Parsdners" in Technicolor with Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis — "Leather Saint" with Paul Douglas and Jean Derek.

AT THE PARK — Three survivors: John Russell, Susan Cabot and Joel McCrea finally fight off the badly mauled Indian attackers in the cliff redoubt Russell aptly names "Fort Massacre". Russell accuses McCrea of having started the fight in seeking vengeance against Indians, without regard for the lives of his battle-weary troops. McCrea turns the accusation aside and orders the old Pluto to ride to Fort Crane for help. "Fort Massacre", in CinemaScope and color is showing today and Saturday at the air-conditioned Park Theatre. On the same program Mark Stevens stars in Gun Fever". Both hits are first city showings. Continuous show Saturday from 1.00 p.m. Doors open at 12.30.

AT THE BELLE — Beautiful Kim Novak, co-stars with James Stewart in Alfred Hitchcock's new suspense thriller, "Vertigo", filmed in Technicolor and VistaVision for added suspense, it is a completely absorbing, breath-taking story that is true to the Hitchcock tradition of suspense without horror. "Vertigo", is continuing its run tonight and Saturday at the Belle Theatre.

ERNESTINE PLACES 60TH

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Ernestine Russell, Canada's sole woman competitor, finished 60th among competitors in the overall classification for the women's individual event in the world gymnastic championships here. The official list showed Miss Russell gained 71.399 points. The winner was Olympic champion Larisa Latynina of Russia, with 77.466 points. Both hits are first city showings. Russ Dominate Final Day World Contests

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia's Nina Chakhlin and Larissa Latynina, the world all-around gymnastic champions, dominated the last day of the individual world championship competition.

Chakhlin, who took the men's all-around championship Wednesday, took three gold medals Thursday in six individual competitions for men. Miss Latynina, a 23-year-old student, won two of four events Thursday, placed second in another and was climb-ated from the fourth.

Only Masao Takemoto of Japan and Eva Rosazova of Czechoslovakia managed to break the Russian monopoly. Masao won the men's calisthenics competition with another Japanese, Takashi Ono second.

Shirley Russell of Windsor, Ont., placed 60th among the 97 individual women contestants. The sole Canadian entry was the crowd's favorite in the women's individual for her cheerfulness and sportsmanship.

Miss Russell, majoring in physical education at Michigan State University, leaves Moscow today to return home by way of Vienna, Amsterdam and London.

Previous rumors that she would tour the Soviet Union were denied Thursday.

Injuries Hit Canadians at Empire Games

CARDIFF, Wales (CP)—Injuries and ailments have struck Canada's British Empire Games team early. Three Canadian athletes are in hospital and four others are suffering from various complaints.

Probably the most serious casualty is Montreal fencer Leslie Krass, who is in hospital in Cardiff and may have to stay there four or five weeks.

Krass is believed to be suffering from a minor heart attack. The fencer developed a severe chest cold aboard the ship after a heavy training session.

In hospital at Empire Games Village in St. Athan, 17 miles west of Cardiff, are boxers Ray Galante, light welterweight from Hamilton, and flyweight Walter Henry of Orillia, Ont. Galante is suffering from blockage of his nasal passages and Henry has an infected jaw as a result of a tooth extraction two months ago. Both require operations and are likely to be ready when boxing events begin July 21.

Other Canadians on the sailing list are heavyweight boxer Stan Kobielski of Windsor, Ont., who suffered a badly bruised jaw in a sparring session, and wrestlers Ken Rose, Kitchener, Ont., and Fred Flannery, Vancouver, both taking penicillin injections for mat burns.

The remaining casualty is swimmer Bill Slater of Vancouver, who missed a day's training with a stiff neck. The Canadian record-holder in freestyle events showed up at the Empire Pool Thursday and worked out briefly.

Sport Snapshots

By RON ANDREWS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Plenty of fat will roll off hundreds of bodies during the next month or so as Canada's nine professional football teams prepare for the 1958 season which ends in Vancouver Nov. 29 with the Grey Cup game.

For the last seven months the coaches have been scouting for prospects both in Canada and the United States. Now is the time to examine their finds.

Getting a coach to comment on his club's outlook is like trying to get an airtight tip on the stock market. None of the coaches say much about their own clubs, but most of them are willing to pat the opponents on the back.

A typical quote was made by Frank Clair of Ottawa Rough Riders last week when Riders opened their training camp:

"I'm sure we'll have a better club. This doesn't guarantee anything, though, because I know the other teams in the Big Four will also be greatly improved.

"Toronto Argonauts cannot be sold short. Not with that fellow Ken Ford at quarterback. He's that big man from Hardin-Simmons College and he'll keep Argos rolling if he gets any help at all."

Ford is looked upon by Argo observers as the man who will help erase memories of last year's dismal showing of the Double Blue. Argos were weak at the quarterback position and wound up in last place.

At the moment rigorous gettough programs are the order at the training camps. Players who report overweight are ordered to slim down. And there are some underweight men, too. They'll have to put on some beef if they want to get jobs in the Big Four game.

Anyone who thinks training camps are just a matter of running for 10 minutes time in the wrong idea. Some players admit they work harder at this time of year than they do all season.

GIVE UP EARLY

Already the pre-season grind has proven too tough for some. Two members of the Regina Roughriders of the WIFU left camp last week.

End George Hall, a four-year veteran with Riders, and Murray MacKenzie, a young halfback, left the camp.

"If this is football, I've had it," Hall was reported to have said.

Two days after the Regina camp opened, three players suffered injuries and will probably be out for part of the season. The three players - import rookies Wayne Haensel and Bill Hurst and Canadian sophomore Dick Herbertson — were injured during blocking and tackling drills.

To show that the coaches mean business, fines are often imposed against players who disobey orders.

Hamp Pool, Argos head coach who tended to be lenient with his charges last season, has clamped down and says he won't tolerate any laziness or fooling around.

Pool clamped a $25 fine on half a dozen players who showed up 45 minutes late for a practice last week.

Which coach makes the proper selections and comes up with the best plans for winning games won't be known until the fall. At the moment it is anybody's guess.

Order Hurricane To Retire From Boxing

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York State Athletic Commission has ordered the retirement from boxing of heavyweight Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson on the recommendation of its medical advisory board.

Jackson was barred from the ring by the National Boxing Association last November on the grounds that he was in danger of serious physical injury if he should continue. He previously was barred in California after his technical knockout at the hands of Eddie Machen.

Dr. Marvin A. Stevens, commission medical advisor, said Thursday: "This boxer is deteriorating, as evidenced by his poor reaction time and his inability to defend himself."

Named Coach Buffalo Bisons

Kirk has been coach of the Flin Flon, Man., Bombers for the last five years. The club won the Memorial Cup in 1957.

PREP FOR AMERICA'S CUP

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The Westerly, piloted by yachtsman Arthur Knapp Jr., arrived in Newport Thursday and completed the lineup for preliminary trials to determine the American defender of the America's cup. Four 12-metre yachts—Vim, Columbia, Easterner and Westerly—began a series of tests over the America's Cup course Saturday. The survivor meets Britain's Sceptre Sept. 20 in the first renewal of the America's Cup race since 1937.

LAST HOLDOUT SIGNED

WINNIPEG (CP) — Walt Bilicki, last holdout with Winnipeg Blue Bombers, has signed a contract, the Western Interprovincial Football Union club announced Thursday. It will be the third season with Bombers for the 25-year - old Canadian centre and linebacker.

MEINFERT JOINS NFL

EDMONTON (CP) — Tackle Dale Meinert will not rejoin Edmonton Eskimos this year, club president Cecil Ross said Thursday. Ross said Meinert has signed with a National Football League team, believed to be Baltimore Colts.

WELLAND (CP) — Welland-Crowland Sertomas have won their 11th straight game, defeating Mimico Mounties 21-6 in a Senior Ontario Lacrosse Association game.

The victory Thursday moved Welland eight points ahead of second-place Brampton Excelsiors.

Ted Howe paced Sertomas with seven goals. Other Welland scorers were Brien Woods with three and Doug Smith, Jack Gallows, Ron Roy and Lou Howard, two each. Jim McMahon, Skip Teal, Dave Hall and Don Baker scored one each.

PETERBOROUGH (CP) — The Peterborough Petes have pulled into a third-place Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior tie with Long Branch by beating fifth-place Hamilton Lincolns 16-5.

Cy Coombes and Larry Ferguson each counted four for the victors Thursday. Curly Mason getting two and Paul Parnell and Ken Ratzlaff one apiece. Best for Hamilton was Tony D'Amico with five, Sam Crogan clicking for three and Ross Fowlerh one.

Minor Baseball

A couple of Cardinal pitchers, Dainard and Boden, combined to pitch a seven-inning no-hitter last night as the Cards blanked the Orioles 5-0 in a midget league baseball game.

Both tossed the first four frames of hitless ball while Dainard also held the Orioles without a hit over the final three.

Meanwhile their mates collected five hits off Morrison, good for eight runs, They scored once in the first, three times in the third and sewed it up with four in the fourth.

The Cardinals backed their pitchers with perfect support while the losers were charged with three miscues.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Sports Items—Playing coach Ike Hildebrand of the Allan Cup champions, Belleville McFarlands, has been signed to a two-year contract, McFarlands' manager Drury Denyes announced today.)

Ike Hildebrand leaned against the boards in Memorial Arena that night last winter. He seemed a little weary. Sweat trickled his face, dripping down on his sweater.

IKE HILDEBRAND

On the ice the McFarlands skated slowly, tapering off a tough practice mind. The night before they had played lackadaisical hockey against Kingston, toppling an all-important "go-off" verdict 2-1.

The semi-finals series stood three games each. The following night would see the issue decided in Memorial Arena.

No one in the arena, or for that matter, never it better than the pint-size crew-cut generalissimo of the Macs.

His shoulders drooped a little wearily, but there was no mistaking the look in his eyes. He was confidence personified. One of his greatest characteristics shone in his face. Faith in his McFarlands.

He smiled as they skated by. "There goes one of the greatest hockey players with, or had anything to do with. They're of championship calibre. I have thought that all season."

They did not look so hot against Kingston the night previous; he was reminded. 'Ike's eyes snapped angrily. "That was last night. Wait until tomorrow night. You will see a hockey team in action."

Ike was so right. The McFarlands did not let him down. They dug out their potential and gave the Kingston foemen a 9-0 shellacking in their worst defeat of the season.

The rest is history. Living up to their coach's unwavering faith in them, the Macs swept Pembroke, Kitchener, South Porcupine and Levis aside in their stride to the national title.

Then came Kelowna — and Ike's darkest and brightest hours. The series stood at 3-1 for the western champions. His faith unshaken by the desperate odds against him. Ike rallied the Macs.

By the sheer brilliancy of individual effort, the 156-pound coach drew his club to fourteen level — and better. The series was tied three-all.

Then came their final and greatest hour. No one will forget that record-making third period when an apparently beaten Eastern squad by the magnificence of comeback effort, raced from behind a 3-1 deficit and in 29 minutes scored five goals to win the coveted title and Allan Cup.

A few hours later, via transcontinental telephone, the little Napoleon of the McFarlands, his voice quivering with the excitement of victory said, "I knew they would do it. I never lost faith in them."

Approached by the McFarlands' management regarding future activities, Ike asked for, and got, a two-year contract. Manager Drury Denyes was delighted with the set-up and his legion of fans will be delighted to hear that the mighty mite of Peterborough will be back in Belleville harness.

And official sources state there is no truth in the rumor that Hildebrand was offered a "fabulous" sum to mentor the Peterborough Junior "A" entry next season, succeeding Teeder Kennedy.

Ike was never approached by Peterborough, or Canadiens' officials. If he had, the answer is obvious. For he has a tremendous task facing him in Prague next February, when he leads his McFarlands against Europe's best in defence of Canada's world amateur hockey championship.

If Ike can place a replica of the world's hockey championship in his well-stocked trophy room he will have set something of a record for athletic mentors. It is not many sports coaches, if any, who will be able to display a half-dozen Mann Cup (national lacrosse championships), the Allan Cup and a world trophy on the same mantel.

Larrupin' Lew Grand Slams Milwaukee to 8-4 Victory; Red Sox Regain Second Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston Red Sox have regained a full share of second place in the runaway race in the American League, and it's no coincidence that they've just unpacked their grips for a home stay.

It's been a long, frustrating story that the Red Sox can't do business on the road. They go to work in Boston's Fenway Park.

They won nine of 11 in the middle of their last home stand and jumped from fifth to second. But they lost five of their first six on the road and tumbled to fourth and swapped back by winning five of their last six on the road.

In one game at home, they've inches into a 19-game edge, beating Chicago White Sox 11-3 Thursday night with Jackie Jensen hammering a grand-slammer for his 35th home.

That broke a second-place tie with Kansas City Athletics, beaten 6-3 and 3-2 by Baltimore Orioles, but didn't do much toward carving first-place New York. The Yankees swept a day-night doubleheader from Cleveland Indians 7-4 and 6-3 and lead by 11 games again.

Washington Senators rapped Detroit Tigers 5-3 in the other game game with three home runs.

SECOND OF SEASON

Jensen, who leads the league in homers and runs batted in (77), capped a six-run fourth inning with his second grand-slammer of the season. Bob Keegan gave up the blast in relief of Early Wynn, the all-star game winner, who also lost his seventh when Gene Stephens singled the bases with a two-run homer, breaking a 1-1 tie. Frank Sullivan gave up nine hits but breezed for his 7-2 record.

Al Pilarcik's two doubles drove in three runs and Jim Busby pingled home a pair in the opener for the Orioles, who jumped from seventh to fifth. Arnie Portocarrero, acquired from the Athletics for first-game loser Bud Daley (4-1), April 18, won his seventh in the nightcap.

Rookie Milt Pappas no-hit the Athletics for 5 1-3 innings in the opener, but Harry Simpson singled off to win his sixth, with all-star hero Billy O'Dell getting the final out.

The Yankees, cracking a string of seven scoreless games at home, came from behind in both contests. Jerry Lumpe's two - run double off losing reliefer Hoyt Wilhelm (12-4) capped a four-run eighth in the nightcap after Gary Bell had blanked them on five hits.

Elston Howard drove in three runs in the opener, tripling for two in a three-run fourth that handed Jim Grant a 6-7 record.

A pitcher's pride being what it is, Cincinnati's Bob Purkey might be hard pressed to pick between his own shutout string and the home run hitting of Harrysburg Lew Burdette. It's something like challenging Jack Benny for the money or his life.

Purkey pitched a dandy Thursday night, blanking second-place San Francisco for the second time this season, 4-0, and extending his scoreless jinx over the Giants to 42 innings since May 7, 1955.

But pitchers more than likely will recall their hitting over anything short of a no-hitter, and Burdette built a memory that's a beaut, driving in five runs with a pair of homers, one a grand slam, as Milwaukee beat Los Angeles, 8-4.

Burdette now has a total of four homers in the majors, both in pairs—tying Don Newcombe for the National League record for most times hitting two in a game by pitchers.

While Burdette and Purkey were combining to put Milwaukee's games ahead of San Francisco in the race, Philadelphia Phillies slipped past St. Louis into third place by whipping the Cardinals 13-3. Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh 8-7, then postponed the second game of the doubleheader because of rain.

Purkey, now 10-5, struck out two and gave up seven hits, six of 'em singles, while gaining his third shutout of the season.

Burdette, now 7-7, popped his slam over the left field screen in the Coliseum at the 266-foot mark —after an intentional walk loaded the bases—in a five-run fourth capped by Felix Mantilla's sixth homer. That handed southpaw Johnny Podres (6-8) his first defeat in eight decisions as Los Angeles. Burdette's second shot —a 350-footer— was off reliever Ed Roebuck.

The Phillies, who have won eight of nine in a drive from seventh, added 10 walks to 13 hits against Cards. Sally Hemus' two-run homer capped a five-run fourth that beat Sal Maglie (12-3), but Harry Anderson, who drove in five runs, made it 8-2 with a three-run homer in the fifth.

Lee Walls drove in three runs, two with his 16th homer, and Bobby Thomson's two-run 10th homer gave the Cubs a six-run lead in the eighth. All the Pirates had were two runs on Frank Thomas' 23rd and 24th homers—but Harry Hanebrink enough as Dick Stuart, the minor league slugger, capped a five-run ninth with a two-run homer in his first major league game.

Anthony Wins In First Round

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Tony Anthony, 175, of New York, discipline of Cal Bred, 172, in 50 seconds of the first round of a scheduled 10-rounder to enhance his bid for another crack at Archie Moore's light heavyweight crown.

A hard right to the chin sent a left to the chin started the 25-year-old California state champion out of the picture. Anthony followed with a quick barrage to the head that finished Brad.

Bisons Whip Toronto 7-1; Royals Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That good hitting pitcher of the International League is at it again. Glenn Cox, Buffalo Bison righthander who hit seven home runs last year while compiling a 13-5 won-lost record, has found the range again.

In beating Toronto Maple Leafs 7-1 Thursday night Cox hit two round trippers and batted in three runs. He had a shutout going until the ninth inning when the Leafs scored on Archie Wilsons' double and Stan Jok's single.

The Bisons collected 10 hits off Jack Crimian and two relievers. Milt Graff contributed a homer and a double. The homers by Cox accounted for three Buffalo runs. Cox walked seven times and struck out five as he made his record 7-4.

The Red Wings were powered by the slugging of Roy Smalley and Dick Brodowski. Smalley drove in three runs with a pair of doubles. Sievers' 11th home run of the season with a mate aboard in the ninth inning produced the Jets' two.

Solly Drake cracked two singles for five hitting streak to 22 games for the Royals. The league record of 36 was set by Baltimore's Dick Bunker, with help from Satchel Paige, notched his seventh victory in 10 decisions as Miami beat Havana. Paige came to Bunker's assistance with two hitless innings after Gene Base in the eighth and retired the next five batters.

Boxing Date Is Set Back

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Carmen Basilio-Art Aragon bout has been set back to Sept. 5 because of a conflict in dates with the Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris heavyweight championship fight. The 12 - round fight between Aragon and the former middleweight champ originally was set for Aug. 26. The heavyweight fight will be Aug. 18. Both will be outdoors at Wrigley Field.

Punch Imlach Asst. Manager Toronto Leafs

TORONTO (CP) — George (Punch) Imlach will join Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League as assistant manager on a two-year contract, Harold Smythe, head of the Leafs' board of directors, has announced.

Imlach managed Springfield Indians of the American League last season. Before joining Springfield he spent eight years managing Quebec Aces of the Quebec Hockey League.

Smythe said Thursday the new appointment will not affect the status of King Clancy who remains as assistant general manager in a public relations capacity.

Sprinters Have Good Chance At Empire Games

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CARDIFF, Wales (CP) — By the time the British Empire Games are declared open July 18, more than a dozen athletes will have written off their chances for a gold medal.

Of the 62 entries in the men's 100-yard dash, a luckless 14 will be pruned 24 hours before opening day in a round of preliminary heats, designed to cut the field to manageable proportions.

The 12 heats, with four runners qualifying in each, will offer a free games preview to early arrivals in the Welsh capital. The 48 survivors face a second round of eliminations on Saturday, July 19, the first day of track-and-field competition.

In further efforts to reduce the unwieldy number of gold-medal aspirants, Games officials Thursday announced stiff qualifying standards in several field events.

SPRINTERS SAFE

Canada's three sprinters will be involved in the pre-Games battle for survival in the 100-yard dash but all three, headed by 1954 Games champion Mike Agostini, are considered unlikely to come to grief. Agostini's teammates are Stan Levesmon of Toronto and Stu Cameron of Yorkton, Sask.

In the field events, 20-year-old Maureen Rever of Regina, whose winning effort at the Games trials in the broad jump was 17 feet 7¼ inches, will have to do better to make the final. The qualifying standard is set at 18 feet.

The standards in other over-crowded events are well within the capabilities of Canada's entries. High-jumper Ken Money of Perris, Ont., who has cleared six feet, 7¾ inches, will make the final if he managed 6-5.

MacKay Beats Don Fontana In Opening Singles Match

TORONTO (CP) — Barry MacKay, Dayton, Ohio, the best of the riding young American tennis stars, started the United States off Thursday on what it hopes will be another crack at Australia in the Davis Cup challenge round.

MacKay, a loose - limbed, six-foot - 3½ - inch, pressure player, routed Don Fontana of Toronto 6-1, 6-2, 6-2 in the first of the singles matches of the U.S.-Canada Davis Cup tie before rain intervened to force a postponement of the second singles.

The victory gave the U.S. a 1-0 lead in the North American zone semi-final round. The second singles between Canadian champion Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., and Wilbur Reed of Alameda, Calif., was scheduled for today instead of two doubles which were set back to Saturday. The two concluding singles are set for Monday.

The final matches can't be held Sunday because of a municipal law in suburban North York, where the Toronto Cricket, Skating and Curling Club is located, prevents the charging of admission on that day.

TAKES 53 MINUTES

A crowd of about 900 saw the 22- year -old MacKay polish off Fontana, ranked No. 5 in Canada, in 53 minutes, finishing the match just as the heavy rain started to fall.

MacKay, ranked fifth in the U.S., is by man in the U.S. will be able to start out on the Davis Cup trail with a virtually unbeatable record. He demonstrated he can bring his game to its greatest heights when the pressure is on him. American experts here for the matches said he seldom has played better.

He first showed his brilliance in the challenge round against Australia's hotshot Ashley Cooper, now the Wimbledon champion, in five sets after Australia had clinched its victory.

The University of Michigan graduate overpowered Fontana with his big service, precise volley and smashing return. He slammed over 12 service aces.

MacKay, who blasted over 44 placements altogether, ran off the final game of the match with three aces after he broke Fontana's service in the 11th game of the third set to take a 6-6 lead. That set was the only one in which the 27-year-old Fontana put up any sort of battle.

At one stage, leading 5-4 he was within two points of breaking the American's service.

But the American broke Fontana's service five times, twice to his first two sets and once in the third.

The winner of the best-of-five series will meet Argentina in the zone final for the right to advance against the European zone victor.

Mystery Boxer Barred From British Rings

LONDON (AP) — Cleveland Williams, a heavyweight from Houston, Tex., who claims to receive mystic messages from above, has been barred from British boxing rings.

The British Boxing Board of Control said Thursday it had no sympathy with William's claim that he received a spiritual message that instructed him not to go through with a July 2 fight against Dick Richardson of Wales.

Steve Owen Joins Argonauts As Asst. Coach

Owen, 60, who during his National Football League career won note for the ability of his clubs to keep the opponents from scoring, will be given the job of beefing up the Argo defence and developing young players. He starts July 15.

The Owen-Pool combination is something of a study contrasts. While Owen is all for a sturdy defence, Pool has a record of offensive specialty earned while coaching Los Angeles Rams.

Owen quit the Giants in 1953 because of ill health. In the last few years he has helped out with coaching duties with Baylor University and Philadelphia Eagles.

Pool, in his second season with Toronto, is looking to his new helper to pull the team out of fourth and last place after several disappointing years.

The last time the two were on the same side in the U.S. college all-stars defeated the NFL champions in the 1935 post - season game. With Pool directing the offence and Owen the defence, the collegians upset Cleveland Browns 35-28, the only time the pros have lost in 26 years the exhibition series has been played.

In that game it was the defensive pattern that made the difference. The college boys under Owen's guidance stopped Cleveland's great Jim Graham.

Owen's defensive strategies helped the Giants to nine division championships in the first 11 years he was with the club and to league titles in 1934 and 1944.

One of his championship Giants clubs permitted only 29 scoring points by opponents in 12 games.

REGINA (CP) — Head coach George Terlep cut four players from Saskatchewan Roughriders Wednesday. Cut from the Western Interprovincial Football Union squad was quarterback Frank Hall, from Southern California, and three Canadian backfielders — Malcolm Payne, Bill Young, and Ron Burke.

Sifford, Burke Lead Tourney

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (CP) — Charles Sifford of Philadelphia and Jack Burke of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., shot eight-under-par 63s Thursday to tie for the first round lead of the $25,000 Insurance City open golf tournament.

The field of 146 golfers tore par to shreds, with 54 breaking through the barrier and 15 others equalling it.

Al Balding of Toronto was five-under-par with 32-31—66, good for a seventh-place tie with Gary Player of South Africa and Art Wall of Palmer of Latrobe, Pa. Jerry Magee of Toronto fired a 75.

Baseball Needs Third League Says Rickey

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Branch Rickey Sr., board chairman of Pittsburgh Pirates, says he believes a third major league with New York as the hub would be the best solution to baseball's growing pains.

"If someone were to ask me," said the 77-year-old Rickey in an interview Thursday, "I would say a third major league operating harmoniously with the other two would provide the answer to the problem of large cities now willing, able and clamoring to support big league ball."

Rickey, looking fit despite a recent heart attack, said he doesn't think a 10-team setup now talked about for the National League would be feasible.

"It would make for too many poor clubs in one league," he explained. "The two newcomers would have to be supported and given players, mainly castoffs, by the other eight teams."

More Charges In Spreading Boxing Scandal

NEW YORK (AP) — Boxing matchmaker Jimmy White has been indicted and manager Herman (Hymie the Mink) Wallman linked with another alleged fix attempt in the spreading boxing scandal.

White, a 51-year - old New Yorker, was indicted by a New York grand jury Thursday on charges of conspiracy in trying to fix the Virgil Akins-Isaac Logart fight, and acting as an unlicensed manager for Logart, a Cuban. He pleaded not guilty and was released on $2,500 bail.

Wallman was named in the indictment as a co-conspirator but not as a co-defendant.

The furrier-manager, who has been suspended by the state athletic commission, also had been named as a co-conspirator in another indictment which the grand jury returned last week against boxing judge Meyer Grant. Grant has been accused of accepting $400 in bribes to influence his decisions in fights involving Wallman's boxers.

SET APPEAL DATE

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The U.S. Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals has set July 22 as the date for hearing an appeal from an order suspending integration of Little Rock's Central High School for 30

NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that:

The Council of the Corporation of the City of Belleville intends to construct as a local improvement, a sidewalk in front of the property described as Lot 1 on the south side of Crawford Street, and Island No. 1 on the north side of Dundas Street in the City of Belleville.

The said Sidewalk on Crawford Street West on the west side of the Island and Island No. 1 proposes to assess the cost of the work upon the land abutting upon the said work.

The estimated cost of the work on Crawford Avenue is $1,000.00 of which $150.00 is to be paid by the Corporation and the estimated cost of the work on Dundas Street is $1,700.00 of which the estimated cost per foot of land abutting upon the said Sidewalk on Crawford Avenue and $0.20 per foot for the said Sidewalk on Sinclair Street. The special rate per foot is to be such as will equal the estimated cost of the said work, namely $0.12 per foot frontage on Crawford Avenue and $0.12 per foot on Sinclair Street is 58.5 cents.

2. Application will be made by the Corporation of the City of Belleville to the undersigned, the Board of Works, at their next stay, within 21 days after the first publication of this notice, file with the Board his objection to the said local improvement.

4. The said Board may approve of the said work being undertaken, either before doing so, or at any other time and place when any objections to the said work will be considered.

DATED JUNE 27th, 1958.

Nearby, Jack Ryan said he was trying to close a window when the twister struck. He and his family of four were sitting down to supper.

"I suddenly looked up. The door was gone. The whole cottage shook and practically everything was smashed. It's a wonder no one was hurt."

Five boats were ripped from their moorings and tossed as far as 500 yards from the lake.

In the Latrelle area, 10 miles north of Peterborough, strong winds destroyed one cottage and blew roofs off several others on the shores of Lake Vatchewanooka. Some were shifted from their foundations.

In the Barrie area, a dance hall, Minet's Point, burned to the grounds after it was hit by lightning. The loss was estimated at $25,000, in Barrie itself, a cloudburst flooded the streets, in some cases deep in a new low-lying area.

HAIL BREAKS WINDOWS

Hailstones an inch in diameter bounced down on the Brampton area near Toronto, breaking windows.

Gery Craddock, 22, and Wayne, 19, his brother, were knocked unconscious and rolled 20 feet down an embankment when lightning struck a grove of trees at the Lakeview Golf Club near Port Credit.

In Oshawa, five children escaped with a shaking up when lightning hit their home after travelling 120 feet along a clothesline. Mrs. Karl Blakbiehrer said the bolt crashed open the kitchen door, ripped linoleum off the floor and showered her with plaster.

Bandits Rob Sleeping Guests In Motel Suites

KITCHENER (CP) — Three flight-looted bandits, described by a Waterloo Township police officer as "bold and brazen," have been lifting cash from unlocked motel suites while the occupants sleep.

Sgt. Robert Swartz said the trio stole $271 in one night recently. He described their operations:

Two of them sneak into unlocked motel suites while the third waits in a car. The two then carry go through the pockets and purses as the room occupants slumber peacefully away.

Their three were blamed for thefts of $183 from the pocket of one man and $88 at another motel. A few days earlier $400 was taken at a motel in Brantford.

Melrose

MELROSE — Mr. and Mrs. George Cole and children, of Belleville, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John English.

Mr. Lynn Cole of Elliot Lake, has been holidaying at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Clarke spent Sunday last with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Macfarlane. Other guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Sam McMechan, Oshawa.

Miss Margaret K. Bailey has returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bailey after a pleasant holiday with friends in Western Canada.

Mr. J. B. Nayler, of Montreal, spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Grant McEwen.

Mr. Robinson spent the Sunday dinner hour with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Badgley.

Friends here received with regret the report that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Townsend of Belleville had been in an automobile accident. Later reports that only minor injuries were suffered made welcome news.

Mr. and Mrs. Willett Casey and boys had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. McLaren. The boys stayed for a holiday with their grandparents. Malcolm McLaren, Toronto, also spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. McLaren.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sherwood and Billie, Oakville, called on relatives in the community recently and had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLaren.

During the week, Mr. Fred Jeffrey's car was stolen from the Cook Service Station, Shannonville. Police located it in Toronto a few days later.

Miss Judy Cook is convalescing following the removal of her tonsils in the Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook entertained friends from Chalk River, over the weekend.

Mr. William Sexsmith and family, Ebenezer, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Weese.

Mr. Jack Weese, Toronto, spent the long weekend with his parents, here. Mrs. G. Sexsmith also was a guest of her daughter, her husband and family.

Mr. Clem Haight visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jeffrey on Sunday.

Baby Pascoe, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Pascoe, has been confined to the Belleville General Hospital, suffering from a bronchial condition. All hope his health will soon improve.

The sincere sympathy of this community is extended to the relatives of the late Mrs. Denis Callahan who recently passed away at her home at Read.

OFFER LAND WITH FOOD

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—With Alaska on the threshold of statehood, a supermarket here is giving it away—piecemeal. An advertisement offers a deed to one square foot of land just outside Anchorage, Alaska, with every purchase of $10 or more in groceries.

Panama Canal Operational Supt. Hopes to See Queen Again When Seaway Opened

By ROBERT RICE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MASSENA, N.Y. (CP) — Edward (Barney) Barlow, 61, said the Queen when she sailed through the Panama Canal a few years ago, and he hopes to surprise her when she visits the St. Lawrence Seaway next summer.

"She was a peach," recalled Barney Barlow, who spent 42 years on the Panama Canal before coming here to prepare for the opening of the two United States locks in the 135 - mile waterway from Montreal to Lake Ontario.

His job was to train the 60-man American crew needed to work the locks day and night during the navigation season while 14-foot-draught ships use part of the seaway. Full 27-foot-draught navigation will start in April, 1959.

TREASURES PICTURE

Browsing happily through an album of photographs, the former operational superintendent of Miraflores locks in the Panama Canal paused at a picture of himself, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

"She was a peach," he repeated. "Gracious and charming. And the prince . . . Well, sir, he asked questions that nobody but a-born sailor would ask."

A tall, tanned man with energy to burn, Barney Barlow met Canadian and American seaway officials when they visited the Panama Canal on a familiarization tour four years ago. They persuaded him to come to this town across the river from Cornwall, Ont., to advise on lock operation.

"This is a much bigger job," he said during an interview, comparing the 50-mile Panama system to the seven-lock, four canal seaway.

"But it's pretty well the same kind of job as at Panama."

LINKS TWO OCEANS

The Panama Canal links the Atlantic and Pacific oceans with six locks, raising ships 85 feet up three canals, at one end to enter Gatun Lake and then lowering them the same distance at the other end.

"It works like a staircase at each end," explained the grey-haired canal expert who went to Panama on a baseball barnstorming tour in 1916 and stayed until this year.

He said ships are directed through the Panama Canal locks by a giant arrow, lighted at night, which changes like a clock hand to signal approaching vessels. Seaway signals will be by means of traffic lights much like those used at street intersections.

Locomotives running on rails alongside the Panama locks are used to pull ships through the locks, but on the seaway, ships will use their own engines. Panama locks are 110 feet wide and 1,000 feet long, compared with the seaway lock dimensions of 80 feet wide and 800 feet long.

Last year 80,000,000 tons of cargo were moved through the Panama Canal, compared with 126,000,000 tons being moved through the present narrow, shallow Canadian canals which will be replaced by the seaway. Cargo tonnages through the seaway is expected to be about 25,000,000 tons at first, growing to 50,000,000 tons by 1968.

Thinks Gas Firm Paid $20 Million Less Than Value

Quebec Liberal Leader Charges Price Too Low

PIERREVILLE, Que. (CP)—Quebec Liberal Leader Jean Lesage says he estimates the Quebec Natural Gas Corporation may have paid about $20,000,000 less for Quebec Hydro's gas distribution system in Montreal than the system was worth.

Addressing a rally of 800 in this town 48 miles southeast of Montreal, Mr. Lesage said the $20,000,000 paid by the corporation for the provincially-owned manufactured-gas distribution system "is much too low."

"As a whole," Mr. Lesage said, "the value of shares placed on the stock market by the corporation has increased by about $30,000,000."

"I believe we have the right to ask whether those who purchased Hydro facilities did not say too low a price, possibly $20,000,000 less than the real value."

REFERS TO MINISTERS

Mr. Lesage said some Quebec cabinet ministers in Premier Duplessis' administration have "apparently bought shares in the corporation and have, sooner or later, the authority of the provincial electricity board."

Some Quebec cabinet ministers had resigned because they owned shares in the Northern Quebec Natural Gas Corporation, which comes under the supervision of the Electricity Commission.

Why is Mr. Duplessis silent? Personally, I have nothing to hide and I plan to continue stirred up and fight against the present situation. . . .

"Why is Mr. Duplessis afraid of an inquiry? Why is he afraid to hold a press conference?"

TO CONTINUE TALKS

The rally was the third in a series of meetings throughout Quebec the Liberal Leader intends to talk about the sale.

He also said petitions would be circulated in the 95 provincial ridings asking Mr. Duplessis for either a royal commission to inquire into the sale or a general election.

A question aimed at Hon. Edouard Asselin, government house leader in the Quebec legislative council, Mr. Lesage asked whether Mr. Asselin did not think he believed it to have introduced legislation enabling the sale of the public-power system.

Mr. Asselin proposed the legislation while he personally was the lawyer for the corporation and while his secretary, Pauline Perron, was registered as owner of 500 common shares in the corporation, he said.

Mr. Lesage said Miss Perron had bought the shares with her own money and if not where did she get it?

Mr. Lesage's requests for a royal commission inquiry followed a series of articles in The Montreal Star which said a $20,000,000 stock market coup marked the gas transaction.

Inquest Ordered

BURLINGTON (CP) — Lawrence Dexiter, 83, of Toronto was killed when a train struck his car as he crossed the Queen Elizabeth Way.

Coroner Russel Dingle has ordered an inquest for July 24.

ANGRY PROTESTS MADE TO RUSSIA OVER INCIDENTS

U.S. Blames Moscow For German Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Moscow's repeated refusal to obtain freedom for nine American soldiers held in Communist East Germany threatened today to throw up into another row between the United States and Russia.

Robert Murphy, deputy undersecretary of state, told Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov Friday that the Soviet government is permitting East German authorities to use the nine captive Americans to blackmail the U.S.

Continuation of this situation, Murphy told the ambassador, "can only worsen the relations of the Soviet Union and the United States to the profit of neither country."

In the same session with the Soviet envoy, Murphy also delivered a stern protest against the Soviet downing of an unarmed U.S. transport plane June 27 and demanded German and Russian "those guilty of the attacks on the plane."

ALMOST HANGED ONE

Five of the crew were beaten after they parachuted from the burning plane. The pilot escaped being hanged by Soviet peasants.

Menshikov had charged the transport deliberately flew over Soviet territory. He told Secretary Dulles: "To suggest that a slow, four-engine, propeller - type, unarmed plane with eight persons aboard could violate a heavily defended foreign air space is absurd."

Murphy's oral protest against Soviet handling of the American shooting down of a German was much less formal and much more angry, as reported by press officer Lincoln White.

The men have been held since early June when their helicopter strayed over the East - West German border during a storm.

SEEK DIRECT APPROACH

The East German Communist regime has demanded that the U.S. make a direct approach in order to get the men released.

Instead, the U.S. has repeatedly demanded that the Soviets release the men. The U.S. argues that Moscow has the necessary authority in East Germany as a puppet regime can't stay power.

White said Murphy told Menshikov the "continued detention of these men is a most prolonged separation from their families is inhumane."

White reported Menshikov said he would bring the issue to the attention of the Soviet government but added the matter is clearly within the jurisdiction of the East German government.

Fishing Party Located in North

LEVACK (CP)—A fishing party of two men and a boy believed lost in the bush north of Levack, 200 miles north of here, was located by a search party.

Levack town police said the three are Jim Smith, 40, of Levack, his brother-in-law Walter Carson of Kapuskasing, and Smith's 12-year-old son, Ronald.

Provincial police and town police started the search after the trio failed to return Thursday from a fishing trip on Stoney Creek area. They emerged from the bush Friday night tired and hungry but otherwise in good condition.

Too Many People in World Given As Reasons for Killing Children

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — "It's had long been known there are too many people in the world," but that doesn't preclude said from his hospital bed.

Dr. Sanford, on a quiet street in a quiet town, "it was time for the job."

So Norman 'A. Foose, 47, shot and killed two children on the main street of Gallup, N.M., a tiny farming village.

Dr. Sanford, there was nothing else, I could do about it."

Foose, a former mental hospital patient, then drove to his mountain camp where he prepared for crucifixion.

There, he wounded a pursuing posse member in the shoulder. Friday morning a state police flushed him from his hiding place and brought him in the before the capture.

He was driven to a hospital here for surgery on his shattered

What Makes Canadians Mad Is U.S. Smiling at Their Ire

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

One Washington columnist wrote: "About the only time Canada gets on the front pages of U.S. newspapers is when President Eisenhower is in Ottawa."

He expressed it slightly, and was correct in thinking that American editors would give extensive front - page coverage to the Eisenhower visit. There also were a number of editorials and a word portion of Prime Minister Diefenbaker during the president's three-day Ottawa visit this week.

Some cartoons took a whimsical view of growing complaints that Canada is taking too much for granted and that the U.S. is the ideal to Canadian trade problems.

NEEDS HEARING AID

One showed a gift - carrying Eisenhower being greeted by an indignant - looking Diefenbaker, who says "I've got a gift for you too"—a large hearing aid.

Another depicts a comely maiden named "Canada" on a pedestal in church, murmuring: "Again ignores me—treats me like a sister."

Front - page stories "reflected the defence talks of Diefenbaker and Eisenhower, while many editorials touched on Canadian foreign policy.

Recalling violent demonstrations against Vice - President Richard Nixon on his recent visit to South America, the Baltimore Sun lauded the "less exuberant" northern neighbors but added that this "could mean that Canada has grievances against the U.S."

BRUSHED ASIDE

"But what makes the Canadians maddest of all is that American leaders have been brushing aside their anger leaves them seething inside."

In an editorial entitled "Frank Talk in Ottawa," the Washington Post described Eisenhower's speech to Parliament as "a plea for doing something about it for three years," but admitted that Canada's "rid of the excess would be a big job."

"It is sorry he killed the children?

"No, I'm not. They had to be exterminated.

Will be attempt to "pull down" them?

"Not with rifles."

Why a rifle for the two children?

"Because it was all I had with me."

Then he tired of the questioning and turned to the interviewer. "I have to stop this right now. Otherwise, I will have to shoot you down."

The interview ended.

Swedish Papers Think Royal Romance Over

OELAND ISLAND, Sweden (Reuter) — A doctor said today Princess Margaretha of Sweden is suffering from a painful kidney stone attack and must have complete rest for nine days.

That was why he; suitor, Robin Douglas-Home, 23-year-old London advertising agent and one-time nightclub pianist, was asked to call off his visit scheduled for this weekend.

But two Stockholm evening newspapers speculated the romance was over.

Last week Swedish newspapers reported that Margaretha, 23-year-old granddaughter of King Gustav of Sweden, would announce July 20 her engagement to Douglas-Home, whom she met in London two years ago.

SUITOR IS CUT

In London Douglas-Home told reporters: "For reasons which I cannot reveal privately, I decided not to visit Sweden in the forseeable future."

Many Swedes were mystified by what they regard as the curtness of his communique.

China, the tabloid New York News said bcisply:

". . . We think—U.S. public opinion will . . . deal extremely harshly with any U.S. citizens who may take to doing business with Red China through Canadian channels."

The Wall Street Journal said the president must decide firmly on the issues of Red China trade, wheat disposal and oil import restrictions, and added:

"But on all three complaints the U.S. must agree with Canada. We wish to note, however, that the complaints arise not from a few ill individuals in a free market; rather they result from policies of the U.S. government, taken in response to political pressures not from U.S. farmers, oil producers, and, in the case of Red China, for reasons of national policy."

Practically all the editorials reflect a hope that difficulties between the two countries will be dissolved, the Boston Herald "goodwill tour should convince the most skeptical Canadian of our basic cordiality."

Said the New York Herald Tribune: "If we don't appreciate Canada enough, it is the way a blood brother neglects to do so in the family."

CUTTING REMARK MADE BY SENATOR DRAWS REBUKES

Diefenbaker, Winch, Pearson Annoyed

OTTAWA (CP) — The Parliament of Canada, which has often boasted this country's record of racial tolerance, has reacted sharply to a senator's caustic application of the phrase "this Chinaman" to a young Vancouver Commons member.

Disapproval, inside and outside the Commons, was expressed Friday over the words spoken by Senator J. W. de B. Farris, Vancouver Liberal, about 34-year-old Douglas Jung, first Canadian of Chinese extraction to sit in Parliament.

Senator Farris, 79-year-old former premier of the Canadian Bar Association, said in the senate as a further statement today.

Thursday night in the upper chamber: "Have you noticed what right has this Chinaman got to represent Canada?"

Senator Farris was speaking at the time about statements credited to Mr. Jung in Paris at a meeting of NATO association youth leaders' conference.

The issue is likely to be raised again in Parliament next week when the CCF opposition's conservative MP for Vancouver Centre, is expected to be back.

SENATE ADJOURNS

The Senate itself adjourned Thursday night without hearing Mr. Jung's speech and won't meet again until Tuesday evening.

Opposition Leader Pearson, at the start of the session Monday, bitterly attempted unsuccessfully to make a statement expressing "great regret and disappointment" of the senator's words.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker spoke of resentment felt by "members as a whole." Stanley Winch CCF — Vancouver East) called it a "reflection" on Mr. Jung.

Speaker Roland Michener, however, suggested it was outside the scope of the commons to try to debate a question of privilege with something said in the Senate.

CENTRE OF DISPUTE

Mr. Jung, national president of the Canada Progressive Conservative Association, had been quoted as saying Canadians of Japanese, Russian or Chinese origin are "severely handpicked and basically biased" while Canadians of Ukrainian origin often can't see the people or places they want to. He also was reported as saying he could see no legal reason for Canada not recognizing the Red China regime.

The Commons also heard a report by the justice committee on July 9 on his three-day talks with President Eisenhower.

It also received a preliminary resolution on income tax changes announced in the June 17 budget.

Oshawa Girl Killed in Crash

WHITBY (CP) — Joan Anne Hanson, 19, Oshawa, was killed and two other women injured Friday when a car they were riding in went out of control on Highway 401, three miles east of Whitby.

Provincial police said Beverly Garside, 21, of Oshawa was the driver of the car. Passengers were Margaret Lapham, 22, of Bowmanville, who is satisfactory condition in Oshawa General Hospital.

They said the women's westbound car flipped end over end for 50 feet and across the centre boulevard into the eastbound lane where the car landed on its wheels.

CNR construction workers lifted the car by hand and freed one woman pinned beneath it. The other two were thrown clear of the wreck.

Human Race Could Make Recovery From Fallout - - in 500 to 900 Years

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Human beings could recover from the effects of heavy radioactive fallout from thermonuclear bombs but it might take the lives of 500 to 900 generations of Texas scientists say.

Dr. Stone Hood Snelson and Florence D. Wilson reached this conclusion based on a study of fruit flies exposed to direct radiation from United States nuclear tests in the Pacific Ocean.

"Descendants of men who survive the bomb's target areas would have to evolve through 26 to 34 generations before evidence of severe genetic damage to human species is egased," Dr. Stone said Friday.

Dr. Snelson outlined their investigations in an article published by the Texas Academy of Science.

Dr. Stone said it is impossible to conduct genetics studies of radiation fallout damage on the human population on a worldwide scale.

"Thus we worked with animal populations existing near the actual bomb explosion site, our conclusions would apply only to survivors in an area of direct fallout from the thermonuclear bombs," he said.

Princess Wings Way To Welcome On West Coast

Sleeps Through Stop To Refuel Big Airliner

MONTREAL (CP) — Princess Margaret's plane is ahead of schedule and she may get in a slight-seeing from the air before she lands at Vancouver, British Overseas Airways Corporation said today.

The Bristol Britannia was reported over The Pas, Man., at 8:30 a.m., EDT, 10 minutes ahead of a schedule calling for it to arrive over Vancouver at 11:40 a.m. EDT (8:40 a.m. PDT). It is to land at 12:30 EDT (9:30 a.m. PDT). This means the plane will have at least 40 minutes to spare before landing.

The pilot, Capt. James Parry, has not indicated he intends to change his arrival estimate, BOAC said.

"It's pure conjecture, of course," the BOAC spokesman said, "but it's probable he'll dive down and show her some of the sights—say by a flight up the coast."

ASLEEP AT STOP

GOOSE BAY, Labrador (CP)— Princess Margaret was asleep today when she landed in Canada for the first time on her current Canadian tour, and veteran airline Captain James Percy said.

Capt. Percy piloted Canada's big BOAC turbo-prop airliner carrying the princess to gently that she barely stirred.

In Montreal, BOAC's operations station boss Bill Gordon, whose radio relayed the Bristol Britannia's orders to land at Goose, said of the flight faster than had originally been expected.

The Princess left London airport Friday night, beginning a month-long tour which will take her to seven Canadian provinces on her first visit.

As the big plane winged across the Atlantic, "the princess read, had supper and finally went to bed," Capt. Percy said.

He said the princess hasn't moved around much since the overseas flight to take the controls, but sometimes gets out and sometimes are allowed to.

The aircraft will fly a great circle route from Goose Bay to Winnipeg, gliding over Hudson Bay and Northern Ontario, so Winnipeg it is to rejoin the regular airways for the flight to Vancouver.

The flight changes planes there for a short hop to Victoria where she will be met by official greeting on Canadian soil.

MOTHER AT AIRPORT

For her part in the welcome, Lord the princess wore a fetching summer dress in crushed strawberry chiffon. She was accompanied to London airport, by Queen Mother Elizabeth. She stood in the open until the plane had disappeared from view.

The girl wore a full skirted and fashionably short, calf-length ensemble with a matching cloche hat with white trimming, and carried a gauntlet shoes with plastic toecaps.

The Queen Mother chose a blue dress with a small matching hat and white accessories.

Among officials out to see the princess off were George Drew, high commissioner for the United Kingdom, and the Earl of Home, secretary of state for commonwealth relations.

The Queen Mother sent about a dozen varsity Princess Margaret, spending about seven minutes in the airport's main concourse lounge before the waiting crowd saw her bend to kiss her daughter once then leave.

Struck by Car

PONTYPOOL, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Ida Strong, 6, was killed Friday when struck by a car on the main street of this community, 15 miles northeast of Oshawa.

Police said the child ran from between parked cars into the path of a car driven by Harry Jakeman, 18.

COMING EVENTS

PLAN NOW TO ATTEND THIS — Belleville Fair, August 12, 13, 14, 15. 28-29-30-31-32-33

ICE CREAM SOCIAL, SPONSORED by the Young People's Society of Wellington United Church, on the church lawn, Friday, July 18th, 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. Admission 50c and 25c. 111-3t

VICTORIA (CP) — Princess Margaret will be able to rest during her first weekend in British Columbia.

The princess, due to arrive here today to begin two weeks of touring B.C. in its centennial year, will have the first two days almost to herself. Only two engagements are scheduled, a press reception Saturday night and a church service Sunday morning.

One other item marks her weekend journey. On Sunday, Col. Halton, publisher of The Colonist, will present her with a copy of the first issue of The Colonist, published 100 years ago.

In keeping with the relaxed tenor of her itinerary, Princess Margaret will have Patricia Bay Airport all to herself after her arrival — following a minimum of ceremony—to drive into the city.

EXPECT FINE WEATHER

The weather forecast, after some doubtful periods, appeared to offer several sunny, cloudy periods, with no sign of rain, are predicted.

The church service—at Christ Church Cathedral—lasts only one hour. After the Colonial presentation, scheduled for immediately after her arrival at the hotel, Princess Margaret will have the rest of Sunday free.

Despite several requests by police, thousands of persons were expected to line the limited space at the airport, 15 miles out of Victoria. Other thousands were expected to line the main streaming into the city for days, and thousands more for a long route into the city.

Arrangements called for an impressive array of officials for the brief airport ceremony. The list included Premier Bonner Pearkes and Mrs. Pearkes, Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace and Premier Bennett and his wife.

CHAMPAGNE SUPPER

Soon after the takeoff, stewards prepared to serve the princess and her seven-member entourage with a champagne supper in the first class section of the airliner.

The Britannia provides a lounge with 12 reclining chairs, dining room and bedroom for the princess' use.

The remainder of fashion-conscious Margaret includes light day dresses and a new material for her—printed chiffon. They favor the Relaxed Line, with short skirts and pointed bodices.

The princess also took a number of evening gowns and several coats, skirted, nipped-in dresses.

The main purpose of the tour is to mark the B.C. centennial celebrations.

FORMALITY OF VICTORIA

Princess Margaret will stay in Victoria only briefly as she transfers to the RCAF's Jasper Park Lodge for a visit to Alberta, the Strait of Georgia to Victoria on Vancouver Island.

Beginning with engagements in Victoria, the princess will spend the next week in British Columbia helping celebrate the west coast province's centennial.

After a foray into the B.C. interior and a visit to Vancouver, she will leave on the evening of July 20 for Calgary, sightseeing in the Rockies on the way.

She will spend two weeks crossing the Prairies, through Ontario and Quebec in the Maritimes where she will visit New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

The princess will return to Britain on Aug. 12, nine days before her 28th birthday.

LOCAL ORANGEMEN "WALK" AT PICTON

All lodges from the immediate Belleville district were expected to march in the big "walk" at the Prince Edward county seat.

Lodges in the central part of Hastings will celebrate the anniversary of The Battle of the Boyne at Madoc, where the Millbridge Lodge will be the host.

BLUEBERRIES NEW AT MARKET

The first blueberries or huckleberries of the year were on sale at the Saturday market and sold for 30 cents a pint and 50 cents a quart.

Strawberries are fast becoming a thing of the past. What there were at market today sold anywhere from two boxes for 75 cents to 45 cents a box.

New potatoes were 90 cents per six quart basket; other vegetable prices were the same as last week.

Extra large eggs are down in price to 55 cents a dozen, as are large at 50 and medium at 40 cents a dozen.

Turkeys were 57 cents a pound.

Cherries were few and sold for $2.00 a six-quart basket.

PRODUCERS TAKE BULK OF CHEESE

Of the 9,863 white cheese offered 6,396 were left for the producers with the trade taking 1,126 cheese. However, the trade took 4,267 boxes of the 5,019 white cheese offered. Price for white cheese was 35c and for colored from 35c to 35½ cents.

Oak Lake Day Camp in Full Swing

Day camp at Oak Lake had many highlights over the past week. Several groups arrived at the Belleville Crematorium to cook their own dinner. These groups were the Black Hawks, Wil ms and Sliders.

The Friday afternoon program was in the form of a campfire with each group performing a skit for the rest of the campers.

Vacancies are still available for the Girls' Day Camp which starts Monday, July 21.

INFANT LESLIE ANN HASTEY

The 11-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barrie Hastey, 45 Bertram Boulevard, Leslie Ann, died in Belleville General Hospital on Friday.

Born in Belleville the infant leaves her parents and one brother, Peter, at home. Her parents are members of Eastminster United Church.

The funeral notice appears elsewhere in this edition.

FREDERICK J. BEDARD

A resident of this city for 30 years, Frederick Joseph Bedard, 43 Grier St., died in Belleville General Hospital on Friday after an illness of one year. He was 68.

Born in Lachine, Quebec, Mr. Bedard married the former Louise Swenor. Before coming to Belleville he had lived in Trenton and Lachine.

Besides his wife, Mr. Bedard leaves six daughters, Mrs. Fred (Marie) Lee, Mrs. Ernest (Laura) Dafoe, Mrs. Howard (Alice) Cooney, Mrs. Stewart (Kathleen) Dafoe and Mrs. Arnold (Yvonne) Cornish, all of Belleville, and Mrs. Allan (Lucille) Dunn of Cobourg; one son, Clifford of Kingston; a sister, Mrs. Florida Pronquille, Wellesley, Que., and one brother, Alex of Dominion Park, Que.

Mr. Bedard was a gardener and, in his 30 years as a citizen of this city, had acquired a wide circle of friends. He was a respected citizen and took an active part in the Holy Name Society of the church he attended, Holy Rosary.

Resting at the Funeral Residence of George F. O'Brien, 30 Moira St., West, the funeral notice appears elsewhere in this edition.

WILLIAM OAKLEY ROGERS

TWEED — After being in ill health for over a year, Mr. William Oakley Rogers passed away in the Belleville General Hospital, on July 7th, 1958, in his 71st year.

He was the son of the late Wesley Rogers and Margaret Ann Woodcock, and he was born in Tweed where he resided at the time of his death on Mary Street. He had lived in Tweed district all his life.

The late Mr. Rogers was well known and highly respected in this area, and had a wide host of friends. He was married to Mary Jane Deline in Madoc and the couple only this year celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary when they were honored by their family and were the recipients of many gifts and good wishes from their wide host of friends, neighbors and relatives.

The deceased is survived by his wife, the former Mary Jane Deline; two sons and two daughters, Oscar Rogers, R.R. 2, Tweed; Wesley Rogers, Tweed; Mrs. Charles (Violet) Orrell, Tweed; Mrs. Dennis (Ruth) Overton, Belleville. Also surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Fred South Bend, Indiana; Fred Rogers, Madoc; Arthur J. Rogers, Tweed; Russel Rogers, Tweed; Mrs George (Blanche) Wells, Niagara Falls, N.Y., U.S.A.; Mrs. Bernard Bondsfiber (Lot 11), Hamilton; Mrs. John Cropock (Flossie), 11 Rossmore Avenue, Hamilton; Mrs. George (Lela) Mountainer, Dr. McNeil, Ontario; Mrs. Fred (Irene) Polick, Havelock; Mrs. Robert (Theresa) Cross, Tweed.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from the Charles Cassidy Funeral Home, Tweed, Tuesday afternoon, to St. John's United Church. The Reverend Douglas Louie had charge of the service, assisted by the Pentecostal minister, the Reverend Mr. Scroll, Tweed.

Interment was in Victoria cemetery.

Mr. Rogers was a member of the Tweed Steel Works staff for many years until his retirement.

DESTROY CARAVAN

ORAN, Algeria (AP) — French soldiers almost wiped out a camel caravan hauling explosives and medical supplies from Morocco to Algerian Nationalist rebels Friday. French headquarters here reported today.

Story time marks the day's end for the younger fry attending the city's 13 playgrounds. As the day's program of games, sports and other activities is about to end the supervisor calls the five to eight-year-olds in a circle for story time. Here Wellington Crescent playground supervisor Louise Fisher (partially hidden at left) tells an exciting story to attentive youngsters.

Bay of Quinte Power Squadron In Second Place

The Bay of Quinte Power Squadron won second place in the International Piloting Contest at the Rendezvous in the Niagara River last weekend. Eight couples from the local squadron attended the rendezvous, six from Belleville being Rear Commodore and Mrs. Jack Tatham, Past Commander and Mrs. J. Lennox Smith, Commander and Mrs. John Grant, Lieutenant Commander and Mrs. Robert McCulloch, First Lt. and Mrs. Wilfred Stephenson and Educational Officer and Mrs. James E. James.

A crew consisting of John Grant (skipper), Robert McCulloch, Jimmy James, and Don Topping of Trenton placed second out of twelve in the hotly contested competition for the Labatt International Piloting Trophy.

Yacht Club Sailing Results

Following are the results of the second race for junior members of the Bay of Quinte Yacht Club: Bill Sprague 17¼ points; Malcolm Gibson and Stu Sprague 15½; Harold MacDonald 11½; Diane Burrows 11; Catherine Janitsch 10.

Youthful Checker Players

Unplaced Applicants Show Steady Decline at Office

An optimistic trend for local employment conditions was reported here this weekend by Cecil Husser, manager of the local employment office with the number of unplaced applicants declining steadily.

Figures at end of 1949 unplaced applicants, 1084 male and 657 female, the number has now dropped to 1331, as reported. This compares with a total of 677 for the same date last year.

Less construction work in the area has resulted in some workers of this class looking for work this year.

At this date last year there were only two applicants for construction work while this year there are 294. There are also 13 electricians, 10 machine operators and 68 carpenters seeking jobs while last year there were only two electricians and two carpenters.

Students have helped to swell the number of unplaced applicants due to the lack of job opportunities, which did not exist a year ago.

In clerical and similar occupations, including office clerks, bookkeepers, stenographers and typists there are 97 male and 208 female registered.

There are 30 men looking for jobs as taxi, trucks and tractor drivers.

BETTER PICTURE SEEN

However, the number of unfilled vacancies show a better picture at this time than they did a year ago. To date there are 37 vacancies for male and 27 for female, this comparing with but 15 male and 12 female a year ago.

Placement of applicants in proportion to applicants is averaging about the same as last year. This week 61 applicants were placed with three miners from the Belleville area being placed in jobs at Elliot Lake through the Sudbury office.

Mr. Husser reports a demand for workers in the summer resorts in the Muskoka area. Required are 25 chambermaids, 15 kitchen helpers, 15 female cooks, 25 waitresses and 10 waiters. Also needed are 35 female workers to work in the fruit area.

The claim load at the Belleville office, although still quite high, took a considerable drop due to the termination of seasonal benefits. At the weekend there were 1855 persons on claim made up of 525 regulars and 530 postal claimants. A year ago there were 3,000 on claim at this time, made up of 351 regular and 334 postal claimants.

Police Blotter

Investigation of two minor accidents; the apprehension of a pair of drunks, and checking of two speeders who were clocked on city streets doing about 45 miles per hour highlighted the major activity of city police during the week-end.

One of the accidents, a three-car bump, saw a car turn wide as it came off Dundas Street to rake a westbound car on Bridge Street. Francis Langabeer, Victoria Street, was westbound as Steve Lukacs, Albert College, drove off James, his car striking the Langabeer vehicle. Third car involved was a parked vehicle. Total damage was just under the $100 mark.

Two Queen's Students Killed Near Peterboro

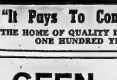
CAMPBELLFORD (CP) — Two Queen's University students, bound for the Stratford Festival, were killed when their car collided with another on highway No. 7, 30 miles east of Peterborough.

Dead are Monica Bruchmann, 21, of Hamilton and Theodore Mooij of Kingston, who died in hospital two hours later.

Police said the two cars collided head-on in an effort to avoid a third car entering the highway from a sideroad.

The driver of the third car, identified by police as Wilfred Reciffe, 40, of Havelock, was arrested later at his home. He appeared in magistrate's court in Peterborough today charged with criminal negligence and careless driving and was remanded to Monday on $5,000 bail.

The car driver, Irving Robinson, 21, of Kingston, and another passenger were injured.



Five persons in the other auto also were uninjured.

Alex Gilbert Honored by Chamber Heads

TRENTON — Alex Gilbert, former secretary-manager of the Trenton Chamber of Commerce was honored at a meeting of the Board of Directors held in the Country Club yesterday at noon.

Mr. Gilbert has recently taken a new post with the Chamber in Cornwall and returned to Trenton for a few days to help the new secretary here get acquainted with his work and the people of Trenton.

In presenting Mr. Gilbert with a silver tea service Alex Wilson, president of the chamber, told him Trenton and the chamber would always be grateful for the work he has done for the town over the past few years.

In response Mr. Gilbert, said Trenton will always have a spot in his heart, and he will look forward to visiting the town from time to time.

Robert G. Hamilton, secretary-manager of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, was also present at the meeting and spoke briefly. He said he has known Mr. Gilbert for many years and was an admirer of his work.

Kenneth G. Wares, new secretary-manager for the Trenton Chamber was present and was officially introduced to the directors attending the brief meeting.

Legion Branch To Hold Family Picnic Sunday

TRENTON — The annual Branch No. 110 family picnic will be held on Sunday afternoon, July 27 at Cedardale Beach. Cars should turn left at Cedardale and festivities will commence at 2 p.m. There is no admission charge.

There will be races, games and frolics for the kids, with prizes and favors for all, plus all the free ice cream and soft drinks they can devour. A fine sandy beach is available and the water is safe for swimming.

For the older folks, there will be a mixed softball game and the inevitable tug-of-war.

Highlight of the afternoon will be a Pee-Wee baseball game, featuring two local boys teams.

A sing-song, led by the Legion choral group, will conclude the festivities in the early evening.

Legionnaires planning to attend are requested to advise the Branch Steward of the number in their party, so that adequate gastronomical supplies can be obtained.

Those requiring transportation should also leave their names with the steward and suitable arrangements will be made.

Picnic committee chairman and M.C. for the occasion will be Comrade Kenneth Craddock, who announces that this will be the biggest and best Legion picnic on record.

Minister Plans Trenton Visit

TRENTON — Friends of Rev. Jan Van Walsem, former minister of the Redeemville charge, which he left two years ago to take over the charge in Western Canada, will be interested to hear that both he and Mrs. Van Walsem and their children will be visitors in Trenton next week. They will be paying a short visit at the home of Rev. C. A. Puttenham, minister of the United Church, Trenton, and Mrs. Puttenham.

Rev. Van Walsem has now been appointed to the Hilton circuit, so Trenton friends will probably take note of him and his charmign wife in the future.

Other guests at the Puttenham home next week will be Rev. Puttenham's uncle and his son Wayne, of Rockwood, near Guelph.

Princess Will Be Offered 540-Acre Island

VICTORIA (CP) — A 540-acre island will be offered to Princess Margaret by British Columbia.

If "her needs" as expected, Portland Island, near the southern end of Vancouver Island, will be renamed Princess Margaret Island and developed as a marine park.

"In giving it to her we feel the gift will be a permanent in the province of British Columbia," Recreation and Conservation Minister Earle C. Westwood said Friday.

The regal suite in the Empress Hotel, serving as the province's governor's home since Government House was destroyed by fire last year, was sealed off by RCMP. From now until Princess Margaret moves in no one, including cleaners, is allowed inside without an official police escort.

Unofficial estimates place at "several hundred" the number of RCMP men being used for the Victoria tour. A handful of Scotland Yard men will roam everywhere, drawing on previous experience to help the RCMP.

Trenton Legion Seeks Highest Membership Yet

TRENTON — The total paid-up membership in the Trenton Branch of the Canadian Legion last year was 1,639.

That figure was by far the highest membership total ever achieved by the Trenton general meeting of the Branch, scheduled for Monday evening, July 25th, when approximately 25 new members are expected to be initiated.

Mainly responsible for the continued and remarkable growth of Trenton's largest Service Club are membership chairman Carman Livingstone, Bob Hall, Dr. Don Craig and Secretary Ross A. Grier.

The target for 1958 is 850 paid-up members in view of the present total, it would appear that this figure will be reached and probably exceeded.

Trenton Girls Attend Camp

TRENTON — A number of the younger members of the Trenton Girls Auxiliary to Legion are making the most of the recent fine weather at camp. The girls left Trenton on Tuesday for the Women's Christian Temperance Union Camp at Consecon, while the boys came back the same day from Lake Quin-Mo-Lac, near Madoc.

Those youngsters deciding to stay in town this month are making full use of the playgrounds, organized by the Parks and Recreation Commission, where five playgrounds are supervised by Trenton High School girls.

Boys' softball is played every morning at the Bayshore park, under the direction of Murray Workman, assisted by Ray Bush, when the boys learn the various skills needed to become first-class softball players. Two teams of peewees and bantams are expected to be formed among the softball junior enthusiasts this weekend.

A Good Checkup May Prevent Hot Engine Trouble

By EUGENE MILMOE

Some engine overheating headaches are prompted by carburetion troubles. The manifold heat control valve, for example, is designed to aid carburetion by directing hot exhaust gases around the intake manifold when the engine is cold.

But if the valve sticks and continues to bypass this heat after the engine reaches operating temperature, it not only causes overheating but perhaps more serious damage.

Anything which leans out the fuel mixture, too much will tend to get the engine too hot. The list includes: air leakage into the manifold, dirt or water in the fuel, a pinched or kinked line, a clogged filter, inadequate pump pressure, faulty carburetor adjustment, binding float level and restricted carburetor jets. It all adds up to further proof that a good checkup can prevent that number one hot weather problem.

J. Q. asks: "What causes my headlights to remain so dim even though I've put in a new battery?"

(A) If the lamps themselves are O.K. look for corroded or loose terminals or a low generator charge (which may be due to the generator itself or the voltage regulator). • • •

C. H. writes: "In doing a good lubricating job on all car parts, what do I use on the generator and windshield wiper motor?"

(A) For the generator, a very small amount of medium weight engine oil is sufficient. For windshield wiper motor is fitted with bushings which do not require lubrication.

From T. F. "When ii comes to an inspection or checkup, what part of the car should receive the most attention?"

(A) The ignition system. Replace a vital coil check-up operation, involves many parts and is handled by experts who can perform it when not properly tuned. • • •

J. G. asks: I've had some overheating problems and I've been suggested that the fan belt might be too tight or too loose. How would I check this?"

(A) Normally, belt tension is O.K. if there's approximately one-half inch slack. Sometimes fan noise will tip you off to a loose belt. Usually causes a regular squeak, while one that's loose lets out a squeal when you accelerate.

THIS WEEK'S SAFETY REMINDER

Never start across unguarded railroad tracks the instant a train has passed. Wait, look and listen again — another train might be coming from the opposite direction.

MANY THRILLS TO EXPLORE

Within easy driving distance of Belleville lies a wonderful land of lakes and rivers which offer many weekends of pleasure.

All one needs to explore this natural summer paradise is a car, motor and trailer. With such equipment you can take your boat wherever you can drive your car — for a month or a weekend.

Quinte Marina, located on the Belleville Harbor, has a wide choice of marine equipment which even the slimmest budget can afford. For surprisingly little you can purchase a "package outfit" — boat, motor and trailer — with one down payment required.

Believed Girl Found in River Was Murdered

POINTE - GATINEAU, Que. (CP)—Belief that red-haired Suzanne Carriere was murdered has been expressed by relatives and police after the discovery of her body in the Gatineau River.

Miss Carriere, 26-year-old government employee, vanished Dec. 7 from this village 10 miles east of Ottawa.

"We regard this as murder," a Pointe - Gatineau police officer said. "We think she was thrown in the water."

Upon discovery of the partly-clad body Friday, district coroner Dr. Gerald Brisson of nearby Hull promptly asked the Quebec attorney - general's department to send a medico-legal expert to conduct a post-mortem.

Meanwhile, Quebec Provincial Police and municipal police of this community launched an investigation.

Police recalled that after she vanished last winter, they received a telephone call from an unidentified man saying: "Don't bother looking for her. I threw her body over the bridge."

Miss Carriere had been last seen near a bridge spanning the Gatineau as she waited for a bus to take her to Hull to join a sister at the movies.

WIND, RAIN KILL

BOMBAY (AP)—A 10-inch rain and 50-mile-an-hour winds lashed Western India Friday for the second day, causing at least 14 deaths. Eight persons were drowned in a swollen river near Sholapur and six others near Godhra. About 2,000 were homeless in Poona.

Want Working Women to Get Tax Aid to Hire Housekeepers

EDMONTON (CP) — A bid for tax relief for the working housewife who needs a housekeeper to look after her family highlighted resolutions adopted at the national convention of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

The four-day conference closed Friday night with an address by Citizenship Minister Fairclough who told the 400 delegates of her trip to the British West Indies and Argentina earlier this year.

The federation unanimously supported a resolution asking the federal government to provide a $1,000 tax exemption for working women wholly or partly responsible for support of a family who must pay for housekeeper services.

Some delegates suggested it might be difficult for the government to draw a line between those women who needed to work and those who didn't.

U.S. HAS EXEMPTION

But a Toronto delegate, Elsie Gregory MacGill, noted that the United States provides a $600 exemption in such cases and said: "If the Americans can figure it out surely we can do the same."

The earlier business sessions, the convention urged the federal government to ratify an International Labor Office convention on equal pay and the United Nations convention on the nationality of married women, which has been signed by Canada but not put into effect by Parliament.

Five Doukhobor Men Arrested In Bomb Scare

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — Five young Doukhobor men have been formally charged with conspiring to cause explosions and remanded in custody until next Friday—the day Princess Margaret arrives here for a four-day visit.

Magdene Donald While granted a request by the Crown Friday for the remand. No plea was taken and no application for bail made by the five men, who were not represented by counsel.

Arrest of the men was announced in Victoria Thursday night by Attorney-General Robert Bonner. RCMP have maintained a close watch for suspected terrorists in the Okanagan area of British Columbia in recent weeks.

The section of the Criminal Code under which the conspiracy charges were laid provides for a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

The arrests followed a statement two weeks ago by Highways Minister P. A. Gagnon that the terrorists in the Okanagan area would be arrested before Princess Margaret arrives next Friday.

Government fears were aroused after explosions hit a Kelowna beer parlor and a power pole t Armstrong and unexploded bombs were discovered in a Vernon beer parlor and on a Kelowna ferry.

THE GOLDEN YEARS

Conditioning in Advance Is Key To Kind of Retirement You Want

By THOMAS COLLINS

The chic word to use on retirement night now is "plan."

If you'll just "plan" what y o u are going to do after 65, everything will be hunky-dory. The very best people will tell you so. Also the very dullest speakers.

The word is inadequate. In the experiences of people who have been going into retirement in the last 15 months or so, it is misleading.

"Condition" begins to make more sense.

MORE THAN PLANS

Because you are dealing with considerably more than income, housing, sunshine and travel — which is what plans are made of. You are dealing essentially with you, a person pretty well set in your ways and well conditioned to your way of life. But conditioned not at all to the way of life your retirement plans call for. If s w could you be?

In short, the finest retirement plan made can leave you miserable.

So consider the business of "conditioning" yourself for what is coming. If you aren't yet retired, or for an improvement in your lot, if you are.

Some points may give you some ideas:

MOVING: You h a ve little chance — for the first several years — of finding satisfaction with any new community you move into after retirement. No matter how much you like it, you don't fit. Vacations and weekend visits aren't even a fair condition you. It will be worth taking some savings from the bank, or giving up three months' pay to take a job and taking a leave, in order to put down some roots in the new place. Buy a little piece of property there if you can; open a checking account at the bank there; start corresponding with somebody living there; be sure you start cultivating there a friendship with at least one couple you expect will be your "in" for sociality when you move in.

GETTING A JOB: Many retired people who get other jobs give them up in frustration and embarrassment after a while. That's because they don't get the dignity or importance they had at the old job, and eventually they resent it. Or else they fall into the trap of trying to do a job they don't know and wind up looking stupid. Sometimes with such a job a 250 clerk can do. Condition your thinking to a comedown. Condition your embarrassment after a while. That's because new chores are going to be, perhaps by the very nature of the new job before you take it.

INCOME: People who refuse to lower their standard of living to what their income will be on the least six months before retirement, are asking for trouble.

FRINGE BENEFITS: Men and women who work should start rewarding themselves for from the trappings that go with their jobs, at least a year before retirement. Start using the conventions, speeches, service club luncheons, business associations and all other such activities that cannot be taken over into retirement. It makes the transition easier.

LEISURE: You'd better plan to work at this. Unless you're a remarkable citizen you won't know what to do with it. To most people it's just one of those nice words that means a little golf and fishing once 'a week. Anyway, let's be sure is usually fun only when you can steal time away from a job to have a little. If you intend to retire to leisure, condition yourself by going to the public library and reading up on all the activities you can follow in free time. Then realize you will have to organize yourself into some pattern of regular play. Otherwise you'll wind up sitting in front of the television set, as so many well-meaning retired people are now doing, until the day you die.

HOME: If you are a single woman going home to a parent, to a small apartment, or a house, or going home to a house, you are going to what in the main has been a bedroom to you. And there's room to it than that. Loneliness from 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. for the house woman; a never-ending parade of housekeeping chores for the husband. Condition yourself to return to the domestic that has been 'doing O.K. for it. Look for the big hopes a day you have been gone. Maybe you, like many others, can't. Then condition yourself to sacrifice that ideal of security and take off for parts unknown. Which, since you've not been living in the same — have you — also will take some conditioning.

TIME TO RECOGNIZE SOME FACTS

Visits such as that of President Eisenhower to Ottawa can do immeasurable good. Their most important achievement, regardless of any concrete agreements regarding definite problems, is to be found in keeping channels of communication open between the leaders of governments. They promote that atmosphere of goodwill which is just as important as knowledge of facts if complex questions are to be solved.

It would be well if the people of both Canada and the U.S. were to recognize some facts.

Canada is fortunate in sharing its only land frontier with a country which, by its temperament and its fortunate circumstances, has been the best neighbor in the world.

By virtue of its dedication to democratic principles, the U.S. wants to treat other countries, large and small, with justice.

But that, alone, would not have protected Canada from considerable pressure by its huge and powerful neighbor had the U.S. been less fortunate in its own circumstances. Unthreatened by other powers, with vast resources and adequate living space, the U.S. found Canada possessed nothing that it had to have to assure the safety and prosperity of its people.

That situation is changing. Today, rightly or wrongly and in our opinion rightly, the U.S. feels that it is essential for its national safety that it have access to Canada's Arctic regions, in order to stand guard against a possible attack by Russia.

Canada has been only too glad to grant its neighbor this access, for her own national safety, just as much as that of the U.S., depends upon such a vigilant watch on the shores of the Arctic Ocean.

Economically, too, the picture is changing. As its own natural resources are depleted, as its population grows, the U.S. will come to depend more and more on Canada as a source for raw materials for its factories.

U.S. interest in Canadian resources is one of Canada's biggest economic assets. But it has had a two-fold result. While making Canadian industry efficient and strong, it has increasing the temptation for the U.S. to seek to influence our policies in a manner best suited to protect its interests, it has made Canada aware of its growing stature as a nation and, like any adolescent reaching manhood, extremely jealous of its rights to be independent.

The years may erase whatever tensions today exist over the necessity of Canada working in double harness with the U.S. in the field of defence.

These same years, though, are likely to increase, rather than diminish, the economic problems inherent in the meshing of the economies of the two countries.

Yet, citizens ought to recognize that it is only natural that Canada should strive, on every occasion, to maintain its independence and its right to make its own decisions.

Canadian citizens, on the other hand, ought to realize that no nation can live to itself, that Canada has been fairly treated by its neighbor to the south and that it, in its turn, must accord this neighbor fair treatment.

It will be unpopular to add, but almost certainly true, that it is not realistic to expect any nation the size of the United States to permit any nation the size of Canada to act in a manner which does irreparable harm to the larger nation's interests.

The real danger, though, does not lie so much in major mistakes as in the power to irritate by minor errors. An excellent example of such an error, it seems to us, is the U.S. law which forbids Canadian subsidiaries of U.S. companies to trade with Red China. Repeal of this law might be unpopular, and even politically disastrous, in the U.S., but its retention, and that of any similar regulations which appear to affront Canada's status as an independent nation, would be tremendously more dangerous in the long run. It could produce a reaction in Canada which would do considerable damage to the U.S. That Canada would likely suffer even more does not alter the fact that the U.S. Government would be wise to avoid even the appearance of interference in Canada's affairs, wherever possible.

A BABY'S FIRST BIRTHDAY

(Reprinted by request)

This is your day, little babe in my arms,
Marking a year I have basked in your charms;
Marking a year I have drawn from your eyes
The light of my sun and the blue of my skies.
Glad like mother and dad
For this is your day.
So up to the ceiling and down for a kiss;
So-ooop with your dad,
For the first time so glad,
And he prays you'll have many more days just like this.

This is your day, Laughing Eyes, Baby Love.
A year has gone by—how fast the time slipped;
Since you came to cheer and to thrill with your art,
For I felt my heart and the strings of my heart.
Oh-ooh-ily, hooray!

Yes, this is your day,
One kiss for your mother and then two for me;
And while we are playing
Your daddy is praying
That many more birthdays with him you will see.

A year old today! And to me now it seems
That you've lived forever in all of my dreams.
A year old today! And in that time, I swear,
My heart you have captured and built your throne there.
I'm telling you true,
I'm surrendered to you;
This old heart of mine is your plaything for aye!
And down through the years, Through the sunshine and tears,
May you be as happy as I am today.

Collects Moustache Cups

By E. J. Penny in the Stratford Beacon-Herald

Moustache cups are in the news again. Time was when they weren't news at all. Every household had one or more — those wonderful old cups with the china bar across the rim to keep grandfather's moustache out of his tea.

They have long been out of fashion, but a collector up in Wingham, George Drehmann, doing his best to see that they are not forgotten. He has a collection 275 moustache cups over the last three years. He started with four cups, handed down from his grandfather, father and 4 uncles, and now the collection has grown large enough to take over a section of his basement. The cups are of all shapes and sizes from miniature parlor models to the burly two cup size that w s a grandfather's pride and joy. Some of them are reported as being made in Germany, Bavaria, Japan and France.

Moustache cups are believed to have been used first in France, and this is understandable when one looks at old pictures of leading French citizens of an earlier day. In those pictures, moustaches appear to have attained a luxuriance of growth seldom, if ever, seen in other parts of the world. But even in these parts moustaches in grandfather's day were of a size calculated to awe children. There was a 3rd, 4th and 5th delinquency then, and that, undoubtedly, was part of the reason a father's moustache at that period was of a size to inspire respect and even a good fear in his children.

Then came the sad day when men took to growing more inoffensive moustaches and finally to shaving the whole face. From then on the moustache cup got out of hand. Not only that, but moustache cups became unnecessary and eventually became antiques such as Mr. Drehmann now has in his collection up at Wingham. They were beautiful creations in their way.

Some had fluted edges, others were of colored china, with raised designs, sometimes of gold. Some in Mr. Drehmann's collection have inscriptions such as "Drink to Me" and "Love t h e Giver," and some are adorned with pictures of Biblical scenes. The latter, particularly, added a wholesome religious atmosphere to the home.

But there was one curious fact concerning them which seems to have escaped the notice of antiquarians. They were actually designed to keep father's moustache out of his tea, a very worthy achievement as far as it went. But, so far as we know, there was never any device perfected to enable him to deal with the s o u p course without damage to his moustache. The poor man had to strain the soup through the luxuriant adornment on his upper lip as best he could and the sound of straining soup was quite unsettling. Nobody, it seems, ever stood to inventing a practical soup strainer for use at the dinner table, which may have been one reason for the gradual disappearance of the flowing moustache.

However, manufacturers of household cleansers quickly s u i t e d found a new outlet for their products. The individual shaving-mug appeared on the scene. Many of us can remember the days when every well-appointed barber shop had a rack suspended on the wall in which reposed, each in its own cubicle, shaving mugs of every description, bearing in gilt letters the names and occupations of their owners. The shaving brush and his own tablet of shaving soap. It was a sort of social register of the community. "Who's Who."

Barbers knew their customers by sight and when one came in and seated himself in the chair, the barber reached for the appropriate autographed shaving mug and got busy with the lather. It was a proud day for the rising young business or professional man when his own shaving mug took its place in the rack at his favorite barber shop. It was a mark of distinction and certain indication that he had "arrived" and was a figure in the community. Mr. Drehmann is also building up a collection of shaving mugs, including one that belonged to his grandfather. Another in the collection is a mug with a crest and with Scottish thistles and inscribed: "I'm not greedy, but I like a lot."

He Invented Lawn Mower

The Times of London

Professor Kitto, in one of his lively comments on Greek life and character, has bracketed grass as being, in climate of Britain, one of the bitterest enemies of social intercourse. He says:

How heartily the reluctant gardener agrees! as he contemplates the long — haired appearance of his lawn and enters once more upon the weary business of keeping it neatly shorn. Yet even he is grateful when he is prepared to number the music of the lawn-mower among the sweetest sounds of early summer.

Not perhaps when he is in the shade himself; not when the sound of a neighbor's manoeuvres with some highly mechanized apparatus disturbs his accustomed slumbers; but when, as he rests on his hoe in the stillness of a hot and sunny day, the gentle whir of the handmower, as operated by someone at a little distance away, is heard across the sheltering hedge. He is already at one with the background twittering of the birds, and the recumbent listener to Pan's pipes in Virgil, in His heaven and all's right with the world.

It is a mood of that sort a man may be moved to think gratefully of for the inventor. After all, before the mower there was only the scythe. It was impossible to implement if ever there was one, and calculated, according to Mr. Ruskin, to make a man a laughing offensive to the eye, because of "circular scars, symmetrical as hare places."

One quotes Mr. Budding because he was undoubtedly an authority on the subject, though maybe slightly prejudiced against the scythe. He was in fact an engineer in a textile factory in the neighborhood of S t r o u d, in Gloucestershire, and familiar with a machine for cutting the nap of cloth.

If cloth, then why not grass? said Mr. Budding to himself, and proceeded to invent the lawn mower. You may see one of his machines in the Science Museum at South Kensington, and in the museum at Stroud, looking much as it must have done when inventor of today, though larger a n d heavier, so that one reads with some skepticism that the first original specification of 1830 that "country gentlemen will find in using my machine themselves an amusing, useful and healthy exercise."

One hopes that Mr. Budding himself had fun: it seems a fairly safe assumption. He decided a story, not easy to confirm, that he was first encouraged with his first machine on his own lawn after dark, and thus greatly puzzled his neighbors, who could hear the rattle, but could not guess its cause.

Sends 30,000 Brides to U.S.

Saint John Telegraph-Journal

Newfoundland will have an increasing influence on the population growth of the United States. For it has been estimated that since the beginning of the Second World War 30,000 Newfoundland girls have married members of the United States armed services and have gone to live in their husbands' country.

Thus Newfoundland, the last province to join the Canadian Confederation, has placed a guiding hand upon the cradles of many future citizens of America. The effect, scattered though it may be, is bound to be evident even in the great melting pot of nations, for Newfoundlanders are clannish and retain close ties with the land of their birth.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

The biologists studying our fish and wildlife resources are coming to the conclusion that good years and bad years have existed for countless ages because of the varying spring of fish. The upset the balance, and that the real reason why fish, say, are scarce in one year in certain waters is due more to a bad spawning season or five years ago than to the activities of even a swarm of fishermen.

This does not mean that the presence of man has not sometimes helped to do the scarcity. It takes man, for instance, to destroy timber; clearing the land for cultivation, and then filling the water with oil and acids from his highways, engines, boats; a n d otherwise, interfering with the natural resources of the fish, to upset the ideal spawning conditions that make for a plentiful supply of fish.

A thousand years ago, any given lake you may like to name was used to have good and bad years. Cold, changeable weather, for six years in succession, would almost wipe out the population of any fish you have in mind. Then, following two or three years of weather ideal for spawning, the lake would, in three or four years, fairly jump with fish.

What the biologists are saying is that we should take as much account of the public health of our waters as we do the public health of us two-legged consumers of nature.

Mr. A. R. Gray, city treasurer, of Bay City, Mich., and Mrs. Gray and daughter, Marjorie, also Mr. Samuel Kearns of St. Catharines, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Greenleaf, College Hill.

Mr. J. O. Carscallen of Chilesford, Ill., is the guest of his cousin, Mr./Patrick Ronan, Alexander Street.

Orange Walks were held at Madoc and Shannonville on July 12th and both parades were largely attended.

The opening of the new McCarthy Theatre last evening was a gala event and every one of the thousand seats was occupied long before the first picture presented upon the screen. The first ticket was sold to Miss Evelyn Lorimer, Dunbarton Street, the second ticket was sold to Mar-shall Gaspard, Wellington St., and Eugene Lang, Catherine Street, obtained the third ticket. Manager McCarthy Theatre is beautiful in every respect and is one of the finest in Canada. Much appreciation is due to Mr. John C. McCarthy for everything for the citizens of Belleville and district such a comfortable and attractive place of entertainment. There were two shows and fully 1800 people were present for the first performance. The Municipal Band played outside the theatre and the sidewalks were packed.

Announcement was made today of the amalgamation of the Standard Bank of Commerce and the Standard Bank. The Bank of Commerce will continue to operate both offices here for some time. Mr. T. V. Sills-Jones is the manager of the Bank of Commerce and Mr. John Effick has been the manager of the Standard Bank here for many years.

New potatoes were offered for sale on the market today at 50 cents per peck. Strawberries, the last of the season, sold at 20 cents and 25 cents per box. Eggs sold at 33 cents per dozen.

Miss Phyllis Turner is visiting friends in Windsor and Detroit.

The Baptist Church Sunday School picnic will be held at Oak Lake on July 18th.

Mr. Eddie Hart of Detroit, Mich., is visiting friends here.

From our file copy of this time in 1898: Mr. W. J. Taber of Chicago, formerly employed in Mr. U. E. Thompson's office here, is renewing acquaintances in town. Miss Lily Metcalf has returned home from Saint Marie, Ontario, where she visited friends. Mr. H. A. Moore of Trenton was in town yesterday. Major Ed. Donald and family are spending the summer at the Sand Banks. Mr. Morley Day is visiting relatives in Kingston. Mr. W. Davison went to Brighton today on business.

Mr. Edward Reid of the Toronto News, an old Belleville boy, is renewing acquaintances in town.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Taylor of Hamilton, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Yeigh, Ann Street.

The price of beef dropped $1. per hundred weight this week; the packers are now quoting $24. The drop can continue indefinitely without hurting the feelings of consumers.

Mrs J. Malyea is spending a few days in Hamilton, after which she will go to Walkerville to reside with her daughter, who has moved there from Belleville recently.

The Sunday school picnic season is now in full swing.

The annual picnic in connection with St. Thomas' Parish Sunday School will take place tomorrow per the steamer Quinte and will be furnished by the IOOF Band.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday School picnic will take place on July 15th, per steamer Aletha to Twelve O'Clock Point.

John Street Presbyterian Church Sunday School picnic will take place on July 11th, per the steamer Aletha to Twelve O'Clock Point.

Strength for The Day

EMOTION OUT OF HAND

We cannot worship God with the mind alone; we must worship Him with the feelings also. One of the great defects of modern religious life is lack of emotion in the religious experience. People often pretend that emotion of any sort is inconsistent with a reasonable religion. We are supposed to approach God with the mind and to commune with Him through our spiritual nature. But we are told how emotion is to enter in. When it does, it is supposed to be wrongly.

Now this, of course, is not true. Emotion is just as much a part of human nature as mind. We do not come to a satisfactory and complete knowledge of God by travelling any one pathway. There is a place for reason in religion, a place for faith, a place for good works, and, very definitely, a place for emotion. When this emotion gushes forth and spills all over the place, it is no longer emotion but emotionism and emotionalism is always a mistake, always a misfortune.

Jesus said that our full duty consists in loving God and loving man. Love is more than an emotion, but love very definitely involves emotion. So don't let anyone decry your religious outlook because it involves certain emotions. Liturgy, preaching, music, prayer, Bible reading — all these are factors of a sound religious experience, and all these involve emotion.

Physical Fitness

Red Deer Advocate

For many years Canadians have listened with a smug ear to the reports of declining physical fitness in the United States. In actual fact it appears that the only difference in the fitness picture of Canadian and American youngsters is that the latter picture is better documented. At least they know what their situation is.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

UNCOMMON EYE CONDITION CALLS FOR SURGERY

"Dear Dr. Molner: What about a tregium on the eye? Most likely this is mis-spelled but I hope you make it out. However, it is on the colored part of the eye now. When is the best time to remove same?" — Mrs. C. H."

You came pretty close in the spelling, on the basis of the way the word sounds — pterygium (terrey-gee-uh). Be sure that it is closed one, spelling by ear.

Although this is not a very common condition, it is not a rarity, and I think we can spare a column now and then for some of the health problems that aren't general — yet affect some of us.

Pterygium means "wing," and in the eye it is a cone-shaped growth of the outer layer of the white of the eye onto the cornea — the cornea being the clear covering of the front of the eye.

The "wing" usually occurs on the side of the eye toward the nose.

Two kinds exist — "true" and "false". The false type is due to some injury, and the consequent scarring.

The "true" type — well, the cause of it just isn't known, but it is thought that irritation by wind and dust may be a factor in creating irritation.

The "wing" produces no pain or other symptoms that the patient can detect, other than perhaps seeing it in a mirror. However, if the growth of the cone encroaches on the centre of the pupil of the eye, then it is in order to consider the moving of it by surgery. Usually there will be some scarring as a result, in spite of the precautions now practised by eye surgeons, but even so it is preferable to having the interference that would come from the pterygium extending over the pupil, through which the light rays pass — the pupil of the eye.

In the case of Mrs. C. H., apparently the growth is over the colored portion of the eye, rather the iris — and not over the pupil where it could begin to interfere. In any event, I agree that it is obvious that an eye surgeon can best decide when the surgery is necessary or advisable.

"Dear-Dr. Molner: Would you discuss the cause of nosebleeds? Is there or four kinds? Is there a cure(s)? Is avoidance of certain foods or alcoholic beverages helpful? — N. P. N."

That's certainly excessive. There is little reason to think that avoidance of anything — solid or liquid — would have any effect on the condition. Nosebleeds are usually strictly local condition in the nose. They are usually not a sign of general disease. Infecting, keeping the mucous surface raw and irritated, may be involved. I know of no nosebleed course except medical examination of the unhappy nose, after which the correct treatment usually is obvious. Cauterization of chronic areas sometimes is the whole solution. Finding out where the bleeding is coming from naturally is of prime importance. Just having a nosebleed doesn't give you any idea whether the source is high or low in the nostril. Your doctor is better able to learn that. Disorders of the blood, rheumatic fever, high blood pressure and other conditions affecting the whole system may cause nosebleed and should be sought for when bleeding as excessive as this.

Mrs. G. H.: I gather you are reffering to chicken pits on your son's face. They may become less noticeable but I wouldn't expect them to disappear entirely. Solution No. 3 is worth trying. Ask your doctor to refer you to a dermatologist or plastic surgeon who does much "planing," which is a method of minimizing or removing these blemishes.

Afflicted with arthritis? You may find relief if you follow the advice given in my pamphlet, "Don't Quit Because of Arthritis." To receive your copy, write to me for it in care of this newspaper, enclosing a 3c stamped addressed, stamped envelope and 5c in coin to cover handling.

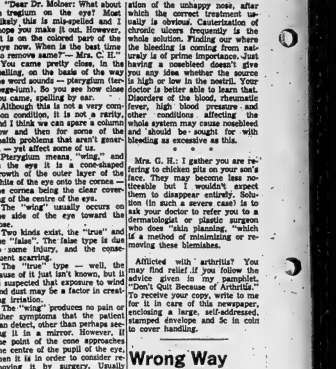
Wrong Way To Get Action

Edmonton Journal

A curious circumstance of the awakening days is the remarkably large number of women who insist on having the windows of their cars rolled tightly. Apparently they would rather endure near-suffocation than inflict a similar fate on their fellow-passengers — than run the risk that their hair will be mussed by the breeze.

The other day after a pretty young thing had taken her seat and slammed down a window with finality, the fresh, refreshing breeze had been blowing, a perspiring, heavily - breathing old grouch remarked, "Lack of consideration for others is characteristic of the womankind." We cannot accept this opinion for a moment. We are sure that women who close windows of fiery hot buses do not notice the heat and do not realize others do. They might also be concerned if the interior of city buses gets any closer to the steamy atmosphere of a Turkish bath their hair-do will be ruined anyway.

TODAY'S TALK



By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

INTERESTS

I do not see how anyone can get lonely or bored in a world full of interests. It is for me a source of beauty, wonders, amazing sights, like those great mountains, for example, in California. When I first looked upon them I felt a deeply humble, if not awed, hush bubbled with emotion.

Wherever you go in this world you run into interests about which you have never before heard. Dig into the ground and you have revealed before you a chemical laboratory. And just think of all the treasures that have been mined in this earth, later to serve your manifold, ever-increasing, ingenious wills, the poetic streams, the rolling prairies, the forests of trees, the happy songs of birds and the interesting composition of every stone and pebble you have seen in a world we have. I wouldn't trade it for a century of wonder.

I shall never cease to wonder at the invention of the telephone, or even depleted at one word. A score of miles through TV. I love the very wires of the telephone

by HORACE B. POWELL

O GOD, BENEATH THY GUIDING HAND

O God, beneath Thy guiding hand
Our exiled fathers crossed the sea;
And when they trod the wintry strand,
With prayer and psalm they worshipped Thee.

Thou heard'st, well pleased, the song, the prayer;
Thy blessing came; and still its power
Shall go onward, through all ages, bear
The memory of that holy hour.

Laws, freedom, truth and faith in God
Came with those exiles o'er the waves;
And, where their pilgrim feet have trod,
The God they trusted guards their graves.

And here Thy name, O God of love,
Their children's children shall adore,
Till these eternal hills remove,
And spring adorns the earth no more.

When New Haven, Conecticut, was 200 years old there was a great patriotic celebration and Dr. Leonard Bacon, a member of the faculty at Yale Divinity School, was asked to write a poem for the occasion.

He responded with the verses of "O God, Beneath Thy Guiding Hand" which have become one of America's favorite patriotic hymns.

Dr. Bacon was born in Detroit, Michigan in 1802. His father was a missionary to the Indians then living in that area and young Leonard probably gained some of his interest in missions which found its way into his hymns in later years in the missionary environment of his boyhood home.

He was educated at Yale College and at Andover Theological Seminary. Completing his theological studies, in 1825, he accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Congregational Church of New Haven. His ministry here continued for nearly half a century, and when he retired with the title of pastor emeritus, he joined the Yale Divinity School faculty as professor of theology. Five years later he surrendered his teaching post to give college lectures.

A Lift for Living

Take Care in Judging Others

By DR. RALPH W. SOCKMAN

Oliver Goldsmith defined justice as "that virtue which impels us to give to every person what is his due." But what is the other's due? How do we find out?

Justice is symbolized on court houses and elsewhere by the figure of a blindfolded woman with scales in her hand, the implication being that the essence of justice is the weighing of the facts in hand with an impartiality which might be lost if we could see the parties involved. But can we be quite just in weighing a situation unless we can see the background of those involved in it?

For instance, two men have robbed a bank. Each stole ten thousand dollars. But one of those criminals has come up out of a slum area, where his home was godless and his playmates were members of the gang; while the other has enjoyed all the opportunities and advantages of home and money. Does not justice demand that consideration be given to the differences in background?

Over there are two boys in school. One is a lad who is clean by nature, who ties himself up in knots and makes everything hard for himself. The other is blond and easygoing. If the teacher is to be just in her treatment of the two boys, she must take into account the difference in temperament.

It requires insight and imagination to look into the hearts and situations of those we judge. Jesus said, "Judge not that ye be not judged." As I understand His words, He was warning us against snap judgments, against dogmatic judgments, against judgments of motive.

JUDGING SITUATIONS

Of course, we have to judge situations or we could not arrive at conclusions of any kind. But in our judging we should use enough imagination to picture ourselves in the other persons' places and enough insight to make allowance for the unseen factors.

My belief is that when God judges He does so with the divine insight which sees the interplay of human relations in which we are caught; He sees into our own situations far better than we see ourselves.

I used to think of God's eye being on me to detect all I did as a boy. But now I do not think of God following me as a detective follows a wrongdoer, but rather as a Father following through with me as a father follows through with a son, patiently trying to lead me through my shortcomings and showing me possibilities I am missing.

And that insight and understanding which God manifests in mercy close to what the Bible calls "the grace of God." Professor Henry Nelson Wieman of Chicago has defined the grace of God as the "good which God puts into each concrete situation over and above all that man can do or plan or even imagine."

Therefore, in the words of the Scripture, "let us then with confidence draw near to the throne of grace," knowing that God is a Father who understands us better than we know ourselves.

Why draw near to His throne of grace? Listen to the invitation: "That we may receive mercy." We often say and hear said: "All that I want is justice." And justice is the foundation on which mercy is built.

NEED GOD'S MERCY

But when we think of what God has done for us through those who have gone before us, through parents who nurtured us in our helplessness, through friends who have furthered our welfare in infinite ways, through the nation which surrounds us with its laws and protection — when we think of all this in contrast to what we have done in return, do we not feel ourselves in debt far beyond our power to pay and therefore in need of God's mercy.

Shakespeare was right when he said, "We all do pray for mercy and that same prayer teach us to render the deeds of mercy." It requires a lot of grace to keep people in the right mood. Sometimes more damage than good is done by well-meant efforts of assistance.

It takes infinite patience to lift a person without bruising or weakening his sensitive nature. It requires prayerful care to catch a sinner without crushing the seeds of goodness in him. It takes more than tact to remove the splinter in a ruined reputation and give back the sense of self-respect.

And what is true in our personal circles applies to world relations. Dwight Morrow, hardheaded business leader and diplomat, declared that one trouble in international relations is that we judge ourselves by our ideals and other nations by their actions.

In this matter of judging we need what Bobby Burns prayed for — the power to see ourselves as others see us.

Days and Customs of All Faiths

Roman Catholics' Day of Feast

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Wednesday, July 16 — This is the big day for the Carmelite Order in the Roman Catholic Church, for it was the day, in the thirteenth century, on which the Blessed Virgin Mary appeared to their superior-general, St. Simon Stock, and gave him a scapular. A scapular is the sleeveless outer garment of a monk's habit.

It was some time before the Carmelites settled on this date. At first their special festival was on August 15, the Feast of the Assumption, because it was on that day that the Pope had first approved the Carmelite rule — that is, their organization, purpose and discipline.

But when St. Simon had his vision it was only natural that its anniversary should outweigh any other day in the Carmelites' calendar.

It is said that Mary appeared to Simon (he is a saint by courtesy only — he has never been canonized) holding in her hand the already familiar scapular of her Order. She said to him, "This shall be a privilege unto thee and all Carmelites. He who dies in this scapular shall be saved."

Today is, therefore, called the "scapular feast" by the Carmelites. Immediately after Simon's vision the day began to be observed within the Order, and in 1726, by decree of the Pope, it became a universal feast — a feast, that is, of all Roman Catholics.

ST. THEODORE'S WELL

Friday, July 18 — The Scotch and English people in olden times had an idea that there were some wells which were holy, and that if you went to one of these wells at the right time and did the right things, in detail, you could get almost any benefit you thought you might be needed. Some wells could c u r e you must be a witch.

anything; some were limited to their own specialties.

St. Theore, mother of the popular Scotch St. Kentigern, had a well that could cure anything but a sort of general practitioner well. St. Theore is honored in the church calendar today.

The pilgrims who came to St. Theore's well on July 18 brought with them pieces of tin, cut out to resemble, perhaps crudely, the parts of their bodies that were in trouble.

Hanging on the trees by the well you could see tin arms, ears, legs, and whatnot. This ranging — up of replicas of the ailing parts was all the pilgrims had to do, except that they were supposed to leave some sort of gifts — money, tokens, or even stones.

WHAT IS AN ORDEAL?

We think of an ordeal as a tough time, and indeed it is. But originally it was much more specific than that.

The Anglo-Saxon and other Teutonic peoples had an idea that innocence would always stand up for the intervention of God — and you could find out (by ordeal) whether a man was innocent or guilty. So they put the accused through ordeals.

There was the ordeal o' fire. This was for top-ranking people only. If you were a duke or some such, and were accused of some wrongdoing, you could either hold in your hand a red-hot iron or you could walk barefoot through nine red-hot plowshares. If you came through without injury, you were innocent. God had suspended His normal laws for you.

For the common people there was the ordeal of hot water. The arm was plunged to the elbow in boiling water. If the skin came off all right, you were guilty.

Ameliasburg W.A. Holds Successful Tea

The Ameliasburg W.A. held an afternoon tea and home baking sale on July 9th.

There was a large crowd and guests visited in the church which was decorated with baskets of flowers.

The tea tables were centred with vari-colored bachelor buttons and were decorated in the hall.

During the afternoon, a representative from the T. B. survey committee talked to the ladies, stressing the importance of the campaign.

An invitation from Burr's W.A. for a tea on August 14 was accepted.

Thanks are tendered to all who helped to make this such a successful afternoon.

O'BRIEN — HILLMAN

The marriage took place recently at the Church of St. Michael the Archangel in Belleville, with Rev. Fr. Murphy officiating, of Lois Ann Hillman, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hillman, R.R. 1, Belleville, to Gerard Joseph O'Brien, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O'Brien, of Richmond, Prince Edward Island. The church was decorated with white mums and pink gladioli.

The wedding music was played by the Rev. Sister Mary Bilien. Mr. Robert Park, of Belleville, was soloist and sang "Ave Maria" and "O Sacred Heart, O Love Divine."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bridal gown of white, floor-length nylon lace over taffeta with bouffant skirt, strapless, moulded bodice and matching, fitted jacket with long, pointed sleeves and a small Peter Pan collar. Her tiara of sequins and seed pearls was attached to a chapel-length veil of nylon net embroidered with rayon threads. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Bernetta Rankin, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant, attired in floor-length pink net over taffeta with fitted bodice, Sweetheart neckline and short sleeves, with matching gloves and headpiece. Her bouquet was of soft blue and white mums.

Mr. John Rankin, Belleville, was groomsman. The ushers were Mr. Gerome O'Sullivan, of Belleville, and Mr. Fred Hillman, brother of the bride, of Niagara Falls, Ontario.

The reception was held at Maple Inn, Bloomfield, where the bride's table was decorated with pink and white streamers, white damask cloth with a three-tier wedding cake.

The bride's mother wore turquoise and white printed silk with white accessories and corsage of white carnations.

For the short wedding trip to Watertown, N.Y., the bride's going away outfit was of blue silk with figured nylon dress with matching bolero, white accessories and corsage of pink and white carnations.

Guests were present from Belleville, Trenton, Toronto, Wellington and Concecon.

They will reside in Belleville. The bride, prior to her marriage, was entertained at the home of Mrs. E. Crawford and presented with a lovely hostess chair. The staff of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, where she is employed, presented her with an electric mantel clock and the girls from the bank held a miscellaneous shower for her at the home of Miss Mary Lou Kinnear, of Belleville.

HAGERMAN — SAYERS

Red and white peonies and ferns adorned the chancel rail in Roslin United Church, Roslin, and white satin bows the guest pews, on Saturday, June 21st, at high noon, for a lovely summer wedding when Helen Elizabeth Sayers, of Roslin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sayers, became the bride of Ronald Allen Hagerman, of Corbyville, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hagerman. The Reverend R. W. T. Middleton, assisted by the Reverend J. W. Platt, of Belleville, officiated.

Mrs. A. Bates, of Roslin, rendered the wedding music and accompanied Mrs. Carl Gray, soloist, as she sang "I'll Walk Beside You" before the ceremony and "Through the Years" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Harry Sayers, the bride wore a charming floor-length ivory-book bridal gown in white chiffon over net and taffeta fashioned on Elizabethan lines, with shirred bodice with round neckline and short sleeves and bouffant skirt was enhanced by an all-shirred bustle line from waist to floor cascading into a chapel train. A corset of seed pearls, flanked at the shoulders, with gauntlet gloves, completed her ensemble. She carried a white Bible crowned with red roses and white satin streamers knotted with love knots.

Mrs. Alex Purvis of Jamaica Plains, Mass., attended the bride as matron of honor, wearing white embossed nylon over pink taffeta, designed on princess lines with taffeta bow at back of neckline. She carried pink gloves and flowerec headdress.

Mrs. Neil Pringle, Selby, cousin of the bride, and Miss Carole French, of Natick, Mass., also cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids, in pink and blue gowns fashioned similarly to that of the matron of honor. All carried nosegays of tinted carnations and roses matching their gowns, with matching costume jewellery.

Mr. Carl Hagerman, of Corbyville, cousin of the bridegroom, was groomsman, while Mr. John Anderson of Roslin, R.R. 1, cousin of the bridegroom and Mr. Neil Pringle, of Selby, cousin of the bride, ushered the guests.

The reception, following the ceremony, was held at Roslin Parish Hall, which was decorated with flowers and little simulated Dutch girls, for the occasion.

The bride's table, centred by the traditional three-tier wedding cake, topped by tiny rosebuds and baby's breath, and misted about the base with pink tulle, and flanked by tall white candles in silver candelabra, and the bridal bouquets, was most attractive.

The many guests were received by the bride's mother, who chose a Beau Brummel blue crepe and lace gown featuring a V-shaped neckline and rhinestone pins; three-quarter sleeves and gored skirt, sandwiched with three-quarter length gloves, with black accessories, and corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother, in pink lace over taffeta, on princess lines, with matching bolero, white picture hat, white gloves and purse, and corsage of white carnations, assisted in receiving.

For travelling to Toronto and around Lake Ontario, the bride donned a pale blue figured nylon dress with pink hat and gloves, white shoes and purse, with corsage of pink carnations.

Previous to her marriage, the bride was entertained at the home of Mrs. Howard Kokesh, Belleville, when the honored guest was presented with a table lamp from the girl staff of the Industrial Acceptance, of which she is a member; and at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Ronald Chisholm, where she received an assortment of lovely gifts; and also at a presentation of cornflower crystal by the staff of the Industrial Acceptance Corporation.

Guests were present from Natick, Mass; Jamaica Plains, Mass; Jersey City, N.J.; Toronto, Oshawa, Corbyville, Bloomfield, Belleville and Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Hagerman will reside at 49 Montgomery Blvd, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Allen Hagerman are shown signing the register in Roslin United Church, Roslin, following their recent marriage. The bride is the former Helen Elizabeth Sayers, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sayers of Roslin. The bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hagerman, of Corbyville. Senior Major Admits Hat 48 Years Old CALGARY (CP)—Mrs. Gerald Wagner, senior major in the Salvation Army here, isn't ashamed to admit her hat is almost 48 years old.

The bonnet was a 16th birthday present from Mrs. Wagner's mother. Though dubbed "old fashioned", it has survived the styles and fads of two generations.

"We never have to worry what to wear," said Mrs. Wagner, matron of the Salvation Army Booth Memorial Children's Home.

She first wore the hat singing through the streets of Toronto in 1910. Since then it has travelled in provinces from Nova Scotia to the Vancouver waterfront.

She wore the bonnet when she was received by Lord Tweedsmuir, former governor-general. It is familiar in Oakalla prison and Saskatoon penitentiary.

Mrs. Wagner says the hat commands respect. When she asked for a taxi driver to take her to Buckingham Palace, he drove through the gates before she had time being presented. "I had to stop him. . . . I was just going to see the changing of the guard."

The only radical change in the bonnet since she received hers was the removal of a flounce which hung down her back.

Mrs. Wagner says she is getting a little old to wear it and won't be able to tell which is which. They are made in London, England.

Women's Activities

SHANNONVILLE W.A.

The monthly meeting of the W.A. of Shannonville United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Asa Cook on the afternoon of July 10th with an attendance of 25. Mrs. Elliott, the president, welcomed all.

Mrs. Orval Stratton read a reading, "Fulfilment," and Mrs. Elmer Vivian, group leader, took the worship service. A reading, "Oh Master, Let Me Walk With Thee."

Mrs. Orval Stratton read the Scripture lesson from Acts I and Mrs. Asa Cook read from the Lesson Thoughts from the "Devotional Guide." The theme for the month is, "Times of Refreshing."

Mrs. Arthur Houston gave a reading, "Sacrifice," and Mrs. Damon Winchester read a poem, "When Sheep Lead the Lambs," and Mrs. Ross Shetler led parallel and favorite verses of the Bible, with the members standing in which book they were found, which was interesting and instructive.

The president thanked the group and took charge of the business. The treasurer, Mrs. Asa Cook, reported on the proceeds of the ice cream and home-cooking sale and the collette were gratifying.

Mrs. Claude Clarke thanked all who helped to make the social a success. The W.A. was delighted to welcome a former member, Mrs. Harry Murphy, of Belleville, and Mrs. G. Dobbs, who visited the meeting once before—when she was district president of the W.A. Mrs. Dobbs gave an interesting and inspirational talk on "Friendship."

Mrs. Elliott thanked Mrs. Elmer Vivian and her group, served delicious refreshments, and a social time was enjoyed.

The next meeting will not be until the regular meeting day in October.

Going Places

Gambling in a German Casino Is a Very Serious Business

By SHIRLEY AND BOB SLOANE

Bad "Somewhere," West Germany — Those who have been to the gambling casinos of Nevada or the Caribbean know that win, lose or break even, they are gay places. The Anglo-American spirit of playing for the fun of it prevails; losers are the price of an evening's amusement and winnings are an unexpected bonus.

The croupiers keep up a running chatter that makes you watch as a treat, cheering the winners on, sympathizing with the losers, and gently teasing the nonplayers — "Don't make mind bets; it's a sure sign you're losing your mind!"

Americans are accused of taking money too seriously, but the atmosphere of these places tends to prove that our attitude has more to do with the game than the gain. If you want to see people regard money with the most deadly earnest, you've got to visit a casino like the one at this health resort. It may be no coincidence this is a health resort.

LIKE' FUNERAL PARLOR

Some European gambling houses, such as those in Monte Carlo, are elegant, worship places dripping with brilliant crystal chandeliers. This one, cheerful, sunny and dark except for the shaded lights over the tables, has all the charm of a funeral parlor.

The only sounds are the hiss of the wheel, the clink of chips and the apologetic voice of the croupier announcing, in a hushed whisper, the winning number. (He is apologetic because long odds on number winners about 30 to one.) Only the Americans talk, no one laughs, and only the winners so much as smile.

Roulette, a frigid game at best, is played exclusively here. Unlike the exciting American favorite of 36 numbers, the wheel here has but only through luck but by repeated partying and understanding of the complex variety of bets, roulette is dependent only on luck and repeated power. The odds on any number are always the same, the only advantage is that is to spread a bet over several numbers, which reduces the payoff.

But the Germans firmly believe in a system, in old combinations of instinct and statistical analysis.

Each player is handed two charts. One shows in two different patterns the arrangement of numbers on the wheel and the proximity of each number to the others. The other's a tally sheet for listing the winning numbers as they come up.

KEEP RECORDS

Most players record these with the steady diligence and diligence of scientists observing experiments. Once every 10 or 20 spins they will calculate that a certain number is "due" and place a bet on it. None of them won more often than hit-or-miss betters this way, but this fact in no ways affected their dedication to the system.

It is not de rigueur to place your bet early as in casinos in our part of the world. The wheel is open and everyone waits. Then in the split second before the ball falls into its destined slot, there is a great flurry of betting. People come out of the shadows and from other tables, drop their chips in an orgy of scientifically ordained bunches, and disappear whence they came.

The ball settles and the croupier whispers the winner there is some anguished tongue-clucking and a few faint oohs and ahs. The chips are raked in, the mathematicians go back to their charts, and again there is a morgue-like silence, falls, broken only by the hiss of the wheel and the half-hearted urgings of the croupiers to place bets early.

This is gambling?

A casino in Germany is called Spielbank, or play bank, if you want to translate literally. It's a delight to fracture, being one of the expressive German languages. Many words are compounded of two or more others to produce the same thing, such as Stit-Platz, or sitting place, for a seat.

Some of our favorites: Schauspieler or show player, for actor; Fernsehapparat, or far-seeing clock; Fussknochel (foot knuckle) for ankle; Handschuh (hand shoe) for glove; and Ueberschwemmung (overswimming) for flood. Breakfast is Fruhstuck, and you can figure that out for yourself.

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

On Wednesday, July 2nd T. and I quoted Dr. Johnson as saying that God never made a better berry than the strawberry. Our informant was quite correct. Dr. Johnson did say this but there is apparently more to the story. We were told to check on the quotation and we learn that a Dr. Bolster or Bolter also wrote it in the latter part of the 17th century. Izaak Walton used the quotation later in the 17th century by saying that the excellence of the strawberry was like the excellence of angling. All this led us into looking for Bolter as a thought for this weekend. Most everyone has heard the story of the bank cashier who gave a customer too much change and on being queried by the customer if he overmade a mistake, replied, "We do not make mistakes here." It is a simple lesson. T. and T. trusts that it does not reach the stage of never making mistakes but hopes that it never grows too old to learn by them. We are happy that both our informants were correct and that the mistake is sure to not delving more deeply. Anyhow, it is a nice quotation and we were all in good company using words liked by Walton and the famous Dr. Johnson.

We hear so many things about the part of the world under the thumb of Nasser these days that we may be pardoned if we wonder indeed there is much that is fine going forward because each nation, regardless of its government, is made up of people. A woman friend who reports on a model estate in the interest of needy children. It is an organization known as "The Drop of Milk Society." They are led by a qualified pediatrician who is a member of the committee. So far milk has been collected for distribution to 100 poor babies, as well as free medicine and some clothes. They aspire to complete their work by organizing a nursery for the children of working mothers and a nursery for orphans and foundlings. This is news a bit different and Incidentally is going on in the area over which Miss Dorothy Potts will be in charge of nursing. We reported Miss Pott's new appointment in last Saturday's column.

Without entering into the field of partisan politics T. & T. passes along a few reactions about the recent visit of the United States President to our Dominion's capital, Ottawa. Occasionally a person gets a clearer picture about some things from a distance. When people, radio and television accounting is truthful and quite objectively read, viewed in the films, small and proudly inconsequential things that escape you if your contact is close and hurried. It is no doubt an example of the truth of the old proverb about seeing the forest but never seeing the trees.

For instance we have neither seen nor heard mention of the coincidence and the symbolism of the names of the President and our Prime Minister. We feel certain that either Eisenhower nor Diefenbaker are English or Scottish or Irish but Teutonic. This in itself could be, and in our opinion ought to be, an uncomplicated basis for international amity.

Here we have witnessed the wives of our two nations visiting and no doubt discussing those things that concern, and matter to women all over the world. We have seen and listened to two leaders bluntly stating "why doesn't" someone suggest that Mr. Krushchev invite Mr. Diefenbaker and Mr. Eisenhower to address the Supreme Soviet armed as the President was with nothing more potent than his golf clubs." Even in those cases where Canada must say thus far and no farther or the U.S. tells us bluntly it will not budge we are both better off for the frankness.

We know better where we stand even though some confusion may be compounded. In spite of it all we wonder if the two wives talked about recipes, babies, the status of women, their husbands and homes. The commonality of motherhood knows no boundary nor does it acknowledge any tariff wall. These are things acceptable in every kitchen and living room and are understood by women wherever they are. After all, Mr. Eisenhower did bring Mamie (respectfully) and she is the first mother of her native land, so T. & T. hopes the two first ladies had much to talk about over their cups of tea.

Sack on Way Back to Cover Potatoes

ROME (AP) — The sack is on its way back to covering potatoes instead of the feminine form. That's the best guess on the eve of next week's Italian fashion designer's autumn showings in Rome.

Not all the experts will commit themselves. But those who will say womanly curves are about to fight their way out of the bag. The Italian high fashion houses are determined to lead the way.

Nothing as extreme as form-clinging sheaths or sharp-cut hourglass bodices is expected. But the betting is that the hubcap shape will be under this year's drapes and folds with greater clarity than last year.

The bellless, sliding waistline might still be with us. The bosom may rise and hemlines waver, but chances are that most designers will keep their skirts modified to approximate the body lines.

Presentations of Italian high fashion will begin here Monday and Tuesday. After four days in Rome, the fashion show goes to Florence.

Checks are Endorsed

By ALICE ALDEN

No matter what the pattern of the moment is, checks are always endorsed. Trigger uses checked fabric smartly for a handsome dress and jacket ensemble. The dress is checked in front with black and white silk taffeta in bold checks; the back is of black wool serge of chiffon weight. A wide width of black leather wraps the waist and the little cover-up jacket of matching checks gives the dress greater coverage, making it a fine afternoon-into-evening number.

Carcross Agent Has Duties Besides Railway

CARCROSS, Y.T. (CP) — Mrs. Jack McMurphy is Carcross agent for the White Pass and Yukon Railway and she readily admits things can become hectic on occasion, even in a hamlet of 100 population.

Normally, Carcross is a sleepy little place, its routine disturbed only twice a day by arrival of mixed passenger - express-freight trains from Whitehorse, 50 miles northeast, and Skagway, Alaska, 60 miles southwest.

The 118-mile railway operates in a most informal way by railway standards, but Mrs. McMurphy seldom finds time to relax.

PLENTY OF JOBS

Her duties include handling dispatchers' wires, ticket sales, figuring out waybills, handling baggage, express and freight and checking many other things.

Often in summer tourists stage forays into the Caribou Hotel across the street or into Matthew Watson's general store. So taken with the homey atmosphere, they rarely hear the conductor's "All aboard," and Mrs. McMurphy rustles them out.

Mrs. McMurphy has been agent here for five years and besides her duties at the depot is employed all the outgoing and incoming calls on the only telephone in town. It is a party line connecting Carcross, Tagish, Brooks Brook and Whitehorse on the Northwestern Telephone System.

To telephone anyone in the town, the outsider must call Mrs. McMurphy. She sends a messenger to the party wanted—for a fee of 50 cents. This applies also to telegraph service.

Section men living at other stations, such as Bennett, Pennington, Log Cabin and Summit, order groceries through her by phone. She has the orders made up at the general store and sent out on the next train.

PAYMASTER TOO

She also acts as paymaster for the section gangs as she cheques crews to her station and she distributes them. She didn't say just how this works in her husband's case. He is one of the section foremen working out of Carcross.

Another of her duties is to watch the skies above the mountains that circle the village. She mans an RCAF ground-observer post, with the aid of children here.

Railroading has always been in Mrs. McMurphy's family. She recalls riding White Pass engines in Whitehorse, where she was born, where her father worked in the railway yards.

A school teacher, her first post was at Carmacks. She began teaching in Carcross in 1926 in a log school. She was married in 1931 and has two daughters.

Carcross was a bustling centre of 700 during the gold rush and a booming community of more than 2,000 during the Second World War when it was the jumping-off spot in each direction for the Alaska highway.

Mother's Helper

HEAT rash can be a real bugaboo, and it's easier to prevent such a rash than to cure it. Keep your baby well sprinkled with corn starch, baking soda or one of the special medicated baby powders. But be careful not to use too much! It will cake in those little fat-creases.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

SHE SHOULD HAVE "MET" THE GUEST OF HONOR

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

The other day I went to a very large tea-reception given in honor of a visiting celebrity. Unfortunately I had a severe cold in a car and I assumed that everyone had been introduced to the guest of honor, since she and the hostess were not standing together, as I imagine they had been during the receiving. So I was not introduced to the guest of honor and I didn't make any effort to be introduced, thinking that it certainly wouldn't make any difference to such an important person that I was not introduced to her. But when I came home and the family asked about my meeting her, I explained the circumstances and said I hadn't met her. Mother was "horrified," said I was extremely rude not to have asked for an introduction to the guest of honor. Was I really so discourteous? — E. A.

Your mother was right. Since you had been given the honor of being invited to "meet" the guest of honor, it was socially important that you meet her. It would have been quite easy. I feel sure, for you to have explained to your hostess that you had not met the guest of honor, asked her for an introduction: "I am so sorry that I was unavoidably detained and arrived so late. Am I too late to have the honor and pleasure of meeting Mrs. Blake?" Or the hostess was too busy at that moment, or unavailable, y o u might have introduced yourself to the guest of honor.

Readers' Saturday Column

as conducted by Mary Moore

Letter: . . through the printed page your personality comes to make one seem an actual visitor in my home.

Thank you for a column with a variety of recipes, instead of just desserts and sweets. Of course it is pleasing to the housewife to have all and sundry raving over her chocolate cake-ice cream puffs, but those should be merely the frills rather than the basis for judging a good cook. (In my opinion, one who cooks potatoes really well, usually turns out to be competent in all of the cooking areas.)

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

SATURDAY

Individual Salisbury Steaks (see Wednesday); Buttered Noodles; Mixed Kermet Corn and Carrot Dice; Shredded Cabbage and Pineapple Salad; Melon Fruit Cup; Cookies; Coffee.

Recently you mentioned fiddleheads from N.B., which are delicious. I am from N.S. where one of the local greens is marsh grass or marsh greens which the Indians cut and sell to the markets in the spring. These are cooked in unsalted water and have quite a distinctive flavor.

I have a few recipes you might like to try (already tried and approved by my husband and five children). In our town bananas were very cheap this winter and higher in food value than most other fresh produce, pound for pound, so we used them as a vegetable as well as a fruit.

FRIED BANANAS

Peel bananas, cut once lengthwise and crosswise. In heavy frying pan melt a little butter or other fat and fry bananas until limp, turn and fry on other side. Especially good served with pork or pork products.

Sweet potatoes were also low in price. As a change from baking them we had them done casserole style. Came to me as an inspiration, one day.

SWEET POTATO CASSEROLE

Peel and slice sweet potatoes as for potato scallop. (Slices about 1-8 in. thick). Arrange in layers in a buttered casserole. Sprinkle each layer with brown sugar, salt and cinnamon and dot with butter. Over the top pour the juice of 3 or 4 oranges. Bake 375 deg. F. for 1-4 hours or until tender. More orange juice may be added.

One day I didn't have quite enough sweet potatoes so filled the casserole with alternate layers of sliced apples, following the recipe as usual. Everyone liked this very much.

Here is a dish for using salmon but any leftover meat or fowl can be substituted with good results. (When one is getting bored with various ways of dishing up that leftover turkey, this changes the flavor entirely.)

SALMON DELIGHT

Line a baking dish with mashed potatoes. Make a cream sauce of 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons each flour and fat and 1-2 teaspoon salt. To this add 1-2 cup grated cheese and 1 beaten egg. Pour half of this on the potatoes. To the remaining sauce add flaked canned salmon, pour into the baking dish, top with buttered crumbs and bake until bubbly and brown. A crisp salad goes well with this main-dish casserole.

By now you will be hoping my longwindedness is over, and as I have reached the end of the page shall make this the end of the letter. Best wishes for the continuation of your column, Faithful Fan.

Answer: Thank you, F.F. Your contribution was as good I have passed it on in full and am sure our readers will be as grateful as I am — especially for the Salmon Delight.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a retired soldier and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Mrs. R. H. — Nora's boy friend doesn't believe in convention and morality.

Nora H. — He is the most interesting boy I know.

Mrs. R. H. — My husband and I are just about frantic about our 18-year-old daughter, Nora.

We are respectable people and have given her a fine bringing up. Now we find she is going out with one of the worst boys in town — a boy who is believed to have gotten one of the girls here into trouble about a year ago.

This boy is a smart-aleck type and talks a big line about the fact that he doesn't believe in convention and morality. He says this straight to our faces and yet my daughter insists upon going o u t with him. We are frightened to death every minute she spends with him.

Nora H. — Randy talks a big line. What my parents don't understand is that it is all talk and nothing more. That rumor about him and the other girl was just silly.

She was a tramp and everyone knew it. Randy went out with her a few times, as did most of the boys around here. But he certainly wasn't responsible for what happened.

I have gone out quite a bit and know what I'm about. Randy is the most interesting boy I know. He can talk about a lot of things. He reads a lot and is always full of theories. I'm not serious about him and I don't think he is about me.

I think my parents ought to trust me.

The Council: From both statements, it appears that Randy is a very immature boy and somewhat irresponsible, but possibly not quite as dangerous as the R. H.'s fear.

The fact that this boy is willing to discuss his "theories" of conventionality and morality with the parents of the girl he is dating is a probable indication that he is more filled with wind than evil intentions. He probably works off a lot of his steam by talking. We use the word "probably" advisedly. Eventually Randy will work up the courage to act on his theories — unless his ideas change. At that time he will probably do less talking to parents.

We don't think this boy is the best influence for Nora and she should be guided toward a better understanding of what constitutes maturity, character and interesting talk in a male. At the moment Randy's talk may sound terribly revolutionary and exciting, but Nora should be made to realize that it is not to be admired as well as foolish and boring.

If Mr. and Mrs. R. H. showed less shock and more disinterest in Randy's talk, Nora would be less fascinated by it. The fact that it gets a big rise out of her parents indicates to her what he is saying is meaningful and impressive.

The R. H.'s should be sympathetic but has a good understanding of the reasons for sexual morality from every point of it. And her age she should also have full information on sex — so she won't be tempted by mere curiosity.

There is much good literature on the subject available today and Nora should be encouraged to read some of the material written by clergymen, sociologists and doctors.

Armed with knowledge and a background of happiness and love in her home, Nora should soon begin to find Randy's talk quite childish.

THOMASBURG W.A.

THOMASBURG —Mrs. Laurison Kennedy was hostess to the ladies of Thomasburg Women's Association on Tuesday evening with a good attendance. The vice-president, Mrs. Henry Morton presided.

Mrs. F. Brough had charge of the worship service; readings by Mrs. D. Walker and Mrs. J. Grills; Mrs. H. Kennedy followed with prayer.

Mrs. Dyson read the secretary's report, also cards of thanks and birthday cards. Many donated to the flower fund and it was decided to have the tea and bazaar on October 15 in the afternoon, inviting all the ladies of the other circuits and also the Anglican ladies.

Mrs. Brough took charge of the program, which "consisted of a report by Mrs. Brough, and an interesting talk by Mrs. Blackburn on the Holy Land.

The shoe bags that were made by the CGIT girls were judged.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the hostess, Mrs. Kennedy, also to the program and lunch conveners.

Woman Is Paid To Direct Men From Back Seat

NEW YORK (AP) — Margo Wood is a glamorous green-eyed southern belle who has made a career of back-seat driving.

Every day she tells scores of men drivers where to go, and they love it. Many write her letters of thanks of steering them right. And to top it all off, she gets paid for this.

As head of a major touring centre in New York City, Margo directs the activities of a staff of six girls who advise motorists on routes, highways, scenic tours and map-reading. Says she:

"I guess I was born to be a back-seat driver. When I was in school my favorite subject was geography and my favorite hobby a striking maps. When I got married my husband used to travel a lot, and I always went along, read map in hand, and steered him around detours and road hazards."

After the death of her husband she took her present job in 1952.

Margo's love affair with the roads has continued unabated. On vacation, she hops into her car, sometimes with her daughter (also named Margo), and explores. She has toured from Canada to Mexico and from coast to coast. As a veteran driver, both back-seat and front-seat, she has some advice for wives:

"If you want to be popular with your husband, learn to read road maps. Don't just sit there and nag him when you're on the road together. If you'll take the trouble you can be a real help as chief navigator. And your husband will be grateful, instead of annoyed."

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

By WINIFRED WILSON

Bluebirds and cardinals were named to suit their colouring, sparrow hawks and kingfishers on account of the type of prey they catch, chickadees and phoebes because they seem to say those words, but catbirds got the name because they make a sound like a cat's "measure" — at least they sometimes do. It really is very unfortunate that these fine singers should have built up such a bad reputation.

This catlike, mewing scold is the common call, but they also have a subtle song and make sharp, snapping sounds. However none of these notes are available at this season; only after the nesting period do they to any extent expertain with the bluegrosbeak notes.

Their melodious song, not always recognized, should be numbered among the finest. Catbirds belong to the same family as mockingbirds, we should expect to hear a song such that their joyous, prolonged effort is composed of a combination of other birds' songs strung together and interspersed with the cat's mewing. Thrasher, clarinet, violin, or cello, and bits of pure catbird composition, I think you can feel sure. We may imagine for a moment that we are listening to a wood thrush, robin, a song sparrow, a house wren, a Baltimore oriole, and in the best said: yes, a whip-poor-will.

A SECOND SONG

A second catbird song is softer, more subdued, and is made up of phrases of imitations, sweet music of its own, and added "mews" and "scolds" at the end. I have found a hidden perch by day or on a moonlight night, in the rarely I am the singer on these occasions. Then this versatile artist actually has a third song — but do not expect to hear it now, as his one public performance of this song so softly that we must be near to detect it. A great repertoire altogether.

Back from the south about mid-May, catbirds usually choose a home site in dense shrubbery, whether it be the wild kind or the cultivated variety of civilization, and preferably near a dooryard, garden, or shady lane. A bulky nest of twigs, leaves, and stems holds four to six blue green eggs laid on a lining of fine fibrai; but it is so loosely put together that the youngsters leave.

Catbirds are naturally inquisitive, so we wonder and last until whether or not a pair lies in our vicinity we keep only to make a squealing sound with the lips on the back of the hand.

Garden Notes

Cut Flowers Are Joy of Summer

By FLORA M. SAVILLE

An abundance of cut flowers is one of the special joys of summer. Nature is a good supply plant enough of your favorites in the best garden. You will then feel free to put a lavish quantity for a special arrangement but if you depend on the blooms in the borders and beds you will feel guilty of robbing the outdoor display.

Salvias, marigolds and nasturtiums are annuals which germinate quickly (if you soak the seeds in warm water) and start to bloom in a few weeks. A rather late to plant most of the other annuals but you will still find a wide variety offered by the nurserymen. If I were asked to name four for summer long performance I would say snapdragons, salvias (for dwarf and tall-growing steel plants) scabiosa and asters. For bold effect include hollyhock buttons. They last so well in water.

Many stems and fair tassiaus qualities are a must for cut flowers. Here is a list of them to help your planting to harmonize with your color schema. In the yellow to deep orange tones you will find these good Artican, French and Scotch marigolds, calendula, orange cosmos, snapdragon and nasturtium. In the blues there are the ageratum, salvia, cornflower, scabiosa and aster. In the pinks and rose tones are the cosmos (New early type) stocks, snapdragon, nicotiana, asters. White flowers of similar variations and accents will be found in many of the kinds mentioned.

Some blooms such as scabious while providing handsome flowers for cutting, have short and brittle stems and for this reason are not long lasting flowers for cutting. Look for variety by including leaves from perennial plants, vegetables or shrubbery. When the foliage has many cup such as the poppy and euphorbia are the stems with a candle before adding to the arrangement. When flowers are scarce try a few blooms with several kinds and colors of foliage. Beet, kale, parsley, carrot and rhubarb can be combined with lavender, iris, peony, lily-of-the-valley, "Joe's-Pye" and chrysanthemum plants. Barberry, spirea, golden privet, golden holly and many other shrubs have interesting foliage to add. Occasionally you may use a cutting from the evergreens.

Annuals do not need particularly rich soil. One or two feedings with a balanced fertilizer such as 5-10-5 will keep them growing well. Use 5-10-5 at the rate of one cup which tends to hold potash and phosphate in the soil. Make a dressing of one ounce of nitrochalk and three ounces of bone meal to a pail of water. This is a potash and give a lift to the plants. Most annuals like a lime soil.

Shallow frequent cultivation will keep down weeds which contend with the annuals for plant food. Mulch with lawn clippings to spoil allows air and water to reach the roots.

Cut the flowers early in the morning, or in the evening not in the heat of the day. Harden the blooms by placing the stems in a deep receptacle of cold water for several hours. Zinnias will last longer and the water will remain fresh if you will use two table-spoons of liquid bleach in a quart of water. There are products such as Floralife which may be added to the water to extend the life of the flowers.

Rylstone

W.I.

RYLSTONE — On Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Don Stewart was hostess to the Rylstone Women's Institute at the Sunday School Hall, Zion Church, Fetherston Corners. Mrs. Stanley Kerr, president, was in charge of the meeting.

There were 35 ladies and 12 children in attendance.

Current events magazines, "Home and Country," for summer, were distributed to the members. It was decided to send a donation to the Salvation Army in Campbellford. Three ladies paid their fees for the year 1958-59. Mrs. Alfred Akins was instructed to buy material for dish towels for the institute.

Miss Ferns Tinney spoke briefly about the Chicken Barbe-B-Q to be held soon, and extending an invitation to all from the Junior Farmers.

Mrs. Percy Reid was convener for the meeting, which included a piano solo, "Long Long Ago," Betty Kerr; a reading, "Beautiful Sunday," by Mrs. Alfred Akins; "Chimney Sweep," by Mrs. Murray Meiklejohn and contest, "A Kitchen Shower," by Mrs. Junior Farmers.

Refreshments were served by hostess and her lunch committee.

On Sunday evening, July 6th, the first Community Concert of the season was held in the Rylstone grounds, Crowe River Bridge under the sponsorship of Rylstone Women's Institute. The night was cool and the crowd large. Candle at large at several times, as many remained in their cars. Norwood Citizens' Band, under the leadership of John Hamlin, was in attendance and rendered a splendid number than usual, owing to sickness and holidays, they favored with enjoyable music.

Following is the program — "Canadian Soldiers" Selection and "O God Our Help in Ages Past" by Norwood Citizens' Band; "Come to the Church in the Wildwood," duet, Lorraine Allen and Mrs. Harvelling organ; welcome from the Institute, Mrs. Wilfred Sampson; contest: community singing led by Eldon Petherick, accompanied by Mrs. Ellis Jones; "Faith of Our Fathers," "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder" and "The Lord Is My Shepherd." Vocal solo with mandolin and ukulele obligato, by Lorraine Allen, accompanied by Mrs. Wilfred Sampson, "Wait A Little Longer Please Jesus," and "I'm Using My Time," by Jim Norwood. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spencer; two choruses by "The Institute Choir," accompanied by Mrs. Ellis Jones at the organ, "In the Garden," and "Only Trust Jesther in the River"; accordion solo, "The Lord Is My Shepherd," by Lorraine Allen; "I've Got the Whole World In His Hands," by Clare Irwin; recitation by Jim Norwood, band, "O Canada", "Semper Fidelis," and "God Save the Queen." Concert, "Abide With Me," "Stand Up For Jesus," and others. The crowd joined in the last hymn.

There will be another concert next Sunday, July 13th, with a local pipe band in attendance. Other talent will be supplied locally and by visiting communities. Everybody welcome.

Farewell Gifts Presented To Pastor, Wife

ILDORADO — On Tuesday evening about 40 friends from Madoc and Eldorado gathered at the standard church parsonage in Madoc to bid farewell to the Rev. and Mrs. Dunning on their departure to their new charge at Forster Falls.

The evening was spent with old friends chatting and singing. Mr. Lough played several hymns on the record player.

"Happy birthday", was sung for three of the gathering who were celebrating birthdays this week.

Mr. Lough called the gathering to order, and Mrs. Bailey, the district member present, read the address, stating the wonderful fellowship all had enjoyed with the Rev. and Mrs. Dunning during their two years stay in Madoc. They were presented with a chesterfield chair, a mix-master and a wool blanket. Mr. Dunning thanked the people for their kindness and his wife had enjoyed while in Madoc and for their thoughtful gifts. Mr. Stevenson closed the evening, after which refreshments were served by the ladies of Madoc and Eldorado.

Lodges Hold Decoration Day At Cemetery

STIRLING — The annual Decoration Day and Memorial Service of Stirling Lodge No. 239 and Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 213 was held on Sunday afternoon.

"Your Best Investment Is In Your Home... Modernize Now!"
That's right .. .. .. the Best Investment Your Money Can Buy Is In Your Home! Why? .. .. ..
Think of any item you may purchase today, over a period of time the depreciation, wear and tear will decrease the resale value to a fraction of the original cost!
Now a home is one of the few items that does not depreciate, but increases in value, over a period of time.
Where does modernization fit into this? .. .. .. Well, if you add an extra room, build a garage, recreation room, or modernize in most any way, it will increase the value of your home, and you will have extra comfort with this modernization.
Remember, any modernization you make to your home increases the value of your home, and gives you more comfort. So, think it over, and you'll agree with us when we say .. .. .. "Your Best Investment Is In Your Home . . . Modernize now!"

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By Geo. H. Carver, Sports Editor

Yvon Durelle, the herring-choker light heavyweight who used to do pack drill-in a Pieton army training centre, may have to suspend building operations on the newest addition to his Bai St. Anne, N.B., fishing fleet.

YVON DURELLE

Durelle defends his Hight heavy British Empire title against the South African light heavyweight champion Mike Holt in the Montreal Forum, Wednesday night, and reports from the eastern metropolis have it that the down-easter Canuck is brimming over with confidence.

The slow-moving admiral of his own New Brunswick fishing fleet expects to add a herring-catching sea freighter to his salty flotilla with the pickings he picks up from the fight. He may have to settle for so extra red and reel.

The fisherman-fighter, said to be in the best physical condition of his boxing career, has no intention in predicting he will knock out the South African. "I'm the champ—I'm going to remain the champ," he is quoted as saying. His manager concurs.

But down Montreal way, some of fight-box experts won't go all the way with the Durelle prognostication. Those who have been watching the South African work out are quite impressed with his gym showing and style. Johnny Greco's former manager, Pit Andolfo, says "I like Holt better every time I see him. He keeps moving and he's a good puncher with either hand—a real good hooker.

Others say if Holt keeps moving he may give Durelle a lot of trouble. — The fighting fisherman is sharpshooter and looks particularly wild when he is in with a fast-moving target.

In his last fight in Montreal, Durelle had a hard time trying to find Germinal Ballaris, who seemed doing a fancy ballet practically all night with the fisherman in hot pursuit. It was said Durelle looked like a guy trying to swat a particularly elusive fly—and he was in no amiable frame of mind when it was over. "It takes two to make a fight," he grumbled.

The only Montrealer to see Holt fight, Harry Shepherd, issues a warning to the Durelle camp. He says Holt won't run like Ballaris did. He is a good belter and keeps going forward all the time. "If Durelle isn't in top condition he could lose this one."

Shepherd should know. When he managed Gordon Wallace, he took his boy to South Africa for a bout with Holt. The home town boy flattened the Canadian in the first round.

Shepherd may be somewhat biased. He once managed Durelle and sold his contract for $400. Afterwards Durelle showed startling improvement and got some good money bouts. That may have something to do with the Shepherd opinions.

Holt confines his training to the ring and the road. Unlike other fighters he does not watch television or movies or an opponent's fights. He prefers "to find out all about him when I meet him in the ring."

Holt has had twelve bouts as a light heavyweight and has won them all. He won seven by knockouts and took the decision from Yolande Pompey in his last fight in London in June. He has never been knocked out.

Both Holt and Durelle have their sights set on the same target—a bout with aging Archie Moore for the world light heavyweight championship. After his bout with Pompey Holt returned to South Africa where he went into training. He is boxing three rounds a day in Montreal.

But Durelle is nobody's fool. He won't be any pushover for the South African. A bit awkward, true, a little crude, but he is a fighter from way back, and Holt may discover this to his sorrow before the twelve rounds have passed into history.

Hits Homer 26 in 6-1 Win As Yanks Scalp Tribe 11-3; Turley Racks Up Victory 13

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quietly and almost unnoticed, Jackie Jensen has replaced Ted Williams as Mr. Big of Boston Red Sox.

Ever since he arrived on the scene as a spindly kid in 1936, Williams has been the man the Red Sox looked to for the big blow when they needed it.

Ted will be 40 next month. While he's still to be feared when he grabs his bat (he's hitting .310), Williams definitely is No. 2 man in the Red Sox power department these days.

Jensen probably has surprised himself in his new role. This is his ninth season in the American League, and he has finished as a .300 hitter just once—in 1955 when he batted .315.

But he's rolling along at a .319 clip this year and leads the league in runs batted in with 76 and home runs with 26. Homer No. 26 came Friday in Boston's 6-1 decision over Chicago White Sox.

Jensen also knocked in four runs to make Ike Delock's day on the mound easy. The victory was Delock's eighth without a defeat.

New York Yankees blasted Cleveland Indians 11-3 and Washington Senators edged Detroit Tigers 6-5 in a night game. A game between Kansas City Athletics and Baltimore Orioles was rained out.

TURLEY WINS 13th

The Yanks backed Bob Turley's pitching with a 14-hit attack on three Cleveland pitchers to keep their lead at 11 games over the Red Sox.

It was Turley's 13th victory and made him the top winner in the majors. He got two homers to Vic Power and Larry Doby as Ray Narleski, Jim Tribe's top pitcher, suffered the defeat.

Ed Fitzgerald hit a two-out pinch double with the scored Roy Sievers from third base in the ninth for Washington's win. That capped a three-run come-from-behind rally.

The Senators were trailing by 5-1 as late as the sixth inning, but got to Detroit starter Jim Bunning for a run at this time of the sixth and chased him with two more in the fifth.

Bill Fischer was pitching as the Senators came up for their ticket in the ninth, trailing 5-4. Albie Pearson and Sievers singled and Clint Courtney sacrificed. Jim Lemon was walked intentionally, filling the bases. Herb Plews forced Lemon at second, just beating the relay, while Pearson scored the tying run. Hank Aguirre came in to pitch and Fitzgerald got his hit.

Empire Games

Aussies Favorites to Take Large Haul of Gold Medals

CARDIFF (CP) — It wouldn't surprise many people if Australian athletes won 40 of the 92 British Empire Games gold medals at stake July 18-26 to make the greatest one-country haul in the 28-year history of this Commonwealth sports extravaganza.

The swelle grassland Aussies are the world's fastest humans in the water and on land at the 880-yard mark and 440 yards to a mile.

The Aussies have a simple explanation for their world-recognized greatness: Sacrifice pleasure for hard work.

"That's the only reason we've reached the top," team manager Bill Wood said in an interview Friday at St. Athan, an RAF station converted into an Empire Village for athletes 17 miles west of this Welsh capital.

"We'll win these Games because this team is the greatest we've ever had. Every international competition, including the 1956 Olympics," Young said, "has brought us gold medals with 75 athletes in the 1954 Vancouver Games and there's no earthly reason why we shouldn't double that with our 100-athlete team here."

England won 22 gold medals at Vancouver, the greatest achievement by one country since the Games started in Hamilton, Ont., 28 years ago. Many were won in track and field but the Aussies say the Englishmen won't clean up this time.

"We've got world-record holders in both men's and women's track, swimming and cycling," Young said. "Our kids achieved all this by hard work and any rewards they get are well earned. They're entitled to everything coming their way."

The evidence of stiff training is obvious at the track in Empire Village and at the Empire pool in downtown Cardiff. Resident, but not cocky, the Aussies have been watched closely by athletes of other countries here who freely admit that the downunder swimmers and cinder track stars are unbeatable.

There are 1,000 athletes from countries entered in the Cardiff Games and it appears to be a battle between England and Australia with others, including Canada, taking the left-overs.

Duke's Suit Is Dismissed

CINCINNATI (AP) — A $75,000 damage suit against Duke Snider, slugging centre fielder for Los Angeles Dodgers, was dismissed in common pleas court Friday.

Mrs. Dovie Greene of Cincinnati filed the suit complaint, claiming she was injured June 19, 1954, at Crosley Field when Snider fooled a fly ball and struck the fan when then was Brooklyn Dodgers.

The judge dismissed the case saying Mrs. Green had no stated cause of action.

Windsor Golfer Sets Record for Junior Crown

TORONTO (CP) — Bob Panasuik, a 18-year-old who wants to be a professional golfer, appears close to his goal ready.

The Windsor Roseland product set what is believed to be a record for the Ontario junior golf championship when he carded a five-under par 67 in his second round Friday.

Panasuik had a 77 the first time around the par-72, 6,310-yard course. Last year's provincial juvenile champion, he won the 36th annual junior title with a 144 total, eight strokes better than defending champion Phil Brownlee of Toronto Scarboro and Ross Pollard of Brantford.

"I played about the same game in both rounds," said Panasuik, "but was lucky on the second time around."

John Kindred of Peterborough Kawartha won the juvenile championship defeating Ted Talbot of Hamilton on the second hole. They finished the Pegulation 36 holes with identical 73-75—144 cards.

TAKES BANTAM CROWN

Jerry Rohr, 13-year-old from Peterborough, showed more assembly line, topped the bantams, who also played 36 holes, with an 89. Bill Lee of Toronto Uplands was second one stroke behind.

Panasuik, who had an eagle in each round, wasn't over par once under on the second, sixth, 10th and 11th, had an eagle three on the fourth and a birdie the ninth.

A total of 104 played under pennant conditions. Toronto There were 45 juniors (16, 17, 18), 32 juvenies (14, 15) and 28 bantams (13 and under).

TO MEET QUEBEC

A 10-man team, taking the top two in the boys' group from 14 through 18, was named to play a Quebec team at Toronto Lord Club Aug. 4. It includes: 18—Pollard, Pete McCaig, Cobourg, 150; Panasuik, Jim Cushing, Bushbury Idylwilde, 150; 16—Panasuik, George Sakalo, St. Catharines, 158; 15—Kindred, Talbot; 14—Bob Jamieson, Peterborough, 160; Brownlee, Toronto Thornhill, 162.

TV Blackout For Montreal

TORONTO (CP) — The CBC said Friday Montreal and Sherbrooke, Que., will be blacked out in network television coverage of the July 18 fight between Yvon Durelle of Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., and Mike Holt of South Africa.

Earlier the CBC said the fight, to be staged in Montreal, would be carried on a closed-circuit network. It is scheduled to start at 10 p.m. EDT.

Says Montreal Could Be Site Of World Bout

MONTREAL (CP) — President Truman Gibson of the International Boxing Club says Montreal could be the stage for a world light heavyweight title bout between champion Archie Moore and the winner of Wednesday's fight between Yvon Durelle and Mike Holt.

He told a gathering of sportsmen Friday:

"We hope to be able to match the winner with Archie Moore for a world title fight right here in Montreal."

The Durelle-Holt fight is for Durelle's British Empire light heavyweight championship.

Both fighters and their managers were at the gathering. Chris Shaban, manager of Durelle, the fisherman from Bale Ste. Anne, N.B., said he was anxious to confer with Eddie Quinn, promoter of next week's fight, and Gibson.

"If Durelle wins, we have an offer from a Vancouver promoter to box Moore there," Shaban said, not elaborating. "I want to discuss the matter with them."

He also said he aims to get a return bout clause inserted in the contract for his charge's title tilt with Holt, from Johannesburg, South Africa.

"I want a return bout clause in the contract with the bout to be held here. I don't want to go all the way to South Africa in the event that Durelle doesn't win. Which, of course, is silly to think about.

"Durelle will knock him out."

Davis Cup

Canada's Win Dream Fizzes As Americans Take 2 in Row

TORONTO (CP) — There was an ten today or those expensive dreams Canada had about what she was going to do in the Davis Cup tennis round against the United States.

Whitley Reed, a blonde, unorthodox-striking Toronto boy from Alameda, Calif., Friday shattered Canadian aspirations for an upset victory that gave the U.S. a commanding 3-0 lead in the North American zone semi-final round.

The six-foot-one Reed, ranked No. 8 in the U.S. and playing in his first Davis Cup competition, defeated Canadian champion Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., 6-4, 6-4.

Bedard put up a magnificent battle in a losing performance and the crowd of nearly 1,000 at Sunday Club developed fair play as he played well against a powerful opponent.

SUFFERS LETDOWN

The outcome depended a great deal on the first set when Bedard, recovering from a cramp for the sixth straight year in the Davis Cup play, was twice within a stroke of set point. He suffered a letdown in the second set but then came on with a finishing kick to stave off match point five times in the 10th game of the third set.

The victory, c -ing on top of Barry MacKay's win over second-ranking Don Fontana of Toronto in the opening singles, leaves the U.S. needing to triumph only in the doubles today or in one of the two concluding singles Monday to clinch the round.

MacKay, the Dayton, Ohio, star and fast-striking U.S. player, defeated Fontana in straight sets here Thursday, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4.

Reed, a lanky, slim-hipped Texan who will be 22 next month, carried the American attack to victory in the doubles. The team of stemming a three-straight vic- love-40.

Bobcats Clinch Third Position With 4-1 Victory Over Trenton

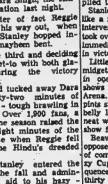
By GARRY ALEXANDER

Belleville Bobcats clinched at least third place in the Belleville and District softball league at CNRA Park last night by handing the fourth-place Trenton Legion Juniors a 4-1 setback.

The victory was three in a row for the Cobourg Cats in fast-moving attempt to catch the Cobourg Merchants. Cobourg also won last night over Frankford, blasting the Frankford Merchants record while Cobourg Bobcats second with nine wins and five setbacks. Cobourg has two games left, both against the Cats while Temple's crew also have a game remaining with Point Anne.

Templar's Tabbies used the power hitting of Bobby Hull and "Wiener" Brown along with fine pitching by Bobby Greene to defeat the Juniors. They scored two runs in each of the first and sixth frames while Trenton netted their loner in the sixth.

Brown and Hull personally looked after all the Templar scoring and all but one of their hits. Brown, batting in the third slot, cracked a single to left with two out in the first inning. Hull followed with one of the longest home runs witnessed in the loop in a long time, blasting the ball over the left field fence field. The ball took one bounce and another bouncing off the distant fence.



Trenton got one back in the top of the next inning on only frame in which the Juniors threatened. They loaded the bases with two infield singls by Doug Alexander, an error and a base-on-balls. The ball scooted between home on a short passed ball but the next two runners died on second and third as Green settled down to get the next three batters on popups for a strike-out.

Then in the bottom of the same frame the Cats closed out the scoring with two insurance runs. Hull got going with a single, racing on to second on an overthrow. Bobby Hull drove in his third run by smashing a bullet triple through the infield and "Big" Guidolin sped Hull with a lined single.

Southpaw Bob Green gave up six hits over the route, walked them both, to register his second win of the campaign. He seemed more disciplined with wood control in walking only two batters.

Ron Wannamaker gave up two runs off three hits in five innings to be charged with the loss. He whiffed two and walked seven. Howard Cole pitched the remainder, allowing three hits.

Lloyd Crawford, Don Barrett, Howard Cole and "Wiener" Brown came up with some fine fielding plays in the game. Green's chore a little easier. Floyd and "Wiener" made a pair of stellar performers for the U.S. rests with Bedard and Fontana, an experienced doubles pair who play well together.

The 26-year - old Reed, who plays the polish of the other the ing young American tennis stars, makes up for it with determination and cleverness. His blasting first service and sharp volley has given him a big edge over the 29-year-old Bedard, enabling him to play a forcing game through out and break the Canadian's service once in the first set, twice in the second and once in the third. Reed never lost his own service in the one-hour-37-minute match.

CAME CLOSE

The five-foot-10 - inch Bedard came extremely close to winning the first set. The two held service for 14 games before Reed managed to eke out a win the decisive 15th game.

In the preceding game, Bedard twice was within a shot of breaking Reed's service and winning the set but he couldn't get over the hump on either occasion.

The American then came through with his service when it counted most to device and he was a heartbreaker for the Canadian player's fans and it opened the way for Reed to break the Canadian's service in the third game in the second set after the score went to deuce. Reed then came on to break Bedard's delivery again in the seventh game with a love game.

The only service break in the first set came in the fifth game and it gave Reed a 3-2 lead. Reed won love games and on his serves to make it 5-4 and then Reed was carried to set point five times before wrapping it up after being down 0-40.

Leafs Nudge Red Wings 3-2; Royals Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Solly Drake, his bid to make major league baseball set back by a knocking here years ago, has two objectives. He has his eyes on an International League pitching job and another chance in the big time.

Solly, Montreal Royals' top centrefielder, was injured during 1952 spring training while with Chicago Cubs. He moved closer to the hitting record Friday when he ran his string to 33 straight games as the league-leading Royals defeated Buffalo Bisons 6-0 behind the six-hit pitching of Warner (Babe) Birrer. Drake's home run, triple, double and single boosted his batting average to .311.

The league consecutive - game hitting record is 36, established by Bill Kelly of Baltimore in 1935.

The victory, achieved with Dick Teed also hitting a homer for the Royals, left Montreal 5½ games in front of Toronto Maple Leafs, who defeated the third - place Rochester Red Wings 3-2. Miami Marlins moved to within three games of fourth-place Columbus by downing the Jets 5-1. Richmond Virginians beat Havana Sugar Kings 7-2.

SPORTS 19th

Birrer fanned four men and walked two in gaining his 10th win against four setbacks. The loser was Ken Johnson, tagged for eight of Montreal's 10 hits and five runs. He is 5-10.

Righthander Don Johnson scattered seven hits and allowed only four hits as the Leafs edged Rochester. Leafs' next visit here to the plate is a three-run ninth inning for the victory. The Wings scored in the eighth.

First - baseman Rocky Nelson drove home what proved to be the winning run with a single after second baseman Mike Goliat had singled home a pair.

The win gave Johnson an 8-4 record for the season. Rochester starter Gary Blaylock, who took the defeat, is 9-4.

GETS EARLY LEAD

Pitcher Bob Conley of Miami stopped the Jets on six hits. Doubles by Ben Tompkins and Frank Howard in the first inning gave him a 1-0 working margin and he faced only 31 batters through the first five innings.

Left fielder Bob Wheeler scored seven hits and joined in a 12-hit attack in Richmond's victory. He hit one of three Richmond home runs in winning his eighth game against four defeats. Byron Johnson and Rance Pless also homered for the Virginians.

Johnson hit his 12th homer to lead off the second inning and opened the scoring for the Virginians. Pless' homer, his ninth, came with a man on base and rounded things off. Ernie Cueche in the third inning when the Virginians scored three runs to take a 4-0 lead.

Russ Rushed Ernestine Out of Country

WINDSOR (CP) — A weary and hungry Ernestine Russell and her cousin Bernard Newman, both unnaturally rushed out of Russia Friday by the Red government.

The first uncensored message from the coast-to-coast air hop Fri- ...ght he placed a call from Vienna to Mrs. Newman and the Windsor Daily Star.

"You can say this," he said, "we are damn glad to be out of there. The government didn't want us to stay. There is no doubt about it."

Ernestine finished 50th Thursday in the gymnastic champion- ships. There were 88 contestants.

Although they had planned to stay in Moscow until July 14 in order to make a tour of the city they were told to leave immediately following the competition's conclusion.

"There is nothing wrong with the people. They are nice as you can find anywhere. It is just the government. You have no idea how bad things can be," he said.

ALL FOR ERNIE

Newman said the Russian fans were all for Ernestine. They kept chanting "Russell - - Russell —Russell" throughout the competition.

"Everywhere we went the children followed her. They gave her gifts and took her picture."

Newman said the Russians were all Communist. He said Ernestine didn't deserve to win 50th place because she placed in the first 15.

"She was hampered by the fact that she was weak from loss of weight. She lost eight pounds in about nine days. I lost one. The food was horrible and what you didn't eat as one meal was re-presented on your plate at the next meal. There was no variety, no butter for your bread. We were glad to be out from behind the Iron Curtain," he said.

Ernestine's big mark was made in the compulsory horse vaulting. She placed sixth.

Lisowski Brother Act Fails So Dara Singh Gets the Nod

By GEO. H. CARVER
(Sports Editor)

Reggie Lisowski should have read the story of the Lone Ranger.

He should have learned at a younger age to fight his own battles and not depend on family support.

Family interference proved the downfall of the much - heralded ash blonde of the muscle bound with Dara Singh, the Hindu mat sensation last night.

As a matter of fact Reggie was well on his way out, when his brother Stanley boogied into the ring mayhem bent.

It was the third and deciding fall of the wrist-tip with both gladiators sharing the victory spoils.

Reggie had tucked away Dara after twenty-two minutes of rough - and - tough brawling in the opener. Over 1,900 fans, a record for the season raised the roof after a short session of the second hassle when Reggie fell victim to the Hindu's dreaded cobra hold.

Brother Stanley entered the ring after the fall and admirably interfered first aid to his hary - ing downed Mr. Ali. Richmond and insisted on acting as second to the family pride for the third fall.

But Referee Bert Maxwell laid down the law. No sir, you won't act as second; in fact you will take your seat as a spectator, he told Stanley. But Stanley retreated for a short distance and took up a ring side position close to the front.

Dara Singh went into rapid-fire action as soon as the coast was clear. He circled Reggie then threw him with a flying tackle. But the ropes saved the blonde. A second later Singh again applied the hold in centre ring.

Stanley went through the ropes like a flying jet, to give aid to intervene when M'sieu Maxwell took over. Stanley did not hesitate. He immediately lifted the Singh arm in victory and the bout was over.

Little Beaver and his troupe of midgets took the house by storm in one of their most hilarious acts ever matted in Memorial Arena. For thirty minutes the ballyhoo staged a battle that for sheer belly laughs, lightning action and neat wrestling, practically stole the show from the big brothers.

Beaver and pal Cowboy Bradley dropped Sky Lo Lo also a master of comedy and the villainous Fuzzy Cupid. It was a rapid fire session that left the fans begging for thirty minutes that was worth the price of admission alone.

Stanley Lisowski used everything in his bag of wiles and tricks to subdue popular Timothy Geohagen in a rough-and-ready preliminary that lasted eighteen minutes or more.

Here Is Real Fisherman's Paradise

Twenty-five years ago, under the direction of Commissioner Lee "Ollie" Deibler, then in charge of the Pennsylvania Game Commission, there was constructed in the Spring Creek valley, near Bellefonte, Penna., a recreation area for the fishermen of the state. One mile of Spring Creek and the land surrounding it was fenced off and landscaped.

The necessary driveways were created, parking areas established, and sanitary areas, improvements were installed. Then that mile of excellent trout water was stocked exclusively with the king-size trout — brown, rainbow, and squaretail. The fishermen of Pennsylvania were invited to come to this area on the opening morning of the season, of course, to certain definite rules and regulations. It was called "Fisherman's Paradise."

They have tapped these pleasant and productive waters several times, the first time, admittedly getting off a bit, we sat around on opening day and watched hundreds of dads bring Spring Creek off a froth until the major solunar period arrived at 10:30 A. M. Then we made our way into a relatively unoccupied section of the stream and in the next minutes hooked eleven huge trout and three unwary fishermen who walked into the trout set. We managed to shake off all but two of the trout, but landed only three of the fishermen.

The rules are fair and reasonable. You must register when you come in and check out when you leave. Barbless hooks must be used and you may kill only one fish, all others must be immediately and carefully returned to the water. Once a fish has been killed, you can no longer fish. Only orthodox fly fishing is allowed and this rules out worm flies, spinning, or casting lures directly from reel; no spinners, wobblers, etc. Size limit, bait, and other minor regulations, all of them fair and reasonable.

We in Pennsylvania are proud of our Fisherman's Paradise. That it is popular among Pennsylvania anglers is not surprising. Getting there it can, if he is lucky and fishes carefully, hook and land the fish of his dreams as there are large fish in those waters which will top twelve pounds.

Along with the current conditions of today and the heavy demand placed upon our streams, we suggest that other states fall in line. In the warmer states, with year-round fishing, support trout, the same sort of area could be created for bass fishing. The idea has stood the test of time here, and there is no cause to believe that it would not be equally popular elsewhere.

POLAR BEARS AND AIR-PLANES

U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, while it does not come right out and say so, seems to be a little concerned about the increase in the annual kill of polar bears by bear. Trouble is, until more research is done, nobody is quite sure just how many polar bears big animals can be brought in without seriously depleting the overall population.

Until recent years the polar bear was well protected by the conditions under which it lives. They are killed for their skins and those killed for food did not upset nature's plan to any considerable extent.

Then came the airplane. Bear hunting by plane, by the air, riding the ice pack far out to sea. Result — the kill is two or three times the game of the new in-

Cobourg Whips Frankford 11-7 In Open Game

FRANKFORD (Special) — Rolly Campbell clinched and bested the Cobourg Merchants for a single win last night as the tall-end Frankford Merchants in a Belleville and District Softball League game here last night.

The loss was number eleven in a row for the homesters and left them little chance of overtaking Trenton Legion Juniors for playoff berth.

Cobourg scored two runs each in the first and fifth frames and remaining while Frankford is 2-11 with three games left.

Frankford came within two innings of snapping their slump last night as they built a 5-3 lead and held it until the eighth inning. Cobourg then plated five runs to forge ahead 8-5, added three in the ninth against a pair by Frankford.

In the eighth Dick Turpin started Cobourg's rally with a single and with Hawley Cole and Clarey also singled, scoring one run and leaving the bases still loaded. Rolly Campbell then won his own game by hammering a single through short.

Campbell was the batting hero all night as he added a double and single to his four-run clinching effort. Bob Hawley had a triple and single, while Dick Turpin, Jim Fisher and Buster Clarey each singled. Jim "Sleepy" Dawe and Leo O'Brien also hit safely for Cobourg.

Mike Cosgrove powered the Frankford attack with his first home run of the season, a triple and three singles. Duff D'Eon tripled and Bob Hawley and Ken Hunter had a pair of singles. Jason Field, the loop's leading batter, had three hits in three official trips. Doug Armstrong, Bill Hamlin and Doug Brouwer added one-baggers.

Despite the high score, Campbell and Hawley bobbed up in a strikeout duel. Campbell gave up 11 hits and fanned five while Hawley allowed 13 hits, whiffed 13 and issued two free passes.

Ortega Seeks Akins Following Crawford Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Gaspar Ortega, winner by a split decision over Mickey Virgil during a 10-round bout, hopes he can make a pothat of money with a lightweight title fight in Los Angeles.

Ortega, ranked No. 2 among lightweights by Ring magazine and seventh by the National Boxing Association, is on his way to a victory over Crawford Friday night. Crawford's manager is with the NBA and No. 1 with Ring. It was the third defeat for the veteran Virgil in his career.

Crawford, the 2-to-1 favorite, was floored by Harold Barker in the scoring. Barker, who used to fight as Bobby Barker, weighs in at 135 pounds. The Associated Press card was 7-2-1 for Ortega.

"Ortega fought only part of each round," said Virgil's manager Charley Goldman. "The other fellow fought three minutes each round. That's the difference."

Mike Corby, Ortega's manager, began shouting for an Akins bout immediately.

It was touch and go in the early rounds between the 23-year-old Ortega, who weighed 147 pounds, swept to a decision by taking seven of the last nine rounds. Crawford weighed 147¾ pounds.

Those of you who read this column regularly no doubt will remember accounts of the spraying of 2,000 acres of marsh and in eastern Florida with a new chemical which is about twenty times more powerful than DDT. The purpose was to eradicate the sand fly in that area. As yet there are no reports of the effect of the spray, but the spraying did eradicate just about everything.

At that time, there was mention made of the plan of the Department of Agriculture to wage war on the fire ant which is unpleasantly widespread in the Gulf states and southern states. Alabama is included in that category.

Now we come in that Hon. W. H. Drinkard, Director, Alabama Department of Conservation recently wired congressmen and wildlife interests as follows:

"Urgently request strongest action possible to halt all insecticide treatments for fire-ant control, and to secure Congressional appropriations for comprehensive research to determine long-term effects on wildlife, fish, song birds and human population. Field observations in Alabama indicate that treatments with heptachlor and dieldrin at the rate of one pound per acre have killed many species of wildlife, including quail, song birds, fish, and even livestock. Reports indicate that similar results have been obtained in other states."

Drinkard's wire was sent to Senator Lister Hill, Senator John Sparkman, Congressman Robert E. Jones, Jr., Congressman George Huddleston, Jr., Congressman Frank W. The Knox Boys Are in Trouble Again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Harvey Knox Fridays demanded an immediate hearing on a dispute between his gridiron son, quarterback Ronnie Knox, and Chicago Bears.

The Bears suspended Ronnie Oct. 3 for "wilful violation of rules and regulations of the club." They claim Ronnie missed practice and special quarterback tutoring sessions. Knox, who once played for Calgary Stampeders and Hamilton Tiger-Cats, sat out the rest of the season.

Harvey Knox telegraphed Bert Bell, National Football League commissioner, asking for the hearing and saying it is Bell's duty to settle player-club disputes.

Bell said in Atlantic City, N.J., he understood Ronnie and his lawyer, Jerry Geisler, were going to Chicago soon to meet with Halas.

Ti-Cats Give 11 Rookies Try

HAMILTON (CP) — Coach Jim Trimble Friday night asked 11 members of the rookie camp to report when Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football League open training camp Monday.

Heading the list is a swift halfback from North Bay, Ernie McKee has been a standout throughout the week-long drills.

Other rookie-towners who'll report include linebacker Vic Zeboski of Sarnia and wallback Dave Knight of Caledonia.

Also picked were Ray Harris and Al Schatz, linemen with Brantford Tiger-Cats in 1957.

Junior Sets Track Record

HAMILTON (CP) — Eighteen-year-old Ergas Lepa, running for the Toronto East York Track Club, set a new Canadian 440-yard record Friday during opening events of the annual Canadian junior, juvenile and midget track and field championships.

Lepa, who already holds the Canadian half-mile junior record, chopped seven tenths of a second off the previous record with a time of 48.4 seconds.

A total of 237 athletes, are participating in the meet, sponsored by the Hamilton-Police Amateur Athletic Association.

Six events were run off in each division, with the remainder scheduled to take today.

Athletes from Guelph were in events, the two miles and the pole vault.

Billy Reynolds won the two miles in 9:36.8. Another Guelph runner, A. Hamilton was second. Fritz Stellar won the pole vault with a leap of 10 feet, six inches.

Toronto Girl Continues Pace In Ladies' Golf

KINGSTON (CP) — Roma Neundorf of Toronto Ladies' Club continued her sizzling pace Friday in opening rounds of the Eastern Provinces golf championships at the Cataraqui Club.

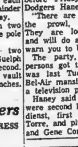
Miss Neundorf, who shot a par 72 Thursday to lead the qualifying medal-play round, eliminated seven competitors without being forced to extend herself.

She will meet Mrs. L. Ross of Cobourg in the semi-final round today. Mrs. Ross eliminated young Berla Hawkins of North Bay 5 and 4 Friday and went on to oust another young golfer, Gail Harvey, 15, of Toronto 4 and 3.

Mrs. Marlene Stewart Streit of Fonthill won both her opening and the quarter-final matches to enter the semi-final round against Quebec's lone remaining entry, Judy Darling of Montreal.

Mrs. Streit downed Mrs. N. Carlson of Toronto, the founder of the tournament, in the opening session and went on to eliminate Sheila Collins of Dundas Valley 3 and 2.

Naughty Braves Get Warning From Manager



LOS ANGELES (AP) — Milwaukee baseball manager Fred Haney, prompted by a wild party attended by four of his stars, assembled his world champion Braves Friday for a warning about the perils of Hollywood.

In a session at the clubhouse before Friday's game with the Dodgers Haney told the team:

"There are a lot of people on the prowl, particularly girls. They are looking for publicity and will do anything to get it. I warn you to be careful."

The session came as several persons got tossed into the pool, was last Thursday night at the Bel-Air mansion of Warner Taub, a television producer.

Haney said the Braves present were second baseman Red Shoendienst, first baseman Frank Torre, and pitchers Lew Burdette and Gene Conley.

TV NOTEBOOK

by John Wetlaufer

We noticed a few sticks of type in the paper recently which probably went largely unheeded. It concerned the fact that Russia is tinkering with a gimmick that is supposed to be strictly a product of the decadent West — namely, the TV commercial.

Russian TV's first commercial was a pitch for state-produced baby food, and showed a boy in his high chair rejecting other foods but gurgling happily when handed the genuine Soviet stuff.

If this develops into a full-blown commercial binge it could keep the Soviet masses busy scrounging money they don't have to buy products that aren't available anyway.

At this point we're going to slip in a small commercial ourselves concerning the honest TV repair you can expect at CIRCLE TV SERVICE, 308 Coleman St. We're old fashioned in that we like to do every job right — thoroughly and at the lowest cost to our customers. Mr. Television Coming Back With All His Old Berlisms

By BOB THOMAS

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Mister Television is coming back to the home screen with all the brash mannerisms that won him that title.

"I gotta people wait to laugh," says Milton Berle, "and I'm going to try to make them."

Before resuming his career as a TV regular, Uncle Miltie is taking his desert resort. Resting—hah! The guy is knocking himself out twice nightly at El Rancho Vegas, crowning with an operatic soliette, machine-gunning gags at the audience and ending in a whirlwind tap routine that looks far too strenuous for a man marking his first half-century.

"Yes, I'll be 50 this week," he confessed. "Perhaps the new TV series will reflect some of the maturity I have achieved with the years."

Otherwise, the Wednesday night half - hour will be pure Berle. He said he would try to do the same kind of thing he did during his early season—"some sketches, some songs, some jokes."

He corrected the impression that his return to TV was directly due to his performance on the Emmy awards show. That was when he went on in the early part of the telecast and wowed the audience with his Berlisms. He stayed overtime and helped louse up the scheduling. But most critics welcomed his spontaneous foolery in an otherwise drab show.

"My coming back had nothing to do with the Emmy show," Berle declared. "It came about because of a dramatic show I did for Kraft Theatre. I didn't think the show was entirely successful, but it got the highest rating the series had ever had—a 24 when they had been getting around 12.

"The sponsor was thinking of dropping the dramatic series and I was asked about going on for them. It sounded good to me: so I signed with them."

Berle will occupy the first half of the old Kraft hour, followed by only another western, "Bat Masterson." With Jackie Gleason also returning for TV, it would appear that the comics are moving in for another stand against the gunslingers and quizmasters.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Sunday, July 13, 1958

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Usually you are so alive and full of such remarkable flashes and intuitions that you will find it difficult to concentrate on one specified thing. Pick out the best idea and stick to that. Don't dash off hither and yon. Be wise.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — The advice you get from a good friend today relative to your current problems, while good, is not truly applicable. And since it is different to your own line of thinking, you have only to be objective and find best solution yourself.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — Fortunately everything breaks into the open today with your partners, the good and the not-so-good. Take advantage of this opportunity to wisely make amends where necessary and gain where it is your right. Be very co-operative, either.

Born Children (June 22 to July 21) — This day should be intelligently spent first at the church of your choice, then doing those necessary tasks that ties will laud you for, and enjoying an evening of quiet in your study, reading what will most vitally help you now and later.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Many persons bent on pleasure will today try to take you away from some necessary work you wish to do. Be smart and combine the two wisely. Better reserve the evening for fun and frolic. Pay off social obligations congregationally.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — By observing the Golden Rule in all that you do today, you will gain additional abundance and popularity soon, since this will become to the attention of powerful people. Do not feel you retain equilibrium.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — By serious religious study today at church of your faith, or with chosen advisor, you can attain a much higher consciousness than heretofore. Then your whole life becomes far more worthwhile.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — By going into the so-called silence, or deep reverie, you can today get in tune with the powerful spiritual forces that will give you the inspiration how best to solve any current and disturbing problems. Have faith.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — Ideas expounded by wide-awake and inspired associate today have a great deal of merit. Hence, let go of some of those old-fashioned ideas of your own and profit by this sage advice. Get your life on a higher basis.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Personal troubles can best be handled today by thinking of and doing for others who are not so well off as you are. Complete altruism now stores up blessings for you, which are very soon in the coming. Be big.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Astrologically, you should arise feeling on top of the world today, but to remain on that consciousness, avoid sourdough pal who is always looking for a shoulder to weep on. Be with happy, smart friends and live.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Be very certain to use all wisdom in doing for those with whom you associate today. Be not too social and find a better way of furthering your career. However, do not bring newcomers to your home or have tie tag along.

If your child is born today — The interesting little child born today is the charming type who either goes to one extreme or the other. However, this can be rather dangerous as he or she gets older since nothing can get quite finished, and it is your duty to bring a better balance into this life. A good school where rigid training is given would be best, and then the pattern is formed. A wonderful writer in this chart.

Monday, July 14

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — You are in tune with your star and should be feeling wonderfully energetic, so that you can easily accomplish a great deal. Have conferences, work, run errands. Make this a banner day! And be sure to put all your ties in order.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — Private matters you feel are what you should handle exclusively today. That is well and good, provided you are very sensible about them, especially where money is concerned. And don't just take time in conversation only.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — You have the ways and means today to contact those powerful personages you can surely swing your way and get their support for your earlier success in life. But be brief and dynamic. P.M. spend a delightfully romantic evening.

Moon children (June 22 to July 21) — You are most anxious to get greater prestige, popularity, credit. This can be accomplished if you make it your business to see the right personages and ask for advice privately. But be sure to act upon plans formulated.

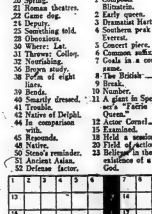
Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Take advantage of the fine aspects today by stepping out of dull-seldom existence and going to some fine place with good atmosphere with an interesting and clever friends. Something very good will come of it. P.M. love and romance.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Think in broad terms today, and be sure to contact those persons who can give you a boost upward in your specific fields. Change your attitude to a positive and optimistic one. Face life bravely and it is wonderful.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — Temperamental but most clever pal today gives you advice that you should be clever enough to follow. Then go to some nice spot and talk things over in most friendly and happy fashion.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — A good idea today to look into such matters as Social Security, bonds, investments, etc., to see how efficiently they function with present position you are in. Converse with fellow worker, too, or some expert on such affairs.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — A clear thinking associate may truly be the solutions to many of the problems that face you now, so give both ears to what he or she has to suggest. Later, relax at some favorite kind of fun, sports, theatre, driving, etc.



Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — A family lie is the person to consult today if you would make your daily life less monotonous. Be sure to follow his or her advice. Then, in the evening, have a wonderful time with this pal.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Devote any free time stylishly studying the latest trends in fashion, beauty, etc., that will give you more savoir faire, ease. Later, bring your special gifts to the attention of right persons. P.M. be happy at home with kin.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Much of this day should be spent attending to fundamental matters, and being sure you are working along harmoniously with all others vital to your life. Be considerate, practical and, above all things, fair. Then you really progress.

If your child is born today — The delightful child born today quickly shows marks of real genius coupled with an intriguing air of humility which is very appealing. But take care you do not smother him or her with too much love too long, or your offering will not gain the greatest attributes in life — independence. The horoscope speaks loudly of the pioneer in music, sciences, and particularly in medicine.

Bergman Free To Marry Again

ROME (Reuters) — The marriage of movie director Roberto Rossellini and Ingrid Bergman was annulled Thursday freeing the Swedish film star for her third try at matrimony.

An Italian court upheld Rossellini's contention that Miss Bergman's Mexican divorce from her first husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, was not legally complete at the time the Italian director married her in 1950.

Miss Bergman said last week she would marry Swedish producer Lars Schmidt if her marriage to Rossellini was annulled.

The Week's News

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

President Eisenhower visited Ottawa to meet with Prime Minister Diefenbaker in an air-clearing Yank-Canuck summit conference that produced some concrete results.

Full evaluation of the meeting will have to be made, but in three days of informal, cards-on-the-table talks the president and prime minister agreed that:

A joint cabinet committee on continental defence will be created; the two governments will work on plans for safeguarding against possible attack across the Arctic; consultations will be held aimed at dissolving differences over trade with Communist China.

It was a neighborly, friendly visit, during which Ike addressed Parliament in a frank speech, it came at a time when relations between the two countries suffered from a number of irritating complaints about various U.S. programs and policies.

UNION DRIVE

Two powerful maverick unions — the teamsters and longshoremen—announced after a meeting in Montreal they will seek 200,000 new members in Canada's ocean and inland ports in preparation for a St. Lawrence Seaway shipping boom next year.

Aim of the organizational drive will be to bring dockers and truckers from Halifax to the Lakehead in a new land-sea-air transport alliance headed by teamsters' boss James R. Hoffa and Harold Gibbons of the DOCKET SHOT

The U.S. hurled over the Atlantic this eye-catching bit of news lastnite for a mouse.

It landed a more important event — that the U.S. successfully fired a ballistic missile at intercontinental range for the first time.

The Air Force confirmed that the hybrid Thor-Vanguard missile covered 6,000 miles from its launching place at Cape Canaveral, Fla., to a point in the Atlantic near Ascension Island.

The nose cone of the missile which reached speeds of 13,000 miles an hour, carried a 1,500-pound instrument to retrieve the little space traveller from the Atlantic were unrevealed.

GOLDFINE CIRCUS

In Washington, a congressional committee opened a new big-top into the affairs of Bernard Goldfine, Boston industrialist who has been given to be a friend of Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide.

Four days after the committee was fired for "bugging" the hotel room next to Goldfine's to eavesdrop on conversations.

2. Goldfine's secretary said some bank records had been stolen.

3. Goldfine won a day's delay in appearing because he was expecting the whole thing to fizzle before he refused to answer some questions about his financial affairs.

4. The committee considered contempt action against him.

AIRMEN'S ORDEAL

Five U.S. airmen told a hair-raising story of how they were kicked, beaten and threatened with hanging by Russian peasants after their unarmed plane was shot down by MiG jets.

The five, part of a crew of 17 on a reconnaissance flight, parachuted from their transport plane—which was astray over Russian territory—when fighters set it afame.

Four others who rode the plane to the ground were taken prisoner by Russian soldiers. They fared well.

One officer said the peasants were about to hang him until he succeeded in making known that he was an American.

ELECTION-NEWS

Communists won the most seats — 50 — in Finland's general election, compared with 49 for the Social Democrats. But apparently there was no landslide and the Communists could form a government, as the Agrarians, who have dominated most post-war coalition cabinets, finished third with 47 seats.

In Mexico, handsome Adolfo Lopez Mateos, labor minister in the last government, was elected president by a landslide in probably the quietest vote in the country's history.

In West Germany, an election victory for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats in North Rhine-Westphalia, the country's largest state, was seen as an endorsement of his plans for atomic armaments.

KREMLIN ATTACK

Premier Nikita Khrushchev attended the fifth congress of the East German Communist party, bent on stamping out "revisionism"—the doctrine of diluting ties, roads to socialism—in Communist Europe.

Khrushchev, addressing the congress, attacked President Tito of Yugoslavia as a person worthy seeing communism, and he said Russia's aim is to give "selfless help" to its friends.

Tito, meanwhile, ended a conference with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic and jetted with him in calling for an end to the cold war.

ROYAL NEWS

British Columbia put out the flags for the arrival of Princess Margaret to attend one of the biggest celebrations in the history of the lusty province—the centennial.

In all, the 27-year-old princess will visit seven provinces before her departure July 31.

In London, there was less happy news about Queen Elizabeth. Suffering from an acute sinus attack, the Queen will take a cruise aboard the royal yacht Britannia next month and then rest for a while at Balmoral Castle.

HERE AND THERE

Premier de Gaulle appointed firebrand Jacques Soustelle as France's information minister. In Rome, the marriage of Jovia di Rector Robert Rossellini and Ingrid Bergman was annulled, freeing her to marry Italian industrialist Lars Schmidt. An earthquake in Alaska left three known dead and two missing. Poet Ezra Pound returned to his beloved Italy and described his native U.S. as a "madhouse." Tunisia outlawed polygamy, ending polygamy. Robert Earl Hughes, at 1,065 pounds possibly the heaviest man in medical history, died in Bremen, Ind., from a heart ailment.

New Stamp To Be Issued

OTTAWA (CP) — A five-cent stamp marking the 100th anniversary role in the development of the petroleum industry is to be issued by the Canada Post Office department announced Thursday.

The stamp, featuring an green and red, is to be released during the World Petroleum Conference in Montreal, to be attended by 1,000 delegates representing 32 countries.

Designed by Toronto artist A. Bullock, the horizontally-drawn stamp shows five derrick-shaped silhouettes. Within one is a kerosene lamp, with a barrel and a lion in silhouette, equipment suggesting an oil refinery.

The design, the department said, symbolizes the work of two Canadians—Abraham Gesner of Nova cotia and James M. Williams of Oil Springs, Ont.

Gesner laid the foundation for Canada's petroleum industry in 1846, he established the use of kerosene for illumination. Williams dug at Oil Springs the first commercially-successful oil well, in 1857.

Changes Likely at RCAF St'n. After TCHQ Moves

Editor's Note:—This column, "Aviation Affairs," will appear in Saturday editions. Mr. Harvey, although not pretending to be an expert on aviation, has had considerable experience in both military and civil aviation fields. His column will deal with matters which, we hope, will be of wide interest. The opinions he expresses are not necessarily those of The Ontario Intelligencer. Mr. Harvey has been on the staff of this newspaper for two years as a member of the newsroom staff. Correspondence to him, including suggestions, questions, should be addressed care of this newspaper. He would welcome comments, pro and con, on his articles.

BY DON HARVEY

Defence Minister Pearkes announced in the Commons at Ottawa last week that the RCAF's Air Training Command at Trenton will move to Winnipeg some time during 1959 and that Air Transport Command, now at Lachine, Quebec, will come to Trenton. Also involved in the move from Trenton are No. 6 Field Technical Training Unit and Flying Instructors' School, which are going to Saskatoon, Sask.

Local newspapers have re-marked that the Defence Minister's announcement only confirmed rumors that had been circulating for months in local Air Force circles. Prior to the last federal election, however — March 25, to be exact — both Lee Grills, Progressive Conservative candidate in Hastings South, and Dr. D. C. McVicker, the local Liberal standard bearer, touched on the subject at a meeting with the Belleville and District Labor Council.

Mr. Grills said then that although the RCAF may have been considering a move for Training Command it had not been debated in the House of Commons. Dr. McVicker replied that Hansard for November 4, 1957, recorded a parliamentary discussion on the transfers.

It was several months earlier than that, however, when The Ontario Intelligencer first heard one rumor, in the spring of 1957 a reporter heard that Training Command was expected to move out during 1958, although at the time no destination was named. His attempts to confirm the story were futile.

Rumors can now be laid aside, because Mr. Pearkes made the announcement in parliament of the official decisions. It probably will not be until some time in 1960 that the transfers are completed, although in late 1958, 435 Transport Squadron packed up, lock, stock and barrel, at Namao, Alta., shifted to Downsview, Ont., and flew on to Naples, Italy, all within 48 hours. That, though, was during a state of emergency when Nasser commandeered the Suez Canal — but a whole command was not moved.

When Transport Command does come to Trenton, it would not be surprised to see some changes among personnel now at RCAF Station, Trenton. That station has supplied servicing and maintenance, among other things, to Training Command aircraft, the bulk of which will move out with command headquarters. Transport Command differs from Training Command in that it has its own tradesmen, who are already familiar with working on the kinds of equipment that are peculiar to transport squadron. Without moving some officers and tradesmen from RCAF Station, Trenton, there is likely to be quite a bit of duplication of effort.

Although the transfers are more or less confined primarily to the headquarters of both commands, Transport Command is expected to bring its 426 squadron of four-engine North Stars from Montreal's Dorval Airport.

While speculating on possible changes to come at RCAF Station, Trenton, we might as well go further and probe into the more distant future of Air Transport Command.

It will not be long before Canadair Limited at Montreal produces its volume, the colossal four-engine transport plane which the RCAF has designated the CC-106. Eight of these aircraft have been ordered for Transport Command, presumably to replace the tired old North Stars. When the CC-106 reaches the transport squadrons there is very likely to be an increase in the construction of new and larger hangars and ancillary buildings on the stations that get them. Then, if 426 squadron remains at Trenton, the only logical conclusion from our conjecture is that it will, in time, be re-equipped with CC-106s. There, too, RCAF Station, Trenton, could be in for a construction boom.

One rumor already circulating is that three of the older type hangars on the station are to be torn down to make room for one or two new double-cantilever type hangars. It seems unreasonable that any of the present buildings on the hangar line will be demolished in view of the fact that indeed is — will be space — and lots of it — will be available recently in a CC-106 squadron. Not only would hangar shelter be required for the planes themselves, but four walls and a roof would be needed for each of the diversified trades sections that are created by the advent of complex aircraft such as the CC-106.

STRIKES SPREAD

BUENOS AIRES (Reuters)—A wave of strikes spread in Argentina Thursday as hospital doctors and workers in the postal and state telegraph services stopped work. The doctors are seeking security against purges and claim their mutual aid associations' new leaders are pro-Peron. The postal and state telegraph service workers are demanding higher salaries.

Tito, Nasser Have Given Khrushchev Cause for Anger

By JOSEPH MacSWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Presidents Tito of Yugoslavia and Nasser of the United Arab Republic have given Nikita Khrushchev new cause for anger.

Their communique, condemning international "pressures" was carefully worded to hit at both East and West, but its timing seems to carry a special sting for Khrushchev in his vendetta with Tito.

It must be galling, too, for Khrushchev to learn of this identity in views between Nasser, with whom he held talks only recently in Moscow, and the heretic Tito.

The communique, ending a conference between the two "neutral" leaders, came while Khrushchev, visiting Berlin, was listening to a slavish declaration against "revisionism" by Walter Ulbricht, East German party chief.

The thought must have crossed his mind that Tito, as the arch revisionist, may not be exactly shaking in his boots at the threats that he will meet the same fate as the executive leaders of the Hungarian revolt of 1956.

If Khrushchev smiled grimly, there are reasons for ironic smiles in the West as well. Tito and Nasser condemned foreign intervention in Lebanon, although Nasser has repeatedly been charged with being the chief instigator of trouble there.

But for Khrushchev, this is an extremely important time since he obviously didn't travel to East Germany merely on a goodwill tour.

He is striving to emphasize the Kremlin's cardinal role in the Communist world, and failure would eventually lead to his loss of power in the Kremlin.

During his political honeymoon days with Tito after the death of Joseph Stalin, Tito loudly praised the doctrine of different roads to socialism. But now he aims to stamp out that concept as heretical revisionism.

It's believed that East Germany's fifth party congress will turn out to be the arena for a concerted campaign—with overtones of terror—against revisionism in Warsaw Pact countries.

The fate of Hungary's Imre Nagy will be remembered by all the satellite delegates.

It's also thought that the congress will try to build on the foundation of the Mutual Economic Aid Council formed by the Communist nations in May.

Delegates will study the economic contributions of the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Albania.

PRO-NASSER REBELS IN POWER IN IRAQ

LIBERAL LEADER TRYING TO FORCE EARLY ELECTION

Lesage All-Out To Beat Duplessis

DRUMMONDVILLE, Que. (CP) — An all-out offensive against Premier Duplessi's Union Nationale government is being launched by Quebec Liberals in an attempt to force an early general provincial election.

Liberal Leader Jean Lesage told a rally of 1,000 in this industrial centre 83 miles southeast of Montreal Sunday that the Liberals are organizing for an election fight on the local, regional and provincial levels.

Nomination conventions were set in many constituencies to elect Liberal candidates in the next few weeks, although Premier Duplessis theoretically can wait until 1961 to call a provincial election.

Mr. Lesage made the announcement following the first nomination convention to be held by the Liberals since he asked Premier Duplessis to either establish a royal commission of inquiry into a provincial gas transaction or call a general election.

STARTED BY NEWSPAPER

The Liberal leader made that request to the premier after the Montreal Star and Le Devoir published a series of articles about the sale of Quebec Hydro's Montreal household gas-distributing system to the privately-owned Quebec Natural Gas Corporation.

Le Devoir said a $20,000,000 "clock market coup" marked the deal, but the corporation stated there was nothing irregular in the transaction.

Mr. Lesage said petitions asking the government for a royal commission or a provincial election are to be circulated soon. The public was asked to sign them.

Sunday's nomination convention picked as Liberal candidate for Drummond-Arthabaska Provincial Bernard Pinard, a young Drummondville lawyer who was elected in 1952 and defeated in the 1956 election by a Union Nationale man.

HAS BUSY SCHEDULE

Mr. Lesage asked Liberal supporters to recruit support, even among Union Nationale supporters, for the "march of liberation" across the province during the next six months. He was due to address 36 meetings.

Mr. Lesage said the first thing a Liberal administration will do if elected, is to call an inquiry into the sale of the gas system.

He outlined the party's platform for the next provincial election:

There would be free education again, as before the 1939-1944 Liberal schools would be accessible on this basis up to and including he 10th grade.

SPECIAL LOANS

For talented students desiring to take the university studies here would be special loans and bursaries in the event their parents were not financially capable of meeting the cost.

Mr. Lesage accused the Union Nationale party of wearing a false mask of the question of provincial rights.

He said the Union Nationale had fixed the election of Progressive Conservative candidates in Quebec in the March 31 federal election, and that the federal government under Prime Minister Diefenbaker formed the most centralizing administration Canada has ever had.

All Cyprus Towns Under Round-the-Clock Curfew As Toll in Rioting Mounts

NICOSIA (CP) — The government today ordered the island's 500,000 residents to stay indoors in a bid to halt the mounting wave of violence sweeping Cyprus.

It also prepared to rush extra police from Britain after 14 persons died in Greek-Turkish fighting in a weekend of terror.

Police Chief John Brewer planned to fly to London to arrange the quick dispatch of 300 policemen.

Greek - Cypriot sources said the EOKA underground terrorist group had told its members that every Greek killed by Turks must be avenged and that "every time five Turks kill a Greek, they must have a funeral on their hands."

Turkish leader Rauf Denktash said after talking to Governor Sir Hugh Foot he had called Prime Minister Macmillan telling him "the responsibility for all blood shed today rests on you."

He asked Britain to enforce partition "and prevent us being murdered ourselves to the bitter end."

"The total lack of security measures and the failure to assess and appreciate the present situation by the government, with consequent concessions to EOKA and Greek extremists, have led Cyprus into inter-communal strife of the utmost gravity."

Denktash also called Turkish Premier Adnan Menderes saying Greeks had attacked eight Turkish villages in the last few hours. He appealed for Turkey's help to "save Turks from Greek attack."

Foot ordered everyone except civil servants and essential public workers to stay at home for 36 hours and banned all road traffic.

It was the most drastic security move since the shootings, bombings, ambushes and riots began on this Mediterranean island three years ago.

The Greeks and Turks have been fighting each other since June 1 over since the word got out that the pro-British plan for the island would not satisfy the Greek majority's desire to unite with Greece or Turk demands to partition the island to protect Turkish rights.

In a rising tide of attacks and retaliations, Greeks and five Turks died Sunday, bringing the toll in the last five weeks to 31 on Greek Cyprus and 20 Turkish. Four Greek stores were burned and the church of St. Mamas in Limassol, containing the island's finest wall paintings, was badly damaged by fire.

Two British soldiers also were killed in a Greek ambush and EOKA fighters but this was an accident, Another soldier's auto weapon went off.

The attackers ignored an unprecedented call for peace issued by Foot and the heads of Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities, Nicosia Mayor Themistocles Dervis and Dr. Fazil Kutchuk.

Foot also invited Greek and Turkish Cypriot delegations to discuss new security measures, but it appeared the Greeks might not take part.

In London, there were growing signs that a split was between the 400,000 Greek Cypriots and 100,000 Turks. The gravity of the situation prompted a conference for a meeting between Prime Minister Macmillan, Greek Premier Constantin Karamanlis and Premier Adnan Menderes of Turkey.

76 FATALITIES DURING WEEKEND ACROSS CANADA

Worst Non-Holiday Toll in History

Accidents killed 76 persons in Canada during the weekend, the third highest toll for a non-holiday weekend in the country's history.

Highway mishaps claimed a victim for every 30 minutes between 6 p.m. local times Friday and midnight Sunday.

The Canadian Press survey in that 54-hour period counted 40 killed on highways, 17 drowned and 16 dead in other accidents. The total was almost double that of last weekend when 38 died, including 26 on roads and eight drowned.

Canada's highest toll for a non-holiday weekend was the weekend of July 1, 1955, when 31 died, including 14 in a British Columbia plane crash. The previous record was 77 on the second weekend of July, 1955, which included 40 drownings.

39 IN ONTARIO

Ontario and Quebec each had 30 deaths. There were 12 in each of the provinces of the Maritimes. Ten of the Ontario victims were children under 15.

A rolling more than 100 miles an hour was shattered against a bridge abutment early Saturday night and three men and one woman were killed.

Four injured in highway curve near Gananoque Sunday night and it took more than two hours to pry the bodies of one man, one woman and two children from the wreckage.

The toll mounted hour-by-hour through the non-holiday weekend and this was the tragic picture across Canada at its close:

Ontario: 30 dead—22 in traffic, five drownings, one accidental shot and a water skier killed in a fall.

Quebec: 30 dead—17 in traffic, 10 drowned, two killed in a plane crash and one by a train.

CNR May Use More Trucks Says Gordon

OTTAWA (CP) — The CNR may go in for truck transportation to a greater extent than now, President Donald Gordon said today.

He was appearing before the Commons railway committee and began his annual examination of the affairs of the government-owned system.

Up to the present, Mr. Gordon said, the CNR has "not been too sold" on the idea that it can make money on truck operations. But it is willing to be convinced and we may go in for more. How soon and how much has to be determined."

He said the matter is very fluid at the moment, he would not want to confirm or deny reports that the CNR is in negotiations for the purchase of any trucking concerns.

It is the intention of the CNR management to remain competitive in the transportation business," Mr. Gordon said.

"We will not hesitate to use air, rail, highway or communications media if we are satisfied that by so doing we can get the business."

Asked to explain a decline in CNR finances which left the corporation with a $28,609,000 deficit in 1957, Mr. Gordon gave two main reasons.

1. A general decline in North American economic activity.

2. Increased and unfair competition from other carriers.

RCAF Party On Way to Plane Lost 19 Years

HALIFAX (CP) — An RCAF search party was to leave today for an almost inaccessible area on the Labrador Peninsula in the wreckage of a small plane which carried two airmen to their deaths shortly after the outbreak of the Second World War.

An RCAF spokesman said the four-man party from Torbay, Nfld., would have to land on Heaven Lake, then travel 25 miles from the wreckage. From there it will be flown through the mountainous timber and dense underbrush.

RCAF headquarters in Ottawa Sunday identified the men who died aboard the single-engined Canso amphibian on Sept. 3, 1939, the first RCAF casualties of the war. They were Flt. Lt. J. L. Ridley, navigator and LAC D. A. Rennie of Ottawa.

The search party chanced upon the plane 70 miles north of Fredericton, last year while on an RCMP search party which hiked its way through the heavy woods region in search of four missing persons.

Police said it is likely the plane remained undiscovered for 19 years because of the denseness of the undergrowth. It appeared the pilot had made a crash or aircraft saw the reflection of the sun on the shattered windows.

The pontoon-equipped aircraft vanished four days after Canada declared war on Germany.

Top Sunday School Pupil's Reward Is Right to Give Princess Corsage

VICTORIA (CP) — Princess Margaret went to morning services Sunday in Christ Church Anglican cathedral and in the afternoon visited the Indian and Eskimo overlooking an inlet of the Pacific Ocean.

Throughout the church service, the program for her first full day in Canada, she was dressed informal and casual.

Her only official activity was to receive a round parchment copy of an early Victoria newspaper. The rest of the day was her own.

Crowds gathered outside the Empress Hotel, where the royal suite is situated, and a few blocks away at the cathedral. As the princess drove to the grey, Gothic cathedral for the regular 11 a.m. service.

She was cheered both before and after the service. The church itself was jammed.

There was no specific change in the program for the occasion, although it began with the congregation singing the National Anthem.

The princess wore a light grey dress that fitted the full length with a belt effect in front, while a matching grey hat perched on her head in a loose coat effect at the back. She carried a white prayer book, pearl necklace and a small diamond brooch.

Her hat appeared to be of a net-like fabric woven with small, delicately colored flowers with one yellow flower dropping across her hairline and forehead. Her accessories were matching grey gloves, elbow length, a black purse and black shoes.

Military Coup Ousts King Faisal, Mobs Kill His Uncle and Premier; Jordan's King Plans Intervention

Seen as Most Serious Blow to West Since Nasser Nationalized Suez

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A military coup ousted the pro-West regime today in Iraq, keystone of the Baghdad pact, and proclaimed a pro-Nasser government of Iraqi nationalists.

Baghdad Radio said King Faisal had been overthrown and a republic established. An army brigadier was named leader of the coup.

The broadcast said Crown Prince Abdul Ilah, Faisal's uncle and former regent, was beaten to death by a mob and his body dismembered and burned in the streets.

(Baghdad radio said that afternoon that Iraqi Crown Prince Abdul Ilah and his bodyguard are still alive. The radio earlier had said they had been killed.)

Reports from Cairo, capital of Nasser's United Arab Republic of Egypt and Syria, said Premier Nuri Said, the pro-Western strong man of Iraq, also had been killed by a mob.

There was no direct word officially on Faisal, who also is chief of state of the Iraqi-Jordan federation formed last Feb. 14 to counter Nasser's U.A.R., organized two weeks before. The Communist radio in Budapest said Faisal had been arrested by the army.

The revolution came in Baghdad martial law throughout Iraq and a curfew in Baghdad. The army chief of staff, Ahmed Saleb Abdi, was appointed military governor-general.

Amman Radio announced that Jordan's King Hussein, 23-year-old cousin of Faisal, had assumed power as head of the Jordan-Iraq federation and would attempt to restore public security and order. Hussein acted after a cabinet meeting in Amman. The constitution of the new Jordan-Iraq federation provided that Hussein should succeed Faisal if the latter should die or abdicate.

HUSSEIN'S PLANS

Observers saw little hope Hussein could hold the federation together in the face of a successful Iraqi revolution, but theoretically he could call upon the armies of Jordan to subdue the rebels and could call upon the West for help.

(Reuters news agency said unconfirmed report's reaching Beirut say Nuri was killed, had been placed under arrest.

(Another Reuters dispatch from Amman reported that the passengers and crew of an Iraqi plane that landed there said that martial law was declared at Baghdad airport Sunday night and that Nuri Said had fled to Baghdad in a pact meeting at Istanbul but the pilot knew leaders and feared bayonets guarded the road to the airport, a traveler said. There was no clear-cut indication whether the rebel leaders had established effective control throughout Iraq.

All that was known for certain was the hands of the revolutionary leaders.

Except for the reports of mob action there was no report of fighting.

SEVERE BLOW TO WEST

The coup, if successful, would be the most serious blow to the Western position in the Middle East since Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal in 1956. It would

Chicago Citizen Has Real Honey Of a Problem

CHICAGO (AP) — Albert Franklin, 51, has a honey of problem.

He doesn't know what to do about the bees — millions of them, he says — which threaten to take over his home.

A couple of weeks ago, Franklin heard a buzzing sound in the wall.

Franklin didn't know what the trouble was until Sunday.

"I was outside in the yard and there came a great swarm of bees," he said.

The swarm approached the wall of the house, then clustered around a two-foot hole high up. It took about 25 minutes for them all to go in."

Simmons later another swarm, as large as the first, crawled into the hole.

"I've got to do something about it but I don't know what," Franklin said. "My wife says it's like living in a beehive, especially in the daytime. They don't bother us at night."

Fred Montgomery To Pay Penalty On Gallows

OTTAWA (CP) — The cabinet has decided not to interfere with the death sentence of Fred Montgomery, 42, convicted of the shooting of Richard Niver, 20, bank manager. He is to be hanged at Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., shortly after midnight tonight.

Both Montgomery and his 17-year-old son, Rodney, were convicted of murder at Sault Ste. Marie in April and sentenced to death for the murder of J. J. Walter Bridges Jr., during a holdup attempt Oct. 8, 1957.

On Friday the cabinet considered the death sentence of Montgomery's appeal from the death sentence and refused clemency unanimously by the Ontario Court of Appeal June 16.

RAID 'CYCLISTS' PARTY

TORONTO (CP) — For the third time in three weeks police raided a motorcyclists' drinking party on Saturday night in nearby Richmond Hill. Charles Hazley was charged with keeping a disorderly and illegal place. Police found about 30 young men and women at the party, but no bush and seized 11 cases of beer.

Princess Faces Dizzy Pace After Leisurely B.C. Weekend

VICTORIA (CP) — Princess Margaret faces the busiest day of her Canadian tour today, a whirlwind of constant activity from 10 a.m. until almost six in the evening.

The dizzying eight hours will be in contrast to the first two days of her tour — visit to British Columbia. On Saturday the royal honeymooner left by private plane for a tour of several scenic points around this beautiful Pacific coast city.

On Sunday afternoon the princess spent a relaxing hour at a nearby country estate. She strolled in the gardens, relaxed on a hammock and played boccie and sipped tea on the veranda of the home of the late W. C. Woodward, former lieutenant-governor of B.C.

But there'll be little time for unscheduled sight-seeing today.

Her day starts at 10:05 a.m. when she leaves her regal suite in the Empress Hotel for a ceremony at the city hall, where she will be received by Mayor Percy Bengough and his wife. After signing the visitors' book, Princess Margaret will be presented with a specially minted 24-carat gold coin commemorating the B.C. centennial.

Immediately after the 15-minute ceremony the princess drives to the legislative buildings where she will take the royal salute, inspect the guard and receive from a speech of welcome by Premier Bennett.

The princess will reply, one of two times she will speak in public during her 15-day tour.

Moving inside the main building, she will meet the members of legislature, deputy ministers, Victoria Cross holders, the directors of the B.C. centennial committee, and their wives.

A tri - service parade is next, including a fly-past by the RCAF. Eleven of the planes, CF-100 jet interceptors, will form a huge "M" as they thunder overhead.

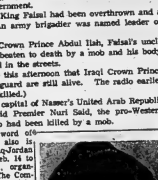
Bastille Day Celebration Most Brilliant in France This Century



PARIS (Reuters) — Parades, fireworks and street dances today marked France's 169th Bastille Day celebration this century.

The largest military parade since the end of the Second World War strutted through Paris with President Rene Coty and Premier Charles de Gaulle taking the salute. Thousands of U.S. fighters screamed overhead.

About 5,000 troops marched down the Champs Elysees and across the Avenue de la Grande Armee which extends beyond the Arc de Triomphe.

Six thousand Moslem veterans and youth group members, detachments of Moslem troops and Senegalese units of the French armed forces took part in the long procession.

Liquor Store Owner Robbed By Telephone

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) Liquor store operator Conrad Lopez Jr. told police Sunday he was robbed by telephone.

He said he answered his phone and was told:

"I've got a rifle trained on you."

The caller instructed Manago to put the contents of his cash register in a bag and place it by a telephone booth near the entrance door.

Police said the robber got $60.65—less a dime for the telephone call.

Rheumatism Cure Kills Inventor

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP) Charles Werly, 52-year-old Swiss inventor, called in a group of specialist Saturday to demonstrate his new electric-wave apparatus for curing rheumatism.

Werly fitted the machine on himself, switched on the current and then died. Specialists said he was killed by a 220-volt charge passing through his body.

Queen's Sinus Trouble Better

LONDON (AP) — The Queen still suffered from a slight fever Sunday but Buckingham Palace doctors reported the acute sinus inflamation which struck her earlier in the week was abating.

The Queen's royal physicians said the Queen had a restful day but that her temperature still has not returned to normal.

STEVENSON IN RUSSIA

BLAZING STUMP BRINGS FIREMEN

Fire firemen were called to the rear of St. Michael's Church on Sunday afternoon where an ash stump was ablaze. Firemen were unable to say what fuelled the stump ablaze.

The only other run over the weekend was to the city dump on Saturday evening where refuse was ablaze.

THOUSANDS FLOCK TO DISTRICT BEACHES

Beaches in the Bay of Quinte district were the mecca for thousands of bathers on Sunday as the hot sun coaxed residents to where they could enjoy cooling breezes.

Possibly the most popular spot in the entire area was Outlet Beach where the sands were jammed with bathers throughout the day.

A king-size traffic jam on the Outlet Road developed as would-be bathers sought a vacant spot to park their cars.

Other popular spots in the area were Consecon Beach, Oak Lake and, of course, the Belleville Kinsmen Community Swimming Pool.

BLUEBERRY PICKERS OUT IN FORCE IN KALADAR AREA

Blueberry pickers were out in force in the Kaladar district over the weekend, and reports are that the yield was good.

Roadside vendors were asking, and getting, 75 cents for the quart basket and 2.75 for six-quart containers.

Several 'Hot' Forums Held At Convention

One of the Quinte district's oldest piano tuners, Bruce C. Sills, 5 Holloway Street, recently returned from attending a convention in Washington, D.C. On his arrival home, Mr. Sills commented that his trip was enjoyable as well as profitable.

Held in Hotel Statler, the convention, he said, was attended by members of the Piano Technicians Guild Inc. (in which Mr. Sills holds a craftsman degree). The Guild's membership is composed of piano manufacturers, tuner technicians, salesman and, this year for the first time, piano music teachers.

He remarked that the convention held several "hot" forums and he learned that the clavichord, harpsichord and spinet of Mozart's era are now being made at Pasau Germany, by Sperrhaks.

"These instruments are true-bodied and have a modern piano action. They were on display for us, as well as the latest in electronic pianos and player pianos," he said. "The latest electronic organ is a photoelectric instrument whereby a small light passes through a tone disk a small revolving scanning disc which acts as a 'central nervous system' to give you the pipe organ tones. This organ needs no tuning and will play all or more than one organ tone and its harmonics simultaneously, just as our pipe organs do today."

Mr. Sills said these conventions allow qualified technicians to enjoy a post-graduate course in their craft. In future, he added, pianos will be manufactured with a much better bass tone, because a fault has been found in the older types.

Princess Margaret surveys her guard of honor from a stand at Patricia Bay airport near Victoria as she is officially welcomed to Canada for her two-week tour. The princess is wearing a Wedgewood blue shantung peau de soi with matching duster and shoes. Her feathered hat is a shade lighter than her ensemble. She wears white gloves and carries a white leather purse. In background are (left to right) Defence Minister George Pearkes, who greeted her as representative of Prime Minister Diefenbaker, Cmdr. Gar Dixson, Brig. J. W. Bishop and Lieutenant Governor Frank Ross of British Columbia. (CP Photo).

J. Commerford Legal Officer For Kingston

Major Simon M. Adams, CD legal officer for Eastern Ontario Area, will take up a new appointment with the legal branch at National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa, this month.

Taking over as Legal Officer at Area Headquarters, Kingston, is Major John A. Commerford, of Halifax and Ottawa, who has been serving with the tri-service legal branch in the capital.

Major Adams, who was born in North Bay, is a graduate of Queen's University (Commerce) and Osgoode Hall, Toronto (Law). He served overseas with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps from 1942-1945, and joined the legal branch in 1946. He attended the Canadian Army Staff College in 1951 and held several legal appointments in Ottawa before coming to Kingston in January, 1957.

Major Commerford, who is 34, served as a boy soldier with the RCA from 1941-1943, and later with 2nd Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment (RCA). He graduated in law from Dalhousie University in 1951 and served with the Royal Canadian Regiment before joining the legal branch.

High School Soldiers Get First Pay

One hundred high school students enrolled as recruits for the summer training program of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment received their first pay this morning. All told the paymaster doled out about $5,500.

Prior to the pay parade in the armories in Belleville, Brigadier E. T. D. Snow, OBE, Commander Eastern Ontario area commander, addressed the recruits in a pep talk in one of the lecture rooms. It was the brigadier's first appearance this summer in Belleville. He is scheduled to return in about three weeks.

Captain R. H. Vaughan, officer commanding the summer training group, explained that although the recruits earn $101 basic pay plus $64 a month cost of living allowance, $30 is deferred at the first pay parade to make up for any loss of equipment or damage to gear that the boys might encounter during the summer. The $30 or any portion of it not used to compensate for loss or damage of equipment will be handed over to the recruits at the end of their training.

The pay master visits Peterborough and Cobourg today and goes to Kingston and Brockville on Tuesday.

What do the boys think of the summer program? Here are a few quotes: Bryan Valcamp, R.R. 2, Belleville: "It's not bad. It's pretty hard keeping our uniforms and stuff clean, though. All and all, this is a pretty good way to put in a summer."

Don Wilson, 133 Ann St.: "I like it quite a bit."

Wayne Woods, 54 Grier St.: "It's pretty good. Jobs are kind of hard to get these days." It's a wonderful way to earn some money. Besides, some fellows have never fired a rifle before and they get the opportunity here."

Capt. Vaughan pointed out that the recruits are taking 6 weeks of military training and then a two weeks course in civics to enhance their "good living out" parade on the evening of August 20. The Lt.-Col. Ward Carr, commander of the 13th Militia Group, Port Hope, will be the inspecting officer.

Highlights of the summer's activities will be a massive sports event at Kingston on August 2 to 16, when 600 high school boys serving in the army for the summer will eat together before the marching out parade. Recruits will be present from Belleville, Peterborough, Cobourg, Kingston and Brockville.

Lieutenant W. Cochrane, a teacher at Quinte Secondary School, is the commander of Platon I, and Lieut. R. Laughlin of QSS is the commander of Platon II, while Lieut. W. Rothwell commands Platoon III. Lieut. Rothwell is the principal of Campbellford public school. Capt. Vaughan, the O.C., is a teacher at the OSD.

The course chief instructor is Lieut. E. Segrue and the course sergeant major is WO2 C. J. Strain, both active members of the 13th Militia Group at Ottawa.

Instructors are Sgts Maxwell and Moore of the Canadian Army, active.

IN MEMORIAM

Bandmaster David Wardle, July 14th, 1958.

SCRUBY. — Treasured memories of my dear husband, Henry, who passed to the Higher Life July 14th, 1954.

It is sweet to remember a husband though absent from me, he is always near;
Unseen by the world, he stands by my side,
And whispers, "My love, death cannot divide."
—Loving wife Maud.

GOW. — In loving memory of our husband and father, Joseph Gow, who passed away July 15th, 1952.

"THE LIVING ROOM"

Here we were in the Living Room,
All our loving group together;
And the glow of the wood fire's warmth perfect
Better than the chill of the outer weather.
And then with a sleepy sigh, you said,
"Good night, dear ones. I'm going to bed."
Why did there fall such a sense of gloom?
Why did I sob at the thought of sleep?
For who do we call the reach a tomb
Beyond the door of the Living Room?
—Sadly missed by wife Ethel
Gow, sons and daughters.

FOR THE RECORD

Anyone who read the July 8 edition of the Trenton Courier Advocate and noticed its front page story about the transfer of RCAF Air Training Command to Winnipeg, may have wondered about the following paragraph:

"Reason for the move has been the changing composition of the Air Force, particularly in respect to pilot training. The tendency is to carry out jet training in the less settled areas, where manoeuvres can be carried out with a minimum danger to life in the event of a crash. Trenton is in the centre of one of the most densely populated sections of the country and in this section of Ontario, over the period of the past few years, there have been a number of crashes, with considerable property damage and some loss of life. The hazards in this respect would not be so great in the more sparsely populated prairies stretching west for 1,000 miles from Winnipeg to the Rocky Mountains."

"The Ontario Intelligencer knows no more about the "whys" of the move than does The Courier Advocate, yet we would limit our comment only to the conjecture that Air Training Command is going to Winnipeg so that its administrative personnel will be closer to the pilot and observer training schools which come under its jurisdiction.

Flying training schools in the West, where piston engine aircraft are used, are at Claresholm, Alta., (pop. 2,412), the village of Penhold, Alta., and Saskatoon, Sask. (pop. 70,843.)

If the RCAF's tendency is to carry out jet training in the less settled areas" why was Moose Jaw, Sask. (pop. 29,282), selected as one of four advanced training schools where jet aircraft are flown? Trenton is about half the size of Moose Jaw. Other jet schools are, granted, near the much smaller communities of Gimli, and MacDonald in Manitoba, but another is at Portage La Prairie, Man. (pop. 19,374.)

Before Quinte district residents start wondering if perhaps RCAF aircraft from Trenton are falling from the sky like rain, they might take into account that the last serious accident occurred in March, 1957, when a helicopter from Trenton was demolished on the main street of Bancroft, although the plane had not crashed. The last accident resulting in a fatality occurred in May, 1956, when two officers from Trenton were killed when their T-33 plunged into the Bay of Quinte near Shannonville. We cannot remember, though, the last crash that caused injury or death to a local civilian or damage to private property.

Considering the number of hours in the air that aircraft from Trenton have logged since March, 1957, the safety record of the station cannot be regarded by the public with anything but approval. This indicates the ability of the men who fly these aircraft and is also complimentary to the people on the ground who keep the aircraft airworthy.

A POOR SUGGESTION

Lionel Chevrier, former head of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority, may know a great deal about the seaway portion of the St. Lawrence development, but he knows little, or fails to appreciate, the power problem of the project. Mr. Chevrier told the House of Commons the other day that the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario should have given consideration to setting aside for Eastern Ontario industry part of the power to be developed on the St. Lawrence. There was a time when power developed at certain plants was "reserved" for use in the area in which the plants were located, because the HEPC lacked the transmission lines to make it available elsewhere. This has been remedied, at considerable expense, and it is now possible to switch power back and forth from most regions to most others, as the demands for electrical energy make advisable. For the set aside power for use in a particular section would, we suggest, be a retrograde step.

THE DEVIL ON VACATIONS

I chanced to meet the devil on a pleasant summer's day
And I tried to hurry by him, but he promptly blocked my way.
Though I didn't seek this meeting, since it really had to be,
'Twas a chance to ask a question that for years had troubled me.
"Will you give me your opinion?" Should a person take a rest?
You who never seem to take one ought to know which may be best.
He stayed right by his people, don't you think, beyond a doubt,
You'd have less chance in the battle and the fight would throw you out!"
So, you foolish, silly mortal," said the devil with a smile, "If I had my way the persons would stay working all the while.
The weakness of the devil," and he said this with a sob,
"Is he gets no recreation; he is always on the job.
"But the person goes off fishing, he goes out among the trees,
He goes back to Mother Nature and the sunshine and the breeze;
He rests his tired muscles and builds up his energy
And he's fit to overthrow me before he makes the fight again.
"So be glad your parson's resting, and rejoice that he's at play;
And be sorry for the devil, who can never get away.
If the parson never rested, never sought the lake or sea,
But always toiled and labored as I must—I would be for me."

Chemistry Of Madness

New York Herald Tribune

What is the chemistry of "madness"?

On this question may hinge revolutionary answers to the baffling question of mental illness, which, according to psychiatry, one family in seven will afflict one in ten of everyone now living.

The evidence is growing that "madness" is the result of an imbalance of body chemistry.

The more light is shed on the problem, the more we realize how little we really know about it. For example, insanity is not necessarily "unpleasant." Researchers who have undergone artificially induced schizophrenia reported their sensations were quite pleasant.

The effects can be produced on the mind by ergot, a fungus that grows on wheat. It is also produced by certain types of mushrooms. Dr. Gordon Wasson, of Yale, has found that spent years tracking down fascinating lore about hallucinations produced by these mushrooms as primitive peoples who still use them in religious ceremonial rites.

Of course, the hope implicit in all such research is that if mental illness can be produced by chemicals in time may be found which cure them.

There still remains the baffling question of what, if anything, is the thin blue line between genius and madness. Aldous Huxley has suggested that William Blake's natural mental chemistry may have enabled him to see twenty-four hours a day, the wondrous visions and voices which others see only under chemical hallucination. Did this indicate that Blake because of this, was "mad" or did he simply see something that is invisible to vision? The whole enigma of the chemistry of the mind is a tremendous field of future exploration.

Was Mistaken For Big Fish

Hamilton Spectator

In the autumn during the deer hunting season, quite a few hunters lose their lives because they mistake them for deer and shoot them. This has always been surprising, particularly as less way in which to lay down one's life but an interesting variation and only one of recklessness has been reported recently. A Toronto fisherman, manoeuvring a murky water, mistook a frisky boy a little distance away playing with a spear gun. It is possible to imagine anyone explaining that his mistake was mistaken for a deer but who is going to announce that his next-of-kin was mistaken for a fish?

Strength for The Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

KEEPING THE LAWN MOWED

Nothing thickens the growth of a lawn so much as frequent mowing. The reason is that the more a lawn is mowed, the more do the roots put forth effort to grow and make up for the loss of growth which has come about as the result of the mowing. An unmowed lawn becomes thin in a few years. The grass grows up in long, slender blades or stalks. Clipped down regularly, the lawn thickens up. The sod becomes established, the root system is replenished.

The same thing happens in human life. The more we are opposed, the more does every power within us rise up to overwhelm obstacles and to compensate for anything we may have lost. People who have their own way all through life are characterized by thin, straggly, anemic, ineffective personalities. The people who really count are those who have had to stand up against something. Circumstances have tried to mow them down, but the more the mowing process went on, the more definitely it developed character. Lives have become established. Just as it takes frequent mowing to make a beautiful lawn, so it takes the arresting, frustrating experiences of life to make and develop men and develop.

Left to themselves we become weak. Opposed, our latent powers rise up in resistance. Our resources have been developed. The roots of our lives go down to deeper levels.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

It must be fifteen or twenty years since I last saw a dogfight. Yet, around 1900, dogfights were a common occurrence on our streets. They were one of the familiar diversions.

Along about fifteen minutes before noon, and at about three-fifteen in the afternoon, as you sat in class in the public schools, you would hear the first dogfights out in the schoolyard. Our dogs were gathering, at those hours, to meet us as we came forth, and to accompany us home. It was the nature of dogs, as it was the nature of boys, to fight, and schoolyards were ideal for the purpose.

The big dogs, like the bi, boys, nearly always won.

I asked a veterinary surgeon yesterday how it was we never saw dogfights any more.

"Well," he explained, "you don't see boy-fights any more, either. Fighting has been bred out of them. Besides, the rise of traffic has had a profound effect on dogfights. When dogs are fighting they have their minds set on the matter in hand. They have no time to watch for traffic, and they cover a lot of ground in a good lively fight. Thus, fighting dogs gradually got killed off by the traffic, leaving the field to the peaceful dogs that now inhabit our cities."

He tells me there are still plenty of dog-fights far back from the main highways.

"I always said Ed would go places!"

Don't Hit Bee In Moving Car

Fort William Times-Journal

One of the hazards of summer driving is the sudden appearance of a bee, wasp or hornet in the interior of the car. Almost any other day, a bumble bee was the cause of an accident, when a grandmother attempted to slap down the insect and drive the car at the same time. She accomplished neither. The bee found the window, and flew out. The car swerved out of control and ended up in the ditch against a big boulder. Damage to the bee —nil.

The sudden appearance of a buzzing insect in an automobile can be unnerving and even cause wild panic. But experienced car driver realizes that the intruder is there by mischance and wants as much to get out as the occupants are to see him leave. The best thing to do is to make threatening passes at him while the vehicle is in motion. This usually does the danger less. Ignore him until he finds his way out, bring the car to a full stop before trying to evict him. Neither driver nor passenger can take effective action while the car is in motion, because their attention from the important business of driving. Keep in mind that a bee in the interior can be very serious by far than an insect's sting.

Trailer Amid Old Houses

Brockville Recorder and Times

Motorists become used to seeing trailer camps and large factory and steel trailers at pastel hues arranged in neat rows, as workers for construction firms make their temporary homes in the rural districts. But it still comes as a bit of a shock to see a big trailer, with additional structures, parked among the old homes of the one-time country lane.

For some reason travelling along rural by ways expect to see the old fashioned stone farmhouses, barns and "outbuildings" as popularized by historical novelists in this district. These are seen along every township road, generally set quite a way back from the road and usually in a run-down condition. Occasionally there will be one of these magnificent old structures, restored to the point of modernity considerably to the attractiveness of the surrounding country — but, unfortunately, most of these that not are on the point of going to wreck and ruin.

The very modernity of it all strikes an unfamiliar note when it is set square and "foursquare" which is an aluminum trailer, is parked in front of the old stone "where." This is in all probability a most economical move by the owner who is probably a farmer. They obviously have a completely modern home at a minimum cost, which could be packed up and transported away with very little effort.

There are many persons who have a hankering for modernity. They keep thinking that far away pastures may some day be greener, and they will be ready to make tracks when that time comes. Perhaps it is the wanderyearning to live for a time in a tranquil, rural area — and the trailer may be living with its modern conveniences, is the obvious answer to the question of this in the comforts of city life — and the additional assistance that it could be uprooted and a new location found, should they get restless.

No one thought of uprooting a big, stone house fifty years ago — where stable life prevailed — but with the changing times comes a difference in the tempo of the way of living. And quite probably the trailer-owner will be quite complete with additional structures, cost no more than the stately garage structures of a few generations ago.

New Jap Drug Can Cure TB

Stratford Beacon-Herald

The term "wonder drug" is too often misapplied today, because of enthusiastic reports sometimes follow, but it may justifiably be applied to the newly discovered antibiotic called Kanamycin which obtained international recognition when the Joint Japan-United States medical symposium on Tuberculosis, American medical and pharmaceutical authorities made reports underscoring the tremendous findings on Kanamycin at the meeting. They were: Dr. Harold A. Bunn of Syracuse University, Dr. H. L. Dirkson, chief pharmacologist of the Merck Research Institute, and Dr. H. J. Robinson, also of the pharmaceutical Merck Institute, Kanamycin had been developed by Dr. Hamao Umezawa of the Institute for Research of the National Institute of Health, Tokyo, and was obtained in Nagano Prefecture, in Central Japan, about four years ago.

Many Japanese medical authorities had stressed the potential that the new drug was phenomenally effective against a great variety of tuberculosis germs, especially in cases where streptomycin or penicillin were ineffied.

Dr. Bunn reported that of 1,000 cases treated in resting 21 advanced cases of tuberculosis, 90 per cent showed in three months. He found that large lung cavities in 10 cases had been closed or reduced in size after the period. He also found that the drug destroyed fungi positive. Improvement was noted in three-fourths of the cases. Resistance built against streptomycin did not interfere.

Dr. Bunn said he had obtained remarkable results in 36 out of a total of 44 cases involving pulmonary tuberculosis, especially in those showing extensive involvement of cilin. Similar results had been attained in 67 out of a total of 100 cases involving negative germs, especially urinal duct infection. Kanamycin had its own drawbacks in that the auditory branch of the eighth cranial nerve is affected sometimes and after more than 30 grams are given. Tolerance apparently is built up resistance against it. However, such defects could be easily overcome, he added.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"SILENT ULCERS" SLOW TO REVEAL THEIR PRESENCE

Two friends of mine had some strange symptoms within a couple of weeks of each other. Both of them had been looking peaked. If you pressed his fingernail, it left a pale spot that did not flush back to normal color immediately—as usually happens. But he wouldn't admit that he was ill, and no matter how firmly a friend (doctor or not) urge one of them to have a checkup, you can't make him do it.

So one day he became really ill. He was doing some "projectile vomiting," meaning that he was throwing up at considerable velocity. He also was suffering from diarrhea, and some of the stool was black, indicating bleeding higher up in the digestive tract. And there was also some red blood.

At this point he admitted that something ailed him, but he insisted that it was food poisoning. Still, he called a doctor. And the doctor quite readily established the cause.

What's your guess?

The answer was a so-called "silent ulcer." Gastric or duodenal ulcers many times are of the silent type. That is to say, the ulcers are there but for a long time give no obvious signal that is, no pain, no bleeding, no nothing. Or at least, nothing to send the patient hotfoot to the rush to the hospital.

The other case I mentioned came with even less warning. The man had been in adequately good health, but suddenly developed a large amount of rectal bleeding. He had a considerable degree of medical knowledge (although he is not a doctor) and through his mind flashed all the awful, fatal, or malignant possibilities.

HOSPITALIZED FOR DIAGNOSIS

He spent two or three days in the hospital until all the possible tests were conducted and the final diagnosis was made.

Again it was a stomach ulcer that had begun, suddenly, to bleed heavily.

The stomach and duodenum are high in the digestive tract, and food for the most part is liquified there wit result in a black — not red — stool, because the blood is subjected to the action of digestive juices.

If bleeding is heavy, some comes through red.

Here, then, are two cases of the "silent ulcer", or ulcer that for a long time exists without making itself known. Incidentally, when an ulcer perforates, it does so painlessly.

Thus most ulcers make their presence known soon, but the "silent" ones do occur, and when they suddenly manifest themselves they can give you quite a scare until you identify them and get them under control.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can doctors perform an operation to enlarge the breasts? If so, would it be harmful? — L. D."

Plastic surgeons are having some success by inserting plasth materials similar to sponges. There is no value to this. The best rule of safety I know is this: discuss the problem fully with your doctor, who can weigh such factors as whether you are likely to be benefited, and whether it is safe to find the cost suitable to your circumstances, and whether it is in your case. If he approves, he can also see that you go to a suitable surgeon.

Politicians and Flowers

Victoria Times

Idling on a bench in Beacon Hill Park one evening not long ago, admiring the blooms and the peace of a lovely sunset, we began musing (of all things!) about political philosophies and their relation to beauty.

Do politicians ever think in abstract terms, we asked, love, nature? What would they say if we — if anybody — confronted with a magnificent garden, rich in its June colors?

The answer is now known.

The Liberal would say: "This is what we have done for you. You must be shared. We will hold a tremendous mass rally, for rich and poor alike, and we invite you to early arrivals. For the shut-ins we will arrange for radio coverage by the CBC."

The Communist would pick the flowers, mount the platform of the Cameron bowl, and shout: "Comrades, these are yours! Pick them!"

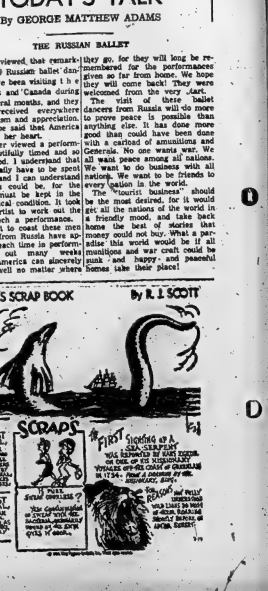
The C.C.F.—er—would circle the plot, cautiously, sniff twice, and then exclaim: "Just as I thought! Another case of 'he who's cashing in on this insecticide racket!"

The Conservative would remove his hat reverently, and proceed to the Rose Festival for Beacon Hill Park. These should be in a funeral parlor."

The Social Creditor would say: "God's handiwork. Put a fence around them and sell tickets."

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS



THE RUSSIAN BALLET

I recently viewed, that remarkable group of Russian ballet dancers who have been visiting the United States and Canada during the past several months, and they have been received everywhere with enthusiasm and appreciation. It can well be said that America took them to her heart.

For years we observed a performance so beautifully timed and so brilliantly acted, that hours and long hours daily have to be spent in practice, and I can understand how true that must be, for the performers must be kept in the best of physical condition. It took a genius and artist to work out the details to such a performance.

From coast to coast these men and women from Russia have appeared and each performance has been sold out many weeks ahead. All America can sincerely with them well no matter where they go, for they will long be remembered for the performances they gave in the short time that they will come back! They were welcomed from the very Last.

The world's greatest ballet dancers from Russia will do more to prove peace is possible than anything else. It has done more good than could have been done with a fund of ammunitions and Generals. No one wants war. We all want peace among all the races. We want to do business with all nations, and happy and peaceful homes take their place!

2,000 Members of Lodges From Four Counties Combine To Make 'Walk' Success

PICTON — More than two thousand members of the Loyal Orange Lodges in Prince Edward, Hastings, Lennox and Addington and Prontenac counties participated in the Battle of the Boyne commemoration walk in Picton on Saturday, adding an international flavor to the event, the first here in eleven years, were members of Garland City Lodge LOL 517, Watertown, N.Y., and its brass band.

Though it rained heavily most of the morning, the afternoon saw warm, sunny weather favor the colorful parade with its many bands, huge banners, colorful regalia, decorated cars and flags.

The parade formed at the fairgrounds, moving to the west end of the town and then returned by Main, Sirset, Spectators lined the entire route and it is estimated that the attendance exceeded that of the Santa Claus parade which usually draws from ten to fifteen thousand people. Though traffic was the heaviest in many years, police report no accidents.

Several handsome trophies were donated by Mayor R. J. McFarland. Following the parade, the musicians performed in the County Agricultural and Recreation Centre before several speakers were heard.

Watertown received the award for the best brass band; Kingston Rob Roy highland band for the best pipe band; Roslin LOL for the best fife and drum band, Picton Oddfellows band, accompanying the Picton lodges, did not compete.

KINGSTON WINS TROPHY

Unity LOBA 980 of Kingston won the trophy for the best showing of any lodge in the parade. Featured were two members representing Canada and the United States, with bands clasped. Their costumes included capes with the flags of the two countries. Honorable mention, to Wallbridge who wore straw hats with orange bands. The trophy for the best Juvenile LOL was won by Frankford 256, while Charles Lucas, Trenton, received a trophy as the best drummer.

Among the lodges taking part were Arden, Allisonville LOL 1175, Belleville Victory Juveniles 233, Belleville LOL 279, Lydia LOBA 350, Juveniles 231, Welcome LOBA 1320, Sunshine 3199, LOL 395, Benjamin LOL 574, Batterson LOL and LOBA, Cannifton LOL 2230 and LOBA 1319, Colebrook, Camden East, Deseronto 99, 2599, 1168 and 2388 LOL's and LOBA's, Foxboro LOL 3 with fife and drum band; Frankford LOL 240 and JOL 256, Forest Mills representatives.

Kingston lodges included Hope of Derry 404, Mount Joy JOL 250, Royal True Blue, Unity LOBA 980, Edith Cavell 349, Lady Bevan 1097, Limestone City Juveniles, True Blues and JOL, Lady Dufferin LOL 709.

Other lodges will represented were Moira LOBA 1319 and LOL, Point Anne LOL 2599, Picton Boulter LOL 488, Picton LOBA 487 Alice Calon Memorial Juvenile Lodge, Picton; Orange Young Briton Picton; Patterson LOBA, Roslin LOL with fife and drum band, Shannonville LOL 242, Sidney LOL 2388, Trenton LOL 206, LOBA 604 and Juveniles 198, Tyendinaga LOL 295 with fife and drum band, Tyendinaga Mohawk LOL 99, Woodville LOL.

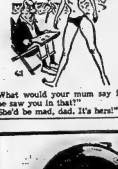
Lodges to be represented by the parade, F. L. Ward, QC, presided for a short program. He paid special tribute to Mayor McFarland, whose generosity had contributed a good deal to the success of the day. Mayor McFarland welcomed the members to the town. Orville Warren Howard Gyde extended a welcome from the County. County Master George Allan, Boulter LOL Master Noel Perry and Parade Marshal Edward Rolston, also spoke appreciation of the fine co-operation which had been given. C. A. Milligan, MP and Norris Whitney, MPP, spoke briefly. Picton Odd Fellows band, under Creighton Lockyer, gave several numbers. The stage was decorated with the Order's colors, blue and orange with flags of two countries and baskets of orange lillies and delphinium adding a note of color.

Deputy Grand Master Morgan Brown congratulated all the lodges on their showing and commended Boulter LOL on its 100 years of service to the Order. He referred to the [illegible] numbers of other lodges at [illegible] from the Grand [illegible] with Miller.

[illegible] to be present for the celebrations here. July 12 marks one of the greatest victories in [illegible] history, the message declared, and challenges members to continue their fight against encroachments of the rights and liberties for which the Order stands.

"We owe our freedom and our present way of life to the Battle of the Boyne", declared the Deputy Grand Master. "The Orange Order will not accept any Canadian flag, which does not include the Union Jack", he stated. "We bear much of a new Canadian flag but let us remember that thousands fought and died under that flag for the preservation of freedom. Should be not keep faith with them?". The speaker urged members of the Order to be alert against those forces which would destroy the things we cherish. The Order is against special privileges. It favors the connection with Britain and the Commonwealth in their endeavor to secure lasting peace. There is no better agency for preservation of human right, outside of the Christian church, than the Orange Order. It contributes to the peace and brotherhood of mankind.

"The Order has a glorious past," said the speaker. "Let us go forward and preserve the heritage we enjoy for those who come after us. Build for the future. Let us stand, fast in the faith; if God be with us, who can prevail against us?" concluded the speaker.



Members of Picton LOBA served nearly 500 meals in the Centre hall while another group operated a canteen in the building and outdoor stands.

Prior to games in the evening, the Watertown band gave a program which drew much applause.

GARDENING'S A CINCH with RX-15

"Why Won't Flowers Grow in Your Backyard?"

If flowers won't grow for you — no matter how hard you try — in case after case it's been proven that your soil is to blame. Science tells us that almost 90% of all garden soils are deficient in at least one of the vital minerals a plant needs to bloom and flourish. And if you starve a plant of even one of these life-giving soil minerals you won't get many flowers no matter how much sun and water you give it — no matter how many hours you slave in your garden.

Sprinkle with RX-15, save hours of extra digging!

But now amazing RX-15 instantly feeds plants all the life-giving soil minerals they need for healthy bloom. Merely sprinkling with RX-15 can make starved, undernourished lawns, trees, shrubs, houseplants start to bring back to new life instantly! You'll be amazed at the way scraggly plants, seedlings, shrubs, bulbs and trees start shooting out new buds, stems, branches — the way they produce thicker, greener, bigger leaves and flowers even in the most mineral-starved soil, when you sprinkle them with a spoonful of RX-15 dissolved in water . . . and it goes to work instantly!

Marriage to take place Saturday, August 9, 1958, at 2 p.m., in College Hill United Church, Belleville. Reception to follow at St. Ola Hall, St. Ola, Ontario, from 8 to 12 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Colden have returned via air after attending the Lions International Convention held in Chicago, Illinois.

* * *

Mrs. Glenn Lane has received word that her father, Mr. C. H. Fisher, has arrived safely in Ireland.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Grills and Mary Frances, of Bermuda, who have been visiting friends, left for Montreal, yesterday, en route to Europe.

Interesting Meeting Held By Quinte W.I.

The July meeting of Quinte WI was held in the Quinte Women's Institute hall with a large attendance and some visitors.

Mrs. K. Vivian welcomed all and Mrs. Jeffery, the secretary, dealt with correspondence and business. Mrs. C. Keene and Mrs. H. McMullen were chosen to attend the rug making course in Stirling. As Belleville fair-grounds are wet, it was decided to have the August 6 meeting one week earlier, on the afternoon of August 5, at the home of Mrs. A. Brown, Highland Avenue.

The president and every member of this Quinte Institute may say a big thank you to all business folk of Belleville, who have been so kind and generous to donate articles for Bazaars and supply the needs of the new Institute Hall! Mrs. Jack Bush, Wallace Hardware; Robert Simpson Co., Woolworths, T. Eaton Company, Ltd., Reid's, Gastwirt, Mr. Harry Smith, Mr. Ray Grant, (Houston's, per Mr. Ray or Rolland), Mrs. Mahaney, and Mrs. Lillian D. V. Bois, who is visiting here from Connecticut, U.S.A., gave a donation of money. Mrs. Bois is a sister of Mrs. Harry Grills, a past president.

PRESENTATIONS

Mrs. Fred Mitchell, presented the gifts to the girls, with an electric tea kettle, in memory of her mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Sharpe.

The conveners for the July meeting were: Mrs. A. Mitchell, and Mrs. C. Keene, the theme being "Education". Mrs. C. Keene gave a greeting and also introduced Mrs. C. Holmes, who spoke on the "Three Rs" and "Some Other Things". She left many fine thoughts with her hearers. "All just one's self to all occasions, in all ways; be considerate of others; don't condemn and form a good listener, even with the knowledge and education of today, if not able to cope with the situation," closing her address by saying "We all have talent, let us strive to be of some service to the world".

ENCOURAGEMENT HELPS

All were happy to welcome Mrs. Grant Clarke, who spoke on "Some Ways Education Helps". She termed education as a "gathering of information", and thought we should strive to learn more, but never, never be the one who just knows it all, asking her listeners to grasp all chances for advance education, it may be one more point in one's self.

Mrs. Clarke deplored the importance of education and good judgment for all leaders, especially of world affairs, Major Lester remarks by saying, "common sense and education go hand in hand." All present stted Mrs. Grant Clarke's presence, although it is a trying time, she is busy with her class of junior boys at summer Bible School.

This was followed with a duet by Marlene and Carolyn Mitchell, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Manley Mitchell, who sang "Surprises", "Dear Little Kid Sister of Mine", accompanied by their mother at the piano.

Mrs. Jack Parrott gave the highlights of the conference in Quinte, which she had attended. The theme of the conference was the "Challenge of Tomorrow". World peace and world safety are everyone's responsibility. The shape of things to come in the world of tomorrow, will be determined on the frontier of knowledge in the world of today. There is many a challenge for the WI woman to accept in the future belongs to those who prepare for it. In 25 years Canadians have changed from farmers to farmers; from steam engines to atomic power.

An organization which is successful, and progressive looks forward with dreams and visions of possibilities and high ideals for the future.

IMPROVEMENT 'IDEAS'

Quinte Institute was honored to have one of her past presidents, Mrs. Clifford Reed, now district president, present, who spoke briefly, outlining some of the ideas she hopes will improve WI work; inviting new members, especially young married women to work together as a branch; to take advantage of department courses, for one is never too old to learn. In closing her remarks, she asked all to help the 4 - H Club girls.

Mrs. Arnold Mitchell thanked all who had helped with the afternoon's program. A social half hour followed.

Mother's Helper

A LAST-MINUTE check before you go to bed is especially important if you and your children are visiting away from home. Make sure that every door is locked and all windows latched. Loose-hooked, if possible. Leave a night light on in the hall and kitchen. Keep a spray handy!

SHERWIN — TAYLOR

Eldad United Church, Salem, Ontario, was the setting on Saturday, July 5th, at 3.00 p.m. for a very pretty summer wedding when Evelyn Grace Taylor, of Enniskillen, Ontario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elgin R. Taylor, by was united in marriage to the reverend Robert Franklin Sherwin, assistant pastor of Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, son of Mrs. Frank Sherwin, of Cobourg, Ontario, and the late Mr. Sherwin. The Reverend O. R. Jay, B.A., B.D., of Peterborough, assisted by the Reverend F. Reed Jeffery, officiated before a background of white chrysanthemums and white snapdragons. The guest pews were designated by white satin bows.

Mr. S. Alec Gordon, guest organist from Bridge Street United Church, rendered during the processional "Praise My Soul, the King of Heaven," followed by the guests joining in the hymn "Now Thank We All Our God." The soloist, Mr. Donald Taylor, brother of the bride, rendered "O Perfect Love" and "The Wedding Prayer."

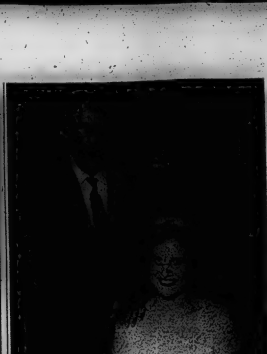
Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Elgin R. Taylor, the bride was lovely in her garden-length white organza bridal gown featuring a fitted bodice with portrait neckline, outlined with Alencon lace and re-embroidered with pallets and seed pearls. The mandlike sleeves ended in points over the wrists. The full, circular skirt was accented by a butterfly bustle and deep flounce which cascaded into a chapel train. She wore a white circlet enclosed with seed pearls and finger-tip veil of silk illusion. She carried a white Bible, the gift of her bridegroom, crested with Pinocchio 'mums, stephanotis and centred by a single white orchid, and white satin streamers.

She was attended by Mrs. Joan Taylor, as matron of honor, Mrs. Joyce Taylor, and Miss Joan Creighton, as bridesmaids. All attendants were gowns of similar design, the matron of honor in green nylon chiffon over taffeta, with full-feathered skirt in waltz-length, and fitted bodice dipped to a "V" point at neckline and waistline. The bridesmaids had in pink and choral shades, respectively. They wore matching hats and carried bouquets of yellow and white 'mums tied with ribbon streamers.

The little flower girl, Elizabeth Sherwin, niece of the bridegroom, was frocked in short-length green nylon chiffon, with matching floral headband, and carrying a basket of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Frank Lucas of Peterborough, attended the bridegroom, while Messrs. Bruce Taylor of Enniskillen, Ontario, and Gordon Sherwin, of Baltimore, Ontario, ushered the guests.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in Salem community hall, where the bridal table was prettily appointed with white damask, the traditional wedding cake, and flanked by white candles and the bridal bouquets.



The bride's mother, for her daughter's wedding, chose dusty rose silk shantung with white accessories, and corsage of yellow roses.

She was assisted in receiving the numerous guests by the bridegroom's mother, who was attired in Dior blue crepe with white and cherry-pagne accessories, and corsage of pink roses.

For the wedding trip to the Maritimes, and the New England States, the bride wore a matching lime green sheath and duster with orange-lee accessories and corsage of white orchids. The Reverend and Mrs. Robert Sherwin will make their home at 101-A East Bridge St., Belleville, upon their return.

Guests were present from Yorkton, Saskatchewan; London, Ontario; St. Catharines, Toronto, Wiarton, Montreal, Peterborough and Belleville.

The bride was entertained previous to her marriage, by friends at the home of Mrs. Gordon Drew, Peterborough, with a miscellaneous shower; by the presentation of a cut-glass bowl from the supervisor of Peterborough Civic Hospital and at a dinner in her honor held by the staff of the operating room at the hospital where Miss Taylor was supervisor; when she was presented with an electric fry pan, and at a kitchen shower by the community members of Salem, held at the home of Mrs. Donald Taylor.

LYONS — COONEY

A pretty summer wedding was solemnized on Saturday, June 28th, at 3.00 p.m. in Bethel United Church, Stirling, Ontario, when the Reverend C. E. Clarke, of Guelph, Ontario, united in marriage Shirley Cooney, of Stirling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cooney, to Edmund Hugh Lyons, of Frankford, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lyons. The church was a background of pink and white peonies and ferns. The guest pews were marked by white satin bows centred by yellow roses.

Miss Joan Campbell presided at the piano and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Grevald Cherry, who sang before the ceremony "The Wedding Prayer" and during the signing of the register "Because."

Given in marriage by her father, Mr. Theodore Cooney, the bride was lovely in her storybook bridal gowns of silk organza enhanced with petit-point lace flowers encircled with tiny seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The bodice was of matching lace having a scalloped neckline outlined in seed pearls and sequins and the bouffant skirt was featured by a princess waistline over triple layers of tulle and taffeta. She wore elbow-length, petit-point lace gauntlets emphasizing the tiny, short sleeves. Her matching coronet was encrusted with seed pearls and sequins and her tulle illusion veil was of chapel length and she carried a white Bible crested with red roses.

Mrs. Donald McKeown, sister of the bride, was matron of honor; Miss Beverley Ray of Stirling, Mrs. Douglas Consul of Cobourg, and Miss Joyce Cooney of Stirling, as bridesmaids, were all gowned in white, cotton lace with torso-length bodices having scalloped necklines, short-sleeved frocks of nylon, full skirts. They wore round, white net hats encircled with seed pearls and sequins, with large white ribbon bow at the back and carried red and white carnation bouquets.

Little Miss Brenda Cooney of Frankford, was flower girl, sweet in her white-ruffled, short-sleeved frock of nylon, with matching headdress and carrying a basket of red roses and petals.

Master Gary Cooney of Trenton, was ring-bearer.

Mr. Francis Lyons of Frankford, was groomsman, and Mr. Norman Cooney, Mr. Marvin Cooney, both of Stirling and Mr. Douglas Consul of Cobourg, were ushers.

The reception was held in the I.O.O.F. hall in Stirling, where the bride's mother received, gowned in navy French lace with 3/4 length necklace and full skirt; navy and pale blue accessories and corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother, wearing nile green nylon in floral pattern, white accessories, and corsage of yellow roses, assisted in the receiving line.

The wedding trip to Lake Placid and through the Adirondacks and the Province of Quebec, the bride travelled in an orange-ice sheath of crystalette with matching jacket and fine picture hat, gloves and accessories with corsage of white gardenias. Mr. and Mrs. Lyons will reside on the 6th concession of Ameliasburgh.

Guests attended from Toronto, Edmonton, Niagara Falls, N.Y., Peterborough, Belleville, Port Hope, Bowmanville, Trenton, Madoc, Marmora, Brighton, Oshawa, Frankford, Foxboro and Campbellford.

Prior to her marriage the bride was the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Miss Beverley Ray, Stirling, when she received many lovely gifts.

Four Parsons To Present Musical Treat

The Reverend Alvin Martin, B.Th. M.A., acting president of the Canadian Bible College at Regina, Saskatchewan, the official school of the Christian and Missionary Alliance in Canada, accompanied by his wife Pauline, and sons, William McCarthy, of Dawson Creek, B.C., Harvey Schroeder and William Dirks, both of Chilliwack, B.C., and James Ratzlaff of Waldheim, Saskatchewan, will present a delightful and inspiring program of music and testimony Tabernacle, Coleman and Moira Sts., Tuesday evening at 8.00 o'clock.

The Four Parsons are training for the ministry at the Bible College and have a wide and varied repertoire various instrumental and vocal selections, as well as quartet numbers.

Mr. Martin is a former missionary of the Christian and Missionary Alliance to the country of Israel where he was closely associated during the stirring days preceding Israel's rebirth as a nation. He is a graduate of the St. Paul Bible College, St. Paul, Minnesota, and of the Nyack Missionary College at Nyack, New York, receiving his B.Th. degree in 1947. He will receive his M.Th. degree from the Wisconsin Lake School of Theology, Wilmar, Lake, Minnesota this summer.

Mr. Martin and the Four Parsons will be happy to meet young people who are interested in the Christian education and geared to meet the challenge of these times. The pastor, the Reverend Seckwhe Palmer, also extends a cordial invitation to the public to hear this unique program.

Quinte Golfers Took Part In Tournament

The Bay of Quinte County Club lady golfers took part in the Kenmore tournament, which was held in Kingston last weekend and one came back with an award.

Mrs. Steve Bowerman won a putting prize.

Ladies division president Helen Lee, and her members, are looking forward to the annual field day scheduled for August 9th.

Some 15 district clubs will be represented and it is expected the tournament will attract some 100 lady golfers.

Manitoba Couple Raise Healthy Family of 19

SOUTH JUNCTION, Man. (CP) —Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gobeil say the way to raise a healthy family of 19 is to "not get excited and worry."

The Gobeils, possibly Manitoba's largest family, live on a 250-acre bush farm near the community 100 miles southeast of Winnipeg. They built their present two-storey, 10-room farmhouse in 1947 when they outgrew a two-room building.

Of the 19 children, seven girls born to 55-year-old Mr. Gobeil and his 54-year-old wife Emilienne, 14 still live at home. Three are married and two others work elsewhere.

The children range in age from two-year-old Claire to twenty-three-year-old Mrs. George Gagnon of South Junction, 30. Thirteen of them were born at home without the aid of a doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. Gobeil, natives of Quebec, came to Manitoba with their parents in early ages. They were married in 1927 at Vassar, Man., where Mrs. Gobeil's family had settled.

The Gobeils have never lost a child, and none has had a serious illness.

Part of the secret of their good health probably lies in their immense appetites. Subsisting mainly on home-grown products, each year they consume some 1,500 quarts of canned vegetables and fruit, two tons of potatoes, 1,250 bushels of potatoes. Generally shunning tea and coffee, they drink three gallons of milk a day.

Much of their clothing is homemade. Mrs. Gobeil knits woollen goods of yarn prepared from their own sheep, and she makes all the family's clothes.

With the ample supply of manpower there is no problem in working the 125 acres of cultivated land carved out of the pine and poplar bush which surrounds the Gobeil home.

The older boys show little inclination to leave the farm.

"We can't think of say better life than we have," said one.

While the older children were educated to the axe and tractor, the spinning wheel and canning kettle, the younger members attended the nearby one-room school.

Women's Activities

FRANKFORD C. A.'s

The C. A.'s of Frankford Full Gospel Tabernacle met on Friday evening. The president, Carl Asselstine was in charge of the meeting.

Mrs Gloria Reilly conducted a Bible quiz and Mrs. E. Payne read a poem, "The Old Story".

Rev. Jim Hunter brought a message from Daniel 1, speaking on "Purpose In Your Heart to Serve God", and showed colored pictures of western Canada in the Sunday School auditorium.

MARSH HILL W.M.S.

MARSH HILL — The the Marsh Hill W.M.S. meeting, Mrs. Bartindale, literature secretary, passed out several pamphlets on "Stewardship"; Mrs. Frank Pinkle, stewardship, secretary, gave a reading "Stewardship" and Mrs. Walter Lindenfield, temperance secretary, gave some facts on temperance.

The members were told that a bale valued at $80 had been sent by Mrs. David Hollinger, Mrs. Farley Lindenfield was in charge of the worship service, the theme being, "The Bible and Prayer." She was assisted by Mrs. Walter Lindenfield, Mrs. Leslie Little and Mrs. Harold Detlor.

Mrs. Bartindale presided over the program and read the hymn "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind," as an opening prayer. Mrs. Leslie Little read, "The Bible and Prayer" and Mrs. Bartindale and Mrs. Harold Detlor read "Prayer," giving the Ten Commandments of prayer.

Mrs. Bartindale gave a paper on "How to Read the Bible"—read a portion of the Bible each day; remember God is speaking to you as you read.

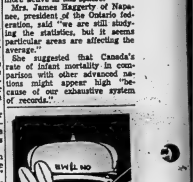
Mrs. Bartindale closed with two readings, "The Bible Like Unto A Magnificent Palace" and "Lo, I Am With You Always."

After the benediction, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Farley Lindenfield and Mrs. Leslie Little, served refreshments.

TORONTO (CP) — Too many babies in Ontario are born dead or die in early infancy, says Mrs. Harry Francis of Shelburne, Ont., who led a study group set up by the federated women's institutes of the province.

"The infant mortality rate has been cut by more than 50 per cent in the nation and in the province in the last 20 years, but the figures are still much too high," she reported to the WI. "Ways must be found to prevent this unnecessary waste of human life."

She said that in the period 1950-54 the infant death rate per 1,000 births was 78.6 for Canada and 69.7 for Ontario. In 1950-54, the rate for Canada was 36.8, and for Ontario 29.3.



UNDUE HARDSHIPS SERVICES

The study group recommended better distribution of medical and nursing services, an educational program on the need for improved prenatal and maternal care, improved facilities in general hospitals, increased awareness of the problems by the medical profession and research into the causes of stillbirths and infant deaths.

Mrs. Francis urged the WI to sponsor educational projects, assist at premarital and prenatal clinics and child guidance clinics, work closely with local health authorities and hospitals, and urge the government to be more active in this sphere.

Assisted by Mrs. Kaggerty of Napanee, president of the Ontario federation, said "we are still studying the statistics, but it seems particular areas are affecting the average."

She suggested that Canada's rate of infant mortality in comparison with other advanced nations might appear high "because of our exhaustive system of records."

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beekman

TODAY'S COURTESY TIP: ON REMEMBERING NAMES

Remember how pleased y o u were when someone to whom you were being introduced had t h e grace to add your name to t h e "How do you do" acknowledging the introduction? And remember how really touched you were when someone you didn't know at all well, addressed you most graciously (and unexpectedly) by your name? There's magic in that charming habit of remembering names. Wouldn't it be a good idea for you to start to acquire this endearing habit on your vacation ... you'll find it a most valuable social asset.

MANY USES FOR PARTLY-ENGRAVED CARDS

Dear Mrs. Beekman:

In your column the other day you suggested to a reader several types of invitation cards she could properly use for the semi-formal occasion she and her husband were planning to give. One suggestion was that she might use "the partly-engraved invitation cards." What you said about the last kind, the partly-engraved cards, interested me particularly because they seemed so appropriate for our use. I would like to know more about these. Would you please tell me exactly what they are, and for what occasions they are appropriate? — R. A.

— These partly-engraved cards are indeed appropriate and most practical to use for invitations to so many occasions: to a tea, stick-to-dinner reception, a bridge party, a shower, birthday party, wedding anniversary celebration, Sunday brunch or luncheon, a dinner, buffet party, and so forth. Boxes of these cards may be bought at stationers or stationery departments. They should be white, of generous size, good stock, plain or paneled (I suggest the plain and much better looking). Only a few words are engraved on them . . . the skeleton of the invitation, so to speak . . . and the items of the invitation are written in ink. These are the engraved words: request the pleasure of your company at at on at o'clock

(1) Name is written on first line; (2) after "at," the occasion; (3) after "on," the day, month, date. The address is generally written in the lower right corner, and opposite it may be R.S.V.P.

Note: Some of these cards are engraved "request . . ."; others, "requests . . .": be sure to choose the form you wish.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Mrs. D. M. — I want to get out of Vera's way.

Vera M. — I can't hide her and my child.

Mrs. D. M. — I am a widow in my late 60's and I live with my daughter and her 15-year-old son. She was divorced about six years ago.

I know that Vera is very anxious to marry again and I am afraid that I am in her way. She has gone out with a few men in the past several years, but has never comes to anything. I f e e l that when one realizes Vera has a child and an elderly mother to take care of, they lose interest in her.

I think it would be a good idea for Vera to take a place by herself. I could take the boy and we could move to a community not far from her. In this way we could give Vera a chance to let her relationship with a man develop. If he is interested enough in her, he will later accept t h e child.

Vera M. — Mother has been driving me crazy with this ridiculous idea of hers. She keeps harping away at it night and day. It seems to me about the silliest thing I ever heard of. How can I hide away my own mother a n d child? What would the man think of me if I suddenly produced them?

It is true I would like very much to be married again, but I am beginning to realize that it is almost out of the question, handicapped as I am. I am trying my best to adjust myself to a bad situation.

The Council: As my lot is, I don't regret my divorce. When I g o t married I believed any marriage was better than no marriage. Well, I soon learned different. I wouldn't marry again unless I was sure there were no kinks in the works on either side.

The Council: Vera's mother and child are indeed handicapping her — but only because she sees them as handicaps.

The fact that men become interested in her and then drop her when they realize her responsibilities indicates that she tends to present herself to them as footloose and free. Naturally, she attracts the kinds of men who are looking for such a woman.

If Vera accepted her responsibilities good-humoredly or., what would be even better, joyfully, she would attract the kind of man who might be interested in a woman of her age. Many men have responsibilities of their own and would welcome the kind of marriage that would mean the joining of two households. There are even some foot-loose bachelors who might prefer the kind of woman who can offer an established home that includes a child.

We agree with Vera that it would be more than foolish f o r her to attempt to hide her mother and child. But we feel she is unconsciously doing just that at present.

Despite the problems they present, we are sure Vera must love her moth.r and child and this is what she must keep uppermost in her mind and heart. This alone will afford her happiness, and her happiness will attract others to her.

At present, Vera must be doing great psychological damage to the mother and child, who both sense that she feels they are in the way. She must try to repair that damage. When she does she will repair some of the damage she has done to her own personality.

MONDAY

Recently one of my food editor friends wrote an article on what could be done with one large boiling fowl. Among her excellent recipes she gave a variation of Yorkshire pudding and I was loud in my praise of it. What you do is pour a Yorkshire pudding batter over large pieces of boneless chicken preheated in a shallow baking dish, and then bake it at 350 deg. F. It is delicious. You Yorkshire pudding addicts should try it.

What I have in mind today is a way of using sliced precooked boiling fowl too. Chicken Divan was served in individual baking dishes at a dinner sponsored by the Cheese Festival Committee. The chef who prepared it is a master, for the broccoli was still bright green but tender, the sauce bubbly-looking and hot. The dozen or so Home Economists present were excited over his feat of serving it so perfectly to over 200 people. Of course it does not have to be served in individual baking dishes. Use a family-size casserole. If you wish.

CHICKEN DIVAN

To serve 6 you will need 1 large bunch of broccoli, 4 tablespoons each butter and flour, 2 cups chicken stock, ½ cup heavy cream whipped, salt and pepper to taste, ¼ cup grated Cedar cheese (Canadian of course), about 18 slices cooked chicken and additional grated Cheddar. Cook the broccoli in boiling salted water about 10 minutes or until barely tender. Drain but keep hot. Melt the butter, stir in the flour, then the stock until thick, then cook stirring over low heat about 3 minutes. Remove from heat and fold in whipped cream. (NOTE: Some cooks add 2 tablespoons cooking sherry at this point). Add seasonings. Arrange cooked broccoli on hot ovenproof shallow ramekins or baking dish and pour half the sauce over. Add ¼ cup cheese to remaining sauce. Arrange chicken slices over sauce-covered broccoli. Pour remaining sauce over and sprinkle with additional cheese. Set ramekins or baking dish under broiler until sauce bubbles and is lightly browned.

TO BOIL A 5 to 7-LB FOWL rub the outside with a half lemon, then cover with hot water, adding giblets (except liver) and neck. Add also 1 sliced onion and cut clove of garlic, ½ teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ teaspoon tarragon, 1 chopped carrot and 4 or 5 celery tops. Cover and SIMMER 3¼ hours or until tender — but not quite until meat falls from bones. Cool chicken in cooking liquid BUT if it is a hot day or you are cooling it overnight be sure it is in a cool, cool place. Chicken broth has a way of spoiling quickly in hot weather. Cook the liver with the breakfast bacon and let the kiddies share it.

Casual Spirit Seen in First Fall Fashions

NEW YORK (AP)—The youthful, casual spirit of the late Claire McCardell is present and distinct in the first fashion collection presented by the house of Townley since the death of the famous designer.

Two designers, Mildred Orrick and Arnold Scaasi, carry on the McCardell tradition, preserving its spirit but interpreting it in imaginative and individual ways. Both stress the empire waistline, which was a favorite of Miss McCardell long before it became a general fashion.

Miss Orrick does the kind of casual, understated styles in unusual fabrics for which Miss McCardell was famous — soft, muted jersey tube dresses with casual accent below the bust, fringed blanket coats with coordinated simple tweed skirt and blouse, soft flower-printed wool dresses in stained-glass-window colors, a loose taupe mohair middy over a straight skirt.

Scaasi is bolder in his touch, adding a youthful flourish to sashes and bows. Typical of his winter costumes is a full short coat in bright blue looped mohair with a huge collar, worn with a matching straight skirt and a paisley wool print blouse in the same basic color. He also shows bold, bulky plaid fingertip-length coats over straight, slim jersey dresses, completely unfitted.

LIFE INSURANCE contributes financially to medical research at CANADIAN UNIVERSITIES

Medical research aims at a longer, happier life for you and your children

Thanks to untiring research, many dangerous diseases are under control today. A number of other "killers", however, are still unsolved problems.

In the over-all research effort being made to solve them, the medical schools of Canadian universities are playing an important part.

To help strengthen and develop their research programs, the Life Insurance Companies in Canada are providing research Fellowships to these universities, every year.

Fellowships are awarded to graduates who have been appointed to teaching or research staffs of Canadian medical schools. During the past nine years 107 Fellowships of this nature, amounting to half a million dollars, have been granted.

This is just one of the many ways in which the Life Insurance Companies in Canada are helping to further the progress of medical science in this country and to promote a happier, healthier life for everyone.

Puss'n Boots—made from fresh, whole fish

Photo—A sample fish was rushed from Canadian coastal waters into sanitary canneries, where the whole fish is processed into Puss 'n Boots Cat Food.

...gives your cat Sparkling health and beauty

THOSE secret of a cat's health and disposition is in its feeding. According to biologists, the best single food you can give your cat is whole fish. Not just any part or scrap of fish. There's an important scientific reason for that word "whole". It's really an exciting story for any cat owner who wants a healthy, contented and good-looking pet.

Only Whole Fish has Life Balance

In a living fish there's a balance of those mysterious elements which nature uses to sustain a healthy, thriving organism. When whole fish is prepared for cat food, these elements are retained intact, just as they were in the living fish. The fibers supply rich proteins. The liver and glands yield precious vitamins. The bone structure provides calcium and phosphorus. From various parts of the whole fish come iron, vitamins, trace elements, magnesium and all those vital food elements which nature uses to sustain full vitality. That's why we say that no other single food for cats is not enough. While almost any part supplies something valuable, your cat needs all these nutrients. In nature's own life balance. Only the whole fish supplies them all.

Puss'n Boots Is made from Whole Fish

Our business is cat food. Puss'n Boots is not made from parts of fish or scraps. We process whole fish, with nature's balance of nutritive elements intact, as they were in the living fish. Valuable cereals are added for flavor and all-round nutrition. You couldn't duplicate the food value in Puss'n Boots whole fish even if you went to endless trouble buying and cooking complicated meals for your cat. But all you have to do is open a can of pressure-cooked, ready-to-serve Puss'n Boots.

YOU CAN GIVE yourself a pleasant surprise by feeding Puss'n Boots regularly to your cat. In three weeks or less you'll see a more frisky pet, with a livelier step, a sleeker look, a more contented purr . . . more of all those lovable qualities you want in your pet. Try it!

Compare your cat's food with Puss 'n Boots. Only Puss 'n Boots is so well balanced . . . nourishes so completely!

Do You Feed HAMBURGER? Hamburger has a high amount of body-building protein and blood-enriching iron.	Red HAMBURGER lacks energy-giving carbohydrates. It is deficient in vitamins A and D.	PUSS'n BOOTS not only furnishes body-building protein and blood-enriching iron, but has an abundant amount of carbohydrates for energy and vitamin A for keen eyesight.
Do You Feed KIDNEY? Beef Kidney has a good supply of body-building protein, fat for energy, niacin for healthy skin.	Red BEEF KIDNEY lacks many important elements, one of the nutritive factors concentrate for normal reproduction and healthy kittens.	PUSS'n BOOTS not only supplies niacin for smooth, healthy skin and fat for energy, but also the important reproductive elements, so necessary to the mother-to-be and her kittens.
Do You Feed SALMON? Salmon (canned) furnishes body-building protein, bone-building calcium and vitamin D.	Red SALMON (canned) lacks vitamin A, so important for good eyesight and lacks concave very little carbohydrates.	PUSS'n BOOTS not only has all traces of vitamin D and calcium, but contains vitamin A as well as valuable carbohydrates.
Do You Feed MILK? Milk has growth-giving protein, calcium for strong bones and teeth, riboflavin and thiamin.	Red MILK lacks iron, the miner-al that's so important for good rich red blood.	PUSS'n BOOTS not only has riboflavin for silky fur and thiamin for appetite, but, in addition, has the blood-building iron which milk lacks.

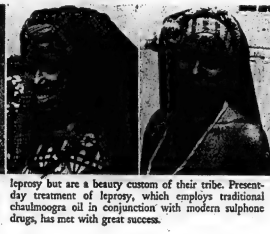
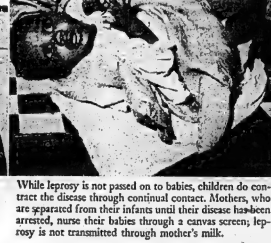
Conquering 5000-year-old Scourge

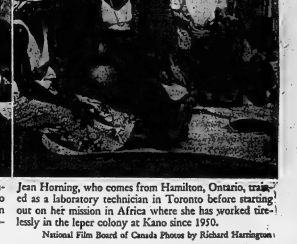
Canadian Crusader in Africa



Leprosy, which was once considered "the touch of death" is seldom contracted by healthy adults; doctors believe it is one of the least contagious of all communicable diseases.



Physical therapy is important part of the rehabilitation of the leper. Patient above must have his plaster cast removed each day so that diseased muscles can be exercised.



Millions of the world's people suffer from a dread disease which has been the scourge of mankind since Biblical times. But today, science and a dedicated army of medical workers throughout the world are united in a vigorous crusade to bring new hope and health to the hitherto feared and shunned band of the earth's "untouchables"—the world's 5 million lepers. The disease, which gets its foothold wherever conditions are below par, has claimed its greatest number of victims in Africa and certain Asiatic countries. A careful, systematic health check of native populations is helping to identify sufferers in the early stages of the disease when treatment is most effective. Canadian health worker, Jean Horning, above, greets a native mother and child who have come from their village for a medical check-up at the Sudan Mission Leper Hospital in Northern Nigeria.

These women patients at the hospital will shortly be released and each will receive a certificate of good health testifying that she is free of the disease. Fear and suspicion are two of the gravest obstacles the discharged patient must face. Scars on women's faces are not ravages left by leprosy but are a beauty custom of their tribe. Present-day treatment of leprosy, which employs traditional chaulmoogra oil in conjunction with modern sulphone drugs, has met with great success.

While leprosy is not passed on to babies, children do contract the disease through continual contact. Mothers, who are separated from their infants until their disease has been arrested, nurse their babies through a canvas screen; leprosy is not transmitted through mother's milk.

Jean Horning, who comes from Hamilton, Ontario, trained as a laboratory technician in Toronto before starting out on her mission in Africa where she has worked tirelessly in the leper colony at Kano since 1950.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

If you are not a Yankee fan, just pass up this column — and turn to the theatres and funnies.

If you are disciple of Slengel and his mighty Bronx Bombers, just sit back, relax and tell yourself that Ole Case has "done gone done it again."

For if you can believe the experts down around Manhattan way, the old performer has come up with a speedball hurler who they claim is Walter Johnson and Bob Feller rolled into one.

He is 29-year-old Kyne Duren, a respectacled chukker whose cheeks have achained every adjective in the sports writers sack. It's been called atomic, a blue dart, a small jet, a missile you hear but don't see and explodes in the catcher's mitt if he can hang on to it.

He wears thick glasses. He sees nearly normal with them but a training camp rumor had it that he has such blurry vision he once threw at the man in the on-deck circle.

He is now the chief of the Yankee's relief corps. He is the Joe Page and Johnny Murphy of the Bronx Bombers in one chunk and the Yankee fans say when he climbs over the bullpen fence the fans stop eating peanuts.

The cunning Casey after he acquired Duren from Kansas City, gave him a spring build-up that marked him as a wild, half-blind bullet sprayer whom the Yankees had bought and sent to Denver in self defence. Then came the season's debut with their first look at him in May, 1957, when he hit three of them and fanned eight in seven innings, including three strikeouts of Gil Mac-Dougald.

As a 14-year-old Detroit coach considered him too dangerous for mound duty and played him in the outfield. Later pitching in the hometown league in Cassopolis, Wisconsin, he was practically unbeatable with a record of 23 scores and 3 shutouts and three no-hit games in a row and in one of them fanned 24.

St. Louis Browns' scouts saw him and signed him. He was dispatched to Wausau in the Class D Wisconsin League where he fanned 143 in 85 innings, but he walked 114, hit 19 batsmen and tossed 13 wild pitches.

The next year at Pine Bluff he struck out 233 in 190 innings. The next season, another move to Dayton saw him whiff 238 in 198 innings. Hid next jaunt took him to San Antonio where he says he reached his speed peak. He struck out 312 men in 202 innings but 159 walks overbalancing the 133 hits he gave up were his undoing, he had a 12-12 record.

In 1955, the year after the Browns switched to Baltimore, Manager Paul Richards packed Duren off to Seattle. That was the same year Richards sent Bob Turley and Don Larsen to the Yankees but he didn't know, with Duren's move that he was directing half a pitching staff to the Bombers.

An inflamed nerve in his elbow dropped Duren back to San Antonio and in 1956 he went to Vancouver where Lefty O'Doul took him under his coaching wing and taught him the secrets of control. In the first half of the season his record was one two and lost seven, the second half won nine and lost four.

He finally made the American League in 1957 going to Kansas City. He was judged trade bait and was packaged as a sleeper in the deal that sent Billy Martin, righthander Ralph Terry and outfielders Woody Held and Bob Martyn to the A's.

After the trade Duren reported to Denver where he hurled a no-hitter in his first outing. He admits O'Doul's instruction paid off for him for he walked only 33 in 144 innings for Denver, struck out 116, won 13 games and lost but two.

Manager Houk of Denver, said Duren was the best pitcher he had had in three years, and no "wild man." That was enough for Casey. When the old gentleman named Duren to the all-star team, he had hurled 19 games as a Yankee compiling a league-leading earned-run average of 1.99 over 32 innings. He had struck out 48, nearly half the batters to face him, given up 15 hits and 13 walks.

So after striking out 1,654 men in nine years of organized baseball, Duren has settled down in a Yankee locker where his venerable boss, believes he has it in him to become one of the greatest as a reliever.

BUCS THIRD BASEMAN HURT

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Gene Baker, Pittsburgh Pirates' regular third baseman, suffered a severe knee injury to his left knee in trying to slide at his first game as a pinch hitter and said he may be lost to the Pirates for the remainder of the season.

Baker tripped and fell hard on the knee, rupturing a ligament that attaches the knee cap to the leg, and was carried off the field on a stretcher. He was taken to hospital.

Rally to Grab 6-5 Victory As Dodgers Nip Cincy for 2; Tigers, Yankees Tangle Tues.

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was a tough fight but Detroit Tigers finally made the grade and took over second place in the American League, 18 games behind the runaway New York Yankees.

Runaway, that is, from every team except the Tigers who have humbled the champs in eight of 11 meetings. If they ever expect to make a serious move on the leaders, Detroit gets its chance Tuesday, coming into Yankee Stadium for a three-game series.

Detroit suffered a severe blow Sunday while winning two from Baltimore 6-5 and 5-2. Al Kaline, one of the Tigers' ace right fielder, was hit on the right wrist by a pitched ball and lost to the club for an indefinite period.

Clete Boyer knocked Boston down to third place by taking advantage of seven unearned runs to beat the Red Sox 9-4 behind Cal McLish.

PINCH HIT AIDS YANKS

Jerry Lumpe's pinch single with the bases full in the 10th gave the Yankees an even break with Chicago. The Yanks took the second game 5-4 after bowing in the first 7-4 when Chicago bombed Don Larsen and Duke Maas in two big innings.

Washington took advantage of fine pitching by Camillo Pascual and rookie John Romonosky to sweep two games from Cleveland 2-0 and 4-2. Pascual struck out 10 while blanking the A's with six hits. Romonosky, just brought up from Charlotte in the Class A Sally League, allowed only three hits before giving way to a pinch hitter.

Saturday, Chicago White Sox beat Boston twice, 7-4 and 13-5. The Yankees blanked Cleveland 10-0 while Detroit defeated Washington 3-1.

The injury to Kaline took some of the edge off the Tigers' first game decision over Baltimore. Charley Beamon settled down after a wild first inning in which he also hit Frank Bolling and walked two others. Beamon didn't allow a hit until the sixth when the roof caved in.

O'DELL BOMBED

In the second game, the Tigers knocked out Billy O'Dell, whose pitching was the talk of the all-star game last week. The Orioles almost pulled it out in the ninth, loading the bases before Bill Fischer got Dick Williams on a force play.

Woody Held drove in five runs with a homer and single in Cleveland's triumph at Washington.

Lumpe's game - winning hit at New York came after Ryen Duren, Yankee relief pitcher, had bunted safely with two strikes for his first hit of the year. A single by Gil McDougald, a sacrifice and an intentional walk preceded Duren's blow.

Duren and Johnny Kucks retired the last 16 Chicago batters in succession in 2-3 perfect innings after Bobby Shantz was knocked out. Turk Lown saved the day for Billy Pierce in the first game.

After Pascual's shutout in the first game, Eddie Yost hit two homers as Washington's second game victory behind Romonosky.

Milwaukee Braves will be glad to say farewell to California. First the swimming pool party in Los Angeles. And now the unscheduled tour into second place at San Francisco.

When the clubs went west, the Giants were supposed to be a sixth-place club. It was the Dodgers who were regarded as a pennant threat but the Giants now are first and the Dodgers last.

The Giants moved back into first place Sunday with a comeback-behind 6-5 victory over Milwaukee that knocked the Braves out of the lead for the first time since Fred Haney's ninth-inning single won it after the Giants had overcome a four-run Milwaukee lead only to drop back to a tie.

Los Angeles took two giant steps toward seventh place by sweeping two from Cincinnati, 5-3 and 5-4, on five home runs and two relief jobs by Clem Labine. Rookie Stan Williams struck out 10 and was pitching a three-hit shutout when Labine replaced him in the ninth inning of the first game. Rookie Bob Gibbon homered in the second.

PAIR LEADS BUCS

Bill Mazeroski and Bob Skinner accounted for a total of 15 runs as Pittsburgh swept a pair from St. Louis, 10-8 and 8-6, after losing eight straight to Cardinals. The defeats dropped the Cards to third place, three games behind San Francisco.

Strong pitching by Johnny Briggs and Dave Hillman, and some heavy slugging by Lee Walls, who managed seven straight hits, boosted Chicago to a double victory over Philadelphia, 3-2 and 5-1.

Saturday the Braves lost 5-3 in San Francisco, St. Louis blanked Pittsburgh 2-0, Los Angeles edged Cincinnati 4-3 and Philadelphia went wild in the last two innings at Chicago, downing the Cubs 12-2.

The Giants fought back Sunday to beat Milwaukee when Alou singled off Ernie Johnson with Willie Mays on second and Orlando Cepeda on first. Cepeda had hit his 19th home run in the eighth. Mike McCormick, who permitted the Braves to tie the score in the ninth, was the winner.

HOUK LOSES

Carl Furillo and Charley Neal hit home runs behind Williams in the Dodgers' first victory over ex - teammate Don Newcombe. Junior Gilliam, Joe Pignatano and Steve Bilko homered in the second.

Mazeroski had a perfect 4-for-4 with his 10th homer and three runs batted in for the Pirates in the second game. He had six hits, scored four and batted in four for the day. Skinner, who hit a homer in the opener, had five hits, scored three and knocked in four for the day. Gene Baker, Pittsburgh third baseman, ruptured a leg ligament in the game and probably is lost for the season.

Walls cracked his 19th homer in the third inning of the first game of a twinbill for the Phils and followed with six straight singles. Al Dark had four singles in the second game.

Wonder Miler Upset in Dash; Canadian Third

LONDON (CP) — Australia's wonder miler Herb Elliott was upset in the half-mile race by Britain's Brian Hewson and Canada's Gerry Agostini placed third in a photo-finish to the 100-yard dash event in the British Amateur Athletic Association track and field championships here Saturday.

Hewson spurted in the last 100 yards to nip Mike Rawson, second, by inches. About five yards and Elliott who was close behind.

Hewson, a sub - four minute miler, was timed in 1:48.3 to better the listed British record of 1:48.4 set by another British marks fell in the international meet, a dress rehearsal for the British Empire Games opening Friday at Cardiff, Wales.

Agostini, whose home is in Vancouver, registered a 9.9 clocking identical to those of giant Nigerian Jimmy Omagbemi and New Zealand's Maurice Rae.

Baker tripped and fell hard on the knee, rupturing a ligament that attaches the knee cap to the leg, and was carried off the field on a stretcher. He was taken to hospital.

Royals Split With Buffalo; Toronto Wins

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The sharp reversal of form of Tom Sturdivant and the amazing hitting streak of Solly Drake are keeping Montreal Royals well ahead of their rivals in the International Baseball League.

Lasorda, who posted a 7-12 record with Denver of the American Association and Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast League last season, scored his 11th victory of the year as the Royals split a doubleheader Sunday. The Royals won the opener 5-2 and Buffalo Bisons the nightcap 8-1.

Drake connected on three hits in the twin bill to stretch his hitting streak to 26 games, one short of the club record of 27 set by Sandy Amoros in 1954. The league record is 36 by Bill Sweeney of Buffalo in 1936.

Miami Marlins swept a doubleheader from Columbus Jets 6-5 and 3-1. Toronto Maple Leafs blanked Rochester Red Wings 5-0 and Syracuse Chiefs edged Havana Sugar Kings 3-2 in a rainshortened game.

Saturday, Miami beat Columbus 5-2, Montreal defeated Buffalo 4-1, Rochester whipped Toronto 9-3 and Havana edged Richmond 5-4 in 11 innings.

John Sandusky received 13-hit support for his first decision as a Buffalo Bison, eighteen-year-old. Four of the hits were singles, the other four were extra - base hits, a base-empty blow in the second inning.

Ed Hobaugh saddled Rene Valdes with his eighth setback against 10 wins, striking out nine batters in the mound in the third inning.

The Royals put the first game out of reach in the second inning when they drove five runs across, sending 14 men to the plate. Lasorda scattered nine hits, never allowed more than two.

The loser was Rip Coleman. The Buffalo pitcher was relieved after allowed 11 hits in all. Coleman is 3-11.

The Marlins took their first game behind the five-hit pitching of Warren Hacker. Satchel Paige pitched the first five innings of the second, giving up five hits, and was credited with the victory. Third baseman Woody Held's 15th is the only homer of the day in the first game, a drive over the left-field wall.

Miami scored only a six-hit shutout and banged a home run to lead Jets to their win. Tony Leafs got 10 hits off three Rochester pitchers, Lynn Lovenguth, Bob Gibson and Bill Greason.

Archie Wilson, who had three hits in four trips, brought home two runs in the first inning to give Blake all the margin he needed. Al Heist was his fifth in six decisions.

Len Johnston's two-run double gave the Virginians their win. Jim Bronstad picked up his eighth victory of the season when Richmond launched a three-hit attack against Vicente Amor in the fifth inning.

The second game of the Richmond-Havana doubleheader was washed out.

Lonely Landy Hopes Record Will Be Smashed by Aussie

MELBOURNE (AP) — When the field lines up for the start of the British Empire Games next in Cardiff, Wales, a lonely Australian farmer will be hoping against hope that John Landy's official world record will be shattered.

He hopes the time will be no more than 3:56. He will switch on his old battery-operated portable radio, and will root for Herb Elliott, Merv Lincoln or whoever is in front to better the record.

He will not care who wins, as long as the record is broken.

When is this farmer who so desperately wants to see Landy's record go? He is Landy himself.

It is John Landy himself, gentleman farmer of Walkerville, Victoria, Australia.

It is the John Landy, who more than four years ago at Turku, Finland, stopped the clocks at 3:58, and a few weeks later went under to Roger Bannister at the Vancouver Games.

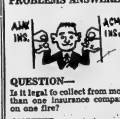
SOONER THE BETTER

Landy has retired from running, and the sooner his name is dropped from the record books the better as far as he is concerned.

"As far as I'm concerned I'm no longer the world champion," John said. "Derek Ibbotson won the title with a 3:57.2 long ago, and if there is any doubt on that time—I reckon it should and will be recognized—that record has been bettered my time as well.

"I sincerely hope that the matter is straightened out soon-and the name of Landy is erased from the books. It has been there too long already."

Landy returns every word of what he says.



Landy gave up leaching school when he married a girl and retired quietly to Up family farm at Walkerville.

Like everything else John Landy has tackled, he and his brother Colin are really doing it the hard way.

Four years ago, the area with the magnificent view over the sea was a wilderness of scrub and trees. Landy, a John, an agricultural science graduate of

Cliff Lumsdon Is Favorite For Atlantic City Marathon

By JOSEPH McGWEEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (CP)—Cliff Lumsdon of Hamilton will today take the Atlantic City swimming marathon today with the idea that he was battling the toughest foe of his career.

Lumsdon, 27, who comes from New Toronto, has been the marathon hero in 1938, strolled about in a restless manner before the race that brings into competition some of the world's best swimmers. Good weather was predicted.

"It's going to be brutal—we'll be fighting tidal waters," said Lumsdon, a favorite in the international group of 18 who entered, 14 men and five women.

The comment of Lumsdon, a burly man with a forthright way, was typical of the athletes as they prepared for the grind which this year stretches over about 36½ miles, starting in the Afflicted and finishing in the Atlantic City after a circuit of Absecon Island, on which this city and other communities are located.

FOP OPPONENT

Lumsdon defeated Alfredo Camarero, 27, the winner last year, as one of the really tough opponents. Camarero of Buenos Aires Argentina sailaman finished in 13 hours 10 minutes in that battle over a slightly shorter course. Lumsdon didn't enter last year.

"You can't beat a three year old," said Lumsdon. "If can name three, and name Tom Parker (native of Hamilton and now a resident of California). Look at the Marathon Swim, Lake Ontario. Look at Greta Andersen. Look at John Kiesel, Detroit."

Miss Andersen, a light-hearted Dane who now lives in California, finished third last year and is back the year before, leading the women contenders on both occasions.

LaCamera, a Montrealer, was forced to drop out of the last two Atlantic City swims but placed fourth in the Lake Ontario Marathon last summer and this year faced fourth in the 25-mile Guaymas, Mexico, marathon.

TOUGHER THIS YEAR

"You might say it's wide open," said Lumsdon. "I can say too that this swim is tougher than when I won it. We had a tailwind earlier—at 8 a.m. — and that means we'll be battling tougher tides. The field is better too."

One of Lumsdon's most outstanding performances was in 1935 when he was the only one to finish a gruelling, icy swim of 33 miles at the Canadian National Exhibition. He was the first person to swim from the Pora Strait from the British Columbia to the U.S. side, considered the toughest water, but won his ONE marathon five times in all.

Canada sees beauty as well as pluck in the Atlantic City swim.

Toronto's Muriel Ferguson, Canada's greatest swimmer, and Norma Keen of Montreal, who is only 16 and is making her third start in the Atlantic City swim, having been forced to leave the water in the last two years.

An interested spectator was Canada's famed Marilyn Ball, who now is Mrs. Joseph Dilacio. Winner of the women's division in the 1936 race, Marilyn lives at Camden, N.J., and wears a chemise for obvious reasons.

Jack Burke Wins Insurance Golf Tourney

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) Jack Burke Jr., approached recovery from a wrist operation, has turned the 36-hole first prize in the Insurance City open golf tournament. It was his first major victory since he won the U.S. PGA and Masters titles in 1956.

The 30-year-old Kenosha Lake N.Y., golfer shot rounds of 69-67-68-69—273 in tournament record. The previous mark of 280 was shared by Bob Toski and Sam Snead.

Burke underwent surgery for removal of a cyst on his wrist last April, and returned to competition only recently.

Runnerup Sunday were Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who tied at 271. Each will receive $2,000.

Toronto's Al Balding fired a final-round 70 to give him a 276 total, $630 and a tie for 15th place. Jerry Magee of Toronto shot three strokes behind and received $230 for a 19th place tie.

Former Toronto Maple Leafs hockey player Bill Ezinicki, who now makes his home in Hamilton, Mass., had a 279 total and received $250.

Holt, Durelle Confident Over Fight Outcome

MONTREAL (CP)—Yvon Durelle will return to Montreal tonight after a busy weekend of training in the Laurentians — the final flurry of glove work before he risks his British Empire lightheavyweight title in his Wednesday night meeting with Mike Holt of South Africa.

Durelle arrived in Montreal Friday from the Sale Ste. Anne, N.B., home. He remained overnight and on Saturday was driven to Ste. Agathe, in the heart of the Laurentian resort area about 50 miles north of Montreal.

At Ste. Agathe, an outdoor ring had been prepared for him and the husky New Brunswick fisherman lost little time in getting down to serious business with his sparring partners.

SEE SIX ROUNDS

After six rounds in the ring Saturday, Durelle did the equivalent of 3½ miles of rope-skipping and another two at punching the heavy bag. The Moncton boxer was sure of the game, with a tapering off today.

Manager Chris Shaban said: "Yvon is ready. He weighed 172 pounds after his first workout in Ste. Agathe, losing three pounds. "I fully expect him to win Wednesday night to learn what other champion Archie Moore."

Durelle didn't make the secret of his fatalistic fighting Holt. He would study the South African's style in the opening rounds "and a lot of things to look for"—and then get down to the business of defending his championship.

"I didn't think it will take me long to learn about him," said Durelle.

SHARP CONTRAST

Durelle's outdoor ring in the Laurentians was in sharp contrast with the drab little basement gymnasium in Montreal's east end where Holt has been working out.

Under manager Piet Lourens' close watch, Holt is finishing up his training with only light, but minute workouts — bag-punching, shadow-boxing and rope-skipping — but has been doing his regular road work of five or four miles early every morning.

It's evident Mike is just about at the peak of condition he predicted before he Lourens. The athletic manager would like Mike to enter the ring at 172 pounds, maybe half a pound more.

Holt is quiet, confident and confident. Beyond that he wasn't making any predictions.

League Prexy Tells Royals 'Lay off Umps'

MONTREAL (CP) — President Frank (Slug) Shaughnessy of the International League has issued a directive to the league-leading Montreal Royals ordering managers Clay Bryant and several players to "lay off the umpires—or else."

Shaughnessy said Bryant had threatened bodily harm to three IL umpires in the runway leading to the dressing room after a game here Thursday night after the Royals had dropped a 5-3 decision to Rochester Red Wings.

In that game, Bobby Dolan was ejected by umpire Harry Schwartz in the sixth inning after he protested a close play at first base.

Shaughnessy said: "I have instructed my umpires to take no more guff from your players. And no more from you. Your team is the only one in the league causing the officials any trouble."

The directive, in addition to Bryant and Dolan, ordered pitcher and pitching coach Tommy Lasorda and second baseman Jim Gentile "to cool down."

Bryant, Lasorda, Anderson and utility infielder Harry Schwegman had all been fined by Shaughnessy for their roles in the scenes for various incidents involving umpire Ed Vargo, who worked Thursday night's game with Shwarts and Frank Gunnetta.

Harness Racing

MONTREAL (CP) — Great Action paced the mile in 2:04 3-5 record on Sunday to win the featured $10,000 invitation pace at Blue Bonnets Raceway.

Captain Wright was second while Bay Bingo Pat was third.

Keith Waples drove a pair of Pembroke horses to victory. He captured a $1,200 pace with Pontiac Bob. Time for the mile was 2:06. His other winner was Irene Van which stepped the mile in 2:06 4-5 to win a $600 D trot.

SETS WIN MARK

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Jimmy Cruise electrified a crowd of 31,469 at Roosevelt Raceway Saturday night by setting new winners in six tries for an all-time harness racing record. He won the first five events in the nine race card, including a $233.60 daily double. After sitting out the sixth, seventh and eighth, he brought home Winged Guy in the

Americans Clinch 1st Round With Third Consecutive Win

By WILF GRUSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — The United States and Canada today wind up their Davis Cup tennis series with the final issues to be settled now that the U.S. has sealed the verdict.

The round has been boiled down to whether the U.S. can make a clean sweep of the best-of-five match tennis series or whether Canada can win at least one only from the powerful American squad.

Big Barry MacKay, 23, of Dayton, Ohio, and little Sammy Giammalva, 24, of Houston, Tex., Saturday scored the decision that clinched the North American Zone semi-final round. It gave the Canadian combination of Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., and Don Fontana of Montreal a 3-1-1, 6-4 to give the U.S. a 3-0 lead.

The American pair, in beating Canada without losing a set in the hard-fought doubles, equalled the performance of the first two singles victories.

MacKay shattered a straight set victory over Fontana Thursday and Whitney Reed of Salt Lake needs, Calif., did the same to Bedard Friday.

GET ASSIGNMENT

The task of trying for a shutout in the series and two more straight-set wins in the concluding singles today was assigned to the fifth-ranked MacKay and Whitney Reed of Lake Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif.

The six-foot-3½-inch MacKay will play Bedard in the first match and in the other Douglas, replacing Reed, will take on Bill Willey of Vancouver, Canada's No. 2 player who is being substituted for second-ranked Fontana.

Each clinching its 12th Davis Cup tie over Canada since 1913, the U.S. qualified to meet Australia for Israel in the North American Zone final. Argentina advanced in the other semi-final match Saturday by beating the British West Indies and now meets Israel.

The zone winner will play the European Zone champion to decide which country will meet Australia, the present cup holder, in challenge round play in December.

MAGNIFICENT SUPPORT

MacKay got magnificent support from Giammalva in the one-hour-40 - minute doubles match. The Texan excelled with his dancing first service, return of the ex-tended second set, when MacKay faltered slightly, and his net play. Fontana, 27, slugged it out with the powerful American pair when hard-core were unlucky not to win it.

They led 10-9 at one stage and in the 30th game were a stroke away from set point on the MacKay service. The chance slipped by when on his next serv-ice the ball hit the top of the net preventing Bedard from return-ing it.

The Americans went on to win the game and then came to the decisive set-point game against Bedard in the 23rd game after the score was 11-11. The Canadians also missed out on chances in the 10th and 12th games to take the set when they were within two winning shots of breaking Giammalva's service in each game.

Roma Neundorf Beats Marlene For Golf Crown

KINGSTON (CP) — Roma Neundorf of Toronto Lakeside Club defeated Marlene Stewart Streit of Fonthill Lookout Point 3 and 2 to win the Eastern Provinces golf championship Saturday.

It was a see-saw battle until the seventh hole when Miss Neundorf scored the third of seven birdies. She birdied the ninth to go two-up and had a three-hole lead by the 12th.

Mrs. Streit, recent winner of the Ontario ladies championship, appeared tired from a hard 3 and 2 semi-final victory against Judy Darling of Montreal Whitlock.

Miss Neundorf, whose 76 led the qualifying round, defeated Mrs. Lionel Ross of Cobourg in the other semi-final. Her driving was steady throughout and putting superb.

South Hastings Baseball League

Carnahton Clippers came back from a first-game 3-0 defeat at Marmora Saturday night to down Foxboro 6-3 in a South Hastings baseball league contest played at Carnahton.

Foxboro got off to a flying start with their trio in the opening inning but Carnahton picked up a sacrifice bunt while the third base Brown race home on a passed ball.

Cobourg got a pair back in their half of the frame, scoring on a hit and error. Foxboro left off with a walk and scored the paltar on a double ball, wild pitch and a throwing error on a rundown play. That finished Foxboro, Lockwood and Campbell's fly ball scored the second run.

Carnahton tied the score in the third on their first hit, a double by Harry Carey and Ralph Allen's clothes-line single. A pair of free passes and a double through the centre by Dawe made it 4-3 in the sixth while another walk, a fly ball and Edgell's base hit upped the lead to 5-3 in the seventh inning.

Bobcats threatened in the seventh when an error and a base hit by Green when his pop-up in front of the plate was misjudged for two on and one out. Dawe fanned Casey and Crawford to pull out unharmed. Lockwood scored the marker in a last bid in the ninth. Harry Carey led off with a hard double to left field, advanced on an error and scored when Edgell's base hit was misjudged. Ralph Allen was then retired, Sunday night knocked out Germany's Heinz Neuhaus at 2:56 of the fourth round to keep his 10-round bout. The 25-year-old Cobourg boy who gained his 20th victory and 12th knockout, was outweighed 216¾ to 197¾.

Cobourg Rallies to Nip Cats 5-4 As Dawe Edges Bluth in Hill Duel

By GARRY ALEXANDER

Belleville Bobcats blew a first-game 3-0 lead in Cobourg Saturday night and wound up losing a close 5-4 decision to the Merchants, after losing all hope of clinching Cobourg for second place in the Belleville and District softball league.

The schedule drew to a close with this fixture except for the postponed games. At the present time arrangements have been made for two of these games, Frankford at Point Anne tonight and Point Anne at Trenton tomorrow night. How many of the games will be played or when the playoffs will start has not been decided.

Jim "Sleepy" Dawe revealed the distance for Cobourg and let the Bobcats down on three hits, only one of these a solid blow. He allowed a scratch single in the first, a misjudged pop-up single in the seventh and a home-run clout in the ninth. Dawe struck out 15 batters, walked two over at one point while passing three.

"Rapid Robert" Hull pitched almost as well for Bobcats until he tired while going the route. He gave up four hits while fanning a half dozen and walking eight.

The Cats after being blanked in the first three innings against Jim Merchants, appeared to have solved the mystery by scoring three in the first frame. Jerry Bluth took third as Crawford reached first on a fielder's choice and Ken Brown brought the runner home with a bouncing single to shortstop. Hull stole second and on a sacrifice bunt while the third base Brown race home on a passed ball.

Jules Huot Wins Quebec Pro Golf Title

MONTREAL (CP) — Jules Huot, pro at Laval-sur-le-Lac won the Quebec Professional Golfers Association championship Sunday after a playoff with a youngster 28 years his junior.

The veteran Huot and 22-year-old Jean Guy Perlaric, assistant pro at Mont-Royal's municipal course, had finished in a deadlock at 141, three under par, for the 36 holes of play.

In the selected four holes of medal play for the title the 50-year-old Huot grabbed the first hole with a birdie three against seven and the day's championship was virtually decided then and there.

The playoff holes over the Lasalle course were the first, ninth, first and 18th. Huot birdied two of the four holes for a medal score of 137 while Perlaric was three over par with his 32.

First prize money, along with the Dow Trophy, was $700. Second prize was $500. The veteran Huot, two years younger, agreed to share the total $1,200 purse.

Pat Fletcher of Royal Montreal and Jules have entered a three-way tie for the lead had his six-footer gone down on the 18th hole.

Fletcher was in a group of five bracketed at 143, one stroke behind Huot and Perlaric. Others were Frank Mann, from the Otters Tecumseh Club, Jack Dean of Cornwall, Johnny Henrick, Ottawa Gatineau pro, and Andre Gagnon, assistant pro at the new Montreal Pinegrove club.

Minors Break Track Records

HAMILTON (CP) — Three records were established during the closing events in Canada's annual junior, juvenile and midget track and field championships, held here Saturday.

Ergas Lepa, 15-year-old East York runner who set a new mark in the junior 440 yard dash Friday, reinforced his application for a junior record in the 880 as well.

He won Saturday's race in the same time in which he captured the 220 at St. Lambert, Que., two weeks ago, one minute and 54.5 seconds. This is 2.4 seconds under the previous mark of 1:56.9.

Sixteen-year-old Bruce Andrews of Guelph Legion Track Club sped around the track in four minutes and 23 seconds to lower the Canadian record for juvenile milers by five seconds.

Toronto Etobicoke's Bruce McKague set a record in the juvenile running broad jump with a leap of 22 feet, 5½ inches—1¾ inches better than the previous mark of 21 feet 10½ inches.

Bill Newcombe of Guelph Legion captured the junior mile in 4:39.2.

Welland Wins Twelve in Row

WELLAND (CP) — Welland-Crowland Swinsons made it 12 straight wins in Ontario Lacrosse Association Senior A competition as they dropped Peterborough Petes 15-9 Saturday night.

The win for Swinsons stretched their league lead to eight points over second-place Brampton Excelsiors, and extended their unbeaten record on their home floor to nine starts.

Brian Woods led the way for the winners with four goals, while Ted Howe, Don Baker and Doug Smith scored twice each. Joe McNulty, Nip O'Hearn, Ron Rey, Les Howard and Dave Hall picked up singles.

Larry Ferguson got three for Peterborough, Cyril Coombs and Ken Ruttan two each with Paul Parnell and Danny Quinlan adding singles.

Minor Baseball

Belleville midgets scored six runs in the last inning to defeat Read 10-9 in an exhibition baseball fixture over the weekend.

In another exhibition, the midgets dropped a close 5-4 decision to the Belleville Juveniles. Soden batted a no-hitter in the game for the midgets but an error gave the Juveniles victory in the last frame of the five-inning affair.

MOTORCYCLIST KILLED

TOULOUSE, France (AP)—Keith Campbell, Australia's world champion motorcyclist, Sunday was killed during the running of the international motorcycle race on the Cadours track. The 27-year-old driver from Melbourne had won the 350 c.c. event. He was trying for a double in the 500 c.c. division when he careened to his death. Ahead from the start, he missed a turn and his machine shot off the track.

Wins Juvenile Softball Title

OSHAWA (CP)—Stoney Creek, 1957 Ontario Juvenile B champions, defeated Sarnia 6-4 Saturday to win the first Ontario-wide junior softball tournament.

Bill Ogilvie's two-run homer in the sixth broke a 4-4 deadlock. Jim Leslie hit a three-run circuit clout in the first inning after Sarnia broke in front 4-0 in their first half of the first.

Sarnia defeated Modoc 9-0 and Oshawa 2-0 to gain the final.

FISHING ANYONE?

Fishing with bow and arrow is becoming an increasingly popular sport in Ontario and this year the conservation department set an open season for archers in Essex County. Gladys Drouillard aims her arrow while her husband points out a target near Cedar Beach, 30 miles south of Windsor on Lake Erie. The line is called around a bolder on the bow and also on a wheel for fast playing when a fish is hit. (CP Photo).

First Bow, Arrow Hunting Season for Fish Success

CEDAR BEACH, Ont. (CP) — The carp became a game fish in this area near Windsor this summer; and conservation officers now are sorting out reports on the first bow and arrow hunting season for the fish ever held in Canada.

It was an experimental season, ending June 15, and was held only in Essex County. The conservation department decided to hold it after the sport had become popular in the United States.

The reason for its popularity is that it's a tricky sport. Fishermen have to aim the fish, shoot fast and accurately. Although carp are known as sluggish fish, they put up a fight when hit.

For the conservation department the sport may be a blessing in disguise. It's a legal type of coarse fish that roots out fish nests and eats the eggs of other fish as well as other food that might otherwise be eaten by commercial or game fish.

Archers generally use 40-pound, target-type bows adapted for fishing by attaching a reel to the bow. String from the bow is attached to an arrow with a barbed head. The 40-pound pull easily handles the drag of the line and the water resistance when the arrow penetrates the water.

Archers say the sport is difficult. At first there is a tendency to shoot under the fish because the deflection of the water makes the fish appear to be below its actual position.

Also a sharp eye is needed to spot the fish, while the hunter must stalk it silently.

MANY FISH

Essex County was chosen for the experiment because of its numerous marshes. Carp abound on this local resort and 35 miles south of Windsor and recently hundreds were caught in a two-week competition. Some weighed up to 20 pounds.

Hunters reported good catches throughout the county all season. To get a permit they had to promise they would report the number of hours they spent at the sport during the season and the number of fish they shot.

The new bill enable conservation officers to assess the effect of the sport on the fish population and set limits for probable future seasons.

Miss Supertest Wins at Sarnia

ST. CLAIR, Mich. (AP)—Miss Supertest II of Sarnia won the fourth annual St. Clair International Boundary Trophy race for unlimited power hydroplanes Sunday.

Miss Supertest won all three heats over Wildroot Charger, driven by Jack Schroeder of Buffalo, N.Y. The Canadian boat averaged a speed of 81.7 miles an hour in the three heats with a total elapsed time of 86 minutes and 10 seconds.

Quinte Trap And Gun Club

An open shoot was held over the weekend at the Quinte Trap and Gun club with many club members and guests participating.

A regular team meet is slated for next weekend.

Golden Bears Start Training

SARNIA (CP) — Thirty-two players, including 13 imports, greeted coach Frank Filchock as he opened practices for the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union Golden Bears Sunday.

Filchock announced he plans on holding workouts twice daily until Bears meet Calgary Stampeders here Aug. 8.

American quarterbacks in attendance were former Philadelphia Eagle and University of Southern California star Frank Hall and Cecil Conley from Prairie Junior College in West Virginia. Backfielders were Charlie Handy and Al Davis from Port Huron, Roy Hodge from Brooklyn and the University of Toledo and John Martin from Akron, Ohio.

Import linemen were 275-pound tackle Ed Hurman, cut by the Baltimore Colts; former Chicago Cardinal Jim Hamilton; Tiger-Cat and Jack Crittendon; former Hamilton and Detroit Lions' tackle Walt Jenkins who was with Bears last season; former University of Michigan centre Ray Vine, and former Memphis State University Tigers end Dave Stickland and guard Jack Turner.

Propose New Grid Schedule

KITCHENER (CP) — Officials of the Ontario Rugby Football Union junior circuit proposed an interlocking schedule with a new junior football league at a meeting Saturday.

The new league includes teams from Toronto Lakeshore, Toronto North York, Burlington and Stoney Creek. It replaces the Blue Four Junior League which folded when the professional Big Four Football League withdrew support. Official formation is expected Tuesday at a meeting in Toronto.

The ORFU junior teams are Kitchener Dutchmen, Sarnia Knights and Windsor AKO.

Officials also proposed that the new teams join the ORFU if the new league does not organize.

An answer is expected at a ORFU junior meeting in Sarnia Saturday.

SPORT IN BRIEF

MOOS TAKES RACE

VILA REAL, Portugal (AP)—Britain's Stirling Moss won the 12th Great Prize Portugal race today in a lense duel with Jean Behra of France. Both drove 3000-cc. Maserati. Moss's time for the 342.375 kilometres (about 213½ miles) was one hour 47 minutes. Behra was only a fraction of a second behind in second place.

BALLYMOSS WINS

SANDOWN PARK, Eng. (AP) Ballymoss Saturday won the 1¼-mile Eclipse Stakes, the first triple-crown victory in the event in its 79-year-old history. Ballymoss, owned by Mme. M. Shain of Philadelphia, defeated the Queen's Resolution by one length. Aircastle Explorer was a short head back in third place.

Roslin

ROSLIN — Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Seale were the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Seale, Belleville, and their son, Mr. and Mrs. John Seale and family, Toronto.

Relatives and friends from here attended the Perrill-Hounsell wedding in Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, on June 28th.

The Rev. R. L. Gardham, Mrs. Gardham and children of Seginaw, Mich., were recent guests at the home of the latter's parents.

Mrs. Arthur Bates left on Sunday for Iowa. Arthur where she will visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Hunnicutt.

On Friday evening a number from here attended the lawn social at Moneymore held under the auspices of the Loyal Orange Lodge, Moneymore and St. John's Church.

Havelock Pipe Band was in attendance and provided the greater part of the program.

Mrs. William Knightley has returned home after visiting relatives in England, for the past few weeks.

6th Sidney

SCOTT'S W.A. — W.M.S.

A good crowd attended the July meeting of Scott's W.A. and W.M.S. in the church hall on July 9th. A number of visitors were present.

Immediately following the dinner the committee appointed to investigate the renovation of the church reported to the congregation. It was decided to have the paint job done; the work to be carried out during August and the committee to go ahead and make arrangements for same.

The W.M.S. meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. C. Copeland. Mrs. R. Dafoe, program convener, gave the call to worship, followed by prayer that "one may be able to see what is right and wrong and to have courage to do the right."

The leader spoke about the word of God. Mrs. G. Pollard read an article on "Too Busy to Read the Bible." "Only as we read God's word prayerfully will we be able to carry on in a Christ-like way and do the work intended for us."

The leader also spoke on the "Value of Prayer" with Christian living and the giving of thanks to God. One must have a time of quiet with God alone.

A reading by Mrs. Alton Sine pointed out how one's faith and close walk with God will steady his steps and show the way to go.

Mrs. R. Dafoe read an article on "The Discarded Nylons." Mrs. C. Copeland one on "Home is a Good Road or a Refugee Camp."

Mrs. A. Mastyn gave an article on "Kenya," and Mrs. A. Sine an article on "Arab Refugees."

There were 12 members and two visitors present. The treasurer reported that half of the allocation had been met.

Mrs. S. Lloyd, 4th line, is spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. R. Dafoe and Mr. Dafoe.

Lest we forget Miss Linda Carr, of Glen Miller, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr, and not Miss Shirley Wannamaker, Walbridge, was a visitor at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nickle, Don and Marilyn, Toronto, and the Misses Matilda and Mary Farrell, and Clifford were Sunday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Morley Sine.

Little Robbie Sine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sine, is a patient in the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Tuesday, July 15th., 1958

Aries (March 21 to April 19) Clouds seem to be gathering but if you are thoughtful, your home some little gifts, they will soon blow over. Endeavor to be more successful in the outside world, too. Spruce up a bit!

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Take it easy on the road today and to dispel that feeling of gloom, see where and how you can embellish your surroundings and add to your income. Your voice also needs attention, so gargle regularly, or see your doctor.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) You are at your very best today physically, so utilize this magnetism and energy to better your lot in life, to realize a better income and finer social life. Don't be sarcastic in any way. Drive carefully and cautiously.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) Although perhaps irked in feeling as you do about a household member, it would be most unfortunate to lose your temper now. Diplomacy will get you much farther, and if you add understanding of mistakes to philosophy, all is well.

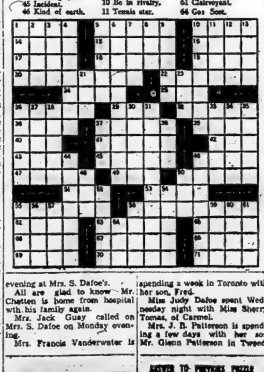
Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Dispel from your mind that worry that has had you in a stew for such a period of time. Get out and mix with your own group and have a little fun. Hear merry chatter and laughter and pick up some very worthwhile ideas, too. Smile.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 23) — Avoid that pal who thinks so highly of himself or herself and wants to throw blame for current unfavorable conditions on you. Speak rather with that wise and optimistic higher up who will give you confidence. Sign a contract.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) — To be in the public eye this day, or an unusual circumstance occurs. Spend time stylishly studying latest approaches to this and that from your paper, magazines. Meet new people quietly and individually.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Too dynamic a person today endeavors to spoil the outline of work you have made for yourself, so avoid him or her studiously. Then full speed ahead. P.M. get your accounts in order, both at home and in the office, and be precise.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — The way you do not jeopardize the currently good position you find yourself in after so much toil and sacrifice. But pay attention to the suggestions of a good and experienced friend and they will add to your security.



Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) The rather strange sequence of things today can best be combated by working diligently. Don't get in the way of disgruntled associates. Mend own fences wisely. Then get all dolled up and go out socially. Have fun.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You must use extreme care today in all that you do for there is danger of little accidents occurring here and there. Maintain perfect equilibrium, stick to quiet recreation, and be economical. Show a angry mein.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you follow your natural inclination to have a good time at all costs, it will cost far more than you can really afford at this time. So, look to increasing abundance instead and beautify your surroundings. Buy a book.

If your child is born today—Don't expect the child born today to be a Bigwig in business. He or she won't have a fig for figures and desks. The artist is in this chart, the entertainer, the gay personality. And while the physical structure is basically sound, the highly sensitive makeup requires a scientific regime for best functional abilities. The born psychologist is here, too, the real challenge to the pill doctor.

Apartment
We have just listed a real dandy with a perfect setup for the large family. Nice family and dining room, with access to lawn and yet in a residential district. Kitchen is fully equipped with new oak hardwood floors in the living room and dining room. The master bedroom with ensuite bath is on the second floor, and we mean it's a large, light, airy room. Three more bedrooms complete the second floor. In the basement you will find a separate dance. NOW in addition to all this there is a lovely bedroom apartment, completely self-contained, with its own entrance. Here is a home that this property can be bought for only about $4,000 down, and the full price is $18,500. The owner is moving to the West and would like to show it to you and have your offer.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

TOP SUNDAY

In front of the church she accepted the first bouquet of her Canadian tour, a scarlet-hued corsage presented by 10-year-old Elizabeth Terpstra-Snider, who was the honor after getting highest marks in Sunday school examinations.

The newspaper presentation ceremony was after church in her hotel suite. Seth B. Hatton, publisher of The Daily Colonist, presented a copy of the first issue of the British Colonist, published Dec. 1, 1858.

Richly bound in blue morocco leather and partially hand-tinted in gold, it represents a newspaper turned out by Amos R. Cunning, almost legendary figure in early British Columbia who was premier of the province from 1872-6.

In the afternoon, Margaret drove with Lieutenant-Governor Frank Ross and Mrs. Ross to the farm at nearby Saanich of the late W. C. Woodward, department store chain owner and former lieutenant-governor of B.C., SAT ON THE BEACH

She was welcomed by Mrs. Woodward, spent some time strolling in the gardens of the estate and sat on the beach overlooking an inlet on the Pacific Ocean.

After she sat on the verandah of the Woodward house and was served tea before being driven back to her suite at a Victoria hotel.

Reviewing Stand Blown Down by Heavy Winds

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP) — The reviewing stand figure which the mayor of Kelowna hoped to open the Okanagan Lake Bridge here next week, has been demolished by heavy winds.

The 30-30 foot structure, built on the bridge causeway, was picked up by a 50-mile an hour wind on Friday and tossed into nearby Mill Creek.

It was built according to security regulations but had not been anchored to the hard surface roadway. Crews were working to replace the eight-foot-high structure.

It was the first wind storm experienced in central Okanagan in the last two decades.

PRINCESS FACES

Princess Margaret gets a 45-minute break before the next item on her itinerary, the presentation of representatives of the churches, judiciary and their wives. On the heels of the presentation is an official luncheon, tendered by the province.

Later in the day, public appearances on her B.C. tour comes next, a garden party at which 4,500 are guests expected. The party will be held on the Government House grounds.

Princess Margaret's official day ends at 5:45 p.m. when the royal party returns to the hotel.

In her first two days here, the princess had only three official functions, a press reception, church service and the presentation of a copy of the first issue of B.C.'s oldest newspaper, published 102 years ago.

But from the moment of her arrival Saturday morning, the princess has been showering cheering thousands.

Possibly her biggest triumph was the press reception Saturday evening when she captivated more than 500 newspaper representatives from all parts of the world.

Her manner and her dress drew the open admiration of thousands of style - conscious women. Her dresses so far have ranged from style from starkly simple to frilly designs, and from brilliant blue and yellow to quiet grey.

MILITARY COUP

also knock a key pin out of the anti-Communist Baghdad Pact.

Iraq is one of the Middle East's richest oil countries. The British-controlled Iraqi Petroleum Company produces most of Iraq's oil. The product goes largely to Western Europe.

The Baghdad broadcasts were greeted with jubilation in Cairo, Damascus, Moscow and in European satellite capitals.

Radio Cairo, which is the Moslem quarter celebrated with a wild fling of horn-blowing.

Communist broadcasts said the coup was carried out because Iraq had planned to give military aid to the Lebanese government.

RADIO MAKES LEADERS

Brig.-Gen. Abdel Karim Kassem leader of the coup. He was said to have named a 13-man cabinet and a three-man sovereignty council to replace King Faisal, Nagub el Ribaei. The council, it was announced, would exercise sovereignty until the president or president could be held.

Broadcasts issued in Cairo said the new revolutionary command announced a purge of army commanders, abolition of the monarchy, and declared an official holiday.

"We have decided to form an Iraqi republic which adheres to full Arab unity, co-operates with other Arab countries," communiqués, observes the principles of the United Nations, and honors pledges according to the constitution," the broadcast said.

RECOGNITION FOR U.A.R.

Cairo said the new sovereignty council sent this word to Hasset: "With great pride we recognize the U.A.R. and pray God help us all to serve Arabism and to support the free people in their struggle."

Dispatches from Baghdad Radio told the people not to attack foreign embassies or other establishments and announced that the lives and property of foreigners would be safeguarded.

Military music and such slogans as "long live Nasser the hero," and "we want a single Arab army" were broadcast between communiques.

Brig.-Gen. Abdel Guelil Hatem was announced as the new army commander. Now designations for several army units that had been named for former Prince Abdul Ilah and Queen Mother Aliya also were announced.

The coup faced Britain and the other members of the Baghdad pact — Britain, Iran and Turkey — with the question of military intervention in Iraq, the only Arab member of the Western-sponsored alliance. The pact does not provide for automatic intervention in the event of attack or internal revolt, but diplomats in London said failure of the West to come to the aid of the legal Iraqi government almost certainly would spell the end of Western influence throughout the Arab world.

CONCERNS U.S. ALSO

The United States was no less on the spot. Although not a member of the Baghdad alliance, it supports it and is a member of its major committees.

Faisal and Nuri had been scheduled to fly to Istanbul today for a meeting of the Asian members of the Baghdad pact.

As one of their first actions, the coup leaders announced recognition of the U.A.R., which Faisal and Nuri had previously had refused to extend.

Iraq's airports and frontiers commander. Near designations were announced.

BASTILLE DAY

"This is a message of hope," de Gaulle said, "for we are emerging from inextricable as to what our ties will be in the future. We are moving toward a vast and fine community. In 50 we must build new institutions, establish them in the form and in the manner, organize a great political, economic and cultural entity which will answer the demands of modern life and progress.

"It must not fail to say that the place of Algeria, so dear and so torn, is marked out and that it is a choice place in this entity of metropolitan France . . . "

France's ties with her overseas possessions were the dominating theme as the nation moved through a three-day celebration of Bastille Day.

Princess Margaret to Spend Night at Prince Albert Park, Sask. Resort Area

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. (CP) — Rapidly growing in fame as a major summer resort area in Western Canada, Prince Albert National Park has been busily preparing for its most distinguished visitor. Princess Margaret will spend one night and part of a day there July 29-30.

Plans are for the Queen's sister to be flown to the park from Prince Albert by helicopter on the afternoon of July 29. She will spend that night in the summer home owned by A. A. Murphy, Saskatoon businessman, and on the morning of July 30 will make a 25-minute tour of the park's townsite, named Waskesiu, after the lake which it borders.

The town site is just 85 miles north of Prince Albert and is easily reached on a good black-topped highway.

UNSPOILED BEAUTY

What attracts the growing numbers of visitors to the P. A. National Park is the beautiful natural setting of lakes, rocks and forested land, and the fine fishing which is rapidly turning northern Saskatchewan into a major sports fishing paradise. The park contains an area of 1,496 square miles and is largely in its natural wilderness state, unspoiled by man.

The region within the park was once the hunting ground of the Cree Indians and probably of the Chipewyans from the northwest. A band of Crees still live on a reserve at Montreal Lake, a few miles east of the park boundary. Also linking the park with the past is its Hudson Bay trading post at Montreal Lake.

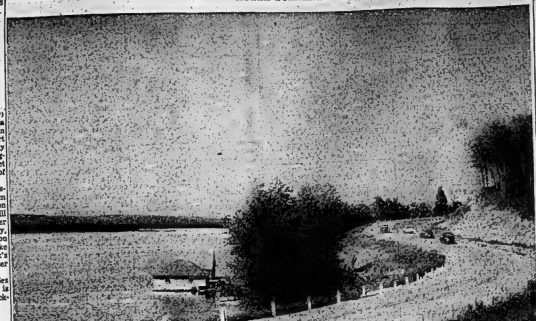
A small herd of buffalo, developed from animals brought from Elk Island National Park in Alberta, is kept in an enclosure near the south entrance to the park.

The Waskesiu town site has been highly developed and the beach itself is a big attraction, stretching for more than a mile and a half along the shore of the lake.

FINE GOLF LINKS

The 18-hole golf course carved out of the forest is considered by many golfers to be one of the finest in the country.

The park was established by the late W. L. Mackenzie King when he was prime minister of Canada and represented the constituency of Prince Albert in the House of Commons. He agreed to the establishment of the park at the suggestion of a group of citizens headed by Hon. T. C. Davis, later Canadian ambassador to Germany, China and Japan.



G. H. W. Ashley, park superintendent, came to Prince Albert last year from British Columbia.

E. (Ted) Case is president of the Waskesiu Board of Trade.

"There may be many thousands more than the usual holidayers who will come when the princess is here. I don't know where we'll put them all, but we'll do our best to see that they are looked after and have a good time," Mr. Case said.

EASY PICKUP

MONTREAL (CP)—Automatic coin machines for collecting tolls have been installed on the Victoria Bridge linking Montreal Island with the St. Lawrence River south shore.

Prince Albert National Park, rapidly becoming one of the top summer resorts in Western Canada, is being prepared for a visit later this month by Princess Margaret. Popular summer home site is Waskesiu, 85 miles north of Prince Albert. Blacktopped highway shown here skirting Waskesiu Lake leads to the area. (CP Photo).

Biggest Federal Financing In History Started

Swap $6,416,000,000 Victory Bonds in Deal

OTTAWA (CP) — The federal government has begun the largest financing operation in Canada's history in a try to persuade holders of $6,416,000,000 in wartime Victory Bonds to swap them for new bonds.

The goal is to remove the uncertainty which Finance Minister Fleming says is caused by "this great mass" of Victory Bonds "overhanging" the bond market.

Those bonds—about 90 per cent of the net national debt—would fall due for repayment in stages during the next eight years starting Jan. 1. Their influence had clogged the short-term bond market.

The plan, kept secret until it was outlined to the country Monday, is to launch a Canada Conversion Loan to transform the Victory Bond debt into a variety of medium- and long-term bonds.

To persuade the 2,000,000 Victory Bond holders to switch, the government is offering higher interest rates and cash bonuses.

Mr. Fleming told the Commons Monday the Conversion Loan is "will lay the foundations for a new, healthy and confident long term bond market."

EXPLAIN PLAN

Then he and Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday night on the largest radio-television network ever set up in Canada to explain—and sell—the complex conversion plan to Canadians in their homes. Their half - hour broadcast, starting at 9:30 p.m. EDT, was aimed at a very wide station in Canada and all but five TV stations.

Mr. Diefenbaker said the conversion, together with other federal operations being planned or undertaken, "will make it possible for our nation to embark on a new era of peacetime prosperity far and beyond anything we have ever known."

It would "clear the decks for greatly increased private investment in our future." He urged Canadians to support the campaign with the same spirit and determination shown in two world wars.

More Guidance Suggested By Commission

OTTAWA (CP) — More self-reliance for the Northwest Territories and quicker progress for native peoples have been suggested by members of the parliament of the north.

The Territories Council conversed Monday for week-long deliberations on questions ranging from materials for Arctic vegetable gardens to unemployment and beer parlors.

The council, presided over by territories Commissioner Gordon Robertson, settled down today to committee discussions.

These views were expressed Monday:

1. Mr. Robertson attributed 25 inland Eskimo deaths last winter to declining caribou herds, directly or indirectly, although a survey indicated the animals themselves are healthy.

2. The fur trade along the Mackenzie River has declined sharply and trappers are crowding into settlements.

3. Population is rising faster than means of income in the Mackenzie River delta. The rising Indian generation will have to find jobs or go outside to seek new skills.

4. Councilor C. M. Drury of Montreal said the territories, one-third of Canada's land mass, should be handed responsibility for its resources, now vested in the federal government. The territories were ready for additional responsibility.

Policy Change Expected in Sale of Lots

LINDSAY (CP) — Ontario's policy of "first come, first served" in the sale of Crown-owned lake lots may be revised after an experiment this month in selling no lots.

The lot system was adopted earlier this year for newly opened Anstruther Lake, 40 miles northeast of here. The district lands and forests office was swamped with 250 applications for Anstruther's 98 remaining lots. Seven hundred tender forms were taken out. Bids close July 25.

F. W. Beasty, surveys chief for the department of lands and forests, said in Toronto today the experiment is expected to set a pattern for province in areas where the demand for lots on a single lake exceeds the supply.

Ninety-eight persons seeking Crown lots apply to the department, pay an average $120 for a survey and are assessed $1 per shoreline foot. In the Anstruther experiment these prices have been set as the minimum. When tenders are opened the highest offer on each lot will be accepted.

Last fall the lands and forests department conducted its first lot sale by the "first come" rule at Lake of Bays. That sale flopped when the township road allowance went to Anstruther and most of the applicants switched their applications to the latter township. Only 7 of the 70 Loon Call lots were sold.

District Forester D. R. Wilson says Anstruther, about four and one-half miles long with cottages now lining about half its wooded shores, is "the last really desirable lake left in the district for cottagers."

FAISAL TRIED TO BUILD NEW GARDEN OF EDEN

Used Oil Revenue To Build for Future

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Iraq, the legendary site of the Garden of Eden, has spawned rich civilizations in the past and has the natural wealth to bring forth a new era for its Arab people.

Oil, the black gold of the Middle East, has been pouring the vast development projects the nation started under 23-year-old King Faisal and his crafty political strong man, Nuri Said.

Instead of pouring all of its money into the royal treasury as King Saud has done in Saudi Arabia, the young Iraqi king has turned as much as two-thirds of the royalties back to the nation's development board in a year.

This money went for roads, slum clearance in the ancient capital of Baghdad and an expanding irrigation program aimed at bringing the parched deserts back to the fertility which supported the Sumerians 3,500 years before Christ in the famed valley of the Tigris and Euphrates.

But it still has a long way to go. Annual income is about $85 per person. Illiteracy runs 90 per cent.

FREED FROM TURKS

The Iraq of World War freed Iraq from the Turks of the Ottoman empire. The nation went to British mandate under the League of Nations mandate, and the British presided at its formal birth as a nation in 1932, when King Faisal's father took the throne.

Ever since then the British-owned Iraq Petroleum Company has been Britain's power in the country, and Iraq has been one of the most pro-Western o' Arab nations.

The pro-Western policy continued into the cold war, when Iraq was the only Arab state to join the Baghdad Pact—the so-called Northern Tier alliance against the Soviet Union.

Faisal's allegiance to the West, Iraq's rulers had to fend off attacks from the anti-Western Arab nations charged Faisal and Nuri Said with selling out the Moslem cause of Arab unity.

Faisal ascended the throne after his father died in an accident in 1939. The nation was put under the regency of Abdul Ilah, his uncle, who took great training young Faisal for the problems of ruling.

Abdul Ilah dressed himself as a woman after a 1941 coup and smuggled the young king out of Britain, where he got a solid education at Harrow.

Faisal returned in 1953 to take over the throne he had held since 1939 as the nation's monarch, since he was nine. But Abdul Ilah remained the power behind the king and was viewed in Iraq as the real power in the palace.

The 23-year-old young monarch was engaged to 17-year-old Princess Fadia, granddaughter of the last sultan of Turkey who now is in school in England. He had been expected to marry her during his stay on leave at the end of this month, but reports have it will be married after their return.

Conference Hears Proposals To End Seasonal Joblessness

OTTAWA (CP) — A national conference, convened by the federal government, today puts forward its conclusions on solving the problem of seasonal unemployment.

Representatives of labor, industry, business and all levels of government began the closed-door discussions of the problem Monday.

In open sessions that launched the meeting they heard a Canadian Labor Congress executive call for an immediate statement from the federal government on what specific programs it plans.

William Dodge, executive vice-president of the 1,100,000-member labor group, said fast federal action is needed. There were "encouraging signs" the recession was levelling off. But unemployment next winter might reach a record level.

Professor V. W. Bladen, chairman of the University of Toronto's political economy department, said "business incentives" should be the principal means in any program. In the past he had found an inclination "to rely on exhortation rather than on the creation of the right climate."

He termed his address a plea for "recognition of the character of the free enterprise system and the propriety of seeking solutions to seasonal unemployment within the context of that system."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker, welcoming delegates, said he hopes the conference can do something to solve the problem intensifying in recent years.

The seasonal unemployment problem is distinct from general unemployment which, he said, involves "major improvement."

Later, Professor Bladen said winter unemployment is more serious when general unemployment conditions are bad.

"By all means let us try to reduce the seasonal element but let us remember that the really serious problem is the maintenance of full employment."

Mr. Dodge asked for a detailed federal survey of the seasonality of unemployed, showing who is out of work and why.

He called for a policy of "seasonal discrimination." Through taxes, interest rates or subsidies it should be made less desirable for individuals, firms and various levels of government to work in the summer than in winter.

Small Aircraft Companies Get More Freedom

OTTAWA (CP) — Transport Minister Hees has announced that small non - scheduled aircraft companies will be permitted to operate more freely in Canada.

He said Monday in reply to a Commons question that the air transport board has been instructed to grant operating licences freely on request to such small companies.

The policy, he said, will apply to group C aircraft—light planes of one engine with a load of four to six pounds, and to small helicopters.

However, Mr. Hees said there will be exceptions to the new policy, especially in northern and remote areas where services must be provided on a moderately regular basis.

Truck Hits Car, 2 Women Die

ELMIRA (CP) — Mrs. Laura Barron, 67, of Preston, died when her daughter, Mrs. Jean Logan, of Rockwood, 20 miles away, was killed Monday when their car collided with a tractor-trailer.

Provincial police at Kitchener are Mrs. Logan's five children, Carol, 8, Bruce, 6, Larry, 5, Brenda, 9, and Dawn, 2.

Police said Robert Emmerson, 27, driver of the tractor-trailer owned by Copeland Transport Ltd., Hamilton, was lightly injured Monday when their car collided with a tractor-trailer.

MANY THRILLS TO EXPLORE

Within easy driving distance of Belleville lies a wonderful natural scenic paradise that which offer many weekends of pleasure.

All one needs to explore this natural summer paradise is a boat, motor and trailer. With such equipment you can take your boat wherever you can drive your car — for a month or a weekend.

South Hastings, located on the Belleville Harbor, has a wide choice of marine equipment which even the slimmest budget can afford. For surprisingly little you can purchase a "package outfit" — boat, motor and trailer — with no down payment required.

Get off the busy highways this summer — take the family on a different vacation!

Obituaries

MRS. ANNA ADELIA BLAKELY

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Adelia Blakely, Bancockburn, was held on Sunday afternoon, July 13th, from the MacKenzie Funeral Home, Madoc, to Eldorado United Church where service was conducted by Rev. R. A. Milley. The many relatives and friends in attendance and the beautiful floral tributes attested to the high esteem in which the deceased was held in the community.

Interment took place in Eldorado cemetery.

Bearers were: Tom Lloyd, Doug Sailer, Harold Chambers, Cecil Blackburn, Clayton Blackburn, Alex Johnson.

FREDERICK A. CLARKE

TRENTON — Frederick A. Clarke, 59-year-old resident of 333 Bidgood Street, Trenton, died suddenly in the Trenton Memorial Hospital on July 11 and was laid to rest in St. George's Cemetery following funeral service conducted by the St. George's Anglican Church at 3 p.m. July 13. Rev. Peter Tett officiated.

Born in Finchley, England, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Clarke. He had resided in Trenton for 11 years, after coming from England, and had served as a civil servant at No. 6 Repair Depot, RCAF, Trenton. He was a veteran of the First World War and served with the Royal Sunfolk Regiment.

Besides his wife, the former Mabel Winifred Webber, he is survived by one daughter, Moya (Mrs. James Lawson) of Trenton; one step-daughter, Mrs. George Bullard of England; one son, Clarke, of Southampton, England, and 6 grandchildren and 6 step-grandchildren. Also surviving are three sisters, all residing in England, and six brothers, five of whom live in England and one in New Zealand.

The late Mr. Clarke was a member of the St. George's Anglican Church, Trenton, and rested at the Weaver Funeral Home prior to the funeral.

The bearers were J. A. Fox, Vince Sinee, Reg. Terrill, George McDonald, Harry Lisk and Harry Demille.

RED PURGE UNDER WAY

PEIPING (Reuters) —Visitors from Shanghai say hundreds of Chinese have disappeared from that city in the last few weeks. This followed a large-scale purge so-called "bad elements". Peiping resulting from a campaign earlier this year to eliminate the Communist regime. At that time citizens were urged to bring out suspicions and grouses about bosses, friends and relatives.

Tourists Have Difficulty in Finding Route

Despite strategically placed directional signs, westbound tourists passing through the city are continually getting themselves confused as to how to get out of the city.

As result operators of gasoline service stations on Upper Front Street have been doing yeoman service in directing lost tourists on how to again get on their proper route.

The trouble is apparently that they miss the westbound No. 2 highway route at the corner of Dundas and Pinnacle and continue on up Front Street where they are unable to make a left turn. By the time they reach the upper bridge they are hopelessly confused.

One service station operator at the corner of Front and Pinnacle Streets states that from 10 to 20 lost tourists ask for directions every day.

E. Sandercock Says 401 Won't Open Until Fall

Elmer Sandercock, MLA for Hastings West, commented this morning about a story which appears in Toronto newspapers about the rumored official opening of Highway 401 on July 16.

Mr. Sandercock, after a telephone call to the Kingston engineering offices of the highways department, declared that July 16 is "absolutely not" the date on which 401, will be officially opened. It will be opened "some time later in the fall."

He pointed out the highways department workers are just now sodding and building up the shoulders along the super highway. The opening date will be announced when "at least some of the guard rails are erected."

Rotarian Bob Tanner Tells Of New Development in Sound

When a person who is deaf in one ear attends a cocktail party, for example, he is at a great disadvantage conversation wise — particularly if he wishes to converse with the person sitting next to him. For in a room full of noisy, garrulous people, all talking at the same time, he is unable to concentrate his hearing on one particular voice.

This fact was brought out in an interesting and informative address given local Rotarians Monday by fellow club member, Bob Tanner. Mr. Tanner, recently promoted manager of the Electrical Development division of Northern Electric's new Research and Development Lab, spoke on the subject "Audio and Electrical Reproduction — Sound."

Mr. Tanner explained that a person with hearing in only one ear cannot "tune in" to one person's conversation to the exclusion of all others obbing and flowing around him, because it takes two ears working together to perform this unconscious feat.

"This is similar to the inability of a person with sight in only one eye to judge distance," he said.

The speaker informed Rotarians, research is being conducted into what the ear hears and what effect this has on the ear. The "cocktail party experiment" is one of many being conducted in the broad field of psycho-acoustics.

ACOUSTICS STUDIED

More consideration is now being given acoustics in the designing of new buildings, he stated.

"There is a trend toward what happens to sound in buildings," he said in noting that in the past the architectural design and the materials used were selected without thought to acoustical effects.

Old hotels, built years ago, are prime examples as anyone who has spent a sleepless night listening to the party going on in the next room, can testify, he said.

Five Bribery Charges Thrown Out by Court

VANCOUVER (CP) — Five charges of bribery against Robert Sommers, former B.C. lands and forests minister, were thrown out Monday by Mr. Justice J. O. Wilson of the B.C. Supreme Court.

The judge, in his most important action since the trial began two weeks ago, dismissed one bribery count against British Columbia Forest Products Limited and two others against H. W. Gray of Pacific Asset Services Limited.

He instructed the jury that verdicts of not guilty were to be found on the counts.

In a direction from the bench as the case went into its 30th day, Mr. Wilson said the press should not make public any part of his reasons for the rulings because it might be prejudicial to the jury of nine men and three women.

Sommers still faces seven bribery charges along with a main count - of conspiracy. The five charges against the former minister which were eliminated involved transactions in which the Crown said he received close to $7,500 in money and goods in connection with use of his influence in obtaining government timber licences.

Baghdad Radio repeatedly called for Iraqis to be calm and go back to business. Demonstrations and gatherings of more than five persons were forbidden.

Jordan officials said only a few hired elements from the army backed by foreign pro-Arab states had carried out the coup and did not yet have the situation under full control.

Nasser sent greetings to the Iraqi rebels, which he announced that they would follow his Hitlerian-Arab policy.

Nasser cut short by one day his visit to Yugoslav president Tito and sailed for home. Cairo radio said the U.A.R. would recognize the republic of Iraq.

Jubilant crowds in Cairo and Damascus hailed the uprising.

In London, after the longest cabinet meeting since the second world war, Prime Minister Macmillan ordered 6,000 troops ready for possible speedy movement to the Middle East. Another 600 men already were standing by.

One possibility is the immediate reinforcement of British garrisons at the Red Sea base of Aden and in the Persian Gulf sheikdom of Kuwait, both within striking distance of Iraq.

Britain has about 6,000 citizens in Iraq, many of them engaged in producing oil. The controller of the embassy was killed by a sniper bullet during the attack in Baghdad, but other Britons were reported safe.

An Iraq Petroleum Company spokesman in Beirut said so far as he knows, Iraq's oil operations were continuing normally.

Iraq, with a population of almost 5,000,000, is one of the great oil-producing countries of the world. British, French, American, Dutch and Panamanian interests are linked in I.P.C., which has sole rights to most of the country's deposits.

Baghdad radio said all persons working with the United Nations in Iraq are safe. It gave no idea of what possible effect Monday's Mideast revolution might have on UN operations.

The broadcast mentioned no individuals. Gerald Keyes, B.C., a native of Fredericton, N.B., and federal labor minister in the former Liberal cabinet, is resident representative for the UN technical assistance program in Iraq.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market drifted off today in moderate morning trading.

Western oils were the only section to show a gain; they were ahead more than a half point on index. Industrials were off almost a half point, base metals by more than a third and golds were a few decimal points lower.

Volume at 11 a.m. was 1,352,000 shares, slightly higher than Monday's 1,197,000 at the same time.

Interest among speculatives has almost completely faded. Barnat, trading slightly over 100,000 shares, was the most active issue, losing 11 cents at $1.18. New Hosco, trading 80,000 shares, was ahead 3 cents at $2.95, recovering from a low of $2.85 in early trading.

Among industrials Trans Mountain Pipe Line, advanced 3 points at 56¾. Golds were not too heavily traded and losses just about balanced gains. Senior mines were easier among base metals.

Around-the-World in 80 Days Is Movie for Whole Family

Do you have a secret desire to take an around-the-world tour but just can't afford the fare or the time off work to fulfil your desire?

Well, if you use your imagination you can take such a trip in just under three hours for the cost of a seat in the Belle Theatre — just for the price of an admission ticket.

"Around the World in 80 Days" opened yesterday at the Belle for a three-week run. Winner of 52 best picture awards and widely acclaimed throughout the world, the Michael Todd production was well received by a local audience last night, attending the first-night run.

Combining color, breath-taking scenery, humor and music, it is a picture the whole family will enjoy.

Filmed in CinemaScope and Technicolor, it is based on the book of the same title by Jules Verne and stars David Niven in the title role of Phileas Fogg, the globe-circling gentleman adventurer. It also stars Cantinflas, the great French comedian, as the French woman-chasing valet of Phileas Fogg; Shirley MacLaine as the Indian Princess they rescue from being burned alive in India, and Robert Newton as the sleuth-hunting Scotland Yard detective.

The camera-work is excellent and the audience feels as if they are right there travelling along with the intrepid group. This is done by showing the audience exactly what the main characters in the film see.

The dialogue is witty, sharp, and laugh provoking and combined with some very amusing situations, seems to this reviewer to be designed to appeal to the "great British institutions."

The film is light, frothy and entertaining from start to finish and leaves the audience in a happy mood. The picture's running time is 176 minutes, including a ten-minute intermission in the middle.

The plot, if it can be called one, is fantastic and unbelievable, and concerns around the amazing adventures encountered by Phileas Fogg and his completion on world - girdling tour to win a 20,000 - pound wager. They encounter various obstacles but always seem to miraculously overcome them. Phileas Fogg's money, ingenuity, money, resourcefulness, and money are main factors.

While on their around - the-world trip, the audience is taken along to France, Spain, India, China, Japan, and America, by various modes of transportation, including a balloon, train, boat, elephant, and a homemade version of a railway handcar.

The sights the intrepid travellers see of the various parts of the world they visit are those which would be seen back in 1870 when the book was written. The costumes are also those belonging to that period.

FRENCH VALET STARS

The "star" of the show, in this reviewer's opinion, is Cantinflas, who plays the whimsical, lovable French valet Pas-Partout, whose constantly growing affinity for the feminine form gets him into many amusing situations.

The clever, Jack - of - all - trades comedian keeps the audience screaming with laughter throughout the picture. The bullfight scene in Spain, in which Cantinflas valet matches wits with a mangy-looking bull, is one of the funniest pieces of subtle clowning seen by this reviewer in a long time.

David Niven also does a notable job with his role as the witty, British, aristocratic, whistling, gentleman adventurer, Phileas Fogg — who has a penchant for always being on time.

Shirley Maleaine, as the Indian princess who refused to be burnt on her dead husband, Maharajah, provided eye appeal only.

Robert Newton as the bumbling Scotland Yard detective with an ostrich-type mentality in regard to disguises, drew many laughs from the audience as he sleuthed his way through the picture, hot on the trail of a bank robber.

Among the 44 "cameo stars" featured throughout the picture were such well - known persons as Charles Boyer, Red Skelton, Frank Sinatra, Marlene Dietrich, Andy Devine, George Raft, Joe E. Brown, and Jose Greco.

The film will be shown twice daily, at 2 p.m. and 8.15 p. m., and for those who haven't seen it, it is well worth the price of an admission ticket.

Toronto Teacher Submits School Reform Scheme

TORONTO (CP) — Anthony Frisch, 37-year-old Austrian-born Toronto science teacher, says he has outlined a plan for federal and provincial governments a plan to rewrite Canadian high school science and mathematics text books.

Mr. Frisch has just finished a report based on two years' study which compared Canadian and Russian teaching standards. It is directed to Prime Minister Diefenbaker in several suggestions for overhauling the Canadian system. Copies will be sent to provincial education ministers.

Mr. Frisch broke down Russian curricula to 71 units, comprising 13 units for mathematics, 19 for physics, 25 for chemistry and 14 for biology.

Mr. Frisch said comparison among Canadian schools shows Ontario leads with 54 units, England-Wales-Ireland combined with 42, Alberta 42, Manitoba 40, British Columbia 34, French-speaking Quebec 28 and Newfoundland 27.

The figures are based on grades nine to 13 curricula in Ontario and B.C., nine to 11 in Newfoundland and Frenchspeaking Quebec and nine to 12 in the other provinces.

Mr. Frisch's report asks the federal government to declare a state of emergency in education. It says:

"An acute national emergency exists in our educational system.

"It primarily produces wage-earners, husbands and wives. It was designed to do that job, and so more, and it does it very well. But everything is our response to global pressure, our academic standards will have to be raised."

Anglican Church Birth Control Report Studied

By SIDNEY TAYLOR

LONDON (Reuters) — A controversial Church of England report on birth control and possible contraception is under study by a Lambeth Conference committee of bishops.

The report said family planning and contraceptive assistance is the answer to over - population in parts of the West Indies, India, Japan, Singapore and other places in southeast Asia.

Should the report be adopted after study it would reverse the Lambeth group's wavering stand on birth control. In 1930, the conference denounced contraception but in 1930 it was "grudgingly permissive" by a 3-to-1 majority.

TRENTON — Although separated by 28 years in age, Sergt. Douglas E. Aselstine, 30, and Sergt. James H. Buckle, 48, are in close musical accord. Sgt. Aselstine of Belleville, is the youngest member of the band and Sergt. Buckle of Trenton, is the oldest member. Doug is in the saxophone section and James is a clarinetist with the band.

All 61 band members are practising long hours so as to be in good perfect form for their forthcoming appearance before Princess Margaret at her Civic Reception in Toronto on July 30.

A second honor has been bestowed upon the Training Command Band this year. The band has been selected as the feature military band at the Canadian National Exhibition. (National Defence Photo).

NATO Aircrew Training Plan To Be Closed With Ceremony

TRENTON — The coming termination of the RCAF's original NATO Aircrew Training Plan is to be marked by a colorful ceremony at RCAF Station Winnipeg on Saturday, July 19, it was announced today by Air Force Headquarters.

Since its beginning in late 1950, the plan has seen more than 5,000 pilots and observers from 10 other NATO countries trained in Canada by the RCAF as one of Canada's Mutual Aid contributions to NATO. Close to 200 trainees under the original arrangements are still in Canada, and the last of these is expected to graduate this December.

Under separate arrangements which replace the original plan, some training is continuing for limited numbers of aircrew from Norway, Denmark, and the Netherlands. In addition, pilots are being trained in Canada for the German Air Force under a similar agreement.

The ceremony marking the ending of the original scheme will feature the presentation of the illuminated scroll to the RCAF on behalf of the NATO countries participating in the training. The scroll will be presented by Air Marshal Sir Hugh Constantine Walmsley, Deputy Chief of Staff for Plans and Policy, SHAPE, to Air Vice Marshal the Supreme Allied Commander in Europe, General Lauris Norstad. Air Vice Marshal R. D. Hogle, Assistant Chief of Staff for Training and Operations at SACLANT, will represent the Supreme Allied Commander Atlantic, General Jerauld Wright, at the ceremony. Air Marshal Hugh Campbell, Chief of the Air Staff of the RCAF, will represent Canada and will receive the scroll.

WILL FORM BACKDROP

The flags of the fifteen NATO countries will form the backdrop for 650 RCAF and other NATO airmen drawn from seven stations within Training Command, as well as for the RCAF Ceremonial Trumpeters, the RCAF Central Band from Ottawa, and the Mermaid Trumpet and Drum Band from Stadacona Gimli, Portage La Prairie and Moncton, Manitoba.

Two flypasts of formations of 24 and 36 T33 jet training aircraft will be carried out.

Attending the ceremony will be representatives from various NATO Sub-Commands, NATO military attachees from Ottawa, Senior RCAF officers and civilian dignitaries and service officers from the Winnipeg area.

The first NATO Aircrew trainees arrived in Canada for RCAF training late in 1950, and the initial graduation ceremony was held May 4, 1951 at RCAF Station Summerside, P.E.I., when 17 navigators from Italy, Norway and Belgium, received their wings.

Eventually the scheme embraced aircrew students from Belgium, Denmark, the Netherlands, Belgium, France, Portugal, Italy, Greece, Turkey and Germany.

Doughnut Firm Adds Night Shift

TRENTON — Because of recent demands from the U.S. market, the doughnut factory in Trenton has added a night shift of seven persons to its operations, it was reported yesterday.

The company, R.C.A. Food Industries Limited on Dufferin Street, normally employs about 25 workers but the extra shift which keeps the plant open until midnight has added the seven plus two specially men brought in by the company.

The extra work will, only be temporary and because of the situation which caused the new shift it is not known how long it will last.

The company manufactures prepared doughnut mix which is shipped all across Canada.

The mix is put out in 100-pound bags and is made in batches which fill about 32 bags. The average day sees some 16 batches put out. With the addition of the night shift the company has almost doubled production and is now putting out about 30 batches per day.

Fire in Town Dump Raises Thick Smoke

TRENTON — Firemen in Trenton had a busy Monday for the first time since July 1, but the blaze was not serious, being in the town dump. The thick smoke was blowing towards the residential section in that area and causing considerable discomfort.

The call came in about 2.30 p.m. Sunday and firemen were forced to lay over 1,000 feet from the hydrant near the Community Centre to put the flame out.

Only one truck was needed, this being the town truck. The pumper had been taken down first but was sent back and the other truck replaced it at the scene. Ordinary pressure at the hydrant was sufficient and it was not necessary to tie the pumper up.

The alarm was rung to bring enough me out to handle the laying of the hose at the fire and still leave men on duty at the firehall in case they were needed somewhere else in town.

The cause of the blaze was not known but fires at the dump are quite common because of combustion from oily rags; over the years there has been a bottle or broken piece of glass in some lines all that is needed to set the rubbish ablaze.

10 U.S. Air Officers Leave For West After Station Visit

TRENTON — Ten United States Air Force officers from USAF Air Training Command Headquarters will leave Trenton today for western Canada following a two-day visit at RCAF Air Training Command Headquarters and RCAF Station, Trenton.

The group, headed by Colonel Jerry J. Page, arrived by USAF C-54 aircraft on Saturday. (The C-54 is the American version of the RCAF's four-engine North Star.)

They spent the weekend sightseeing and fishing north of Trenton. The American officers are visiting TCHQ and Training Command units to study and observe RCAF flying training methods and to exchange ideas on training problems with RCAF training staffs.

While here Col. Page and his staff inspected USAF exchange officers up to date with current USAF training practices. The other officers concerned are Lieut. Col. Joe Kling, on exchange with the air training branch of TCHQ; Major T. G. B. Preston, at Central Flying School, and Captain Charles K. Rose, at Flying Instructors' School.

On Monday the USAF officers were briefed on staff officers' Training Command and today they toured RCAF Station Trenton. This concentrated visits at CFS, FIS, No. 6 Field Technical Training Unit and the School of Instructional Technique.

The group will depart late this afternoon for the west, where they will visit RCAF Stations at Winnipeg, Penhold, Alta., and Cold Lake, Alta.

Accompanying the Americans throughout their visit to Trenton will be Wing Commander H. C. Forbell, staff officer air training at TCHQ, and Squadron Leader Lorne Deyell.

The visiting officers will return to Randolph Air Force Base in Texas from Calgary early on Monday morning after spending the weekend viewing the city and the foothills of the Rockies.

Who goes the middle road? is the question being mentally asked by motorists travelling No. 14 Highway north of the city as they see cloverleaf approaches for No. 401 Highway taking shape. The reason is there seems to be an extra approach or exit which normally does not exist on cloverleafs.

In the picture above looking north over the overpass the road at the bottom is for northbound motorists turning east on the two curved road is an entrance onto No. 14 for eastbound motorists wishing to turn north. But the purpose of the middle road immediately back of the Belleville by-pass sign is not readily apparent. Provincial police don't know, and highway department engineers likewise admit they also are in the dark. The "middle road" appears only in the southeast and northeast quadrants and is not matched on the west side of No. 14.

STROLLING, HAND IN HAND

"Lovers, strolling hand in hand - - -"

That has a familiar ring, doesn't it - - - so familiar that common sense suggests those same five words have been arranged in that identical order by a whole army of novelists, poets, essayists, journalists and letter-writers.

Yet those five words mean different things to different people. There was a time when, if one saw two people of opposite sexes walking hand in hand, and if there was no self-apparent great difference in their ages, one could say with what amounted to certainty that they were, indeed, lovers and that their love was not only strong but relatively new.

Hand-in-hand strolling used to be reserved for those innumerable lanes dedicated to fact, and frequently in name, to lovers. Hand-holding meant something in those days. It was never done on a busy city street.

All this has changed. Hand-in-hand walking today is frequent between people of opposite sexes who feel an attraction, however mild, for each other. It is indulged in not only by those who are feeling the first faint twinges of love, but also by those who have drunk deeply of the loving-cup and, in another day, they would have considered it undignified to give visible proofs of the bonds which hold them together. Teen-age pals walk hand-in-hand and so do husband and wife of the teen-agers. Nobody snickers, as they would two or-three decades ago, to see a grey-haired couple with fingers intertwined.

All this is an old story and had long since ceased to prod our curiosity as to the manner by which customs change until we received the latest issue of "USSR Illustrated News." On the back cover is a picture of a May Day demonstration, presumably in Moscow. In the foreground of the marchers, most of whom are carrying flags or flowers, are a young couple, without bouquets or banners, but with their arms linked and their hands locked in a demonstration of affection which would appear commonplace on a Canadian street.

How did the hand-inducing custom get to Russia? Was it imported from this side of the Atlantic? Or are our own hand-holding couples copying a European custom? Is the similarity of the pose another example of our shrinking world?

And are there, perhaps, some old fogies in Russia who have faint yearnings for the day when familiarity with the custom of hand-holding had bred contempt for its pleasure-giving possibilities and who remember when hand-in-hand strolling meant much more than it does today.

PENSION NONSENSE

A lot of nonsense is being written about the pension which the Canadian Government is paying Mr. Rene Beaudoin, a lawyer residing in Las Vegas, Nevada.

People are saying that, if the Canadian Government is going to pay a pension to Mr. Beaudoin, it should contribute to pay old age pensions to Canadians over 70 who decide to make their residence outside of Canada.

We suspect that Mr. Beaudoin's identity and his past record are responsible for prejudice which is blinding many people who should be able to see clearly the facts of the case. Many people dislike Mr. Beaudoin for political reasons. He was speaker of the House of Commons when that body advanced money to Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. Other people object to Mr. Beaudoin's more recent conduct on religious or moral grounds. He divorced a wife of many years standing in Las Vegas and married a woman young enough to be his daughter. He is making his residence in Nevada because his second marriage would not be legal in Canada.

His record as a speaker and a husband, however, have nothing to do with his pension. It is not an old age pension. The same rules govern him as all other Canadians with respect to this pension. It would not be paid him if he resided outside Canada. The pension Mr. Beaudoin is receiving, though, is entirely different. It has been paid for, partly by money he contributed himself and partly by his employers, the people of Canada, during the time in which he served them as a member of the House of Commons. There is no more reason why any residence rule should attach to the payment of Mr. Beaudoin's parliamentary pension than there is why similar rules should apply to pensions paid under the many plans operated by business and industrial firms.

THE RULING PASSION

He walked and waited down in the hall
As swiftly the passing moments fled,
And then he ventured at last to call,
"I'll be there in a minute," was all he said.

He's inscribed now, and he still waits on
As he used to do in his courting days;
And whenever he calls to her:
"Yes, John,
I'll be there in a minute," she always says.

Now he's willing to bet when Death's Angel calls
And bids her answer his summons quick,
"Just wait awhile in the outer halls,
I'll be there in a minute," she'll say to him.

If Railroad Was Novelty

Canton, Ohio, Repository

Suppose that everybody in the United States were to learn for the first time about a marvelous method of transportation called a railroad.

The idea would be sensational. High-speed trackers running on steel rails held on privately-owned right-of-ways with minimum curves and grades, would be capable of pulling long processions of trailers full of merchandise. Imagine

Trains of trailers would be kept rolling day in and day out until they reached their destination. They would be shuttled into and out of vast marshaling yards, where the trailers would be grouped in the right combination. Of all things!

Everything connected with the railroads, moreover, would be subject to taxation. It would be expected to pay for itself. What a notion that would be!

Farmers might take on their own ribbons of steel and even haul human beings, in addition to freight. If necessary, the human beings could be loaded into and hauled from one place to another in special cars with comfortable seats and all the comforts of home.

It would be an absolutely revolutionary idea — railroading. Nothing like it had just been invented, that is.

All the progressives and t h e folks who are always helping hand to get new ideas off the ground would be 100 per cent for it.

All the politicians and administrations would be 99 per cent for it.

As for the militarists and hand-headed security planners, they would be 150 per cent, for it, because they would provide a mode of transportation more dependable for long-haul movement of troops than the wildest dreamed of heretofore.

The railroad company would welcome the useful stranger with open arms and be alert for opportunities to give it a boost.

Cities and counties would tumble over one another to build things for it and to make free land available for its termination.

Politicians would get into higher mathematics to subsidize it with financial gimmicks.

Nothing would be too good for the railroad. And the idea of transporting things on steel rails were brand new.

The railroads want is a chance to be as good as they know how to be if they are not handicapped set free from regulations that were designed to curb guys when they were new and ignorant, to abuse a monopoly in high-speed, straight-line transportation.

Railroads should be born again.

That is what would have to happen if they went out of existence.

If they did not exist, the United States would have to invent them.

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

30 YEARS AGO

July 15, 1930.

The Village of Frankford taxes this year have been set at fifty mills which is an increase of three mills over the year 1929.

From our file copy at this time in 1868: Large bills have been placed along the Central Railway line announcing to the farmers a free trip to Trenton on market days which are Thursday and Saturday. Capt. Mac Margaret Lally has returned home after spending a vacation of two weeks in Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. William Coulby and Mrs. R. McCullough were the hostesses at the East Belleville Golf Club this afternoon.

From our file copy at this time in 1838: An effort is being made to reopen the stove foundry under new management. (Note: In 1858.) The stove foundry was located on Pinnacle Street below Dundas Street, in a large building which still stands there. Hart and Smith were the founders of the business. Since the closing of the stove foundry the building has been used for many purposes. For some years it was a kindergarten factory; later for a shoe factory, (the Natural Tread Shoe Company); then a furniture company; then a barracks for the enlisted men stationed here during the first war; then the Beta Shoe Company used it for a time. Those mentioned are only a few of the purposes for which the building was used and not in rotation. Now several business concerns occupy the building.

30 YEARS AGO

Miss Mary Kavanagh of Walkerville spent the week-end here with her mother at her home on Cannifton Rd.

Mrs. Nellie Armstrong, New York City, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Ellen Gunn, Front Road.

Mr. Raymond Scott of the Lindsay Post, spent the week-end here with his parents at their home on Yeomans St.

Mr. Harold Hilton spent the weekend with friends at Westlemount Lake.

Miss Lindsay Nurse of Brantford, formerly of this city, is spending the summer with relatives at Oak Lake.

40 YEARS AGO

July 15, 1918.

At a meeting of the city council the tax rate for this year was set at 1.10 mills. This is possibly the highest rate ever struck in the city. The public works department will require $24,000.00 and the public school board will need $15,000.00. Present at the meeting St. Mayor Dr. Platt and Aldermen St. Charles, Hanna, Treverton, Robinson, Mallon, Vicary, Hagerman, Donohue and Parks.

Miss Marjorie Middleton, of the post office staff at Cobourg, is spending her vacation here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilkins, Coronation St.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Davidson and children of Bonaventure Law, Que., are visiting Mrs. Davidson's (Edith) parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Price, William St.

50 YEARS AGO

July 18, 1908.

Mr. and Mrs. Helm, of St. Paul, Minn., are guests at the home of Mrs. E. G. Spragge, McDonald Ave.

Chief of police John Newton of Thunder city has been appointed District Deputy Grand Master by his father, by the Masonic Grand Lodge which is now meeting at Niagara Falls, Ont.

Citizens who are interested in the forming of a town bowling club are requested to meet in the C. S. Lazier's office this evening.

Mrs. James Boyle has returned home from Kingston where she visited friends.

Mrs. T. Hogan, Baldwin St., has returned from Kingston where she visited friends.

Mrs. G. H. Packman and young son, of Owen Sound, have left for home after visiting J. F. Foote, Firth St.

Old time friends from our file at this time in 1898: Mr. Cecil Fraleck, who has been spending his vacation here, has left for Chatham, Ont., to resume his duties in the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Mrs. J. Kain and family, Bridge St., left today for Montreal, where they will visit relatives. Miss Helen Walker has returned to New York City after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon W. Walker, Queen St. at Ann St. Mrs. James B. (Vermilyes) Gibson left today for Winnipeg where they intend to reside. Mr. Wilmot of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Napanee, has been transferred to Toronto. The Rev. A. H. Lord of Madoc was in town today.

Sands of Time

St. Catharines Standard

By studying sediments on the floor of the ocean, a Russian geologist announces he's discovered the earth is 10 billion years old, not 2,000,000,000 as previously believed. Those sediments must be what that poet referred to as the "sands of time."

To Get Rid Of Your Boss

BBC London Letter

There is no knowing how many senior officials and executives have been looking at their junior staff somewhat warily since a talk by Professor Wickham Steed-Parkinson of the University of Malaya, on the appealing subject of "How to Get Rid of Your Boss", was broadcast in t h e BBC's domestic and general overseas services on Thursday evening. He, of course, the author of the witty book, "Psychoneurosis," in which he announced the discovery of the law to be seen spreading in large quantities nowadays, is a "work expands so as to fill i t s time available for its completion" in fact, more staff create more work for each other.

In his broadcast Professor Parkinson had some ruthless advice for those who find themselves frustrated by the problem of a boss who continues to sit at his desk, "perfunctorily, energetic and shrewd," though well past the age at which, as Juvenal quite capable of working on efficiently until he is ninety-five. Professor Parkinson's line of solution in two words: Air Travel.

"To get rid of him," the Chairman of Directors all you must do is to insist that he attends plenty of international conferences. Let him pace far apart and to be reached at time only by the most rapid non-stop flights. It does not matter what the conferences are about. Let him be sent to those they offer the most violent changes of temperature. He should be hurled from the equatorial to the arctic, from Geneva to Barcelona in the twenty time he breathe. The pleasing result is that he will emerge from each a pressurised aircraft wearing thick tweeds and carrying an overcoat in the tropical temperature of 105 degrees; a procedure only varied when his digestion has collapsed and the ground temperature well below zero."

While in the air the chairman would be kept busy filling in forms in answer to questionnaires: he might often have no sleep; sometimes he would have breakfasts in one day, and at other times go for hours without food. All these conditions would have the effect of making him feel his age, and then was the time to get the pressure on by urging the necessity of his attending more and more conferences.

Only this time," said Professor Parkinson," you will see in his eyes the haunted look of one who admits defeat. He will have retired by the end of the year."

Best to Take Lowest Bid

Ottawa, Citizen

The system of buying equipment on the basis of the lowest tender is constantly practised by public bodies in Canada, but lately has come under criticism. The Toronto Transport Commission, for example, was recently attacked by Mayor Hubert Badani of Fort William, where motor coach bodies are manufactured, because the TTC has bought buses in the United States. A delegation from Fort William City Council is under attack by Canadian manufacturers for accepting a tender for a U.S. firm for a quantity of city pump engines when several Canadian municipal councils have been criticized by local businessmen for not buying from their own communities, let alone from their own province. Certainly, Ottawa City Council has been in that position.

The practice of letting municipal bodies is not an easy one to solve. On the one hand they must have a duty to their local ratepayers, which must be discharged by entrusting the city's community as economically as possible. On the other hand they have a duty toward local businessmen who are often large ratepayers and who have investment to other taxpayers.

It is virtually impossible to reconcile the two obligations, and almost all municipal councils have chosen to discharge what they consider the greater duty, which is to administer civic affairs as economically as possible. That means accepting the lowest tender in the matter who submits it, provided the specifications are met.

Paradoxical as it may seem, the system in the long run probably works to the benefit of local businessmen who may lose the occasional contract to a lower tenderer from outside. If all municipalities followed local businessmen (and such a practice by one community would undoubtedly lead to similar restrictive practices by others) many manufacturers would find their markets curtailed, in so far as municipalities are concerned, confined to the locality where their factories are sited. As matters stand, a manufacturer can tender anywhere and expect to find his tender accepted if it is the lowest, thus finding his market considerably. On balance, the present method seems fair, and encourages competition among manufacturers.

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

IF YOU EAT PROPERLY, YOU WON'T NEED A FOOD SUPPLEMENT

"Dear Dr. Molner: What is your opinion of the statement, 'Are you what you eat?' My sister believes strongly in curing neurosis symptoms by using (a food supplement), vitamins and religion.

She believes these will cure everything from neurosis to cancer. — A. F."

Just so we start on the right foot, I'll say that I approve of food supplements — if they are the ones you need; and I believe in vitamins, if you aren't getting enough; and I believe in religion — whether you need it or not!

The statement "you are what you eat" is correct, if you apply it properly. Big eaters are apt to be fat; poor eaters lean and perhaps weak, depending on how poor their eating is. Those who don't eat breakfast may suffer from fatigue and in-efficiency. Those with diets low overindulge in digestion in two words: Air Travel.

"To get rid of him, the Chairman of Directors all you must do is to insist that he attends plenty of international conferences. Let him pace far apart and to be reached at time only by the most rapid non-stop flights. It does not matter what the conferences are about. Strength for The Day

LOOK OUT, NOT IN

"I wish I could be like George," a student told me. "Everything he does turns out well, and everything I touch goes wrong. He has got somewhere, the only place I've got up is in trouble." He was in trouble at the time — serious trouble resulting from a thoughtless selfish act.

The boy was like a great many people. He was sorry for his fault, but thought always and only of himself. What he wanted, when he could help himself, was to get into pleasure. And it puzzled him that such constant trouble as his own desires somehow always left him in distress.

The Russian novelist Dostoyevski's great story "Crime and Punishment" tells of a proud, aloof, confused young man who killed two women and stole some money. Cut off from others by his terrible sense of guilt, he was the way to self-destruction. But a sympathetic girl understood his distressed family gave him, a new reason for living, and eventually he confessed his crime and is happy.

Self-centered people seldom have the right perspective to succeed. Only when they look about them to others' needs for others can they find their own real position. But they must first of all shoulder their burdens often find that their own burdens have miraculously lightened or even left.

Look in the mirror less, and out the window more!

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Biologists are capable of an eerie optimism. On a recent train trip across the continent, one of our fellow loungers in the club car was a distinguished French biologist. He had been in the politics, had been one of a team of international scientists studying the famines in China and India.

This fact naturally inspired me to question him about both the emergence of India and China as major powers in the political world, and the rise, all over the formerly subjugated earth, of millions of people liberated from death by means of modern techniques in medicine, industry and other aids to happy survival.

"The world," said one of us, "is getting better and better, it is people."

"No," said the French biologist mildly. "When you know the whole story of the earth, including historical life and life as it is revealed in fossils and other remote forms, you take consolation in the belief that in the past, no such forms of life have tried, or been moved to try, to take over the earth completely, in the fashion that our human species is n o w trying to do. But there are strange if for such species as get out of hand to attend to their own destruction. Maybe they consume themselves out of existence. Maybe they are so efficient in t h e environment that when the environment changes, they are helpless in the softness of complete efficiency. On the strength of past performance, I am perfectly confident that nature can handle our species quite effectively as she did our predecessors. Gentlemen, have nothing to fear. Nature will beat man in the long run."

There's optimism.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

NEW PATHS

I once read that Alexander wept over the fact there were no more worlds to conquer. That was long ago. Many a world has been conquered since! And each time new worlds have had to be made for us.

All over the world new paths are being made in new enterprises. New territory has been discovered. Old buildings have been torn down and new ones erected. The towering buildings in our largest cities are constantly being built. It has been said that the irregular streets of Boston w e r e once cow paths!

In the introduction to one of my books, William Allen White wrote this: "In no other country in the world is aspiration so definite a part of life as it is in America. The most precious gift God has given to this land and to its great riches of soil and forest and mine but the divine discontent planted deeply in the hearts of the American people."

And so here is the story of paths that have led all, over America, establishing the wide-open spaces into useful manufacturing plants, homes and cities. Paths are seen in places where once only paths existed.

We should fear to tread the new paths of others. Most of the old paths were once new ones. We should have the pride and be a welcomer of all paths that lead to improved and happier ways of life.

We should welcome, into our minds, new paths of living, inviting new enterprises and ideas. We should welcome change. Why shouldn't we do the same? William James once wrote: "The chief fault of liberalism is its great riches of soil and forest

Jap Oysters Are Sincere

Montreal Daily Star

It is impossible... to judge the fulness of heart of a clam, by viewing the outer envelope. Especially. Equally so, how can one assess the sincerity of an oyster? It is not given to men to be able to do so, though they, typically, won't tell.

The other day we came across a can of Nippon oysters. Interesting. With superb Oriental assurance it read that it was the greatest mission of Western methods. Not so in this particular. And the fact that they have discovered "most discrete oysters" ought to worry F.E.I. and B.C. fishermen no end.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

First Feature, Baby Show Given At 1908 Fair

The Fair of 1849 was reported in the paper for a number of teams of horses passing along Belleville streets with livestock. We know nothing of other attractions.

We know in 1894, in addition to the "Largest Cheese Exhibit in Canada" and the "Grand Parade of Prize Animals in the Ring" there were horse races, bicycle races, boat races and foot races. East Hastings Fair at Threshers Corners of the same year featured a day of horse races.

In 1897 the emphasis was on horse racing with three full days. The prize list of 72 pages would suggest a great variety of exhibits. A-half page is used as a directorate of the 23 hotels in Belleville, eighteen of which were on Front Street. Some of the 1897 classes are worth a mention, for example: "Thoroughbred, Shire and Suffolk Horses," "Durham," "Milch," "Grade" and "Fat" cattle. In the swine we seldom now hear of the "Suffolk," "Jersey Reds" and "Victorias." In the field crops, there are sections for White Oats and Black Oats and one for a Bale of Hops. In the domestic class there is a distinction in "Home made" and "Factory cloth." Butter was listed in "Firkins," "Rolls," "Prints" and "Tubs." In the Agricultural implements section a prize was offered for a "Stump and Stone Extractor." There were classes also for merchants, for manufacturers and sewing machines and for harness makers, and carriages.

FAIR HAD FEATURES

In 1908 the Board considered paying the "Kennedy Brothers" to give their entire performance in four times on the fairgrounds," in the same year the "Baby Show" is first mentioned in the minutes. The following year, 1909, the Board considered representatives from a New York show and appointed a committee to meet with other Fair representatives in Toronto to consider establishing a circuit of attraction. Later that year the minutes mention a "vote for $250 to settle all accounts." However, by the annual meeting in January, 1910, the books were cleared and the Fair reported a balance of $14.33 after total receipts of $1,-861.85. In 1910 there is the first mention in the minutes of the "Standing Field Crop Competition." The same year the attractions included, the artillery, a Punch and Judy show, the I.O.O.F. Band and a baseball game. Each year a motion is recorded, "to decorate the grounds at a cost not exceeding $10."

In 1912 the minutes carry the first reference to a Midway. In 1914 in February it was decided to try to bring "The Dragoon" to the Fair. Meetings were written that year and the Dragoons were finally secured for September 1st and 2nd and prizes were donated towards a sports program for them. An effort was made to have the toll on the bridge reduced for Fair time.

In 1916 we find a flat charge for automobiles, included with the admission prices for horse carriages. Children were charged 10c. A Wild West Show from Oklahoma was engaged for three days with street parades arranged for each day.

CONKLIN MIDWAY

In recent years the midway has been supplied by Conklin Shows. The paving inside the grounds was originally done and in return Conklin's received a contract guaranteeing them all concession rights on the grounds.

Three men in the foreground of the above picture once were the "big three" in Iraq. Today the fate of all three is obscure. Left to right are: Prince Abdul Ilah, Premier Nuri Said and King Faisal. Baghdad radio yesterday reported that Prince Ilah had been killed by a mob, but this was later denied. Premier Said was also rumored to have been slain by a mob, but today Baghdad radio reported that he was at large, with a price on his head. Then he was reported dead. No hint has been received as to the fate or whereabouts of King Faisal.

COMMITTEE WILL STUDY CN DEFICIT OF $55,000,000

Will Switch Whole System to Diesels

By JOHN LEBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — A Canadian National Railway budget forecasting a $55,000,000 deficit in 1958 for the publicly-owned road—largest in North America—is to be considered today by the Commons railway committee.

The budget—with a $15,000,000 adjustment forced on the company by new recommendations tabled in the Commons Monday.

The committee Monday night approved the CNR's 1957 report, that produced a deficit of $29,000,000, after hearing $75,000-a-year CNR President Donald Gordon make a wide-ranging review of company affairs that included:

1. The fact a commission ruled that the CNR can operate during a long-range period without overall deficits.

2. But first-quarter figures for 1958 show encouragement.

Mr. Gordon added, however, that, given intelligent acceptance by the public of the meaning of the CNR's expensive long-term plan for improving service, "we can stand on our own feet."

The program includes switching the whole CNR operation throughout the country to diesels and to more mechanization—both locally—of some small lines to effect economies. It has been under way for years.

Mr. Gordon was asked by Douglas Fisher (CCF — Port Arthur) what effect the increased use of diesels would have on railway communities, but the CNR chief said he could give no general answer.

However, he added that dislocations are inevitable if the company is to keep up with progress and run an efficient operation.

Mr. Gordon made points Monday during the committee's sessional review of the CNR's affairs:

1. He is concerned over the CNR's loss in passenger business and the company is thinking of reinvesting on transcontinental passenger traffic in favor of more lucrative intercity basis.

2. The CNR may go into the trucking business more intensively as a means of combatting road competition, but he preferred not to give details at the moment.

3. The CNR probably will ask Parliament to produce legislation making new railway employees subject to compulsory contributory pensions. Those now are optional.

4. The president declined to forecast what freight - rate increases will be needed to help recover any possible increase in operating expenses incurred by negotiations with the non-operating group of employees.

5. The railway company may have full diesel operations in effect by late 1960 or 1961, but the full benefits of expenditures it has made on diesels.

6. Only a relatively small proportion of the CNR's traffic should be lost as a result of the scheduled St. Lawrence Seaway opening next year.

"There is bound to be some in the first instance, but we don't expect to suffer much actual loss," Mr. Gordon told the committee.

Mr. Gordon said ship operators looking for cheaper rates are in for unpleasant surprises. Seaway labor costs may be high. And he told the committee the seaway at most would be a seasonal operation.

Fred Montgomery Pays for Murder Of Bank Manager

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (CP) — Fred Montgomery, 42, was hanged at 12:15 a.m. EDT on the third-floor gallows of the city jail for the gun-slaying of a Blind River bank manager last October.

Jail physician Dr. J. E. Timby pronounced him dead 15 minutes after the trap was sprung early today.

Witnesses at the hanging said he met death calmly and refused any spiritual advice. He talked only with Sheriff W. H. Birkett who said the condemned man referred to his son, Rodney, 17, just before his execution.

Rodney was convicted last May of murder of J. J. Walter Bridges, shot down during an abortive holdup attempt at the Royal Bank of Canada Blind River branch office.

COMMUTED SENTENCE

The jury had recommended mercy for the younger Montgomery and the cabinet commuted his death sentence last Friday. He was removed from the cell he shared with his father in Kingston penitentiary.

There was no mercy recommendation for the elder Montgomery when the death sentence was passed by Judge Lucien Beaudry last April 22.

Rain fell during the hanging and the crowd outside the jail was almost deserted. A police cruiser and a black station wagon stood outside the gates.

The father and son were brought to trial for the murder of the 39-year-old bank manager after an intensive province-wide search in which a $27,500 reward was posted for their arrest.

They were arrested last May 6 were arrested last November by RCMP in a Saskatchewan farm.

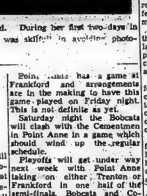
IDENTIFIED THEM

At least three persons identified the pair as they were seen in or leaving from the bank. Several other bank employees were unable to identify them.

Fred Montgomery testified in his own defence in an attempt to clear his son in the rifle-slaying. He said Rodney was waiting in the bush near Espanola, 20 miles west of Sudbury at the time of the attempted holdup. He added he had shot and killed Bridges.

Evidence at the eight-day trial showed the father and son obtained stolen clothing during an armed robbery of a clothing store in Timmins before they headed to Saskatchewan.

New Signal System for 71 Miles of Track



MONTREAL—Work will commence soon on installation of a centralized traffic control system on the Canadian National's 71 miles of single track of the Canadian National Railway main line between Ottawa and Montreal.

The new stretch, between Coteau, Que., and Hawthorne, Ontario, will be completed in 1959. The section between Ottawa and Hawthorne is already under centralized traffic control — completed by the C.T.C. — and an automatic block system operates between Hawthorne and Montreal and Coteau.

The use of C.T.C. permits a single line to handle almost double track capacity. It eliminates the necessity of telephone and train orders for the control of operations as signals and switches are operated automatically from the despatcher's office.

LIBERALS SUPPORT PROPOSALS OF FOWLER REPORT

Non-Permanent Board Is Denied

By BERNARD DUFRESNE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — The Liberal Opposition supports the Fowler royal commission's recommendation for a non-permanent 15-member board to regulate broadcasting in Canada.

Opposition Leader Pearson, expressing his party's views Monday night in the Commons, asked the government for a statement of policy to clear away what he described as uncertainties surrounding public and private broadcasting.

He presented a motion of non-confidence expressing regret that the government has not produced its proposals for regulating broadcasting and financing the publicly-owned CBC.

Mr. Pearson said establishment of a small permanent board to regulate broadcasting would be "a mistake" that would threaten the CBC, which needs to remain the driving force in national broadcasting.

H. W. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West), supporting the Liberal motion, added an amendment expressing regret that the government has not declared itself in support of expanding CBC radio and television services.

There was no immediate reply from the government, but Revenue Minister Nowlan, who reports to Parliament for the CBC, will possibly make a statement today.

LEGISLATION FORECAST

The government has forecast—without giving details — legislation to set up a board that would assume the regulatory powers of the CBC—should the free government interference but should be responsible to Parliament.

Mr. Herridge said the CCF regards the CBC as "a cultural ideal" against a U.S. monopoly of radio and TV broadcasting.

Liard Chevrier (L.—Montreal Laurier) said Canada's history shows that the country can build only by private enterprise and public ownership. In broadcasting the same pattern should be continued.

"We believe it is the only way we can have a nation," he said.

Ford Workers Taking Vote on Strike Action

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers big local at Ford company's River Rouge plant begins voting today on whether or not it is willing to authorize strike action if necessary in the union's labor contract talks.

Balloting among the 35,000 members in 17 units at the plant will take all week. Many have been laid off from work but they will be eligible to vote.

Hints of strike action came from UAW leaders Monday as bargaining talks were resumed with the big three car makers following a 13-day recess.

UAW Vice-President Leonard Woodcock, who heads the union bargaining team at General Motors, said no progress has been made in negotiations that started late in March.

UNION SEEKS DEADLINE

"Obviously we are not going to settle along without a deadline forever," Woodcock said. He said, however, the union had no definite date in mind.

Ken Bannon, the union's chief negotiator with Ford, hinted the union is getting ready for a strike if necessary when the companies start production of new models in August or September.

"We're taking a real look at the 1959 model changeover," Bannon said.

Bannon reported that Ford workers so far have voted 97 per cent in favor of authorizing strike action. The balloting at the Rouge plant virtually will complete the strike poll among Ford workers.

WORKERS FAVOR STRIKE

The UAW reported that the strike vote so far among General Motors workers has been 97 per cent in favor and among Chrysler corporation workers 95 per [illegible]. Company negotiators have said any prospect of an early settlement, of new contracts.

Ford, in its weekly newspaper, Rouge News, distributed among Rouge plant employees, said the UAW had set scaled down demands estimated by the company as representing a 76-cent-an-hour increase in labor costs. Auto workers now average $2.62 an hour, exclusive of fringe benefits.

The UAW scheduled bargaining talks again today with GM, Ford and Chrysler.

CANADIANS LOOK ON

Canadian locals of the UAW watched U.S. developments with interest.

UAW President Walter Reuther, in one of his rare visits to Windsor, said several months ago the Canadian locals were on their own as regards backing to the hilt by the union's $50,000,000 strike fund.

However, it is generally understood U.S. negotiations will determine the course of action in Canada.

To date, talks in Canada have been tentative as both parties watch the situation.

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. William G. Slade of Shelleyville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Joan Carolyn, to Robert Denis Chelew, son of Mrs. B. L. Chelew and Mr. A. C. Chelew. Marriage to take place on Saturday, August 9th, at 3.30 p.m. in Bridge Street United Church.

Pr. Ed-Belleville Club Enjoys Bus Tour

Last Wednesday, members of the Prince Edward - Belleville Club and several guests enjoyed an outing through Prince Edward County.

Leaving at 1.30 p.m. by chartered "Gray Coach" bus, the route chosen followed No. 14, turning at Carlton and winding around the high shore, through Demorestville, Northport, Solmesville, where all along the scenery is most enchanting.

Upon arrival at the Lake Ontario Cement plant, all were given a gracious welcome and divided into groups and taken by special cars on a conducted tour of every division.

The plant is the formal "work house" only a few weeks ago and already is making heavy daily outputs to many parts of Ontario.

Over 100 acres were bought and the vastness of operation is almost incomprehensible. It now works day and night, in shifts, employing over 300 men and women and every one a staff.

After an hour spent at the plant, the party visited Picton, by East Main Street, stopping at the beautiful little tourist park, and then to the harbor's edge, from which the wonderful view across the bay and east towards the Yacht Club grounds reminded one of "a little bit of Heaven".

Here at long tables the party enjoyed a basket picnic lunch, reluctantly after singing the theme hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

The trip home was by Bloomfield and Wellington, Robllin's Mills and Redners-ville. All along the fields were verdant, fine homes and lawns so well kept, the new cross - country highway winding gracefully up hills and through valleys.

It is regretted so many were unable to enjoy the outing. The club extends its thanks to Mr. Rawson for supplying a comfortable bus, and to the driver, Mr. Percy Lewington, for his safety assistance and efficient, safe driving.

N.Z. Looking For 20,000 Spinsters

By NORMAN WILLIAMS

WELLINGTON (Reuters)—New Zealand is looking for 20,000 spinsters to balance the 24-1 surplus of unmarried men.

Enormous expenditure on maternity projects and high prosperity thousands of unmarried men to N.Z. or New Zealand and was seriously disturbed the balance between bachelors and spinsters in a population of 2,100,000 people.

Dr. O. C. Mazengarb, an official of the New Zealand Founders' Society, blames the shortage of marriageable females on what he calls the foolish inflationary practices and lack of forethought in immigration. For the last 10 years, by direct and indirect inducements, an average of 10,000 more single men than women have been brought to New Zealand every year, he says.

SUPPLY DOWN

And that influx came on top of an already existing surplus of men, causing the supply of possible brides to become less and less every year.

Dr. Mazengarb believes that it is "sociologically wrong and economically unwise" to perpetuate a state of society in which there is a huge surplus of bachelors who are unable to find wives, and a large surplus of women, which receive payments from the social security fund.

There are 42,000 widows in the 35-to-70 age group and only about 12,000 widowers. And Dr. Mazengarb estimates that there are 50,000 more bachelors than spinsters.

Although the population of the country has doubled during the last 60 years, statistics show there are actually fewer spinsters in New Zealand today than there are at any time in the country's history.

In 1906, for instance, there were 53,000 spinsters (excluding Maoris), whereas now there are just over 38,000 including the Maori girls. At the last census, there were 7,500 fewer spinsters than there were in 1951.

In the early years of this century, when a vigorous policy of female immigration was being pursued, almost half of New Zealand's young women were "single" and, less than one-fifth are unmarried.

WEDDINGS

STEWART — SUTHERLAND

Christ Church Cathedral, Vancouver, on Saturday, July 5th, was the scene of the impressive and pretty wedding when Frances Ann Sutherland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sutherland of Almonte, Ont., and the Rev. Robert Henry Stewart, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Stewart of Belleville, Ont., were united in marriage by the Very Rev. Northcote Burke, Dean of the Cathedral.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was crowned in ivory peau-de-soie with yoke and lily-pointed sleeves of French lace. Her finger-tip veil of nylon tulle illusion was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white gardenias and stephanotis.

The maid of honor was Miss Marian Taylor, who wore apricot silk chiffon over iridescent taffeta with matching headdress and carried yellow roses.

The Rev. George Siegan acted as groomsman and the ushers were Mr. Chester Hanson and Mr. Tony Halsey.

For travelling the bride wore a dress of figured rose nylon over taffeta, with a veiled hat and white accessories.

The Rev. and Mrs. Stewart left on a trip through the Rockies and on their return will reside in Vancouver, where the bridegroom is assistant at Christ Church Cathedral.

McMURRAY — DEVOLIN

Before a lovely background of pink and white gladioli, snapdragons and chrysanthemums, interspersed with ferns, a very pretty wedding was solemnized recently in Trinity United Church, Bowmanville, Ontario, by the Reverend J. F. Lane, pastor of the church, when Betty May Devolin, of Maple Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Devolin, were united in marriage to John Arthur McMurray, of Queensboro, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McMurray, and the Reverend Z. V. C. Lewis assisted at the ceremony.

Mrs. Philip Smith, of Madoc, presided at the piano for the traditional wedding music, and accompanied the soloist, Mr. Jack McMurray of Gilmour, in his rendition of "O Perfect Love," before the ceremony and "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register.

The radiant bride, given in marriage by her father, Mr. Ernest Devolin, wore a charming ivory peau-de-soie gown of Chantilly lace in floor length, featuring a molded bodice having a moulded neckline and lily-pointed sleeves. The bouffant skirt was accordion-pleated into a full bell. Shoulder length veil of white tulle illusion was held in place by a crown-effect of organza roses and pearls and misty veiling and iridescent sequins, a chapel-length veil of silk tulle illusion fell. Her white Bible completed with pink roses and white, combud-knotted satin streamers.

The Misses Carol and Dorothy Devolin, sisters of the bride, as bridesmaids, were identically gowned in white, embossed organdy over pink and blue taffeta, with cummerbunds of matching taffeta, caught at the back with large bows. They wore matching headbands of nylon entwined with tiny, seed pearls. The former carried white 'mums centred in pink net and the latter, pink 'mums centred in blue net.

The little flower girl, four-year-old Annette Devolin, niece of the bride, wore yellow organdy and carried a basket of pansies and fern, with floral headdress of white roses centred with yellow.

Mr. Harold Harris, of Madoc, attended the bridegroom, while Mr. Jack Devolin, brother of the bride, and Mr. Donald Kennedy of Thomasburg, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the church parlor, where the guests were received by the bride's mother who wore lavender blue shantung with white accessories and corsage of pink rose. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, attired in navy flowered sheer with white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

For travelling in New York State, and through the Adirondack Mountains, the bride chose a turquoise sheath-style linen, with matching checked jacket, white accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Guests were present from Kapuskasing, North Bay, Belleville, Stirling, Picton, Marmora, Gilmour and Tweed.

ALLEN—MULRONEY

TWEED — St. Edmund's Roman Catholic Church, Tweed, was the scene of a lovely recent wedding when the Rev. C. E. Baker united in marriage Margaret Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Mulroney, Stoco, to Donald Joseph Allen, of Toronto, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Allen of Actonvale.

The bride has been on the staff of St. Michael's Hospital, Toronto, from where she graduated a few years ago.

Baskets and vases of snapdragons, white 'mums, ferns and peonies banked the altar for the occasion.

Miss Ciara Mulroney presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Fergus Cassidy who sang, "Ave Maria," "The Wedding Prayer," "Our Father," "Panis Angelicus" and "O, Sacrament Divine."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautifully gowned in a full-length wedding dress of white nylon embroidered organdy with chapel train and fingertip fitted bodice coming to a point in the front. The back featured a soft organdy bustle bow, the full skirt with a panel and full-length train. The high neckline was edged at the back. Her double face veil of tulle illusion, was gathered to a crown headdress, the embroidery on the veil matched that on the dress. She carried a white prayer book topped with red roses and forget-me-nots, showered and streamered knotted with rosebuds.

Miss Anne Lloyd, of Oshawa, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor in a princess-style dress of peach organdza. The necklline draped at the back into a shallow cowl and fell into a full-length panel. The half-crown headdress featured ruffled organdy matching shade and she carried a nosegay of "Talisman" roses, anemone 'mums with mint green streamers. The bridesmaids, Miss Noreen Mulroney of Toronto, sister of the bride, and Miss Irene Harris, Tweed, R.R. No. 1, N., of Toronto, were gowned in nile-green silk organza designed similar to the maid of honor. They carried nosegays of Talisman roses and white and peach 'mums.

Mr. Eugene Mulroney, brother of the bride, was groomsman, and Mr. Leo Mulroney and Mr. Robert Allen acted as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served in the Hotel Tweedsmuir in Tweed to 75 guests, and in the afternoon a reception was held at the bride's home in Stoco where the living room was decorated with pink and white streamers and bouquets of spring flowers. The guest of honor was presented with vases of vari-colored flowers.

Mrs. Mulroney received the guests in a sheath gown of beige lace over blue satin with white lace blue accessories. Her corsage was of pink and blue carnations. She was assisted by the bridegroom's mother in a floral green silk ensemble with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

The bride donned a powder-blue sheath ensemble with which she wore pink accessories and corsage of stephanotis, for the wedding trip to Cape Cod, Maine, New Brunswick, St. Anne de Beaupre, Quebec City and Montreal. The couple are now residing in Toronto.

Out-of-town guests were from Toronto, Chatham, Niagara-on-the-Lake, Kitchener, Oshawa, Bowmanville, Colborne, Kingston, St. Laurent, Que., Belleville, Newburgh and Stratford.

Bell Telephone Staff Honors Supervisor

Last Wednesday evening a farewell turkey dinner with 119 present was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church lower auditorium by the Bell Telephone employees in honor of Miss H. Irene Harris, who is retiring from the Bell Telephone Company after 42 years and seven months' service. When Miss Harris began her work as chief operator in 1915 the staff was composed of 35 members, and now numbers 110.

Mr. T. A. Davis, traffic superintendent, as master of ceremonies, read several telegrams from those not able to be present, and called on Mr. J. R. Mellon who spoke briefly, and Mr. Ron. Hanson, called on Mr. S. D. McMorran, area traffic manager, to present the "President's Wallet" on behalf of the company's president, Mr. T. W. Eadie, to Miss Harris. Mr. G. W. Proctor, local manager, made the presentation of a life membership certificate to the honored guest, as well as a beautiful gift of silverware on behalf of himself and Mrs. Proctor, in recognition of her 42 years' association with Miss Harris.

A diamond dinner ring was presented by Mrs. L. M. Storrs and Miss M. I. Ridley, on behalf of the staff and past and present associates in the company.

Following the presentations, the entertainment, under the direction of Mrs. M. Bakey, consisted of a sing-song with songs and words appropriate for the occasion; a piano solo by Lois Bradshaw; a monologue by Miss Jean Barry telling a friend over the telephone how to be popular and have personality; an hilarious skit by the Tobacco Road Tramp, consisting of Glenda Cooke, Cecil Dey, Anne Rooker, Pat McKay, Barbara Valleau, Jean Barry, Doreen Howard, Barbara Bradshaw and Merle Thompson. Miss Agnes Conrad was pianist for the "Tramps."

Mr. A. G. Austin, former owner of the Austin Telephone Co. of Wooler and Trenton, took several pictures of the gathering.

MOIRA W.I.

The Moira W.I. meeting was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. Thompson with an attendance of 11 members, eight visitors and 15 children.

The president, B. Holbert, opened the meeting. Some letters were read and some discussion took place regarding the place. Mrs. Roy Ketcheson and Mrs. May Collins were chosen to attend the course of rug-making at Stirling late this fall. Mrs. May Collins was appointed for public relations convener.

Mrs. Frank Emerson thanked the W.I. for the box of fruit sent during her stay at the hospital.

The meeting was then turned over to the convener, Mrs. Ron Ketcheson. The program was on "Home Economics." A reading by Mrs. G. Foster, "Beauty" a solo by Mrs. Angus Mumby, "Somewhere the Sun Is Shining" and a reading by Mrs. W. Farrel, "Ride of Green Pea."

The lesson was given by the guest speaker, Mrs. Albert Martin, on "Club Work," which was followed by Leslie and Susan Dey with "Home Economics." A reading by Mrs. Ken M. Thompson, "Fire Prevention" music by Mrs. Dave Mumby; a contest by Mrs. May Collins and a demonstration by Mrs. Angus Mumby, "How to Arrange A Party Lunch for Two."

After the meeting closed, refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

Many Enjoy Wesleyan D.V.B.S.

A most successful Daily Vacation Bible School ended on Friday at the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Everett Street.

A total enrollment of 88 interested and attentive youngsters participated in the memorization of Scripture, quizzes, singing, Bible stories and craft during the five days. The average attendance, each day, was slightly over 70.

A generous offering was raised on Tuesday for Miss Patsy Gerson, a young lady who has recently gone to Israel. Miss Riva Locklin, recently returned missionary from Israel, brought a special, illustrated message at that time. She too, will be returning to Israel in the near future.

The capable staff of instructresses included: Mrs. Ron Locklin, Mrs. Carl Green, Miss Helen Spearman and Mrs. Lorne Elliott. Craft Pre-schoolers: Miss Cheryl Hall. Miss Mary Spearman and Miss Eudora Denike.

Juniors: Miss Carol Woods, Miss Mary Simpson, Mrs. Walter Jewell; intermediate girls: Mrs. Harold Blakely, Mrs. Marcella Mills; intermediate boys: Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cummings.

Movies of the Bible Crusader Camp which many of the children will be attending in August were shown. This camp is situated on Silver Lake, Haliburton County. Each instructress felt well repaid when, at the end of the five day period, nine children had accepted Jesus Christ as their own personal Saviour.

Wesleyan Church Gives Farewell Party

On Friday evening over 100 friends from the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Everett Street, gathered at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Harold Blakely, R. R. 5, Belleville, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jewell and family, who are shortly leaving the city.

The spacious lawn was ideal for the occasion which was kept lively with chatting and reminiscence, while others chose to participate in a game of ball.

Mr. Floyd Cummings called the gathering to order and the Rev. J. S. A. Spearman, pastor of the church, read the address. In it, the pastor commended the popular young couple for being "examples of Christian living" and wished them, on behalf of the congregation, much success in the Christian ministry.

A 56 piece chest of 1847 Rogers and "Remembrance" patterns was then presentlied to Walter and Dorothy, while Leslie and Susan were each presented with a prayer plaque. A suitable reply was made by Walter, after which the gathering sang "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

Sunday School Picnic

POINT ANNE UNITED CHURCH S.S.

The annual picnic of the Point Anne United Church Sunday school was held at Cedardale Beach on Saturday afternoon. The large turnout was favored with ideal weather conditions and a full program was enjoyed, swimming, followed by a picnic supper, were enjoyed by everyone present.

The final score of the ball game was 4-3 with David Lloyd's team victorious over Larry Wade's nine.

Anne Zinkham, an office manager at Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island, is the federal transport department's only woman employee in the community. She is shown here at her desk, chatting with airport employee Charlie Sageak took. (CP Photo.)

Only Transport Dept. Woman at Frobisher Has Parka, No Sack

By CAROLYN WILLETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Husky dogs howl with the siren's wail to announce lunch each day for Anne Zinkham, an office manager in an Arctic community.

The Vancouver woman is the transport department's only woman employee at Frobisher Bay, Baffin Island airport 1,200 miles north of Ottawa.

Department officials here say that at the aviation crossroads you can count the number of white women — including employees' wives—on one hand.

UP TO INDIVIDUAL

But Miss Zinkham reports that no matter how you live, life turns out to be just as interesting as an individual makes it.

A woman in her 40s who joined the transport department in 1936, she finds there is plenty to do when office work is completed.

The locale on Baffin Island's southeast coast offers an unlimited outdoors for hiking and fishing or swinging a golf club on the tundra just to keep in practice.

Indoors there is bridge, a library, movies or the solitude of Miss Zinkham's own apartment and its record collection.

The department has about 60 employees at the airport and about 25 employees staff a United States airline's office.

Miss Zinkham says she took the northern post because of the career advancement it offered—along with an attractive salary plus northern allowance.

Airport business boom on Baffin Island. Four scheduled transatlantic flights are routed through Frobisher and several non-scheduled flights to other northern communities add to air traffic.

About 700 passengers now go through Frobisher each week and government officials have estimated that this month the passenger number may increase to 1,200.

Miss Zinkham finds little time to chat with airline passengers. But even at the busy airport she can go visiting beyond her own backyard.

Another part of the Frobisher Bay community lies at the end of a winding, three — mile road south from the airport—the northern affairs department townsite where the population includes about 40 men and women from southern Canada.

But working or relaxing, fashions aren't a problem at Frobisher, says Miss Zinkham. "Parkas are always in style."

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Sylvia T. —I can't deal with my husband's sons.

Matthew T. — She must use a firm hand.

Sylvia T. — I am trying my best to do the right thing in a situation I find very hard to handle.

My husband has two boys — 12 and 10 — by a previous marriage. He told me when we were married he feels they do not have the right environment with their mother and he wants me to help him provide them with something better when they visit us. We see them ev.. y weekend and for a month very summer.

The boys are very undisciplined and do not seem to know table manners, how to dress themselves decently or how to act nicely.

I tell them things, but they resent it very much and always tell me I'm not their mother. It is very hard for me when they come, and my husband makes it worse by criticizing everything I do.

* * *

Matthew T. — I have told the boys that when they visit us they must recognize that Sylvia is the boss and they are expected to obey her and behave themselves. I know she would do this if she would assert herself and use a firm hand with them. I've told her to smack them if they misbehave. It's the only way I know of dealing with wild kids their age.

Unfortunately, my first wife was never much of a homemaker. She'd rather see the place busted up than to take control of things. Naturally, the boys have no respect for nice things and don't know how to behave in a decent home. I just want them to have some manners.

Sylvia seems to be afraid my former wife will put up a squawk if she says too much to the boys, but I'm not worried. I can handle her.

* * *

The Council: Matthew has imposed a very heavy and unfair burden upon Sylvia.

It is natural for him to want his sons to get some of the advantages he feels they lack with their mother, but he is simply not in a position to supply these to a very great extent.

The best he and Sylvia can do is to present an example of good behavior. If the boys do not feel they are being criticized and disliked at every step, they may begin to try to fit into the general tone of their father's home.

Sylvia is in no position to exercise an overly firm hand w i t h these boys. If they dislike her, her position becomes virtually helpless.

It is not at all her business to "smack them if they misbehave." This would only create endless trouble, involving her relationship with them and their mother for a long time to come.

If Matthew wishes to maintain his relationship with his sons, he should decide to put up with a good deal. He should establish some minimum rules in his household and he should act as the arm of the law when necessary.

Then it will be his responsibility if the boys suddenly decide they want to skip their visits, or if there is some kickback from their mother.

Sylvia can do little more than play the gracious and thoughtful hostess. If the boys learn to like her, they may eventually try to please her by behaving in t h e manner they sense she would like.

Mrs. J. B. Hagerman took charge of the program, reading a "Recipe For A Home".

Mrs. Mowatt Sine read the Scripture, Acts 3:1-20, the meditation was given by Mrs. W. J. Johnston, followed by a prayer by Mrs. W. Wright. A duet by Marlene Holden and Judy Wickens, "Glory to God For the Sunshine Is Free," and a reading by Mrs. Ivan Surles; an instrumental by Jane Clements followed by a reading by Mrs. Stan Thompson, "Judge Not," were enjoyed.

The topic was given by Mrs. Frank McGee on "Diligence." Collection was $2.09.

Mrs. Bert Sine thanked the hostess, Mrs. Stan Thompson, and her assistants, for the successful afternoon spent together.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

SISTERS WED SAME DAY, DIFFERENT CHURCHES, DIFFERENT HOURS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. Our two daughters are to be married soon, both on the s a m e day, but in different churches and at different hours. We are not very well off, but each of our girls wants a nice, big wedding to remember, and we would like to give them this. The older girl is to be married in a Catholic church, at 9 A.M. The other is being married in a Protestant church, at 2 P.M. Each is to have six- attendants. The reception for the two couples will be held at 6 P.M. in a hall. Would you advise that we have separate bridal tables, one for each wedding party?

2. The priest and the minister are being invited. Who proposes the toast to the bride? Do t h e y propose one toast for both brides, or separate toasts? If separate toasts, is it proper to toast t h e older bride first?

3. At the 9 o'clock reception we will have a buffet supper. Is the proper procedure for the brides to sit at their tables and be served, or do they serve themselves as do the guests?

4. At an hour between the two weddings we will have a luncheon in our home, for the parents, both wedding parties, and the families of the brides and grooms. Would it be proper for the older girl (to be married at 9 A.M.) to remove her bridal veil and wear her wedding dress to her sister's wedding and then replace the veil for the reception — or should she change to a different costume to wear to her sister's wedding? — E.

What a wonderful and memorable Wedding Day you and your two daughters are so lovingly planning for your daughters! How proud they must be of their mother and father.

1. I must enthusiastically advise that you have a bridal table for each bride and the members of her wedding party. This is most important, and important too is that each bride have a wedding cake for the couple to cut.

2. The first toast, proposed by either the priest or minister (as the bride decides this), is to the older bride, married at the morning ceremony. Then either t h e clergyman or the best man proposes the toast to the other bride.

3. If possible, each couple a n d their attendants should be served at their tables. This would mean more gracious service, more dignified and less confusing than if those at these two important tables went to the buffet to serve themselves.

4. I definitely approve of your first suggestion . . . that the older bride remove her bridal veil and to her sister's wedding wear her wedding dress (perhaps with a very small flat white hat or simple wreath of tiny white flowers). Then at the reception she too, like the other bride, would wear her bridal veil.

Home Freezing Fruits and Vegetables

by Mary Moore

Before I go off on a windy tangent about preparing the new crops of fruits and vegetables for your freezer, I want to make one thing clear: A free bulletin entitled "Freezing Foods" . (Publication 522) is available from Information Service, Canadian Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. Write for it. You will find it indispensable during the summer and fall as you stock your freezer with foods as they come in season.

PACKAGING

Use any of the following for fruits and vegetables: 1) Rectangular freezer cartons with moisture - vapor - resistant lining— for dry pack. 2) Freezer bags — for dry pack. 3) Heavily - waxed cylindrical freezer cartons with slip-over or slip-in lids — for any type pack. 4). Glass jars — for any type of pack. 5). Freezer wrappings — usually for corn (on cob), asparagus, green pepper and rhubarb, if desired.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

TUESDAY

Barbecued Meat Balls; Mashed Potatoes; Frenched Green Beans; Jellied Fruit Salad with Sweet Cream Dressing; Sandwich Date Cookies; Coffee.

To freeze cherries choose firm, ripe cherries. Wash, stem and pit. Pack in dry sugar, using 3 pounds prepared fruit (about 8 cups) to one pound of sugar (2 cups). Or pack in cold, heavy syrup to cover; (1 cup sugar, 3-4 cup water.)

To freeze raspberries choose firm, fully ripe berries. Pick over and wash if necessary. Pack in dry sugar, using 5 lbs. prepared fruit, (about 16 cups) to one pound sugar (2 cups). Or pack in cold, thin syrup to cover (1 cup sugar, 2 cups water).

BLANCHING

All vegetables must be blanched before freezing. Use 2 kettles of vigorously boiling water — at least 2 gallons in each. Place the vegetables in a wire basket, colander or cheesecloth bag and immerse in first kettle of boiling water for 30 seconds, immediately transfer to second kettle. Start counting time of blanching when water in second kettle returns to boil after vegetable has been added. Time the blanching of all vegetables accurately. Do not blanch too much at a time — about one pound is best. Chill vegetable immediately after blanching by placing under cold running water or by plunging into cold water, preferably ice water. As soon as vegetable is cooled, drain thoroughly.

To freeze peas select young, tender peas. Blanch (as above) 2 minutes. Chill quickly, drain. Pack dry.

To freeze beans (green or wax) select young tender beans. Wash and trim ends and string, if necessary. Leave whole, slice crosswise or cut lengthwise in thin strips, Blanch (as above) 3 minutes. Chill quickly, drain. Pack dry.

Pincher Creek in Cradle Of Canada's Beef Country Now Booming Gas City

By RICHARD ANCO
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PINCHER CREEK, Alta. (CP) —This town, in the cradle of Canada's beef country, is one of contrasts where yesterday and today shoulders on the main street.

It has the weathered features of a typical western cowboy town, but while its citizens relish the past they look to the future. The modern has rolled in fast, on the heels of a booming livestock business and discovery of natural gas southeast of here.

New cars mash years old crooked, dusty streets and scores of trailers have clustered about the outskirts as construction and gas workers swarm into town. While television aerials poke into the prairie sky above, Indians can be seen lolling in doorways and cowboys roam the sidewalks.

IN FOOTHILLS VALLEY

Once a Northwest Mounted Police outpost where oats and hay were stored, Pincher Creek lies in a valley in the rolling foothills of southwestern Alberta, 110 miles south of Calgary and 30 miles west of Lethbridge.

The open range now is laced with barbed wire, but this town still is at the heart of some of the richest cattle land in Canada. Throughout the area huge trailer trucks roll to stockyards where they empty howling cargoes down wooden chutes into pens.

There is a newer spectacle, though, about 18 miles southeast of here where a $20,000,000 sulphur - extracting plant is being built by British-American Oil Co. Ltd. in September it will supply Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd. with natural gas up to 100,000,000 cubic feet a day.

Manager Cliff Stewart says more than 700 construction men have worked on the plant. They are the men crowding into Pincher.

CATTLE EXPORTS BOOM

The cattle business has taken a spectacular upswing in the last year, with American exports accounting for practically all of the gain. In the first four months of 1958, Canadian cattle exports amounted to $28,859,000 compared with $2,788,000 in the corresponding period last year.

Walter Upton, secretary of Community Auction Sales Ltd., says 23,711 head of cattle and 56 horses sold in this area last year for $2,350,894. In the previous year, 32,000 cattle and 132 horses brought $2,311,680.

Implications of Iraq Crisis Both Grave, Far-Reaching

By KEN METHERAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The implications for the Western world of the Iraq crisis are both grave and far-reaching.

Iraq has been one of the foundation stones on which Britain in particular and the West in general have built their Middle Eastern policy. It is the keystone of the Baghdad Pact, a major source of oil and the last Arab power that has remained outspokenly friendly to the West.

Iraq's government has been the focal point of resistance to Nasser's Arab nationalist movement and the tottering regimes of Camille Chamoun in Lebanon and King Hussein of Jordan can scarcely hope to survive it for long without the large-scale military intervention that the West has sought to avoid.

PACT UNPOPULAR

The memory of Suez underlines the risks involved in military intervention. Besides it is questionable whether any Arab government could hope to command popular support if it were forced to rely on Western troops to stay in power.

The government of Nuri Said is a case in point. Although its rule was frankly authoritarian, it had brought relative prosperity to Iraq and owed its unpopularity almost entirely to the premier's steadfast support of the Baghdad Pact.

The Iraqi revolt gives added emphasis to recent demands in Western capitals for drastic reappraisal of the West's policies in the Middle East.

The Baghdad Pact, which sought to align the Arab Moslem powers with Britain in an anti-Communist alliance already threatened by Soviet penetration through economic aggrements here in the United Arab Republic. If the Iraqi rebels take the country into Nasser's bloc, the pact becomes a dead letter.

For the West, the sole alternative to an attempt to recongner the entire Arabian peninsula by force of arms is recognition that Arab nationalism has come to stay in the Middle East, that Nasser is its chosen leader and that failure to come to terms with him will force him to strengthen his ties with the Soviet Union.

One of the hopeful developments in the confused Middle East picture in recent months has been the indication that Nasser is determined to maintain a neutral position in the general tug-of-war between the West and the Communist bloc. He has been as ruthless in his attacks on Syrian Communists as on those of Western "imperialists" and has gone out of his way to cement his ties with Yugoslavia, the neutralist anti-Soviet President Tito.

The advocates of a deal with Nasser argued that a compromise can be found enabling the West to honor its obligations to Israel and to the Arab sheikhdoms remaining under British protection such as Bahrein, Kuwait and the other trucial territories in the Aden area.

Any implementation of such a policy must await clarification of the confused situation in the peninsula.

TALK OVER LIMITS

THE HAGUE (Reuters)—Fishing-boat owners from nine European nations began talks in private here Monday on Iceland's decision to extend its territorial waters to 12 miles from four miles Sept. 1. Britain has rejected the new limits and said she will protect her trawlers fishing outside the old limits.

"MERMAID HUNTER" AT 79

Leo Voss, 79, self-styled citizen of the world, made the ores of his boat, "Mermaid Hunter," in Long Island Sound, after rowing down from Springfield, Mass. Voss said he lost his wife in the 1912 Titanic disaster and has been hunting unsuccessfully for a perfect mate ever since—hence the name of his odd craft. .

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

— The grapevine has it that the Casey Stengels of the Belleville District Softball League have for some time been in the throes of a noggin-scratching orgy and it isn't dandruff that's the cause.

For according to an Ontario Amateur Softball Association edict all eligible players must have their John Hancocks on the dotted line of official certificates, and the documents in the mail to the secretary by midnight tonight.

There isn't much to pick and choose, but the rumor persists that there has been a lot of mental jockeying going on by the master-minds to decide who weighs, and who gets who with regard to ultimate OASA playdown capers.

Only one thing is sure at this time of writing. That is that for the first time since the inception of the classification, the Point Anne Cementmen will not be represented in the OASA intermediate industrial division. For the first time in three seasons the Ox Pointers cannot meet the OASA regulation which calls for 100 per cent plant-employed players on the team roster.

The Cementmen have an enviable record as far as this category is concerned. They won the handsome Canada Cement Company Trophy in the first year of competition and repeated the next season. Last year they went to the finals but were defeated by the powerful Windsor Duplates.

The Pointers instead will concentrate their championship activities on the district league title and the OASA intermediate "A" division. They have the district league leadership cinched with a 13-3 record and three games to play.

Counting last night's game there were six postponed fixtures remaining after the schedule was completed. Point Anne has four, Frankford three, Trenton two and Colborne one meeting Tompkin's Trubloc to which they their scheduled battles.

The executive of the league which has done a fine job in its first year of operation thus far, can enhance its reputation and order and insist that the postponed games be played as soon as possible and wipe the schedule slate clean one-and-all for 1958.

They can go even farther and establish a district league precedent by ordering the league playoffs to start immediately following the establishment of final standings. He finished in 1-hour, 32 minutes and 45 seconds to win the first prize of $5,000.

This was a battle between old pros in the swimming business. Cliff Lumsden of Toronto finished second to Park in a continuation of a rivalry that has been going on for years.

Park's victory definitely gives him the edge in this swim. But Lumsden is the first person to swim Juan de Fuca Strait from the Canadian to the American side, considered the toughest way. He won the Canadian National Exhibition marathon five times as well as the Atlantic City swim in 1956.

ONE HIS FIFTH TRY

Park, in the Atlantic City swim for the first time, won in 1954 and in 1955. He was strongly ahead in this race of 1-mmdon who had a time of 1-hour, nine minutes over the course of 26¼ miles completed with his championship time of 9 hours and 51 minutes in 1956 over a shorter course.

It was a thrilling race in that Park is a former resident of Hamilton. Park, 34, now from Bellflower, Calif., said before the race that his chief opponent would be Lumsden. He lost the 1956 Atlantic City marathon by a single stroke to Lumsden.

Lumsden and Park walked straight from the Atlantic swell and posed for photographers.

Lumsden, 37, pocketed $1,800 in prize money and bonuses.

Athletes Sweat Out Grind Before Start of Empire Games

By STEWART MACLEOD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

CARDIFF (CP) — Commonwealth athletes sweated through their stiffest workout in four days of as warm sunshine ushered in British Empire Games Week.

Bogged down by rain since Friday, the athletes galloped into the sun Monday and knocked off their weekend kinks in the last phase of training.

All the activity wasn't confined to Wales. In London Dr. Roger Bannister, first man to break the four-minute mile, started off from Buckingham Palace, with the Queen's message to be read at the official opening Friday by her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Bannister, one of 864 runners in the four-day relay, trotted the first mile and got an official greeting from George Drew, Canada's high commissioner in London, whose country was host for the 1954 Games.

While the Queen's message is expected to reach here in time for the 6.30 p.m. official opening Friday, it will still be behind some of the events. Because of a record entry of nearly 1,100 athletes from 37 countries, all the competitions cannot be squeezed in during the scheduled eight days. So the Games Federation has decided on elimination heats for the men's 440 and 100-yard races Thursday afternoon.

This year's total entry is about 300 more than were in the 1954 Games at Vancouver and about 600 more than in the 1950 Games at Auckland, N.Z.

Various team officials have complained about the new system of trimming down competitors before the Games open. They don't think it's fair for athletes to qualify for the Games and then be put out before the official opening.

On the training grounds Monday, the brick-red sweat suits of the Canadians were to be seen moving swiftly around the track with the green outfits of Australians, Welshmen and Pakistanis. The heavy dark athletes from Ghana, Uganda and Nigeria were with them.

General manager Bob Osborne of the Canadian team said his athletes all are in top shape except fencer Leslie Kraus of Montreal, who is recovering from a mild heart attack and has been withdrawn from the Games. Said Osborne: "Everything appears to be going well."

The Games Federation will meet Wednesday to decide how many runners will be pared from the roster. In Thursday's preliminaries, most observers expect the 100-yard field will be reduced to 36 from 83 and that 13 will be eliminated from the 49 who have entered the 440-yard dash.

It is obvious in Empire Village that all other teams regard the Aussies as the athletes to beat.

England won the 1954 Games with 23 gold medals and an unofficial 197 points. Australia got 20 medals and 147 points and Canada nine medals and 131 points.

Americans in Clean Sweep Of First Davis Cup Round

By WILF GRUBON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — The group of young players who made up the United States' Davis Cup team against Canada privately U.S. tennis officials with a solid core on which to base their selections when they name their team for the next round.

The team that disposed of Canada 5-0 Monday justified the confidence placed in it. The U.S. Davis Cup committee gambled with a virtually untested team and the squad showed that the fears it might be beaten were groundless.

The four-man team, which rang up the U.S.' 12th victory over Canada without a defeat in Davis Cup play and the 46th by a clean sweep, earned serious consideration for inclusion on the squad that will meet Argentina or Italy next year. These two countries play in the other semi-final round of the North American Zone competition with the winner of the zone final meeting Australia for European champion.

Big Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, the key man on the U.S. team that Canadian captain Lorne Main described as the weakest in 30 years, and young Jack Douglas of Santa Monica, Calif., Monday wrapped up the wins in the two concluding singles against Canada. MacKay defeated Paul Willey of Vancouver 6-8, 6-2, 13-10, 7-5 and Douglas, 21, former Stanford University star, defeated Bill Breezo to a 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 6-1 decision over Don Fontana of Toronto.

BREAKS HIS SERVICE

Willey, the mild-mannig Canadian, broke MacKay's service in the 14th game of the first set for Canada's first set win and came close to winning the long third set. Fontana, Toronto's No. 3 player, also got a set in his match against the unranked Douglas.

The U.S. shutout win was a disappointment to Canada. The fifth-ranked MacKay beat Fontana in straight sets Thursday and Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., No. 6 in the U.S., did the same thing Friday in downing ex-Canadian champion Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que. MacKay and Sam Giammalva of Houston, Texas, combined for another straight-set win Saturday over Bedard and Fontana in the doubles Saturday.

Willey, whose blasting first service gained him several aces, tried valiantly in his 1958 Davis Cup feat when he beat MacKay in four sets after the U.S. clinched the round. He was unable to crack MacKay's serve after his one service break in the first set.

Plane Construction scored an 8-1 victory over Mead Johnson last night in a City Commercial softball league fixture.

Art Culleton pitched three-hit ball for the winners, fanning nine while issuing six free passes. "Bunk" Young toed the rubber for Meads, allowing five hits, whiffing five and passing four.

"Shorty" Miller and Art Culleton sparked the Construction crew at the plate, each with a home run.

The winners were charged with one error, while Meads committed three.

In an exhibition game played at Frankford last night, the Sports Centre of the Commercial League whipped the Frankford Juvenile OASA team by a 17-3 score.

Canada Named To Lead Games Parade

CARDIFF (CP) — The first athlete to appear in Cardiff Arms Park for the official opening of the British Empire Games next Friday will be Tony Clement, Vancouver middle-distance runner and a veteran of three previous international competitions.

The honor fell to Clement, captain of Canada's track and field squad, when he drew the number one position of the Canadian flag in the official opening parade. As host of the last Games at Vancouver in 1954, Canada has been granted pride of place in the ceremony.

Clement, 24-year-old medical student at the University of British Columbia represented Canada at the 1954 Empire Games and at the 1956 and 1952 Olympics.

Park Wins Atlantic Swim Well in Front of Lumsdon

ATLANTIC CITY (CP)—Tom Park, slid through turbulent waters like a slippery seal Monday to win the Atlantic City marathon for a record third time.

Park stroked through a blinding rainstorm and a crashing electric storm at the beginning of the race without any outward sign of dismay. He finished in 11 hours, 32 minutes and 45 seconds to win the first prize of $5,000.

This was a battle between old pros in the swimming business. Cliff Lumsdon of Toronto finished second to Park in a continuation of a rivalry that has been going on for years.

Park's victory definitely gives him the edge in this swim. But Lumsdon was the first person to swim Juan de Fuca Strait from the Canadian to the American side, considered the toughest way. He won the Canadian National Exhibition marathon five times as well as the Atlantic City swim in 1956.

FOR HIS FIFTH TRY

Park, in the Atlantic City swim for the fifth year, won in 1954 and in 1955. He was strongly ahead in this' race in Lumsdon who had a time of 13 hours, nine minutes and two seconds—or 56% miles compared with his championship time of 9 hours and 51 minutes in 1956 over a shorter course.

It was a Canadian race in that Park is a former resident of Hamilton, Ont., now from Bellflower, Calif., said before the race that his chief opponent would be Lumsdon, 27. He lost the 1956 Atlantic City marathon by a single stroke to Lumsdon.

Lumsdon, 27, pocketed $1,600 in prize money for second.

Park said the 60-degree water made this the coldest swim she has been in. But the stomach ulcer which forced him out of action after a race in Mexico earlier this year gave him no trouble, he added.

Denmark's Greta Andersen, now an American citizen living in California, showed her usual powerful performance in placing third and winning $1,300. She had beaten Park and Lumsdon earlier this year.

MONTREALER FINISHES

It was in the same field that Canada again scored, when Alexa Kees of Montreal, who is only 16, managed to finish in the time of 13 hours, 59 minutes, 46 seconds.

Aloma, who gave much of the credit for her performance to her coach Lou Miller, astonished the spectators with her prowess over the course which extends through Atlantic swells and in Back Bay waters around Absecon Island.

Canada's other female entry the school teacher Muriel Ferguson of Toronto was forced to drop out some five hours after the race began.

Al Balding Takes Last Nine To Win Ontario Pro Title

TORONTO (CP) — Touring pro Balding of Markham watched N1-year-old assistant and then ...redecided Miss Norman Hall ...ly leads in the Ontario Professional Golfers Association ...ampionat Monday. Then ...ut on the pressure during the ...ng nine holes to score 134 and win $1,000 first prize.

Henry McIlree, a Belfast native who has been in Canada two years and is assistant at Dundas Valley, finished early with 67-68—135 over the par-71 Toronto Forest Hills course.

Toronto de Havilland's Norman, playing in the second-to-last foursome, slipped into the lead when he followed a 68 with a 67 for a 136 total.

But Balding, one of the 10 leading money-winners on the United States tournament circuit this year, came up with six birdies on the last nine holes to score 67-67.

Balding also received the Dow-Brunswick trophy for finishing first in the $3,500 tournament. Norman received $50 and McIlree $600.

Only 11 others in the field of 85 managed to play or better par 142 over two rounds of the 6,081-yard course.

George Knudson of Toronto Oakdale had 136 and Bill Mawhinney of Burlington, playing in his first tournament this year, had 138.

Bracketed at 140 were defending champion Murray Tucker of Toronto Thistle, Bob Gray of Toronto Scarboro, Jerry Magee of Toronto Maple Downs and Joe Noble of Toronto Thorhill.

TIED AT 141

Lloyd Tucker of Kitchener Rockway shot 69 and Bruce Hilkrop of Brantford, Gerry Keselering of Hillcrest Kitchener, Hal Butler of Oshawa and Bill Kozak, formerly of St. Catharines, also had 141.

Balding bogied one hole in each nine but also had 12 birdies. He said he became fit on the sixth hole of the second round with a peculiar stomach ailment he been bothering him lately.

"I can always tell when it's coming on. It feels like a big lump over my heart, a kind of double beat, there's no pain but I can feel the pressure building up. I just walk away and take it easy when I feel it."

Norman probably lost on the par-five 13th hole when he went two over the par-four 11th. A 265-yard drive left him with the green with his tee shot and landed in a creek, taking two shots to get out. He had par on the other bogey in the 36 holes.

Other scores included:

Peter Hutchinson, St. Catharines 142.

Al Burns, Cherry Hill 77-72—149

George Lee, Peterborough 81-70—151

Peter Kuzmich, Iroquois Falls 76-75—151

George Balazs, Belleville 80-77—157

Bill Burrow, Couchiching 78-74—152

Mario Costello, Guelph 79-73—152

Vic Whibley, Cutten 80-76—156

Ron Rayner, St. Catharines 79-77—156

Durelle Rated 9-5 Favorite Over South African Fighter

MONTREAL (CP) — A basic idea in physics indicates it shouldn't take the scheduled 12 rounds for a victory to emerge in the British Empire title bout between Durelle of Baie St. Anne, N.B., and South Africa's Mike Holt Wednesday night.

Durelle and the challenger are both considered strong punchers. Both like to dance in and slug it out.

Theoretically, someone has to give—at least that's what physics says about immovable objects and irresistible forces. Plain analysis figure this should happen in the middle rounds.

Either or both fighters could change their styles, of course, and stretch out to bout the prefight word says this isn't likely.

WILL WADE IN

Durelle, a ponderously slow mover even for a light heavyweight, said he will try to box his more stylish opponent in the early rounds.

"I'll see how boxing him works out at the start. If he proves too much for me, then I'll have to wade in and slug it out with him."

Piet Lourens, Holt's manager, welcomed the news of Durelle's fight plan. He thought Holt would take the fight no, matter what Durelle tried.

Early betting has established the Empire Canadian fisherman as 9 to 5 favorite. But some observers have gained a healthy respect for Holt since the South African started training here last week and the odds are expected to narrow before fight time—possibly to 7½ to 5.

Both boys are hoping a triumph will earn a shot at Archie Moore's middleweight title. Durelle said he planned to retire if he can't get Moore "within one or two fights" should he bow Holt.

"I've been getting battered around in rings for 13 years," said Durelle. "I'm not getting any younger. I'd like to go out as a world champion but if I don't get a crack at Moore I'm not going to bother with the game anymore."

NOT TITLE BOUT

Durelle's Canadian light-heavyweight crown and Holt's South African title, in the same weight division, won't be at stake Wednesday. Durelle is expected to enter the ring at 174 pounds, at least one - and - a - half - pounds heavier that Holt.

The bout is being televised from the Montreal Forum on lucrative TV networks in Canada and the United States. The Montreal and Sherbrooke areas are to be blacked out on the Canadian system but fight fans in these regions will be able to catch the bout on United States channels near the Canadian border.

Promoter Eddie Quinn is staging the bout in conjunction with the International Boxing Club. It is the first British Empire title fight to be held in Canada.

BACK WITH TIGATS

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Big Four Football Union have announced the signing of offensive and defensive end Paul Dekker, six feet, three inches tall and 215 pounds. Last year Dekker caught passes for a total of 476 yards.

Trials Halted, No Breeze

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Sailboat breeze Monday thwarted for the second consecutive day attempts to sail trials that will select a U.S. defender in the America's Cup.

The four 12-metre candidates—Vim, Columbia, Weatherly and Easterner—made it out to the starting area but afterward ran against a light southeasterner in the Newport Bay and hardly had begun the run home before the breeze petered out. The breeze varied in force from three to zero knots.

A dark fog and rain accompanied the departure of the wind, obscuring the yachts on the second leg of the triangular windward-leeward course. Time ran out before it finished although Columbia was closest to home.

Billy Ship To Join Argos

MONTREAL (CP) — One infport lineman is to rejoin the Montreal Alouettes training camp for a tryout today, another one may not turn up.

Coming in is Big Billy Ship a veteran of Big Four Football League action with Montreal and Calgary Stampeders earlier this year. Ship went with Montreal last season but was plagued by injuries and saw little action.

Dick Huffman, for many years an outstanding guard in the Western Interprovincial League, hasn't known up yet and there's no indication he intends to. Huffman was obtained by Montreal from Calgary Stampeders earlier this year in a trade.

Two minor casualties developed at the Als training camp—centre Tom Hugo broke a thumb and quarterback Sam (The Rifle) Etcheverry took a couple of days off with a cartilage removed from his neck. Hugo, his thumb in a cast, is expected to rejoin the team shortly.

Will Televise 20 NHL Games

MONTREAL (CP) — The National Hockey League Monday announced a contract has been signed with the Columbia Broadcasting System to televise 20 NHL games on the national U.S. network during the 1958-59 season.

It is the third agreement between CBS and the NHL. The network carried 20 games the first year and 21 last year. The terms of the new contract were not disclosed. All 11 teams are involved since the only one of the six NHL clubs not scheduled for CBS appearances is the Canadian club, the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens, to be shown on televised dates, Nov. 15 at Chicago and Feb. 14 at Boston.

On the Tracks

TORONTO (CP) — The Ontario Jockey Club's 14-day experiment of operating concurrently thoroughbred racing at New Woodbine and harness racing at Old Woodbine ended Saturday with total drew of 1,111,868.

The handle for all nights of harness racing was $1,117,859, an average of $101,606 a night. During the same period last year the average handle was $124,023, or about $22,400 more a night.

The over-all handle at New Woodbine was $6,000,000. Last year's $16,000,000 but for the 11 days opposite harness racing betting was down $400,000. The total stayed up because of some exceptional days at the start of the meeting.

Senior Lacrosse

PETERSBOROUGH (CP)—Wellend-Crowland Switlaces increased their Ontario Lacrosse Association lead Monday night defeating Orillia Terriers 12-4.

It was Welland's 13th win in 14 games this season.

Ted Howe paced the victors with three goals. Doug Smith fired two. Don O'Brien, Joe Mirotello, Gary Carr, Don Baker, Dave Hall, Les Howard and Brian Woods all got singles.

Larry Ferguson, the league's top scorer, fired in three goals for the Petes. Singles were scored by Ken Ruiter, Paul Farrell and Curly Mason.

TAKES DECISION

ENTERS CANADIAN OPEN

MONTREAL (CP) — Tommy (Thunder) Bolt, winner of the United States Open this year, has entered the $25,000 Canadian Open. Bolt, recently was fined $500 and is still under probation for walking out of a tournament in the United States. The Canadian Open will be held in Edmonton next month.

TO PITCH FOR BOSTON

PENTICTON, B.C. (CP)—Ted Bowsfield of Penticton has been called up from Minneapolis Millers of the American Association to pitch for Boston Red Sox of the American League. Ted has an 8-4 record with Millers.

Chavez Ravine Ruled Illegal For Ball Stadium

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To the delight of every lefthanded swinger in the National League (pitchers are screaming), the right-field fence in Los Angeles Coliseum will be shortened next season.

President Walter O'Malley of Los Angeles Dodgers made the announcement Monday after his club's contract for a stadium site in Chavez Ravine was ruled illegal in court.

"I think we will do that," O'Malley said. "Yes, we will shorten it. Mr. (Duke) Snider feels that it was unwise (to have it set so far) and I tend to agree with him."

The fence joins the stands around the right-field foul pole, 301 feet from home plate. The barrier then back swiftly in a distance of 300 feet and is 430 feet from home at one point in right-centre.

Snider, a left-field screen, only 250 feet from home plate?

Unfortunately, it doesn't look as nothing can be done about that.

PLANS CLOUDED

The court decision clouded O'Malley's plans for a $13,000,000 Chavez Ravine ball park for his Dodgers.

Superior Judge Arnold Pregerson, ruling in a taxpayers' suit, held invalid the contract under which the city would give the ball club land for a baseball park. The court issued a permanent injunction prohibiting the city from carrying out terms of an ordinance covering the contract.

Thus the Dodgers' fodgerd future again is a question mark. The decision is the latest in a series of hurdles the club has faced in its path toward a permanent park in the new Los Angeles home.

The voters approved the controversial contract last June.

It now seems certain there will be a lengthy period of legislation before O'Malley will know for certain whether he is in or out of the baseball picture site, only a mile from Civic Centre.

Says Americans Will Whip Russ In Moscow

NEW YORK (AP) — The head coach of the United States team predicted Monday his men will whip strings attached—that his squad will defeat Russia when the world's best track and field powers clash July 27-29 in Moscow.

"It probably will be close," said George Eastment, a professor of business law at Manhattan College when he isn't coaching Jasper Jaguars' track team. "But I definitely will win. We have a fine team.

"We know we have a lot of work in store for us, and the rest of the squad will keep the pace to go through two workouts a day to get in tip-top shape. Two weeks before we will leave Russia the winners."

Harness Racing

MONTREAL (CP) — Greedy Creed, a six-year-old black horse, Monday night won the featured mile pace at Blue Bonnets Raceway for a $2,500 purse.

Driven by Clarence Brook, the Somerset, Ind., horse finished in 2:05 3-5. Spruce Up from Kentucky, ridden by Bill Gilmour and Worthy Melody was third.

Greedy Creed also captured three pacing events.

Peggy Chief 07, from Ernex, won a $1,200 C pace. Time for the mile was 2:04.

The other Ontario winners were Ace Hanover, $600, Betty Hal in 2:12 3-5 to take the other.

OTTAWA (CP)—Brucitas Day, from Iroquois, Ont., won the Ladies' Purse feature race at Connaught Park Raceway Monday night.

Driven by Vic Lutman, the Iroquois trotter covered the mile course in 2:17 1-5 seconds.

Second was Pastime Girl, of Smiths Falls, Ont., driven by Hunter Grant, and Della Dale of Ottawa third.

Trae Pal from Cornwall and Charles Dillard from Renfrew won the two races with identical mile times of 2:22. Angusmor from Hanover also captured a D pace stepping the mile in 2:18 3-5. Golden Song from Morrisburg won a D trot with a 2:20 mile.

Television Is Not Show Biz But a 'Freebie' Says Writer

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — "Television is not show business," said Robert Paul Smith thoughtfully. "It's a freebie."

Smith, who writes best-selling books and hit Broadway shows, has put movies and TV scrutiny shows, put his feet up on the typewriter and continued:

"Show business is the legitimate theatre, the movies and in an odd way, book publishing. In show business, the audience walks up to a counter, puts down its money and buys a ticket.

"A freebie is something you get by nothing. In television, you are given entertainment for nothing. Oh, sure, you're supposed to listen to watching other somebody tries to sell you cigarets or shaving cream, but it's still for nothing.

"Well, what you get for nothing usually is nothing. The trouble with a freebie like television is they have to find people to tell them whether or not people are watching and if they like what they see. I don't think the people tell them are competent to judge."

It's this business of just not knowing, Smith says, that makes television people so jumpy, so nervous and why they run around so much.

Smith himself isn't jumpy, nervous and doesn't run around. "A writer has to sit and call it a day," he said, "but that's not right. I write ad libs. Think up jokes. I'm figured as Al Tinsdale for the performer to be—who performers have no idea who—they are. But that's not writing—in the old days of radio they used to call it conducting. I'm a show with music that just means I'm supposed to know what to say while the musicians are turning the pages."

Well, Smith plans to return to book writing again. In the meantime, he's busy with his ad libs!

"I remember one thing a famous motion picture producer told me. He told me, 'nobody ever got underestimating the taste of the American public.' I'm not sure that is what I want to live by."

Fullmer Will Fight German

NEW YORK (AP) — Former middleweight champion Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, will go through his 10th defense bout with Germany's Franz Szuszina at Madison Square Garden July 30.

The New York State Athletic Commission approved the bout Monday after receiving word from West Jordan that doctors there had examined Fullmer and found him fit.

Fullmer was cut over both eyes last week in outclassing Jim Hegerle of St. Paul.

Marilyn Knows All Angles Including the Camera Ones

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marilyn Monroe is back, and we're glad. The Hollywood press corps did not realize how much they missed Miss Monroe until she came back after a two-year absence.

Oh, there have been others who have come. Jayne Mansfield and Kim Novak have got to give her A for effort, but she lacks subtlety. Sorry, Jayne. Loren? Not enough imagination. Kim Novak? She comes close, but still lacks that certain flair. Zsa Zsa Gabor? Are you kidding?

Marilyn has everything it takes, and I don't just mean the physical aspects. She still has that wonderful, wide - eyed response to interviewers' questions. And her responses are not just accidental or vague.

Such as when she was asked whether she thought the sack dress. No, she replied, it's not organic.

MONROE MAGIC UNIQUE

The Monroe magic is unique. She exudes the impression of being the dumbest blonde. But she knows all the angles, including the camera ones. She knows the photographer for trying to get a shot that would show more than she wanted.

And she keeps the reporters happy. She always answers questies. Though her reply might skirt the question, she is always quotable.

Welcome home, Marilyn, and stay a while.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Wednesday, June 18

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — It appears to you today that life is going contrary to your desires. And it is best you steer clear of arguments at abode or there will be serious consequences. Simply isolate yourself and stick to your work earnestly.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) — Be particularly careful when you shop today, or are in conference or on calls. Keep a tight watch over your words as well as your purse, and do not anger others in any way. Look over financial papers for any mistakes.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — If you do not exercise the greatest wisdom in any nit-pickiness whatsoever today, you may find yourself in the red very quickly and ruin the day. Be calm and logical in all that you do. P.M. take care of your vocal organs.

Cancer (June 22 to July 22) — Born children (June 23 to July 21) — The world seems to be against you today and you would like to indulge in some pretty bitter weeping, but if you exercise true wisdom and combat others with a broad smile and a pat on the back, you will gain so much. Be kind.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 21) — No matter what private anxiety has you in a dither, don't take it out on innocent persons about you. Grind your axe on the persons who deserve it, - but bless and be good to those you know are your finest friends and boosters.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — With planetary aspects not too favorable, a nervous friend becomes irritable with you today simply because he or she does not have the wisdom of self-control. Understand this and forgive. You will get an apology.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — See that you abide by all established rules and regulations today to the letter. And don't be too economical or it will cost you more in the long run. Pay your bills and work diligently, carefully.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Distant pastures certainly look more inviting to you today, but if you forsake present security to follow a will-o'-the-wisp, much heartbreak can ensue. Make your present position strong instead. Study and work hard.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — An executive could certainly give you a rough time of it today for some error or omission, possibly too much so. It is best to hold your tongue and save yourself even more bitter experience. Don't take it personally.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Disgruntled partner will put you on the carpet today, if you give him or her a chance to do so. Let your words be sweet and your manner detached. And keep up your end of agreements made. Steer clear of an enemy.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — While planetary aspects are not particularly good, and you want to give vent to your ire in some unexpected outburst that have arisen, it is best to calmly get them adjusted and be grateful things have come out in the open now.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) — You are feeling upset because you cannot enjoy yourself as you would like today, but it is well to spend the day getting wardrobe in order, freshening up the house and getting more physically fit for the rpund of activity just ahead.

If your child is born today ... The forceful little personality born today is the type who will quickly try to impose his or her will on others in order to gain supremacy. Yours is the duty to see that lifetime things are bent to any shape, but that other-human beings have a will of their own, and that cooperation and harmony are the best tools at hand. Great horoscope for the government and police professions.

From there she went to the legislative buildings, inspected an army guard of honor, replied to a speech of welcome by Premier Bennett, accepted a 540-acre gift land, received month.rs of the legislature, deputy ministers, tennial committee officials, Victoria Cross holder and their wives.

TOURS MUSEUM

Ahead of her schedule at this point, the princess had time to stop and open up for a few minutes and then make a quick tour of the provincial museum.

A 930-man tri-service parade was next on the list, followed by a 20-plane RCAF fly-past in her honor.

Following a short break, Princess Margaret received officials of the church, judiciary, consular corps and others then went to the luncheon.

Later Premier Bennett presented her with a diamond brooch from the people of B.C. A replica of the dogwood blossom, the province's official flower, the brooch contained 329 diamonds and scores of emeralds. She wore it in the afternoon garden party. She was believed to have received early Tuesday night, wearing it from an exacting day in the burning sun.

Sitting Hours Of House Now 7½ Longer

OTTAWA (CP) — The eight-member CCF group angrily dug in its heels as the government, closing at a speed-up of its annual program, moved for an extra hour of committee sitting hours to Friday evenings and Saturday.

The motion, adding 7½ hours to the present total of regular commons sittings, eventually was carried Monday by a vote of 107 to 8. But not before CCF members forced an often-heated debate that lasted nearly five hours.

The debate also brought two statements from Prime Minister Diefenbaker on fife government's plans for the seion that began May 12.

He said the government's objective is that the commons keep going without a summer adjournment until the legislative program is cleared away.

And he said that progra mwill include all the measures announced in the throne speech at the session opening. That included a bill of rights, a new regulative authority for Canadian broadcasting, a new national housing act and amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act.

LENGTHENS SITTINGS

The government motion to extend sitting hours, which came at an earlier stage, was more drastic than normal, would add a two-hour sitting Friday evening to the other two Saturday morning and 3½ hours Saturday afternoon-starting this week.

The new Commons' schedule: 2:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursdays; 2:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. on Fridays, and 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays.

The speeding will leave most weekday mornings free for the different House committee sittings.

Neither Mr. Diefenbaker nor Works Minister Green, government House leader, indicated a target date for the session's end, although Mr. Diefenbaker described the motion to extend sittings as "the first step along the road along which we must look if we are to achieve the termination of the session."

MAY END IN AUGUST

But it appeared evident to observers that the work ahead of Parliament cannot be cleared up before late August, especially if the government carries through its present intention to postpone one of its planned bills to the next session, likely to start early in 1959.

In the debate, CC P House Leader Hazen Argus said the government was "putting pressure" on the Commons far too early in the session. He spoke tartedly of the amount of other work members must do in committees aside the Commons chamber—committee work which he said is heavier this session than ever before.

GETS LION PET

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Ruthanns Self, 14, has a lion cub for a pet. Edward Le Bary of Little Rock, Ark., gave Ruthann the 25-pound cub he received as retiring president of Lions International. A girl's father, veterinarian Dr. R. A. Self, said she may keep the four-months-old cub until it gets either too big or too mean. Then it probably will go to a zoo.

LEAVE IN SMALL BOAT

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Three men left Copenhagen in a 22-foot outboard motorboat for New York Saturday. They said they expect to make the trip across the Atlantic in about 10 days. The boat is powered by an outboard motor. During the crossing, the boat will keep in contact with a Swedish freighter which is to supply it with fuel.

BIGGEST FEDERAL

In Toronto, heads of investment houses, who have the task of carrying the plan to the public, used words such as "courageous," "dramatic" and "constructive" to describe it.

The scheme involves no "new" borrowing — merely a spreading out of existing debt.

But Mr. Fleming's Commons statement disclosed another financing deal already completed. The creation of "new money" by borrowing $400,000,000 for five months from the chartered banks and the Bank of Canada at 3½-per-cent annual interest.

CALL IT INFLATIONARY

Experts called this step inflationary. But the plan is to pay the loan off at maturity Dec. 15 with proceeds of the next Canada Savings Bond issue to be sold this fall.

This $400,000,000 is part of the $1,400,000,000 in new borrowing which Mr. Fleming said in his June 17 budget speech would be needed this year to help finance government operations. Counting some earlier borrowing last May 15, only $700,000,000 in new borrowing remains to be done. Authorities feel this will be relatively easy to get later on.

Mr. Fleming called the Conversion Loan "a tremendous operation requiring the wholehearted co-operation of everybody concerned."

Mr. Diefenbaker emphasized there is no compulsion in the bond-for-bond plan.

This is what it involves:

Five wartime Victory Loan bond issues, all paying three-per-cent interest, are convertible: the Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Victory Loans. Issued between 1942-46, they mature between Jan. 1, 1965, and Nov. 1, 1966.

Available for swapping—starting immediately—are four different conversion issues. They range from three-per-cent bonds maturing in 3¼ years to 4½-per-cent bonds maturing in 22 years and one month.

The government's hope is that the switch will be to the long-term issues—the 4½ bonds and another issue of 14 years bearing 4¼-per-cent interest. Another seven-year conversion issue bears interest at 3¾ per cent.

Holders of all five Victory Loans may change to either the 14-year or 22-year issue.

The seven-year and the 3¾-year bonds will not be available to holders of the Eighth and Ninth Victory Loan bonds. The 3¾-year bonds also will not be available for the Seventh Victory Loan bonds.

The new conversion issues will be dated Sept. 1, when their interest will begin to run. Letters of applications will be accepted until Sept. 15. The public cannot subscribe. It will get its main kick-off Aug. 5.

RATES A BIT HIGHER

Many new interest rates generally are slightly higher than the current market rate for similar maturities, and some as much as $80,000,000 to the annual interest burden of the government.

Besides higher interest, the government is offering cash bonuses ranging up to $5 for each $100 bond converted. For example, a holder of a $100 Fifth Victory Loan bond maturing next Jan. 1 will get $1.90 cash if he converts to a 22-year or 14-year bond. The holder of a $100 Ninth Victory Loan bond maturing in 1963 will get a 50-cent bonus for the same conversion.

Accrued interest up to Sept. 1 will be added for all conversions before that date.

But some conversions will not carry the cash bonus. For example, there would be none to holders of the Ninth Victory Loan maturing in 1966, who convert to 14-year or even 22-year bonds.

Except for the 3¾-year bonds, the new bonds are being offered in denominations ranging from $50 to $1,000 or $1,000,000.

ON A NEW BASIS

In Toronto, N. D. Young, vice-president of Dominion Securities Corporation Limited, said the conversion "will get the whole Canadian bond market on a new basis."

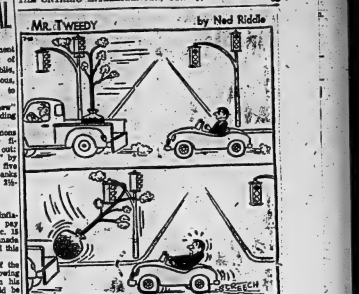
"We now should be in a position to sell the financing that is needed—including provincial and municipal—without the old cycle of ups and downs of money for corporation purposes."

Or, as another investment man put it: "It clears the decks at one stroke."

Investment circles said the bond market has been getting because huge maturing issues were hanging over it year by year. Some were for financing for redemption before maturity.

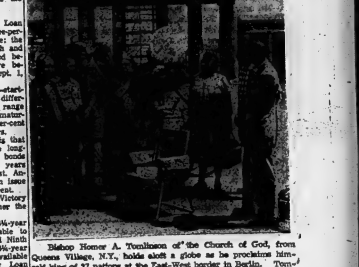
There was some doubt of the market's ability to absorb the federal government's periodic refunding issues and at the same time take care of other borrowers needs.

D. S. Beatty, president of Burns Brothers and Denton Limited, said the action will help combat inflation and stabilize the bond market.



Experts in Ottawa saw the move as opening more of the short-term bond market for future government financing by clearing away what are, in effect, short-term bonds.

But the announcement produced some uneasiness in the Commons.



Opposition Leader Pearson, wishing success to the operation, added:

"We cannot help but feel anxiety about the effect on monetary policy and on inflationary pressures of the step now beginning and we hope it will not be harmful."

Mr. Fleming said the "beneficial" results of the scheme will extend into the market for commercial, municipal and corporate bonds.

OFFERS HIMSELF AS KING OF RUSSIA

Bishop Homer A. Tomlinson of the Church of God, from Queens Village, N.Y., holds aloft a globe as he proclaims himself king of 27 nations at the East-West border in Berlin. Tomlinson took his crown, $900 robe, globe and throne on the steps in front of Marienkirche in East Berlin. He was watched by a small curious crowd and a couple of policemen, but no one interfered with him. He didn't get any support either. He was ordered to rule the United States along with his other 37 nations, but so far no one seems to want the "king of the world" as monarch.

BATAWA

Bata Shoe Man Flies Plane Home

BATAWA — One way to get home for vacation is to fly your own plane. Ray Irwin, of Batawa, expects to do just that.

Mr. Irwin, who is maintenance man for the Bata Shoe Company's sewing equipment, expects to fly his own aeroplane when he takes his vacation in Winnipeg this summer. Mr. Irwin's home originally was in the Manitoba capital.

Mr. Irwin, who has an aircraft engineer's licence, is a member of the Prince Edward Flying Club. His aeroplane, formerly owned by J. Fetter of Trenton, is a Proctor Mark 6, the only one of its kind ever built.

Indian Chief Says B.C. Does Not Own Island

VANCOUVER (CP)—An Indian chief says the British Columbia government doesn't own the Island it plans to give Princess Margaret and he has asked Prime Minister Diefenbaker to advise the princess not to accept it.

Chief Andy Paul, president of the North American Indian Brotherhood, says in an open letter to Mr. Diefenbaker that acceptance of the gift by Princess Margaret "would not be in keeping with the dignity and solemnity of Her Highess, in that the B.C. government does not own any of the islands in B.C.—nor do they own all that now is known as British Columbia."

The provincial government announced Friday it will offer the princess 760-acre Portland Island, near the southern end of Vancouver Island, as a ceremony Monday.

Chief Paul's letter says "the B.C. government is not in a position to make the gift because the land is guaranteed to the Indians under the British North America Act.

San Francisco Girl Becomes Buddhist Nun

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Word that a pretty San Francisco girl had become a Buddhist nun in Singapore Sunday was greeted with shocked surprise by her mother here.

"Why, she's just supposed to be abroad!" exclaimed Mrs. Kenneth S. van Strum. "I know nothing of this."

Mrs. van Strum is the mother of Clarissa van Strum, 22, who forsook the social register to become a nun.

Miss van Strum, whose father is a prominent San Francisco businessman, arrived in Singapore three days ago.

She became known as Dhammadinna, after sacrificing her long blonde hair, her fiances, a comfortable life and her medical studies.

"I've been convinced that only through Buddhism can I find true happiness," she said after the ceremony.

Her mother, obviously upset, told reporters that her daughter left San Francisco recently for a three-month vacation.

LEBANESE REBEL LEADER ORDERS TRUCE

UN Chief Opposed To U.S. Move

No Military Force Needed To Stop Outside Aid Flow

Russians May Demand Withdrawal of Troops

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold said in effect today that no international military force is needed to stop the flow of outside aid to the Lebanese rebels.

The secretary-general addressed the 11-member Security Council briefly before U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge formally called for the establishment of a security force: to supplement the UN observer group now in Lebanon.

Hammarskjold said he had been informed by the observation group that it had successfully completed arrangements for inspection of the entire Lebanese border.

"I say, if my feeling," he added, "that with the result thus achieved, the observation group is fully equipped to play the part envisaged for it in the UN total plan to serve its general purpose of, ensuring against infiltration and smuggling of arms."

One report, given by the United States for the landing of American marines and for proposing a new security force was the lobbying of the UN observers to stop the flow of aid from the United Arab Republic to the Lebanese rebels.

FOR ADDED STRENGTH

In his speech this morning, Lodge commended the work of the observer group but said the proposed international force was intended to give it added strength.

"We recognize that by means available to this organization (observer group) are insufficient to meet all aspects of the situation," he said. "This is particularly true in the light of recent events in Iraq and the effort to overthrow the lawful government of Jordan."

Usually reliable sources said earlier in the day that the U.S. was unlikely to ask for a special session of the General Assembly if the Security Council fails to send an international police force to take over the duties of U.S. troops.

But these informants said there was no indication that the Russians might seek support for the withdrawal of the American troops.

The Lebanese government claims President Nasser's United Arab Republic is supplying arms and men across its border to aid the rebels seeking the overthrow of Lebanese President Camille Chamoun.

They said the council Tuesday the force of about 135 military observers sent by the UN to Lebanon has been able to halt the infiltration across the border.

Cameraman Covering Fleet Review Locked Below Decks for 3 Hours

VICTORIA (CP) — Photographers covering an international fleet review from HMCS Assiniboine said they were locked in a "Black Hole of Calcutta" for the 3½-hour event.

"I have never been insulted like that in my life," said Vancouver television photographer Eric Noble today. "My dog is treated better."

"This was the most undignified treatment I have received in 25 years of news photography," said William Yellow of Federal News Service in Ottawa, serving several Canadian newspapers.

Victoria Colonist photographer Ron Bell said: "I wonder if the princess knew what was going on below decks.

"I had nine years in the Canadian navy, most of them as a photographer, travelled all over with the Duke of Edinburgh as pool photographer for B.C., covering the Queen's visits here and both, and never have seen treatment like this.

"There was no co-operation at all," Mr. Ryan said.

The 13 photographers, from Britain, the United States and Canada, boarded the Crescent at about 1:30 p.m., before Princess Margaret arrived, and were escorted below decks.

They were asked to leave their cameras and other equipment in a landing room and were then locked in the chief petty officer's mess deck. At 5 p.m. because a porthole couldn't be opened and a fan wasn't plugged up the same day, said Mr. Cable.

Only refreshment during the trip, which lasted until 5 p.m., was a jug of cold water and four dirty glasses which had to serve all 13 men.

When the ship reached a breakwater, the photographers were allowed on deck for three minutes to obtain posed shots of the princess looking through binoculars.

Two burly sailors "stood guard like Beefeaters" to see the photographers did not leave their "hole," Mr. Cable said.

Think Britain May Send Troops to Assist Jordan's King 'Restore Peace, Stability'

LONDON (Reuters)—The British cabinet resumed its almost continuous discussion of the Middle East crisis today amid wide speculation that British forces would be sent to Jordan if King Hussein asks for help to preserve order and security.

But a British foreign office spokesman said later that no request for aid had been received from Hussein.

British newspapers of all political colors today foreshadowed this move in the event of a request by the king.

The Liberal News Chronicle said that while United States marines consolidated their Lebanon bridgehead, 6,000 British troops stood by in Cyprus to mount phase two of the Middle East safeguards operation, landing in Jordan.

The Earl of Home, secretary of state for Commonwealth relations, Tuesday night received all the Commonwealth high commissioners at his office.

It is understood the meetings were to keep the, Commonwealth countries informed of British policy during the Middle East crisis.

The council of ministers of the Baghdad pact, probably will cancel its scheduled meeting July 28 as a result of the revolt in Iraq, a usually reliable source said.

Death Accident

LATCHFORD (CP) — A coroner's jury Tuesday ruled that Wilfred Pettingill, 28, of Latchford died by accident when a heavy pipe slipped and struck him June 30. The mishap occurred when Nottingham was employed at a pipeline project about four miles south of here.

Russia has recognized the new republic of Iraq, Moscow radio reported today.

Istanbul (Reuters)

Turkey cancelled all army leave today. Officers on leave were recalled to their units.

Tehran, Iran (Reuters) — The Iranian foreign ministry said today it has received reports from the Iranian Embassy in Baghdad that 23-year-old King Faisal of Iraq has been slain by the rebels.

Halifax (CP) — A spokesman said here today the Canadian Navy has no ships near Middle East trouble spots.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—British and the United States are considering what aid they can give Jordan's King Hussein to help him "restore peace and stability" in Iraq, a government spokesman said today.

The Jordan radio indicated Tuesday night Russia had appealed to Washington and London for military help.

Hussein proclaimed himself head of the Arab Union of Iraq and Jordan after his cousin, King Faisal of Iraq, was overthrown Monday by a military coup in Baghdad. Jordan radio claimed Tuesday night the rebels controlled only a small part of Baghdad and troops loyal to Faisal were marching on the Iraqi capital.

The government statement, broadcast several times, warned the Iraqi rebels against harming members of the Iraqi royal family or Jordanian citizens in Iraq.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN

ST. THOMAS (CP) —Damage was estimated at more than $40,000 Tuesday when fire destroyed a barn and 19 Holstein heifers valued at $3,500 on the farm of Donald Shore, four miles north of here. Cause of the blaze is unknown.

Egyptian Press Denounces U.S. 'Occupation of Lebanon'

CAIRO (CP) — The Egyptian press today lambasted as "occupation of Lebanon" the United States action in sending troops to that country.

Al Ahram said "No matter what excuses the United States might have, its action in Lebanon is a violation of the United Nations charter and aggression against Lebanon's independence."

Al Gumhuriya said: "The United States military occupation of Lebanon is an aggression against Lebanon as well as a violation of the United Nations charter and defiance to the feelings of the Lebanese and all Arab peoples."

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda said the use of American troops was "a direct act of war."

Communist newspapers and government spokesmen in Communist China, Yugoslavia, Hungary and East Germany called the marines' landing "imperialist intervention."

But most Western European newspapers hailed the move.

British newspapers generally cheered President Eisenhower's decision to send troops to Lebanon.

But the Liberal Manchester Guardian said the United States "has embarked on a road that may lead anywhere—even to a world war."

Lloyd Will Fly To See Dulles In Washington

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd announced today he will fly to Washington to confer with John Foster Dulles on the critical Mideast situation.

Lloyd said he had been invited to the American capital by the secretary of state.

His announcement came in the course of his speech opening an emergency debate in the House of Commons on Middle Eastern affairs.

"We feel it necessary to keep in the closest touch with the United States government," Lloyd said, "and therefore I propose to fly later this afternoon to Washington at Mr. Dulles' invitation for talks."

Lloyd announced no new British policy decisions.

But in the course of a survey of the turmoil in the oil lands of the Middle East, he obliquely accused the United Arab Republic of complicity in the 'ouster of the Iraq government.

First Night In 9 Weeks No Shots Fired in Beirut As More U.S. Marines Land

Eisenhower Sends New Units To Join 6th Fleet in Mediterranean

BEIRUT (CP) — Another U.S. marine battalion landed in Lebanon today. Advance units moved from their beachhead into Beirut, the capital and its port area.

This swelled the total of marines in this troubled republic to 3,800. More are on the way.

Rebel leader Saeb Salem ordered his followers to stop fighting with American government troops. A band of rebels who moved out from behind barricades to advance their positions in the city moved back after about an hour and a half.

The United States, which sent in the marines at the request of President Camille Chamoun, described the landings as the creation of a beachhead to assure peace and stability in the Middle East.

Salem made his statement 24 hours since the marines' arrival had landed here and after the first night in nine weeks in which not a single shot was fired in Beirut.

Government supporters hailed Salem's attitude as a victory for President Camille Chamoun's policy of standing firm against rebellion.

They said it indicated that the opposition now might be willing to see a political settlement.

Salem's followers and others in the hands throughout the country have been fighting for Chamoun's resignation as president since May 9. The revolt was touched off by reports that Chamoun planned to amend the constitution to enable him to run for another six-year term in 1958.

The spotlight appeared likely to shift rapidly to Jordan, the part-Arab state of Iraq, was overthrown Monday by a military coup in Baghdad. Jordan radio claimed Tuesday night the rebels controlled only a small part of Baghdad and troops loyal to Faisal were marching on the Iraqi capital.

The government statement, broadcast several times, warned the Iraqi rebels against harming members of the Iraqi royal family or Jordanian citizens in Iraq.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Newsunits of U.S. Marines landed for the Mediterranean today as United States forces around the world were placed on the alert for possible new emergencies growing out of the grave Middle East situation.

The Marines moved out to join the U.S. 6th Fleet as partial replacements for the 5,000 - man force ordered into revolt-battered Lebanon Tuesday. A second battalion of 1,800 men started landing in Lebanon early today, to bring the total contingent ashore to 3,800. The rest of the landing force was reported standing by offshore.

The dispatch of more troops to the troubled area came on the heels of President Eisenhower's promise to send more forces if required to help the pro-Western government of Lebanon.

In another development, the U.S. Air Force said transport planes had landed in West Germany to strengthen the air units in Europe. The planes could be used to ferry troops or supplies to the Middle East.

ON THE ALERT

These new moves of men and material came as the United States braced itself for a possible countershock from Cairo or Moscow over the landing in Lebanon.

President Eisenhower said in a television address Tuesday that American intervention to protect the Lebanese government may be a serious matter.

But he said the risk had to be taken to save Lebanon from its direct aggression which he charged on Russia and the United Arab Republic.

Russia already has labelled the U.S. move open aggression.

The Atlantic and Pacific fleets were readied for action under four-hour alert orders. The Strategic Air Command put its missile-armed bombers on a heightened state of readiness.

Eisenhower said the board the action taken so far will be sufficient to support the government of Lebanon and that nation's independence.

"We hope that this result will quickly be attained and that our forces can be promptly withdrawn," he said, however, he prepared to meet the situation, should it become necessary.

Eisenhower did not spell out the precise assignment given the marines who landed Tuesday. Nor did he say how long U.S. forces will remain. But he reiterated his hope that the United Nations would take measures to protect that country's independence and permit the early withdrawal of American troops.

KEEPS ALLIES INFORMED

The United States has conferred with the British, French and other Allied governments and kept the North Atlantic Council informed. At the state department, officials said they do not expect Britain to send troops to Lebanon alongside those of the United States.

Commonwealth Attitude on Crisis Demanded by British Opposition

LONDON (C) — Opposition spokesmen, mindful of serious divisions in the Tory Suez crisis, are pressing the government for assurances that Britain has the full consent of, her Commonwealth partners in her utilized launching of the United States marines in Lebanon.

During question time in the House of Commons Tuesday, both Labor and Liberal members repeatedly questioned Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd for details of his discussions with Canada and other Commonwealth governments before Britain gave her blessing to the U.S. action.

When British troops were sent to the Suez canal in October, 1956, the Commonwealth governments were divided in their attitude toward the move and there were complaints that it had been undertaken without their knowledge.

There were loud cheers from the Opposition benches when the Liberal party leader, Jo Grimond, said that the Tory government's decision to support the Lebanese government had Commonwealth approval.

Lloyd replied: "We have been in touch with Commonwealth."

As Opposition members pressed for more information, the foreign secretary continued: "If idea of the Commonwealth governments be involved themselves."

Later, Frederick Lee, a parliamentary secretary in the last Labor government, asked, Lloyd to say definitely whether Prime Minister Diefenbaker and other Commonwealth prime ministers "had been fully apprised of the government's intention to make their statement."

Lloyd replied: "Canada is a member of the Security Council and will make her position clear in the debate there."

GOVT. SUPPORTS ACTION OF U.S. IN LEBANON

Smith Says Step Made Necessary

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian government has indicated its support of United States action in sending 5,000 American troops to Lebanon to protect American nationals and bolster the sinky Lebanese government.

External Affairs Minister Smith, in a carefully - worded Commons statement, said that the U.S. step was made "necessary" by the "sudden and alarming" developments Monday in Iraq, scene of a military coup.

Mr. Smith noted the U.S. government's statement that the American troops will stay in Lebanon only until the United Nations Security Council itself takes measures to maintain peace and security.

He added that the Canadian representative in the UN "has been instructed to support all constructive efforts within that body (the Security Council) which will have the effect of achieving the objective outlined by the United States government and reminding the threat to the peace of the area . .

U.S. LOOKING AFTER

He also informed the Commons that the U.S. Embassy in Lebanon has undertaken to look after the 146 Canadian nationals there "as well as they would look after Americans."

Referring to the 43 Canadians registered as being in Iraq — 40 of them in Baghdad — Mr. Smith said the government had been unable to learn the exact situation but "we are hoping for the best." Normally, the Canadian government would have depended on the British Embassy at Baghdad, but it had been blown up.

Opposition Leader Pearson expressed "very grave anxiety" about the Middle East report but said the Opposition wants to avoid any comment that would be "harmful."

He hoped there would be no "contraction" of the present functions of the two Western forces in Lebanon, the U.S. Marines and the 100-man UN observer corps, on which 11 Canadians are serving.

SAYS NECESSARY

Mr. Pearson said there was "no doubt" about the "necessity" of the U.S. troop landing to protect American nationals.

H. Sa Hodgins, deputy CCF House leader, said U.S. "shortsightedness" has to blame for Middle East developments, starting with the U.S. refusal in 1955 to provide an Egypt for the Aswan dam project.

Outside the Commons, a spokesman of the external affairs department said there is no news indicating that evacuation of Canadians is in prospect.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: — Cooler dry air is moving down over the lower lakes this morning and overnight showers have occurred in many localities. Sunny, less humid weather will gradually materialize this morning and should extend through Thursday. In Northern and Central Ontario showers have already ceased and fair weather is expected today.

GOVT. PLANNING STATEMENT FOR GRAIN GROWERS

Possible Deficiency Payments Seen

OTTAWA (CP) — The government is planning a statement in a few days on requested financial assistance for Prairie grain growers.

Prime Minister Churchill said in the Commons Tuesday night he hopes to say "before many more days go by" whether the government will make deficiency payments to these farmers.

The government, he said, was thinking of "a comprehensive agriculture program" which would give long-term benefits to farmers throughout the country.

Mr. Churchill was replying to a request by CCF House Leader Hazen Argue for a policy statement on the subject of deficiency payments — a form of subsidy which proponents say is needed to offset inadequate prices. The drought had damaged a large part of the western wheat crop "beyond redemption." Some farmers would have "near-total" crop failure.

Mr. Argue, only opposition member to get the briefing, asked specifically for deficiency payments, but Jack H. Horner (PC—Acadia) and Edwin W. Brunsden (PC — Medicine Hat) said the government needs only stop.

"We must give it a little thought," Mr. Horner replied.

Ed Nasserden (PC—Rosthern) said the problem could only be solved by a national agricultural policy. Unless something was done to help grain growers in the Prairies would turn in three years to unprecedented dairy, poultry, cattle and hog production.

Mr. Churchill said deficiency payments for wheat were started in European countries which do not depend on exports for their domestic requirements. It was matter to apply such subsidies in a wheat exporting country like Canada.

Family Advised To Have Shots

BEAVERTON (CP) — Health officials Tuesday advised Albert Fraser, father of four children to have anti-rabies shots.

A cow on the Fraser farm in Thorah Township, 50 miles north of Toronto, was found dead Monday night, the body was sent to provincial laboratories for examination.

A dying fox was found in the barn last month and tests showed it was rabid. Mr. Fraser, he believed rabid, was sighted in a field but farmers were unable to kill it.

QUEEN X-RAYED

LONDON (Reuters) — The Queen has been x-rayed for her left shoulder at the Royal Infirmary at Buckingham Palace Tuesday night, but the body was sent good progress against the illness from which she has been suffering for a week.

RUNS INTO TRUCK IN RESCUING TOY

A childish effort to save her skipping rope from being run over where it was left in her father's driveway, meant a narrow escape from injury for a little girl on Marlboth Jones, 326 Foster Ave.

The little girl was playing in the front yard. She had left her skipping rope in the driveway and darted in to retrieve it as a lumber truck was being backed in to unload some lumber.

The little girl is believed to have run into the side of the truck wheel, resulting in skin being scraped from her leg. It is thought the girl suffered no other ill effects but she was taken to her family doctor for a check-up.

Local RCAF Bandsmen

SERGEANT BOB STEBBINGS was born in Humboldt, Saskatchewan. When he was seven years of age, his family moved to Belleville, where he attended Belleville Collegiate and the Ontario Business College.

His first experience in music was acquired with the Salvation Army band in Belleville. He later played euphonium in Earlscourt Salvation Army Band and the Hamilton No. 1 Citadel Salvation Army Band. Bob has also been a member of the Belleville Municipal Band.

Sgt. Stebbings enlisted in the RCAF as a member of the Training Command Band in Belleville, and has played tuba in the TC band since then. He also is playing the string bass and has passed the required music studies for his trade and rank.

Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stebbings, live in Belleville, Ont.

Sgt. Stebbings is a member of the Training Command Band which will play for the Princess in Toronto on July 21st.

SERGEANT DON POMEROY was born in Belleville, Ont., and attended public and high school there. He moved to Toronto in 1943. He will be a member of the Training Command Band to play for the Princess in Toronto on July 21st.

Sgt. Pomeroy's work in the field of professional music has been a varied one. He was manager of the Trenton branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, was appointed honorary treasurer.

DRAFT CONSTITUTION

A constitution drawn Jones, James O'Neill and Alton Georgeson was named to draught a tentative constitution for discussion at the next meeting on July 31st.

Eligible for active membership is any person 18 years of age, who is currently engaged in any department of the working press, which includes newspaper, radio or television station or public relations staff. Associate members, yet to be invited to join the Quinte Press Club, will be limited to those people who are indirectly connected with the activities of the working press.

Invitations to possible active members will be sent out in the near future.

Honorary memberships will be dealt with by a membership committee comprised of Harry Metcalf of CJBQ in Belleville, Mr. O'Neill and Sqo. Ldr. Bowdery.

As yet no definite club room has been acquired but the president will investigate a few possibilities in Trenton.

AREA NOT DEFINED

Mr. Georgeson briefly described the ultimate purpose of the Quinte Press Club. He said it is to further the relationships among members of the working press and to transmit good will among those members for the betterment of the profession, to promote the area within the perimeter of the membership. The boundaries of the club membership have not yet been defined.

A motion was carried that active membership dues be $10 per year and that associate membership be $5 per year, the fiscal year to be from August 1 to July 31 next.

The next meeting, July 30, will be held at the cottage of Don Harvey, R.R. 8, Belleville.

TO VISIT PLANT

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons estimates committee examining defence expenditures decided Tuesday to visit on Saturday the aircraft plants of A. V. Roe (Canada) Limited at Malton. The committee members will tour the plants of Orenda Engines Limited and Avro Aircraft Limited, each involved in development of the CF-105 Arrow. The government is expected to decide some time this year whether to order the plane into full production.

Civil Defence Exercise Held Over Weekend

A highly successful Civil Defence exercise was held this past weekend in Belleville, when over 100 officers representing all militia units under command of 13 Militia Group took part in a plan scheme which was conducted primarily to test the efficiency of wireless communications for a mobile support column down through all levels of the organization.

The exercise was designed to give the militia officers some conception of the problems they could be expected to encounter in the event of a thermo nuclear attack. This is a relatively new role for the militia, and therefore the officers quickly analyzed the problems presented to them, directing staff and while some faults in communication procedure were noted, the Exercise Director and his staff expressed themselves as quite overall results of the exercise.

The exercise was developed by and under the control of HQ Eastern Ontario area. The Exercise Director was Brigadier Eric Snow, OBE, CD, assisted by Major D. W. Hill, Major D. H. Caldera and other staff officers from his Kingston headquarters.

The support column was under the direction of Brigadier Lyall N. Carr, Commanding Officer of 13 Group. The column headquarters being operated by Lt. Col. M. Clark, Lt. Col. Major Sady Hope, Officer appointments at company and platoon level were filled by officers representing the following units:

Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, Belleville; Trenton, Picton, Port Hope and Millbrook; Princess of Wales Own Regiment, Kingston; 33 Medium Regiment RCA at Cobourg and Lindsay; 56 Medium Anti-Aircraft Regiment RCA Peterborough; 32 Independent Battery RCA, Napanee; 3 Independent Battery RCA, Gananoque; 11 Medical Company RCAMC, Kingston; 37 Technical Squadron CE RCE, Belleville; 38 Technical Squadron RCEME, Peterborough.

On Saturday evening a clinch model exercise was held in the Belleville Armouries. The officers were formed into syndicates and given a series of problems they might encounter in the event of an attack. Their solutions were then presented to the directing staff followed by a discussion period.

Accommodation and meal arrangements were looked after by Lt.-Col. A. Duffy, Commanding Officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment.

Report Traffic Crashes Higher For Half-Year

TRENTON — Accidents in the town of Trenton are a little higher for the first six months of 1958 than they were for the same period in 1957, a report from Chief of Police Jack Taylor shows.

Fatal accidents involving motor vehicles were down this year as were fatalities, other than those involving motor vehicles. Following is a run-down of the half year report for 1958 with last year's figures in brackets: Motor vehicle accidents over $100 and or persons injured, 83 (71); motor vehicle accidents under $100, nil (159); killed in motor vehicle accidents, nil (1); injured in motor vehicle accidents, 28 (25); pedestrians and cyclists injured included in MV., injured, 13 (13); hit and run accidents, 18 (22); train and railway accidents, nil (1); fatal accidents other than motor vehicles (drownings, suicides etc.) 2, (5); injured in accidents other than motor vehicles, 1 (3); total number of all motor vehicle accidents, 226 (230); property damage in motor vehicle accidents, $29,184 ($27,632).

Chief Jack Taylor said the report covered the period from the first of the year until the last day of June and added that it should be remembered that while the number of accidents increased, there is also an increasing number of cars on the road each year.

Command Band Invited to Play For Margaret

TRENTON — The Royal Canadian Air Force Training Command Band will play at Princess Margaret's Toronto Civic Reception at noon on Thursday, July 31.

This will be the third time that the band has been honored with the privilege of playing before Royalty. In 1951 the Training Command Band participated in the colorful ceremonies at RCAF Station Trenton when Her Majesty the Queen, then Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh visited that station. Later, their Royal Highnesses bade farewell to Canada at Newfoundland the band was again in attendance to wish them Godspeed on their journey home.

Since its first public rendition in 1946, the band has travelled many thousands of miles, playing to both service and civilian audiences. The band has twice been the guest of honor at Canadian servicemen at Canada's RCAF bases in France, Germany and England. The band has also made several appearances in the United States. While in Chicago the band received lavish praise from such cities of the calibre of Dr. Edmund Gruenther and renowned Goldman Band and Major George S. Howard of the USAF Band.

The conductor of the Training Command Band is Flight Lieutenant Clifford Hunt of Hamilton, Ont., is a Past President of the Canadian Bandmasters' Association. The Training Command Band and its conductor were singularly honored when Flight Lieutenant Hunt was elected to active membership in the American Bandmasters' Association in the spring of 1957. Membership to this organization is by invitation only and restricted to those men who are widely recognized as distinguished leaders in the profession.

As well as being privileged to play for the Princess, the Training Command Band this year has been additionally honored by being selected as the feature band at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Town Briefs

TRUNK SET AFIRE

TRENTON — Town firemen were called last night at around 9 p.m. to 13 Marmore Street where children were reported to have been playing with matches and to have set fire to old trunk full of cloth on fire. Toe fire was easily put out by the firemen on scene. If is the department's second call since the first of the month, with neither fire being very serious.

NINTH DOG KILLED

A motor vehicle last night killed the ninth dog in Trenton since the first of the year. It was reported to the town police that a car being driven by Bruce Hamilton of 87 Bay Street ran over the dog. The dog was backing out of his driveway when the mishap occurred and the dog was one of four owned by Mr. MacCormack, who lives next door. The accident was investigated by Constable Sid Vickers.

TWO CARS COLLIDE

An estimate of $250 in damage was set when two cars collided at the intersection of Lellan and Henry Street. A car being driven by Thomas Mc-Carty, 36 Catherine Street, suffered damage to the front end estimated at $150. The second car, operated by Hubert Allen E. Hector, of Thirlby, was damaged on the rear left side, estimated at $200. There was a light rain falling at the time of the accident and the streets were wet. Skid marks over 25 feet were recorded for each car. The police report says both vehicles entered the intersection about the same time. The accident took place at 7.43 this morning and was investigated by Constable Jack Graham.

VEHICLE HITS POST

A sign post on the corner of Queen and Dundas West was damaged by a car driven by a second boy, with an unknown vehicle. The police on patrol at midnight last night noticed the damaged post and reported it to the station. The sign was damaged and the post bent right over to the ground.

COMPLETE BOULEVARD

Work on Sutcliffe Boulevard has been completed and has been given a concrete coating by the tar. The lower half of the street has a green boulevard between it and the sidewalk. The two-lane roadway but it is not expected the entire section will be carried to the top of the hill where the new section has been built up.

REMANDED AGAIN

Jack Brant of Smithfield, who had previously pleaded guilty to a charge of assault, was remanded for sentencing for another two weeks by Magistrate T. V. Wills in court yesterday. Magistrate Wills in doing so felt he should have a more complete report on the condition of the victim. Brant's assault reported to have struck Horace Ketcheson on the jaw, breaking it. Mr. Ketcheson was in court yesterday and his jaw is still wired up. He had spent some time in the hospital after the incident.

Hanna Park Playing Area Ready for Use

TRENTON — Children of Trenton will be happy to know, if they don't already, that the playing area at Hanna Park is ready to go for another year.

A recent check by the Parks Board members found that many of the swings, and teeter-totters had been either broken or damaged. They decided to replace them, putting member Bill Ireland in charge. An inspection of the park yesterday revealed that three new swings have been put up and the three others, which were still serviceable, repaired and the chains straightened out.

The wooden portions of the teeter-totters have all been renewed, two of them had been broken off during the winter months. The iron handles on the totters were replaced with new ones.

The slide has been refinished with sheet metal, replacing the hardwood bottom that had become worn and rough. For the tiny tots the sand pit has been refilled with fine sand, in which they can build castles.

In the other part of the park the buildings have all been repainted green and the members have carried out their decision to remove all vegetation from the buildings and to keep them off. The "outhouse" has also been repainted, both inside and out.

The picnic tables have been straightened up and in some cases repaired, as has the barbecue pit.

The bend stand has been removed and it is expected nine cedar logs from this will be used for railings on the steps which now go up the side of Mount Pellon. Town gardener Bert Boers and his staff have also cut a considerable amount of grass at the park.

Yesterday there were four trailers using the facilities of the park which is part of the original plan for the area. They will only be able to stay for a few days and the Parks Board says for them to move on according to the by-laws covering the use of Hanna Park. This was done some years ago to ensure that a number of people driving through Trenton could enjoy the benefits of the park without overcrowding the area.

NEEDS SHIPPING

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (CP) — Government Senator Albert Gomes of the West Indies said Tuesday the new federation must aim for an efficient and economical shipping service that can "hold its own" should private competition develop where at present it is lacking." He spoke at opening of discussions between the West Indies shipping advisory committee and visiting Canadian shipping delegation.

Mounties Fail To Drive Away Premier's Boat

VICTORIA (CP) — RCMP attempted without success Tuesday to wave away a private yacht carrying Premier W. A. C. Bennett and members of the British Columbia cabinet into the area of an international fleet review for Princess Margaret.

An RCMP launch made a close pass at the yacht before it was realized who was aboard.

The incident occurred as the princess, aboard the Canadian destroyer-escort Chaudiere, moved to review the three-country fleet at anchor near suburban Esquimalt.

The provincial officials aboard the yacht Campana, owned by Calgary industrialist Max Bell were attempting to follow behind the Crusader. The RCMP vessel Nanaimo signalled the Campana away and an officer shouted: "We don't care who you are, stay outside the buoys. You're out of bounds."

Attorney-General Robert Bonner, chief provincial law enforcement officer, ran to the side of the Campana and waved the RCMP away.

When a police officer recognized Mr. Bonner, three RCMP who were on deck jumped to attention, saluted and their boat made off.

Ducks Take off Before Season Is Opened

OTTAWA (CP) — Pity the poor Northwest Territories hunter who watches ducks reach plump turnip size for his nose and then fly south before the shooting season opens.

There doesn't appear much can be done about it either, the Territories Council was told Tuesday.

"We have to go to Alberta and buy those ducks. Here if we want to shoot any ducks," said Councillor Mrs. H. Parrill in making another attempt to get the N.W.T. duck season moved ahead to Aug. 15 from the present opening date of Sept. 1.

Territories Commissioner Gordon Robertson said the Sept. 1 date is set by the migratory birds convention with the United States and that no revision seems probable.

London Council Not to Donate

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — City council in special session one day night declined to donate any cash to the city of Stratford to help defray expenses in welcoming and entertaining Princess Margaret July 31 before her visit, but left the door open for a donation if the city finds itself in the red after the visit.

Stratford, meanwhile, is already more or less in the red, Aldermen Tuesday night decided.

Council, it seems, didn't write the letter received in London Monday night asking for a "grant to assist." The letter, sent from Stratford city clerk's office, came from a subcommittee of citizens set up by council to handle arrangements for the royal visit.

The same letter went to Kitchener, Waterloo, Hanover, Woodstock, Milverton, Listowel, St. Mary's, Palmerston, Mitchell and Perth county council.

Eye Pops Out If Owner Blows His Nose

STEVENAGE, Eng. (Reuters) Doctors watched anxiously Tuesday as 42-year-old Henry King laid took out a handkerchief and cautiously blew his nose. His eye did not pop out.

Kingsland smiled and said: "It's a bit painful but not so bad."

For two weeks he had not dared blow his nose, and it will be at least another two weeks before his nose is strong enough for him to risk a sneeze.

It all began when Kingsland fell off his bicycle and broke his nose. He blew it hard and his left eye ballooned out like a tennis ball.

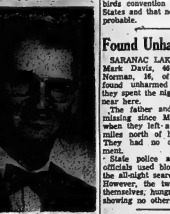
Doctors found he had cracked a tiny bone at the top of his nose which was blocking the nostril and deflecting air into his eye. He was told "don't blow your nose and for goodness sake don't sneeze—you may damage your eye."

Found Unharmed

SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (AP)—Mark Davis, 66, and his son Norman, 16, of Ogdensburg were found unharmed Tuesday after they spent the night lost in woods near here.

The father and son had been missing since Monday afternoon when they left a resort lodge 13 miles north of here on a hike. They had no overnight equipment.

State police and conservation officials used bloodhounds during the night search of the woods. However, the two came out by themselves, hungry and tired but showing no other ill effects.



WARN OF ROCKET

SALISBURY Eng. (AP)—Police cars raced through Wiltshire County Tuesday morning ordering over loudspeakers to look out for a live rocket accidentally released from a plane. Police said the rocket would explode when it touches electricity or anything that generates electricity. Details of the accident were not disclosed.

"Operation Upturn"

It is apparent that something more than a normal business upturn will be needed to restore the earnings growth of many manufacturing companies. A few, on the other hand, are approaching their problems in a vigorous, imaginative way, and their prospects are above average.

The July issue of our Monthly Bulletin discusses this subject under the title "Operation Upturn". It also contains a review of the Canadian manufacturing industry and a comment on Russell Industries Limited.

This complimentary Bulletin is now available to interested investors.

RICH CAT

Unconcerned by sudden wealth is Tabby, one of three cats who have become some of the richest felines in the world. They were left $75,000 by Charles Maier, 73, a Pittsburgh semi - recluse, who said the money should be used on their care. It's enough for their 27 collective lives.

FAMILY FUN ON A BUDGET

More and more families are learning that it doesn't require a lot of cash to enjoy themselves during the summer months.

For healthful, outdoor relaxation the age-old sport of fishing is finding favor with Mom and the Kids as well as Dad, Sunday afternoons will see the whole family relaxing on some lake — or drifting lazily in a boat — thoroughly enjoying themselves.

If you would enjoy an outing with your family, drop in to Boots Radio and Television Limited and select the tackle you need for all of them. Then's money down — and your payments can be as little as 50c a week.

WHY THIS CHANGE OF HEART?

The United States has denounced as inhumane the attack of two Soviet jet fighters on an unarmed U.S. military transport plane which strayed over the Soviet border on a flight to Pakistan.

We agree, the attack was inhumane. That, though, should surprise nobody. It is no more inhumane than would be a depth-charge on an unidentified submarine off the coast of the U.S. and there has been more than a hint that such attacks have been made. If a Russian plane wandered across the border of the U.S. mainland, would not U.S. jets shoot at it? We suspect they would, and that their attack would not only be defended by the U.S. administration but applauded by the U.S. populace.

It is an inhuman world, and if more U.S. planes get shot down over Russia than Russian planes over the U.S., it is because more U.S. planes invade Russian air space.

Nor are we surprised at reports that Russian civilians gave five of the nine flyers in the downed U.S. plane enough treatment if their plane was shot down over the U.S. -- or over Canada, for that matter. This, too, is inhumane -- considerably more inhumane than the action of jet pilots in shooting down the plane, since the grounded flyers were no hazard to the civilians, while the airborne plane might represent a considerable hazard to the territory the jet pilots had a duty to guard.

What surprises us is the report that one of the U.S. flyers was saved from being lynched by the Russian mob "when he managed to convey to them the fact that he was an American." Why the noose and the rope attached to a telephone pole and the noose already being placed over his head, what magic lay in his revelation? What nationality did the lynch crowd think he was? Hate is almost always associated with fear. Whom do the Russian civilians fear so much more than Americans that they hasten to lynch a flyer believed of that nationality -- just to check their mob passions at the very peak of the flood when learning that their intended victim does not qualify for their full hatred, that he is only an American?

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Canadians ought to don their thinking caps -- if they can be drawn away from the television set long enough -- and come up with different names to identify provincial government chiefs from their federal counterpart.

The way the situation now stands, a provincial government head is usually called a premier. We say usually, because Premier Frost of Ontario is the exception among ten provincial government heads. It is understood he likes to be called Prime Minister Frost.

We doubt if there is any written law which says premiers cannot be called prime ministers, or vice versa. Remember, premier means the same as prime minister: first minister.

Quite often, though, we in the newspaper business, who are "up" on the unwritten code of title-giving, hear things that are somewhat confusing. We hear Premier Leonard of British Columbia being called Prime Minister. Bennett by Princess Margaret and a radio commentator. Occasionally we hear Prime Minister Diefenbaker called a premier as though he headed the government in one of the provinces. All this makes us feel as if we have slept through a series of elections.

The issue is not a serious one. No doubt most of the provincial government heads would like to be Canada's prime minister, but let us not "elect" them until the ballots are counted.

LOST GLASSES

A woman in Hemet, California, who recently celebrated her 100th birthday, is still enjoying a lifetime which has seen the introduction of the telephone, the airplane, radio and television, tremendous advances in surgery, medicine and psychiatry, color printing, earth satellites, synthetic fabrics and pens which can write under water.

Understandably awed, a reporter interviewing her on her last birthday said, "You must have seen a lot in your lifetime." After a thoughtful pause, the lady said, "Well, no. It seems everything was always over by the time I could find my glasses." (Montreal Gazette.)

LIFE

Just a little bit of fun
Mixed with sorrow now and then,
Evening sees a duty done,
Morn finds us to work again.
Now a smile, and then a tear,
Rest today, tomorrow strife;
Thus an hour, a month, a year
Past, when all is said, is life.

Partly good and partly bad,
Partly weak, and partly strong,
Sometimes cheerful, sometimes sad,
Rich and poor both march along.

So it was—the same today;
So it will be to the last,
Till this world shall pass away.

Same old hopes and same desires,
Man is seeking to be blest,
Chilled by frost and warmed by fires,
Day for work, and night for rest.

Something gained, and something lost,
Birth and death on every hand;
Style in port, or rapport tossed,

HISTORIC BELLEVILLE

(Article thirty-eight in a series contributed by members of the Hastings County Historical Society).

'FENIAN SPIES'

When the Fenians, Irish-Americans were trying to promote Irish Independence, attacked Canada in the late 1800's, the 15th Battalion of Argyle Light Infantry was ready for the call to duty.

On May 31, 1866, "General" O'Neil had led a "horde of Fenians" into Canada, crossing the Niagara Frontier and capturing Fort Erie On June 3, this Fenian force of about 1,600 men beat off an attack by a body of Canadian volunteers, but the approach of a force of regulars discouraged the invaders and they retired to American soil.

On the same day that the Canadian volunteers were repulsed, the 15th was awaiting the call to arms. A newspaper account described June 2, the day before, as being very exciting days that this city has known. That evening, war crowds paraded the streets, singing patriotic songs, and cheering for Queen Victoria, the Empire, and Canada.

Finally, at noon on June 3, the call to arms came and eight hours later members of the 15th were on their way to Prescott, while members of the 1st Hastings Rifles were to follow later to Cornwall. Their orders were to be ready before nightfall to repulse the Fenian raiders.

On June 8th, the expected Fenian raid came, but further east than the local troops were stationed. Approximately 2,000 Fenians under Colonel Spence crossed into Quebec, but were soon driven back across the border by the Hochelaga Volunteers.

For another five years the Fenians, mostly by soliciting, created a state of uneasiness along the frontier from Minnesota until the movement collapsed in 1871, when O'Neil attempted a raid into Manitoba, only to be taken into custody by American forces.

Of the nearly 400 men who had taken their places in the 15th Battalion of the 1st Hastings Rifles to save their homeland, approximately half applied for and received Fenian medals in the 1890's.

An interesting sidelight on the raids is found in a letter from Lt. Col. W. N. Ponton, a later commanding officer of the 15th, recommending a participant in the Fenian defence for a medal. The applicant was William Clarke, who served in what was known as the Grand Trunk Railroad Brigade, which consisted of rifles and artillery." Ponton described the work of the applicant and the G.T.R. Brigade thusly:

"Applicant was color-sergeant of one of the companies which left their headquarters at Belleville. They were under arms for a considerable time and although afterwards disbanded, were fully uniformed by the Government, and were ready for annual pay for several years. Applicant was in charge of an engine, which he ran constantly ready and steamed up and down the line with himself and comrades detailed for that duty during the time when attacks were anticipated.

"This order was given after a salient train had been fired into by some miscreants and the car penetrated by several bullets. While on duty, he and his associates arrested "several suspicious characters as Fenian spies, who were afterwards released."

Thus did the Fenian raids affect the Quinte district.

Kill Locusts, Storks Too

Winnipeg Free Press

Storks, as everyone knows, bring babies; and, in Europe, they also bring good fortune to the household of anyone on whose chimney they build their big, ramshackle nests.

If this is so, however, the population and the good fortunes of Europe are going into a decline. The long-legged white stork is fast going the way of the whooping crane in North America. The decrease in their numbers has been described as "alarming" by the British bird experts.

Nobody seems to know for sure why the storks are disappearing, but one theory is that they are dying from a surfeit of poisoned locusts.

The big birds migrate each winter to Africa and back to Africa. These areas suffer from periodic plagues of locusts and every year thousands of tons of poison are spread across the land in an effort to control the insect menace. Storks are partial to locusts and it may be that they are thus unwittingly committing mass suicide by poison.

Bird enthusiasts are uniting to try to save the stork from extinction. One can only hope that they are successful and that the traditional symbol of fertility and fortune will long continue to decorate the chimneys of Europe.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Five hours from London to New York is one of the recent fast jet crossings of the Atlantic.

In my family, it has been, for several generations, a matter of pride that it took us twenty-six weeks.

It took seven weeks, partly by sail, by work, partly by stage coach, partly by thumbing rides from farmers, to get from Hailsham, Sussex, England, to the port of Glasgow, where, for seven days' work and fifteen-pence pounds, our life's savings, we took a boat full of sheep hides, for the port of Cork.

From Cork, in the soft month of April, 1818, we boarded ship, after paying thirty of our balance of thirty-five pounds for Canada. The name of the ship has been forgotten, but the master's name was Alex Buchanan, which, in our family records, is spelled Buhon-

Strength for The Day

NECESSITY OF PRODUCTION

There is no more exacting business in the world than that of poultry business. Those who run a poultry farm keep an exact record of just how many eggs a hen lays in a given period of time. A good poultry man knows just how much it costs to feed that hen. She must produce enough eggs per week or month in order to make her production of eggs profitable. When she fails below that requirement, a well-established business is put into operation and its requirements relentlessly imposed. The hen which fails to lay the required number of eggs in order to make the poultry business profitable is sold immediately for meat. The poultry man who hesitates or who fails to be relentless in what he and others have discovered is an unvarying law governing profits soon goes into bankruptcy. Deliver or die must be the slogan.

This principle, of course, runs through the whole of nature.

cannot contribute what is required for survival, they become extinct. It may appear cruel, but if the formula were not introduced and applied it would result in vastly more cruelty.

We live in an age which requires production. God is mercilessly hard on the unproductive. We have second chances and twenty-second chances, but an unwillingness to produce results in the process of production is never tolerated. We were created to produce and we must or die -- intellectually, spiritually, perhaps physically.

Miss Ella Gardiner, B.A., of Albert College, is spending her vacation at Burlington, Ontario.

Mrs. E. Smith of Rochester, N.Y., is the guest of Mrs. William Lecker in Old City.

Miss Marion Woodley is spending her vacation in Toronto and Buffalo.

Mrs. F. Palos has left to spend a month with friends at Orchard Beach, Lake Simcoe.

Mr. "Phill" Scott of the Intelligencer staff is spending a vacation at Colborne.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gordon, Bleecker Avenue, have returned home after visiting friends in Oakville and Niagara Falls.

40 YEARS AGO

July 16th., 1918

An interesting game of baseball was played on the Agricultural Grounds here between the Ponies and the Athletics. The former defeated the latter and the result was a score of 5 to 4 in favor of the Ponies after a game at times played snappy, ball. The pitching of J. Kelleher for the Ponies and of Allan Meagher for the Athletics was a feature of the game. The following were the teams: Ponies, — McGuire, Bird, Kelleher, Mott, Lynch, Duseborry, Moore, Philp, and Kelleher. The Athletics, — Allan, Stewart, Meagher, Watson, McKenna, Hooey, Armstrong, Green and Cook. Umpire was J. Ellis of the YMCA and Jack Fahey was scorer for the game.

Mr. Beecher-Doolittle, who has been connected with the Daily Ontario for some time, has left for Listowel, Ontario, where he has accepted a position with the Benner newspapers.

Old time personals from our file copy at this time in 1898: Miss Emmie Pringle, Exeter Avenue, went to Toronto today on a visit. Mrs. Bronson, Dundas Annex — Cartwright took a number of friends for a sail on the steamer Lansdowne from Gravenhurst. Mr. John McFee, sr., former Belleville resident, is in Cobourg. Mr. Baldwin Fallis, barrister, went to Montreal today. The Rev. C. M. Harris, Anglican rector of Napanee, was on a visit. Fire was discovered at Lingham's dock last night and was extinguished before much damage

Theory Which Shook World

Hamilton Spectator

One hundred years ago, the British naturalist, Charles R. Darwin, was the prominent of Victorian thought and belief with his theory of evolution which held that man and all other animals were descended from a common ancestor. This carried with it the implication that man was a near relative of the ape; as things have turned out, this is not very flattering to the ape than to man.

The controversy over publication of this paper by Darwin and his associate, Alfred R. Wallace, before the Linnean Society in London on July 1, 1858, has inspired recent newspaper and magazine articles on the theory. Many are interesting; some are amusing. Darwin's and Darwin's five-year voyage on the surveying ship, the "Beagle" from December, 1831, to October of 1836, on which he collected large quantities of specimens from South America, the south Atlantic islands and other remote areas that he studied and formed the basis of his theory in 1858, and his more comprehensive "The Origin of Species" published a year later, which established it.

On this continent, the theory that "man was descended from monkeys" had its liveliest day in court as recently as 1925. John T. Scopes, a teacher of biology in a high school in Dayton, Tennessee, was put on trial for violating a state law which forbade the teaching in public schools of "the theory that denies the story of the Divine creation of man as taught in the Bible."

William Jennings Bryan, who had been one of the United States' most prominent evangelical statesmen, assisted in the prosecution of Scopes. The decision was found guilty and fined $100 despite the brilliant defence performance of Clarence Darrow, the celebrated legal defender of unpopular causes.

If Darrow were alive today, he would be 101. Bryan is now often ridiculed for his profound oratory in almost forgotten crusades. The theory of evolution makes positive and tempers rise no longer—the New York Herald Tribune recently wrote that "a recent survey of 940 television viewers in London found that interest were unable even to guess at the meaning of the expression 'Darwin.' One in three could give no name in association with it."

Yet, the real ramifications of the atomic and hydrogen age, we are inclined to wonder what all the shouting was about; religion and evolution seem to be the ideas and ideals are as explosive as bombs. This still may be so if our world is to survive to de-

To Your Good Health

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

PERSPIRATION IS ONE OF THE MOST IMPORTANT FUNCTIONS OF HEALTH.

"Dear Dr. Molner. I have tried all kinds of cream deodorants and anti-perspirants and still no luck. I perspire a lot under the arms. It is very embarrassing at times and I've used a lot of deodorants. Is there anything I can do to check it a little? know you can't stop it completely.—C.P.F."

You wouldn't want to stop it completely. Perspiration is one of the important functions of health. Keeping your temperature at or close to the familiar 98.6 degrees is just one of these functions.

The anti-perspirants, by and large, are pretty good, but there aren't foolproof. They can't always do the job.

In this I'm speaking from personal experience as well as observation. I'm no skin-jim myself, and the bushier people have more trouble than the baldheads.

It's understandable, of course.

For another thing, the nervous pressure under which you live most definitely serves to bring to do with the problem, the pressure, and how you react to it.

I don't mean that you necessarily are jumpy or jittery. Those physicals or some other nervous system, has a great deal to the system which controls the actions over which we have no voluntary control — perspiring, blushing and such.

Sometimes the situation is extreme, it is quite possible that your physician may see fit to prescribe certain drugs which to some extent will suppress that nervous activity. I'm not liberately not naming any of the drugs. It wouldn't work anyhow, fooling around with them and getting into any trouble because of not knowing how to use properly.

PADS ARE RECOMMENDED

And one other remedy, perspiration pads, which can be folded over the armhole of a coat or dress, or pinned or temporarily stitched in place, are distinctly useful. Either men or women can use them. They don't stop perspiration, of course, but they will absorb it, and you can use them and throw them away instead of getting clothing soaked.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Can fat-ten marks be removed? W.H."

Yes, but it's quite a trick, and sometimes it is extremely difficult to get rid of the marks entirely. That's one good reason why girls should avoid avoid tattoos. Ask your doctor to remove it in a suitable specialist. He'll most likely advise a plastic surgeon, although some dermatologists (not all) handle such cases.

"Dear Sir: What is a re-laxation of the urinary bladder? What causes it? Can it be remedied by some exercise or is quiet needed — no lifting or heavy objects, etc? Or is an operation the only thing which will help?—S.O."

Relaxation of the bladder (or cystocele, pronounced sis-to-seal) results from relaxation or stretching of the tissues of the pelvic area. Childbirth is the usual cause. It can result in what is known as stress incontinence — a dribbling of urine. Exercise is of no value in treating it. If a case is severe, with chronic bladder infection and urinary distress, it can be repaired surgically.

Note to Mrs. R. B. — In his case, shortness of breath! I wonder how many thousands of letters like that Canadian wives whose husbands have some complaint or other, and worry and fret and worry, and still won't go to a doctor. There are the same letters from men. If they can't figure out what a funny noise in the car means, go to a mechanic. If they have no set methods of getting them to take their physical or physical complaints to a doctor. But — well, that's the thing to do, isn't it?

Are you a victim of "vitamin worry"? To make sure that your diet always contains proper food, write to me in care of this newspaper for my pamphlet, "Vitamins — Alphabet of Health," and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5c, in coin to cover handling.

Why Captain Sticks to Ship

Dublin Irish Digest

A naval recruit lost his rifle on the firing range. When told that he'd have to pay for it, he protested: "Suppose I was driving a naval tank and somebody stole it, would I have to pay for that, too?"

He was informed that he would have to pay for all government property he lost.

"Now," the recruit said, "I know why the captain always goes down with his ship."

TODAY'S TALK

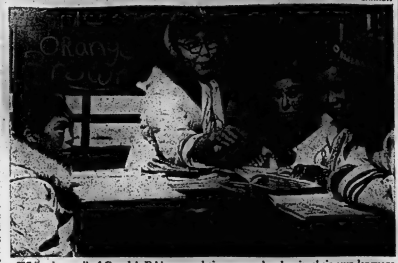
By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

IF INTERESTED

We can do so much better work, and more of it, if we are interested in it, not concerned with the money, or acclaim. Take the writer, for example. If he is interested in the writing and not in the fame and acclaim that he is doing, the chances are that he is doing valuable work.

I recently read that a person learns at eighty years of age as much as he learned in twenty — if that one is interested in learning. Bob Hope, the outstanding reporter for the Chicago Daily News, wrote several books on his travels as a reporter, and the title that he gave to his first book was "I Never Intended People." He was referring to people whom he met.

If we can interest ourselves, we can interest other people. Books that have something to say live a long time. I read books today that are still good books, and were read by those who were attracted to books that are worth while.



If you are a collector of books neglect.

English Lessons with Leah

CANADA

There was no school at bleak Resolute Bay, 560 miles inside the Arctic circle when Leah returned to her people after 2 years in a tuberculosis sanatorium. While away, the young Eskimo girl had learned to read and write English and, encouraged by the interest of youngsters who lived in the tiny 13-house settlement, Leah decided to hold some classes of her own. The experiment was encouraged by the local member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police who provided a small warehouse which served as a school and here for 2 years Leah and her young friends studied together.

While almost all of Canada's Eskimo population can read and write their own language, only about 10% can read and write English. This percentage is expected to rise sharply as the number of pupils in Canada's northland, which has grown from 450 to 1300 in 10 years, continues to increase. Leah (right, above) hopes evenmally to qualify as a teacher's aid.

Leah's "class" makes a wild dash to get indoors. Some days as many as 23 children, ranging from toddlers to teenagers, turned up for lessons.

Leah tells her friends about the many fascinating things she saw during her stay "down south". Eskimo children are very anxious to learn about the white man's life as well as their own storied past.

EISENHOWER

If British forces go into the area, and some authorities appear convinced they will do so, they are expected to go to Jordan in response to a request from King Hussein.

In a political sense, administration officials reported that Eisenhower and his advisers considered the decision to go into Lebanon vital for several reasons.

The first of these was that Lebanon's government has long been supported by the West. If it were allowed to fall, Western prestige would suffer a destructive blow and other nations which rely on promises of Western support would lose confidence, officials said.

Another reason was the stunning success of the lightning revolt in Iraq. Had the Washington government not responded forcefully to this challenge, in the administration's view, Jordan and Lebanon might have come under the domination of Nasser and even Saudi Arabia might have been jeopardized.

The state department said Tuesday night wildlife columnist Eugene Burns unofficially was reported killed in Baghdad Tuesday during the Iraq rioting.

The U.S. Embassy in Baghdad said Burns' death was "informally reported by third persons."

Burns was an Associated Press war correspondent in the Pacific. He telephoned news of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941 to the AP's San Francisco bureau it was a world beat.

After the war he worked for The AP for a time and then began writing his syndicated wildlife column, Is That So.

Russia Offers Friendship Pact With All States

LONDON (AP)—Russia Tuesday offered to join with all the states of Europe in a treaty of friendship and co-operation.

The Soviet proposal was set forth in notes handed to ambassadors of the big Western powers and West Germany in Moscow.

A Western diplomat in London said the projected treaty appears to be "a hodge-podge of all the old ideas the Russians have ever thought up" to promote East-West co-operation in trade, culture and the political field.

NO MILITARY

Lodge said the "brutal and revolting" overthrow of Iraq's pro-Western government Monday put new pressure on Lebanon from the U.A.R. The United States had answered a call for help from Chamoun and sent forces to Lebanon to safeguard Americans there and protect Lebanese independence.

The marines, Lodge said, "will be withdrawn as soon as the United Nations can take over." His resolution repeated this pledge.

John C. Holmes of Canada said the U.S. action in Lebanon was in conformity with the UN charter which authorizes individual and collective defence.

Holmes, assistant undersecretary of state for external affairs, said "clear proof" of the honesty of U.S. motives could be seen in Lodge's promise that the U.S. would withdraw when the UN had taken over responsibility for Lebanese security.

POET FOUND LABELS U.S. "INSANE ASYLUM"

American poet, Ezra Pound gives the fascist salute standing on the deck of the liner "Cristoforo Colombo", which took him back to Italy from the U. S. and an insane asylum. He had been secluded since after the war — for his pro-axis propaganda from the fascist radio. In Naples, Ezra Pound told the Italian press that "all America is an insane asylum" and that the greatest living poet is "Ezra Pound". He will take his residence in Italy, near Merano with his daughter.

NORAD Placed On Universal Readiness Status

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Air defence in the United States and Canada has been placed on a "universal readiness" status.

Gen. Earl E. Partridge, commander in chief of the North American Air Defence Command (NORAD), gave the order Tuesday after conferences with Canada's chiefs of staff and the U.S. Joint chiefs of staff.

NORAD said the "universal readiness" means a greater state of watchfulness and a small increase in number of aircraft and added readiness on an alert status at regular stations.

Says Troops Will Overthrow Iraq Rebels

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP)—A congressman says he has learned that 40,000 Iraqi and Jordanian troops will try to overthrow Iraq rebels within 72 hours.

Representative James E. Patterson (Rep.-Conn.), speaking Tuesday night from Washington in a telephone interview with the Waterbury Republican, also said "at the present indications are there will be little fighting."

Patterson, a member of the joint congressional armed services committee, would not identify his sources on the report of a possible counter-revolution in the Middle East.

But he said he has been told that 8,000 Iraqi infantry troops now in Jordan will be joined by 41,000 Jordanian troops in an attempt to put the deposed pro-Western government of Iraq.

Northern Ontario Hockey Referee Stabbed to Death

KIRKLAND LAKE (CP)—John E. Robinson, 47, today was charged with murder in the stabbing death of Douglas McCullough, a well known Northern Ontario hockey referee.

McCullough, 36, of South Porcupine, was stabbed four times in his room at the Park Lane Hotel early today. He died in hospital.

Teck Township police said Robinson, his wife Irene, 35, and another hotel guest, Bill Hannigan, were in McCullough's room when a fight broke out.

Gas War Brings Lowest Retail Price Since 1930

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Windsor district's gasoline price war continued today with the lowest retail price for standard gasoline since 1930.

Early Tuesday a local service station posted 26.9-cent signs and by today most other stations in Windsor and suburbs had dropped to the low price. Veteran service station operators said the price was the lowest in this district since 1930 when gas was sold at 25 cents per gallon for a brief period.

The normal retail price in this district for standard grade is 43.9 cents. The price for premium grade, 46.9 cents, is unchanged.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Robert Bell are shown cutting the wedding cake following their recent marriage at the United Church parsonage, Havelock, Ontario. The bride is the former Lousanne Belle Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Foster, Havelock, Ontario. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bell, of Belleville.

BELL — FOSTER

A quiet wedding took place on Saturday at the United Church parsonage, Havelock, when Lousanne Belle Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Foster, Havelock, was united in marriage to Gordon Robert Bell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bell, of Belleville. The Rev. Harvey Allea officiated.

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pink sheer nylon chiffon. The ballerina-length bouffant skirt had several ruffles of matching material. The moulded bodice of nylon chiffon lace was topped with matching bolero. Her circular veil of pink nylon tulle was caught to a matching full lace headdress and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

She was attended by her sisters, Miss Sheila Foster, bridesmaid, and Miss Kayiene Foster, flower girl.

The bridesmaid wore a gown of blue nylon sheer with all-over white design, full skirt, cowl neckline dipping to a V at the back, and matching feather headdress. She carried yellow mums.

The flower girl wore a sheer blue nylon frock with ruffled full skirt, round collar and ruffled short sleeves trimmed with rhinestones. She wore a halo of white flowers and carried yellow mums.

The groomsman was Ted Bell.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The bride's mother received wearing a gown of printed blue nylon and a close-fitting white flower hat and a corsage of pink carnations. The mother of the bridegroom also received, wearing a gown of blue printed silk on a white background and a white straw flower trimmed hat. She chose a corsage of pink carnations.

For travelling the bride chose a beige and brown polished cotton dress with beige bodice matching duster coat, feather hat, matching beige accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The couple will live in Belleville.

Guests were present from Belleville, Halloway, Moira, Peterborough, Lakefield, Guelph, Toronto and Cannifton.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Orval Cairns are shown cutting the wedding cake in St. Paul's parish hall, following their marriage in Roslin United Church, Roslin, Ontario. The bride is the former Miss Margaret Elizabeth (Betty), eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Bailey, of Roslin, and her bridegroom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cairns of Stirling. (Photo by William E. Riley, Belleville.)

CAIRNS — BAILEY

A very pretty early summer wedding was held on Monday, June 23rd at 2.30 p.m. in Roslin United Church, by the Rev. Ralph Middleton, pastor of the church, when Margaret Elizabeth (Betty), eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Bailey, of Roslin, was united in marriage to Edward Orval, only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Cairns of Stirling.

Baskets of rose and white peonies, lupins and bellstrope adorned the altar rail and white satin flower centred bows designated the guest pews.

Miss Margaret Bates, of Plainfield, presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Miss Doreen Woodcock of Tweed, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her bridal gown of white nylon net and Chantilly lace over taffeta in ballerina length, fashioned with moulded, strapless bodice and bouffant skirt with peplum topped with a large bow. The fitted Chantilly lace jacket featured long, pointed sleeves ending in lily points over the wrists and small Peter Pan collar. Her finger tip veil of nylon net bordered with Chantilly lace was held in place with a half tiara of sequins and pearls. Her only adornment was a pearl choker and earrings, the gift of her bridegroom, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Happiness roses and stephanotis with rosebud knotted streamers.

Miss Carol Bailey was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a princess line dress in apple green taffeta. The portrait neckline was draped to a large bow at the back.

The senior bridesmaids were: Misses Beth Holden of Moira, Lynn Kirk of Roslin, Marie Duquette of Actinolite and Beverley Tracey of Roslin.

All were gowned alike in apple green taffeta, in ballerina length, made on lines similar to that of the maid of honor's. Matching picture hats completed the ensemble.

Misses Joyce Bailey, cousin of the bride and Heather Jane Empson were junior bridesmaids. They wore sun-yellow taffeta dresses and matching picture hats.

The maid of honor and all bridesmaids carried nosegays of white mums centred with a yellow rose with matching streamers.

The little flower girl, Lois Scott, cousin of the bride, wore a rose-figured, white nylon dress and bandeau of roses and carried a basket of flowers in pink and white.

Mr. Fred Elliot, Halloway, was groomsmen, and the ushers were Mr. Wm. Graham and Mr. Murray Elliott, both of Stirling.

A reception for around 75 guests was held in St. Paul's parish hall, which was suitably decorated with baskets of flowers and streamers in pink and white.

The bride's table was appointed with white damask and centred by the traditional three-tiered wedding cake, topped with two white doves holding rings in their beaks and flanked by white tapers in silver candelabra, flowers and bridal bouquets.

The bride's mother received the guests wearing a gown of pale blue chiffon, matching picture hat, white accessories and corsage of pink roses, assisted by the bridegroom's mother who wore a grey nylon dress, pink picture hat, pink accessories and corsage of carnations.

For travelling the bride chose a dress of powder blue crystalette made on princess lines with accessories of a combination of pink carnations.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Cairns will reside in Stirling.

Out-of-town guests were from Hamilton, Belleville, Bancroft, Madoc, Stirling, Shannonville, Napanee, Frankford and Foxboro.

Previous to her marriage the bride was honored at two miscellaneous showers, one given by her schoolmates at the home of Miss Doris Golden, with Misses Margaret Bates and Hazel Ellsworland as co-hostesses, and another at the home of Mrs. J. D. Rogers with Mrs. Joe Childs as co-hostess.

This - - - and That

By HARRIET STEVENS

Going Shopping?

It is a good question or is it? More and more T & T appreciates the fact that shopping is a creature of the weather and since the weather is by and large the natural accessory of our seasons, we shop seasonally. We have our annual spree at Christmas time with all that Yuletide means when we shop to please appetites and shop to please dad's choice in ties, son's choice of sport equipment, and daughter's choice of dolls, and all the multitude of demands. We follow through the year with birthday, anniversary, wedding, Easter, camping, school and Thanksgiving shopping. Then, of course, the nations greatest buyer, the housewife, has her day-in and day-out table to shop for, clothes to provide and on and on forever. Shopping is big business and eternal business.

This week, when we were making the rounds of our Belleville stores, we discovered that most folk felt as we did. With humidity at its seasonal summer heat here at last and with holidays, lakes and touring beckoning who wants to shop.

People are really wonderful. We saw one very hot lady with arms loaded down with parcels lose her grip load as eggs broke, weakening one bag. Cans and what not scattered hither and yon in the street. You could almost hear her counting to ten. Suddenly she laughed at herself and her predicament. "There," we said inwardly, "why can't you be like that when you are shopping in this wonderful summer weather." We find ourselves wishing in summer for the cool and in the winter we can't wait for summer to return. It all works out for the best, no doubt. Imagine shopping now for those things we are dreading in December. Our lady with the torn bags made us realize that fresh vegetables, the fresh produce of farm and garden, help to alleviate an otherwise trying daily routine.

We had a list of this and that for shopping news today but we decided to tear it up and join in the spirit of summer — who knows to shop yet, what fun it is to rush in to a shop for a bunch of fresh radish, lettuce, fresh and innumerable things from the harvest of the land. It isn't too bad really and too soon we shall be shopping for scribblers, woollies and all those things changing seasons demand. Good shopping wherever you are.

T & T is truly off the beam in this column. We had shopping news prepared about us there it was all ready to go. We were all set for a couple of other items to leave from out the window with our eyes and our thoughts. Suddenly we accused ourselves. How can you write about such chit chat housekeeping routine things as broken eggs, scattered parcels and a pleasant woman counting her change? What place the humdrum affairs in a world of strife? Speculation may be a risky and dangerous journey on a moonbeam of dreams and it probably is. However T & T looking out the window recalled the many, many people periodically reported simple deeds of humanitarianism. Just recently a newspaper told of a group of women who have organized a "Drop of Milk" group in the Arab world. Still gazing out the window T & T wondered if all this ought not be called a drop literally in the ocean of misfortune that rip us apart. We recall, too, that in This & That a long time ago we reported the social reform work of the sister of the king (until yesterday) of Iraq. Maybe the fact that we can talk across the back fence about such human things as shopping, the weather and those things dear to the hearts of housewives is a safety valve. In a world entangled in the web of its own intricacy, it seems to T & T that it is a relief to envision the horizon from the straightaway of simple things where detours are at a minimum. Maybe it is not good to dwell in frustration but realize occasionally that the privileges to do simple things like shopping and grousing in summer heat or winter frigidity is a profound freedom to be cherished and safeguarded.

Possibly T & T should apologize for wandering from its prepared text to meander in the garden variety of the common things of life like shopping. We trust that it is not irresponsible to those things happening in the sounds of mankind when we once in a while discover anew the simple freedoms and pleasures so precious to what we understand as our way of life.

And so once again, Good Shopping wherever you are.

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

TODAY'S COURTESY TIP: ASK PERMISSION FIRST

Do you need a reference, social or business or professional, for the new position for which you are applying for a house or apartment, or for any other application? If so, remember this: before you take the liberty of giving the name of a person as reference, courtesy demands that you first ask the person's permission. That's the decent thing to do.

PROPER FOR THEM TO ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am 58, and am marrying for the first time in September, my fiance being a widower, 45 years of age. We are to be married in the small chapel of my church, with only our attendants present. No invitations, of course, but we wish to send out quite a large number of formal announcements. My question is about these. I have only one relative, a brother much older than I, whom I never knew well, who married many years ago and went to live many hundreds of miles from here. He has written me that it will be impossible for him and his wife to come to my wedding. However, I have been told that I should send our marriage announcements in the names of my brother and his wife. In the circumstances t h i s seems far-fetched to me. What do you advise? — B. T.

Since apparently you have no real wish to have your brother and his wife sponsor your formal marriage announcements, it would be entirely proper for, you two mature people to make your own announcement. Like this:

Miss Beatrice Thompson and
Mr. Robert Wright announce their marriage
on Tuesday, the second of September
Nineteen hundred and fifty-eight
City, Province

TOAST PROCEDURE

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

It is very important to me to have the answer to this question as soon as possible: When a toast is proposed to me, how long should I wait before taking a sip of the wine in my glass? I have been told that I must be very 'observant' about this procedure. — Reader

You have been told right . . . for if you take a sip of your wine too soon after the toast has been proposed to you, you may s.em to be drinking to yourself! So don't be in too much of a hurry. Correct procedure: when a toast is proposed to you, you must n o t touch your glass of wine to your lips until the others have drunk the toast. If the others stand while drinking the toast, you remain seated.

CORRECT SIGNATURE FOR CHECKS

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am about to start my first bank account. Should I sign my checks Grace Brown or M i s s Grace Brown? (I have no middle name). — Reader Sign your checks with your legal signature, no title . . . Grace Brown.

Satin Success

By VERA WINSTON

Much satin gleams under the bright lights, although this lustrous fabric was not on the fabric rollcall at the start of the season. Black silk satin is used for an evening coat that has a luxurious look although it is day length. The contour belt dips in back and comes up to a short waistline in front, above the gathered front section. There are gathers centre-back, also. The coat is lined in white satin and has a white mink collar.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Flora S. — The younger kids bother my boy friend and me.

Mrs. F. S. — They are normal kids — you can't keep them down.

Flora S. — I am nearly 17 and a senior in high school. I am having an awful problem with my younger sisters and brothers and my mother.

I have a steady boy friend and he visits me nearly every night so he can help me with my homework. My younger sisters and brothers then start acting up, making noise, stupid jokes and embarrassing remarks. When I tell my mother to make the kids stop, she says she doesn't like the idea of me getting help with my homework from Larry.

It's gotten so he doesn't want to come over to my house any more. He wants me to come over to his house, but my mother makes a fuss about that too.

* * *

Mrs. F. S. — Although Larry got out of high school last year and therefore thinks he knows something, I happen to know that he got through school by the skin of his teeth and I think Flora was doing a lot better before she got him to help with her homework.

I told her to do her homework by herself, but then she spends half the evening talking to him on the telephone, so it's no use trying to keep him from helping with her homework.

don't want Larry helping with her homework.

Flora should not be seeing her boy friend every night of the week and the homework excuse is not a good one. Homework is given for the express purpose of making the student wrestle with certain problems on his own.

Flora should realize she is depriving herself of a valuable experience when she doesn't learn independence in this respect. The library should be her only source of help with her homework.

Mrs. F. S. seems unable to lay down the law as to the telephone. There should be a time limit on telephone calls. If Flora will not respect this limit, she should lose her telephone privileges.

It appears to us that Mrs. F. S. is using the younger children to make things unpleasant for Flora and Larry. This can only result in the chaos this family seems to be suffering from.

Where is Mr. F. S. while all this is going on? It sounds as though a firm masculine hand is needed somewhere in this picture.

The younger children should learn that if they want their rights respected, they must treat others with courtesy. We don't go along with the theory that "normal kids" can't be kept in line when they understand the rules of the household and t h e reasons for those rules.

Cans Provide Party

by Mary Moore

Seven p.m. was the time for two pressing events: a pair of beloved friends were arriving from 20 miles distant, and the mail was collected at our corner box. I had to have copy ready for that mail collection and dinner ready for the descending guests. It was 4 p.m. and that tyrannical telephone had been ringing all day.

I pulled out a sheet of paper and wrote down the menu for dinner, knowing what was on the shelves for emergency occasions such as this, then turned back to the typewriter and finished the typing job, put it in the envelope and loped up to the mailbox with it.

At 5:45 the human windmill blew into the kitchen, opened some cans and made:

WEDNESDAY

(Neighbor-guests)
Crumbed Chicken Livers with Frizzled Wafer-thin Back Bacon; Chinese Rice; Cauliflower with Cheese Sauce; Fresh Berry Pie with Cream Cheese; Coffee.

SEAFOOD AU GRATIN

(To serve 4.) Three tablespoons each flour and butter, 1 1-2 cups top milk and homogenized mixed, 1-3 teaspoon salt, 1 1-4 cups well-packed chopped canned lobster (or lobster and crabmeat or lobster and shrimp), 1 tablespoon each chopped chives and green pepper, grated cheese (preferably Parmesan) and finely rolled cracker crumbs — about 1-4 cup. Melt butter, stir in flour and salt, then the milk until thick. Add lobster or other seafood and chives and green pepper. Turn into 4 ovenproof seashells or into shallow baking dish. Sprinkle evenly with cheese and crumbs mixed. Bake at 375 deg. until bubbly and golden.

With this I served hot rolls (which I had taken from the freezer and thawed and browned in the oven at the same time the seafood was baking) and

FROSTED TEA

To frost the rims of glasses dip the rims in lime or lemon juice and then dip into granulated sugar. Or for a less sweet frosting dip in lime or lemon juice and store glasses, rim down in freezer compartment of refrigerator. Remove just before using. Fill tall glasses with ice cubes, pour over hot strong freshly brewed tea. Pass also wafer crackers and Roquefort or Stilton or Swiss cheese or whatever you like best.

FINE INSTRUMENT

The clarinet, popular in orchestral music, has a range of 3½ octaves.

Child Welfare Groups Plan National Parley In 1960-Cost $85,000

By EDNA USHER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — A national conference on children to be held in Canada in 1960 is being planned by representatives of various groups interested in child welfare.

The aim of the conference is to study children's needs, the resources available for meeting them, and to make recommendations for improved services where necessary.

"We want to determine a minimum level of care and opportunity for every child, below which no child must be permitted to fall," said Dr. Reva Gerstein, president of the National Council of Jewish Women, who is chairman of the conference's planning committee.

"The conference may recommend legal changes and new facilities to ensure this."

WIDE REPRESENTATION

Dr. Gerstein said the gathering would enable about 400 doctors, lawyers, clergymen, social workers, educationists, psychologists, representatives of industry and others to exchange information. Services for children could be co-ordinated, duplication prevented and gaps filled.

Cost of the conference, about $85,000, will be met by contributions from industry.

It is expected that 30 reports on various aspects of child life will be heard at a meeting of the planning committee scheduled for Ste. Adele, Que., Oct. 2-4.

A study of infant mortality is being made by Dr. Jean Webb, Ottawa, who will report to the Ste. Adele meeting.

"Canada's infant mortality rate is 14th in the world," said Dr. Gerstein. "We may not be taking adequate care of children in some areas and this must be rectified."

ACCIDENT MENACE

Dr. S. Weyman, Saint John, N.B., is in charge of a study of accidents. A planning committee report says accidents are the major cause of death from the end of the first year of life until adulthood.

Dr. Samuel Laycock, noted Saskatoon psychology professor, has already prepared a report on educational facilities for retarded, physically handicapped and exceptional children.

Other studies are being made by Dr. J. F. McCreary, Vancouver; Dr. E. Martin, Edmonton; Prof. W. B. Baker, Saskatoon; Dr. Stanley Best, Regina; J. A. Carmichael, Winnipeg; Dr. Marjorie King and Miss Beatie Tousel, Toronto; Dr. L. Patterson, Mrs. J. Warren, Dr. S. Rabinovitch and Dr. J. M. Beauchemin, Montreal; K. Parker, Charlottetown and F. R. MacKinnon and Mrs. J. M. C. Duckworth, Halifax.

SUSAN'S EXEMPT

LONDON (CP)—A letter from the London county council to a resident in Southwark asked why five-year-old Susan had not yet attended school. The resident indignantly replied: "Susan's my cat."

Beach Figures

By ALICE ALDEN

There are chemises and trapezes in the beachtogs line-up, but there are plenty of figure-hugging jobs, also, much to the delight of the girl who has a fine figure or who has worked for it, and likes to wear the right kind of swimsuit to display same. For her, there are such creations as this one-piece boy-shorts swim suit. A tiny cord braid edges the bodice and shapes a double front trim. This detail is repeated for the simulated pockets. The suit comes in elasticized shades of shrimp, lime and azure as well as the always popular black and white — the favorite colors for the well bronzed skin.

Men's Fashions Come Into Their Own This Year

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the year for the men, says globe-trotting designer Hannah Troy, presenting a collection of strictly feminine fall fashions.

The new clothes for fall shown by Mrs. Troy and most other New York couture designers prove that women do dress to please men, after all. The loud cries of male anguish that greeted this summer's sack dresses, which made most women look like an unmade bed, have been heeded by the gals who set the pace for fashions.

So there are no more shapeless chemises in view, no more of the grotesque silhouettes which suggested mass pregnancy.

For calculated allure, consider Hannah's short evening dress in ice blue satin, with "pcaflant" skirt and ostrich hemline, worn with a matching coat.

SHOW LEGS AGAIN

"Now that women are showing their legs again," says Mrs. Troy, "interest shifts to the hemline—and can you imagine anything more intriguing than a moving, fluttering fringe of ostrich about a pair of beautiful legs!"

The collection at the New York house of Christian Dior, the second designed by young Yves St. Laurent, features the "Liberty line," and tends toward modifications of his trapeze silhouette of last spring.

In the suit collections jackets are short and unfitted, with widi trsped collars, bi, boxs and other neckline accents.

There are many short evening gowns with dome or bell-shaped skirts, many with a huge bow and sash at the bust, front and centre with trapeze drape falling from shoulders to hem in back.

Nicolson Clan Holds Annual Get-Together

On July 13th, the Nicolson clan met at Frankford community park to celebrate their annual get-together. The happy time was started by 52 members sitting down to a table well laden with goodies. After

"The pang of hunger was no more;
The tablecloth wrinkled and puckered;
The dishes were put through a test;
The knives and forks had been good sports,
So crept under the plates to rest.

The teapot beamed, and tipped his lid,
Now, 'bert that if you can;'
The table bowed and cried out loud,
'I held up the Nicolson clan'."

The members were called together by the president, John Thompson of Queenstown, who welcomed all, thanked his electors of the previous year and stated he was happy and honored to act as president for 1958.

The secretary's report was given and since the last reunion there had been one death, two marriages and three births.

There was honorable mention of Garnet Rollins, for making the most progress of any pupil in the school. Douglas Thompson of Queenston won three scholarships; Lois Lough passed to high school with honors; Jack Nicolson of Oshawa, passed his firs! year studies in Queen's University with over 70 per cent. These were congratulated.

OFFICERS ELECTED

The election of officers for 1959 was as follows: president, Arthur McCarey of Tweed; vice-president, Kenneth Rollins of Peterborough; secretary-treasurer, Ruth Clark of Trenton; sports committee, May Short; Cecil May and Sam Nicolson, all of Belleville.

The 1959 reunion will be held on the second Sunday in July at the cottage of Beatrice and Gilmour Rutherford, Sunset View, on Lake Scugog.

Mr. Arthur McCarey made a short speech in appreciation of the secretary-treasurer, Ruth Clark, thanking her for her good work during the past two years. Ruth expressed her thanks in return.

Mr. Wallace Tucker was unable to attend the reunion because of ill health.

The sports followed and caused much laughter and excitement.

Girls under six, running race, Dale Lough. Whistling, Gloria Rollins. Boys under six, running, George May. Somersault, Geo. May. Girls, 6 to 12, hop, Sharon Nicolson. Boys 6 to 12, 50 yd. dash, Richard May, Garnet Rollins. Ladies' race, powdering the boy's face, Greta and Geo. Nicolson, Beulah May and Roy Clark. Minute race, Myrtle Kirby. Carry chip on straw, Beulah May. Men, carry peanut in shell on very small spoon, Cecil May.

A peanut scramble was enjoyed by all.

The oldest lady present was Mrs. W. Tucker, and the oldest man present, Mr. W. Rollins.

The children enjoyed the water and the parents talked over the year's happenings. As the evening drew near the departures were taken and each left with a warm handshake and the wish to meet again next year.

A POEM by REXAIR

Let's clean the Rexair way.
Go through your house each day.
It's worth all you pay,
Takes all the dust away.
While you're using your Rexair
Dust vanishes from the air.
Dust, smoke and an odor,
The best I've (ever) seen.
Your air's clean and cool,
For the Rexair doesn't fool.
It beats as it blows,
Let's you breath through stuffy nose.
Wash your hair, but don't worry,
Rexair dries it in a hurry.
Chesterfields, in dfame like white snow,
What? No! It's dry in half an hour or so.
No more old dirty dust rags,
No more germs to spoil your bags.
Dust and germs are trapped in water.
So hurry, get yours and do not falter.
To get over the odors aint it even sprays on the paint.
Takes odors out of the air.
That wonderful machine, called it clean.
It cleans and washes windows and floors.
It will even put wax upon your floors.
When the water is full of dirt,
Just empty out the little squirt.
Then the air as pure as rain.
Just get clean water and start over again.
The little Rexair is worth more than wealth,
The germs it'll even cleans itself.
I hope you like my little poem,
About my Rexair in my home.

Large Crowd Attends WMS Family Party

Approximately 70 adults and children attended the family party of Mount Pleasant Bowden Woman's Missionary Society, held Wednesday at the church hall.

The group included Mrs. Ernest Spencer, leader of the Baby Band, with the Baby Band members and their mothers; Mrs. Harry McAdam, leader of the Mission Band and the members of that organization; 13 members of the W.M.S., and 15 adult visitors, with guests from Madoc Junction, Stirling and Toronto and over 40 children.

Mrs. Herbert Smith, W.M.S. president, welcomed the group while Mrs. F. Jeffs offered prayer, which included the society's prayer partner in British Columbia.

The treasurer's report showed one new life member, 18 paid annual members, and $120 remitted to the Presbyterial treasurer.

Japanese cut-outs were displayed, the work of the pupils of the Allen School and Williams School. Peonies and roses were used for decoration.

The offering was gathered by Penny Smith and Freddy McAdam and dedicated by Mrs. W. G. Fletcher.

The next meeting will be held August 13 at the church hall with Mrs. Vyll Potts and Mrs. Earl McAdam in charge.

The mothers and members of the Baby Band were given seats of honor and the children sang "Praise Him," with Miss Carol Sharpe as accompanist. Mrs. Ernest Spencer read "The Story of the Gift Boxes," and the group all read a special part in unison.

A lovely graduation service followed when Karen Summers, Linda Lee Potts, Doreen Hubble, Joyce Jeffs, Gordon Spencer, Keith McConnell, and Gordon Hoard were transferred to the Mission Band.

The 24 Mission Band members and their leader formed an arch and recited the welcome pledge. The Baby Band now has 31 members on its roll.

Both leaders expressed a "thank-you" to the W.M.S. and special welcome to the guest speaker.

Pauline Johnson, president of Mount Pleasant Sunbeam Mission Band, then presided and opened the program with a hymn.

Mrs. Harry McAdam, leader of the Mission Band, and her group, repeated the Mission Band "Purpose" in unison.

Brenda Williams read the Bible lesson and Mrs. McAdam offered prayer.

Mary Ellen David and Diane McAdam contributed a piano duet and Kenny Smith read a story. Piano selections were given by Barbara Williams and Sally McAdam. Freddie McAdam read a poem from "World Friends." Judy Cooney, Shirley Potts and Joyce Cooney sang "Serving Jesus," with Mrs. Mac Sharp as accompanist. Miss Judy McAdam sang a vocal selection.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Maurice Clancy, of Madoc Junction. She is the newly elected secretary of Mission Bands for Belleville - Presbyterial.

Mrs. Clancy displayed a series of pictures which showed children assisting Mission Band leaders in packing bales, and dedicating offerings. She also showed pictures of interesting worship centres and gave helpful ideas.

In 1957 there were 1175 members of Mission Bands and that group contributed over $2,000 to Belleville Presbyterial treasure, thus showing how a few pennies here and there soon mount up to a substantial sum, she said.

She urged the need of more leaders all over the Presbyterial as last year several groups had to disband for lack of leadership. The Mission Band is the best medium of reaching children the love of God, she declared.

Mrs. Clancy displayed the map of North America and told of the new study this fall.

She suggested to the children that they place a few pennies in their mite-box each week and not wait until December to put in their gift.

The speaker delighted the children with a story of interest on the theme "Building a Bridge of Kindness," and closed with "The Value of a Smile."

Nancy David read an address of appreciation and Lorraine Jeffs presented Mrs. Clancy with a gift on behalf of the two Bands. Mrs. Clancy expressed grateful thanks.

At the close of the meeting a table of gifts was sold and almost $4 was collected. The loose collection and gift table netted the two bands $11.70 and this was equally divided.

Members of the W.M.S. then served refreshments with Mrs. Gordon Hann and Mrs. Roy Thrasher convening the lemonade and kitchen duties.

Fabric Favorites

By VERA WINSTON

Rich silk and delicate lace are an irresistible combination for party clothes. Here, deep jewel-tone green silk faille is combined with matching green Chantilly-type lace for a short evening dress that should hold its own amidst all those floor-length gowns. The silk is cut in redingote fashion, breaking away to reveal the complete lace dress beneath. A cleverly cut cummerbund minimizes the waist.

'Dancing Nymph' New Silhouette By Designer

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP)—The "dancing nymph" silhouette is Cel Chapman's latest contribution to the field of feminine skullduggery after dark.

Shown in both cocktail and long evening gowns, it is based on a slender sheath, with cocoon-shaped puffed panels caught under at hipline or bandline, for highly dramatic effect.

The glamor designer follows the season's trend to empire waistlines, but puts her heart into such man-traps as a long, slender, white brocade evening sheath with long, tight sleeves, a revealing neckline and a platinum fox border at the hemline.

No matter what the prevailing silhouette, Mrs. Chapman never obscures the basic lines of the feminine figure. This season she uses a device called the "masked sheath" to bow to the empire line and still reveal a trim waistline.

GIVES AIRINESS

This type of dress has bands or seaming beneath the high, rounded bustline, with flimsy, transparent floating skirt over a fitted slip. This gives movement and airiness to the silhouette, but does not hide the lines of the body beneath it all.

The "diamond horseshoe" silhouette is another favorite in the Chapman collection, being a long, sheath with flaring cutaway bustline, to give ankle room.

Jewels, beads, sequins and fringe lend opulent notes to the lineup, which has plenty of dresses with fitted bodices and full skirts to please girls who still believe in the impact of a slender, natural waistline, well displayed. There also are frankly fitted floor-length sheaths, usually with long, tight sleeves, in brocades, satins and jewelled effects, designed to accent feminine curves.

"After all," says the sparkling Cel, "a woman is still a woman, so why not admit it?"

250 Members Of Gunter Clan Hold Reunion

The largest and best represented re-union, to date, of the Gunter clan, was held at Crystal Beach, Madoc, on July 12th, when approximately 250 members assembled under ideal weather conditions with well-laden baskets of delicious food at this central ideal beach which affords every convenience.

Children's races and games were eagerly contested with balloons for prizes. Swimming, boating, surfriding were all enjoyed.

All were happy as one big family tracing connections and relationship.

A two-minute silence was regarded for the absent member, Mr. Sam Gunter, of Wooler, who had been the eldest man present in 1957, but who had passed on in March of 1958.

The prizes for the youngest present went to Bonnie Peters, of Millbridge, while Mrs. Charles Gunter, of Kingston was the eldest lady, and Mr. John Wilmer, of Port Washington, N.Y., the eldest man. Mr. Frank Wilmer, of New York, who had come 400 miles, the greatest distance, received a prize; and Russell Gunter, of Ormsby, carried off the prize for having the largest family, eight members.

At a short business meeting the president, Mr. Clifford Gunter, of Kingston, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Clifford Gunter, were re-elected for another year, also the committees.

It was decided to hold the 1959 reunion at Crystal Beach on the second Sunday in July.

Mrs. Clara Clarke, of Coe Hill, the oldest lady present in 1957, was unable to be present, and because of this, a card, well filled with names, was sent to Mrs. Her daughter, Mrs. William Crosby, who is preparing a 'family tree', was on hand to obtain information wherever possible.

The president and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gunter, of Kingston, deserve much credit for the splendid success of the 1958 reunion.

Reaction Varies To Archbishop's Views on H-Bomb

TORONTO (CP) — Reaction of Canadian religious leaders to a warning by the Archbishop of Canterbury that the destruction of mankind by nuclear weapons may be God's will ranged from agreement to sharp criticism.

Dr. Geoffrey Fisher is quoted in a book published in England Monday as saying that for all he knows "it is within the providence of God that the human race should destroy itself" with nuclear weapons.

Commented Canon H. R. Hunt, general secretary of the Anglican Church of Canada:

"There is ample scriptural reference to show that perversity in human conduct and wanton disobedience of divine law result inevitably in the destruction and death of sinful mankind.

"It may be argued that the continued production of nuclear weapons of destruction, with the intention of use, does not contravene the moral law of God as contained in holy scripture. But the teaching of scripture is most definite: 'God is not mocked: whatsoever man sows that shall he reap.'"

Rt. Rev. J. S. Thomson, moderator of the United Church of Canada, said in Montreal:

"It is one of the most astounding statements I've ever heard, a singularly futile, stupid and unChristian contribution to the present crisis in the world. Far from being the will of God, the destruction of the world is much more likely to be the will of the devil."

Rabbi Abraham Feinberg of Toronto's Holy Blossom Temple said the archbishop seemed dangerously unaware of human nature.

"The worst possible frame of mind for people today is fatalism—the belief that the destruction of the human race may be inevitable and that, therefore, we can do nothing about it. Such a hopeless attitude will lead to suicide, whether theologians may say about God."

PRINCESS MARGARET GIVES S PEECH OF THANKS IN VICTORIA

On the steps of the parliament buildings in Victoria, B.C., Princess Margaret gave a 300-word speech to express her pleasure at being in Canada. With her were Mayor Percy Scurrah and his wife. Her address was broadcast throughout Canada and cheered by thousands who heard it at the buildings in Victoria.

West United in Gravest Crisis Since Suez in 1956

By LLOLD McDONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The gravest crisis in the Mid-East since Suez in 1956 has one major point of difference from that earlier threat to peace. This time the West is united.

It seems likely that the West will need that unity in the days ahead, since the early moves of this 1958 crisis have put the non-Communist powers in a dangerous situation as far as the Middle East is concerned and left the Soviet Union enjoying its propaganda gains.

The overthrow of the pro-Western Iraqi government brought quick American intervention with the landing of troops in Lebanon, which is being linked with its Middle East alliance, and in the current flareup, Britain immediately voiced support of the United States action. So far reaching results of which are still to be determined.

There lies the contrast between 1956 and today. In the British-French Suez intervention the American government backed off — even joined the world against the canal nationalization by Egypt's President Nasser—and the Western alliance was split for a time.

Now, with the U.S. itself taking the initiative to counter the heavy blow to Western influence in this area of almost complete turmoil, the NATO Allies are solidly behind Washington, and have so expressed themselves in the United Nations or their own capitals.

Despite the oft-observed Arab impression that Britain has more to lose because of its Commonwealth to Iraq, itself, the U.S. now apparently has decided in this instance and come to the conclusion that its own resources of that vital oil commodity and Jordan's existence and those of the Middle East areas are under the same threat.

The immediate threat is the surge of Arab nationalism which has caught fire since Nasser took since over power in Egypt. And overlying that is Russia's own interest in the Middle East, which lifts the regional crisis — which could be serious enough in itself — to what might be called the summit level of international tension.

For Nasser the time has been opportune. Despite his military failure in 1956, his political victory in the subsequent settlement and the withdrawal under virtual censure by the UN of the British, French and Israeli forces has made him a hero and a symbol to millions of Arabs who see little enlightenment in any form of foreign exploitation.

Russia has been quick to encourage this, dangling the carrot of the Soviet bread of socialism before impoverished people who feel that this at least is worth a try and simultaneously bolstering the popular leader himself with political support.

Russia's call in the UN for the withdrawal of American marines from Lebanon perhaps counted more with the Arab masses than any reasoned approaches to the problem by the Western side.

The U.S. and Britain have a political problem in the Iraqi strategic oil question. The Iraqi capital was the headquarters of the Baghdad Pact, which Britain and several Middle East countries in a pro-Western alliance which had American blessing if not participation. The loss of this pact is a crushing blow to Western-minded elements among the Arab states. These elements are not normally found among the masses.

Then there is the effect of the Iraqi uprising on the Arab union of Iraq and Jordan, set up to counter Nasser's United Arab Republic. The new regime in Iraq stands ready to scrap this arrangement.

House Railway Group Approves Budget for CNR

By JOHN LeBLANC
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP)—The 1957 operations and prospective 1958 spendings of the publicly-owned Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines have been approved by the Commons railway committee.

The committee's endorsement, after a two-day examination of officials of the two corporations, virtually assures Parliament's approval.

Also endorsed by the committee and also carrying the certainty of parliamentary okay—was the Canadian National Steamships plans to wind up the West Indies service and sell its Caribbean fleet.

For the CNR, the committee approved a 1957 financial report showing a $29,600,000 deficit, a 1958 operating budget indicating a $5,000,000 deficit and a 1958 capital spending program of about $202,500,000.

The CNR report — with a surplus of $404,600 — was adopted along with a capital spending program for 1958 of $42,000,000. The TCA report does not include an operating budget with Parliament.

MAJOR DEVELOPMENTS

In committee hearings that closed Tuesday night, major developments were these:

1. CNR President Donald Gordon said recent indications are that the company's passenger revenues may strengthen during the last half of 1958.

2. Transport Minister Hees said the government is trying — but with little success so far — to get trade talks with the United States and other countries for commercial aviation agreements.

3. Committee members got only sketchy information about the TCA officials in attempted questioning on the CNR's proposal for the possibility of competition on the domestic transcontinental air route, now before the air transport board.

4. President Gordon said the CNR will have to borrow about $196,493,000 for the 1958 capital spending program but will not get into the money market until the federal government's huge program of debt reconversion is out of the way.

Wage Battle Between Stelco Workers and Company Shows Widely Divergent Viewpoints

HAMILTON (CP) — A wage battle likely to have a major impact on Canadian labor and industry is being fought here against a backyard of sharply divergent viewpoints on the business recession, its cause and cure.

An Ontario conciliation board has completed hearings in a contract dispute between the Steel Company of Canada, the country's biggest producer of basic iron and steel with more than 40 per cent of Canadian output, and the United Steelworkers of America (CLC), the union representing about 7,500 employees at the Hamilton works.

No developments are likely until the board's report is released by Labor Minister Charles Daley. It will not be binding on the disputants and either side is free to take action seven days after it is released. The union executive has not asked for a strike vote.

The board's task is formidable. Barely have parties to a labor dispute been farther apart.

SEEK SAME SETTLEMENT

The union wants a settlement in line with what it got from the years ago—a package deal of about 30 cents an hour, spread an unspecified general wage increase. It contends its demands are justified on the grounds of increased production by workers and the corporation's increased profits, and that increased consumer spending power is needed that the company's declining revenues may strengthen during the last half of 1958.

2. Transport Minister Hees said the government is trying — but with little success so far — to get trade talks with the United States and other countries for commercial aviation agreements.

3. Committee members got only sketchy information about the TCA officials in attempted questioning on the CNR's proposal for the possibility of competition on the domestic transcontinental air route, now before the air transport board.

4. President Gordon said the CNR will have to borrow about $196,493,000 for the 1958 capital spending program but will not get into the money market until the federal government's huge program of debt reconversion is out of the way.

The company offers only to negotiate some improvement in the group insurance plan on condition the union withdraws its other demands.

Stelco last year had sales of $275,000,000, a tax bill of $21,000,000, employment costs of $76,000,000 for its 14,500 workers, and a net profit of $21,000,000. It produced more than 2,000 products from steel plate to fencing and sold them to more than 5,000 customers.

"Since steel enters into the production of virtually everything used by consumers, so do steel levels," the company told the conciliation board. "the effect of a further wage increase in the steel industry would be all-pervasive and highly inflationary. In a very real sense, therefore, the secondary industries of Canada, both in the cities and in Canadians, are looking over our shoulders in the present negotiations."

Under the contract that terminated last March 31, the steel union won a Stelco's Hamilton works was $1.79½ an hour. There were 6,000 workers. The difference each of the 26 job classes under a classification system established in 1953, the first-class machinist receives $2.56.

The union contends statistics that average hourly earnings at the Stelco Hamilton works during the year were $2.30, including overtime (time and a half) and shift premiums (five cents an hour for afternoon shift, nine cents for evening).

Adding statutory holiday pay (3½ times normal pay), vacation pay (two weeks after one year at Stelco and group insurance, the average hourly earnings for the same period were $2.56, the company says.

The present vacation setup provides one week after a year's service, two weeks after three years and three weeks after 15. The group insurance plan provides life insurance equivalent to men employees and $1,000 for women employees, payable at age of 65 without cost to employees. There is a $9 daily benefit for sickness or accident after 26 days for employees and dependents and for miscellaneous hospital and medical charges. Surgical benefits go up to $300, medical benefits to $50 per call in hospital only with a maximum of $140. There is a weekly indemnity for employees only, up to 26 weeks, starting from the eighth day of sickness or the first day of accident.

The pension plan, lowered at an agreement ending in 1961, requires 20 years' service for pensioning and is based on the month multiplied by years of service, with $40 minimum and $80 maximum.

The Steelworkers' 33-cent package includes 10 cents for a specified general wage increase and a boost in the 35-cent increment between job classes to the prevailing industry rate, while the union says now is 6.8 cents and will be 6.7 cents by 1961 if the agreement is signed.

VARIED PROPOSALS

The rest of the package would be made up of some of these proposals:

Supplementary unemployment benefits which, in combination with unemployment insurance, would give a qualified laid-off employee up to 65 per cent of his normal take-home pay.

Three days off with pay in case of death in a worker's immediate family;

A ninth paid statutory holiday (there now are eight);

Two weeks' vacation after one year of service, three after 10 and four after 25 years.

An extended leave plan providing a paid leave after each five years of service, ranging from four weeks after the first five to 20 weeks after the 25th year;

A new type of incentive plan;

A health centre to look after the "total health needs" of employees and families, free of charge, which the union suggested might start Jan. 1, 1959. In the interim it proposed such amendments to the present group insurance plan as $4,000 life insurance for active employees, $40 weekly indemnity and payments for doctor's visits in office and home as well as in-hospital.

Both sides recognize the postwar progress of prices and wages and the effect of rising premiums.

The minimum plant rate in 1945 was 64½ cents. It went up to 72 cents the following year. It was $1.43½ by 1953, when a job evaluation system was established with an increment of four cents between classes. The increment remained unchanged in 1953 but rose by half a cent yearly thereafter. At the termination of the contract this year, the increment was 6½ cents and the minimum rate $1.73½.

During the same period the consumer price index has risen about 48, shift premiums were doubled, vacations went to a present level from the 1945 standard of one week after one year to two weeks after five and hospital plan was added.

Steel production figures during the intervening years, increases in basic or average hourly earnings, not adjusted for a corresponding growth in the workers' productivity.

A Stelco presentation to the conciliation board estimates the increase in average hourly earnings at 59 per cent since 1947, while the Dominion Bureau of Statistics consumer price index was introduced. The index, with 1949 as base, rose 22.8 per cent, at about 134 in April this year.' Between the same periods the company says, its selling prices rose 46 per cent while average hourly earnings went up 59 per cent. For the United States basic steel industry selling prices went up by 61 per cent and average hourly earnings by 75.

The union contends, however, that earnings have lagged behind the growth in labor output. Part of its submission to the conciliation board is a comparative study of productivity in the Canadian primary iron and steel industry.

In the period 1946 to 1956, the union contends, output per man-hour increased 228.5 per cent but average hourly earnings increased only 98.6 per cent. That is, in spite of a constant 1949 dollar value of steel products, the value of production per man-hour increased 85.6 per cent from 1946 to 1956, while the number of production workers increased only 5.3 per cent.

The union also contends that much of Stelco's big post-war expansion has been due to increases of labor and the consumer.

The company reported about $221,000,000 since 1948 to raise its present steel-making capacity by 1,000,000 tons. The largest last year was 2,178,215 net tons, or 82.6 per cent of capacity. It has been operating at 99 per cent of capacity for the first quarter of 1958.

"The union does not complain that the industry has grown too quickly," the Steelworkers told the conciliation board. "The complaint rather is that labor, the consumer, and the taxpayer—the indispensable base of steel consumers and taxpayers—have had to support a steel industry at all that rapid growth. A much larger share of the investment funds should have been raised from the capital markets, according to the views of the union, and incentive system is supposed to work.

"If the industry, and Stelco in particular, had not been dual to so persistent and forceful in financing its increase expansion by high profits and quick write-offs, it could have paid higher wages and charged lower profits, and still had a reasonable return to capital.

"Considering the substantial expansion that has already taken place, and the big gains that have been made in productivity, Stelco should never been in a better position than it is now to make a significant contribution to the stimulation of consumer spending, by raising wages and cutting prices, as it was necessary before the war has the need been more urgent."

Jobless Conference Suggests Spending More Money to Create More Winter Work

By JOHN E. BIRD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — A national conference on winter employment has come up with the suggestion, among others, that the federal government speed more roadway to create conditions that will provide more winter work.

At the two - day conference ended Tuesday, Labor Minister Starr promised quick federal action on "feasible" suggestions emerging from the sessions of representatives from business, industry, labor and all levels of government.

Some who attended the conference thought it had not achieved much.

Angus Forte, vice-president of the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor, said the recommendations were almost the same as those made in previous years, and they had proved ineffective.

"The conference," he said, "was almost saying to the government here are our suggestions, now you do the job."

TAKE THE LEAD

Suggestions included one that the federal government take the lead in providing incentives to create winter work by offering accelerated depreciation to encourage more capital outlays in winter months—on construction of new facilities, buildings and so on.

George S. Mooney, executive director of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, described a conference summary of study-group findings as "timid, ineffective and lacking vitality." It was no "clarion call" to the people to rise and do something about unemployment.

At his objection, the conference amended a sentence reading that "in general, the groups were opposed to subsidies and in favor of encouragement of private initiative" to read "in general the groups were in favor of encouragement of private initiative."

William Dodge, executive vice-president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, said the summary was a "pale imitation" of what was contained in the group reports. He hoped the government would look at the reports and not the summary.

SEEK REMEDY

Mr. Starr said he and other conference delegates are as anxious as Mr. Dodge to find a remedy for winter unemployment. It was not an act of Nature but "something we can do something about."

The entire responsibility, however, should not rest on the federal government, he said. All sections of the community must work together in an effort to find a solution.

A group headed by Ontario Labor Minister Charles Daley indicated in its suggestions one that overtime in periods of high unemployment should be discouraged, along with moonlighting—the holding of two jobs by one person.

STRAY CANINES

GUILDFORD, England (CP)— Of the 272 dogs found straying in the streets of this Surrey city during last year, only 73 have been claimed.

Quebec Students To Spend Time In Ont. Homes

TORONTO (CP) — A friendly invasion of Ontario will be launched Thursday when 150 high school students from Quebec arrive for the second half of month-long exchange visits among boys and girls from the two provinces.

Known as Int r ecommunity Visits, the exchange is a joint project of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews and Visites Interprovinciales. Since July 3, 150 English-speaking Ontario students have been visiting French-speaking families in nine Quebec cities.

The Ontario students, from nine cities in this province, will return home Thursday, bringing with them 150 boys and girls from the families with whom they have lived for the last two weeks. The Quebec students will stay for two weeks in Ontario homes. In both groups girls outnumber boys by about two to one.

The exchange is an expansion of visits organized in other years by Visites Interprovinciales. Its purpose is to provide the means for young people to learn the two language groups to get in know one another better and to learn the other's language.

HOPES TO EXPAND

Dr. Richard Jolley of Toronto, executive director of the Canadian Council of Christian and Jews, said he hopes that future expansion of the program will make it possible, for as many as 1,000 students to exchange visits each summer.

Cities involved in this year's exchange are: Oshawa and Rimouski, Hamilton and Shawinigan Falls, St. Catharines and Thetford Mines, Welland and Sorel, Joseph and Niagara Falls, Brantford and Chicoutimi, Windsor and Granby, Sarnia and Riviere du Loup, London and Quebec.

Qualifications for the exchange are, at least, a passing mark in French or English study and where applicable, the exchange visits which can be accommodated, older students receive first choice. Most of the students are in grade 10 or higher and their ages range from 14 to 18, with the average age 15.

Efforts are made to pair students with families of similar occupations and interests. Doctors' sons or daughters, for example, are placed with doctors' families.

Quebec families were urged to speak only French while their visitors and in Ontario the Quebec students are expected to speak English exclusively.

ENTERTAIN VISITORS

Quebec communities went out of the way to entertain the Ontario youngsters—Mayor Horace Boivin of Granby took the Windsor students for a ride on his yacht, Lac Boivin, similar programs worked out in conjunction with industry, municipal authorities, Chambers of Commerce and service clubs, are planned.

Costs of the visits are limited to train fare and because of special rates received from the railways the maximum charged this year was $31.45 for return fare from Sarnia to Riviere du Loup.

Qualified chaperones accompany the boys and girls to and from their destinations.

SPEEDY ANIMALS

Pronghorns, the only antelope native to North America, are among the fastest of four-legged animals.

"Jest a Second"

"I wear a 4 but I find a 5 more comfortable, so I'll take a 4 because I really need a 7."

Princess Meg Reviews Ships Of 3 Nations

VICTORIA (CP) — Princess Margaret's last day in Victoria was partly rainy but busy, but mostly ceremonial.

Her itinerary Tuesday took her on a visit to the Veterans Hospital here, to a three-country navy review, to a banquet with ex-service navy officers.

The review was to leave Victoria today to tour several Vancouver Island points before flying to Vancouver for an overnight stay in preparation for her tour, also, in northern British Columbia.

The temperature in downtown Victoria Tuesday was around 80 degrees and it didn't cool off much in the evening. The princess was expected to visit Royal Roads Hospital by Defence Minister Pearkes.

Despite the heat, she appeared in good spirits in a shimmering yellow dress with forget-me-not blue polka dots. A shirt-waist design, the dress was highlighted by a Puritan collar. Her hat was of matching material, spiralling in pleats in a mushroom shape to a button on top.

Princess Margaret wore the same outfit in the afternoon when she inspected the guard from a plexiglass cabin on the forward deck of HMCS Crescent, senior ship of the 2nd Canadian Escort Squadron.

She was accompanied by Mr. Pearkes, Lieutenant - Governor Frank Ross and Rear-Admiral H. S. Rayner, flag officer, Pacific Coast.

There were 32 Canadian, United States and British ships in the review. A 21-gun salute greeted the Crescent, a 2,100-ton Algonquin class destroyer escort, as she swung into the review area.

Each ship in the review performed the Evolution, a highly disciplined action that pledges loyal tribute. In it the sailors cheer on command and cross their hands on the rail.

For the evening banquet, at which senior officers of the review ships were presented, Princess Margaret was beautifully dressed in an evening dress of white satin, trimmed with pink roses and olive-green leaves.

Sun Oil Opposes Building Alberta to Montreal Pipeline

MONTREAL (CP) — The Sun Oil Company Limited, wholly-owned subsidiary of an American corporation, has become the latest of a number of oil companies expressing opposition to construction of a crude oil pipeline from Alberta to Montreal.

In a submission to the federal royal commission on energy, Tuesday, the company said such a line would "add to the higher prices and a lower per capita consumption of petroleum products in the area served by Montreal refineries.

"In the first place, we do not believe that Canada would benefit from the kind of pipeline which would necessarily have to be erected to insulate western Canada Montreal against the petition of other crudes ccessible to water transportation," said company President W. T. Askew of Toronto.

"In the second place, the Borden energy commission on that certain oil companies in Montreal are rejected a deal which would have made it possible for the process exclusively Canadian crude oil in its Sarnia refinery.

This refinery now processes about 17,000 barrels a day, 5,000 of which comes from fields owned by Sun in Venezuela. The balance is purchased in Canada and shipped to Sarnia through the Interprovincial pipeline.

"Before, in fact, commencing the run of the Venezuelan crude on the Sarnia refinery, Sun Limited will be required to build a company) made earnest efforts to trade the crude with eastern Canadian refiners in exchange for western Canadian crude delivered to the refiners in Sarnia refinery via the Interprovincial line," the company said.

Mr. Askew declined under questioning by commission counsel Mr. Justice Ivan Rand if the refiners concerned. He agreed, however, in a suggestion, that he consider the matter and report in writing to commission chairman Dana Wilgress.

Replying to another question by Mr. Justice Rand, the company president said that in proposing the trade, Sun was motivated by a desire to keep its refinery busy exclusively in its Sarnia refinery and to help the company's Venezuelan crude.

He conceded that the decision against a Canadian crude earlier at Sarnia was predicated on the fact that the refinery was owned by Sun in the southern United States and Venezuela. It was also participating in the operation of oil pipelines and tankers.

The company now plans to process only Canadian crude in its Sarnia operation. About $400,000 has been invested in equipment and lines making it possible for the company to handle diverted receipts from the Interprovincial pipeline.

Members Defend CBC Employees Called Leftists

OTTAWA (CP) — Two Liberal members have been punished into Commons debate to defend three CBC employees on whom a Progressive Conservative member described as leftists.

Mentioned many times in the Tuesday debate — with the specific mention of their positions with the CBC—were Pierre Juneau, 33, of Montreal, director of information; Stanley Burke, 31, of Belleville and Jean-Louis Gagnon.

Leader Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Edward—Lennox) — Monicalm) said during Commons question period that Mr. Juneau was the one who should "house-clean" the publicly owned corporation of left - wing elements. He then named the three Montreal men. Mr. Diefenbaker (PC—Prince Edward—Lennox) — Monicalm) said during Commons question period that Mr. Juneau was the one who should "house-clean" the publicly owned corporation of left - wing elements. He then named the three Montreal men.

Mr. Diefenbaker said Mr. Juneau "is associated with the Canadian Broadcasting League, which is publicly identified with the Communist party."

RUSS FISHING BOAT BUILT IN BRITISH SHIPYARDS

This ship, the Pulonga, is one of the 13 Soviet vessels anchored on fishing banks off Newfoundland. This ship was made in British yards and is one of 20 such vessels ordered by the Soviet government. She is loaded with gear, including short-wave radio, long-range radar, high-powered sonar sets and gyro-compass. Though the Pulonga was built as a fishing trawler and has a canning machine on board, its equipment could also be used in charting the ocean's floor.

Glen Miller

GLEN MILLER — Miss Alice Cooper, of Bicroft, spent last week visiting at the home of Violet Collier. Violet was promoted to grade 11 this year.

Sharon Ireland and brother Paul, spent last week at their parents' cabin at Buckhorn Lake.

Sgt. and Mrs. J. Gaudaur and family left last Saturday on posting to RCAF Station, Rivers, Manitoba. They are making the trip by car and camping as they go.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Naylor, of Marmora, are visiting at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Naylor, of Glen Miller.

Bill Long, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Long, is spending the summer at Torpid Lodge at Sparrow Lake. Bill is master of ceremonies there, and is in charge of the musical end of the entertainment at the Lodge. He takes over his duties as music supervisor for many schools in this area after Labor Day.

Fishermen in the Trent River near Glen Miller report a sudden increase of carp in these waters. The usual catches of pike and pickerel are being reported, and the waters are still teeming with perch and rock fish.

Weed dragging operations in the Trent Canal at Glen Miller are now in progress. The barge, under the supervision of Mr. Horace Chard of Frankford, is busy cutting the weeds to let them float down to the Bay of Quinte. Last year considerable difficulty was experienced by the lock keepers in August when these weeds constantly plugged their sluice gates.

FORGOT SNAKE

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH, N.C. (AP) — Owners of a tavern here are hoping a woman will return for a live six-foot snake she left on the counter in a jug after saying she'd be right back. They are asking her to please pick it up at the "Wit's End" tavern.

Mrs. Dyson acted as matron of honor for her friend.

Today's

CAREER SOLDIER

and what he means to Canada

For the Canadian soldier himself the modern Army brings those material things a man appreciates most: steady employment... good pay... openings for advancement of many kinds. But the greatest satisfaction of all is one that can't be measured in dollars and cents.

He does a man's job in safeguarding the Canada we all cherish... a Canada developing, in security and peace, her own vast resources and the chance for all her people to enjoy the good things of life. A Canada respected throughout the world.

CANADIAN ARMY "SERVING WITH A PURPOSE"

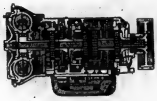
POWER WITH A PURPOSE!

CHEVROLET TRUCK POWER STEERING... SAVES 80% EFFORT! Makes manoeuvring in tight spots a cinch. Highway travel is actually relaxing. Up to 80% of all effort is taken over by hydraulic power. Optional on all models.

HYDROVAC POWER BRAKES... FOR QUICK, SAFE STOPS! Faster, safer Hydrovac power brakes retain natural brake "feel" truck drivers want. Standard equipment on many Chevrolet truck models, optional on others.



POWER TAKE-OFF OPENINGS... ADD VERSATILITY AT NO EXTRA COST! Versatile Chevrolet trucks often offer P.T.O. openings on both sides of transmission housings. Widens the range of your truck operations.

EXCLUSIVE POWER DIVIDER... SAVES DEADWEIGHT, CUTS POWER LOSS! Three-speed Chevrolet power divider adds ten extra speeds to the standard 5-speed transmission! Saves on weight, has fewer parts, reduces power loss. Standard on Chevrolet tandems.

POWERMATIC TRANSMISSION... MAKES TRUCK DRIVING ALMOST EASY! Virtually ends manual shifting on grades. Six forward speeds. Foot-operated hydraulic retarder controls speed, saves brake wear. P.T.O. openings either side. Another great Chevrolet option.

TWO-SPEED AXLE, DOUBLE SPEED SELECTION! Simple switch control selects correct reduction. Doubles your choice of transmission speeds easily. Important option on Chevrolet trucks.

MIGHTY WORKMASTER V8... MAKES LIGHT OF HEAVY HAULS! Standard on many Chevrolet heavies, the 230 h.p. Workmaster V8 is the newest, most efficient power plant in heavy hauling. High torque, high compression. Uses regular fuel.

ROCKET-FIRING SITE

American scientists have resumed their firings from a site near Churchill, Man., of rockets designed to collect weather information as part of the International Geophysical Year tests.

The schedule calls for launching of 78 rockets during the tests. Forty-seven were fired during the winter. Goal of the project is to obtain greater understanding of the upper atmosphere where much of the earth's weather originates.

Map shows site of the 120-foot launching tower in relation to other installations used in the experiments. The rocket-firing site is 12 miles east of the town of Churchill. The instruments and radar installations are used for tracking the rockets in their flight through the upper atmosphere. (CP Newsmap.)

BIRTH ON TV.

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A television audience watched the successful delivery Monday night of a nine-pound, 13 - ounce boy by caesarian section. The delivery was televised by WCHS - TV. Mother and son were reported doing fine following the operation, which lasted 70 minutes on the television screen. MORE

Cannot Give City Manager 3-Year Contract

WINDSOR (CP) — Windsor's hopes for the city manager type of government hit a snag Monday with the announcement that the Ontario municipal board has ruled the city has no legal right to enter into a three-year contract with its managerial choice.

A three - year contract, approved under a city bylaw by council, was considered the key to the city's offer to hire E. Reyden Colter, Sarnia city manager. Mr. Colter is employed by Sarnia under contract.

Lorne R. Cumming, board chairman, informed city solicitor James E. Watson at a meeting in Toronto the Sarnia contract would not stand up in court.

With yearly elections, hiring of a city manager for more than a year would commit future councils. Under the Municipal Act of officers of a municipality shall hold office only during the pleasure of council, he said.

INSECT CAUSES CRASH

LIBERAL, Kan. (AP)—A grasshopper caused a $900 accident Monday. It lit on the face of a two-year-old child who was in a car beside her mother. The child screamed, the mother swerved the car and it crashed into a parked vehicle. The mother and child were uninjured.

Miss Marilyn Goodmas, Consecon, is spending some holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goodmas and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Russel Alexander Moneymore, spent the supper hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boldrick.

Miss Eileen Boldrick spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Elliott, West Huntingdon, also with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Boldrick, Belleville.

The Rev. T. Kersey and Jimmy spent the dinner hour, one day last week, with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trevertion.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Trevertion spent Tuesday evening last with Mr. and Mrs. Belch, of Belleville. Sympathy is extended to Mrs. R. Glass and family in the loss of a loving mother who passed away Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Dilts visited Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trevertion.

MADOC

Centre Hastings Orangemen Hold 12th at Madoc

MADOC (Special) — Under ideal weather conditions, the members of the Orange Order for Centre Hastings district gathered in Madoc on Saturday to celebrate the "Battle of the Boyne." Early in the morning the various lodges in the district began assembling at the fairgrounds from where the parade originated and the air was filled with the beat of drums and the shrill notes of the flute as different bands tried to outdo the others.

Not only were the men members enjoying themselves, but the members of the various L.O.B.A. lodges gathered in small groups to send a social hour and talk over events in their own communities. Millbridge lodge members, both men and women, assisted by members of the Madoc lodges, provided the excellent dinner and supper on the grounds. Neither lodge was in the parade due to the amount of work that had to be done.

Shortly after the noon hour the parade marshal assembled the lodges and the parade moved off from the grounds and the following lodges marched the two blocks: Sulphide LOBA No. 1203, Bogart LOL No. 1135, Moneymore LOL No. 838, Hazzards LOL No. 1123, Queensboro LOL No. 437 and Queensboro LOBA, Madoc LOL No. 285, Eldorado LOBA No. 1185, Stirling LOBA No. 655, Stirling LOL No. 119, West Huntingdon LOL No. 300, White Lake LOL No. 425, Springbrook LOL No. 449, Eldorado LOL 317, Flinton LOL No. 907, Tanners LOL No. 500, Marmora LOL No. 319, Marmora LOBA, Wellmans LOL No. 172, Cooper LOL No. 253, Juvenile Boys and Girls of Marmora and Benlah Juveniles No. 976 Lodges from cutside the district were St. Ola LOL No. 1389 and Ebenezer LOL No. 979.

At the conclusion of the parade, Fred Bateman of Stirling, Past Grand Master of Ontario East, acted as chairman for the addresses that followed and which were given by Ernest Reid of Peterborough, P.G.M. of Ontario East; Lorne Hagerman, Past Grand Marshal for Ontario East, and Rev. F. C. Beazer, Past Grand Chaplain of Ontario East. Rev. John McMurray of Gilmour also spoke. All of the addresses dealt with the part that Orangemen can play in their country's welfare.

WESTERN FORT

The original Fort Edmonton was built in 1795, about 30 miles east of the present city of Edmonton.

SELL SHEEP FLOCK

TORONTO (CP) — A two-year-old ram, Don Head 982, brought top price of $1,000 as the Don Head flock of Southdown sheep was sold Monday at nearby Richmond Hill. Buyers from 21 states, four provinces and Mexico were on hand to bid for 879 sheep. Dr. Benhuff of Covina, Calif., bought Don Head 982, supreme champion at last year's Winter Fair in Toronto and winner of his class at the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago.

Allan Swift Is the Voice On Some 400 Commercials

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—Allan Swift thinks he probably turned in the greatest television performance in his life when he was a liquid lead pencil.

But he admits that as a cup of instant coffee he was also pretty hot stuff.

In recent months Swift has been extremely busy as a three-way lamp, a glass of beer, a pack of cigarettes and an assortment of human beings, ranging from old and female to child and male. Some of his more delicate assignments recently, he says, have been to do the talking for gentle champion Pancho Gonzales, golf champ Cary Middlecoff and bowling champ Don Carter. The lads were doing cigaret testimonials for TV commercials but their voices weren't quite right for their jobs.

Swift, a former standup comedian of the nightclub and vaudeville circuits, is the voice on some 400 commercials in use at this moment, including nine different brands of beer. This specialty in "meeting" Swift an income higher than "the hottest television performer in the business," he says.

CAN DO BETTER

The... exceeded $200,000 last year and with the television boom in animation continuing, Swift expects to do better during the current fiscal period.

"I'm a pretty good mimic," he confesses, "but I think the knack to doing voices lies in a sensitive ear.

"You start with a child's voice," he explains. "It is light, with a breathless sound and a tendency to over-articulate. In adolescence, the tone goes lower, cracks a bit, with some breathiness. The young man is lower, with an even mixture. And around 50 or 60, there's a sloppiness of articulation. In old age, the over-articulation starts again—at time to compensate for a loss of breath."

Along with these basic ingredients, Swift mixes in, as needed, a raspy foggy, strained, nasal or sinus quality.

Russians Deny Ill Treatment Of Ernestine

LONDON (AP) — Russia today denied it "compelled" gymnast Ernestine Russel and her trainer, Bernard Newman, both of Windsor, Ont., to leave the country after the recent world gymnastic championships.

Said a Moscow radio broadcast:

"Mr. Newman asked that his return ticket via Moscow be exchanged for one via Vienna. This was done, but the only ticket available was for July 11 which necessitated an earlier departure than planned."

Moscow radio denied also that Communist judges had shown bias in placing Miss Russel 20th in the world championship.

Many foreign judges also gave bad marks to Miss Russel", the broadcast said.

Twin No-Hitters In Minor Baseball Game

CHATHAM (CP) — Note to major league baseball scouts: Keep your eye on Chatham's Canadian legion bantam circuit.

Eddie Wright pitched a no-hit, no-run game Monday but still lost 2-0. His opponent, Herbie Wakabayashi, also came up with his pitching, his second of the season.

Wright struck out 14 batters but 14 walks, two hit batsmen and three fielding errors by his mates accounted for his downfall. Wakabayashi fanned 12, had only three walks and his team committed a single error.

The double performance produced the fifth and sixth no-hit games in minor league ball here this year.

Minor Baseball

A couple of Belleville's Ontario Baseball Association teams hooked up in an exhibition game last night with the Midgets scoring a 4-3 victory over the Juvenile.

The OBA Midgets also have an exhibition game slated for Thursday evening when they play Wellington Intermediates at the Fairgrounds at 6.30.

Casey Soden pitched last night's win, allowing four hits in the five-inning game. Don Masters allowed just three hits and fanned seven for the Juveniles.

Locke, Hunter and Sheridan had the winners' base hits. McBride, Keller, Brennan and Smith hit safely in a losing effort.

Aussies Irate Over 'Poaching' Of Athletes

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia is becoming greatly alarmed a wholesale attempts to poach its athletic stars, the secretary of the Australian Olympic Federation, Edgar S. Tanner, said today.

He was commenting on reports he said had been received here from the British Empire Games Centre at Cardiff, Wales, that approaches have been made on behalf of American universities for the services of miler Herb Elliott in Villanova and decathlon record holder Albert Thomas to Houston.

Cheyenne and Maverick Feel Overworked and Underpaid

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There are two ways to combat a studio —the Clint Walker way and the James Garner way.

Both are mad at their employer, Warner Brothers. Both are TV-spawned stars. Walker is the fond fame as Cheyenne, Garner as Maverick. They are fully handsome brutes who feel they are overworked and underpaid.

Walker climaxed his disfavor with the studio by walking out of the Cheyenne series. He announced he was going to sit out the contract and went gold prospecting in northern California. The studio put a new boy, Ty Hardin, into the starring role in the series.

Jim Garner is equally sore at his contract. A columnist reported that Jim was earning $1,500 a week and coumented it was peanuts for a TV star of his stature.

"If he knew what I was really earning," Garner corrected, "he would think it was the peanut shell."

Yet Garner isn't duplicating the Walker walkout. Far from it. He is well into the new season's product on Maverick. And he's now performing in a feature film by Periscope.

"As for the contract, I intend to live up to what I signed. I don't intend to tell Clint how to run his business. But as for myself, I signed the contract. It wasn't a good one, but I signed it. If necessary, I will serve out the full five years."

But, he added with the familiar Maverick grin, "I think the studio is stupid not to give me a new one."

"In my first year at Warners," he cited, "I helped make 65 screen tests, appeared in two features and tight TV shows and did more dialogue recording than I can count. In one picture alone, I was three Mexican voices.

"By the end of this season, I will have made 32 Maverick hours as well as feature pictures. The studio got back my whole year's salary in one picture alone. Now I think that's quite a bit of work for such small change."

Russians Ape Yankee System For Track Meet

LONDON (AP) — Russia will follow the American example of training its athletes at their places on the track and field team which meets the United States in Moscow July 26-27.

Heretofore members of the Soviet national teams have been selected on overall performances and physical condition.

Moscow radio said Tuesday, however, that the team to meet the Americans will be composed of the athletes who produce the best performances at the Soviet national track and field championships at Tallin, Estonia, July 19-31.

Durelle, Holt Forecast K.O's In Tonight's Ring Classic

By W. R. WHEATLEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

MONTREAL (CP) — Mike Holt, sleek-looking South African fighter, makes no bones about his plans to handle Yvon Durelle in their British Empire light-heavyweight title bout tonight.

"I'll wear him down," said Holt with finality. There was just enough crispness in his voice to indicate he's a trifle edgy—in peak condition and ready.

"If he wants to make a fight of it, I don't think it will go the limit. I'm not underestimating him but if there's a knockout I think I'll be the one who scores it. I hear he's a wonderful hitter. I can hit, too."

The 12-round bout between Holt and the New Brunswick fisherman from Baie-Ste. Anne is scheduled for 10 p.m. EDT at the Montreal Forum. The fight will be televised nationally in Canada and the United States with only Montreal and Sherbrooke, Que., blacked out. American TV stations near the border can be picked up in both cities.

EQUALLY POSITIVE

Durelle's ideas about a possible knockout were equally positive—"If I get my opening he's going to die early."

Durelle said he has been "drying out" and expected to scale just under the 175-pound limit at the official weigh-in at noon and will enter the ring at 168 or 170 pounds.

"I know what he's going through with the drying out," said Holt, who expected to weigh in at 172½. "I did just when we fought as a middleweight and had to get down to 160.

"From this afternoon until Wednesday noon—whew, it'll be murder."

Holt said the fight probably won't end in the first two or three rounds. After that he will be gunning with everything.

"If it goes past six rounds I'll be the one that's getting stronger."

Manager Piet Lourens said Mike would have poached eggs and toast for breakfast. An hour or two after the weigh-in he would have a steak, then rest and finally have a cup of tea about 6 p.m.

STRONG AND READY

"We're not going to lose this one," said Durelle's manager, Chris Shaban. "That's certain. Yvon is strong and ready and it should be a good fight. He weighed 172½ after the workout. We have no weight problem."

"I have kind of a hunch it will go the limit but Yvon will win; I've no doubt about that. Some people say he's awkward but he can throw a terrific punch."

Durelle exuded confidence. "I may miss him a lot but if I can catch him he dies right there. I hope I don't have to keep chasing him. All I want is my opening."

Durelle said if he wins he wants next a bout with champion Archie Moore for the world title. If he doesn't get it, he doesn't want to make 175 pounds any more—"I can do it but it's just a little too hard work."

Royals Put 4 Toronto 2 on All-Star Squad

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal's high-stepping Royals have placed for members on the International League all-star team to meet the world champion Milwaukee Braves in Toronto July 29.

Two players each from Toronto Maple Leafs and Columbus Jets and one each from Richmond Virginians and Havana Sugar Kings round out the 10 - man squad announced Tuesday by president Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy of the triple A circuit.

The league - leading Royals placed second baseman George (Sparky) Anderson, third baseman Clyde (Dude) Parris and outfielders Bobby Lennon and Solly Drake.

Lennon was the team's only unanimous choice. The voting was conducted by the fans in the IL's eight member cities. Each city was allotted one ballot for the individual positions.

Glenn (Rocky) Nelson at first base and southpaw hurler Pat Scantlebury are the Toronto representatives. Righthander Bersy Daniels and outfielder Jim Pendleton made it for Columbus. Bob Oldis of Richmond is the catcher and Ello Chacon of the Sugar Kings, the shortstop.

Dixie Walker, Toronto manager, was named earlier to pilot the squad. He is to pick another 12 players or more for the team as well as two coaches.

RARE, MEDIUM, WELL-DONE

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

They've established a precedent in the once-flea-bitten hillbilly Texas community of Cut and Shoot. They're allowing strangers to cross the village borders, and linger awhile with the razorback hogs and residents.

For Cut and Shoot is in the news. Its 192 residents now have something besides oil, hawgs and belligerency to offer strangers and furriners from the United States.

They have the new heavyweight champion of the world and they're going to announce it after August 18. That's the night Cut and Shoot's Number One Boy, Roy Harris, takes on Floyd Patterson, current holder of the title in Los Angeles.

You don't have to argue. Just take the Cut and Shooters word for it. Even the razorbacks are quickn' "Howahya fixed for blades."

Time was when drummers, no'thern carpet-baggers and other furriners were not welcome in Cut and Shoot. If they stayed around too long they got cut. If they ran they got shot. That's how the community came to be dubbed "Cut and Shoot."

The Cut and Shooters were fighters from away back. There was nothing fancy about their style. They thought boxing was something you did to a corpse after it reached that final knockout and the knife-heel-and-club system and proved very efficient.

Henry Harris, Roy's puppy, retired from active combat some years ago. Up to that time he held the rough-and-tumble championship of Cut and Shoot. Now he will own no 200 pounds. He has mellowed with age, it is true, but no one, not even Roy, has ever questioned his supremacy.

Every day the Harris kinfolk gather in the pinetree clearing to watch their school teacher - prizefighter go through his training antics. Newspaper columnists, photographers, who a few years ago would be met with muzzle-loaders, now come and go at will.

The rustic challenger comes from a fighting family. Besides his rough-and-tumble pappy, there's brother Tobe, who won 26 of 28 bouts as a light-heavy before a broken jaw forced his retirement. "Y'know," said Toby, "if shoulder forced his retirement. "Y'know," said Toby, "if it wasn't for this blasted election we've got Roy'll be ready every inch of the way to see the fight."

Somebody asked the pappy if Roy would be ready. "Why nothin's no certainer than that, Roy'll knock his head off. Hell, the ontiest thing that bothers me is the people bothern' him."

"They come from all over to bother Roy. From Dallas, Luftin, Tyler and Houston they trailer in here. They had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where had somethin' workin' for Roy to fly to N'Yawk where those sports writers could pick at him. I put my foot those sports writers could pick at him. I put my foot those sports writers could pick at him. I put my foot those sports writers could pick at him. I put my foot down. Ain't gonna have that boy traipsin' round the down. Ain't gonna have that boy traipsin' round the down. Ain't gonna have that boy traipsin' round the country trying to get ready to whip Patterson."

Another asked Henry what he thought of Patterson's manager who came to Cut and Shoot for a day.

"Right nice," said pappy. "Didn't stay too long. Too hot I guess. Roy climb a rope for him. He need the muscles in Roy's back and seemed kinda flabbergasted. Took off that fancy hat and started to fannin' himself. Said he never seed such muscles. Roy wasn't even puffin' hard."

The clan folks agreed. Coon Massey, Windy Walker, Cousin Armadillo Moorehead nodded their heads. Then Henry turned to his brother-in-law, Roe Brown, 70.

"Roe, y'ain't to the fight?"

"Traint no use," said Roe. "Wouldn't cross the San Jacinto to see it. Roy done got him whupped right now."

WRESTLING

Four hundred and twenty pounds of rugged, tough giant meat will clash with 240 pounds of dusky agility here Friday night when wrestlemen's Paul Bunyan meets Bobo Brazil in the main bout. The huge matman made short work of his opposition in his last appearance here, just four minutes and it was all over. However, fans should give him quite a battle, even if he has to wear stilts. There'll be plenty of action in the semi-final when the hated Miller brothers tangle with Lord Layton and Vic Christie in a tag-team battle. Pat Flanagan and Al Korman will open the show.

Trenton Hands Pt. Anne 2nd Defeat Bobcats' Rally Sets Back Cobourg

Bep' Guidolin's versatility sparked the Belleville Bobcats to a 6-4 victory over the Cobourg Merchants in a token district softball league game here last night.

The McFarland's hockey stars blasted 3 triples that drove in five runs, then went to the mound in the sixth and relieved the visitors over the rest of the route.

The Merchants, hullilized the Cats early 1-0 lead with a trio of counters in the third. The Tabbies took a 4-3 lead in the sixth only to have the visitors tie it up in the same frame. A costly Cobourg error and a Cats single in the eighth paved the way for two runs and victory.

Rolly Campbell tolled the route for Cobourg giving up eight clouts, whiffing five and walking the same number.

Bobby Green started for the Cats but wildness proved his undoing. He walked three in a row with two out in the third, then Herndon blasted a double that cleared the sacks. Green again walked three in a row in the sixth with none out, the next batter filled out but again Green walked his man.

Guidolin went to the rescue and retired the side. He set down the Cobourgers with a Texas bloopey over the rest of the route. Green struck out eight but walked the same number. He gave up three hits.

Cobourg scored its fourth run in the sixth with the bags loaded and none out. B. Hart hoisted a high one to centrefield with J. Hart scoring from third.

Faulkner and Cousins singled in a run for the Cats in the second while single's by Faulkner, Brown, Hull and Guidolin's triple were good for three in the sixth. Faulkner's third single and Sword's bobble with three walks were responsible for the margin runs in the eighth.

Faulkner with three, Cousins two singles by Hull and Brown and Bep's three-ply blast provided the Cats' offensive. Campbell, Harnden with a double, B. Hart and Rollings were the Cobourg hitters.

The teams:

Cobourg — Turpin, McSporrin, Dawe, Campbell, J. Hart, Harnden, Fisher, B. Hart, Rollings, Swords.

Bobcats — Casey, Crawford, Brown, Hull, Guidolin, Barclay, Cousins, Faulkner, Green Bursell.

The score:

Cobourg	003 001 000	4	2
Bobcats	010 003 02x	6	0

Campbell and Turpin; Green (6) Guidolin and Cousins.

Umpires: Johns (P) Thomas.

The saying goes "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em," but Gord Marconey of the Trenton Legion Juniors did both last night.

The over-age junior pitched the Juniors to a tight 8-6 victory over Point Anne in Trenton's opening berth in the Belleville and District softball league playdowns then promptly signed to pitch OASA Intermediate "A" ball with the Comptonites.

Trenton's victory clinched the fourth and final league playoff spot and eliminated the Frankford Merchants.

Marconey hurled excellent ball to hand the Ox-pointers their second setback in fourteen games. He gave up six hits in all and had a no-hitter going until the seventh inning, when the losers scored four of their runs. He fanned only one, walked two and hit three.

Pat Marconey suffered his first defeat of the season but tossed fine ball also while giving up 11 safeties. Four errors by his mates teamed with a couple of plays where nobody covered a base added to Marcele's trouble. He struck out five, passed a pair and hit two.

Trenton broke a 5-5 deadlock in the eighth when Marcele hit Pat Marconey in the bonce home on a scoring run. A walk and singles by Marconey and Austin had filled the bases.

Trenton took a 3-0 lead in the first on Austin's long triple to left, Marconey's double and an error and singles by Williams and Austin. Point Anne rallied in the 2nd on a walk, a double by Carr, Wardhaugh and Hull producing a 2-3 lead. Doug Alexander's single, a walk and an error filled the bases for Trenton in the bottom half of the inning. Carr and Wardhaugh singled with two out in the ninth but Hull's screaming liner to left was gloved by Whitney to end the game.

Guy Austin with a triple and single paced Trenton while Bobby Burns and Neil Williams each singled twice. Roger Drake doubled while Pat Asseltine, Doug Alexander, Gary Long and Marconey had singles. Claude Carr and Jackie Wardhaugh, Marconey's two hits for Point Anne with Doug Hull and Gary Goyer bad the others.

Lineups: Point Anne — Carr, Wardhaugh, D. Hull, Hull, Edgington, Goyer, Elliott Jr., Buskard, Maracle.

Trenton — Austin, Drake, Asseltine, Alexander, Burns, Williams, Long, H. Cole, Whitney, Marconey.

Umpires — Tim Williams (P) and Woody Reid, Time 1:31. Scorer — G. Alexander.

Eye Injury Ends Hockey Career For Marcotte

(CANADIAN PRESS, Que. (CP)—An eye injury has apparently ended the promising hockey career of Jacques Marcotte, a wiry little fellow who was signed down on the brink of the bigtime.

Marcotte suffered a severe injury to his right eye last February while participating in his first practice with Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League.

He was left with only 60 per cent vision in the damaged eye. "I guess my playing days are over," said the 23-year-old Marcotte Tuesday. He was selected by the Quebec Hockey League's top rookie the season before the fateful accident.

CHANCES POOR

"Doctors have told me the chances of my vision in the right eye improving are practically none. I'm not sure where I can go from here."

But he still retains a faint hope he might, by some miracle, regain enough vision to continue the career that was his ambition since he was a young boy.

Marcotte, five feet, seven inches tall and 145 pounds, is the property of New York Rangers of the NHL now.

He was acquired by Toronto from New York last season but as a result of the accident the deal was nullified and Marcotte's contract was returned to the Rangers.

Major Baseball Needs Power to Curb 'Casts' Or Face Destruction--Frick

WASHINGTON (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick told senators today that baseball desperately needs the power to curb TV, radio broadcasts of its games. Otherwise, he said, the sport faces destruction.

Frick pictured major league telecasts into minor league territory as a "major contributing cause" of the minors' rapid decline in popularity.

He said the majors and minors depend on each other to stay in existence. But he cautioned that without a binding TV-radio rule some clubs may "deviate from the desired line" and continue to beam their games into minor league cities regardless of the consequences.

Frick testified before the Senate antimonopoly subcommittee which is weighing legislation passed by the House of Representatives to grant baseball, football, basketball and hockey broad exemptions from anti-trust laws.

George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, also was called as a witness today.

In appealing for self regulation by baseball of its broadcasting activity, Frick touched on what may be the secret point with senators who have expressed fear the House bill sets a bad precedent for scaling anti-trust law restrictions.

Frick went over baseball's problems from beginning to end, testifying upon other topics that:

1. Expansion of the major leagues is inevitable. He once thought a third league was the most likely method, but is now convinced that it "will first come as an upping of the existing leagues."

2. Legislated exemptions are necessary to protect baseball against a reversal of Supreme Court rulings that the national pastime now is immune to the anti-trust laws.

The court has held other sports enjoy no such freedom. Frick said each sport needs the question settled once and for all.

The House bill would enable officials in charge of any of the sports concerned to regulate television for radio description of their contests. Subcommittee senators have contended this too broad an exemption. Frick, however, said that fears of a sports blackout across the nation are unfounded because the majors depend on TV-radio broadcasts for much of their revenue.

Assistant Attorney — General Robert A. Bicks told the subcommittee Tuesday, however, that the justice department opposed turning over TV and radio controls to the sports organizations.

"This legislation could conceivably result in a virtually complete blackout of sports broadcasts and telecasts," he said 3

He said that even such news reports as those giving scores might be banned.

Hockey Leagues Seek Solution

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Officials of the Eastern and International hockey leagues met today on whether they can patch the money-troubled circuits to swifter for the coming season.

The obvious Eastern weak spot faces the loss of its Washington club, whose abandoned franchise might be plotted by Buffalo Arenas in Washington. The club's fate could decide whether one or two International teams, if any, could be taken in.

The International is down to three clubs—Louisville, Ky., Toledo, Ohio, and Fort Wayne, Ind. Cincinnati and Indianapolis are out for at least a year because of arena lease troubles. Although Troy, Ohio sent a representative to the two-day meeting, the club is considered virtually out of the picture.

The Eastern includes Charlotte, Johnstown, Pa., Clinton, N.Y., New Haven, Conn., and Philadelphia.

Brass May Lower the Boom On Terrible-Tempered Tom

HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Will the boom be lowered on terrible-tempered Tommy Bolt?

Nobody knows for sure, but three officials of the United States Professional Golfers' Association had this to say Tuesday about Tommy's bad conduct on the links:

"If I had my way, Bolt would get the works."

"I realize he is the U.S. Open champion, but the game is always bigger than the man."

"There is nothing to do but suspend him. He has violated probation and we can't continue just letting him. We have to be tough."

The officials asked that their names not be used. They made the comments as players tuned up for the PGA tournament which starts here Thursday.

EXPECT WARNING

However, most observers expect the on-again, off-again club-thrower will get a severe dressing down and a warning to be a gentleman.

Bolt goes before a PGA committee in Philadelphia today in an attempt to settle the case.

"I have done nothing wrong," he said Tuesday. "I have done nothing more than other golfers have been doing for years. I anticipate no trouble clearing my skirts with the PGA."

Bolt has been under probation since last January for misconduct. He drew a $500 fine recently at East Orange, N.Y., where he picked up after 27 holes in a $60,000 tournament.

The fine was imposed, PGA officials said, not for leaving the tournament, but for previous abuses, including remarks allegedly made to tournament officials.

"STRICTLY PERSONAL"

Bolt said of the remarks: "This is strictly a personal matter. Besides, I apologized to all concerned."

If tempestuous Tommy can't convince the 15-member committee he deserves another chance, he likely is to be barred from PGA-sponsored competition for a few months or a year.

There is the more practical viewpoint. Recent publicity has made him perhaps the biggest drawing card in the game. It is figured the PGA can't jeopardize the success of its own championship by putting him on the sidelines.

HOW'S YOUR I.Q.?

TODAY'S INSURANCE PROBLEMS ANSWERED

QUESTION—

Does Business Interruption Insurance, which pays fixed expenses, payroll and profits in case of fire, actually have value when most fires are minor?

ANSWER—

Even a small fire can hinder business activity; sales and profits stop while expenses continue.

Tweed

TWEED — Mr. John Peck, of Minto Street, suffered a heart attack on Saturday morning, and was rushed to a Kingston hospital by ambulance, where his condition, at time of writing, is much improved.

Mrs. Philomena Huebner, who has been visiting her relatives and friends in Tweed, returned to her home in Detroit this past week.

Miss Donna Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunn, of Metcalfe Street, underwent a tonsillectomy operation on last Tuesday and is convalescing at her home here after her return from Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Harrop and Gail and Wayne of Scarborough, are spending their holidays with Mrs. Harrop's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Silverthorne and Trudy.

Mrs. T. E. Moffat has been enjoying a holiday visited with Misses Gertrude and Margaret Moffat in Toronto and with Mr. and Mrs. Moffat in Hamilton recently.

Madeline, Dianne and Colin Pizzey of Weston, have arrived in Tweed to spend the summer months with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Beach and children, of South Victoria St.

Little six-year-old Arthur Beach, who had blood poisoning in his leg after falling and by a fin of a fish, was taken to Belleville General Hospital on Monday for, further treatment. The leg is 'not improved.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rashotte on the birth of a son, born in Belleville General Hospital recently.

Blueberries seem to be quite plentiful, but the price in local stores is 53-59 cents a quart.

Dr. M. George, Mrs. George and son of Wheatley, formerly of Tweed, called on some of their friends on a visit on Friday while on their vacation.

REMOVE RESTRICTIONS

OTTAWA (CP) — Practically all security restrictions at Canada's once top - secret atomic energy establishment at Chalk River, Ont., have been lifted. The restrictions have been relaxed to a point where Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, Crown company which operates the project, has released the first annual photograph of the sprawling plant 125 miles northwest of Ottawa. The photograph is contained in the company's annual report tabled Tuesday in the Commons.

MACHINE SMOKES FOR SCIENCE

In a Montreal laboratory of a Canadian tobacco company, this machine puffs industriously away, smoking five cigarettes at a time and testing the efficiency of filters in straining harmful tars. The machine is used by the company in its research to find a substance, if any, that accounts for the high rate of lung cancer among heavy smokers. In addition to maintaining the laboratory, tobacco companies have donated $268,000 to the Canadian Cancer Society for research.

STAGE ANTI-RUSS PARADE IN NEW YORK

Carrying signs, small boys join Hungarian pickets demonstrating outside the house occupied by the Soviet delegation to the United Nations in New York. More than 250 demonstrators, including women and children, gathered outside the building to declare their hatred for the "Soviet murderers" of Hungarian patriots. The Russians recently protested that the Hungarian demonstrations on their doorstep were interfering with their work.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

Thursday, July 17

Aries (March 21 to April 19) — Your head is so full of very worthwhile ideas and "know how" to make them a reality, that it would be wise today to search and scan papers, magazines, etc., for right avenues of activity. Meet by appointment. P.M. accept chance to visit Big-wig.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) — It is very possible now to get in touch with associates, close ties, et al., and work out whatever plans are most vital to you. Impress them with fine cooperation, cement fine relations and arrive at real meeting of minds.

Moon children (June 22 to July 22) — Think big today and by using the right methods, you can achieve something of tremendous importance. Let generosity, and real conscience be your guides. A heart - to - heart talk with bank president should be most rewarding.

Leo (July 23 to Aug. 21) — Planetary aspects are most favorable to you right now, and almost anything you touch will turn to gold, even sentimentally speaking. P. M. unexpected opportunity is present for real joy and happiness, so don't miss out on it.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) — Private ramifications are operating which will be most beneficial to you in the near future. But take care you give no one an inkling of this, or you may be cheated of them to a great extent. P. M. relax and be good to others.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) — You will see a fond wish come into fruition today, and you will also have a fine time with comrades who will introduce you to persons who will become fast and fine friends. P. M. also good for sociability.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) — Here is the ideal day to have a conference with that truly forceful and generous executive who will help further your career considerably. Forget subterfuge and be brief, then carry through with suggestions immediately.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) — All that energy generated by a feeling of divine discontent can be utilized most practically today by following wisest avenues of activity. Write letters, meet important people and glean constructive information.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) — Contact authorities with truly great vision if you wish to enlarge or work upon present source of revenue and getting all legal papers in perfect order. They will be most cooperative and enlightening now.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) — Every opportunity is present today to ameliorate your standing with persons you collaborate or work with — and with competition, too. Let a spirit of perfect cooperation see you through with flying colors. Be smart.

Pisces (Feb. 20 to March 20) — Any chores you have neglected of late can be performed most efficiently and quickly right now. Impress others with your friendliness and make it a point to iron out any differences with pals or fellow workers.

If your child is born today ... The lovely child born today is the kind who likes to pose and saunter about very proudly, and it is important you shower much love and encouragement on your progeny so that the truly wonderful qualities within can be expressed to the full. The tremendously colorful personality is in this horoscope that will reach stardom one day in theatrical circles, or the great politician is paramount.

Suffragettes Honor Birth Of Their Leader

By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON (Reuters) — Smiling and sedate old ladies who once turned Britain topsy - turvy by smashing windows, starting fires and going on hunger strikes in jail Monday received a welcome from their old enemy, Parliament.

The 300 women, all over 70 and many grandmothers, were the survivors of the militant suffragettes who plunged Parliament and the nation into uproar 50 years ago demanding the right to vote for women.

They eventually won in 1918 when Parliament granted women over 30 the vote and in 1928 when the age was reduced to 21.

Some of them were proudly wearing little badges with a portcullis and broad arrow showing they went to prison for their cause at a House of Commons tea party to celebrate the centenary of the birth of suffragette leader Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst.

FIRST WOMAN MP

Mingling with them were many of the present-day and former women MPs, including Viscountess (Nancy) Astor, first woman to take her seat in the House of Commons. She was a member from 1919 to 1945.

Talk at the tea party was vividly reminiscent of the campaign's violent days before the First World War. Guests recalled the suffragettes who chained themselves to the railings of 10 Downing Street and others who padlocked themselves to a House of Commons gallery.

There were recollections of the government's "cat and mouse act." Under the act, a suffragette, ill through hunger-striking, was released to get well, then rearrested to serve the remainder of her sentence.

Many of the celebrants were frail and pale shadows of their former selves—but a twinkle of triumph shone in their eyes.

Victory Bonds Around Par Plus Bonus

TORONTO (CP)—Government of Canada Victory Loan issues Tuesday quickly adjusted themselves to the situation created by the government's refinancing plan.

Bonds of all five issues, which had been selling mostly below par, rose to around par, plus the value of the bonus which will be paid for exchanging them for the new securities.

The huge refinancing of $6,416,000,000—the total of the five issues—is primarily a matter of exchanging old securities for new, and so does not in itself create major market activity.

But it creates a terrific job for the investment and other financial houses which will carry through the exchange.

With virtually all investment attention centred on the refinancing, there was little interest in other bonds.

The market is expected to remain quiet for a period but, when active trading does resume, investment men predict "slightly better" quotations generally.

'COPTERS NOT ANSWER

OTTAWA (CP) — Trans-Canada Air Lines is still not convinced that the helicopter is the answer to getting plane passengers from airports into cities, President G. R. McGregor said Tuesday. He told the Commons railway committee, as it examined TCA operations, that helicopters do not yet appear economical.

UN Dreads Vote As World Views Vary On Crisis

Nehru, Criticizes U.S., Japan Has 'Misgivings'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP) This world headquarters was in a state of anxious expectancy today, scanned the incoming cables from the Middle East crisis area for an indication, perhaps, of the broad lines of the United Nations.

The UN Security Council held off late Wednesday from a vote on two opposing resolutions touching on the latest flareup in the east Mediterranean where the oil resources hold the key to western Europe's prosperity.

A voting session of the council here was generally dreaded. It could only result in vetoes by both the United States and Russia over two opposing motions, actions which would negate the deliberations since Monday's Iraq uprising.

The council was to meet this afternoon at 3 p.m. EDT in a possible showdown session.

In advance of this meeting there was a general impression here that the delegates of even the Russian aside hoped for some compromise attempt to stave off another political deadlock in the UN.

PERHAPS IN ASSEMBLY

Such a stalemate could result in an emergency session of the UN's General Assembly, where perhaps the only result would be some form of moral condemnation of the forces now at work in the boiling Middle East situation.

The Security Council held the key to any such form of intervention. But it faced a call by the U.S. to set up an armed emergency force along the lines of the Canadian-sponsored Suez intervention corps which has kept the peace along the Israeli-Egyptian border since early 1957; and it also had to consider Russian demand that the U.S. troops which landed in Lebanon Tuesday be withdrawn forthwith.

Such diametrically opposed views indicated in advance that the council would be hamstrung again by the big-power veto. And at Wednesday night's adjournment there was only a faint hope of a mutually acceptable solution.

SWEDISH IDEA

Neutralist Sweden was reported buying to line up support for a resolution calling for the suspension of the UN Observer Corps in Lebanon as long as U.S. troops remain in that country. There seemed to be little support for the proposal.

(The New York Times says Canada was invited to join in sponsoring the resolution, but refused.)

The Beirut landing was regarded as a clear indication that the U.S. has drawn the line in the Middle East—a policy shift which many British sources prepared wryly with the 1956 Suez crisis when the U.S. came out against the British-French invasion of Egypt.

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

India and Yugoslavia, both trying to remain neutral in the world's East-West power struggle, have spoken out strongly against western troops moving into the Middle East.

The Western camp generally supports the sending of troops into pro-Western countries in the trouble-packed area to bolster their beleaguered governments. The Eastern bloc opposes it.

Prime Minister Nehru of India said he views the landing of U.S. Marines in Lebanon with grave concern. "As I've always said," he added, "foreign intervention is always dangerous."

He had now yet commented on the British troops landing in Jordan.

CALLS FOR WITHDRAWAL

Yugoslavia, another major power trying to maintain a neutral line, condemned the U.S. landing outright and called for the withdrawal of the Lebanese and Marines.

In Ghana, Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah said the U.S. troops should be pulled out as soon as possible, but he supported the U.S. stand that an international police force should be sent there to maintain peace.

Japan became the first member of the Western bloc to voice doubts about the U.S. move. Koto Matsudaira told the United Nations Security Council on Wednesday that his country had "certain misgivings" about the circumstances which made the landing necessary.

The Times of Indonesia sarcastically asked if it was wise to have so many Americans in Indonesia, observing "we are exposed to U.S. intervention." This referred to Washington's statement the Marines were in Lebanon partly to protect American nationals.

Communist North Korea's Pyongyang Radio said: "Imperialistic cannot "cover up their true color as heinous aggressors."

FORMOSA IS HAPPY

On Formosa, Premier Chen Cheng of Nationalist China issued a statement saying "we are glad that President Eisenhower has finally taken an action commensurate with the position and responsibility of the United States as the leader of the democratic camp."

Dagbladet, Norway's largest afternoon newspaper, also noted the critical view of Scandinavian nations, asserting:

"Since more than those responsible for American policy have acted stupidly and in panic. The landing caused the American landing in Lebanon, an action which could lead to the brink of war."

"Today, a new stupid action took place, this time caused by Great Britain. These actions have hurt the prestige of the West in years to come."

SMITH WILL MEET DULLES AND LLOYD IN WASHINGTON

Trip Approved By All Parties

OTTAWA (CP) — External Affairs Minister Smith flies to Washington today for U.S. Anglo-Canadian talks on the Middle East, while the Canada-United States Joint Air Defence Command stands by in an "increased state of readiness."

These events, both related to world tension over events in Iraq and Lebanon, were announced in a hushed House of Commons Wednesday by Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

All parties in the Commons approved a suggestion by Mr. Diefenbaker that an external affairs debate, scheduled for today, be postponed to enable Mr. Smith to go to Washington for the talks with British and U.S. leaders. Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain also was due in Washington today to confer with State Secretary John Foster Dulles.

Mr. Smith's departure was scheduled for 2:30 p.m. EDT.

It was "very necessary," the prime minister said, that Mr. Smith represent Canada's interests in the talks. Opposition Leader Pearson and CCF House Leader Hazen Argue agreed.

Mr. Smith also was to consult with UN headquarters in New York.

NOT ALARMING

Confirming a Tuesday night announcement by headquarters of the North American Air Defence Command (NORAD) that its air defence forces have been placed on "universal readiness" status, Mr. Diefenbaker said there was nothing "alarmist or provocative" in the step.

It was a course of "prudence, caution and common sense," he said. The NORAD alert set fighter interceptor squadrons transferred to NORAD's operational control last year.

Mr. Smith reviewed briefly the events in troubled Iraq, where the monarchy was overthrown by the army Monday, and in Lebanon, where U.S. Marines landed Tuesday to bolster the Lebanese government against civil revolutionaries.

He said U.S. diplomat will ask for some 43 Canadian nationals now in Iraq, as was done for Canadians in Lebanon.

Ordinarily British diplomatic missions in countries where Canada is not represented diplomatically look after Canadian interests. In Iraq, however, the British Embassy was burned by rioters Monday in a coup.

Concern about the feverish situation in the Middle East generally was reflected in comments caused by last Monday's military coup in Iraq and the U.S. decision to send 5,000 marines to Lebanon was reflected in Commons questions.

Mr. Smith gave this information in replies:

1. The picture in Iraq is "much clearer" than on Tuesday.

2. There has been no report of any molestation of the 43 Canadian nationals there.

Middle East at a Glance

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

Amman, Jordan—British paratroops landed 88 request of King Hussein. He welcomes them as "friendly forces."

Beirut — Unidentified gunmen reported to have fired on U.S. marines. No casualties reported.

Moscow—Russia announces air and land manoeuvres to be held near Iranian border, within easy striking distance of Lebanon, Iraq and Jordan.

Cairo — President Nasser warns that any attack against Iraqi rebels from outside will be considered aggression against his United Arab Republic.

Baghdad — Rebels reported in firm control; confirm that King Faisal killed in Monday's uprising.

Washington — State Secretary Dulles to meet with Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and External Affairs Minister Smith to discuss Middle East crisis.

Moscow — About 1,000 Russians demonstrated outside the United States Embassy today, shouting "hands off the Lebanon," "hands off Iraq" and other slogans.

Nuri Said Disguised as Old Woman With Veil When Killed

By MAHMOUD ABDUL KARIM

BAGHDAD, Iraq (Reuters)—Prowling revolutionary forces' change of regime Monday disappeared back to their barracks early Wednesday leaving only guards to protect foreign farms and residences.

Women went shopping in Al-Rashid street, the main thoroughfare.

Wednesday the new cabinet assembled under Gen. Abdul Karim Kassim, new president of the republic, arrived triumphantly in the city from Adela where he has been ambassador to Saudi Arabia.

More than 100,000 people cheered him all the way from Baghdad airport to the ministry of defence building.

With him were Brig. Abdul Karim Qassim, the new premier and leader of the national movement which Monday proclaimed a republic.

Also in the new president's car was Brig. Abdul Salam Mohammed Ariff who is the deputy premier and acting minister of the interior.

Tuesday was a public holiday. Wednesday banks and government offices resumed work and the bazaars opened up again.

American, British, Frenchmen and Italians who work here went back to their offices. Both the veiled women in their black abas and foreign women went out shopping to shop. The foreign owned stores also were open.

The coup, planned for weeks, achieved success within a few hours.

It began with a lightning swoop on the post and cable offices, the broadcasting station and the bridges over the river Tigris which runs through the city.

Then Kassim's men moved against the Rigeh Palace. It fell within minutes.

The old prime minister Nuri Said, shot by rebel soldiers, was buried Wednesday outside Baghdad. According to official accounts he was disguised as an old woman in a black veil when killed.

The state council, with 50-year-old Gen. Najib Rubai as head, and two other members, they are Mohammed Mahdi Kubba, 52 leader of the dissolved Istiqlal party and Khalid Naqshabandi, 45, until recently governor of Erbil province known for Kurdish district.

Immediately after his installation as prime minister, Qassim issued this order to the populace:

"Keep your revolt against the monarchy clean. I ask you to be friendly and cordial to foreigners the living guests of your country. Their guests and respect them."

Marines Finally Answer Fire Of Snipers

BEIRUT (Reuters) — American Marines exchanged fire with Lebanese snipers around the Beirut airport Wednesday night, said an American spokesman said.

The Marines had been fired on for several hours before they shot back. After a few shots, the sniping stopped.

THE WEATHER

TORONTO (CP) Synopsis: — Cool dry air covers the entire province today resulting in sunny skies and pleasant temperatures. As this cool air moves eastward into New England tonight and Friday accompanied by slowly rising temperatures. In the south, Friday will be mainly sunny but cloudy skies and scattered showers and thundershowers will move into southwestern regions by Friday evening. Temperatures and humidity will remain high over the southerly winds preceding these showers.

Former Drover Says Govt. Tries To Swing Vote

TORONTO (CP)—Edgar Marsin of Chatham, a farmer and former hog drover, has accused the Ontario government of trying to swing a July 25 plebiscite on a hog marketing plan.

Mr. Martin, a leading opponent of the marketing program now in effect in the province, said Wednesday in an interview:

"The government of Ontario and the ministry of agriculture are doing themselves an injustice by asking the producers to vote in favor of the present marketing plan."

Agriculture Minister Goodfellow said at Tillsonburg last week his department would appoint a recount supreme court ruling that the hog marketing plan was illegal and urged voters to register their approval of the plan July 25.

Mr. Martin has a farm south of Chatham with about 75 hogs. Previously he farmed in the Painkalane area.

He said he is not opposed to co-operative marketing but rather to compulsion, abolition of competition, individual initiative and free enterprise.

Meanwhile, the Ontario Hog Producers' Association and Co-operative has launched a bilingual campaign throughout the province for a yes vote.

RUSSIANS PLAN WAR GAMES NEAR TURKEY AND IRAN

Ask Answer to West

LONDON (AP) — Russia announced today Soviet land, sea and air forces will start manoeuvres Friday on the southern frontiers.

Diplomats here took it as an obvious counter measure to the landing of American and British military forces in the Middle East.

A Moscow radio broadcast said Russia's Black Sea fleet, would take part in the manoeuvres in the Transcaucasian area. Land and air forces will manoeuvre in the Turkestan and Caucasian military districts, the broadcast said.

The latter lie close to the Iran and Turkish borders.

News of the Soviet military moves came shortly after Premier Khrushchev's warning that Russia could not remain indifferent to Middle East events.

A British foreign office spokesman said the Soviet military movements would be given prompt study, "but there will be no other official comment."

Both Pravda and Izvestia carried the report of the manoeuvre but devoted most of their coverage to the British airborne landing of United States Marines in Lebanon.

The government newspaper Izvestia charged the United States government with "again putting the world on the brink of war," adding the Soviet people "are indignant at the brazen action of the imperialist aggressors."

Pravda, the Communist party organ, claimed the American landings constituted a "flagrant and vicious military interference in the internal affairs of Lebanon."

Three Convicts Saw Through Prison Bars

QUEBEC (CP)—Three convicts sawed through the bars of the women's section of the men's prison at Bathlefields' Park Wednesday night and three more were slowed by a knotted bed-sheet to freedom.

The escape was discovered five minutes later as police were immediately alerted to be on the lookout for the five. Police believe they may be heading for Montreal.

The men were identified as Jean-Paul Lacerte, 34, of Joliette, serving three years for robbery, Eddie Bernard, 25, of St. Germaine, and Guy Turbik, 20, of Riviere Pentecote, both awaiting trial for armed robbery.

Police said the three men dressed in their grey prison uniforms, have been helped by friends who supplied them with fresh clothing and possibly a car. Police said they may be dangerous.

Answer Appeal By King Hussein For Assistance

Role in Likely Action Against Iraq Not Clear

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—British troops landed in Jordan today as the United States airlifted more soldiers to the Middle East and Russia began sabre rattling close by.

British paratroopers from Cyprus flew to the Amman airport to support embattled young King Hussein against the wave of anti-Western Arab nationalism which dethroned and killed his cousin King Faisal of Iraq.

Hussein announced in a broadcast he had appealed for help after the landing had been authorized Wednesday night by an emergency session of the Jordanian parliament. In Amman, at least, the news caused no initial excitement.

The British troop planes touched down at 2:30 a.m. EDT. There were reports Wednesday night before the landing started that British troops already had entered Jordan, from the British garrison in Libya, covering the report until Hussein made his announcement.

The king said the foreign troops were in Jordan as "a temporary measure to protect our country from enemies circling us in every direction."

He said they had been asked in under Article 51 of the United Nations charter, which provides for collective defence against armed attack.

MAY TRY ACTION

Observers in London believed that Hussein intended to try some sort of military action against the Iraqi rebels. The 23-year-old monarch has proclaimed himself the legal successor to Faisal as head of the Iraq-Jordan Arab Union, and Britain was reported to have recognized his constitutional right to act against the rebels.

It was still uncertain, however, whether the British forces would confine themselves to safeguarding the Jordanian government or would support actively any military action by the king. British troops invaded Egypt after the First World War and was its protector until last year, when Jordan broke the link in a wave of nationalism.

President Nasser of the United Arab Republic warned Wednesday night that any aggression against the United Arab Republic would be considered aggression against his Soviet-armed nation.

The British troops landed in response to an urgent plea from Hussein less than 48 hours after U.S. Marines swarmed ashore at Beirut to bolster the pro-western government against rebels supported by the U.A.R.

Princess Awed by Five-Ton Cake Rising 20 Feet Above B.C. Crowd

VANCOUVER (CP) — Princess Margaret takes her centennial tour in stride, but Princess Columbia is awed, following a hot, hectic trip up Vancouver Island.

It's unlikely she will find any respite from the heat when she gets to Port Alice, 750 miles north of Vancouver, today. The forecast calls for temperatures in the high 90s.

The princess left Victoria Wednesday after a four-day stay which started her tour of the province during its 100th birthday year.

Her first stop was Nanaimo, a little island as the "mother city" of the island, to attend a city hall ceremony and cut the first piece of the five-ton birthday cake baked in honor of B.C.'s centennial.

The princess was dressed for the heat in a modified sack dress, multi-coloured print in glazed cotton, the dress had wide straps at the shoulder, a square neckline and was fitted loose in the back.

An airy, pleated hat of beige tulle, white leather shoes and pocketbook set ensemble. She wore her favorite two-strand pearl necklace and a loose bracelet.

The princess was obviously impressed by the cake, rising 20 feet above a crowd of about 8,000. When she stepped from her car, she momentarily forgot the dignitaries and crowds in front of her and stood gazing at the cake.

After presentations, her first move was to congratulate chef Mike Farano.

During this, a 4-mile official motorcade departed briefly to line of the two-foot candles on the cake for the princess to blow out. A light wind from the water was thwarting him. He made it, after a few tries, and the people let up a cheer.

Princess Margaret reached her appointed place, inhaled, and puffed the flame out.

Pictures of the Royal Family, done in sugar, were moved from display by the princess.

Then she cut the record from Cmdr. Gar Dixon, aide-de-camp to Lieut.-Gov. Frank Ross, and cut the first piece from the cake.

She removed one elbow-length white glove, tasted the cake critically, pronounced it "marvellous," and said she was sure Prince Charles and Princess Anne would be "most happy" with the pieces of cake prepared for them.

Tito Recognizes Iraqi Rebels

BELGRADE (AP) — President Tito's government announced today that Yugoslavia has recognized the rebel government in Iraq and plans to set up normal diplomatic relations between the two countries.

The move was conferring with President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, to which the Nasser revolt broke out, called the new Iraqi premier that all treaties are right to decide on their own social system.

Yugoslavia has recognized regime and the Iraqi monarchy did not have diplomatic relations.

Members of the Soviet bloc meanwhile lined up with Russia and Communist China in recognizing the new Baghdad government. The Soviet Union was expected reported Poland, Romania and Czechoslovakia had done so. They also had no relations with Iraq before the revolt.

SEAMAN ON LEAVE LOST SHOES, MONEY AND MEAN THIEF

Robert Markle, Able Seaman on HMCS Huron and son of Mrs. Doris Markle, Cannifton Road, Belleville on his annual 34 days leave, but minus a good pair of shoes and $36 in cash out of his wallet. The sailor was forced to walk through Montreal station in his stocking feet and be the centre of all eyes.

After boarding the train at Windsor for his trip home, he, with other sailors, curled up in the seats for their night's sleep. During the night some mean person stole his shoes, which were parked underneath the seat and also went through his wallet taking $36, but were thoughtful enough to leave it for eating money.

It is a good thing that some of the boys were not awakened for someone would have been hurt and it would not have been the sailors.

Frank Creeggan, Russell Woodley Receive Honors

At the sessions of Grand Lodge, A.F. and A.M. of Canada in the Province of Ontario now being held in Toronto and attended by a large number of Masons from Belleville and district the elections of two Belleville brethren are of interest.

Worshipful Bro. Frank Creeggan, a past master of Temple Lodge, No. 666, this city, was elected as District Deputy Grand Master of Prince Edward District, by his district Masons.

Worshipful Bro. Russell C. Woodley, a past master of The Belleville Lodge, No. 122, also of this city, was honored with the election of Grand Registrar of Grand Lodge for the Province of Ontario.

Both these well known Masons are receiving congratulations of their many friends. The officers carry the title of "Right Worshipful."

Hydro Employee Electrocuted Near Frankford

Arthur LaBrash, 23, employee of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission working out of Frankford, was electrocuted early Wednesday afternoon when a hydro pole he was working on snapped and threw him against high voltage wires.

The accident occurred on the 7th concession of Sidney township, four miles south of Stirling, as the men were installing a service at the farm of Donald Prest.

Hydro men gave artificial respiration with a resuscitator for an hour and a half to save Mr. LaBrash was then ordered to Belleville General Hospital, but was pronounced dead on arrival. Dr. William Cornett of Stirling, attended at the scene.

It was reported that Mr. LaBrash was working on the main line transformer pole with another lineman, Don Jewell of Frankford on the pole leading to the Prest farm. Lee Hubble, Frankford, was at the foot of the transformer pole when it broke.

Mr. Hubble suffered a shoulder burn while he attempted to reach Mr. LaBrash, when he was thrown onto the high tension line. He was treated for shock.

A resident of Frankford, Mr. LaBrash returned to that village only a year ago to work with the Hydro. He is survived by his wife and a 3-year-old daughter, and his parents at Norwood.

Austin Watkin and Mother Winners of Hyde Tournament

The Hyde trophy tournament staged at the Belleville Lawn Bowling Club on Wednesday was a smashing success.

A local rink, Austin Watkin, with his mother, Mrs. George Watkin, scored the maximum points to be obtained in winning the tourney and record player and radio pulleys that accompanied the trophy. Ex-Ald. Charles L. Hyde, along with his son, Mayor Gerald R. Hyde, sponsored the tournament and Mr. Hyde was given the honor of making the presentation to the winning pair. The second prizes were won by a Kingston couple, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Sidney, while third prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Edwards of Belleville. Lorne Lockwood and his wife, from Brighton, were next, while Mr. and Mrs. Hyde Skinner of Kingston followed. George McGee and Mrs. Tommy Mascaro were next while one of the sponsors, Gerald B. Hyde, and his mother, Mrs. Gordon L. Hyde, wound up those who won three games during the tournament.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Crozier of Toronto, who annually play in this tourney, were high for two games won, with Ernie Vanner and Mrs. Thelma Fitzgibbon of the local club clubs second. Mr. and Mrs. William Fuller of Trenton were third while Mr. and Mrs. Bert Taylor of Campbellford, were fourth. The first one-game high winners were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Watkin, who won the tourney three years ago, while William Lancaster and Miss Winnie Smith, also of the home club, were second. Mr. Albert Hoskins and his partner, Mrs. Bruce of Cobourg, unfortunately did not win a game but were high for no wins and received a prize.

The bowlers were welcomed by the president of the club, Percy Graham, and at the conclusion of the tournament, the sponsor thanked the district bowlers for their attendance and asked to keep the dcte open for next year. The greens were in excellent condition and lighting fast and some splendid bowling was witnessed by the large gallery that followed the play. There were 80 rinks in play and some 160 men directly or indirectly every club in the district.

Tommy Finkle Not Badly Hurt, Car Hits Bike

Tommy Finkle, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Finkle, 72 West Dundas Street, escaped with a bump on the head Wednesday afternoon when the bicycle he was riding was in collision with a car on West Bridge Street near the fair grounds.

Police said the lad was coming out of the fair grounds and apparently failed to see the westbound car on Bridge Street. The lad's bicycle was completely wrecked, while the boy was taken to hospital by Bush's Ambulance.

It was the second time in two weeks that children in the Finkle family have been injured in accidents. While on the way to Dulles Beach two weeks ago two-year-old Margaret Finkle tumbled out of her father's car when the door flew open near West Lake.

Requests Book To Help Pass Time in Cells

KITCHENER (CP) — Magistrate Alan Barron has set Aug. 13 as the date of the preliminary hearing of Frank Martin, charged a week ago with murder in the June 20 bludgeoning of Mrs. Helen Rahman, 44. Martin was remanded in custody.

No plea was taken in Wednesday's remand proceedings.

Martin asked reporters to do him two favors—drive his wife to Stratford on July 31 in his car so she will be able to see Princess Margaret, and get his book on hounds.

Martin said he wanted the dog book to pass the time in his cell. He owns four hounds which he uses for hunting.

4,873 Dwelling Units Built In Six Weeks

OTTAWA (CP)—Direct federal government lending for home building, armed with an additional $350,000,000 provided by Parliament today, totalled $50,300,000 in the six-week period ending July 4, group captain reported Wednesday. The loans covered 4,873 dwelling units.

The figures on loans, made by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, cannot be compared with a year ago since the program began only last August. The report said, however, that ordinary National Housing Act loans by private lending firms in the first 27 months of this year covered 25,121 housing units, compared with 13,002 in the corresponding period of 1957.

Of the $50,300,000 in direct loans, $23,328,000 was made available to complete the program for small homes lending which was begun last fall and continued under CMHC auspices this spring.

Another $16,177,000 was lent in the first six weeks of the new direct loan program begun in May, the report said. Loans for commercial housing is limited dividend companies totalled $10,917,000 for 1,399 units.

The report gave an indication of the effect of the direct loans program to finance the building of houses smaller than those covered by normal NHA mortgages.

It said that in the first three months of 1958, the average cost of the small houses was $12,905 compared with $15,337 for those under regular NHA loans. Average payment was $2,199, more than $1,500 less than the average for normal NHA mortgages.

Police Blotter

City police are always willing to help out the ladies who lose last night when a 54-year-old transient turned up at the police station requesting "ten days on the hill."

The man was obviously drunk and the desk sergeant locked him in the cells after formally charging him with drunkenness.

Otherwise two instances of petty theft occupied the attention of police during the night. Police reported the city asphalt plant was entered and four gallons of gasoline stolen, while a Trenton resident complained of canned foods and a carton of cigarettes being taken from his boat tied up at Morley Smith's boathouse.

This Sheriff Was Kidded Into Rescue

CHILLICOTHE, Mo. (AP) Sheriff Kelvin Keirn was brought to head children crying in a nearby wood ed area surrounded by flood waters from the Grand River.

He got a rowboat and investigated, but found no children.

The sheriff did find two kids standing on a floating log. He rescued both young girls.

Double Theft

KINGSTON (CP)—Cigarets valued at more than $20,000 were stolen Wednesday from the trailer of a Taggart Service Limited transport. At the same time a three-ton stake truck was stolen from the transport yard, apparently used to carry away the loot, 1150 cartons of cigarets.

They Should Read Their Newspapers

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP) The jailer knows, the town knows and now you know.

But the two teen-agers in the county's new jail don't know — yet — their efforts to scrape through a cement wall with a bent tin cup as a chisel have been detected electronically since Tuesday night.

Jailer Carlisle Bruckman says the boys will be told to stop today.

Anyway, he adds, they were only digging harmlessly toward another cell.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market was narrowly ahead today in light morning trading.

Volume at 11 a.m. was 859,000 shares, compared with Wednesday's 1,178,000. It was the lightest first hour this month.

Base metals recorded the biggest gain and they were up little more than a quarter point. Industrials and western oils were ahead a few decimal points while golds were down less than a quarter.

Profit-taking that struck western oils late Wednesday continued in opening trading with losses and gains just about balancing. Pembina added ¼ at 10.

Golds were off as Dome was 1 point easier at 14 and Giant Yellowknife down 05 cents at $5.25. Base metals gained on the strength of International Nickel, up ¼ at 75 and a ¼ climb by Hudson Bay Mining, at 47. Coppers showed moderate strength with Campbell, Chibougamau moving forward 20 cents to $5.50 and Opemiska 20 cents to $8.30.

New Honey, after losing headway for two sessions started back up Wednesday and continued to rise with a 40 cent gain at 34.55. It traded 58,770 shares as the most active issue.

YOU CAN SAVE WHEN YOU TRAVEL

One of the biggest expenses in the tourist's budget is overnight accommodation. It can also be a headache...when the weary motorist cannot find a vacancy at the end of the day.

The simple way to overcome both of these problems is to carry your own camping equipment with you. At Booth Radio and Television Limited you can select everything you need such as tent, sleeping bags, camp stove, picnic cooler, etc. This won't wreck your vacation budget because at Booth's you pay no money down and as little at $1.00 a week — and you'll save money on your vacation trip as well!

Drop in to 170 Front Street, opposite City Hall, and see the wide selection.—(ADVT.) 210-14-17

Animals Take 'A Beating' From Cars

TRENTON — Domesticated animals have been taking "a beating" in Trenton during the past week with three dogs and a cat killed during that period by motorists.

Two dogs were run over on July 12 and 13 and yesterday, another dog and a cat were added to the list to bring the total fatalities among dogs to 10. It was the first report this year of a cat being killed by a motorist in town although a couple of their cousins from the woods have met their doom on town streets.

Yesterday C. Masters reported he had hit and killed a cat while driving along Front St., and near the CPR bridge. He told the town police he was unable to locate the owner of the cat and had disposed of the body.

Last night about 7.50 p. m. the tenth dog in Trenton was killed since the first of the year. J. T. Trulin of 195 Dundas St., East, reported he was going west on Bay Street and was in front of house number 85 when a small dog ran out in front of his vehicle and was killed.

Constable George Trench of the Trenton police force investigated.

COUNCILLOR INJURED

TRENTON — Councillor Lloyd Worrall was admitted to the Trenton Memorial Hospital yesterday and it is expected he will be there until the end of this week.

Mr. Worrall was burned around the top of the foot and shin recently when he was on a camping trip at Weller's Bay. A gas lantern had apparently been left on the tent and the councillor, in some way received the burns.

The incident was reported to have happened on Sunday and when Mr. Worrall reported to the doctor on Wednesday morning he was sent to the hospital as a slight infection had set in in one of the burns.

Dr. W. W. Weaver treated the wound and reported the councillor will be required to stay in hospital and off his feet until the burns have been given a chance to heal.

Councillor Worrall met with fire Chief Clarence Orser and some of the firemen on Tuesday afternoon to discuss the specifications for the new combination aerial and pumper truck the town will be buying soon.

Mr. Worrall is chairman of the town's Protection to Persons and Property Committee.

Will Open Bridge On Highway 401 First of October

TRENTON — In a telephone conversation with the Division Engineer in Kingston, Mayor Ross Burtt reports he has been informed the 401 bridge will not be opened for traffic until the end of September or the first of October.

Mayor Burtt said he was discussing the subject with C. Walker, head of the highway work in this area and had been told that other reports of the official opening of the big new bridge over the Frankford highway and the Trent River were not correct.

He said it was expected the bridge will open later to conform with the repair work which is planned for this fall on the town bridge and will close the span down to one-lane of traffic. If the 401 bridge is opened at that time it will relieve some of the traffic from the local bridge while undergoing extensive repairs.

Work on the town bridge will cost $68,000 and half the costs will be paid for by the provincial government with the other half being paid by the town of Trenton.

Details which are planned for the repairing of the local span have not been released but, according to reports, have been drawn up by a Kingston firm and will be given to the town in the very near future. It has been previously stated that the abutments of the bridge will be repaired as well as a new deck built.

It is also expected the Federal government will be carrying out some repair work on the swing portion of the bridge at the same time.

Other reports from the town office revealed that the C.P.R. level crossing of West Street has been repaired and crossing it will now be a smoother ride for motorists. The crossing is used extensively by the workers of the three large manufacturing plants at the end of West Street.

Work has begun on the asphalt path at the Trenton Country Club and is expected to be finished by the end of this week, but if any complications arise may be extended into next week.

Parked Car Badly Damaged By Collision

TRENTON — A parked car was damaged to the extent of $150 when it was hit by another vehicle, which was proceeding along Dundas Street West, at 12.10 a.m. this morning. The impact also drove the car ahead and into a sign to damage the front end of the vehicle as well.

The parked car, a Volkswagen, was owned by Donald G. Merryman, 71 Cranborne Ave., Toronto and suffered damage in the rear to the motor, motor cover, bumper and to the front fender and headlight.

The other car involved was being driven by William C. Weatherell of 104 Henry Street, Trenton, and damage to the right front side of the car was estimated at $75.

According to reports in the police accident book the Volkswagen was parked on the right hand side of Dundas Street and about 10 feet from the Dufferin Street intersection.

The car being driven by Mr. Weatherell was proceeding west on Dundas and failed to see the parked vehicle in time to miss it and, hitting the rear of it, shoved the car ahead and into a sign post.

Staff-Sergeant Walter Yonmans and constable C. Schwarze investigated the accident.

CYCLIST HURT

Dennis Scott of 89 South Scott Street was cut on the right arm Tuesday when he was riding his bicycle along Elgin Street and ran into the door of a truck.

The incident was reported to the police yesterday by Earl Herrington, operator of the vehicle. He said his truck was parked on Elgin Street in front of Weaver's Motors and when he opened the door the cyclist hit his arm on it.

WELCOME LODGE MEMBERS

TORONTO (CP)—Guests from fellow lodges in Canada and the U.S. were welcomed Wednesday for the 103rd annual meeting of the Grand Lodge AF and AM of Canada in Ontario by Grand Master Harry L. Martyn. He reported that 15 lodges had been granted permission to wear gold braid on their regalia signifying 100 years of active existence.

Finance Minister Fleming holds in his left hand an old wartime victory bond and in his right a new bond, issued by the government in urging war bond holders to convert. The new bonds mature later but pay higher interest and a bonus to the holder who takes advantage of the conversion. Object of the $8,400,000,000 project is to remove the uncertainties caused by a mass of near-due bonds overhanging the market. (CP Wirephoto).

MARINES LAND, SITUATION NOT IN HAND

The U.S. Marines have landed near the shores of another Tripoli, this time in Asia Minor instead of North Africa.

Today, though, the situation is not automatically "well in hand" once the marines land.

One reason for this is that the marines will find it more difficult today to identify their foes than they did to recognize a Barbary Coast pirate of another century.

There are, of course, those people who view the Middle East situation with the same apparent clarity of vision with which their ancestors contemplated the struggle to make the Mediterranean safe for peaceful commerce.

The difficulty is that this apparently sharp picture of the Middle East is a mirage, a hopelessly jumbled mixture of fact and fiction.

What is happening there is not merely another phase of the Cold War, of the struggle between the forces of freedom, represented by the Western democracies, and the threat of totalitarianism emanating from the Kremlin.

There is a third force present, representing the needs and aspirations of the native populations, and these populations are divided into several classes, and many more factions, each with its dreams, hopes, hates and plots.

On any realistic basis, the great need of the Middle East is an improvement in the economic lot of the poverty-stricken masses. But so great is the power of an idea that the really potent force in most of these lands, at the present moment of history, is a nationalism which is emotional, unstable and often completely unreasonable.

It is a nationalism compounded of memories of past wrongs and past glories, of dreams of independence and of revenge. And all these memories; these hopes and these dreams have been solidifying behind the figure of the one man who has already accomplished what his own nation much of what the nationalists in other Arab lands hope to achieve for their own. This man is Nasser.

To many Nasser is a Red, to others a Communist dupe. The former designation is ridiculous; the latter probably underestimates the Egyptian dictator's acumen. Be that as it may, Nasser appears to meet Arabs in this light: He is a man who has ousted a corrupt and spineless monarch; he is a man who has freed his country's soil of foreign troops after many long decades of occupation; he is a man who has defied the nations of the West which have for so long pulled the strings which worked the puppet kings in Arab lands and above everything he is a man who has recalled to the Arabs memories of lost greatness, of the days when Islam was not merely a great military force but the seat of the leading culture of the age, and he has painted a vision of recaptured glories.

That this picture of a heroic Nasser is distorted, a composition in which myth and lie play as big a role as the truth, is beside the point. This is Nasser as he appears to the Arab nationalist and most Arabs are today nationalists.

If the Western nations could reach greater unanimity in their action it might be possible to exorcise this devil. But the Communists are seizing on Nasser as a stick to beat the West, and the West is acutely aware of its dependence on Middle East oil. Neither camp, therefore, does much which is really constructive towards turning the attention of the Arabs from barren nationalism towards the real problems of the Middle East, an increase in the standard of living.

It is ironic that Iraq, where the latest wave of nationalism has wrecked the existing regime, should be the country where oil royalties have been wisely used, not for the private gratification of a monarch and his favorites but for laying the groundwork for a better life for the people as a whole.

This is sad proof, if any were needed, that inflamed emotion, and not-sound reasoning, prompts the hands which are so continually poking at the gears delicately meshed in the complex machinery of the balance of power in the Middle East. Thus we have various misguided fanatics in a position to start an avalanche which could engulf not only them and the big powers which they are trying to use, but the whole world.

LIFE

HE NEVER KNEW

He never knew the art required
To fry an egg;
And it had always made him tired
To find a drag
Within his morning coffee cup;
And he had spurned
His breakfast toast, if he got up
To find it burned.

He never knew the great
Of flowers
It took most show;
He never even tried to guess
How new hat's knowy
Her while his wife had been

He ran the shack
And did the cooking! Hip,
Hooray!—
She has cope back!

And never more he'll make complaint
If toast is burned
And coffee seems to have a taint,
For he has learned
By sad experience, and rude
And bitter smart,
That even cooking breakfast food
Is quite an art.

The Fate of Humanity

Sectional Essay

Lord Russell the British philosopher was to have given this speech in Basle, Switzerland, to a conference of European interested in solving the Berlin crisis deadlock. The Swiss cancelled the conference because they said it would compromise their traditional neutrality. It is interesting that the question of Switzerland having nuclear weapons is currently being debated in that country and may be given as the reason for supposing that the conference would have constituted "foreign interference" in a national question, and was therefore, legally, unsubstantiated and therefore, intolerable.

We are assembled to consider the most grave and terrible problem with which mankind has ever been confronted. We have been discovered by which, in all likelihood, the human race and all that is dear to it will be destroyed or, at best, reduced to a few destitute wanderers in Tierra del Fuego or the New Hebrides. And there is every reason to believe that, if a war does break out, the new weapons will be employed to the full in spite of their terrible consequences.

To solve this problem, even in theory, is by no means simple and to solve it in practice is appallingly difficult. Nevertheless, a practical solution must be found, or else human race is to continue.

The necessary steps are of two different kinds. There are, first, those that aim only at preventing the outbreak of war; and there are, secondly, those that recognize that will be required if a great war is to be avoided throughout a long future. Before we consider either of these, let us briefly survey the present situation of mankind, and the prospects which they hold out for the coming years.

In the United States, the U.S.S.R. and British possessions, and throughout Western Germany, Sweden and Switzerland intense activity is now being carried on. Lectures are given, active steps are taken to prevent this spread of deadly, fallout, and in many cases, scientists have conducted a vigorous and persistent opposition to the government policy — indeed, scientists in many countries have spoken and written as I am speaking and are doing what they can to avert it.

It is, of course, obvious that any increase in the number of Western powers possessing nuclear will be followed by a corresponding increase among the Eastern Powers. So, in any case, will demand entry to the Nuclear Club. I think it may be confidently assumed that the Middle East will follow suit. The very fact will be, not any change in the balance of power, but a great increase in the risk of war and in the difficulty of reaching any agreement for the abolition of these weapons.

On this ground, I should wish to see my own country renounce the use and even the intention to secure an agreement confining the bomb to the present Powers. Such an agreement would not, of course, put an end to the risk of general war, but it would greatly increase the possibility of an agreement to ban these goals to remove nuclear weapons.

It is chiefly in this connection that the abolition of tests, which is, at the moment, a matter of greatest possibility, is important. Tests are harmful because they poison air and water and food, and the genetic damage of unknown magnitude. But, in spite of the harm done by nuclear war, and that is done by increasing the likelihood that it will be undertaken, it will be very difficult for new powers to acquire H-bombs. This is by far the most important reason for hoping that an agreement to abolish tests may be concluded.

Between the two World Wars, and since the conclusion of the Second, there have been innumerable proposals for disarmament. Disarmament, per se, will not prevent war. But it is important, partly because, if achieved, it will diminish the mutual fears which now make negotiation difficult, and partly because, at present, the most powerful unprovoked nuclear attack by the other and therefore preserves an instant readiness for retaliation, which makes the danger of accident and mistakes, interpreted as enemy action, a constant menace from moment to moment.

On this ground, above all others, some much partial disarmament as would make an attack in the style of Pearl Harbour impossible is profoundly desirable. But the history of disarmament conferences is one of the most discouraging chapters in human history. Both sides have made proposals, not with a view to their acceptance but solely for propaganda value. The proposals have been such as those who made them felt certain would be rejected; when, to the horror of those who made the proposals, the other side has accepted them, they have been withdrawn. In any good list of future disarmament conferences, it can only be after both sides have come to think that agreement is more important than putting the other side in the wrong.

There is one exception to the insincerity of Governments as regards disarmament; it is the Baruch Proposal, which the United States put forward while it still had a monopoly of atomic power. This proposal was generous and wise, and, if Russia had accepted it, Russia and the West and the world would not have been exposed to the perils which at present menace them. But the Baruch Proposal is now ancient history and cannot be revised to meet present needs.

One of the most alarming things about the world in which we are trying to live is the ignorance, genuine or assumed, of the eminent statesmen who guide the policies of the most powerful nations. A report in the London Times of June 27 that Mr. Dulles recently warned a committee of Congress that the American way of life is in greater jeopardy from the cold war than it would be from a hot one. An open war, he said, we can win, but (so he said), 'I do not know if we will win this cold war as well.'

A statement of this sort cannot but inspire fear. Whether Mr. Dulles really think that anybody could "win" a hot war, or whether he merely warned a committee in the hope of getting certain unlikely additional sums to be asked of Mr. Khrushchev. In a letter to me he writes:

"However much our opponents may pretend to be sincere, in our countries will not disappear because of that, and Communism, the most evil and destructive humanist teaching will not cease to exist.

"How many attempts there have been to destroy Communism by force of arms!

"I think that if imperialistic unhealthy world order that will perish in it. The people will not want to put up with a system which does not fit without wars without the annihilation of millions of people, to enrich a handful of monopolists."

This passage makes it evident that Mr. Khrushchev, like Mr. Dulles, imagines that he has in his own side to be victorious in a nuclear war, or, at any rate, to inflict so damaging this. On this point I cannot see anything to choose between these two eminent statesmen. Both, it seems, are willing, either ignorantly or recklessly, to risk mankind to universal death rather than make what seem to be smallest concession in negotiations.

It is plainly the duty of conferences and of the press within the utmost emphasis that the views of such men as Mr. Dulles and Mr. Khrushchev are utterly disastrous, and would result in universal suicide, if their facts were more widely known.

(To be concluded tomorrow)

Will Not Be Room to Move

New York Times

Six hundred years from now, if the present rate of population increase continues, the number of human beings on earth will be such that there will be only one square inch of land for each to live on . . . the one square meter would include fierce wastes, deserts and mountain tops."

In these words a United Nations report dramatizes a current report on "the future growth of world population." The writers of the report don't believe we will ever reach the degree of congestion predicted. They are not predict that the whole surface of the earth will ever be covered densely as an sunny summer afternoon. On a more prosaic level they do predict that the present world population of 2,500,000,000 will increase to 6,000,000,000 by the end of the present century.

The reasons for this increase are partly spelled out in terms of greater human happiness. Modern medicine has reduced infant and child mortality. More people live to be old. Fewer people can have children of their own. There is more room, more food, more space to be used. There is perhaps more reason for people to go on living. Even the immediate crime and calamity of an atomic war the earth probably will be an increasingly more comfortable place in which to live. Here's the good thing about population increase.

The bad thing about this increase is, of course, that if it goes on long enough, there won't be room enough to eat, nor room enough in which to be comfortable, nor much hope for the future. We don't know what influences may enter in to keep us from the ultimate overcrowding. Doubtless there will be some. At any rate, it is inconceivable that we should seek a solution in terms of going back to the bad old days of a high death rate, a low health rate and a high misery rate. The good ship earth, as it has been called, will doubtless wind up with about as many people as it is comfortably carry, but there is no limit beyond which it cannot safely go.

The Bleecker farm, comprising 168 acres and situated by highway No. 14 just north of the city, has been purchased from the Don Bleecker estate by Mr. Thomas Harris of this city and in the near future one of the best sanctuaries in Eastern Ontario will be in operation with Mr. Walter Turner in charge.

Miss Isobel Watson, Lingham Street, is spending her vacation in Capreol, Ontario, with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dunn.

Mrs. James Archer is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Collier, in Picton.

Miss Amelia Salckey of this city is visiting friends in Montreal.

Mrs. Catherine Diamond and nephew, of Detroit, Mich., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mott, Reid Street.

Mrs. Walter Patterson and Miss J. Calder were the hostesses at the East Belleville Golf Club on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Slater have left to spend two weeks at his son's cottage at Wellington Lake.

Mrs. A. M. Kennedy has returned home from Montreal where she visited her daughter, Mrs. H. D. Turnbull.

Mr. and Mrs. George Post, who have been visiting his parents at their home on Catherine Street, have returned to their home in Toronto.

Mr. S. A. Gardiner of this city is the guest of Mr. William Salter in Campbellford.

Mr. Thomas Manley has returned home after a business trip to Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo.

That evening an interesting game of baseball was played on Coleman's Flats between the Park Nine team and the Coleman's Flats team. The final score was 14 to 7 in favor of the latter team. The battery for the winners was Clement and Geralis and for the losers French and McGuire.

To Your Good Health

MINUTE PARTICLES OF TIN FROM CANNED GOODS NOT HARMFUL

"Dear Dr. Molner: In opening canned goods, especially the ones containing dark liquid such as ripe olives, I noticed small particles of tin floating around. If consumed, are these particles harmful?

"I always remove the top part of any canned goods I open. It would ease my mind to get your opinion on this. —L.F.K."

Sure, I've noticed these little specks myself, and sometimes they are, as you suspect, tin. And sometimes they aren't. Experts in such matters tell me that very often these tiny specks that glisten are particles of organic material associated with the preserving process. I can tell you definitely that they are not harmful.

Then again, in opening a can, sometimes the can will "powder off" almost microscopic specks of tin from the surface of the coating of tin on the can. These particles, while they are metal, still manage to "float" because they are so small that the surface tension of the fluid holds them up. This is an indication of how small they are, even though they catch the light and sparkle.

Again the answer is: Don't worry. They can't hurt you. There is less tin in them than in, for example, some brands of toothpaste.

So relax your mind and save money by not throwing away any of the food from the top of the can.

• • •

Another reader asks a similar question: "Some can openers shear off slivers of steel which drop down into the can. Is there any danger because of these particles of steel being included in the diet of man? —L.P.P."

Here again the answer is no—unless the fragment is big enough to hurt you in the physical sense. That is, cut or scratch you. If the slivers are that big, then get a new can opener. But the specs of steel (which is iron and carbon) won't hurt you from the dietary viewpoint.

"Dear, Dr. Molner: I have been told my 4-year-old daughter has a slight show of sugar. Could you detail the symptoms and cures? — Mrs. H.P."

I presume you mean she has diabetes or diabetes is suspected. In such a case, continued testing by your doctor is the only safe course until you know whether the high sugar level was only incidental. It shouldn't take long to find out for certain. If it is diabetes, then there is only one answer your doctor can give: Start using insulin at once. Diabetes in children usually develops rapidly, hence proper testing should establish the diagnosis.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I have a brother-in-law who is a real alcoholic. He tried Alcoholics Anonymous but with no luck. He took a cure and stayed off the bottle for a year. Now he is back where he was. I have heard there is a medicine that can be taken with the consent of the afflicted person, that will allow him to take a social drink occasionally without danger of the two- or three-day drunk that always follows. If they felt they could take a drink occasionally, like normal men, it would solve their problem. — J.F."

There is no such medicine. This man should gave up believing in fairy tales. An alcoholic simply can't "drink occasionally" and that's that. Neither can we expect medicine to solve his problem. He has to do it himself — by never taking that first drink. Then he can go back to AA, quit trying to feed his ego delusion by taking an occasional social drink, and stop drinking. There's no in-between.

Mrs. F.W.F.: No, I don't agree that a cyst should be removed by injection "all your life." But fungus infections are tricky, and I'm not surprised that the best bet is to go to a dermatologist, a kind specialist.

Beset by blinding, painful headaches? If so, write me in care of this newspaper for a copy of my booklet, "How To Tame Headaches," enclosing a large self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of handling.

ASSISTS

We all need the friendly help of others — to give us courage, to get back to right directions, and perhaps no more than a warm understanding of what we are about! We need occasional visits. We are like nature in this respect. To give an abundant harvest, and beautiful gardens and foliage, nature must receive its turn at visits.

In the Henry Ford old home which is known as the Archives are collections of an unusual character. He kept a collection of interesting items. I recall one — a card and the following words: In it: "Help The Other Fellow." And Mr. Ford added these words: "If everybody would do that there would be no need to help himself."

Even the greatest among us needs to assist now and then. It is no disgrace to seek the encouragement of another. How can we thank anyone as he should be thanked for assistance — except when we were low and in need of a sincere boost? Kindness is the greatest commodity in this world for "one

U.N. INVITED TO REPLACE U.S. FORCES IN LEBANON

WELLINGTON — Cory Cronk 21, of Hornepayne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Cronk, R. R. 2 Bloomfield, was on of three persons killed Friday night when the pickup truck in which they were riding was struck by a train at a level crossing near Hornepayne.

Also killed was Donald Orr, 31 and his son, Avin, 4, another son escaped.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Cronk left for Hornepayne on Friday night on being advised of the accident. Funeral was held Monday morning at Hornepayne and burial took place in Wellington Cemetery, Tuesday afternoon. Cory Cronk is survived by his wife and two children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barton Cronk, two brothers Bryan, R. R. 2, Bloomfield and Roger of Brockville, Cronk and Orr were friends and fellow railway employees. Cory had lived at Hornepayne for the past seven years. His wife was a Toronto girl. Report of the accident says teh party had stopped at the level crossing to let a train pass. They had started to cross when another train approached from the opposite direction, striking the trunk.

BOY AND GIRL — BY ROUSON

Irate Residents Seek Undoing Lovesick Cats' Midnight Wooing

Love is wonderful, the poets say, but at times it can become a nuisance.

For instance eight gentlemen cats in the throes of amour are making nightlife miserable for residents on Burton Street.

The object of their affection, a feline Marilyn Monroe, thus far has shown no preference. She stays in her woodshed boudoir oblivious to frenzied midnight supplications.

The Tomcat Serenade starts usually after sundown and continues until the clawed Romeos run out of tonal power, or are dispersed by irate householders.

But love does not fear sticks nor stones. Nightly the serenaders return to woo the non - impressed object of their affections.

They take up individual positions. Some yowl from verandahs. Others emit feline tenors from fence tops. A pair of large white Lotharios, who apparently have made a deal, perform in a brother act.

"I never saw so many d . . . cats in my life", one irate resident growled. "There are white ones, black ones, striped ones, grey ones, cats of all colors."

Another heard a resounding crash outside the house. Investigation revealed an apologetic neighbor, "Sorry I disturbed you" he said, "But I just missed that big black cat with a rock. It struck your verandah."

There is talk of forming a local cat-exterminating vigilantes committee.

However the owner - manager of the sought - after mouse-killing temptress may be persuaded to send his feline fair on a vacation until the ardor of the platoon of lovesick pussies has abated.

Sunday School Picnic

WEST HUNTINGDON, S.S.

The West Huntingdon Township Sunday Schools enjoyed a joint picnic together at Moira School, recently, with 104 men, women and children attending for the dinner which others gathered later.

To begin the events, a ball game was played by the teenagers and older members in the morning, while the little folks played their favorite games, and after the sumptuous dinner, another ball game and tug-of-war took place, followed by the races in which nearly all participated.

RACES

Girls, 6 years old — Merle Morton, Janet Donnan, Lyn Bowers. Boys 6 years old — Gordon Sills, James Fargey and Bobby Sills. Girls, 6 to 8: Gale Thompson, Dianne McInroy and Donna Preston. Girls 8 to 10: Gwen McMillan, Elaine Downey and Lyn Downey. Boys 6 to 10: James Vandewater, Dale Morton and Jack Donnan.

Three-legged race, under 10 years: Larry Thompson and Roy Mumby, Gwen McMillan and Norma Stevens, and James Hagerty and Jack Donnan. Three-legged race over 10: Bernard Ashley and Peter Grant; Judy Wood and Jean Holland; Bill Vandewater and Arthur Bowers.

Shoe scramble, under 8 years: Lyn Downey, Donna Preston and Gale Thompson. Over 8 years: James Wallace, Allan Barnard and Jim Stobbard. Shoe-kicking race under 10 years: Elaine Downey, Marie Holland and Gale Thompson. Over 10 years: Bernard Ashley, Bill Vandewater and Jack Francis.

Wheelbarrow race, under 10 years: Jim Vandewater and Larry Thompson; Brian Thompson and Roy Mumby, Lyn Downey and Elaine Downey. Over 10 years: Peter Grant and Bernard Ashley; Judy Wood and Jean Holland; Allan Barnard and Jim Stobbard.

Piggy back race: Jim Stobbard and Beth Stevens; Allan Barnard and Bobby McMillan; Judy Wood and Eric McMillan.

Following the races, all enjoyed the peanut and kiss scramble; while during the Sixteen cream and soft drinks were sold.

The younger crowd scrambled aboard a large wagon at 3.00 in the afternoon and the remainder drove in cars to Moira Church where a film entitled, "Bob and Bill Buddy" was shown.

Mr. Cecil Geen thanked all who took part in any way, making this first picnic so enjoyable, and Mr. Dyson closed with the benediction.

Ten Decide For Christ at Alliance DVBS

Another successful Vacation Bible School came to a close last Friday evening at the Alliance Tabernacle, W. Moira and Coleman Sts., when many parents, friends and children gathered to enjoy the closing program. A demonstration was put on by the children on the theme, "We Worship The Lord At All Times," and all took part in recitation and singing.

Mr. C. Brooks brought the worship part of program to a close by giving a stirring message in flannelgraph.

Every-night children received diplomas and a gift for perfect attendance, while twenty-four received prizes for memory work. This did not include the beginners, who each received a gift for the smaller verses of memory work they had learned in their own class.

Diane Brooks and Judy Laducer received prizes for the girls who brought the most visitors to Bible School, and Lorne Hawley and Andy Annis strong won the prizes in the boys' section. The Rev. Sackville Palmer, pastor of the church, presented the prizes for memory work and for the visitors' contest, and the teachers presented the diplomas and awards for perfect attendance.

EVENING CLASSES

The school had convened each evening from 7.00 p.m. to 8.45 p.m. to 8.30 p.m. Those passing the Alliance Tabernacle would notice the children filing in each evening, following two of the young boys who carried the Union Jack and the Christian Flag. The saluting of these flags was one of the opening exercises of the school, nightly.

Miss Muriel Craig directed the school, assisted by Mrs. Sackville Palmer, Miss Constance Dunn Sunday School Mission helpers, and a number of teachers from the Alliance Tabernacle. There was a total enrollment of 155 and an average attendance of 88. The theme of the school this year was, "We Worship The Lord," and the children were most attentive and orderly throughout the eight nights that the school was in session. Songs, pictures, flannelgraph lessons, prizes and surprises all went to make an interesting program each night. The most important part of the school was the recording of ten decisions for Christ.

HANDWORK DISPLAY

The handwork done was much enjoyed by the children and this work was displayed on tables at the back of the church and was viewed by the congregation as they left the church following the closing program.

The happy faces of the children and the expressions of appreciation from the parents and friends, well repaid all the workers for their labors during the Vacation Bible School.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Robert Myers are shown cutting the wedding cake in Christ Church parish hall following their marriage in Christ Church, Belleville. The bride is the former Miss Shirley Joyce Askey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Askey of Belleville. Her bridegroom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh V. Myers, of Santa Cruz, Jamaica. (Photo by McCormick's Studio, Belleville.)

MEYERS — ASKEY

Tall, white standards of blue delphiniums, red and white peonies and white Canterbury bells formed a lovely background in Christ Church, on Saturday, June 28th, at 2:30 for a very pretty wedding when Archdeacon, J. B. Creeggan, rector of the church, united in marriage, Shirley Joyce Askey, of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Askey, to Owen Robert Myers, of Eastview, Ottawa, the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh V. Myers, of Santa Cruz, Jamaica.

The wedding music was provided by Mr. J. S. Herdman, church organist, who accompanied the choir of six boys in their rendition of, "O Perfect Love" before the ceremony, and "The Lord is My Shepherd," during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in her lovely bridal gown of white Chantilly lace over white, slipper satin, featuring a fitted lace bodice with long, pointed sleeves, and tiny, standup collar outlined with lace. The waltz-length skirt of lace was edged with accordion pleated nylon net. She wore a modified pearl headdress in lily-of-the-valley design, with fingertip veil of tulle and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations, stephanotis and ivy.

She was attended by her two sisters, Miss Jean Askey, as maid of honor, and Miss Betty Askey as bridesmaid. Both were attired in waltz-length chiffon over taffeta in Cotillion blue with matching hats and gloves, and white shoes. They carried semi-cascades of white poms.

Mr. Hugh S. Myers, of Toronto, attended his brother as groomsman, while Mr. Orville K. Summers, of Belleville, and Mr. Leslie Myers, of Toronto brother of the bridegroom, ushered the guests.

Following the ceremony, the wedding dinner was held in Christ Church parish hall, where the bride's table was appointed with white damask, and centred by an all-white wedding cake adorned with silver leaves, and topped by a tiny bride and bridegroom beneath an archway of lily-of-the-valley, and misted about the base with white tulle.

The reception was held later at the bride's home which was profusely decorated for the occasion with roses, peonies and Canterbury bells. The bride's mother, for her daughter's wedding, chose a beige orlon lace over satin in sheath style, with matching accessories, and corsage of yellow, Sweetheart roses.

For travelling to Delawana Inn, Honey Harbor, Georgian Bay, the bride wore a beige linen sheath dress, with matching shoes and purse, white gloves and corsage of pink roses. Matching coloured pearls and earrings completed her ensemble.

Mr. and Mrs. Myers will reside at 340 Lacasse Street, Ottawa.

Guests attended from Toronto; New Jersey; Ottawa; Bancroft; Belleville and Batawa.

Prior to her marriage, the bride was entertained at a shower given by Mrs. Dorothy Munsee and Mrs. Annie Shanuk held at the former's home, Belleville; at one held at the apartment of Audrey Stewart, with Miss Lena Bradshaw and Miss Doreen Halomby, as co-hostesses; and at a dinner at the Tweedsmuir Hotel Tweed, by the girls' staff of the Income Tax Office, when she was presented with an electric fry pan.

30 Canadian Debs Practise For Appearance

By SYLVIA HACK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON (CP) — Thirty Canadian debutantes, bobbed shaky curtsies Wednesday in a dress rehearsal for today's royal garden party.

The debs, together with 10 others who couldn't make the practice run at the residence of Mrs. George Drew, wife of Canada's high commissioner, are the last Canadians to get the honor of being presented at Buckingham Palace. The presentation ceremony will be dropped from royal garden parties in future years.

The minding 19, who will have to do without expert advice on the fine art of curtsying, are members of Toronto's Bishop Strachan School choir, who are on a concert tour of Britain and didn't arrive in London until Wednesday night.

Because of the Queen's illness, the debs will perform their curtsies for the Duke of Edinburgh and the Queen Mother.

PLAYED QUEEN MOTHER

Linda Fitzgerald of Toronto, who went through the presentation ordeal at an earlier garden party last week, was on hand to play the role of the Queen Mother at the rehearsal. A Buckingham Palace official, standing in for the duke, advised the girls to "keep your arms loose and relax."

Like their predecessors last week, the debs are disappointed they won't meet the Queen, but express pleasure at seeing the Queen Mother and the duke.

Gwynneth Evans of Kingston, whose father, Rt. Rev. Kenneth Evans, Bishop of Ontario, is attending the Lambeth Conference in London, says "I don't feel nervous right now, but I might get flustered at the last moment."

After their presentation, the girls will join several thousand other guests on the lawns at the palace for cakes and tea.

GOOD HELPERS

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Pupils of the Westmount public school presented the New Dawn School for retarded children with $112, raised by the sale of candy and other items on various occasions.

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

The July meeting of the Women of the Moose was held recently with the new senior regent, Gladys Ritch, presiding. The draw, which she had donated, was won by Betty Reid and Beatrice Wilson.

Other members of the executive, which had been appointed at a recent meeting, included: junior regent, Ida Currie; chaplain, Lena Cundell; recorder, Neille Scrymgeour and treasurer, Clara Seamon.

It was also decided at that time to make a donation to Mr. Ward for the Mentally Retarded Children's school. Mr. Ward had shown a film depicting the project for holding a school for mentally retarded children here in the city.

Following the close of the season's last meeting, penny bingo was enjoyed by the co-workers.

Clothes Should Be Designed For Motion

By DOROTHY ROE

NEW YORK (AP) — Women have no more fun in the age of space, says designer Adele Simpson.

So clothes must be geared for bodies in motion, she adds. In the clothes shown in her fall collection, the body moves unhampered beneath the free-hanging skirts of tulle, costumes and dresses.

Mrs. Simpson has achieved a shape that is distinctly new and yet definitely wearable in her new collection. Suits have a free-and-easy air, with short jackets that hardly touch the body except at the shoulders, and skirts hung from a camisole top, so that they swing easily and never constrict the waistline.

Most of the skirts are slim but loose most of the jackets have a slight and graceful dip in back.

Dresses follow the high-waisted empire line, but again with the feeling of freedom and movement. Never is there a tight belt or a straining seam. When belts are worn they are placed high and strung loosely through slots, leaving the silhouette unfettered.

A new design has an understated, lightly shaped but loosely fitted overblouse and a draped, dome-shaped Zouave skirt, with harem inspiring. This is used in a three-piece costume of taupe wool crepe.

"There must be no more sway-backs," says Mrs. Simpson. "The new look in fashion has a straight, loose, slim line from the ribs down—no pinched waists, no accentuated busts, no hips thrust backward. Stand as if you were suspended by a string from the top of your head—that's the posture of the space age."

COLORFUL TILES

WARE, England (CP)—More than 300,000 red tiles from 17th-century stables being demolished in this Hertfordshire town will be exported to the United States, for sale to people building period houses.

McINTOSH BROS.

LADIES! Here's Timely Advice From Our

Hosiery Department

This summer for the first time in years, is a big stocking season. Bare legs are by-goners. Sun tans can no longer do for legs what colored hosiery can. Merely a blue or green film —a hint on pink or gold and a woman's legs are fashion clad. It's blue hose, madam, with blue shoes; pink-red for the red shoe craze; green or gold for your beige costumes. Skirts are riding higher, correct tinted hosiery is now a must.

Visit our Hosiery Department—we have them all and the fashion know-how for your asking.

THE FAMILY COUNCIL

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case-history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counsellors.

Sandra A. — I want the children to be friends with their cousins.

Paula C. — I can't railroad my children.

Sandra A. — I am trying very hard to promote strong relations between my children and their first cousins — a job I find almost impossible in the face of disinterest on the part of my sister-in-law.

My brother and I were the only two children in our family. My brother was killed in an accident three years ago. He left three children just about the ages of my children — 10, 12 and 15.

I want the children to get together regularly because these cousins are all they have from my side of the family. T h e y should really know one another, one day they may need one another.

We don't live in the same community, but it is only a matter of a two-hour bus ride for the children to come together. But my children are seldom invited and my brother's children seldom accept my invitations.

* * *

Paula C. — Sandra seems to think I have become an outsider, almost an enemy, since my husband died. I have the same family feeling toward her and h e r children that I always did.

I certainly do want her children and my children to be friends, but I find you can't railroad kids of that age into anything. T h ey like their cousins, but they have other friends, other interests. Sandra would like the children to visit back and forth every weekend. My children seem to want to be with their own friends.

Their cousins have been to us every summer and know all kinds of sports and things that my children know nothing about. I guess they feel a little left out or overshadowed by their cousins.

Sandra wants me to force the children to get together more regularly, but I'm afraid t h a t would only make them dislike one another.

* * *

The Council: Paula has a most legitimate point. Forcing t h e children to visit their cousins when they don't want to would promote bad relations, rather than good ones.

It is often hard for sisters and brothers to see that their children have little interest in knowing one another. Very often it is the fault of parents, who tend to make comparisons between the children. Sometimes, even when the parents don't make comparisons, the children do, themselves. If a cousin of his own age is more accomplished or attractive or has more advantages, a child will find it hard to avoid contacts with that cousin.

In their friendships children tend to choose those on their level or friends they can feel a bit superior to in some ways. If parents try to push a friendship with a child because he has some superior quality, they will meet with a lot of resistance. Usually they will be forced to drop the issue.

In the case of cousins, however, parents will not be so willing to accept defeat. In this case, they should try to help the situation along in certain specific ways. For one thing, they should avoid the slightest suggestion of a comparison.

They should try to arrange to get the cousins together under conditions that will not emphasize inequalities between them.

For example, in this case, the mothers might try getting the children together for parties or theatre outings or other occasions that will not call for displays of sportsmanship.

If the children really enjoy themselves when they are together they will look forward to visits with their cousins.

Women's Activities

TRINITY W.M.S.

MADOC—The Trinity United Church W.M.S. held its July meeting at the summer home of Mrs. Frank Dafoe, Wednesday evening with a good attendance of the members. Mrs. Albert Empey, president, was in charge and in opening read a poem followed by prayer. She welcomed all members and passed along a gracious greeting to Mrs. Milley, the new pastor's wife.

During the business period plans were made for the summer bazaar to be held on Saturday and a wedding to be held at a later date.

Community Friendship convener received reports of many hospital calls and visits to shut-ins having been made during the month, as well as many cards being sent out.

Mrs. Bennett offered prayer for the missionary, Miss Rosenberg.

Mrs. Drinkwalter was in charge of the worship service, the theme, "We Are The Light."

After the Bible reading Mrs. Drinkwalter told the story.

Mrs. Carmen was in charge of the program and gave two readings, "Who Arrived First at Church," and "Echoes of the World Day of Prayer," at Silkh, Angola.

Following the close of the meeting, a pleasant social time was spent and refreshments served.

The president expressed thanks to all who took part and to the hostess, Mrs. Dafoe.

Smoke Gets In Your Eyes

by Mary Moore

Seems to me that at dinnertime these hot days everyone in donning shorts or shorts — Bermuda or Jamaica — or "short shorts" and carrying trays of barbecue-able food to the back of the garden where father importantly awaits. Clad in the inevitable shorts too — ludicrously covered by a capacious chef's apron — he is ready for action (mother) at the glowing oil.

Dinner Menus

by Mary Moore

THURSDAY

Chicken Yorkshire (see Tuesday's comment); Fresh Green Peas with Mint; New Beets; New Cabbage Salad; Bowl of Syng Cherries; Cocoonut Macaroons; Frosted Tea (see Wednesday.)

SUNDAY

Chicken Divan (see Monday); Parslayed New Potatoes; Tossed Mixed Greens; Assorted berries and Cream; Apricot Buds (see Saturday); Iced Coffee.

THE FIRE

Of course he knows all about fires, but you may not. Coax him to build the fire 30 to 45 minutes ahead so it will burn down to glowing coals by the time you're ready to swing into action. Wood takes longer — charcoal briquets are fast and easy to use. Gray-while coals with a rosy blush are worth waiting for and are surprisingly hot.

GRILLED BEEF PATTIES OR WIENERS

Broil beef patties on one side until brown, turn and season. Broil second side 2 to 4 minutes for rare, about 6 minutes for medium-rare. Wieners only need browning on both sides.

GRILLED STEAK

Select steak cut about 1" thick. Slash fat edge and place on rack 4 to 5 inches from glowing coals. Broil for 8 minutes, turn (in turning steaks, be sure to use tongs. Or with long-handled fork, insert tines in fat of steak to prevent juices from escaping), and broil 8 medium-rare and about 12 more for well-done. Brush with the following sauce before removing from grill: ¼ cup melted butter or margarine blended with 2 teaspoons dry mustard and 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce.

SHISH KEBOBS

These can be just as sensational if you want to make them. Here are 2 combinations we like: (1) Line up on skewers in this order: 1cut each kebob item in 1½" pieces approximately) bacon, green pepper, steak, onion. If desired marinate one hour in advance in Barbecue Sauce. Three-quarters cup salad oil, ¼ cup soy sauce, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ tablespoon coarse, freshly ground black pepper, ¼ cup vinegar, ¾ teaspoon dried parsley flakes, 1 crushed garlic clove, if desired, 2½ tablespoons fresh lemon juice. Combine ingredients.

Mother's Helper

THE BEST dad house for your little girl need not be the fanciest store - bought kind. Two or four sturdy cartons taped, glued or held together by paper fasteners can become an elegant 4-room 2-story house. Paper dollies, other small paper, pictures from magazines will help decorate it in fine style.

© 1958, New York Herald Tribune Inc.

Makes 1¾ cups. May be drained from meat for second use. Store covered in refrigerator no longer than 1 week. (2) 1½" cubes each of ham and pineapple and small raw mushrooms are favorites here too. Total broiling time is about 15 to 20 minutes, and of course the most people have the most fun if each one broils his own to suit himself.

Nautical Touch
By GRACE THORNCLIFFE
The nautical look, so trim and pretty, is nicely carried out here in white silk broadcloth. The blouse has a casual open neck and three-quarter banded sleeves. Elastic at the hem makes it blouse at the waist (as shown) or pull down over the hips. The sailor tie is navy blue. The skirt, cut on the bias, is permanently pleated and bells just a bit at the hem.
The strong plioflm bag can't leak or burst
Rich golden colour by simply pressing'colour bud inside the plioflm bag
Children love Monarch Margarine. Monarch is pure, delicate, fresh in its natural vegetable oil flavour. It not only tastes good—it smells good—in the frying pan, in the oven, on toast, on potatoes or vegetables. Monarch Margarine is healthful because it contains added Vitamin A and Vitamin D.
Remember, too—Monarch makes nothing else but margarine—all research and discoveries go to make one product great. Get a pound or two today. Look for the package that includes Monarch's new quick colour bag.

United Church W.M.S. Enjoys B.W.I. Slides

WELLINGTON — Wellington WMS entertained Rosehall ladies, the Evening Auxiliary, OGIT, Explorers and the Mission Band at their July meeting when Miss Hattie Unger was the guest speaker.

The president, Mrs. Hamel, presided.

Mrs. Hamel welcomed all, especially the visitors and former residents who return each summer on their holidays and a special welcome to the little folk.

Mrs. Teskey, Mrs. B. Cronk, Mrs. Walt assisted in the devotional.

Mrs. Dorland reported $87. collected from the mite boxes. Mrs. H. Nash, Stewardship secretary, brought a splendid message.

Mrs. B. Cronk gave the treasurer's report.

Sympathy was extended to a former member, Mrs. McMasters, of Brighton who has lost her aunt.

Mrs. Nash introduced the guest speaker, Miss Unger, who recently returned from Trinidad, Bermuda and Nassau. Mrs. Nash attended collegiate with Miss Unger and had known her as a wonderful missionary worker, following in her mother's footsteps.

DETAILS OF WORK

Miss Unger told of her visit and experiences before showing her wonderful slides of these islands. Bermuda is 20 miles square with a population of 40,000; 70 per cent being of the dark race. There are 40 schools on the island. In Trinidad there are 20 missionary workers; their population is made up of Chinese, Japanese and Africans. Here she stayed with the Canadian Mission. The slides were most interesting and gave a splendid insight into the work accomplished there.

Mrs. Stoneburg thanked Miss Unger for coming, also Mrs. Hamel.

Mrs. B. Cronk was given the pleasant task of presenting a life membership, WMS, to Mrs. G. Stoneburg, a past president, who has been such a faithful worker. Mrs. Stoneburg's husband gave her the pin which was also presented. She thanked all very fittingly for the gift and will appreciate it very highly. Mrs. Hamel closed the meeting, which was followed by a social half hour and refreshments.

More Dogs Than Humans Are Neurotic

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dogs have more neuroses than humans, says Mrs. Alva McColl of Toronto, who has judged dogs all over the world in the last 10 years.

Here to judge dog shows and obedience trials, Mrs. McColl said a city lot is no place for a dog. "He should be in the country. If he can't be, owners should make sure he has freedom."

The main problems, she said, are living in crowded cities, lack of freedom, loneliness, fear and resultant timidity.

"People expect dogs to adapt themselves to peoples' way of life. Some of them have the dog's vocal chords removed when they get annoyed at the barking. They take away a dog's only defence against dangers and only means of making desires known—it's definite cruelty.

"Thanks to dog shows and stress obedience training, humans are doing something for the dog's benefit."

Travelling with Mrs. McColl is a 3½ - year - old papillon, international champion of Switzerland, France, Germany and Australia.

"He has been in the White House and has appeared on television," she said. "He has his own actor's union card, business card calling card, complete with picture."

GOOD MANNERS

By Mrs. Beeckman

CORRECT PRINTED NAME ON GENERAL USE STATIONERY

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

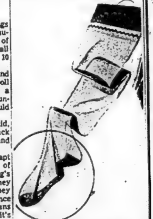
I am planning to order some "general use" letter paper, single sheet (convenient for both handwriting and typing) with envelopes. Sheets to be printed with my name and address. I am a married woman, not in business. Should I have this paper printed "Mrs. John Robinson", for example, or "Margaret Robinson"? If you say "Margaret Robinson" is correct for the paper, should I use "Mrs. John Robinson" on the envelopes? — M.

Have Mrs. John Robinson printed, with your address, on this letter paper for general use. Then the reader has your correct postal address right at hand. Also with your formal name at the top of the sheet there is no need to write this name under your informal signature. If you have a name printed on the envelopes use "Mrs. John Robinson." Many women prefer not to have their name appear on the envelopes, using only the street address if they live in a private house or the apartment number if they live in an apartment house.

NO REPLY TO "BREAD-AND-BUTTER LETTER"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

We're now at being able to invite friends to visit us in our home for the weekend. The first guest we had, two weeks ago, was a charming friend of a n daughter. When she returned home, she wrote me a most gracious letter of thanks for our hospitality and for "the wonderful time" she said she had. Should I reply to a "bread-and-butter letter." — Mother.



Dear — - - It is not necessary to reply to a "bread-and-butter letter."
